LIS M. DE CRESCENZO,
LIS C SEY,
OFFICI L COURT REPORTERS

THE COURT: Good morning, everyone. I'm Judge rthur Engoron, and that is the correct pronunciation of my surname. En-gor-on, not Eng-o-ron or even worse En-gu-ron.

Before we start the actual trial in this matter, I'll hear from the attorney from the various news organizations, who, last Friday, filed an application for certain forms of press access.

MR. B LIN: Good morning, your Honor.

THE COURT: Good morning.

MR. B LIN: Robert Balin of Davis Wright Tremaine, LLP for 18 news organizations that made a press application for access on Friday.

Your Honor, I start by saying I want to thank the Court. I note the dministrative Judge of this section is here, as well as the Director of Public Information for the Court System; and, I'd like to thank you because you've granted, already, many of the requests that were in our Friday letter.

I have only two requests to make of your Honor this morning. First, is to permit a pool television camera person to televise the opening and closing statements of the defense counsel and the ttorney General.

I'd start by saying I've asked both sides their positions. The New York ttorney General does not oppose. Defense counsel does not take any position and leaves it to your Honor. Your Honor, I believe if ever there was a case that justified the public understanding what their legal arguments are -- it's not about witnesses. What the legal arguments are in this case is of such great significance, this is that case.

We have a pool TV cameraman outside. His name is Tracey Reede. He's from NBC. He has a Whitehouse press pass, a State Department press pas and a Defense Department press pass. I would note, your Honor, that televising of opening and closing arguments was allowed by a Judge in Westchester County in People v. Olivo in 2008, three years after the Courtroom Television Network case.

We believe it is permitted, and, it is up to your Honor. It's within your discretion. There are various factors. One, is the positions of the parties. Two, is would it disturb the proceedings. Your Honor, I can bring the cameraman and his camera in, if you'd like.

Three, is the type of case. I can hardly overstate the significance of this case. Four, safety. Five is. Maintaining decorum. I believe all of those factors are met here.

So, your Honor, that is our first request. I know you have other things to do and I don't want to take your time.

THE COURT: Give me a second.

(Brief pause.)

THE COURT: That's more difficult, a more fraught request than you might expect or other people would expect. I'm afraid I'm constrained to deny it.

MR. B LIN: Thank you, your Honor, for your time on it.

The second request-- I thank the Court. You've permitted laptop use, which, I believe, is surely necessary in the courtroom for this type of proceeding. The concern expressed to me by a number of members of the press is that with so many members of the press using the Wi-Fi in this courthouse, that it may either crash or it may slow down.

The request that I have for the Court is to allow what are called remote hotspots. number of the members of the press have them and to use cell phones solely for the ability to get to the Internet and get to their news rooms. That was the second request I have for your Honor.

THE COURT: Granted.

MR. B LIN: ll right. Your Honor, thank you very much.

THE COURT: You're welcome. I'm allowing five or so pool photographers. re they waiting to come in now?

(Photographs taken.)

THE COURT: The name of the case that brings us here today is People of the State of New York by Letitia James, ttorney General of the State of New York, versus Donald J. Trump, et al., meaning, and others.

The index number, which is how we keep track of cases around here, and might help you to follow it on the New York State Court's electronic filing system, affectionately known by its acronym as NYSCEF is 452564/2022.

Early this morning, I received an application from plaintiff seeking to discuss some housekeeping matters. I will address those matters after opening statements. The trial is scheduled to last from today until December 22, 2023, the Friday before Christmas.

I intend to speak now for approximately five minutes. Call it my opening statement. Soon after which, counsel for each side will make their, no doubt, longer opening statements.

For the next three months after that, I hope that the only words I will utter are sustained, overruled, and let's take a ten-minute break and even as to those, the less often the better.

The basic schedule to which we'll adhere is Monday through Thursday, 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. then a one-hour-and-15-minute lunch break, then 2:15 through 4:30 p.m.. on Fridays, we'll only have the morning session, 10:00 to 1:00.

Months ago, I declared that the trial would commence today, October 2, 2023, come hell or high water. Meteorologically speaking, we've had the high water but we're ready to go. I commend all counsel for adhering to my tight schedule and for their Herculean efforts to get us where we are today.

This case has esteemed counsel. On one side, we have an ttorney General. On the other side, we have a former Solicitor General. In the middle, we have me, a generalist, meaning that I know a little about a lot.

One thing I know a lot about is the legal definition of fraud. Common law, meaning law before we all came of age. Fraud, also known as misrepresentation, has five elements.

First, a material statement. Second, falsity of that statement. Third, scienter, lawyer talk meaning that the defendant knew that this statement was false. Four, the plaintiff's justifiable reliance, and five, damages.

Common-law fraud is not an easy case to prove. Material, according to whom? How do we know what the defendant knew? What reliance is justifiable? Then along came Jacob Javitz. Nowadays, he's best known for the convention center and for the federal office building directly across the street from us, which you can actually see out our windows, both named for him.

Before that, he was best known as the long-term United States Senator from New York. Before that, he was the ttorney General of the State of New York, the position that Ms. James now occupies.

In 1956, he convinced New York State to adopt what is now codified as Executive Law Section 63(12) which gives the ttorney General the authority to investigate and bring actions against any entities that allegedly engage in "repeated fraudulent or illegal acts or otherwise demonstrate persistent fraud or illegality the carrying on, conducting a transaction of business."

Subsequent case law has construed that to mean, or at least to include, false statements used in business. Incidentally, Javitz was a savvy politician. He was born on the lower eastside, so very near here. When he campaigned on his home turf, he called himself Jacob Javitz. When he campaigned on the posh upper eastside, he called himself John Javitz, and, when he campaigned upstate, he called himself Jake Javitz. I want to make sure Mr. Kise returns to Florida with some New York history and political street smarts.

The complaint in this case consists of seven causes of action. There are no counterclaims, at least not in court. The first is known as the standard on Section 63(12) claim. The other six are claims that defendants violated Section 63(12) by violating various sections of New York's Penal Law.

s all, or most, of you know, six days ago, on Tuesday September 26th, I granted plaintiff summary judgment only on liability and only on the first cause of action. What's left to be tried and decided are, first, either liability or exoneration on the other six causes of action and, second, monetary damages or other relief.

Plaintiff is seeking disgorgement of alleged ill-gotten gains and to limit defendant's ability to conduct business in New York.

You have probably noticed or already read that this case has no jury. Neither side asked for one and, in any event, the remedies sought are all equitable in nature, mandating that the trial be a bench trial, one that a Judge alone decides. I promise to do my best, despite my lame attempts at humor.

s I said in an earlier phase of this litigation, I take my job very seriously, and, I know that counsel and the parties do, likewise. The acoustics in this room are not too bad, as you can hear, I hope, but I'm sure everybody will be hanging on to every word you say. So, I beseech counsel to speak slowly, loudly, clearly, and, as I'm doing, directly into the microphones so that everyone in the bleacher seats may hear you.

Now, let's listen to plaintiff's opening statement.

MR. W LL CE: Thank you, your Honor. Kevin Wallace for the Office of the ttorney General.

Some of what I heard, I'm just going to double up on what you just talked about. The first of which is that, obviously, the case today --

THE COURT: I hear feedback.

MR. W LL CE: Okay.

(Brief pause)

THE COURT: Please continue and we'll see how it sounds.

MR. W LL CE: Thank you, again, your Honor. s I mentioned, I may cover some of the ground that you already did.

First of all, the case today is, obviously, significantly different than it was just a week ago. t this point, the People have already proven that the Statements of Financial Condition for Donald J. Trump were false and misleading in each year from 2011 to 2021.

We have already proven that those statements were then repeatedly and persistently used in the conduct of business after July 13, 2014. We have also proven that each of the defendant's entities and individuals alike participated in that fraud. So, what remains for us to prove at trial?

First, the People will establish that each of these defendants further violated Executive Law 63(12) by engaging in repeated and persistent illegal acts in the conduct of business.

The second thing we will show is that those illegal acts, together with the fraud we've already established, entitles the People to all of the equitable relief that we're seeking, including a bar on new commercial real estate transactions, a bar on borrowing on New York banks, an industry bar for each of the individual defendants, removal of trustees, and an accurate G P compliance Statement of Financial Condition for Donald J. Trump.

Finally, the People will demonstrate that the Court should disgorge the financial benefits each of these defendants obtained from their illegal conduct. Now, what illegal acts do we intend to prove?

First, we will prove defendants illegally falsified business records in violation of New York Criminal Law. We will show the defendants committed this illegal act by making false entries in the records of Trump Organization and, by extension, the records of their accountants, the banks, and other counterparties that received the fraudulent Statements of Financial Condition.

We will show the defendants made these false entries with the intent to defraud. We'll also show that the defendants conspired to make these false entries in a separate criminal violation.

The next crime we will establish is issuing false financial statements. We will show that with intent to fraud, each defendant participated in, or have knowledge of the creation of a written instrument, here the Statement of Financial Condition that described Donald J. Trump's financial condition in a manner that was inaccurate in a material way.

We will further prove that the defendants also violated this law by representing, in writing, that the statements were true while knowing that they were materially inaccurate and, once again, we'll show the defendants conspired to create and use these false statements, a separate criminal violation.

Next, we'll prove that the defendants committed insurance fraud in violation of New York Criminal Law. We will establish this illegal act by showing that the defendants, acting with intent to defraud presented the materially false financial statements to insurers in connection with the application to renew their insurance. gain, we will show the defendants conspired to commit this insurance fraud.

Now, for each of these claims, the fact the Statements of Financial Condition were false and misleading has already been established. That's been decided. Insurance fraud and false financial statement counts both require the misstatements be true and while the evidence we present of the coming weeks and months will certainly show the materiality of defendant's lies, this issue has also already been decided.

The Court has already found that the People submitted conclusive evidence that between 2014 and 2021, the defendants overvalued the assets in the statements between $812 million and $2.2 billion per year. There's no world in which that, an overstatement of that size is not material.

So, the two parts to this trial that are new from the summary judgment proceeding are intent and conspiracy. Let me start by talking about intent. The intent to fraud here on the part of the individual defendants and entities they owned and operated is self-evident.

The defendants knew that the statements were false. They then used them to obtain and maintain benefits they were not entitled to. That is the definition of intent. Now, most of the individual defendants have argued that they lack the requisite intent because they didn't know the statements were false.

With the exception of Mr. McConney, they claim they weren't involved in the valuation process and had nothing do with the preparation of statements. The Court will be able to judge for itself the credibility of those denials when defendants appear on the stand and offer them, but, if those denials are true, the defendants were lying year after year after year to Mazars, to the banks, to any reader of the statements, and, that's because the defendants made the exact opposite representation for years.

From 2011 to 2015, the Statement of Financial Condition represented that every estimate of current value was determined by Mr. Trump. That included individual properties like Trump Tower and 40 Wall Street.

From 2016 to 2021 the Statement of Financial Condition stated that it was Donald Trump, Jr. and llen Weisselberg, the trustees from Mr. Trump's trust, who determined the estimates of current values; and, again, that included individual properties like Trump Tower and 40 Wall Street.

What about Eric Trump? For years, he served as a source of valuations for properties like Seven Springs shown here in 2012 and, again, 2014 and 2015. In 2021, Eric Trump personally oversaw the intention of Whitley Penn and their work on the statement.

What's more? Each of the defendants certified the banks, time and again, that statements were true and correct. Donald Trump, from 2011 through 2015, he certified the Deutsche Bank and statements presented of financial condition fairly in all material respects.

From 2016 to 2020 Donald Trump, Jr. certified the Deutsche Bank with the statements presented of his father's financial condition fairly in all material respects.

In 2021, Eric Trump certified the Deutsche Bank that the statements presented his father's financial condition fairly in all material respects. In multiple years, llen Weisselberg certified to Ladder Capital that Donald Trump's net worth was true, correct, and complete, and fairly presented his financial condition.

Even Jeff McConney got into the act of passing these statements off to lenders, including the lender on Seven Springs. When it came time to testify under oath, the defendants wanted nothing to do with these statements. They refuted each of these representations.

Eric Trump denied he had any knowledge of the statements whatsoever.

(Video played.)

Let's move on to the critical question of who's responsible for making sure that the statements complied with G P. None of the defendants would take responsibility. Let's start with Donald Trump, Jr., as trustee. He, together with Weisselberg, was responsible for G P presentation of the statements from 2016 until 2021. What did he say at his deposition?

(Video played.)

MR. ROBERT: Your Honor, objection.

THE COURT: Hold on. Okay, go ahead.

MR. ROBERT: The examinations under oath are not part of this case. That's not from Mr. Trump's deposition. It's from his examination under oath. The ttorney General did not take his deposition in the instant case. This goes to the motions in limine we discussed last week.

I object to the use of this EUO as part of the ttorney General's opening statement and ask that it be stricken.

THE COURT: Denied. I don't believe that's a correct statement.

MR. W LL CE: Thank you, your Honor. Moving on. What about the other trustee, llen Weisselberg, the Chief Financial Officer of the company? What did he know about the G P?

(Video played.)

MR. W LL CE: What about Donald Trump? Who did he rely upon to make sure that statements were prepared according to G. . .P?

(Video played.)

MR. W LL CE: Now, all of these denials put the defendants in an impossible bind. The Court has already found that statement to be false, based on the inflated violations, and while the defendants may hope that these denials will help them to avoid liability for the inflation, the denials, we believe, that defendants lied about their involvement, certified the statements to banks an insurers; lied about the oversight they provided; lied about conforming with G. . .P.; and the defendants are left to answer the classic question: Were you lying then, or are you lying now?

But, even beyond these corrections and implausible denials, there's ample evidence of intent, based on the defendant's knowing and intentional lies.

lan Weisselberg told an insurance underwriter that the fair value for the properties is appraised annually by a professional firm. This year, it was done by Newmark Group, and it's previously been done by Cushman & Wakefield. The reason for the change is the individual at Cushman & Wakefield with whom the organization had a long-standing relationship with, moved to work at Newmark.

None of that was true. Defendants never ordered appraisals from Newmark, or Cushman, or anyone else when they were preparing the Statement of Financial Condition, and your Honor has heard defendants tell you that they were not obligated to use appraisals, even if they had them. So, not only was it a lie that they were ordering appraisals for the statements, they were ignoring the ones they had, and any claim of innocence or mistake may be most clearly refuted by the inflation of the triplex apartment, Donald Trump's personal residence, from 11,000 square feet to 30,000 square feet, nearly tripling the value.

Your Honor is well acquainted with this story. In March of 2017, while the 2016 Statement of Financial Conditions was being prepared, the defendants received an email inquiry from a reporter at Forbes. lan Garten, general counsel of the Trump Organization, then forwarded that email to Eric Trump, lan Weisselberg, and Donald Trump, Jr. mong the questions, President Trump has told Forbes in the past that his penthouse occupies 33,000 square feet. If the 1994 declaration is accurate and up-to-date, it shows President Trump's apartment is 10,996.39 square feet.

Now, the answer to that question is yes, it was accurate and up-to-date. It shows the size of the apartment at 10,996.39 square feet, signed by Donald J.

Trump.

What happens next? fter working over the weekend on Monday, March 6th, lan Garten writes to manda Miller, in the press office of the Trump Organization, "I handled everything except Trump World Tower and Trump Tower." She responds, "Thank you, lan. I spoke to lan W.," lan Weisselberg, "re: TWT and TT," Trump Tower. "We are going to leave those alone." They weren't going to touch the value of the penthouse.

nd what happens next? On March 10th, 2017, lan Weisselberg and Donald Trump, Jr. certify the accuracy of the Statement of Financial Condition to Mazars, just four days later. That Statement of Financial Condition included a valuation of Mr. Trump's apartment that was 30,000 square feet. This is direct evidence that the inflated penthouse valuation was not an innocent mistake, but an intentional lie.

It's further aided by the fact that a few months later, on May 3rd, 2017, Forbes publishes its article. Donald Trump has been lying about the size of his penthouse. This marks the end of the inflation of the penthouse on the Statement of Financial Condition. The inflation had been publicly disclosed, and they stopped using it in their valuations.

Let's talk a little bit about conspiracy, now.

Courts recognize that, because conspiracies are secretive endeavors, they often have to be inferred from circumstantial evidence, and confirmed by overt acts. Well, that kind of evidence certainly exists in this case, but we also have direct evidence of the scheme to inflate Mr. Trump's net worth.

Michael Cohen testified to this, when he was deposed by defendants. Let's take a look at one portion of that testimony.

(Video played.)

MR. W LL CE: Now, the defendants may argue that you can't believe Mr. Cohen, but his testimony is corroborated by the other evidence in this case, and his testimony is consistent with that of a current Trump organization employee, Patrick Birney. Mr. Birney played a central role in preparing the Statements of Financial Condition starting in 2017. nd what did he say?

" lan Weisselberg told me, Donald like to see it go up."

He likes it to go up, and, "It," I don't think referred to assets. I think it refers to net worth.

So, we have direct testimony from the people involved in the scheme to inflate Donald Trump's net worth, but I would like to talk a little bit about the overt acts that prove this conspiracy, the evidence that demonstrates that these are not just innocent differences of opinion, or mistakes. To do that, let's take a look at how this valuation plays out, in practice. s the witnesses have explained, these are not just independent valuations, they are part of a scheme to keep Donald Trump's net worth as high as possible.

So, let's take a look at what happened in 2015. Three properties made big swings in that year. Seven Springs, 40 Wall, and the triplex penthouse. Those swings were connected, designed to prop up Donald Trump's net worth, and hit the target that Mr. Trump wanted to hit. The defendants engaged in a shell game.

The value of Seven Springs dropped by $235 million, because of an appraisal done in connection with the conservation easement. To prop up Mr. Trump's overall net worth, Jeff McConney and lan Weisselberg removed the individual disclosure of value from Seven Springs in the statement, and lumped it into a category with the triplex apartment. They then inflated the apartment by $127 million. Separately, McConney and Mr. Weisselberg added $75 million to the value of 40 Wall, reducing the gap to just 33 million, but each of these valuations was independently deceptive, and I'll walk you through some of the examples.

Now, the process for preparing the Statement of Financial Condition, again, with Seven Springs valued at 291 million, the triplex valued at 200 million, and Wall Street, 40 Wall Street, valued at 660 million. The process kicks off with Jeff McConney and Donald Bender, at Mazars. This is the first of a number of emails with spreadsheets for back-up for DJT's SOFC.

"This one has been marked up, the 6/30/2014 SOFC, before lan's comments. I should be talking to him tomorrow morning."

ttached to this email we see Mr. McConney's hand-marked-up valuations; his indications of what the values will be, in 2015. He also marks up the text in the draft SOFC. So, let's see what he writes for Seven Springs.

The mansion at Seven Springs, you can see the value is set at $291 million. You can see Mr. McConney's handwritten notation, "Okay." The value is going to stay at $291 million, but by the time the statement is finalized in March of 2016, that valuation is no longer what they are going to use. Why? Because of that easement donation. In order to get the tax deduction from that donation, Mr. Trump had to obtain an appraisal from Cushman & Wakefield. Cushman & Wakefield valued the entire economic value of Seven Springs at $56 million, even before placing the easement. That includes all the development rights the defendants held on that property.

So, what happens? Seven Springs is no longer $291 million. Instead, it gets crossed off as an independent valuation. It then gets buried in the Other ssets category. You can see it right here, $557 million. How do we know that Seven Springs got included in that category? We have the final supporting data spreadsheet. s you can see, Seven Springs, per easement, $56 million.

So where does the statement end? In 2014, Seven Springs is broken out as a separate property with its own valuation of $291 million. In 2015, after the value was dropped, they removed the independent valuation. They move it into a new category, and lump it together with other assets. No one reading the statement would know that it dropped, year over year.

So, how do they cover it up? Well, the first step involves Mr. Trump's triplex apartment. The triplex begins the year valued at $200 million. This is where it's been, for many years. You can already see it has the inflated 300,000 [sic] square feet, and it's priced at $6,700 per square foot. To get the number for the penthouse up, the defendants find a new comp., and value it at $10,900 per square foot, for a total value of $327,000, a rise of $127 million.

Now, we already know that that 30,000 square foot number is inflated. The 10,900 number is also inflated. Part of it is because there was a record-breaking sale at 157 that was in no way comparable to Mr. Trump's 40-year-old apartment. But, even the 10,900 number is wrong. That's not what an apartment sold for, at 157. That's the square footage of the apartment that got sold. The actual price was below $10,000, so about a thousand dollars less, meaning another 30,000 of this is just from not using the actual sales price of the square footage number. gain, inflating the overall value, and putting it in a category to hide the drop in Seven Springs.

So, on the statement, they eventually need to make up more of the difference with 40 Wall Street. 40 Wall Street starts the 2015 process valued at $660 million. We can see, right here. It's handwritten in by Mr. McConney. Now, how did they get to that $660 million? You can see. They actually disclose that there's a Cushman & Wakefield appraisal done June 2015 for loan refinancing with Ladder Capital at $540 million. This is the initial spreadsheet that goes to Mazars.

Mr. McConney, however, adds value. There's been additional rental activity in vacant spaces, including a retail space that gets leased to Dean & Deluca that generates another $1.4 million in a given year, and is part of the $120 million evaluation they want to add to 40 Wall.

Well, what's the problem with adding Dean & Deluca? It's already included in the appraisal that had been done by Cushman & Wakefield, but the defendants and Mr. McConney only send Mazars an excerpt of that appraisal, the first 15 pages, so he does not see that includes a Dean & Deluca lease, and it does not include the fact that they had a different cap rate, as compared to what Mr. McConney is using.

So, by the end, they use a different technique to inflate the value of 40 Wall Street, and add another $75 million. They say that they have done their own analysis, and it's based on information provided by Douglas Larson of Cushman & Wakefield in November of 2015, and February of 2016. Now, you can see, these are just general questions that they have asked him about various market activity. Now, who is Doug Larson? Doug Larson is the same appraiser who did the valuation of 40 Wall Street, and valued it at $540 million. He never gave them grounds to increase the value like that.

So, where does this leave us, in the end? Seven Springs goes down. It gets combined with the triplex, which goes up, and 40 Wall goes up, as well. So, from December 2015 to March 2016, the defendants increase the value of the triplex and 40 Wall by 202 million, and that's on top of the 120 million they had already added to 40

Wall, to the 40 Wall appraisal in the first draft. Through this process, Mr. McConney and Mr. Weisselberg take a $235 million drop in the value of the Seven Springs, and turn it into a $77 million increase in Mr. Trump's net worth.

This was their process. This was their conspiracy.

So, why did defendants do this? Beyond just a place on the Forbes billionaires list, what does a net worth of over $6 billion gain Donald Trump? The simple answer is, the defendant knew that a high-net-worth was necessary to obtain and maintain certain financial benefits. When he was first looking for financing on Doral, Donald and Ivanka Trump had a meeting with the CEO of Deutsche Bank. fter the meeting, Donald sent a letter with his financial statement attached.

"I'm pleased to enclose the recently completed financial statement of Donald J. Trump. Hopefully, you will be impressed. I'm also including a letter that establishes my grant value, which is not included in my net worth statement."

Donald Trump knew exactly how the statement was prepared, and he was using it in search of a loan with a lower rate. Later that year, after negotiating with the commercial real estate group at Deutsche Bank, the Trump Organization began speaking to the private wealth management group at Deutsche Bank, and the group offered significantly lower interest rates, but required the loan to be on recourse with a personal guarantee, and proof of guarantors' net worth, but those rates were worth it.

When the Trump Organization first got the offer from the private wealth group, Ivanka Trump told lan Weisselberg and others, "It doesn't get any better than this." She didn't even want to negotiate on it. But their in-house lawyer, Jason Greenblatt, immediately saw a problem: The net worth requirement.

Now, the net worth requirement, the proposal from Deutsche Bank was $3 billion. It may be surprising that a $3 billion net worth covenant would be a problem for Mr. Trump, who claimed a fortune well north of that every year from 2011 to 2021, but nevertheless, Ivanka Trump tried to negotiate the number down to 2 billion, before agreeing to 2.5 billion.

So, year after year, on loan after loan, the defendants misrepresented Mr. Trump's net worth to obtain and maintain those favorable interest rates. In fact, the value of those low interest rates was so profound, they formed the primary basis for our disgorgement claims. s our banking expert, Michael McCarty, will demonstrate, the use of the false Statements of Financial Condition saved defendants tens of millions of dollars, and those savings came in every year after the July 2014 statute of limitations date, set by the First Department.

That benefit is measured by the difference between the interest rates the Trump Organization could have obtained, if their loans were treated as regular commercial real estate loans, and the interest rates they actually obtained, using the false financial statements with the private wealth management groups, the spread was vast, and it lasted for years.

On Doral, after July 2014, the difference in the interest rates was often more than 8 percent, including 8.2 percent in 2022. On Chicago, the delta after July 2014 ranged from 3 to 5 percent, with the broadest spread in 2022, when it reached 5.45 percent. On OPO, the spread was off around 5 or 6 percent, and was at its widest in 2021.

When combined with the other loans and transactions entered into by defendants, the direct financial benefit was well north of $100 million. With prejudgment interest, the total disgorgement amount is well north of $250 million. We'll ask the Court to recoup that entire amount.

So, these are the nuts and the bolts of our case; the how, what, why, and where of the defendants' fraud. The defendants' challenge this proceeding is to question why the case even exists at all; to complain about the ttorney General reaching in private transactions; that the transactions were profitable; and that the banks and insurers, that those financial institutions were sophisticated parties.

But, this isn't business as usual, and this isn't how sophisticated parties deal with each other, and even if it was, there's a reason the legislature gave the ttorney General the authority, under Executive Law 6312, to step in and police fraud and illegality in the conduct of business in New York, because these are not victimless crimes. By hiding their true resources, defendants hid their weaknesses. They convinced they banks to take on hidden risk, risk to the tune of hundreds of millions of dollars.

Our financial system, both in this state and in this country, depend on honesty to ensure their safety and soundness. We have already seen the impacts to the banking system when financial institutions take on hidden risk in 2008, and again, just this past year. The defendant's claim they never missed a payment and never defaulted on a loan, but they looked to escape those deals. They sold the Old Post Office Hotel, a property they said they would hold for decades. They refinanced their Doral loan with a small lender in California, at a higher interest rate. Those are not the actions of a market participant who plays by the rules. The defendants got caught lying, and while it may be one thing to exaggerate for Forbes magazine or a television audience, they cannot do it while conducting business in the State of New York.

For that reason, your Honor should bar them from further business in the State of New York, and reclaim their ill-gotten gains.

Thank you.

THE COURT: When Mr. Robert objected before, I said that I don't believe that's a correct statement. Something like that. I just want to make clear, I'm not doubting your facts. I assume these are completely correct. I just doubt the legal conclusion you reached.

Would defendants like to make an opening statement?

MR. KISE: Yes, your Honor.

THE COURT: Please.

(Whereupon, there was a pause in the proceedings.)

MR. KISE: Can you here me now?

THE COURT: Yes. I hope every else can. s long as there's no feedback. I'm already getting enough feedback about this case.

MR. KISE: Certainly, your Honor. You can hear me your Honor, now?

THE COURT: Very well.

Opening Statement by Mr. Kise Page 32

MR. KISE: Okay. Thank you. Sorry about that. s you know I'm not, technologically, the wizard.

So, I'm going to make an opening statement on behalf of most of the defendants. s we have done in the past, Mr. Robert is going to add a few comments on behalf of his clients.

So, you heard an interesting story from the government. Needless to say, we have a very different picture of the evidence. We think that the evidence is going to establish many things, and often we are looking at the same evidence, and often we are looking at different evidence, but in sum, we think it's going to establish many things very different than what the government has laid out.

t the outset, I also -- at the outset of the trial, your Honor, I do want to renew our objection on the limitations issues, and the disgorgement. That is, the introduction of evidence prior to the July 13, 2014 cutoff date. I think the 2011 loan discussions that Mr. Wallace just referenced would fall within ambit of that. I realize that opening statements are not evidentiary, but I want to just make sure it's clear, on the record. I don't mean to burden the Court with the objection, but I will, on that. Same with disgorgement. We just renew our objection with regard to the disgorgement evidence.

What we think the evidence is going to establish, and we think it will be very clear, a few things. First, that President Trump has made billions of dollars building one of the most successful real estate empires in the world. It is one of the most highly-successful brands in the world, and he has made a fortune, literally, being right about real estate investments. That consists of trophy properties that have very little debt, and an exceptional operating track record.

The claims here, just to place them in context, they involve a handful of loan transactions. They were all successful and profitable loan transactions. That's what the evidence is going to show this Court. There were no late payments. There were no missed payments. The loans were all paid back, timely, and the banks made well over $100 million in interest.

The statements that you have heard so much about, the statements and certifications, were submitted in connection with those loan transactions. They represent a fraction of the overall business operations and business empire, but they were submitted specifically in connection with those loan transactions. Only the specific parties to those transactions made any submissions. The evidence is going to demonstrate that this is a very compartmentalized process. The certifications, when they were made, were true and accurate. The loan covenants were not violated. The statements were true and accurate in all material respects, a point that your Honor made, that materiality is a key component of what we are going to prove.

There were no false entries in records. Materiality has not been decided, so I would disagree with the government, that anything has been decided with respect to materiality. Materiality is going to be proven at trial, and they are going to be held to that proof. There were no false entries, because if they are not materially false, they are not false.

The statements complied with G. . .P, and the valuations were derived under what you heard so much about, and we are going to talk about, briefly, SC 274. The statements had valid and obvious disclaimers negating intent. This goes to intent, materiality and reliance. I understand the judge's -- your ruling on summary judgment, but now we are talking about intent, we are talking about materiality, and we are talking about reliance, and those valid and obvious disclaimers, the evidence is going to establish, negate these elements.

The banks themselves conducted their own independent valuation analysis. The evidence is going to show that, as well. There's no credible evidence of agreement, a necessary element of conspiracy. The only evidence that the government really points to is the evidence from a serial liar. serial liar, an individual who has lied to everyone he has ever come in contact with, and he has lied to the courts; he has lied to congress; he has lied to anyone and everyone he has come in contact with, but the government hinges its proof on conspiracy, of agreement to conduct a conspiracy, on a serial liar. We think the evidence will ultimately demonstrate, that's a fallacy.

In sum, the evidence is going to demonstrate that there was no intent to defraud; there was no illegality; there was no default; there was no breach; there was no reliance by the banks; there were no unjust profits; and there were no victims.

So first, just to place this in context, I'm not going to go through every loan agreement, but as I mentioned, we are talking about specific transactions. We are talking about specific loan agreements that fall within the appropriate statute of limitations period, and as you can see just from this cover example, this is a specific agreement between specific parties. Here, it's Trump Old Post Office, LLC and Deutsche Bank Trust Company merica. It's one of the most sophisticated international banks in the world.

Their agreement, the evidence is going to show, was negotiated by top tier counsel. It provided protection and remedies for the banks. It provided the banks certain rights. It also made certain representations on behalf of the borrower. But this document, and a similar document, the loan agreement between Ladder Capital Finance and 40 Wall Street, LLC -- again, a complex private agreement between very specific parties, another sophisticated lending institution, negotiated by top tier counsel -- these agreements are what have and should, as the evidence will show, govern the relationship between the parties.

There are specific representations that were made by specific parties, and they relate to, as you can see from the example -- this is an example from the May 2016 Statement of Financial Condition, the certification to Deutsche Bank.

MR. KISE: Importantly, it points out, as Mr. Wallace noted, it represents fairly, in all material respects, the financial condition of the guarantor at the time period presented.

This is important because if the statements were not materially false then this certification does not constitute any evidence of any violations, of either 63(12) or the underlying criminal statutes, that are being presented, and, I don't think, again, that that has been decided.

Materiality is an important question that needs to be decided by this Court in this proceeding. The statements were materially accurate. First, the evidence is going to show that all the statement values comply with G P and SC 274. That is a very important point with respect to intent and materiality, that all the valuations were derived in compliance with SC 274.

Importantly, that all of the statements and the associated Independent ccountant's Compilation Board incorporated unequivocal disclaimers placing the user on notice as to reliance. This evidence will go directly to intent. This evidence will go directly to materiality and directly to reliance.

So, the governing standard is, as I've been saying, ccounting Standards Codification 274, SC 274.

The evidence is going to show that personal financial statements shall present assets and their estimated current values and that ECV, estimated current value, is not the same as fair value or market value, that there is great latitude in valuation methodology. There is no one generally accepted procedure in determining the estimated current value. It does not require a specific method to be used and there are many ways to value assets and all are accurate and acceptable, even if they yield different results.

So, the statements fit within SC 274. Now, we're talking about intent materiality, reliance. Those statements fit within SC 274. There may be wide variations between different valuations, but, if comport with SC 274 that alone we believe the evidence demonstrates intent. It certainly negates materiality.

In accordance with this wide latitude, specifically, the provision that I have up there SC 274-10-556 provides one of the myriad available bases for determining the value of property and, as you can see, the evidence is going to show us that one of those ways is the net realizable value of the property placed on planned courses of action.

This evidence is going to speak directly to the Seven Springs example that Mr. Wallace spoke so much about. You went between 2015 and 2016 from a period active development -- that's the plain course of action for the property -- to a different approach, which is a conservation easement. Those are fundamentally different ways to look at property.

One is active valuation for active development. The other is for purpose of conservation. There's all sorts of rules that govern how you calculate the value of the property for conservation easement versus how you value for active development.

So, while the government intends to introduce evidence, clearly from their opening, that that change was somehow sinister, that there was some nefarious intent, there was no nefarious intent. It simply reflects the change in a complex, sophisticated real estate development organization where you move from active development to a conservation easement approach. ll acceptable under SC 274, the evidence will show.

The SC 274 approved methods do not hinge substantially on current market conditions but focus on a long-term perspective. That is current value. It is not intended to be a market value model. Importantly, appraisals are simply not the only appropriation valuation method.

The 40 Wall Street example you heard Mr. Wallace speak about, again, back to an appraisal. The government continues to try and convince the Court that that's the only appropriate methodology. SC 274 simply does not provide that, that we don't have to rely necessarily on appraisals, and, it's not dispositive. There are many ways and, as long as, again, the valuations fit within the confines of G P and SC 274, there can be no intent. There can be no material departure.

We believe that the evidence will show both of those things. The compliance with SC 274 will demonstrate no intent to defraud, and compliance with SC 274 will demonstrate no material inaccuracies.

The Court will hear, finally, from Professor Eli Bartov, at the NYU Stern School of Business. Professor Bartov, among other things, will present evidence relating to these points on SC 274, that there is no such thing as objective valuation in G P.

That valuation is an opinion about price and is subjective, and, which valuation methodology to choose and which assumptions to apply, depends on many, many factors. So, estimated current value under SC 274, you'll hear him testify, places very little weight on current market conditions.

That evidence is important, irrespective of the Court's decision on summary judgment, because it goes to intent. It goes to materiality and, ultimately, we say all of it goes to reliance. gain, compliance with SC 274 and G P negates essential elements and, the evidence will show, negates essential elements of the People's case.

The Court will also hear from Professor Laposa, who will testify about the fact that disagreements, essentially, as to SOFC valuations does not establish any fraud. There are disparate but legitimate valuations of specific property that co-exist. The mere existence of these disparate valuations for a given property does not, in itself, establish any specific valuations as inaccurate, inflated or, as we would say, intentionally fraudulent.

This is the essence of the commercial real estate market place. Buyers have a view. Sellers have a view. Banks have a view. None of them are wrong. They're just different. When a seller or owner of a property takes the position and presents his or her opinion of the value of that property and discloses the nature of that valuation and presents that, in accordance with Generally ccepted ccounting Principles and SC 274, there can be no intentional fraud. There can be no material departure, and, there certainly is no reliance.

The statements, as you will hear Professor

Bartov testify, are the beginning, not the end, of a complex and highly subjective valuation process that users, like banks, sophisticated banks, and insurance companies, engage in as they perform their own due diligence.

Banks and insurers know that the statements are estimates. They're not designed to be absolutes, and, again, when the statements comply with G P, when they comply with SC 274, that negates fully any claim of intentional fraud.

Materiality is an essential element, as the Court has recognized and the statutes make clear. Two examples of the statutes that are at issue here. The issuance of a false financial statement occurs when something is inaccurate in a material respect.

Insurance fraud occurs when there's some -- any statement containing the materially false information. We believe the evidence will show, based on what I've said, and beyond, that there is no material inaccuracy. There is no materially false statement.

The Compliance Certificate, as I observed earlier, using that example, also demonstrates the importance and significant centrality of materiality. The foregoing presents fairly, in all material respects. That material inaccuracy is the standard. That cannot be read out of the certificate.

The guarantor made that representation. The guarantor did not say this is absolutely, positively inaccurate. This is in accordance with a specific appraiser's view of the property. This is in accordance with a specific objective for the property.

What the guarantor said in that certification is that the foregoing presents fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the guarantor of the period presented, and that is a holistic concept. That is not an asset-by-asset concept. G P also incorporates materiality and does apply material items.

You'll hear from Professor Bartov. None of the items on the statement identified by the ttorney General as statements or omissions were departures from G P. ny such items were, therefore, immaterial from the viewpoint of the sophisticated bank and underwriters who received the statements.

The Independent ccountant's Compilation Report and the statement notes are a unified presentation. This is the disclaimers that you've heard so much about. Here, again, they are fundamental to our concept of intent, materiality, and reliance.

Mr. Flemmons, a former SEC chief accountant will testify that ICP standards dictate that the Independent ccountant's Report and Statement of Financial Condition are issued together and mutually dependent. Those statements are not relied upon in a vacuum. They must be reviewed in concert with the ccountant's Report, that the two are issued together, cross-reference each other and, therefore, could not reasonably have been viewed by users as separate documents that were not dependent on each other.

So, taking just the statement notes, setting aside the Independent ccountant's Compilation Report, just taking the statement notes. The evidence will show, among other disclaimers, there were clear, bright lines presented to the users, in this case, the sophisticated banks and insurance companies.

Considerable judgment is necessary to interpret market data and develop the related estimates of current value. ccordingly, the estimates presented herein are not necessarily indicative of the amount that could be realized upon the disposition of the assets or payment of the related liabilities. I'm going to come back to that in a minute.

The use of different market assumptions and/or estimation methodologies may have a material effect on the estimated current values that you heard so much about. So, right here, in the statements, the statements themselves, not even the Mazars compilation report-- I'll get to that but right here in the statement, the evidence is going to show the statements prepared by certain of the defendants place the user, any user, on notice that the amounts are not necessarily indicative of the amounts that could be realized upon the disposition of the assets, that the use of different market assumptions and estimation methodologies may have a material effect on estimated current value.

The bank will tell you, like in all transactions, this very standard in sophisticated commercial real estate transactions. The recipient of individual financial statements understand there's not an intentional defrauding. It's simply the opinion of the owner of the property and they are on notice to do their own due diligence.

The Independent ccountant's Compilation Report disclaimer-- this was the Mazars' letters that accompanies the statements which, as I said, the evidence will show, are read together. Users of this financial statement recognize that they might reach different conclusions about the financial condition of Donald J. Trump.

It's not possible to state it any more clearly; and, we think the evidence will show that the banks understood it fully. The evidence will show that the disclaimers alone establish that there was no requisite intent, that there were no material departures, and there was no reliance. The disclaimer is important. We told the banks what was being provided and also, importantly, what wasn't being provided, meaning, we're not providing you with absolutes. We're not providing you with audited financial statements.

We're telling you these are our estimates of current value in accordance with SC 274 but that you might reach different conclusions, that the assumptions we made may not be assumptions you make. So, they notify users of the statements like Deutsche Bank, like Zurich, that they need to conduct their own analysis.

s Professor Bartov will testify, the disclaimers put sophisticated users of the statements, like Deutsche Bank, on complete notice to perform their own due diligence which, as you will observe and the banks themselves will, a sophisticated user like Deutsche Bank would have performed anyhow in the absence of those disclaimers.

The evidence will show that the banks are required to conduct their own independent underwriting analysis, and, the evidence will show they, in fact, did perform that analysis. One example, if you look just as the 2014 credit memo. This credit memo relates to the OPO loan that-- the Old Post Office loan from the original slide that I pointed out, the transaction that closed in ugust of 2014.

The evidence is going to show, clearly, and there are a number of these credit memos, but I'm using this as an example. The evidence will show, clearly, the level of detail that the bank conducted in its own underwriting analysis, that they took the numbers provided by the borrower and, as you can see clearly, they dissected those numbers and came up with their own estimates.

So, in the 2012 year, the client reported number was 4.5 billion as net worth. The bank adjusted number was 2.4 billion. In 2013, similar result. The client reported, the borrower reported was 4.9 billion net worth and the bank adjusted number was 2.6 billion, yet the bank proceeded with these loans. They conducted this sophisticated underwriting analysis. They determined there was a $2 billion delta, $2 billion difference between what the borrower was reporting and what their own valuation experts determined. Yet, they proceeded anyway. They conducted their own risk analysis.

s I said, this is the heart and sole of commercial real estate lending. This is what happens every day in the city, and, these numbers that are provided by the owner in accordance with G P and in accordance with SC 274 are presented as their evidence.

The bank did an even deeper dive on certain properties. s this page reflects, the bank conducted a much more in-depth analysis of what it described as four trophy properties. gain, others, other than the defendants, believe their properties are trophy properties. They are Trump Tower, Niketown, 40 Wall Street, and Trump Park venue.

s you can see, the bank conducted -- this is a summary of the analysis the bank conducted but the bank did its own detailed number analysis and right there on line four: The valuations for each of these properties were discussed with Deutsche Bank's Valuation Services Group.

The evidence will show that's the valuation group within Deutsche Bank that's responsible for conducting independent analyses of collateral, independent analyses of properties.

They advised on adjustments for each property. s the evidence will reflect, they conducted their own analysis. For example, on 40 Wall Street, the borrower had a valuation of $530 million. Deutsche Bank's own independent underwriting analysis estimated the value at $500 million. Both of those numbers, the evidence will show, will differ from other appraisals and other valuations. That doesn't make the bank's number fraudulent any more than it makes the defendant's number fraudulent.

Everyone has a different opinion as to value. That is the sum and substance of the evidence; and, as long as those opinions are formulated in a way that comply with SC 274 and G P and they're presented appropriately, there can be no intent. There can be no materiality; and, here, particularly with the disclaimers and with the evidence that will be-- the record will be replete with, of independent analyses done by the user, by Deutsche Bank, there can be no reliance; but, the Court not need take the defendant's word for this.

The evidence will include testimony from actual individuals involved in the loan decisions, the very decisions that the ttorney General is disputing, the very transactions that the ttorney General is focusing on.

These individuals are Thomas Sullivan, David Williams, Emily Pereless and Rosemary Vrablic, all of them were involved in the loan decisions. ll of them were involved, in some shape or fashion, in the process by which Deutsche Bank engaged in conducting its own analysis and in reaching conclusions.

They will testify that Deutsche Bank conducted, as they're required to, their own independent risk analysis, that they did not rely on the statements. They will testify that the valuation disparities are not falsity or fraud, not evidence of any intent to defraud.

Indeed, their own independent analysis, as I noted, demonstrated a $2 billion difference between the client reported and their own numbers, $2 billion difference. Yet, they proceeded with the transaction. They were eager to proceed with the transaction, wisely so, because they made well over $100 million in interest. They made a good risk/benefit calculation.

The evidence will show that is exactly why they did, what they did, and that is how they proceeded. They fully anticipated that the statements provided by the borrower were going to be different than their values, and, their testimony will demonstrate and reflect their view that the statements were not misleading.

The bank officers will also testify that President Trump was overqualified for the sub-loans, that his net worth far exceeded the minimum required to be a private wealth customer. The ttorney General presents, as evidence that they intend to present, as evidence of motive, that somehow the defendants were seeking access to loan terms that they couldn't otherwise obtain; but, the testimony of the bank officers, themselves, involved in the transaction, will demonstrate that President Trump was overqualified for these loans, by far.

Their testimony also will reflect that President Trump didn't violate the loan agreements by making the certifications that President Trump did not default, that President Trump did not make any false statements, and, that the alleged valuation disparities in the statements did not impact the loan approval or pricing; and, the testimony of the ttorney General's expert is beyond speculative in that regard.

There's no actual connectivity between what the bank's independent sophisticated risk analysis was and the basis for the disgorgement. They're fundamentally disconnected, and, we believe the evidence will demonstrate there is a fundamental lack of proof on any of the disgorgement claims, particularly the evidence of their purported expert.

So, the summation of what the evidence will establish is, as you've heard me say repeatedly, the statements were materially accurate. They complied with G P, SC 274. There's, therefore, no evidence of intent to defraud. The compliance with the acceptable governing standards and the adherence to those standards demonstrates that-- will demonstrate that the defendants had no intent to defraud.

There's also no evidence of any agreement, an essential element of conspiracy claim, other than, as I mentioned, from the serial liar, Mr. Cohen. The evidence will establish there was no breach, no late payments, no defaults. The banks profited minorly from their sophisticated risk-benefit analysis, that those sophisticated banks and insurers were never mislead about anything. Importantly, that the disclaimers notified the users to conduct their own independent underwriting analysis in clear terms, fully negating intent.

nyone intending to defraud does not say to the other side, please conduct your own analysis. No, we put them on notice, fully on notice through those disclaimers. The language is unequivocal. The evidence will suggest there is no unjust benefits or profits of the defendants. They were fully overqualified for the loan.

The bank's independent underwriting analysis is what created the pricing and loan terms, not the Statements of Financial Condition and certainly not the certifications, which came long after, in most cases, the loans that the ttorney General seeks to render at issue here, despite the clear bar of the Statute of Limitations.

In sum, there was no illegality. There was no fraud. There are no victims; and, we believe the evidence will demonstrate the ttorney General has no case.

Thank you.

THE COURT: I just want to ask you two things. You said, I think twice, that the banks were required to do due diligence. Required by who or what?

MR. KISE: You'll hear from their experts. Mr. Unell will come in to testify about the applicable OCC regulations. That's testimony we think, frankly, should have been incorporated in the summary judgment process. Respectfully, I understand it wasn't but, certainly, that testimony is going to be very poignant and very significant here.

THE COURT: I think you suggested that under Executive Law Section 63(12) disgorgement is not available as a remedy.

Is that your position?

MR. KISE: I preserve that as an objection. I understand your Honor's ruling fully. I just didn't preserve that as an objection but yes. Given your Honor's ruling, we'll certainly speak to that evidence that the ttorney General intends to present. We'll rebut that evidence directly.

THE COURT: I'm not talking about evidence. I'm talking about point of law and it's not a question as to what I ruled on. It's a question of what the First Department, maybe the Court of ppeals, has been saying.

There's case law that says disgorgement is an available remedy in a 63(12) case. Isn't that what the law says?

MR. KISE: We respectfully disagree with your Honor. We'll take that up with the ppellate Court. I'm not belaboring the point, and, I'm just making note that we had that legal objection, and, when the time comes, we'll make minor objections that we need to to preserve our ppellate record and we will move on.

THE COURT: Thank you.

MR. KISE: Thank you.

THE COURT: We've been going for an hour and 40 minutes. I believe a lot of you have been sitting here for a lot longer than that. I said one of the few things I'd say is, let's take a ten-minute break.

THE COURT: Tommy's announcements are probably pretty loud for you. If you are standing right next to him, it's deafening.

Can I see just the attorneys for 60 seconds? Come on up to the bench.

(Whereupon, an off-the-record discussion took place at the bench.)

THE COURT: Do defendants have other opening statements from other clients?

(Whereupon, there was a pause in the proceedings.)

MS. H BB : No feedback?

THE COURT: No feedback.

MS. H BB : I have a feeling my voice will boom anyway.

How are you, your Honor?

THE COURT: I'm good. How are you?

MS. H BB : Well, we have been doing this for three years. I first want to say that I incorporate everything my colleague said, and Cliff Robert will speak after me, on behalf of the children. s you know, I represent other individuals in this case, lan Weisselberg Jeff McConney, the President, and certain entities of the Trump Organization.

I will start by saying that I wasn't planning to speak today until I saw what the attorney general said outside, and when I saw the presentation that was just put on by Mr. Wallace.

First, I want to say that this case was brought prior to the ttorney General sitting in office, as we know. That is part of this case, unfortunately, because it is a public case, as your Honor has astutely said. That's why we have press here. That's why we are all sitting here, right now, three years later. This case could have been brought before.

I would like to start with some -- I'm going to go through Mr. Wallace's testimony first, but before I do that, I just want to remind everyone that Ms. James said that she was going to come into the ttorney General's office, and she was going to get Trump. She was going to go to work, get Trump, and then go home. This is a case brought by the ttorney General, so it is part of this case.

Michael Cohen's testimony was played by Mr. Wallace.

Thank you for playing that, actually.

I look forward to having Mr. Cohen take the stand, because when he takes the stand, I'll play the rest of the testimony where Michael Cohen, who is a convicted felon, who is a liar, by the Southern District of New York, said that the Statement of Financial Condition took three days, from start to finish. He said that the Statement of Financial Condition, he did with lan Weisselberg alone, and that will be played, as well.

Opening Statement by Ms. Habba Page 57

So, thank you for your part, but I will be putting on mine.

The ttorney General's office would like you to believe that Donald Trump and his family had a conspiracy. When they put in their Statement of Financial Condition, there were -- let's talk about their worth. If Donald Trump and his family wanted to put in a conspiracy, wanted to defraud banks, as the ttorney General's Office would have you believe, then there would have been brand. There would have been the rights to The pprentice. There would have been the same brand that got that man elected for president.

Now, there's lot of people in this room that probably don't like that, and I believe that's why we are here. But, it's a fact. We are attacking a sitting president, and two of his children, and his employees, for a Statement of Financial Condition which is, frankly, worth less than what they are worth.

These are sophisticated lenders, your Honor. To prove their case, they have to show that there was intent to defraud lenders. These lenders are Deutsche Bank. They are major. We have other lenders we will go through, and I'll let my colleague go through it in excruciating detail, but let me be clear: These lenders made money. They made money. They were not defrauded, and there is no merican in this country that has ever given a value of their property to a bank for a loan, and had it be taken at face value. nd frankly, if that ever is the case, then those banks should be investigated, not the individuals that valued their great companies, frankly, at less than what they are worth.

Let me give you a few examples, your Honor. You pointed out, in your summary judgment order, that Mar- -Lago was worth $18 million. How? How is that possible?

Now, I know Ms. Greenfield is probably writing you a note right now to say that that is a tax assessed value, so let me just get right to that. tax assessment is different than the market value of the property, and I want the press to understand that, your Honor, and I want -- I hope that by the end of this hearing, I truly hope that you can have an open mind and hear that that is the case.

They are conflating issues. They are saying that when you go for a tax assessment -- and I ask your Honor, and I ask all the merican people that are, frankly, going to hear about this: When you have a home, and you ask for your tax assessment, no one is giving that top dollar. That's not accurate. The value is the value, and the value of anything -- and they teach this, actually, at HBS, and at many other schools. They say, the value is what someone is willing to pay.

The Trump properties are Mona Lisa properties, your Honor. So, I'll submit that while you want to look at a tax document, we have experts, renowned experts, who have said that properties like Mar- -Lago are worth over a billion dollars, $1.5 billion, and I assure you that there is a person out there that would buy that property, that spectacular property, for way over a billion dollars. That is not fraud. That is real estate.

Further, I would like to talk about the one thing that the G conveniently didn't bring up: WeiserMazars. Let's discuss Weiser. WeiserMazars is a very well-known accounting firm in the State of New York. WeiserMazars, in their own, in their own agreement with the Trump Organization stated, and I'm going to read it in, "Our record will include the following," I quote, "Because the significance and pervasiveness of the matters discussed above make it difficult to assess their impact on the Statement of Financial Condition, users of this personal financial statement should recognize that they may reach different conclusions about the financial condition of Donald J. Trump if they had access to a revised Statement of Financial Condition prepared in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of merica."

I know what everyone is thinking. That's the retainer with Trump; okay? Let's talk about what was given to the banks. What was -- like, this Statement of Financial Condition. What was given? Here is the cover page. Page one after the cover page is one page with a disclaimer stating, "Because the significance and pervasiveness of the matters discussed above make it difficult to assess their impact on the Statement of Financial Conditions, users of this personal financial statement should recognize that they might reach different conclusions about the financial condition of Donald J. Trump if they had access to a revised Statement of Financial Condition prepared in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of merica."

So, what happened? There was an investigation of Mazars, or the G reaches out to Mazars and puts them under pressure, and we get a statement saying that they no longer can represent the Trump Organization. But that same statement that we received -- and I was there the day we received it -- stated that they could not articulate any flaws that the Trump organization had done. nd why is that? Because Donald Bender, who will take the stand as their first, first representative, their strongest guy, Donald Bender will have you believe that, as the accountant who acted effectively as the in-house accountant for this organization, his hands are clean.

He had unfettered access, your Honor. We'll ask him what he did, and we'll prove that he had unfettered access to the Trump organization. He could come in, he could go out. He could get on the computers. We didn't even monitor when he was on, looking through the records. nd your Honor, you and I went through, as you recall, back in the special proceeding, when I gave over thousands of documents, thousands, when we opened up the Trump organization, when we opened up his homes and we were willing to cooperate, and did, and there was nothing that turned up that was in direct conflict of what I'm saying now.

So, the ttorney General is going after kids, and I'll let Cliff, who represents the kids, go to that, but I will also say that their representation that a phone call with an accounting department asking for status of zoning, is not a conspiracy. It's doing business. nybody with real estate understanding -- and I personally come from a family of real estate, so I get this, but to the merican people, to the people, maybe at the ttorney General's office, that aren't aware of how real estate companies operate, this is normal practice. The banks are aware, and the banks do their own values, and do their own investigations, and frankly, if they don't, then they are in violation themselves.

More examples of properties that were undervalued. Doral. It was stated on the Statement of Financial Condition for $350 million, your Honor. nyone who follows golf knows that Doral has one of the best golf courses in the country. I've had the pleasure of visiting these properties, sir. They are not normal properties. Doral would sell for at least a billion dollars. Mar- -Lago, at least a billion dollars. Look at OPO. OPO did sell for 100 million more than what was stated on the Statement of Financial Condition. Very point. Very point, sir. Ten times the value that was stated on the Statement of Financial Condition. Doral has 1500 units that have never been developed.

The list could go on and on, because real estate is malleable, your Honor. Real estate changes. The values change, but there was absolutely no fraud, no intent to defraud, no conspiracy.

I would just like to close by saying that I believe -- well, first, before I do that, I do want to thank you, your Honor, for one thing you said when you opened up, which was explaining to the press, the jury issue, because I personally have been dealing with that myself, and 6312, and the fact that we don't have a jury, and I know my client did want a jury. I want to say that. But we have addressed that, and I appreciate that you clarified, for the Court. So thank you, for that, from me.

THE COURT: You're welcome.

MS. H BB : Well, these are sophisticated banks. These are sophisticated lenders. They made over $100 million, and there was no intent to defraud. Period, the end. The disgorgement only came, which is what the ttorney General is asking for, after the Trumps sold the property that they undervalued for 250 more than was valued. That's when this case was brought, not two years ago. fter the sale, and that's the number they picked.

Why? Because if you look at the president and his family's worth, if you look at the Trump Organization and all the 850-plus people that work for that beautiful company, you will see that they have never overvalued. The Statement of Financial Condition was disclaimed. It was undervalued, in my opinion, and we'll prove that, through our experts, and the G is setting a very dangerous precedent for all business owners in the State of New York.

Opening Statement by Ms. Habba Page 64

The State of New York, they would have you believe, if you believe your property is worth a million dollars and you list it on Trulia for $1 million, but it sells for 800,000, then you, sir, should be here, and you should be disgorged of your profits, and that is a very dangerous time for our country, and this state.

Thank you, your Honor.

THE COURT: Ms. Habba, as you referenced, we have been dealing with, to use a slang term, each other for years, and if it's okay with you, and because we don't have a jury, or at least a formal jury, I would like to just go over a few of the things that you said. Is that okay?

MS. H BB : Of course, your Honor.

THE COURT: One, this is not a question, you referred to Mr. Wallace's presentation as testimony. Opening statements are not testimony.

MS. H BB : Opening statement. Yes.

THE COURT: It's just what you intend to prove.

MS. H BB : Yes. Well, I think part of it, your Honor, to be clear, was testimony. He played testimony from some of the witnesses.

THE COURT: You are right.

Next, you brought up the ttorney General's history, motivations, statements.

MS. H BB : Yes.

THE COURT: You had moved to have the entire case dismissed because it's a, quote, witch hunt, which is what the press tends to call it, and I denied that, and I was affirmed by the First Department. So Ms. James' motivations are not an issue in this case any more; are they?

MS. H BB : Well, your Honor, actually I brought a case that was separate from this case against Ms. James for what I believe is constitutionally improper, improper by her office, and I do believe her statements out of court prior to having office, and claiming that she knows what goes on in the Trump Organization, are very important to this case. Unfortunately, it's become the fabric of this country, right now, that these out-of-court statements are part of the case.

Ms. James sat on the court steps before coming in here. I didn't know she was going to do that, but that's part of the schtick, evidently, so I have to address it, and I do believe that that was improper on many levels. I withdrew that case. It was not dismissed.

THE COURT: ll right. We can go back and forth.

MS. H BB : Sure. Of course, your Honor.

THE COURT: We have a few more points to discuss. The valuation of Mar- -Lago, there were very significant easements on the ability to turn it into -- subdivide it into residences, et cetera, and more importantly, I specifically said, in the summary judgment decision, I'm not valuing or evaluating properties. I believe that there was --

Well, I wouldn't telegraph that, but please, Press, stop saying that I valued it at $18 million. That was a tax assessment. Or, something in that range.

There would have been issues of fact as to what the value was.

MS. H BB : Well, I think, your Honor -- if I may respond?

THE COURT: Yes.

MS. H BB : I think that is an issue of fact, and the fact -- and I'll preserve, as my colleague said, everything on the ppellate Division, but the fact that you drafted a summary judgment motion saying that that was not an issue of fact is exactly what we are appealing, and we'll handle that on the ppellate Division.

THE COURT: Okay. I didn't draft a motion. I drafted a decision.

MS. H BB : Yes, your Honor.

THE COURT: You referred, perhaps obliquely, or maybe more directly, to the million pages of documents that were turned over.

MS. H BB : Yes.

THE COURT: I held one of the defendants in contempt. I fined him $10,000 a day. It was vacated after 11 days, and I was upheld on that, both the contempt finding, and the amount of the fine. So, I don't know why we are --

MS. H BB : Well, I just wanted to bring up the point, your Honor, that after these ten days, despite the fine, which, we obviously went through our procedure, you did recall that after those days, and after my diligent searches and my certifications, we never did find anything that was not previously revealed.

THE COURT: Yes, that's right.

MS. H BB : So my point is, that goes to the good faith and the intent, your Honor.

THE COURT: You never did find anything, but the contempt was because you didn't submit an affidavit that said who looked for what, when, where.

MS. H BB : nd then I did, many times.

THE COURT: nd then you did. Well, but the defendant didn't. You did, I think. But, I don't think the defendant did.

MS. H BB : He did, actually, your Honor.

THE COURT: I don't think he submitted an affidavit saying what he did, when, where, et cetera.

MS. H BB : Right.

THE COURT: You said that at one point, just recently, values change. That's one of the big points in this case. You can't look at property ten years later and say, Well, now look what it's worth. These Statements of Financial Condition were current, current market value, so yes, values change, but the point of the Statements of Financial Condition is what were they worth then? What would a willing seller and willing buyer agree to?

MS. H BB : nd if I may respond?

THE COURT: Sure.

MS. H BB : Saying that the value of Mar- -Lago, then or now, would be worth that -- and I obviously, again, on appeal, so I'm not going to litigate our case between you and me, and give my adversaries the benefit of hearing all of my arguments, but I think that we'll prove that, through our experts. We'll prove that at that time, they were undervalued, in many instances. s I noted, some of these properties are heavy undervalued, and we are forgetting the disclaimer, and also the fact that the Trump brand is worth something.

nd, I know that you addressed it in your summary judgment motion, and I'm not going to get into it now, but we cannot -- look, my point is this, your Honor, and I think that our case will show this: If this was a conspiracy, if we were trying to inflate his value, which is worth billions and billions and billions of dollars more than anything he ever took the loan out, and frankly, he was underleveraged, but if you were -- if they are trying to prove that, your Honor, that case falls flat on its face, just by looking at certain things that were not included.

If that was the intent for Forbes magazine, then why wouldn't President Trump say, Put in the brand, put in The pprentice rights, put in the Miss merica, or whatever it was, Universe. Put all that in. Let's inflate it. That didn't happen, your Honor.

THE COURT: The brand value, at least some of the Statements of Financial Condition specifically, expressly said, We are not including brand value. Is that the case? Right?

MS. H BB : nd my point is it was not included, and if he had wanted to inflate, why wouldn't we?

Never mind any of that, your Honor. Everything falls on its face when you look at the WeiserMazars disclaimer, and the sophisticated banks we are dealing with that did their own due diligence.

nd I just submit, your Honor, I don't want to litigate my case with you, only because of the prejudice that that could cause to my client.

THE COURT: My final point is, the disclaimers,

Opening Statement by Ms. Habba Page 70

which understandably, the defendants make a big deal about, first of all, I believe that was part of both the motion to dismiss, and the motion for preliminary injunction. I ruled against that, as a defense. I was upheld both times, but I would just like to explain, basically, what the disclaimers, which were separate from the worth statements, but just talking about the disclaimers, the Mazars disclaimers basically said, We are not sure about all this, look to the Trump Organization, that's where we are getting these figures. So, they were anything but, you know, disclaimers, and you can't even make a disclaimer on behalf of someone else, so I just don't see it.

MS. H BB : Your Honor, I'm actually glad you brought that up. Did if I may?

THE COURT: Sure.

MS. H BB : gain, my experts, my colleagues, who are incredibly bright, they will go into excruciating detail with every witness, and we will bore everyone in this room at length for three months, but if I can just give you the high level of where I disagree with you on that, sir?

THE COURT: Sure.

MS. H BB : It's that, these are compilations. We did not present the Statement of Financial Condition as an audited financial. Period, the end. They are compilations. nd again, I go back to my Trulia example. No bank, no lender, takes somebody's value at a compilation, the lowest level. It's not audited. It doesn't proclaim to be. It doesn't proclaim to have been. It never did.

Opening Statement by Ms. Habba Page 71

But, on top of the fact that it's a compilation, they put the waiver on the front. On top of that, these banks came in and did their own due diligence. It was not us that did it.

nd, for what its worth, your Honor, we could go all day, I'm sure, and it would be great, but that is the crux of where I disagree with you.

THE COURT: ll right. Is it not the case that, in a layperson's terms -- and we have a lot of lay people out there -- the Mazars disclaimer was basically, We are relying on the Trump Organization?

MS. H BB : No, your Honor.

THE COURT: That's how I read it.

MS. H BB : Well, frankly, the Trump Organization relied on Mazars to come in and do what they did, and they came in. Regardless, they are the accountants. They are the accountants, sir.

THE COURT: Thank you.

MS. H BB : Thank you, your Honor.

THE COURT: nd we have at least one more opening

Opening Statement by Mr. Robert Page 72 statement by the defendants.

(Whereupon, there was a pause in the proceedings.)

MR. ROBERT: Can you hear me, Judge?

THE COURT: Yes. That's pretty good, but keep your voice up.

MR. ROBERT: Okay. Good afternoon, sir. I'll be very brief.

First of all, I want to just say that I echo the statements of Mr. Kise, on behalf of my clients, Eric Trump and Donald Trump, Jr. We reserve all the rights and the objections that Mr. Kise has referenced, but what I want to spend my few moments here talking to you about, your Honor, is what I will respectfully submit that the evidence will show that my clients did in this case, but I actually think, more importantly, what the evidence will show that my clients did not do, in this case.

I don't think it's going to come as a surprise to anyone in this courtroom that I vigorously, on behalf of my clients, disagree with just about everything Mr. Wallace said this morning, but there are two things that I actually do agree with him on, and I actually flagged them, and I put them in red on my pad, because I was shocked that I actually agreed with him about something, and what I agreed with him on were two concepts.

One, that in order for the ttorney General to win her case, she has to show repeated, persistent, illegal acts, and I respectfully submit to this Court, she will not be able to sustain that burden, especially as to Eric Trump and Donald Trump, Jr., and more importantly, what Mr. Wallace said is that you need to judge credibility. Mr. Wallace put it in the context of credibility of denial.

Well, your Honor, it's credibility, in and of itself. You will be the finder of fact. You will hear testimony from Eric Trump. You will hear testimony from Donald Trump, Jr. You will hear them be cross examined by able counsel for the ttorney General, and you will then make a decision as to their veracity.

In addition, you will hear testimony, as Mr. Kise set forth, from the witnesses of Deutsche Bank, and Deutsche Bank's testimony is going to be consistent in that there was never a material misrepresentation made by Eric Trump or Donald Trump, Jr. So, it's not going to just be the credibility of my clients. It's not just going to be the credibility of the president, when he testifies. It's going to be the credibility of people who were actually involved in the transactions, and I don't think that can be overstated.

It's interesting. You know, when we do an opening statement, I think the first rule we learn is, you want to show the best part of your case because, you know, especially if there was a jury here -- which again, I agree with Ms. Habba, we were entitled to under 6312 -- but very often I'll tell a jury, it's kind of like a road map. I want to tell you where I'm going, and what I think the evidence is going to prove.

Well, I think it's fascinating that in the ttorney General's opening, their major linchpin is Michael Cohen. Now, as the Court will hear, he is actually on their first -- I think the first six witnesses, maybe the first seven. So, when you talk about credibility, you are going to have a guy who lies to everyone; who is a convicted felon; who allocuted, very specifically in Judge Pauley's courtroom, which we can probably see if we look out the window, and he is a fixture of what their case is about.

Now, they played you a snippet of Eric Trump, which quite frankly I thought was in incredibly poor taste, and really misleading. That snippet has to do with Mr. Trump honestly asking if he recalls a 2021 conversation. What they didn't show is the rest of his testimony, where he goes through what exactly it is he does at the Trump Organization, and the fact that he and Donald Trump, Jr. spent their life working for their dad, learning from their dad. When their dad assumed the office of being the 45th President of the United States in 2017, Eric and Don then continued to grow the business, Eric in an operational standpoint; Don expanding what the company was doing.

But, as you are going to hear, and as the testimony from Eric Trump's deposition -- and I'll read from it, page 32, lines 17 and 18:

"I was focused on pouring concrete, not accounting."

Now, let's be clear. Eric Trump and Donald Trump, Jr. are not walking away from the Statements of Financial Condition. Let's be clear. There were no material inaccuracies. ll of the statements and certifications signed by Donald Trump, Jr. and Eric Trump are clear that it talked about no material misrepresentations. This is not a situation where someone signs an affidavit, and they're attesting that every single fact in there is true.

I would ask your Honor to think about it in terms of, it's no different from an affidavit where the affiant says, I believe the following to be true, in all material respects.

That's what they did here, and it is clear, and our evidence will show, our experts will show, Mr. Kise went through, in painstaking detail, that they were not materially -- there was nothing materially wrong with them.

nd again, you are not taking my word. You will take the word of an NYU Stern School of Business professor. You will take the word of a senior person who used to work at the SEC.

MR. ROBERT: But even though we're not running away from these statements of financial condition, as I started my opening, I want to submit to you what the evidence will show my clients didn't do and there's no refuting it. There's not any amount of snippets Mr. Wallace can play, even taken out of context, that will disprove, one, they were not involved in the creation and preparation of the SOFC.

Two, they did not assemble the backup for the SOFC. Three, they did not review the SOFC supporting data. Four, they did not perform the calculations used in the SOFC; and, five, they did not review those calculations after they were done. Others created and prepared the SOFC; and, for those years, when they signed documents dealing with financial matters, they relied on the work product of others, which is not anything that should come as a surprise to anyone, especially the People, when you're of a level of a company that Mr. Trump were, they weren't the ones with the green accounting hat ongoing through the mountain of documents in the backup.

So, to suggest there is liability that can be attached to them, first of all, from the first foundational issue that there's nothing materially wrong with the statements and, second, the fact that they acted as appropriately as they should, both in their capacity as executive and in Donald Trump, Jr. as trustee.

Therefore, I respectfully submit that the claims brought by the New York State ttorney General against my client should be dismissed.

I thank you for your time.

THE COURT: Is it the position of all three defendant lawyers that there were no material-- withdrawn. That there were no misstatements in any Statements of Financial Condition?

Is that your position?

MR. ROBERT: You made a ruling in your summary judgment motion. My position was there were no material misstatements because that is what the People must prove and, at least as it relates to my clients, those were the certifications they signed. The words in every single document they signed say the words "material representation."

I'll defer to Mr. Kise as to the others.

THE COURT: Let's talk about, very briefly, that word "material." Let's say there's a statement that $100 million. t what point would you consider something material? Would $20,000 be material?

MR. KISE: Your Honor --

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. KISE: I think this is-- your hypothetical represents the fundamental problem we have, respectfully, with the summary judgment order. You haven't heard the evidence. You haven't heard from Professor Bartov in person. You haven't heard from Mr. Unell. You haven't heard from Mr. Flemmons and I think you owe it to the defendants to listen to this evidence and understand exactly what I was saying. SC 274 --

THE COURT: The evidence, that would be argument. Mr. Bartov has evidence?

MR. KISE: He does have evidence. His opinion on what the governing accounting standards are. I'm not an expert on governing accounting standards. I don't think the Court is. Respectfully, I don't think you're an expert on governing accounting standards.

So, if you have an expert that comes in and tells you this is what the estimated current value is and that is how it's calculated. This is what is material or not, you can agree or disagree but at least give us an opportunity to have a trial where you hear this evidence and make those determinations, because, right now, we haven't gotten there and I would caution your Honor vigorously to -- I understand your hypothetical but I think under these circumstances there's a lot more to the story. There is a lot more layers to this.

The ttorney General wants to make it simple. There is an error here and it's material because we say so. I think we have to at least give these witnesses an opportunity to take the stand and understand what this case is about. If you want to disagree later, that's fine, but, I would say that we've got testimony from folks that understand fully valuations. They understand fully accounting standards, and, it is relevant to intent. It is relevant to materiality.

If I prepare a statement and that statement is in accordance with the Governing ccounting Standards, I cannot see how, possibly, someone can say, even if they disagree with my valuations, that I had intended to defraud. So, maybe you disagree with my valuation but that is an entirely different question.

So, I'd ask the Court to allow us to present the evidence. For example, the differentiation in values, I mean, we have experts that you haven't heard from, and, I don't know we're going to hear from them now based on the way the case is structured.

I mean, the ttorney General has certainly opened the door, in my mind, to valuation issues, but, we don't have to decide that today. I think we need to make sure that the evidence comes into the courtroom in a fulsome way and you hear from witnesses who tell you no, that is not material. This value is not 18-- back to the hypothetical. This value is not $18 million, it's a billion dollars, whatever the case may be, but, the Court really needs-- and, frankly, I think from the constitutional perspective, owes it to the defendants to at least hear this evidence and allow them to defend themselves.

You're talking about a trial, by the ttorney General's own press conference, is designed to strip them of their New York assets and drive them out of business in New York State. That is a pretty serious thing. That is a pretty serious charge to level against a business that's been one of the most successful employers and one of the most successful real estate developers in New York City.

The message that sends is staggering to the real estate community. That is my opinion, but, I know we're not here to get into my opinions. The record will demonstrate, what we say will demonstrate, and, I ask the Court listen to all that evidence before making that determination.

THE COURT: I intend to be very patient and liberal listening to things. I think the specific disagreement we seem to have is if Professor Bartov reads a document and has a professional opinion about it, to me, that's not evidence. That's testimony or expert opinion but it's not bringing in new facts. Right?

MR. KISE: Respectfully, your Honor, expert opinion in testimony is evidence. That's what evidence is. It's not a document, but, their opinion is relevant. gain, unless the Court is going to be satisfied that it is an expert on accounting regulations, it is an expert on accounting principles and an expert on OCC regulations --

THE COURT: I think what-- is it stacking a dead horse? I intend to listen to all of this. Whether expert opinion is evidence, again, I just consider it opinion and testimony, but, I wouldn't call it evidence, but, there may be different demonstrations.

MR. KISE: gain, I don't know how to say it any more clearly. We, respectfully, disagree. We think an expert, for example, a valuation expert comes in and says Mar- -Lago is worth a billion dollars and you have taken a position that the tax assessor, without a trial, taken a position that the tax assessor's valuation is more credible but --

THE COURT: I did not judge credibility. You can't do that.

MR. KISE: That is the whole point, your Honor. That is why --

THE COURT: That's why I didn't do it.

MR. KISE: You need to certainly hear when we're talking about criminal standards. We're talking about standards under criminal predicates. Those things must and should be adjudicated with the benefit of expert testimony. There's no way to do it otherwise. It's just not possible. We're all lay people when it comes to some of these things.

I am a lay person. I have an accounting degree but I wouldn't call myself an expert on ICP standards.

THE COURT: Thank you. We have to break in about 15 minutes but let's hear the housekeeping issues that were raised this morning.

MR. MER: Good afternoon. ndrew mer on behalf of the People. We did send a letter this morning raising a couple of issues. I'll set it pretty quickly.

The first issue concerns trial subpoenas that were served literally on the eve of trial on Mazars and Ladder Capital. We think the Court should just quash these subpoenas.

First, they were never served on us, as they're required to be under 2303(a) CPLR 2303(a) but, importantly, as the cases we cite to in our letter demonstrate, you can't use the trial subpoena to reopen discovery.

We've had a note of issue. Discovery is over and these trial subpoenas, in large measure, seek documents that they already tried to obtain through subpoenas during fact discovery and, in any event, you just can't use a trial subpoena on an eve of trial to reopen discovery.

We shouldn't be dealing with these type of issue as we're trying to prepare each day to present evidence to the Court. So, we would ask that we not have to deal with these subpoenas because we'd ask that the Court quash them.

THE COURT: I believe the basic rule is in discovery you find out what there is and subpoenas are for, hey, bring it to court.

MR. MER: Exactly. The second issue concerns Nicholas Haigh.

MR. KISE: re we going to take these one at a time or is he going to do it --

THE COURT: I gather you'd like to speak now to number one?

MR. KISE: It may just get jumbled if we don't.

THE COURT: I understand. I don't know that I'm making a ruling now.

MR. KISE: I understand. I want to make some points and Mr. Robert may also have some points on the first issue. Just for convenience, because we have the remote microphone over there, which is challenging, I'll just stand here, if that's all right with your Honor. Thank you.

The trial subpoena asks-- Mr. Robert will speak to this. I don't think they were served improperly but to the extent that is a valid argument, we can just reserve them today. That's easy enough.

With respect to the substance, though, this is not information we sought in discovery. s you pointed out, there's things we identified during discovery and, for the trial, we asked for specific records. These are very narrow. They're specific records. They may not think they're narrow because they cover a broad time period but they're very specific records that speak, specifically, to particular witnesses that we now know are going to appear at trial and they go, potentially, to cross-examination of those witnesses.

We're certainly-- it's not discovery. We're entitled to, I want to see those records. It's up to us to go through them but it is not discovery. It's information we need for the trial. We didn't seek it in discovery. We identified it, perhaps, in discovery but, at this point, I don't see that they even have a basis to object to what it is that we want to go through in terms of using other -- locating impeachment material we think is relevant. If it exists, give it to us. That's it. It's pretty simple.

THE COURT: The point was raised just a few hours ago. I'll have to look at the subpoenas.

MR. ROBERT: Your Honor, if I may, the section of the CPLR Mr. rmen references were to properly notify them before the return date.

It's my understanding, you referenced, when we started today, about the rains of Thursday and Friday. My understanding is the subpoenas were served throughout the course of Thursday and Friday in due course. If they don't have it already, we probably already e-mailed it to them this morning. That's a nonissue.

I also note the people who were served are not moving to quash. Usually, you have a meet and confer with the person that received the subpoena. You discuss whether or not it was too broad, what the relevance of it is, why we needed it, and, it could be worked out. The ttorney General is sending the letter, as a nonparty, to the subpoena objecting to it. I think it's also procedurally improper.

THE COURT: Let's go on to the second issue.

MR. MER: The second concerns our need to take a deposition of Mr. Haigh. Let me give you background of Mr. Haigh, who was at Deutsche Bank. We understood, and have understood for quite sometime, that Mr. Haigh would be leaving the country starting on October 13th and would be unavailable.

It was our intent to call Mr. Haigh live on our case in chief before he left the country but then on September 26th, your Honor issued a ruling that changed the nature of our case. We actually read the ruling and we understood the ruling to mean that what the banks thought and did just didn't matter.

I don't know how more clearly your Honor could have stated it and how many times you could have stated it, and, I think this is a direct quote. "You can't lie on financial statement period." nd so, as a result of your Honor's ruling, which we are taking heed of, we are not calling bank representatives because they're not part of our case anymore. We don't need to put on testimony from banks.

So, the issue we have, and, I think it's absolutely clear from the openings here, is that the defendants haven't changed the case that they intend to put on to incorporate many of the Court's rulings and they still intend to provide you with testimony from their experts, which we'll talk about at a later point in time, and, they still intend to provide testimony from bank employees, even though your Honor has said what the bank thought didn't matter.

THE COURT: Well, remember, I said that about the first cause of action. I'm not sure about the other six.

MR. MER: That's why we may have a dispute of whether the bank employees can testify and what the scope of their testimony will be. We need to account for the fact that we may need to call Mr. Haigh in our rebuttal case; and, it's perfectly clear from his schedule that he will not be available to be called at trial on our rebuttal case.

So, we've asked to take his deposition to preserve his testimony for rebuttal and we have scheduled, with his counsel, to do that next week, and, the defendants are refusing to allow us to take his testimony to preserve it for rebuttal, and, we think we should certainly be allowed that right.

We didn't understand until September 26th that we were not going to call him in our case in chief; and, I think our decision not to call him in our case in chief is an appropriate decision, given your Honor's ruling, and, we would like the opportunity to take his deposition next week, and, I would note that your Honor has accommodated the defendants' request the other day to take depositions of witnesses who we're going to put on and we've made no objection to that. We're working with them to schedule it.

So, we think Mr. Haigh's deposition should go forward on the date Mr. Haigh's counsel agreed to make him available next week.

THE COURT: Defendant, any quick reply?

MR. KISE: Your Honor, yes. First of all, there's no need to take a deposition. If they want to call a witness, they can call a witness and bring that witness in the courtroom. Your Honor pointed out exactly the key elements here. You determined in your ruling that what the bank said or did or thought was irrelevant to liability, to the decision you made but not to the remainder of the case. That's the whole point.

So, we think it's highly relevant to disgorgement, again, the extent I won't belabor but we think it's highly relevant for disgorgement and, so, if this witness is going to testify, if they're going to establish their case then, he's here. We can take him out of order and put him on the stand. There's no problem with that. I just don't see any bases -- Mr. Robert will speak again.

s you know, he's the CPLR expert, not me, but what the banks thought and did does matter and, frankly, if they want Mr. Haigh to testify, then he needs to come, and, we're prepared to confront him in an open forum, not at some deposition.

The deposition Mr. mer is referencing are new witnesses, people that no one knew about before. They disclosed it the first time on a witness list less than a week before the trial started. They never disclosed him in interrogatories or on a witness list until now.

We had a right to depose them because we don't know anything about their presence but Mr. Haigh, they interviewed Mr. Haigh for three days or more during the investigative process. They know full well what the impact truly is, what he is, why he is.

We deposed Mr. Haigh during the course of discovery. They didn't ask any questions. So, now, they want to come along and insert a deposition of what will, no doubt, be some key witness for them; and, in the middle of a trial, it's wholly improper. There's no procedure for it.

If Mr. Haigh is available, he is available until October 13th, he can certainly come and present his testimony.

THE COURT: Mr. Robert.

MR. ROBERT: You issued an order and there was a lot of back and forth over the last year about the compressed nature of it but, regardless of that, your order of June 9th said "trial depositions for all nonparty witnesses who are unavailable for trial, as set forth in CPLR 3117 shall be held by July 28, 2023.

We opposed it beforehand. If the ttorney General had any issues prior to that point, they needed to make an application. On July 31st they then filed a note of issue certifying "discovery known to be necessary was completed." gain, because this is a bench trial, because you have tremendous discretion as a result of it, if they're intent-- he may be a rebuttal witness, going back to what I said I agree with Mr. Wallace about, credibility is everything.

Let him come here. Let him take the stand. Let him be subject to the ttorney General's direct, our cross-examination, and this Court can hold that in abeyance, if they then want to use that for purposes of rebuttal, but, in the middle of the trial, you will allow him to take a deposition, not in open court, and not before you, I think is incredibly problematic.

MR. KISE: One other thing I'll add, Your Honor, not to be too pejorative here but it appears there may be a little slight of hand. I note on the ttorney General's initial witnesses on September 8th, just a few weeks ago, the trial was still going to start on October 2nd. Mr. Haigh was listed as the 37th witness. So, I doubt that they intended for Mr. Haigh to be called before the 13th on their initial list.

So, I don't know what's even changed between then and now. I don't think Mr. Haigh decided to leave the country for three or four weeks on a whim. So, I think they had their opportunity to raise to depose Mr. Haigh. They could have asked questions during our deposition, as Mr. Robert pointed out. Your order gave a specific time period and there's no basis for that.

We're entitled to confront these witnesses in an open courtroom where everyone can see and hear what they have to say.

THE COURT: Quickly.

MR. MER: Certainly, there is no slight of hand. We didn't appreciate the full schedule of Mr. Haigh's travel and we were perfectly prepared to call him out of turn.

THE COURT: For reasons of time.

MR. MER: Sure.

THE COURT: I'm going to allow the deposition. What's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander. No prejudice. You have a right to confront him in court. If he testifies, you'll have a right to confront him in court. I don't think this is close.

What's the third issue? You can work out the schedule.

MR. MER: Thank you. The third issue concerns a proposal we made. We just haven't gotten a response but I think it's one that will greatly aid the efficiency of the proceedings. We requested that all documents that were produced by any party during the investigative phase in response to our subpoenas be considered authentic to avoid the need to bring in --

MR. KISE: I think we agreed on this already on authenticity. I think we had an agreement on the phone last week on Friday. So, we haven't gotten back. We can work that out. uthenticity.

THE COURT: uthenticity, not necessarily admissibility.

MR. KISE: That's right. That is what we worked out.

THE COURT: I knew this would become a love fest eventually.

MR. MER: One more procedural issue.

THE COURT: Quick.

MR. MER: We now have a designated and counter-designated deposition transcript for a witness we are going to call by video, play her video deposition, and there are some objections that were lodged to certain designations and we can't cut the video to play in court without knowing how your Honor wants to work out ruling on the objections and what process you want us to follow to submit the designations and the objections, get your ruling, and then we can cut the video and make sure, if you sustain any objections, we leave those portions out.

THE COURT: Submit it with a statement of objections in camera and I'll go over the whole thing. Mr. Kise.

MR. KISE: Let us look at the specifics. Mr. mer is correct. How we intend to proceed is key to how we go about resolving the issue. If I'm understanding, you want us to separately -- first we have to try and work out any objections. To the extent we can't, separately submit those, and we'll do that off trial time.

THE COURT: I mean, we'll do that separate. Of course.

MR. KISE: Prior to the time that the witness's testimony is going to be played?

THE COURT: Of course.

MR. MER: You want a paper copy of the transcript highlighted or you want a video?

THE COURT: Paper copy will do. I'm old school. Have a great lunch. We'll resume at 2:15 and I'll have a ruling on the first issue by then. See you all then.

THE COURT: First things first. I would like to have a quick sidebar, or you might call it a front bar, with counsel. This will only take minute or two.

(Whereupon, an off-the-record discussion took place at bench.)

THE COURT: I said I would address the first issue that the ttorney General raised, very recently. I'm quashing those subpoenas. It seems clear to me that they are being used as a discovery device. Let's see what we can find out; not, We want you to bring the report of pril 1965, or whatever. So, that's that.

MR. MER: long these lines, your Honor, we did learn that Deutsche Bank was served with a trial subpoena this morning, so I think it makes sense to extend your order to that subpoena, as well.

THE COURT: Well, I would have to see the subpoena and the argument, so, without prejudice, withdrawn.

Okay. re we ready for our first witness?

MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, the People had one issue relating to the first witness, we just wanted to raise. The People's first witness is going to be Donald Bender, from the accounting firm Mazars. One of the primary reasons to have Mr. Bender come in is to bring in the various documents that relate to the Statement of Financial Condition. There's four primary documents. There's the Statement of Financial Condition; there is the supporting data spreadsheet; there's the engagement letter; and there's the representation letter. So, there's those four documents, for every single year.

Many of them are not objected to, by both parties, and so we would propose that documents that are not subject to objection be entered into evidence, without necessarily having the witness go through each and every single document. For the ones that there are objections to, we'll go through them with the witness.

MR. KISE: I think, your Honor, the best approach -- I mean, again, as we said, we agree as to authenticity, but as to admissibility, I think we need to go document-by-document, because as you know, we have a different view of the timeline here, and it's important for our record to make sure that we preserve those objections.

MR. W LL CE: Let me be clear. We are talking about documents which are listed as, No objection, on the exhibit list.

MR. KISE: If we take it document-by-document, your Honor, it's not going to take very long. I mean, it's pretty simple. So, if we just -- I'm not even sure which four documents he is talking about right now. I'm not saying he is right or wrong. I just think it's much easier, and a much better flow, for us to just take it document-by-document, and if we waive objection, we waive objection.

MR. W LL CE: The objections have been waived already, so my request is that documents with no objection be moved into evidence.

THE COURT: I don't think we can do that, en masse, without seeing. I think Mr. Kise is correct. One-by-one, hopefully, if they have waived their objections. If they object, you will say, But you waived it, and they will say, Well, we did, or we didn't.

MR. W LL CE: Well, that's fine, but we'll go through each document for every one year, and we'll do that with Mr. Bender.

So, the people call Donald Bender.

Your Honor, I would also -- per our discussion at the pretrial conference, we prepared binders. Three copies for court, and staff, if Ms. Faherty can bring them up.

THE COURT: Sure. You can approach. Bring it up.

MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, I'll say we have prepared, actually, two sets of binders for today. One would be for the Court to have a set of these Statements of Financial Condition, so we prepared a set of binders for that. We'll go through them. We are going to go through every single document.

We are also presenting an electronic copy of the supporting data spreadsheet, because it's an Excel spreadsheet.

(Whereupon, documents were handed to the Court.)

MR. W LL CE: If we have a moment, Chris, I think we might raise one more issue.

Mr. Kise and I both made presentations, as part of our openings. Does your Honor want us to provide you with copies of those, or should we file it on the docket?

MR. KISE: We can provide copies, but as I'm sure the Court is aware, opening statements are not evidentiary. They have no --

THE COURT: I said that, earlier.

MR. KISE: Right.

MR. W LL CE: Understood.

THE COURT: But I'll take them. Sure. It would be the same thing as just getting a transcript, so.

(Whereupon, a document was handed to the Court.)

D O N L D B E N D E R, after having first been duly sworn, was examined and testified as follows:

THE COURT OFFICER: Please have a seat.

Please state your name and either home or business address, on the record.

THE WITNESS: My name is Donald Bender, and I live in Woodbury, New York.

THE COURT: I just ask you to keep your voice way up. Talk right into the microphone.

THE WITNESS: I'll try, your Honor.

MR. KISE: Your Honor, not to delay the proceedings, but while we are on the subject of objections, so, with Mr. Bender's testimony, we are going to do the same thing with each witness, if it's okay with your Honor.

s you know, we won an appellate victory in June of this year. We believe that it wiped out 80 percent of the case, based on the statute of limitations. t all events, we object to any testimony that will come in as to Statements of Financial Condition that were prepared, certifications that were made, any questions of this witness. We are going to do this in a blanket way, so we don't interrupt question-by-question, but we just want to state on the record, now, that the witness has been sworn; that we object to testimony coming in that is outside of the claims that should be addressed.

s you know, we have argued that, and we believe that, the ppellate Division ruling supports the fact that eight of the ten transactions, the loan transactions, are not at issue. Only two are, the two that were mentioned at the beginning, but we make a blanket objection to testimony in that regard. We won't interrupt the proceeding.

s to documents, and this is why I was a bit pedantic about document-by-document. We will object, on that basis, document-by-document. To the extent documents come in, because from the ppellate cases that we have reviewed, we have to do that, to preserve the record. We'll make the objection. We'll try and move the case along, but we have to make that objection.

nd then, lastly, if we have agreement, as we have done throughout this case in the depositions, if we have agreement, an objection for one is an objection for all, so that you don't have people popping up, popping up and down, if that's all right with the People. If one of us objects to a document coming in, then we don't all have to stand up and object, to make that record.

THE COURT: Birds of a feather flock together.

MR. KISE: Indeed.

THE COURT: Well, let's not get into a whole discussion about statute of limitations, et cetera. It's my position, and I hope it was clear from the summary judgment decision and order, that it's one thing if your client makes a statement, gets a loan, and the money is transferred, and that's it. It's another thing if the deal is, We'll loan you the money; we want to read your Statement of Financial Condition, and every year you are going to have to send us another Statement of Financial Condition. If those later statements flow within the statutory period, I certainly consider them relevant.

MR. KISE: I understand your Honor's position, and I think you understand ours with respect to the limitations.

With respect to that latter piece, if we are talking about just certifications that occurred after 2014, then that still would exclude any evidence about the underlying loan transaction that predated the statute of limitations. That's part of --

THE COURT: I think that's right, but the pre-statute of limitations dealings may be relevant for injunctive relief, for their knowledge of things, but we'll have to deal it with it one-by-one.

MR. KISE: We would object to that as well, your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. Objection overruled, but I will ask the ttorney General to be cognizant of his points, and if there's something, a discrete transaction, obviously that occurred before the limitations period began, then let's not have that in, because I'll exclude it. I won't consider it, anyway.

MR. W LL CE: Fair enough, your Honor. I think that -- I'm not going to speak for this witness, and every witness that's going to come in. We certainly believe that course of conduct between the parties during a long-standing relationship can have relevance. The statute of limitations is a bar on claims, not on a bar on evidence. If it's too far gone, understood, it could be not relevant anymore, but I think we do this as we go through the case, and we may likely see this on the first document that I show to Mr. Bender.

So, why don't we get started.

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. W LL CE: If that's okay with your Honor.

THE COURT: Please proceed.

DIRECT EX MIN TION

BY MR. W LL CE:

Q Good afternoon, sir.

Good afternoon.

THE COURT: little louder.

THE WITNESS: I'll try.

Good afternoon.

THE COURT: Better.

Q Since there's been some colloquy, could you please state your name again, for the record?

Donald Bender.

Q Mr. Bender, are you taking any medication that we should just be aware of, during the course of your testimony today?

I'm just on normal medications for blood pressure, prostate, aspirins, reflux. Nothing beyond that, today.

Q If you need any breaks, you can --

Okay. Thank you.

Q -- let Judge Engoron know.

Can you please describe, for me, your educational background?

I graduated with a B from Queens College in 1979.

Q Okay. nd do you hold any professional licenses?

I'm a New York State CP .

Q nd are you currently employed?

No. I'm retired. I do a few hours of consulting, but I'm retired.

Q What was your last job, before you retired?

I was a partner at Mazars US .

Q nd what is Mazars US ?

It's an accounting and -- an accounting and consulting firm.

Q t the time of your retirement, how long had you been working for Mazars?

With predecessor firms, approximately 41 years.

Q Okay. nd at what point did you become a partner in the firm?

bout 22 years ago.

Q nd what work did you perform as a partner at Mazars?

D. Bender - Direct by Mr. Wallace Page 105

I considered myself a generalist. I did a little bit of everything. Some test work, some tax work, sales tax. I came from a background of a multi-functional.

Q nd when you say test work, what is that referring to?

Test work means generally, today, audit review or compilation work.

Q Okay. nd we'll get to those, in a minute. Was the defendant, Donald J. Trump, a client of yours at Mazars?

Yes. He was a client of Mazars.

Q nd what work did you do for him, as an individual?

s an individual, I worked on his tax return. I worked on some certain tax exams, and I worked on the compilation of his Statement of Financial Condition for a number of years.

Q What is a tax exam?

Some government authority, federal, state or city, or an agency thereof, is auditing him to see if the numbers are correct.

Q Okay. nd are you familiar with an entity doing business as the Trump Organization?

Well, the Trump Organization, in my time, were two different entities. There were two entities. The first entity was Trump Organization, Inc. The second entity was Trump Organization, LLC. In my point of view, those were basically inactive entities. The name of the Trump Organization, to me, is like a d/b/a. It's an umbrella entity that reflected all of the entities owned or controlled by Donald J. Trump, or his children. That's how I would think of it, today.

Q nd did you do any accounting work for corporate entities owned or controlled by Donald Trump and his children?

I did accounting work for those entities, corporate, partnerships, LLCs. Not just corporate.

Q nd what work did you perform for them?

Like I said, whole spectrum of work, from some audits, reviews, compilations, test work. Some tax returns. You know, a little bit of everything. Whatever needed to be. I was a generalist. I could help out, from time to time.

Q Do you have a sense of approximately how much of your time, let's say during the years 2011 through --

MR. W LL CE: Strike that question.

Q Do you have a sense of how much of your time, from the period of 2011 until your retirement, you were spending on engagements for Donald Trump and the Trump Organization?

I don't have a good sense. If I had to guesstimate today -- it changed over the years -- I would say approximately, anywhere between 45 or 55 percent. But that's just a guesstimate. I don't have the information in front of me, today.

Q Do you have a sense of how much of your time?

Let me take that -- that's probably my billable time.

D. Bender - Direct by Mr. Wallace Page 107

That doesn't include -- I don't have an analysis of non-billable time, so I don't know if that -- I don't think we should rely on those numbers today.

Q Okay. So, I understand you may have been doing work that isn't counted in the billable time?

Yes.

Q You are describing -- that's what your concern was?

Yes.

Q Understood.

Do you have a sense of what percentage of your time doing work for the Trump Organization was spent on the compilation of Mr. Trump's Statement of Financial Condition?

Say that again, please?

Q Do you have a sense of how much of your time, how much of the work you are performing for the Trump Organization and Mr. Trump, what percentage was the work on the Statement of Financial Condition?

I would say somewhere in the range 2 to 4 percent.

Q nd do you have a rough sense of how many hours that would be, in a given year?

It changed, over time, depending on who was helping me, not helping me or -- you know, but I would say 50 to 60 hours of my time wouldn't be unusual, in a year.

Q You were describing -- you mentioned that you did work for entities owned or controlled by Donald Trump and his children. You said you do an array of work. Could you describe for me what individuals you would work with, in the course of your engagement for the Trump Organization and Mr. Trump?

MR. KISE: Objection, your Honor. I've let this go a bit, but can we maybe confine this to year-by-year, or series of years? nd are we asking for the entire ten-year period? I'm just -- there's no context, here, for this. I mean, in general terms, he can testify, but the questions need to be more precise. It couldn't be the same people, each year.

THE COURT: Well, what if we did this: If you are asking to average, generalize, just make it clear that that's what you are doing, but I'm not going to insist that he go year-by-year.

Q So Mr. Bender, generally, during the period of 2011 to the time of your retirement, who were some of the individuals you would deal with at the Trump Organization?

I dealt with a large array of the executives, legal department, accounting department, and a lot of other people in between.

Q nd who would you interact with the most?

If I had to say who I interacted the most, it would be Jeff McConney.

Q nd what was Mr. McConney's role?

He was some type of -- I don't remember what type of vice president he was, but he had a title, and he was Controller for a number of those years. Before that, he was ssistant Controller.

Q You mentioned that you were familiar with the entities of the Trump Organization, Inc. and the Trump Organization, LLC. I would like to ask if you are familiar with a few other entities. re you familiar with an entity called DJT Holdings, LLC?

Yes, I am.

Q nd what do you understand that entity does?

That was a holding entity for a number of Mr. Trump's investments, in the later years.

Q nd did you do any accounting work for that entity?

Mazars did accounting work, yes.

Q nd what accounting work did Mazars do?

We prepared the tax return, and we did certain accounting work papers.

Q re you familiar with an entity called DJT Holdings Managing Member?

I believe the name is DJT Holdings Managing Member, LLC, but you will have to confirm that for me. It's been a while. But yes, I am.

Q nd what does that entity to?

It also held a number of Mr. Trump's investments.

Q nd did that entity -- did Mazars do accounting work for that entity?

D. Bender - Direct by Mr. Wallace Page 110

Yes, we did.

Q What accounting work did you do for that entity?

We did the same kind of work. We filed tax returns and did certain accounting work papers.

Q re you familiar with an entity called Trump Endeavor 12, LLC?

Yes, I am.

Q What does that entity do?

That is the property that owns the Doral, in Florida. The Doral Golf Club.

Q Did Mazars do accounting work for that entity?

Yes. Yes, we did.

Q nd what accounting work did Mazars do for that entity?

To the best of my recollection today, I believe we did compilations and we did tax returns, but I would have to check that.

Q re you familiar with an entity called 401 North Wabash Venture, LLC?

Yes, I am.

Q nd what does that entity do?

That is the sponsor for Trump International Hotel and Tower in Chicago.

Q nd did Mazars do accounting work for that entity?

D. Bender - Direct by Mr. Wallace Page 111

Yes, we did.

Q nd what accounting work did Mazars do for that entity?

We did various levels of test work, depending on what year it was, and for certain years we did tax returns and we did accounting, and we did -- let me take that back. 401 North Wabash. 401 North Wabash doesn't file a tax return. To the best of my recollection, we did accounting work papers to assist for the preparation of other entities' tax returns.

Q re you familiar with an entity called Trump Old Post Office, LLC?

Yes, I did.

Q What did that entity do?

That is the entity that operates the Old Post Office Hotel in Washington, D.C.

Q Did Mazars do accounting work for that entity?

We did test work and we did tax returns, to the best of my recollection.

Q re you familiar with the entity called 40 Wall Street, LLC?

40 Wall Street. Yes.

Q nd what did that entity do?

That is the property that -- that's the company that operated the Trump building at 40 Wall Street, in Manhattan.

Q nd did Mazars do accounting work for that entity?

D. Bender - Direct by Mr. Wallace Page 112

We did various levels of test work, depending on what year it was, and we did a tax return, amongst other things.

Q nd are you familiar with an entity called Seven Springs, LLC?

Yes, I am.

Q nd what does that entity do?

That entity, to the best of my recollection, changed over the years. I think originally, if I recall, it was supposed to be a golf course, potentially. Later, it was -- became a development project, and in later years it was a personal asset for Mr. Trump.

Q nd did Mazars do accounting work for Seven Springs, LLC?

Yes, we did.

Q What accounting work did Mazars do for Seven Springs, LLC?

To the best of my recollection today, we did tax return -- tax returns and accounting work papers.

Q Okay. I would like to go back and focus on the Statement of Financial Condition you mentioned. Can you describe for me what that document is?

Simplistically, I would say that is what people today would basically call a balance sheet. It's a balance sheet of Mr. Trump's assets and liabilities as of June 30th of the individual year we are talking about, prepared, you know, under accounting principles.

Q When you say you prepared it under accounting principles --
If I said prepared, we compiled it. We did not prepare the statement.
Q So you compile the statement. What does it mean to compile the statement?
Compilation is when you take the information, the accountant compiles information given to us by a client to present it in a financial statement format. The compilation has -- the accountant gives no assurance, and gives -- does no testing on analytics, on that information.
Q nd taking the period from 2011 until your retirement, what was your role in compiling the Statement of Financial Condition for Mr. Trump?
Well, I was the partner in charge of it. I think the last one we did was June '20, 2020. It didn't go till my retirement. You would have to check that. I think it was June 30, 2020, was the last one, but I was the partner in charge, and sometimes I was more involved in the preparation, and certain years I supervised some staff on it.
Q Okay. Do you recall how many staff you would supervise?
One to three. It wasn't, you know --
Q Is it possible for you to describe for me, at a high level, during that time 2011 to 2020, what the process was for getting the statement compiled.

Well, it changed as technology changed, so I don't know what year exactly technology changed, but in the early years I would go to Trump Tower, some years, and I would sit with Jeff McConney, and he will give me paper backup for the information. He would give it to me in paper. Sometimes he might give it to -- I think they used DHL or FedEx. It would sometimes come by messenger. I would literally sit with him, and he would give me the numbers. He would give me the backup, or what was available as of that day. I would literally punch holes in the paper, and put it into a looseleaf binder.
s technology changed, they started emailing me more and more stuff, and at some point, for the last few years, I believe they went into a portal.
Q Okay. So let's focus on the years when you were getting the information by email. What would you do after you received the information from Mr. McConney?
Me or a member of my team would insert it into what we call an engagement binder, whether it be an electronic binder, and we would put the information in that binder, and we would leave it in that binder until we were ready to start the engagement. So, if certain information came in and was superseded, we just used -- we would take the one that -- the latest one that came in, at the time we started, physically started the work.

Q So you would not always immediately begin the work on the compilation when you received the information from Mr. McConney?
Not necessarily. That's true.
Q Okay. nd so, if information came in that superseded what you had already received, you would only look at the most recent information?
In most cases, I would say that's fair.

D. Bender - Direct/Wallace Page 116

Q So, once you start working on it, what does that look like? What are you doing?
We would cross-- we would look at. Jeff or a member of his team. If it wasn't Jeffrey, it was somebody else. They'd send us a schedule with a control schedule. They would send us an early draft of the financial statement which they marked up.
They usually took the previous years's statement, crossed out and made the changes and, again, that would be an early draft of the statement, and, they would send us backup schedules, and, we'd try to cross-reference the schedules to their supporting control sheet, to make sure the numbers agreed.
Q So, when you say cross-reference to make sure the numbers agreed, can you describe what that looks like?
I tell a story that I used to say it's a full circle. Their control document was something I believe called Jeff Supporting Data. So, I would make sure the numbers, even if they sent me updates, the numbers on the Jeff Supporting Data available would tie out to the cash schedule, the accounts payable schedule, whatever schedule we were looking at.
Q So, you were making sure the numbers on the support they sent you match the numbers going into the spreadsheet?
Yes and vice versa.

Q Were you doing any other analysis of the supporting information?

I would look at it at high level. If I saw something that bothered me or something that didn't make sense to me, I'd ask him about it, generally.

Q Okay. So, you checked the schedules. You said they would send you a marked-up version of the statement-- of what is necessary to complete the statement?

You know, if -- first of all, we'd have to get an engagement letter. We'd have to get an engagement letter from the client, outline the terms of the engagement. We would, you know, after we would type the statement, sometimes we'd type it in before. We would just type the first draft. fter Trump Organization had finalized their numbers and sent to us, you know, we'd send them a final draft. Typically, we'd send them multiple final drafts with red lines sometimes with changes. Red lines, black lines, whatever they call it. I'm not a lawyer. t the point when everybody was-- the Trump Organization was happy with the statement, the compilation, they would send a representation letter.

fter they signed the representation letter and when the representation letter was signed, Mazars had done all the procedures, all that was required on our end, we would issue the compilation report.

Q Did that process generally remain the same throughout the period of 2011 through your retirement?

To the point we stopped -- not to my retirement. When we stopped compiling the financial statement.

Q That was in 2021;

'20 or '21. I don't remember. You have to tell me.

Q You said it was the statement as of June 30, 2021?

That's what I thought it was.

Q Mr. Bender, you have been handed a document premarked PX-200785. We'll also call it up on the screen here. Do you recognize this document?

MR. KISE: Your Honor, this would be one of those documents that we're going to object to on the Statute of Limitations. We don't think it should come in. It's 2011.

THE COURT: I agree with you we're trying to do this altogether. Hold on. Mr. Kise, I'm going to overrule you on what I think is going to be a continuing objection, and, I'll recognize the continuing objection. s the ttorney General said earlier, and was in their papers, Statute of Limitations claims are not evidence. These can be relevant to just setting the stage for what happened later. It can be relevant for the equitable relief requested. I'm letting in it in but you can make a statement now.

MR. KISE: We just lodge our objection to the document, and, we're going to do that document by document.

THE COURT: Okay. You can make it quick for the other one?

MR. KISE: Yes.

THE COURT: It's admissible.

MR. W LL CE: We offer Plaintiff's Exhibit 75 in evidence, your Honor.

THE COURT: It's in evidence.

(Whereupon, said exhibit was received in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 75.)

Q Mr. Bender, do you recognize this document?

Yes, I do.

Q What is it?

It's the engagement letter that compiled the Statement of Financial Condition to Donald J. Trump as of June 30, 2011.

Q Okay. If I could direct your attention to the top of the page here. It's addressed to lan Weisselberg Executive Vice President, Chief Financial Officer of the Trump Organization.

Why is this letter being addressed to Mr. Weisselberg?

Mr. Weisselberg signed all the engagement letters.

He was the one who ran the accounting department as Chief Financial Officer for the Trump Organization.

Q So, the Trump Organization and their accounting department were responsible for the engagements of you for Donald Trump's personal Statement of Financial Condition?

Yes. Yes, that is fair to say.

Q If I can direct your attention to the second and third paragraphs of this letter. I'll just highlight this for you.

Let's take a look at paragraphs two and three. "We will perform the following services. We will compile, from information you provide, the Statement of Financial Condition of Donald J. Trump as of June 30, 2011."

I think you touched on it when we were talking about high level. What does it mean that you would compile the Statements of Financial Condition?

Compilation is to present, simplistically, to present, in the form of financial statement, the presented compiled information in the form of financial statement given to us by the client. Mazars would do compilation. Mazars would give no assurance on the work and we'd do no testing or analytical review as part of the compilation procedure.

Q Your responsibility was for the form of the document?

If I saw something that stuck out at me at high level, I noticed something on that, I would go back to them and ask them a question but I did not order or review procedure.

Q Could you just describe for me when you say "audit or review procedure?"

Review procedure would include analytical procedure, analytical procedure and the accountant would give limited assurance. On order, we'd do analytical procedure and audit testing and give the assurance that the financial statement, simplistically -- I don't have the exact in front of me. The financial statement would be reasonably stated. Sorry.

Q In the context of the audit you're describing, what kind of analytical procedures were involved?

nalytical procedure or review would be, you know, comparison from one year to another to determine what kind of procedure, what kind of items you would test.

Q Going back to compilation engagement, are you undertaking any steps to make sure the information you're looking at is true?

No, I would just look at something. If something stuck at high level or came to my attention, I would bring it to the attention of the client.

Q Okay. Going back to the third sentence here, you write: "We will compile from information you provide." Speak clear. Who's the you that will provide information?

The Trump Organization.

Q Who selected the as-of date of June 30, 2011?

When I came around, it was already June 30th. I think, historically, for a number of years, it was June 30th.

Q If we could direct your attention to the top of the next paragraph. It states: "We will compile the financial statements and issue an accountant's report thereon in accordance with statements on Standard For ccounting and Review Services issued by the merican Institute of Certified Public ccountants."

Can you tell me what is an accountant's report?

In this case, they're talking about the compilation report.

Q So, that is something Mazars would be drafting?

It's a standard. It's, I think it's ICP promulgated and we would make certain changes, you know, if we had to, but it's historical.

Q What's the purpose of the accountant's report?

To inform the reader that there is a compilation or any exceptions to whatever standard of accounting the user, the financial statement being prepared under.

Q Can you tell me, what are the statements on standards for accounting review services issued by the merican Institute of Certified Public ccountants?

SS RS is the standard used promulgated to define what rules would have been for a compilation or review.

Q Do you have an understanding of what the rules were provided for related to this letter in 2011?

Yes, I do.

Q What would those rules have provided for?

s I said, no analytical procedures, no testing and the numbers in the financial statement on the representation of management, simplistically.

Q Second sentence in this paragraph states: "The objective of a compilation is to present, in the form of financial statements, information that is the representation of management without undertaking to express any assurance on the financial statements." I think we've covered some of this, so I don't want to go through all of it, but, what does it mean it's the representation of management?

s I just stated, your last question, the numbers are the representation of management of the client.

Q If we go down to the next paragraph, it states: "Compilation differs significantly from a review or an audit of financial statements."

I want to understand, this is, essentially, consistent with what you were telling me before about the difference between review, audit, and compilation?

Yes, sir.

Q The next sentence states: " compilation does not contemplate performing inquiry, analytical procedure, or other procedure performed in a review."

Is that, in fact, the nature of the engagement that Mazars had with the Trump Organization in 2011 regarding --

I want to make sure to clarify that it is a compilation that did not contemplate inquiry, analytical reviews, or other procedure.

Q Next sentence states: " dditionally, a compilation does not contemplate obtaining an understanding of the entity's internal control, assessing fraud risk, tests of accounting records by obtaining sufficient appropriate audit evidence through inspection, observation, confirmation, the examination of source documents, for example, cancelled checks or bank images or other procedures ordinarily performed in an audit."

So, it's a long sentence. Let's take it bit by bit. Looking at the first part of the sentence, what does it mean "a compilation does not contemplate obtaining an understanding of the entity's internal controls?"

That Mazars would not -- Mazars would not, during compilation, would not obtain an understanding of the entity's internal control.

Q What internal control is at issue here?

Example of internal control is who, the person who signs the checks person, who signs the checks wouldn't do the bank reconciliations. You know, it would be some separation of duties.

Q With respect to this engagement, internal controls that are being described here relate to how the Statement of Financial Condition was prepared?

No.

Q What would they relate to?

If you do an audit.

Q So, this is saying this is something you're just not doing?

Yes.

Q My question is do you have a sense of what internal controls would be relevant for the preparation of Statement of Financial Condition within the Trump Organization?

Yes, I would wouldn't need to consider internal controls for an audit.

Q Do you recall if, at any point, you actually did obtain an understanding of Trump Organization's internal controls regarding the Statements of Financial Condition?

No, I did not.

Q In some of your other work, did you look at internal controls the company had in other areas?

We did some, what we call, walk-throughs, maybe. Yes. We took one transaction and followed it through to understand what was being done.

Q Can you just give me an example of what one of those walk-throughs might have been?

When an invoice comes in, the person -- somebody would approve the invoice that they would look and then another person would write the check and then somebody would sign off and review that the check was all ready to be done from start to finish to make sure there was some kind of control involved.

Q It mentions that in that compilation does not contemplate assessing fraud risk. Did you ever, in fact, assess fraud risk at the Trump Organization in connection with the Statements of Financial Condition?

No, we did not.

Q Did you assess fraud risk for the Trump Organization in other contexts in audit engagements?

Yes, we did.

Q What would it entail to assess fraud risk in those instances?

We'd have -- just an example, we'd have, what do you call -- we would have meetings at the beginning of the audit. Brain storming sessions. Sorry. It's been a while.

We'd have brainstorming sessions, for example, and we'd discuss potential fraud risks as part of the audit engagement.

Q What were fraud risks for some of the entities you were doing this work for?

I don't have that. That potentially the CFO or somebody could override the controls and that would be an example of fraud risk.

Q Sentence also mentions "a compilation does not contemplate a test of accounting records," and goes on. What is a test of accounting records?

n example of an accounting record would be a voucher bill to see that the bill on-- the amount on the bill agreed to the amount in the general ledger and whatever. We'd look at the bill.

Q Did you ever, in fact, test accounting records in connection with the preparation of Statements of Financial Condition?

No. No, I do not believe so.

Q The top sentence here states: "Our accountant's compilation report is expected to include references to the following departures from Generally ccepted ccounting Principals. First, what are Generally ccepted ccounting Principles?

We call that G P. We use G P as we go forward. Those are the rules promulgated on how to prepare standards that are required to prepare financial statements under those rules.

Q re there particular rules -- are there particular rules that apply to the preparation of Statements of Financial Condition for Donald J. Trump?

They would be under the normal capital rules.

Q re you familiar with those rules?

Some of them. I don't know anymore.

Q Do you know which rules govern preservation of financial statements?

gain, Generally ccepted ccounting Principles.

Q I'm asking if there is a particular rule, by number or section, if you're aware, that covers the preparation of personal financial statement?

Not right now, I don't know.

Q If there was a time in 2011 you had a question about what rules governed the preparation of financial statement, how would you find that out?

I was kind of lucky. My managing partner in my office, he wrote-- he was a big contributor for SS RS, one, and, two, he was strong on G P. His office was directly next to me or one office away, depending on where our location was. I also had a quality control person with me who would be an independent quality control person who would review the work to make sure it met certain standards.

You know, we would, you know, speak to other partners if I had a question or I could speak to the director of quality control, whatever her department was called. The name changed over the years.

Q Were you or Mazars responsible for making sure the statements complied with G P?
No, that was the Trump Organization's responsibility.
Q It says here the report is expected to include references to following departures from G P. What is a departure from G P?
Sometimes people want to not follow G P and we'd have to disclose it in the financial segment -- in the compilation report.
Q When you say "we"?
I'm sorry. We means Mazars, predecessor.
Q If there's a departure from the G P rules, it needs to be disclosed. Do I understand that correctly?
That's correct.
Q Do you know who decided that Mr. Trump would include these departures from G P in his Statements of Financial Condition?
Those are determined by the Trump Organization.
Q During the period -- we can cover this broadly but during the period of 2011 to 2020, do you recall any instances -- I'll restart the question.
During the period of 2011 to 2020, do you recall any instances where you recommended to the Trump Organization that you needed to add a G P departure to Donald J. Trump's Statements of Financial Condition?

I'm not sure of the year. I believe it was this period there was a G P exception pertaining to combining cash and not cash and Marketable Securities. That was the G P exception that was put in. There was a G P exception. They were excluding certain assets, either in Vegas or Chicago, and those were, what do you call it -- I think may have --have been during this period and that was the G P exception when Trump Organization decided to exclude those assets.
Q Okay. So, let's take those each in order. The first one you mentioned was G P exception for cash and Marketable Securities. I understand your recollection is you had to inform the Trump Organization that that practice needed to be identified as a G P exception?
Yes.
Q But you don't remember what year?
No.
Q The other exception you mentioned was Vegas and Chicago properties -- well --
Vegas and/or. I think it changed over the years.
Q So, one of those properties was not being included in the Statements of Financial Condition and that was the G P exception that needed to be disclosed?

D. Bender - Direct/Wallace Page 131

Yes.
Q You informed the Trump Organization that they needed to add that G P exception?
We had a discussion. I informed them. There was discussion there were additional G P exceptions that had to be added to the ccountant's Compilation Report.
Q Do you remember who you had that discussion with?
Not particularly. Either Jeff and/or llen Weisselberg.
Q Jeff McConney and llen Weisselberg?
Yes. Sorry.
Q For the Vegas and Chicago properties, you don't remember what year this would have occurred?
No, I don't.
Q During the period of 2011 to 2020, do you recall any instances where you recommended to the Trump Organization that they needed to remove the G P departure from the Donald J. Trump Statement of Financial Condition?
Not today. No, I don't remember anything.
Q Why don't we walk through each of these departures. .1 states: "Generally ccepted ccounting Principles require that in order to reflect amount to be received in the future at estimated current values, the rights must be nonforfeitable, fixed, and determinable and not require any future services. Several of the values that will be expressed will be based on future interests that, in some instances, are not for fixed or determinable amounts and, in some instances, are based on performance of future services."

Who made the determination to include this G P exception in the Statements of Financial Condition?
It was the Trump Organization.
Q .2-- actually let me back up. On the first G P exception, did anyone from the Trump Organization tell you why they decided not to follow G P on this issue?
Not that I recall.
Q Did you perform any accounting procedure to determine if this G P exception was accurate?
No.
Q Let's move on top .2 which states: "Generally ccepted ccounting Principles require that with respect to each closely held business entity summarized information about assets, liabilities, and results of operations for the most current year must be disclosed in the financial statements. In addition, the current estimated value of each closely held business should be recorded as a net investment assets of liabilities. Lastly, the ownership percentages of each closely held business should be disclosed. The Statements of Financial Condition will not include the required summarized disclosures and will report some closely held business entities in a manner that separately states gross assets and liabilities and states certain cash positions separately from their related operating entity and will not disclose Mr. Trump's ownership percentage in certain closely held businesses."

D. Bender - Direct/Wallace Page 133

Who made the determination to include this G P departure?

The Trump Organization.

Q Did anyone from the Trump Organization tell you why they decided to not follow G P on this issue?

Not that I recall, no.

Q Did you perform any accounting procedures to determine if this G P was accurate?

Not that I recall, no.

MR. KISE: Your Honor, just, I'm assuming that these questions are all confined to 2011, not generally. He just hasn't asked that.

MR. W LL CE: Yes, we're looking at 2011 statement.

Q Let's move on to point numb three. "Generally ccepted ccounting Principles require the receipt of noninterest-bearing deposits in exchange for rights and privileges of the recorded present value of liability. The present value of the liability for noninterest-bearing deposits received as a condition of membership in club facilities will not be included in the accompanying Statement of Financial Condition."

Who made the determination not to follow G P on this departure?

The Trump Organization.

Q Did anyone from the Trump Organization tell you why they decided not to follow G P on this issue?

Not that I recall today.

D. Bender - Direct by Mr. Wallach Page 135

Q Did you perform any accounting procedures to determine if this G. . .P. exception was accurate?

No, I did not.

Q Let's take a look at item number four.

"Generally ccepting ccounting Principles require that personal financial statements include a provision of current income taxes, as well as estimated income taxes on the differences between estimated current values of assets and estimated current amounts of liabilities and their tax basis. The Statement of Financial Condition will not include such provisions."

Who made the determination to include this G. . .P. departure?

The Trump Organization.

Q nd did anybody from the Trump Organization tell you why they decided not to follow G. . .P. on this issue?

No, sir.

Q Did you perform any accounting procedures to determine if this G. . .P. exception was accurate?

No, I did not.

Q Last one.

"Generally ccepted ccounting Principles require that personal financial statements include all assets and liabilities of the individual whose financial statements are presented. The accompanying Statement of Financial Condition does not include the following for Trump International Hotel and Tower Chicago, and Trump International Hotel and Tower Las Vegas:

D. Bender - Direct by Mr. Wallach Page 136

"One. Real property-related assets.

"Two. Mortgages and loans payable.

Three. Guarantees which Donald J. Trump may have provided."

Is this the exception that we were talking about earlier, that you recall having?

Yes.

Q So, who was responsible for including this G. . .P. exception?

The Trump Organization.

Q Did you ever discuss, with the Trump Organization, why they didn't want to include Chicago and Las Vegas on the Statement of Financial Condition?

That would be subject to a Kovel letter.

Q Just, so I understand, you were retained by tax counsel for Mr. Trump, and that's how you learned about issues relating to Chicago and Las Vegas?

Yes.

Q So, you were providing consulting services to an attorney. The attorney was representing Mr. Trump; is that correct?

Yes.

Q We are fine not going any further on that, then.

If we look at the bottom part of the page, the last sentence states:

"The effects of the above departures from Generally ccepted ccounting Principles, as described above, will not be determined or disclosed in our accountant's compilation report."

What is meant by, The effects of the above departures?

Simplistically, how these departures might affect the financial statement that -- you know, the numbers on the financial statement, or the footnotes.

Q So, if I'm understanding correctly, if G. . .P. had been followed in these instances, you are not going to calculate what the differences would be?

Simplistically, yes.

Q I'm very simplistic, so I'm happy to see it that way.

So am I.

Q Why were the effects not determined or disclosed?

It was never discussed, but it would have been a tremendous job to figure it out.

Q nd whose determination was it, not to determine or disclose the amount of those departures.

Trump Organization.

Q Okay.

MR. W LL CE: If we could turn to the next page.

Q The top of the page it states:

"Further, our report will include the following:

"Because the significance and pervasiveness of the matters discussed above make it difficult to assess their impact on the Statement of Financial Condition, users of this financial statement should recognize that they might reach different conclusions about the financial condition of Donald J. Trump if they had access to a revised Statement of Financial Condition, without the above-referenced exceptions to generally accepted principles."

First, what is meant by, significance and pervasiveness?

To me, simplistically, it would have a big number, or have an effect on what the reader would perceive, by reading the financial statement.

Q So the difference between following G. . .P. and not following G. . .P. on the above essentials could be significant and pervasive?

Yes, sir.

Q nd when he says, The matters discussed above, that's referring to the G. . .P. exceptions we were just walking through; is that correct?

That is correct.

Q I just want to make sure I understand. This is only referring to the size and pervasiveness of the G. . .P. exceptions that were actually disclosed in the paragraphs above; is that correct?

Discussed above. Yes.

Q Why don't we turn to paragraph four on this page.

The top of this paragraph states:

"Our engagement cannot be relied upon to disclose errors, fraud, or illegal acts that may exist. However, we will inform the appropriate level of management of any material errors, and of any evidence or information that comes to our attention during the performance of our compilation procedures, that fraud may have occurred. In addition, we'll report to you any evidence or information that comes to our attention during the performance of our compilation procedures regarding illegal acts that may have occurred, unless they were clearly inconsequential. We have no responsibility to identify any communication deficiencies in your internal control, as part of this engagement."

What does it mean that your engagement cannot be relied upon to disclose errors, fraud, or illegal acts that may exist?

s we discussed earlier, since it's a compilation, Mazars did not do, for example, any internal control work. The financial statement is a representation of management, and Mazars is giving no assurance on the financial statements.

Q When you said you relied on the representation of management, who was management?

That would be Donald J. Trump or his trustees, lan

Weisselberg, or whoever was -- whoever was determined to be the agent of either Trump -- Mr. Trump, or his trust.

Q Okay. Let me address Mr. Kise's point, from before. In the year 2011, who would be the management relied upon?

Mr. Trump, and his representatives.

Q The next sentence states that, "We'll inform the appropriate level of management of any material errors."

Do you see that section?

Yes.

Q Do you have an understanding of who the appropriate level of management was, in 2011?

It would have been Mr. Trump and Mr. Weisselberg. We would have communicated with, presumably, Mr. Weisselberg or Mr. McConney, if we found an error.

Q Do you ever remember bringing an error to Mr. Trump's attention?

No, I do not.

Q Do you remember bringing any errors to Mr. Weisselberg's attention?

Mr. Weisselberg or Mr. McConney. I can't tell you who was on the individual items. Mr. Weisselberg or Mr. McConney did, from time to time, find errors, and we would go over things.

Q So, not necessarily 2011, but you remember, from time to time, you would bring errors to Mr. Weisselberg's and

Mr. McConney's attention?
Yes.
Q Do you have any specific recollection of the errors you brought to their attention?
There could have been an error -- one year, this was many years ago, it was on the cash schedule. They included Mr. Trump's foundation, and we took that off. couple of years there were errors pertaining to -- there were errors pertaining to -- I'm losing it. Ivanka Trump had an option to buy certain apartments, or one apartment I knew about, on Trump Park venue, and the value they were using for that apartment on their schedule, valuing Trump Park venue, differed from what Ivanka was valuing the apartment, Ivanka's option for the apartment, was.
There were a couple of times pertaining to straight line receivables. I think they may have gone the wrong way on the financial statements. We would have to correct, adjust an asset for a straight line receivable.
There was some times, from time to time, when they were cross referencing cash on an account's payable schedule, to the lead sheet for cash or accounts payable. The number would be a little bit different than we had talked about it. Sometimes it would be -- we would adjust it. Sometimes it would be a small amount, and the Trump Organization -- the Trump Organization would adjust it, or sometimes it would not -- it was not worth the material -- not material. It was necessarily to adjust.

Q ny other examples you remember?
That's it, right now.
Q Okay. I'll just walk through this, a little bit.
On the last one you said there was an issue with cross referencing cash, or accounts payable. Would the number that you would see in the supporting spreadsheet, wouldn't match the number that was actually in the supporting data?
Sometimes there would be an example in a cash account on the lead sheet for cash, and then there might be, for instance, a balance sheet for a golf course in Jeff Supporting -- in his back up, Jeff Supporting Data, and there would be a cash number, and it could go either way, but we would bring it to the Trump Organization's attention, if we came across it.
Q Go either way, meaning it could be higher?
Yes. Yes, or lower.
Q nd if I'm understanding your testimony correctly, they would correct it if it was, but sometimes it -- they would often correct it, but sometimes it wasn't big enough to merit a correction?
Or they didn't want to -- it may have been -- that's fair to say, yes.
Q Do you remember specifically, when you mentioned an issue with the cash schedule, including money from Mr. Trump's foundation, do you remember when that occurred?

Long time ago.
Q Okay. You mentioned the Ivanka Trump option to buy an apartment at Trump Park venue. Do you remember when that occurred?
I don't remember the year, but I believe it was two years, I changed it. t least.
Q So the error was repeated again the following year?
It may have not been the following year, but it was more than one year.
Q How did you come to know that Ivanka Trump had an option on an apartment on Trump Park venue?
I don't recall.
Q Could you describe for me what you meant when you were talking about straight line receivables, for someone who may not deal with receivables on a regular basis?
Oh, my God. You're in trouble, now.
Under G. . .P. -- it's more old G. . .P. and new G. . .P., but when you are doing Generally ccepted ccounting Principles, the income stream for a lease, simplistically, should be picked up pro rata, over the life of the lease. So for instance, if the first year has free rent, and -- let's say it's a ten-year lease, and the first year is free, and the next nine years equal up to a million dollars in total, so for the total ten years, it's a million dollars. You would pick up a rent of $100,000 every year, on that lease.

Q Okay. nd you are saying that sometimes it went the wrong way?
Certain schedules they would ask us for, and it was -- sometimes, it went the wrong way.
Q nd this was in connection with the preparation of the Statement of Financial Condition?
The adjustment they were making on the Statement of Financial Condition did not always go the right way.
Q But you don't remember what year that occurred in?
No, but again, multiple times. couple times, I believe.
Q Why don't we take a look at the next paragraph, which, the single sentence, it states, " s part of our engagement, we will also perform other accounting services, as needed."
Do you know if other accounting services were needed, as part of this engagement in 2011?
I don't recall.
Q Do you remember ever performing other accounting services in connection with preparation of a Statement of Financial Condition?
Other accounting services might include, for instance, drafting a few words in a footnote, or helping with a footnote. Something like that could have occurred, over the years.

Q I'm sorry. Drafting -- I didn't hear.
note, changing something on a footnote. For instance the G. . .P. exceptions we talked about before, for cash, the wording for the -- in the compilation report, I keep calling them footnotes. The notes would have almost the exact same wording to the wording that went into the compilation report. That wording, I believe, would go into those financial statements.
Q So, if they were using your accounting work product, that's an additional accounting service, and it might be included in a report where you are just doing compilation?
Yes, but that's a sentence I generally put in most of my engagement letters.
Q Okay. If we look at the next paragraph underneath that, it says, "You are responsible for making management decisions and performing management functions, and for designating an individual with suitable skill, knowledge or experience to oversee any other services we provide."
What falls into the category of management decisions and management functions?
Determine the methodology for how the properties would be valued.
Q Okay. nd so you didn't have any role in the methods of valuation in the Statement of Financial Condition?
No, I didn't. No, I did not.

Q For this engagement, do you know, in 2011, do you know who the individual was who was designated to supervise the services you provided?
lan Weisselberg, with the assistance of Jeff McConney.
Q nd are you familiar with their relevant skill, knowledge and experience?
Yes.
Q nd could you describe for me, generally, the level of their skill, knowledge and experience?
lan --
MR. KISE: Objection. Is the witness going to provide his understanding? Is he opining as an expert on the level of knowledge and experience?
THE COURT: Well, he is not qualified as an expert. He is a fact witness; right?
MR. W LL CE: Correct. I'm asking what his understanding was of the -- of the skill, knowledge and expertise that Mr. Weisselberg and Mr. McConney had, when they were receiving his service.
MR. KISE: I don't think there's any proper foundation laid for that. I don't see how he can ask this witness that question, other than his general guessing as to what their qualifications were. There hasn't been any testimony that he is familiar with those individuals, to the extent he knows their educational background, knowledge or training.

MR. W LL CE: I will ask him some foundational questions.
Q So, let me back up. The suitable skill, knowledge and experience refers to the process of valuing properties. Is that correct?
mongst other things.
Q nd are you familiar with the skill, knowledge or experience of, let's start with Mr. McConney, in valuing real estate?
No, I'm not.
Q What about Mr. Weisselberg?
No, I'm not.
Q So you don't have any familiarity with their skill, knowledge or experience.
Did you ever make a determination as to whether or not they had suitable skill, knowledge or experience?
MR. KISE: Objection.
MR. W LL CE: I'm asking if he made a determination.
MR. KISE: How can he make a determination if he has no understanding?
MR. W LL CE: Then the answer can be no.
THE COURT: Overruled. Whether it was right or wrong, proper-improper determination, if he made a determination, he made a determination.

Q nd the question is, did you make a determination?
I made a determination they had the suitable skill, experience to oversee the services that we were providing.
Q Understood.
MR. W LL CE: If we turn to the next page of this engagement letter.
Sorry. If we can go to the bottom. Next page.
Q Do you recognize -- well, first let me ask you, underneath WeiserMazars, did you sign this agreement?
WeiserMazars.
Q WeiserMazars?
But some people use the French interpretation.
You are asking who signed?
Q Who signed that?
That's either my signature, or an electronic signature of mine, which I would have given permission to use. But it's probably a real signature.
Q On behalf of the firm?
Yes.
Q nd do you recognize the signature underneath that one?
That's lan Weisselberg.
Q Okay. nd did you have an understanding of whether or not Mr. Weisselberg had the authority to retain Mazars for this engagement, based on his position as CFO of the Trump Organization?

D. Bender - Direct by Mr. Wallach Page 149

Yes, I did.

Q nd what was the basis for that understanding?

He was -- he signed all the engagement letters for the Trump Organization, for the entities that -- let me take that back. He signed all the engagement letters for the entities that were run out of 725 Fifth venue. I'm not sure he ran all the entities. nd he was the go-to guy for all accounting matters for the Trump Organization.

Q Mr. Bender, do you recognize -- I've handed you a document that's been marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 1893 --

MR. W LL CE: Strike that.

Q Mr. Bender, I've handed you a document that has been marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 1873 for identification. Do you recognize this document?

Yes, I do.

Q nd what is it?

This is a -- this is an email from Jeff McConney to me -- Doc is me. That's a nickname. That's the most asked question in deposition history -- where Jeff is sending us some information. It appears to be in Excel, for the June 30th, 2011 statement of the compilation of the June 30th, 2011 Statement of Financial Conditions for Donald J. Trump.

D. Bender - Direct by Mr. Wallach Page 150

MR. W LL CE: I believe the defendants have an objection.

MR. KISE: Thank you, Mr. Wallace.

Yes. Same objection, your Honor. Predates the July 13, 2014.

THE COURT: Okay. Duly noted, and overruled, for the same reasons.

Q Do you want to explain why you're called Doc, on this?

Jeff came from the predecessor firm, Spahr Lacher & Berk, I won't go through all the -- and this was a nickname I had 35, 40 years ago, and it's only legend. I don't remember exactly what it is, and it still sticks around with one or two people, today.

Q So, do you have an understanding of, what are these attachments that he's sending to you, in this email?

These are certain -- this is the schedule. It appears to be the schedule we previously discussed, which was their control schedule, or at least the first version of it, for the Jeff Supporting Data, and certain backup schedules, as shown under the attachment section.

Q Okay. nd so, this would be at the beginning of the process of preparing the Statement of Financial Condition?

ssuming that this is the first one. There could have been a predecessor one. I couldn't answer that, today.

Q You can see, there's a number of exhibits listed under attachments, and the first one is Jeff Supporting Data. Can you just describe for me what you understand that exhibit to be?

That's Jeff's control sheet on how he is coming up to the Statement of Financial Condition for Mr. Trump, as of June 30th, 2011, and if that's the control sheet, we would be using those numbers. t the end of the day, the numbers on the Jeff Supporting Data, when all is said and done, have to agree. Should agree. Nothing has to, in life. Should agree, to the assets and liabilities on the Statement of Financial Condition.

Q Okay.

MR. W LL CE: Can we pull up, I believe it's the native one of that attachment to this email. This is still Exhibit 1873. This is the native version, the Excel version of the attachment that we were just looking at. If we can just go up to the top.

Q Do you recognize this document, or this attachment?

This is one, a version of the Jeff Supporting Data for the Statement of Financial Conditions for Mr. Trump, as of June 30, 2011.

MR. KISE: Same objection, your Honor.

THE COURT: Well, it's part of the same exhibit, so --

MR. KISE: Well, that's not exactly clear. I think it is.

THE COURT: You are right. So I'll recognize the objection, and overrule it.

D. Bender - Direct by Mr. Wallach Page 152

MR. KISE: Thank you.

Q So, can you describe for me how this document works?

Jeffrey, line-by-line, prepares -- he is saying that the cash, 207 million -- yes. $207,488,027, Jeff would have a back-up schedule in this case, for that amount. Sometimes he would do the computation, but this is his control, and his backup. In many ways, it would be like a trial balance. This is where Jeff is determining Jeff, or the Trump Organization, whoever is determining it, would -- this would be their control sheet.

Q nd what would you do with this document, when you received it?

Whatever version was the last version we would have received when we started our compilation work at Mazars, that would be our control. So, if Jeffrey -- and we would change. If Jeffrey would send updates afterwards, Jeff, or a member of his team, we would cut and paste that information into a new worksheet, because we do a lot of referencing back and forth, and we didn't want to put what we call tick marks, and I'm sure we'll see that the next few days. We wouldn't want to have to put all these references in 500 times, so we needed to take a version that was our control, and that would be the version when we started, really started to do the work.

Q Okay. So he might send you this, and you might not work on it, but it might be the version you would use to control and put together your final work?

The version that we received when we started our compilation procedures, started the real work, not the engagement, but honestly started the work, that was the one we would use, and any updates came in, we would just cut and paste the certain lines, as needed, to make it agree to the Trump Organization's version that they were sending us later.

Q If we go back to the original email, Exhibit 1873 --

MR. KISE: Just for record purposes. Sorry. How are we keeping track? I know that the exhibit has a number on it, but the spreadsheet, do we have some number associated with it? I mean, how are we --

MR. W LL CE: That's incorporated with the exhibit list, I believe is how we prepared it, and there is a native file attachment. So, I think that's what we sent to you guys when we produced our exhibit list. I'm not sure. I'll confess, I don't remember how you guys structured your --

MR. KISE: I just want to make sure we have got some way of keeping track. We will sort that out later.

MR. W LL CE: Sure. I will, when I'm reading in the record, I did read -- this is native 01, so we'll try to make that as clear as possible.

So, I would like to open one of the other exhibits. It's escrow balances 0611XLS. I'll say this is going to be Plaintiff's Exhibit 1873, native file 04. This was on the exhibit list, with a file name of September 23, 2011, Restricted Cash Flow and Escrow Balances.

Q Do you recognize this document?

I think you said Restricted Cash Flow. I think it's Restricted Cash.

Q Restricted Cash. You are correct. Thank you for correcting me.

Do you recognize this document?

It appears to be -- it appears to be a schedule Jeff McConney or the Trump Organization would have sent us, with the restricted cash and escrow balances for Donald J. Trump for June 20, 2011.

Q Do you have an understanding of who would have prepared it?

Somebody in the Trump Organization.

D. Bender - Direct/Wallace Page 155

Q What would you do with this document once you received it?

I would have to check my work papers but, presumably, we would have footed it, added it up. I don't know if any other backup came with it, and, we'd make sure that the total at the end of the day, if you can't see down here, ties into the Jeff Supporting Data at the end.

Q You're saying you want to make sure?

9,000,180.

Q That comports with the Jeff Supporting Data spreadsheet?

Yes.

Q This e-mail plaintiff's Exhibit 1873, file name is Native 05. Do you recognize this document?

It appears to be the Trump Organization's schedule of cash and short-term investments from Mr. Trump and his entities as of June 30, 2011.

Q Do you have an understanding of who prepared it?

It would have been prepared by Trump Organization.

Q What would you do with this document when you received it?

I can't --

MR. KISE: Same objection. Same objection.

THE COURT: Noted and same ruling.

MR. KISE: I think that applied to the last file too. It's moving so quickly. I don't recall it but just for the record.

D. Bender - Direct/Wallace Page 156

MR. W LL CE: We're happy to note --

THE COURT: We'll accept the objection retroactively.

MR. W LL CE: We're happy to recognize that the defendant's have a standing objection to documents from before the Statute of Limitations.

Q So, I'm sorry. I don't know if it was asked and answered. What would you do when you received this?

What would we do when we received it?

Q Yes.

First, we would insert it in our binder. I would need to see our work papers, specifically, to see what we did. I presume that we would have footed it or cross-footed it. We'd have to check that and we would have made sure that the total on the bottom agrees to Jeff Supporting Data.

Q So, you mentioned footing and cross-footing. Is that how you're recording your work on Statements of Financial Condition?

I record-- we didn't always do it but sometimes we just check the math. You go down Excel, boom, and make sure it adds.

Q Why don't we see if it's helpful. This is a Native file document, so we just have a slip sheet for the document.

(Handing.)
Q So, the exhibit is Excel spreadsheet bearing production number Mazars NY G 00003154. Do you recognize this document?
It appears to be Mazars' version, final version of the Jeff Supporting Data Statements of Financial Condition to Donald J. Trump as of June 30, 2011.
MR. KISE: Same objection.
THE COURT: Can we simplify this by calling it a standing objection?
MR. KISE: It's the objection on the Statute of Limitations. Perhaps, I should frame it that way. Statute of Limitations objection.
THE COURT: Standing objection to any document before 2014?
MR. KISE: July 13, 2014. Yes, your Honor.
THE COURT: Okay. If I change my ruling on the objections, I'll let you know.
Q So, Mr. Bender, you mentioned this is the final version. How did you determine that?
It appears to be the final version because it has tick marks the blue. Red marks which would be the control version I previously discussed. We would have had the blue numbers cross-references to Mazars' work papers. So, it appears to be our version.

Q Okay. So, let's walk through that. First, I'll walk up to the screen. The first one you mentioned, what are these red indications? I'll describe them for the record as two red arrows in the form of a circle.
What does that indicate?
I'd have to go back and confirm to our software definition of tick marks but I believe it means the math was calculated.
Q To the extent folks can see, up in the C area here. "=round (+ E-11, *E-12, 0.)" What does the combination of red circles of the formula of that cell indicate?
They are saying 535,714 multiplied by .0615 equals 32,946.
Q So, if I'm understanding correctly, the red circles indicate someone from Mazars is confirming the math is being performed correctly on that?
Yes.
Q You also mentioned the blue numbers. I'll describe it for the record. We're here at -- why don't we take a look at this one. I'll note for the record it's in row six, column H. There's a blue number 4100.01. What does that indicate?
I previously mentioned Mazars had a software package which we call-- I think it's called edge game. We call it, E-pace. In E-pace these work papers are inserted. That's our file. It was paper in the olden days. This is done electronically. The back of the schedule, I can't see what-- the yellow sign is for the number but the 207 million and change is on schedule 4100.01 and if the software works correctly, and I clicked that 4100.01, it will open up that schedule and see the numbers are the same.

Q Okay. So, I'm going to ask if we can pull up the document marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 2613. This is another Native file document. So, we have handed up a slip sheet.
We're going to put the Excel version up on the screen here and I could ask you, do you recognize this document?
ctually, let me state for the record that on our exhibit list, this document is identified as a document listed as SL &E and it's saved as 4100. Cash balances as of 6/30/11, XLS XLS.
Do you recognize this document?
It appears to be the schedule short-term cash and short-term investments under 50,000 for Mr. Trump and his entities as of June 30, 2011.
Q There's an earlier tab 6/30/11. What is that tab document?
This is the schedule prepared by the Trump Organization of cash and short-term investments for Mr. Trump and his entities as of June 30, 2011.
Q What does the notation up on the top in red PBC indicate?

That's -- it stands for prepared by client. Software you can just click it and it goes on.
Q This is indicating this is information you received from the Trump Organization. It's not something generated by Mazars; is that correct?
Yes.
Q Is this a schedule that would pop up in your system?
Yes.
Q When you click on number 41?
It should.
MR. KISE: Your Honor, Statute of Limitations objection.
THE COURT: I don't think we have to do it for every document.
MR. KISE: I'm going to look again, but, my understanding of the case law is we actually do, unfortunately. That the ppellate Division won't accept a straight line objection. We can come up with a way to streamline this, I assure you.
THE COURT: Okay. Well, we only have a few more months.
Q So, if we could scroll down to the bottom here, row 42. The line reads: "Balances in US dollars at the exchange rate on 6/30/11."

I'm actually interested in the notation next to it that's in small red letters, TB.
What does that indicate?
That stands for trial balance. That was one of the ways we could reference it back to Jeff Supporting Data.
Q So, can you explain to me how that works? Is this another link?
It's just placed on top PBC. Trial balance in most accounting closings is the control sheet. In many ways, I think I stated earlier today the Jeff Supporting Data is equivalent of trial balance for this purpose.
So, you might see a TB, you might see a reference to control sheet or whatever the reference is to Jeff Supporting Data.
Q This is an indication the number here matches the number in the Jeff Supporting Data?
Yes.
Q If we look at the bottom, the number here, again, it's got the-- we'll describe as two red arrows and a circle. What is indicated by two red arrows and circle?
I have to check the definition but I think it means math calculated.
Q Okay. That number there 207,488,026.58. Did Mazars undertake any audit procedures to confirm that number was correct?

No, he did not.
Q Did Mazars undertake any assurance procedures whatsoever with respect to that number?
No, it did not.
Q So, I think we just follow the link 4100.01 to see the $207 million number. Is that how it works?
The little yield sign is -- -
Q That should be what it is?
Yes.
Q Okay. So, that looks right?
I think it was, yeah.
Q So, when Mazars would check that numbers, the 207,488,027 against the spreadsheet we were just looking at, are you performing any accounting procedure in doing that?
No, I did a quick overview and I told you, one year I looked at the high level. The second, a member of the Mazars looked at it and one year I included the foundation and we took it up and we suggested-- we made the recommendation it should be taken out and the Trump Organization agreed with us and they took it out.
Q So, as you spot an issue, you bring it up. You weren't going out and looking for issues?
If something bothered me and I noticed it, I would bring it to their attention, and we'd talk about it.
Q So, can I ask, if all of the blue numbers in this document look the same way, they'd take you back to another file that would have information that sports the number in the spreadsheet?

I believe that would be true, but, I'd have to look at the whole document to confirm that.
MR. W LL CE: Could we pull up Plaintiff's Exhibit 787?
Q I put a copy image up on the screen, Mr. Bender. Do you recognize this document?
THE COURT: Objection duly noted.
MR. KISE: Thank you.
Yes, I do.
Q What is this document?
This is the Statement of Financial Condition for Mr. Trump as of June 30, 2011.
Q Is this the final version?
Yes, it is.
Q How can you tell?
It has my electronic signature on the second page of the ccountant's Compilation Report.
Q If we can turn to that page, the second page, Bates number 3133. This is the electronic signature you're talking about?
Could be by manual or electronic. I don't know.
Q So, what should the relationship be between this document and the Jeff Supporting Data spreadsheet we were looking at?

The numbers should be the same.
Q So, why don't we go to the top -- actually, let's go down a couple of pages here. So, cash and Marketable Securities, the number here is 258,900,000. That should match the number in Jeff Supporting Data?
Yes, it should.
Q You see the number 258,900,000 those are the numbers that should be matching?
Yes.
Q That was the service Mazars is providing, translating those numbers into the form of the financial statement we were just looking at?
No, Trump Organization put the statement together. So, we didn't have to do it. We would have checked the number as part of our compilation procedure. We would have made sure the numbers on this spreadsheet would have agreed to the Statements of Financial Condition by the Trump Organization.
Q So, you're just typesetting the financial statement or is there some other --
No, we'd-- all of those things, it's more of typesetting. We would discuss the kind of things we talked about before the cash, Ivanka's apartment, footing of the schedule. We make sure they cross-reference but we would have typed final statements.

Q Okay. So, if we could go back to the statement which I believe is Exhibit 787, I want to walk through the various segments of the report. I believe this is the first page. So, this page stating "Donald J. Trump Statement of Financial Condition June 30, 2011."
What is this section of the Statements of Financial Condition?
This page?
Q Yes.
This page is the asset page.
Q Okay. What is reflected -- so, who is responsible for the numbers on this page?
The Trump Organization.
Q I should have gone back a couple of pages. Can we go back. So, if we go to the top, actually. Independent ccountant's Compilation Report. What is this section of the Statements of Financial Condition? s we talked about earlier this afternoon, this is the ccountant's Compilation Report. This is basically a ICP promulgated form. We make some changes. In this case, the G P exceptions, for example, and this explains that, you know, our procedures are only compilation procedures. They're not order review procedures, and we did not do review or audit testing or analytics, as we went through this afternoon.

Q So, why is this addressed to Donald J. Trump?
Because the engagement-- it's assets of Donald J. Trump and, in this case, the engagement letter was and the -- the engagement letter is addressed to Donald J. Trump.
Q The first paragraph states --
I take that back. It's not true. The engagement letter does not address Donald J. Trump but the engagement letter says we were engaged to prepare the financial letter statement for Donald J. Trump.
Q The engagement letter was to the Trump Organization signed by llen Weisselberg to prepare, compile the Statements of Financial Condition for Donald J. Trump?
Yes. I apologize for the error.
Q First paragraph states: "We have compiled the accompanying Statements of Financial Condition of Donald J. Trump as of June 30, 2011. We have not audited or reviewed the accompanying financial statement and, accordingly, do not express an opinion or provide any assurance about whether the financial statement is in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of merica."
Is this statement accurate?
Yes, it is.

D. Bender - Direct/Wallace Page 167

Q Okay. Did this language have to be included with the Statements of Financial Condition?
This letter had to be included in the Independent ccountant's Compilation Report.
Q Which attaches to the Statements of Financial Condition?
Yes.
Q So, to make sure we're describing the full document here as the Statements of Financial Condition but, technically, that list of values, that's what is his statement and this is an attachment?
That and the accompanying footnotes, notes.
Q Why don't we take -- why don't we take a quick look at those. I think they appear on page six -- no. Four. So, this says: "Notes to Statement of Financial Condition," and in parenthesis, "Independent ccountant's Compilation of Work."
What does it mean? These are the notes to Statement of Financial Condition?
This is, simplistically, these are requirements under G P or other disclosures that are made related to the Statements of Financial Condition.
Q What is the purpose of notes?
To allow the reader to have a full picture of the financial statement, simplistically.

D. Bender - Direct/Wallace Page 168

Q So, is this information coming from Mazars or the Trump Organization?
This is coming from the Trump Organization. Mazars may have made some adjustments over the years or potentially put wording in, but, the original numbers come from the Trump Organization, and, any changes that would have been made at the end, would have been approved by the Trump Organization.
MR. W LL CE: Judge Engoron, I don't know what time we all need to be filtering out. I'm trying to structure my next sections.
THE COURT: I said this morning we'll go to 4:30. In two minutes, I would have given you the ten-minute warning.
What do you want to do?
MR. W LL CE: We're okay to stay until 4:30.
THE COURT: We'll break at 4:30. How's that?
MR. W LL CE: Got it. Understood.
Q We can move on from this in a moment. I want to ask you to turn to page 17. I want to direct your attention down at the bottom segment where it says: "Miss Universe Pageant," and it says "in 1996 Donald J. Trump and CBS acquired all of the assets together on the Miss Universe Pageants."
Do you remember this was an asset to be included in the DJT Statements of Financial Condition?
I remember Mr. Trump for many years owned Miss

D. Bender - Direct/Wallace Page 169

Universe, yes, or a portion of it.
Q This was included as one of the assets in the Statements of Financial Condition?
In 2011, yes, it was.
Q Whose decision was it to include the Miss Universe Pageants as an asset on Statements of Financial Condition?
It was the Trump Organization's but it was required by G P anyway.
Q Mr. Bender, we've handed you a document marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 786.
Do you recognize this document?
Yes, I do.
Q What is this document?
It's the representation letter for the June 30, 2011, compilation of Donald J. Trump's Statements of Financial Condition.
MR. KISE: We assert a Statute of Limitations objection on this document.
THE COURT: Noted.
Q How did this representation letter fit into the process of compiling a Statement of Financial Condition?
It's something that would have been required for us to issue the Statements of Financial Condition.
Q Why was it required?
Because I felt I wanted it.

D. Bender - Direct/Wallace Page 170

Q Why did you want it?
To make sure that the client took responsibility for his-- for the Statements of Financial Condition.
Q Looks like this is dated the same day as the Statements of Financial Condition; is that correct?
Yes.
Q Why is it dated the same day as Statements of Financial Condition?
On a compilation, I believe, and I haven't done it in I long time but I believe the letter on the statement is the date of representation letter. That's when we completed our compilation procedures and were ready to issue as soon as we'd get the compilation -- as soon as we get the representation letter.
Q So, there's no gap between the Statements of Financial Condition and the representation?
Not if I prepared the statement, no.
Q We'll look at the first paragraph. It states: "We're providing this letter in connection with your compilation of Statements of Financial Condition of Donald J. Trump as of June 30, 2011 (the statement.) We confirm that we are responsible for the fair presentation in the Statement of Financial Condition in conformity with accounting principals generally accepted in the United States of merica."
Before I ask you about this, could we go to the bottom of the document? Do you recognize the signature at the bottom?

Yes, I do.
Q Whose signature is that?
llen Weisselberg's.
Q He's signing on behalf of the Trump Organization?
Yes, he is.
Q Can we go back to the paragraph I just read into the record? This is the first paragraph of the letter.
Would Mazars have issued a Statements of Financial Condition if llen Weisselberg did not make this representation on behalf of Mr. Trump?
No, we would not.
Q Would Mazars issue Statements of Financial Condition if they learned this representation was not true?
No, we would not have.
Q We'll look at the next paragraphs. We'll read them to go. It states: "We confirm, to the best of our knowledge and belief, the following: s of October 6, 2011, you have provided us with a copy of the statement that you have compiled. We've read that information. The data presented in the statement was provided to you by members of Mr. Trump's accounting department and you have compiled that information in an appropriate manner when preparing the statement."
What's the significance of this language?

D. Bender - Direct/Wallace Page 172

It's, you know, it's confirming that the Trump Organization has read the statement; and, the information included and the data presented in the statement was provided by the Trump Organization's accounting department.
Q So --
nd you've compiled the information in an appropriate manner. That we prepared it.
Q So, they've read the final statement, and they're signing off on it?
nd that the information was provided by them.
Q Okay. The next paragraph states: "The statement referred to above is fairly presented in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of merica. ll assets are presented at their estimated current value and all liabilities are presented at their estimated current amount which have been determined in accordance with the guidelines promulgated by the merican Institute of Certified Public ccountants except to the extent noted in the ccountant's Compilation Report which was annexed to this statement."
Would Mazars have issued a Statements of Financial Condition if lan Weisselberg did not make that representation on behalf of Mr. Trump?
It says "to the statement," not to this statement. No, we would have not.

Page 173

Q Would Mazars have issued a Statements of Financial Condition if they learned this representation was not true?
No, we would not have.
Q I'll go on to the next paragraph. It states: "There are no material transactions that have not been properly recorded in the accounting work papers underlying the statement, other than those exceptions from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of merica that are noted in the ccountant's Compilation Report."
So, first the ccountant's Compilation Report is that section of the Statements of Financial Condition we were looking at before?
That's the first two pages of the ccountant's Compilation Report that bears my signature on the second page.
Q Focusing on the word "material". There are no material transactions that have not been properly recorded. Is that an accounting term of art or what is meant by the term "material"?
In this case, the materiality is not a concept on compilation. Material means important, big. There's no state of art to it.

D. Bender - Direct by Mr. Wallace Page 174

Q There are other contexts in an accounting engagement where materiality has a specific meeting?
In a review or an audit, it would.
Q Would Mazars have issued the Statement of Financial Conditions if lan Weisselberg did not make this representation on behalf of Mr. Trump?
No, it would not have.
Q Would Mazars have issued the Statement of Financial Condition if it learned this representation was not true?
No we would not have.
Q If I could direct you to the next paragraph, it states, "We have no plans or intentions that may materially affect the carrying amounts or classification of assets and liabilities, other than those noted in the accounting work papers underlying the statement."
Would Mazars have issued the Statement of Financial Condition if lan Weisselberg did not make this representation on behalf of Mr. Trump?
No, we would not have.
Q Would Mazars have issued the Statement of Financial Conditions if it learned this representation was not true?
No, we would not have.
MR. W LL CE: If we could turn the last paragraph, here.
Q It states, "There are no material losses, such as from purchase or sale commitments that have not been properly accrued or disclosed in the statement."

D. Bender - Direct by Mr. Wallace Page 175

Would Mazars have issued the Statement of Financial Condition if lan Weisselberg did not make this representation on behalf of Mr. Trump?
No, we would not have.
Q Would Mazars have issued the Statement of Financial Condition if it learned this representation was not true?
No, we would not have.
MR. W LL CE: If we could scroll onto the next page. I'll just -- we can highlight this section?
Q That starts, "There are no," and it talks about violations or possible violations of regulations, other claims, other material liabilities.
Would Mazars have issued the Statement of Financial Condition if lan Weisselberg did not make this representation in these three paragraphs on behalf of Mr. Trump?
No, we would not have.
Q Would Mazars have issued the Statement of Financial Condition if it learned these representations were not true?
No, we would not have.
Q I'll skip ahead, and direct you to -- this is at the top of the page, now. There's a paragraph that states, "Mr. Trump has satisfactory title to all owned assets, and there are no liens or encumbrances on such assets, or has any asset been pledged as collateral, other than those noted in the statement."

Would Mazars have issued the Statement of Financial Condition if lan Weisselberg did not make this representation on behalf of Mr. Trump?
No, we would not have.
Q Would Mazars have issued the Statement of Financial Condition if it learned this representation was not true?
No, we would not have.
THE COURT: Let me stop you there, because we only have one more minute.
I think the "or" in that paragraph should be "nor", but I'll let everybody else interpret it.
I just want to talk to both sides for a second. Stay where you are.
Mr. Robert, you are very well versed in the CPLR; correct?
MR. ROBERT: You will know, after I answer your question.
THE COURT: I will. It might be a softball, though. m I correct that somewhere above the first section of rticle Two, it says that judges do not have any discretion to ignore statutes of limitation? That's correct; right?
MR. ROBERT: That is correct, sir.

THE COURT: ll right. So, I just want to say, after all we have gone through this afternoon, that I trust that -- well, that unless the ttorney General can relate all the discussions about 2011 documents to something that happened later, this has all been a waste of time.

MR. KISE: We certainly agree with that, Judge.

MS. H BB : Thank you.

THE COURT: I figured you would.

MR. W LL CE: s you said, it's turned into a love fest, I guess.

Your Honor, I think we saw, in Mr. Kise's opening, that there are credit reports from Deutsche Bank that include these earlier years that happen --

MR. KISE: No, your Honor. These credit reports related to the OPO loan that was closed in ugust of 2014, which postdates the statute of limitations. Those credit reports relate to that specific loan that, unfortunately for us, is within the limitations period. So, that's a very different scenario, then.

MR. W LL CE: I will explain my point, then. There are credit reports that consider things that happen in 2011, during the period that is under the statute of limitations.

MR. KISE: Not for any loans that are within the limitations period, your Honor, but we'll tie that up later. You told him he needs to tie it up.

THE COURT: I'm sure we'll address this many times, going forward.

nd Mr. Robert, I hereby deem you an expert in the CPLR, and no doubt other aspects of New York law.

MR. ROBERT: Thank you, Judge.

THE COURT: ll right. Give me one second.

(Whereupon, there was a pause in the proceedings.)

THE COURT: Okay. We are going to break for the day. I appreciate everybody's patience and stamina. We resume tomorrow on schedule, 10:00 in the morning. Have a good evening.

MR. W LL CE: Thank you, your Honor.

(Whereupon, the proceedings were adjourned to Tuesday, October 3, 2023 at 10:00 a.m.)

Senior Court Reporters

THE COURT: The man you just heard I have affectionately called Tommy. His next gig is, no doubt, going to be with the Metropolitan Opera Company.

Good morning, everyone. If you were here for yesterday's excitement, welcome back; and if you weren't, you might have heard a little about it.

First, let me apologize, mea culpa, for erroneously stating yesterday that expert opinion testimony is not evidence. It certainly is. I was reacting to what seemed like an attempt to have an expert introduce new facts, of which the expert would not have personal knowledge, which is impermissible. I hope that no harm, no fall applies.

Second, I want to clear up any possible misconceptions that might have arisen over colloquy in the last five minutes of yesterday, and over the repercussions of the June 27th ppellate Division First Department decision and order. This case arrived at the pp. Div., as we call it, with seven causes of action. It left with seven causes of action. It arrived with 16 defendants. It left with 15 defendants. It arrived at the ppellate Division with a six-year statute of limitations. It left with a six-year statute of limitations, extended by both Covid tolling, and a tolling agreement.

The pp. Div. ruled that the continuing wrong doctrine, which would have pushed the statute of limitations back at least to 2011, did not apply, so that only claims that accrued after June 13, 2014, or February 6, 2016, depending upon application of the tolling agreement, remained viable.

The general rule is that a claim accrues when someone can sue on it. Here, the ttorney General is suing over the use of false financial statements in business, not over the underlying deals themselves. Obviously, she could not have sued on those statements until defendants issued them. Every use of a false financial statement in business starts the statute of limitations running, again, no matter when the transaction out of which is arose, closed.

I understand that the defendants strongly disagree with this, and will appeal, in part, on this ground. Yesterday afternoon's testimony was based on certain agreements between defendants and non-party Mazars that were consummated in 2011, long before they could be sued on, in isolation. Thus, I made clear that unless those agreements were somehow tied to something that occurred years later, at least three years later, or five years later, the afternoon was a waste of time.

Mr. Wallace promised to connect the dots however, as I stated yesterday, statutes of limitation bar claims, not evidence. In any event, on the first day of a multi-month trial, I am inclined to grant considerable leeway to both sides as to what may be relevant.

Finally I want to emphasize that this trial is not an opportunity to relitigate what I have already decided, including my conclusions in the summary judgment decision. That's why we have appeals.

So, let's continue with the testimony of Donald Bender, a former principle of Mazars, and I will, over defendant's continuing objection, allow testimony about documents, dates and events that occurred in 2011 and beyond, subject to connection to later documents.

Speaking of continuing objections, although I appreciate Mr. Kise's diligence in attempting to preserve the record by continuing to object to the use of documents dated prior to 2014, the Court of ppeals, the highest Court in New York State, has made clear that a continuing objection makes it unnecessary to challenge other evidence, for the same reason. nd that is Kulak, K-U-L- -K, versus Nationwide Mutual Insurance Company, 40 N.Y.2d 140 at page 145, 1976.

Obviously, I would not be commenting like this if a jury was present. It is not, so I've taken the liberty of attempting to clarify where the trial stands at this juncture.

nd, now shall we continue with Mr. Bender?

nd as yesterday -- and most of you know this -- I'm allowing a group of pool photographers and one videographer to come in and show how good looking we all are.

(Photographs taken.)

THE COURT: Oh, the wages of fame.

MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, if I could just raise one procedural issue with the defendants concerning timing? I understand Mr. Bender was served with a trial subpoena when he left the courthouse yesterday, from the defendants, and so I just would want to know for us, in ordering our witnesses, are they planning to cross Mr. Bender, or are they doing taking him as a -- separately, during their case in chief?

MR. KISE: s of now, we are planning to cross Mr. Bender.

MR. W LL CE: Okay.

MR. KISE: One other point of clarification, your Honor. So, I have not yet -- I did receive a letter from the ttorney General early this morning. I have not yet looked at the cases, including the cases that you cite --

Usually no one has a problem hearing me.

-- including the cases that -- the case that you just cited, the Kulak case. I've not looked at them. I will state, again, that our appellate consultants, some of whom I'm sure the Court would recognize, have told us differently. But, give us the opportunity to look at the case. I take it that your Honor is not precluding me from making the objection. I just don't now how to balance this, because I'm being told that I need to preserve these objections a certain way.

THE COURT: My mother always told me, Do what you're told. So, yes. Feel free, until you have had a chance to digest that case --

MR. KISE: Thank you, Judge.

THE COURT: -- to object to each document.

Okay. re we recalling Mr. Bender?

MR. W LL CE: The People are going to continue to the testimony of Mr. Bender.

(Whereupon, there was a pause in the proceedings.)

THE COURT: This is a big room, and apparently the isolation room is far away.

MR. W LL CE: I believe the words rabbit warren came to mind, as we were making our way through, yesterday.

D O N L D B E N D E R, having been previously sworn, was examined and testified as follows:

THE COURT: I will remind the witness, as I remind every witness, that he is still under oath.

THE WITNESS: Good morning.

THE COURT: Good morning.

Counselor, please proceed.

CONTINUED DIRECT EX MIN TION

BY MR. W LL CE:

Q Good morning, Mr. Bender. re you settled in?

I need two seconds.

Q Okay.

(Whereupon, there was a pause in the proceedings.)

Okay.

Q Mr. Bender, when we closed yesterday, we talked in fairly extensive detail about the process and documents related to the preparation of the 2011 Statement of Financial Condition. Do you recall that testimony?

Yes, I do.

Q nd we talked about, I believe there was an engagement letter, Jeff Supporting Data, a representation letter, and the reported -- the statement itself; is that correct?

Yes. That's correct.

Q Did Mazars also compile a Statement of Financial Condition for Donald J. Trump as of June 30 for each year from 2012 to 2020?

That's correct.

Q Okay. Were there any significant changes in the preparation process for those statements between the 2011 and the 2020 statement?

MR. KISE: Objection, your Honor. I don't think that we can summarize. This case involves documents, as they have said, and so we can't just summarize. It's inappropriate to summarize a ten-year span and say the process is the same, everything is the same. Each year stands on its own. It's a very complicated process, and if the government intends to establish intent, materiality and reliance, then it needs, respectfully, to go year-by-year.
MR. W LL CE: What's the evidentiary objection?
MR. KISE: The nature of my objection is, it's calling for a narrative. The question calls for a narrative. It's an open-ended question, and it's introducing facts that are not in evidence. There's no foundation.
MR. W LL CE: Yesterday you said I needed to tie things together. The 2011 process continues. I'm allowed to ask this general question. If I want to go through the additional documents, I will. It's my exam.
MR. KISE: Okay. That's fine. If he's intending to through the additional documents year-by-year, that's fine. I just want to make that clear. If it's an initial summary question, then I'll withdraw my objection.
THE COURT: Was the question whether the -- I think the question was whether the process that he used changed, over time.

MR. W LL CE: That's correct, your Honor.
THE COURT: nd has that question been answered?
MR. W LL CE: That question has not been answered.
THE COURT: Objection overruled. Let's hear the answer to that, and then we can discuss whether it's proper to group everything, or to what extent every year has to be examined individually.
I think the process was pretty much the same. The only thing I could think of off the top of may head was that I think the December 2015 return -- return. Financial statement -- the trustees were in place by the time the statement got released in -- no. One year, the trustees took over. That would have been the 2016 statement, probably.
Q So that I'm understanding correctly, the process generally remained the same, but at some point the trustees of the Donald J. Trump Revocable Trust became responsible for the statement?
They were the one that signed the engagement letter and the representation lever.
Q Can I ask, did the obligations of Mazars in compiling this financial statement change in any significant way, from 2011 to 2020?
No, sir.

D. Bender - Direct by Mr. Wallace Page 189

Q Okay. Did the responsibility of the Trump Organization regarding the preparation of the financial statement change in any significant way, between 2011 and 2020?
No, sir.
Q Do you know if, for each statement from 2011 to 2020, Mazars required a signed engagement letter from the Trump Organization?
It was signed. I'm not sure if it was signed by Trump Organization, or the trustees, after Mr. Trump became president.
Q But in each year from 2011 to 2020, you required an engagement letter?
Yes. Mr. Weisselberg would have signed, either way.
Q nd do you know if, in fact, in each year from 2011 to 2020, you did, in fact, receive an engagement letter?
Yes, we did.
Q Okay. For each Statement of Financial Condition engagement, from 2011 to 2020, did Mazars receive a supporting data spreadsheet from the Trump Organization?
Yes. Jeff Supporting Data.
Q For your Statement of Financial Condition engagement from 2011 to 2020, did Mazars maintain a control version of the supporting data spreadsheet?
Say that again, please?
Q Did you maintain, in each year from 2011 to 2020, a control version?

D. Bender - Direct by Mr. Wallace Page 190

Yes, we did.
Q Okay. For each Statement of Financial Condition engagement from 2011 to 2020, would the final version of the supporting data spreadsheet tie out to the final Statement of Financial Condition?
Yes, it did.
Q nd for each year for -- as of June 30 year, from 2011 to 2020, did Mazars require a signed representation letter from the Trump Organization in order to issue the Statement of Financial Condition?
It would have been signed by Trump Organization. Like I said, it may have been signed by the trustees, in the later years.
Q Okay. But in each year, you would have required a representation letter in order to release the statement?
Yes, we did.
Q nd for each statement from 2011 to 2020, did Mazars receive a signed representation letter from the Trump Organization?
Yes, we did. Or the trustees.
Q Or the trustees. We can go through the document in detail, now.
MR. W LL CE: So, could we please put up, on the -- well no.
Would it be helpful if we actually put the document up on the screen? I know typically we do it before it's admitted, for you to see it. Is it helpful if we put it up on the screen?

MR. KISE: This is this one?

MR. W LL CE: Yes. I handed you a copy.

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

Q Mr. Bender, do you recognize the document you were just handed?

Yes, I do.

Q nd what is this document?

This is the engagement letter, the Trump -- to prepare the Statement of Financial Conditions for Donald J. Trump as of June 30, 2012.

MR. KISE: Your Honor, we just assert our statute of limitations objection.

THE COURT: I understand the objection. Same ruling, et cetera.

Q nd does this appear to be the final engagement letter?

Yes, it does.

Q Okay. You can put that one down.

MR. W LL CE: Can we put up PX793. Native.

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

Q Mr. Bender, you are being handed what's a pull sheet for a document that's produced in an Excel format. We have put up on the screen a copy of the Excel file that was attached at that location. It's Plaintiff's Exhibit 793.

Based on what you see on the screen, do you recognize this document?

Yes. This is what we have been calling the Jeff Supporting Data for the Statement of Financial Conditions for Mr. Trump's financial statement, as of June 30, 2012.

MR. KISE: Objection. Statute of limitations.

THE COURT: Overruled, but understood.

Q nd again, what is indicated by the red letters, PBC?

Prepared by client.

Q Okay.

MR. W LL CE: We can take that down.

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

Q Mr. Bender, you have been handed a document that is marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 815. Do you recognize this document?

Give me a second, please.

Q Sure.

Okay. Yes, I do.

Q nd what is this document?

It's the Statement of Financial Condition for Donald

J. Trump for the year June 30th, 2012. In this case it looks like it was sent to the client by PDF, by email.

MR. KISE: Objection. Statute of limitations.

THE COURT: Overruled.

Q nd is that a copy of the -- is that the final copy of the Statement of Financial Condition?

Yes, it is.

MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, I'm not saying the words, We would ask to have this moved into evidence, but I assume that once the objection is overruled, it comes in. Or, would you like me to make that clear on the record?

THE COURT: Well, why don't you make it clear, and we'll see if there's an objection, other than what's already been objected to.

MR. KISE: Right. There won't be an additional objection, but it's up to Mr. Wallace to move them into evidence, or for your Honor to.

THE COURT: Unless I hear an objection in the next three seconds, it is now admitted into evidence.

MR. W LL CE: Going forward, do the People want me to -- should we be saying the magic words, We would like to move this into evidence? We have had a number of documents where I haven't always said it.

MR. KISE: That's usually how trials work, your Honor, but --

MR. W LL CE: Trials work in many ways.

MR. KISE: That's been my experience, in the last 33 years.

THE COURT: Yes. We might as well use the magic words.

MR. W LL CE: Is there any objection?

MR. KISE: That's why I keep standing up and making that objection, because there's a process.

MR. W LL CE: There are plenty of bench trials where you don't say the magic words, but I will say the magic words, and I will ask if we could let the record reflect that the exhibits that were shown to Mr. Bender yesterday, where the objections, or the ones that were objected to and were overruled, are admitted into evidence, record-wise.

MR. KISE: Other than the objections that have been raised and overruled, no further objections.

THE COURT: ll of yesterday's and today's documents are hereby officially admitted into evidence, over objection.

Q Mr. Bender, I've just handed you a document marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 792. Do you recognize this document?

Yes, I do.

Q nd what is this document?

This is the letter of representation for the Statement of Financial Conditions for Donald J. Trump as of June 30th, 2012.

MR. KISE: Objection. Statute of limitations.

THE COURT: Overruled, and it's in evidence.

MR. W LL CE: nd it's in evidence. Thank you, your Honor.

(Whereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit 792 was received in evidence.)

Q Mr. Bender I'm going to direct your attention to the first paragraph. It states, "We are providing this letter in connection with your compilation of the Statement of Financial Condition of Donald J. Trump as of June 30, 2012, the statement. We confirm that we are responsible for the fair presentation in the Statement of Financial Condition and conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of merica."

Would Mazars have issued the Statement of Financial Condition if you did not receive this representation letter?

No, we would not have.

Q Would Mazars have issued the Statement of Financial Condition if it learned that any of the financial statements in this letter were not true?

No, we would not have.

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

Q Mr. Bender, you have just been handed a document that has been marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 705. Take a moment.

Do you recognize the document?

Yes, I do.

Q nd what is the document?

This is the engagement letter to compile the Statement of Financial Conditions for Donald J. Trump as of June 30, 2013.

I may have said prepare in the past times. I should have said compile.

MR. KISE: Objection. Statute of limitations.

THE COURT: Overruled.

Magic words?

MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, we move Exhibit 705 into evidence.

THE COURT: Granted. It's now in evidence.

(Whereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit 705 was received in evidence.)

MR. W LL CE: You can put the evidence down, now.

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

Q Mr. Bender, you have been handed an exhibit that is marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 708. It's a pull sheet for a document that was produced as an Excel file. We have put a copy of that file up on the screen, here. Based on what you see on the screen, do you recognize this document?

Yes. This is the Jeff Supporting Data for the Statement of Financial Condition for Donald J. Trump, as of June 30, 2013.

MR. KISE: Objection. Statute of limitations.

THE COURT: Overruled.

Q I'll just refer you, again, to the red letters PBC. What do those stand for?

Prepared by client.

MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, we ask this document be admitted into evidence.

THE COURT: Granted. It's now in evidence.

(Whereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit 705 was received in evidence.)

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

Q Mr. Bender, you have been handed a document that has been marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 707. I'll give you a moment to look through it.

Mr. Bender, do you recognize this document?

Yes, I do.

Q nd what is it?

It's a compilation of Donald J. Trump's Statement of Financial Condition as of June 30, 2013.

Q nd does this appear to be the final version?

Yes, it does.

MR. KISE: Objection. Statute of limitations.

THE COURT: Overruled.

MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, I would ask this document be entered into evidence.

THE COURT: Granted. It's now in evidence.

(Whereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit 707 was received in evidence.)

Q Mr. Bender --

Just, I may not have used the word compiled for the previously financial statements you showed me. I just want to make sure that I said compiled, for the records. ll the financial statements you showed me were compilations, this morning.

Q They were compilations. Let's turn to the document that's up on the screen here, and the document that you have been handed, it's Plaintiff's Exhibit 706. I'll give you a minute to just look through it.

Do you recognize the document, Mr. Bender?

Yes, I do.

Q nd what is this document?

This is the representation letter for the compilation of the Statement of Financial Conditions for Donald J. Trump as of June 30, 2013.

MR. KISE: Objection. Statute of limitations.

THE COURT: Overruled.

D. Bender - Direct by Mr. Wallace Page 199

MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, we would ask that the document be entered into evidence.
THE COURT: Granted. It's now in evidence.
(Whereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit 706 was received in evidence.)
Q If we go to the bottom on page three, do you recognize that signature at the bottom of this page?
Yes. It's llen Weisselberg.
Q If we go back to the top, the first paragraph states, "We are providing this letter in connection with your compilation of the Statement of Financial Condition of Donald J. Trump as of June 30th, 2013. The statement. We confirm that we are responsible for the fair presentation in the Statement of Financial Condition, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of merica."
Would Mazars have issued the Statement of Financial Condition if Mr. Weisselberg did not make the representations in this letter, on behalf of Mr. Trump?
No, we would not have.
Q Would Mazars have issued the Statement of Financial Condition if it learned that any of the representations in the letter were not true?
No, we would not have.
(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

D. Bender - Direct by Mr. Wallace Page 200

Q Mr. Bender, you have been handed a document that has been marked has Plaintiff's Exhibit 717. You can take a moment to look through it.
Do you recognize the document?
Yes, I do.
Q nd what is it?
It's the engagement letter to compile the financial statements, Statement of Financial Condition of Donald J. Trump, as of June 30th, 2014.
MR. KISE: Objection. Statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Overruled.
MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, we would ask this document be entered into evidence.
THE COURT: Granted. It's now in evidence.
(Whereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit 717 was received in evidence.)
(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)
Q Mr. Bender, you have been handed a document that has been marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 719. It's a pull sheet for a document that was produced as an Excel file. The copy of that file is up on the screen, in front of you.
Do you recognize this document?
Yes, I do.
Q What is this document?

D. Bender - Direct by Mr. Wallace Page 201

This is the Jeff Supporting Data for the Statement of Financial Conditions for Donald J. Trump, as of June 30, 2014.
MR. KISE: Objection. Statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Overruled.
MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, I would ask that this document be entered into evidence.
THE COURT: Granted. It's in evidence.
(Whereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit 719 was received in evidence.)

D. Bender - Direct/Wallace Page 202

Q Mr. Bender, you've been handed an exhibit marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 730. I'll give you a minute to look through.
Mr. Bender, do you recognize this document?
Yes, I do.
Q This is a compilation of Donald J. Trump Statement of Financial Condition as of June 30, 2014?
MR. ROBERT: Objection. Statute of Limitations.
THE COURT: Overruled.
MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, we have additional information that may be relevant to the objection. Can you go to the third page of document, please?
Q Mr. Bender, what is the date at the bottom near the signature?
November 7, 2014.
Q What does that date indicate?
That is the date we finalized the financial statement and the date of representation.
MR. ROBERT: That doesn't change the objection. The objection is-- one is for all. Nonetheless, my clients don't believe they are --
Even though it's an objection for one, it's an objection for all. My clients, in particular, do not believe they're bound by the tolling agreement. So, to preserve their ppellate rights, we object to anything up to February 6, 2016, and respectfully object based on Statute of Limitations.

THE COURT: I knew you were an expert in the CPLR.

MS. H BB : Not to be redundant, but, I'm going to preserve the same objection for my clients as well, and, I agree, it's one for all.

THE COURT: Understood. Overruled, but, I understand the objection.

MR. ROBERT: Thank you, sir.

MR. W LL CE: I guess I'm curious, since Cliff's a CPLR expert, if it's admissible, at least for some of the defendants, do we have to have the objections preserved for the Statute of Limitations argument?

MR. ROBERT: bsolutely.

THE COURT: I think they do.

MR. KISE: bsolutely.

MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, we would move this document be entered into evidence.

THE COURT: Granted. It's in evidence over objection, as to certain defendants.

MR. KISE: ctually, it's all for one and one for all, under our agreement. I just got tired of standing up, so I let Mr. Robert do it.

THE COURT: Overruled objection for all the defendants.

D. Bender - Direct/Wallace Page 204

MR. KISE: Thank you.

MS. H BB : Thank you.

MR. ROBERT: Thank you.

Q Mr. Bender, you've been handed a document that's been marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 718.

Do you recognize this document?

Yes, this is the letter of representation for the compilation of Statement of Financial Condition of Donald J. Trump as of June 30, 2014.

Q If we take a look, the header on the document is the Trump Organization. That's the same as the previous years; is that correct?

Yes, sir.

Q The top states:

"We're providing this letter in connection with your compilation of Statement of Financial Condition of Donald J. Trump as of June 30, 2014 (the statement.) We confirm that we are responsible for the fair presentation in the Statement of Financial Condition in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of merica."

Do you see that language?

I do.

Q Would Mazars have issued a Statement of Financial

D. Bender - Direct/Wallace Page 205

Condition if llen Weisselberg had not made the representation on behalf Mr. Trump?

No.

Q Would Mazars have issued a Statement of Financial Condition if they knew any of the representations were not true?

No.

Q Mr. Bender, I handed you a copy of Plaintiff's Exhibit 786. This is the document you saw yesterday previously admitted into evidence over defendants' objection. You can take a look. You should have -- you still have 718, as well? You have 718 and 786.

Can you take a moment and look at those, compare those two documents? It's two pages, so I'll give you a minute.

Mr. Bender, did you have a chance to compare the two letters?

I gave them both an overview, yes.

Q part from the dates listed, is the language in the two letters identical?

It appears to be, pretty much.

Q Does that mean all the representations Mazars required in connection with 2011 Statement of Financial Condition were also required for the 2014 Statement of Financial Condition?

D. Bender - Direct/Wallace Page 206

Yes. Substantially, that's correct.

Q Mr. Bender, you've been handed a document that's been marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 727. I'll give you a minute to look for the document.

Mr. Bender, do you recognize this document?

Yes, I do.

Q What is it?

It's the engagement letter, compilation of Statements of Financial Condition of Donald J. Trump as of June 30, 2015.

MR. ROBERT: Objection. Statute of Limitations.

THE COURT: Overruled.

MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, we ask this document be entered into evidence.

THE COURT: Granted. It's now in evidence.

Q Mr. Bender, you have been handed a document marked as plaintiff's Exhibit 731. It's pull sheet for a document produced in Excel format. There's a copy of that Excel file up on the screen.

Do you recognize this document?

Yes, I do.

Q What is it?

The Jeff Supporting Data for the Statements of Financial Condition of Donald J. Trump as of June 30, 2015.

Q What is indicated by the red letters, PBC, at the top?

D. Bender - Direct/Wallace Page 207

Prepared by client.
Q Was this the final supporting data spreadsheet for the 2015 Statements of Financial Condition?
It appears so, yes.
MR. ROBERT: You want to move it in first?
MR. W LL CE: I move, over your objection.
MR. ROBERT: Objection. Statute of Limitations. He used the magic words this time.
THE COURT: Overruled. Those are my magic words or magic word.
MR. W LL CE: I ask this document be moved into evidence.
THE COURT: Granted. It's now in evidence.
Q Mr. Bender, you've been handed a document marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 729. I'll give you a minute to peruse it.
Mr. Bender, do you recognize this document?
Yes, I do.
Q What is it?
The compilation of Donald J. Trump's Statements of Financial Condition as of June 30, 2015.
Q Does this appear to be the final copy?
Yes, it does.
MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, I ask this be moved into evidence.

D. Bender - Direct/Wallace Page 208

MR. ROBERT: Objection. Statute of Limitations.
THE COURT: Overruled. It's now in evidence.
Q Mr. Bender, you've been handed a document that's been marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 728. Take a minute to look through.
Do you recognize this document?
Yes, I do.
Q What is this document?
This is the representation letter for compilation of Statements of Financial Condition for Donald J. Trump as of June 30, 2015.
MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, I ask this document be entered into evidence.
MR. ROBERT: I think we're past the February 6, 2016. So, no Statute of Limitations as to this document. Thank you.
THE COURT: Granted. It's now in evidence.
MR. W LL CE: If you can just scroll down to the bottom of this document.
Q Do you recognize the signature at the bottom?
Yes. It's llen Weisselberg's.
MR. W LL CE: Can you go back to the top?
Q First paragraph states:
"We're providing this letter in connection with your compilation of Statements of Financial Condition of

D. Bender - Direct/Wallace Page 209

Donald J. Trump as of June 30, 2015. We confirm that we're responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the Statements of Financial Condition in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of merica and the selection and application of accounting principles."
Do you see that language?
I do.
Q Would Mazars-- Mr. Bender, would Mazars have issued the 2015 Statement of Financial Condition if llen Weisselberg did not make these representations in this letter on behalf of Mr. Trump?
No, it would not.
Q Would Mazars --
THE COURT: One minute.
MR. ROBERT: I actually am going to make a Statute of Limitations objection to this as well because it's cited to conduct in 2015. So, we renew the objections.
THE COURT: Understood. Overruled.
Q Would Mazars have issued the 2015 Statements of Financial Condition if it learned any of these representations were not true?
No, it would not have.
Q Mr. Bender, you've been handed a document that has been marked plaintiff's Exhibit 740. I'll give you a minute to look through it.

D. Bender - Direct/Wallace Page 210

Mr. Bender, do you recognize this document?
Yes, I do.
Q What is it?
It's the engagement letter, compiled the Statements of Financial Condition of Donald J. Trump as of June 30, 2016.
MR. W LL CE: Can we go to last page, a production number that ends 62?
Q Do you recognize the signature here at the bottom of the page?
Yes, I do.
Q Whose signature is that?
llen Weisselberg's.
MR. W LL CE: We ask this document be entered into evidence.
MR. ROBERT: Objection. Statute of Limitations.
THE COURT: Isn't it past the Statute of Limitations?
MR. ROBERT: No, your Honor, because, it's certifying the material accuracy of the financial statement of June 30, 2016. Since our position is the statute runs to February 6th of '16, we preserve the objection.

Thank you, sir.
THE COURT: Understood. Overruled.
Q If you look at the top, it says:
"This letter correctly sets for the understanding of the trustees on behalf of Donald J. Trump."
Do you know what trustees that's referring to?
The trustees would have been Donald, Jr. and Mr. Weisselberg.
Q What trusts were they the trustees of?
Exact name, I think it's the Donald J. Trump Revocable Trust as of 2014, but, I'm not sure. It says it right there, okay.
Q So, I'll, just for the record, underneath Mr. Weisselberg's signature, it states: "Trustee, Donald J. Trump, Revocable Trust dated pril 7, 2014, as amended."
That's the trust you understood?
Yes.
Q Do you have an understanding of why Mr. Weisselberg is now signing this on behalf of a trust?
He's signing on behalf of both, Executive Vice President of Trump Organization and as trustee.
Q So, why is it now the trust that's involved?
Because Mr. Trump was now President and a significant portion of his assets were put into holding companies that we discussed yesterday and were all transferred all into the trust.

Q So, the trust became responsible for the preparation of Statements of Financial Condition?
I would say that's correct, yes.
Q If we can go back to the top of this document?
I would say the trust and the Trump Organization.
Q If we look at the second paragraph, it states: "We will prepare the statement of financial position of Donald J. Trump and the related notes to the financial statement and perform compilation engagement with respect to this financial statement."
Do you have an understanding of why the language has changed in this engagement letter from prior years?
I don't recall.
Q Does the nature of the work that you were performing on behalf -- strike that question.
Is the nature of the work you were preparing-- strike that question.
Is the nature of the work you were performing in compiling Statements of Financial Condition changed in any way?
No, except now some of the assets are in a trust but the statement included the assets of Donald J. Trump through his Revocable Trust.
THE COURT: I have a question. The word

"position" in the highlight, should that have been condition or is there a reason that it's a different word being used?
THE WITNESS: I think it's a mistake but I'd have to check. Good catch.
THE COURT: You don't have to check. I think it's a mistake.
THE WITNESS: It's still a good catch.
Q We'll go through a little more of this. It might be easier to read up here. The next paragraph states: "We'll also provide other accounting services, as necessary, to obtain sufficient accounting records from which to prepare a statement. The performance of these additional accounting services does not alter the fact that you are responsible for the content of the financial statement, including the estimated current value of assets and"-- "the estimated current value of liabilities."
Do you have a recollection of what is being referred to in the "other accounting services, as necessary?"
nything-- the example I gave yesterday is we may assist with a few footnotes or something.
Q ny assistance you provided did not change the nature of the work that Mazars was responsible for; is that correct?
Yes, that's correct.
Q If we scroll down to the number paragraphs below.

Paragraph number one states -- well, I'll read the introduction.
"The objective of our engagement is, one, prepare a financial statement in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of merica based on information provided by you."
Who, again, is the "you" in that sentence?
The Trump Organization and the trustees.
Q Who is responsible for preparing the statement in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of merica?
The Trump Organization and the trustees.
Q If you look at the next one, number two, it says: " pply accounting and financial reporting expertise to assist you in the presentation of the financial statement without undertaking to obtain or provide any assurance that there are no material modifications that should be made to the financial statement in order for it to be in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of merica."
Is that consistent with the practice Mazars would have followed in prior years?
I'd have to compare the two but, I believe, yes. It would be consistent with our practice.
Q So, separate and apart from the language, the practice would remain the same?

Yes.
Q Okay. Please, scroll down to the bottom paragraph. It states: "We're not required to, and will not, verify the accuracy or completeness of the information you will provide to us for the engagement or otherwise gather evidence for the purpose of expressing an opinion or a conclusion. ccordingly, we will not express an opinion or a conclusion nor provide any assurance on the financial statement."
Why would Mazars not verify the accuracy or completeness of any information provided?
You don't do those types of procedure in a compilation. That is what we're being asked to perform.
Q If you look at the paragraph that it's in italics, underneath the statement "our accountant's compilation report is expected to include" -- I won't read it into the record. I'll give you a minute to just look at it.
Just the first paragraph?
Q First two. ctually, the one that starts: "The accompanying Statement of Financial Condition." So, what's being reflected in these paragraphs?
These are basically the G P exceptions we discussed yesterday and that G P is-- the accompanying statement does not reflect above-noted items.
Q Who was responsible for determining what exceptions to G P will be in the Statements of Financial Condition?

Trump Organization.
Q If you look at the next paragraph, I will read that one into the record. It says: "Further, our report will include the following: Because the significance and pervasiveness of the matters discussed above make it difficult to assess their impact on the Statements of Financial Condition, users of this personal financial statement should recognize that they might reach different conclusions about the financial condition of Donald J. Trump if they had access to a revised Statement of Financial Condition prepared in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of merica."
I'd like to direct your attention to the phrase "users of this personal financial statement should recognize that they might reach different conclusions." The reason for those different conclusions -- what's the basis for the different conclusions a user might reach?
Because if you didn't have these G P exceptions, these financial statements would be presented in a different format.
Q So, is the G P exceptions disclosed above the reason someone might have a different view of this financial condition of Mr. Trump? Is that what's being said?
Yes.

Q If you look at the paragraph underneath that, it states: "Our engagement cannot be relied upon to identify or disclose any financial statement and misstatements including those caused by fraud or error or to identify or disclose any wrongdoing or noncompliance with laws and regulations. However, we will inform you of any material errors and any evidence or information that comes to our attention during the performance of our procedures that fraud may have occurred."
With respect to this period from 2016, do you remember any instances where you identified any fraud that may have occurred at the Trump Organization?
It's not the Trump Organization. This is a Statement of Financial Condition of Donald J. Trump.
Q I'll rephrase the question. Do you know, from the period of this letter in 2016, if you, in the course of compiling the Statements of Financial Condition, identified any fraud at the Trump Organization?
Trump Organization?
Q Did you identify any fraud at the Trump Organization?
We didn't do any work as of June 30th.
Q If we go down to the last paragraph under the heading "your responsibilities," it states: "The engagement to be performed is conducted on the basis that you acknowledge and understand that our role is to prepare financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of merica and assist you in the presentation of the financial statement in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of merica."

Who is the "you" that's being referred to in this paragraph?
The Trump Organization and trustees.
Q Let's look at what the responsibilities are. They're on the next page. Under item one, it states: "The selection of accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of merica as the financial reporting framework to be applied in the preparation of the financial statement."
Which party is responsible for selecting the accounting principles to be used?
The Trump Organization and trustees.
Q Item two states: "The preparation and fair presentation of financial statement in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of merica and the inclusion of all informative disclosures that are appropriate for accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of merica, other than previously noted."
Let's start with the end there. Do you know what's being referred to in the "other than previously noted?"
The G P exceptions that were delineated in italics

D. Bender - Direct/Wallace Page 219

in the beginning.
Q So, who is responsible for this paragraph?
The Trump Organization and trustees.
Q Do you understand what is meant by inclusion of all informative disclosures?
Generally, they include notes to financial statements.
Q So, the actual text of what's contained in that financial statement?
Yes.
Q Look at item number 25. It states: "Compliance with the laws and regulations applicable to its activities."
Do you know who the "its" is in this?
The Trump Organization and the trustees.
Q So, who's responsible for their compliance with the laws and regulations?
The Trump Organization and trustees.
Q Look at the next item number six. It states: "The accuracy and completeness of the records, documents, explanations, and other information, including significant judgments you provide us for the engagement."
Why is this item included?
Because the parties we discussed are responsible for the accuracy of the compilation of records, documents, explanations, and other significant items and judgments.

D. Bender - Direct/Wallace Page 220

Q Item seven states: "To provide us with access to all information of which you are aware is relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements such as records, documentation, and other matters."
What's encompassed within information that is relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements?
ny information that they know or documents that they know pertaining to the financial statement.
Q If there was a document that related to the value of the asset but they weren't using it for their specific form valuation, would you still expect that to be shared?
Yes, I would.
Q Mr. Bender, you've been handed a document that has been marked as plaintiff's Exhibit 3003. Do you recognize this document?
Yes, I do.
Q What is it?
This is certain data that was sent to us from the Trump Organization for the preparation of the June 30, 2016, compilation of Statement of Financial Condition for Donald J. Trump.
MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, we ask this document be entered into evidence.
MR. ROBERT: Objection. Statute of Limitations.

D. Bender - Direct/Wallace Page 221

MR. KISE: Just -- go ahead. Sorry. I just have a housekeeping question.
THE COURT: Overruled on Statute of Limitations. What's the housekeeping question?
MR. KISE: Maybe it's me. I want to make sure there's-- it looks like there's two copies of the Statement of Financial Condition, one redline and the other is very thick. So, I'm just.
MR. W LL CE: I can ask, maybe, Mr. Bender if he understands it and, if not, I can make a proffer on something.
MR. KISE: That's fine.
Q So, I believe your testimony was -- I think you said that this was information that was provided to you by the Trump Organization in connection with the preparation of Mr. Trump's Statement of Financial Condition; is that correct?
Yes.
Q I'll get to what some of the attachments are in a moment but answer first. Who is Patrick Birney?
He's an employee of the Trump Organization.
Q Do you know why he's the one sending you this information?
t some point, he started being involved with the Statements of Financial Condition and helping Jeff McConney.
Q Helping Jeff McConney?

Page 222

Yes.
Q Did you understand that he reported Mr. McConney I?
Yes, I believe he did.
Q So, I think we recognize the name of the first attachment. What is that one?
Jeff Supporting Data.
Q We can go through it, but, I believe there's two file names separated by semicolons. I'll attempt to read them into the record.
The first one states: "SOFC 02-17-2017 VPB 2.17.17 clean.doc," and the second file states: "SOFC 2.17. 2017 VPB 2.17.17.doc."
Do you have an understanding of what those two files are?
I can guess. I'm not sure.
Q Based on your experience of working with Mr. Birney?
I can't-- I can make a guess but not based on working with Mr. Birney.
Q What was your guess?
I'm guessing--
MR. ROBERT: Objection.
THE COURT: Sustained. Not allowed to have speculation.

Q Do you have an understanding of what a clean document means?

I'm thinking that it's a document that they want us to use for -- as their version of the typed financial statement. It appears they typed the financial statements themselves, this time.

Q nd there are two files that are dot doc files, that are SOFC 21717.

If you take a look at the list underneath, Mr. Birney writes, "Bender, see attached. Item six is Word document, clean. Item seven is Word document, track changes."

Based on that language, do you have any understanding of what the files are, that are included?

It just appears to me that one of them would be the document that we just spoke, and one of them would track changes, but I would have to review.

Q I'm happy to move on from this. It's not actually relevant to the questions I was asking about the --

MR. ROBERT: I just want to be clear, your Honor. re you moving in the attachments, too? Or just the covering email?

MR. W LL CE: The full document. The document comes with the attachments.

MR. ROBERT: Okay. So, then our objection was including the attachments that you moved in, as one piece?

MR. W LL CE: Yes.

MR. ROBERT: Thank you for the clarification.

THE COURT: Ten-minute warning.

MR. W LL CE: bsolutely fine, your Honor.

THE COURT: Ten minute, I thought you said ten minutes for morning.

Q Mr. Bender --

MR. W LL CE: If we could pull up the native file.

Q We are going to pull up one of the exhibits that was in the Excel file, native five. Do you recognize this attachment to the email I just showed you?

It appears to be their copy of the Jeff Supporting Data for the compilation of Donald J. Trump financial statements as of June 30th, 2016.

Q nd do you have an understanding of who would have prepared this document?

It would have been somebody -- it would have been the Trump Organization.

Q Okay. But you are not sure which precise individual would have done it?

I'm not. I wouldn't be 100 percent sure, no.

Q nd what would you have done with this document, when you received it?

We would insert it into our binder, presumably.

MR. W LL CE: Let's pull up Exhibit 742.

Q Mr. Bender, you have been handed a document that was marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 742. It's a pull sheet for a document that was produced as an Excel file. We have put a copy of that Excel file up on the screen, here. Let me ask, do you recognize this document?

Yes, I do.

Q nd what is this document?

This is the file from Mazars' binder for the Statement of Financial Condition compilation of Donald J. Trump, as of June 30, 2016.

Q nd what do the letters PBC stand for?

Prepared by client.

Q nd what was the use of this table?

This was our control to tie into the statement of -- the compilation of the Statement of Financial Condition for Mr. Trump, as of June 30, 2016.

MR. W LL CE: If we could --

Q I'll just ask you this: The systems you described for preparing this document, did they operate the same way in 2016 as what we discussed in 2011?

I can clarify the question.

t some point, they started putting stuff into a portal. I don't think it was this early, but the systems would have been the same, except for that.

Q Okay. So if I'm understanding correctly, the way in which people at the Trump Organization would send you documents, the Statement of Financial Condition, changed, but there was no change to how you prepared this document?

The last document you gave me was 2016, also.

Q Correct.

So, yes. So, the stuff would have been -- the same process would have on the statement, as before.

MR. ROBERT: To the extent Mr. Wallace is going it move this document in, we object on statute of limitations, and I also object, it was a leading question.

THE COURT: Do you want to withdraw it?

MR. W LL CE: No, I don't want to withdraw the question. I was just going to say, this is the electronic version of an attachment of the document that was already entered into evidence, over Mr. Robert's objection.

MR. ROBERT: I thought, because you identified it as a separate exhibit number, it wasn't.

MR. W LL CE: No, I didn't. This was the same exhibit number.

MR. ROBERT: It's the same exhibit number?

MR. W LL CE: Different file name.

MR. ROBERT: Then I still have the objection to the leading question, your Honor.

MR. W LL CE: I would say that the leading question was in response to a general response from the witness, and I was clarifying his answer.

THE COURT: Oh. In all my years of objections about leading questions, I never heard the defense that, Well, he was just asking for a qualification.

MR. ROBERT: If that works, we'll use it all the time. That's fine.

THE COURT: It seems, to me, a legitimate device in the search for the truth. Overruled.

MS. H BB : Your Honor, before we proceed, I just wanted to let the court reporter know that this is actually Mr. Robert, not Mr. Solomon. I want to make sure the record is clear.

THE COURT: That would be a bad mistake to make.

MR. SOLOMON: Okay, your Honor.

THE COURT: That's Mr. Solomon.

MS. H BB : That's Mr. Solomon.

Q So, we were discussing how this document operates what's indicated by the numbers in blue, in row 84100.01?

Those are the cross references to the underlying work papers in the Mazars binder in that case, and an example, the cash worksheet appears to be worksheet 4100.01.

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

Q Mr. Bender, I've handed you a document that's been marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 2587. This is a document that was produced as an Excel file, so I've put a copy of the Excel file that was produced up on the screen. Do you recognize this document -- let me introduce -- this document has been produced with, and is listed on plaintiff's exhibit list, as a file name of 4100.01 Cash Balances as of 6/30/16 - final VPB 2.17.17.XLS.XLS.

Do you recognize this document?

Yes. This is the Excel file for the cash and short-term investments for the compilation of Donald J. Trump's Statement of Financial Condition as of June 30, 2016.

MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, we would ask that this document be marked into evidence.

MR. ROBERT: Objection. Statute of limitations.

THE COURT: Overruled.

(Whereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit 2587 was received in evidence.)

Q gain, what does the red letters at the top say, PBC, what do those indicate?

Prepared by client.

Q nd what would you do with this table?

It would -- the bottom total should hopefully tie into the Jeff Supporting Data.

Q Okay. So this is the support for the number on the document we were just looking at?

Yes, sir.

Q If we look at the lettering in blue, on row one, it states, "Per discussion with J. McConney, 2.717, cash balances are from bank reconciliations and not individual balance sheets."

Can you just tell me, what does that mean?

I'm not 100 percent sure, today.

Q Do you recall if Mr. McConney was still involved in the preparation of the Statement of Financial Condition, as of February 27, 2017?

He was involved with the compilation for the Statement of Financial Condition of Donald J. Trump as of June 30th, 2016. I don't know if you said '16 or '17.

Q So, just to clarify, this is a discussion that happened in 2017, but it's for the as-of-June 30, 2016 statement?

It appears to be so, yes.

Q Do you have a recollection as to why work on the as-of-June 30, 2016 statement was happening in 2017?

I have a general recollection.

Q What's your general recollection?

I think things -- Mr. Trump became president, and things were a little crazy.

Q Okay.

For the Trump Organization.

Q If we go down to rows 69 through 72, I just want to direct your attention to -- there's two red arrows -- let me start by staying, we are on row 69. There's two red arrows. One going up, and one going down, and they each go into a red line. What is indicated by that symbol?

I believe, and I would have to double check, I believe that it was footed. dded done.

Q So, someone has confirmed that the formula that's operating there, it had been prepared correctly?

Somebody would have taken the --

Q Okay.

-- mouse, and would have went down with it, and made sure the math checks.

MR. W LL CE: I think we are done with this document, if that's a good time to break, your Honor.

THE COURT: I don't allow breaks longer than 10 minutes, but we are going to have 15 minutes to have the 10-minute break. So, please be back at 11:45, everyone.

MR. W LL CE: Thank you.

(Whereupon, a recess was taken.)

* * * * * *

THE COURT: You know, for various reasons, I want to run a tight ship. It seems like I'm going to have to be a little firmer in these the timing of these breaks. I said -- another example of lame humor -- we'll take a 10-minute break, but you can have 15 minutes. Maybe you could push that to 20, but I'm starting in 20 minutes. If I say we are talking a 10-minute break in 15 minutes, and if you are not here, I'm starting anyway. So, please be here.

I see Mr. Kise is nodding. You understand. Mr. Robert.

Ms. Habba.

10-minute break, at most 20 minutes.

ll right. Let's continue.

Before we do, I looked at Kulak, the case that I mentioned before, very closely. Kulak versus Nationwide, 40 N.Y.2d 140, and at page 145 -- depends which version -- the Court of ppeals makes clear, not just that continuing objections can be made, but they don't even have to be made.

Quote, "The objection, thus clearly made and overruled, served as a continuing objection, and made it unnecessary to challenge other improper evidence," close quote.

The next sentence says, quote, " lthough objection was not made to every question during this line of testimony, the objections were," internal quote, "Were sufficient to cover the whole of the material accepted as evidence."

So, I beg to differ with the advice that the defendants received. You can make continuing objections, and you can just object, and it's understood that that will cover the exact or similar, same situations.

MR. KISE: Just looking a this, your Honor, briefly, and I didn't get to look at it on the break, even though it was a long break, but just pulling it up now, I think this goes -- and I've sent it off to our folks. I think this goes to what I said yesterday, the difference between testimony and documents. This case relates, I think, from what I'm seeing more, to testimony, and that's why with Mr. Bender, we have made one blanket objection as to testimony, which is sufficient. But, I don't know that that covers us with documents.

But, I can assure you, to the extent that I don't -- and Mr. Robert, so we don't have to keep standing up and down -- if we can come up with a way to satisfy our side, we would do that. I just think this is testimony and not documents, because it speaks to, defendant objected only to the first of three hypothetical questions. The last hypothetical question -- the first three hypothetical questions addressed to the first expert, it was not error to admit, into evidence, testimony as to the possibility of adequate representation. I think that's the distinction that we are drawing here, as I did yesterday, I mentioned that. But we will continue to look into it, to save all of us the --

MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, I can, also, though -- I think we have offered to -- the parties exchanged exhibit lists that contained the information. If they want to do a list that specifies the document to which they object, based on statute of limitations ground and timing, just that, and your Honor can rule on the list, regardless of whether or not -- and then they can preserve their objections that way, we would be happy to do something along those lines.

MR. KISE: We'll look at that as well, your Honor. nything to expedite these process, I can assure you.

THE COURT: s I said much earlier, Mr. Kise and everyone at defense table, I'll let you do what you feel like you need to do.

MR. KISE: Understood and appreciated. But we'll streamline it, as much as we possibly can.

THE COURT: nd by the way, I didn't read the exception into this that you are reading into it, but you know, reasonable minds can differ. Okay.

I hope he is closer, this time.

(Whereupon, the witness resumed the witness stand.)

THE COURT: Please proceed.

CONTINUED DIRECT EX MIN TION

BY MR. W LL CE:

Q We have three minutes of good morning left, Mr. Bender, so good morning, again.

MR. W LL CE: I would like to offer the witness a new document.

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

Q Mr. Bender, you are being handed a document that has been marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 756. Can you just take a moment to look through this document?

THE COURT: nd while he is looking, I'll ask the court officer to hand a copy of the Kulak case to the defense table, for their convenience.

MR. KISE: Thank you.

Q Mr. Bender, do you recognize this document?

Yes, I do.

Q nd what is this document?

This is the compilation of Donald J. Trump's Statement of Financial Condition, as of June 30, 2016.

Q nd does this appear to be the final version?

Yes, it does.

MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, we ask that this document be moved into evidence.

D. Bender - Direct by Mr. Wallace Page 235

MR. ROBERT: Objection. Statute of limitations.
THE COURT: This, the date of this -- I'm speaking to the expert here. The date of this document is after the limitations period had started, if we can call it that; right?
MR. ROBERT: Correct. The limitations period, in our view, is from February 6, 2016, so what is contained in here, and the work product that's within here, to protect our record, we believe that that would be barred by the statute of limitations as for those defendants not bound by the tolling agreement.
THE COURT: nd what if it was 2017?
MR. ROBERT: It gets a little more complicated there, because sometimes, especially on the McConney spreadsheets, you will see that they have two years' worth of information on a spreadsheet the year before, in that year. That's why we have to take them one document at a time, just to make sure we are preserving our position and not waiving that we feel, for those defendants not bound by the tolling agreement: nything that happened prior to February 6th of 2016, is out.
THE COURT: Overruled.
MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, you have already ruled, so I probably should just sit down, is the standard operating advice. I will note that we don't believe that the defendants are entitled to lie about events that happened in 2014, in '17 and so that the statute of limitations isn't applicable, or the statute of limitations period certainly encompasses this document, but I will move on.

D. Bender - Direct by Mr. Wallace Page 236

nd so I take it this document has now been entered into evidence?
THE COURT: Yes. It's now in evidence.
MR. W LL CE: Thank you.
(Whereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit 756 was received in evidence.)
Q Mr. Bender --
MR. W LL CE: If we could pull up page three of the document. It's the one that has the production number 1985.
Q Just please reorient us. What portion of the Statement of Financial Condition is this section?
These are the notes to the financial statements. Notes to the Statement of Financial Condition.
Q nd who is responsible for this language?
The Trump Organization, and the trustees.
Q nd just to clarify, I'll leave the record here, under the heading, Basis of Presentation it states, "Prior to June 30, 2016, Donald J. Trump transferred certain of his assets and liabilities, including certain entities that he owned, to two holding companies. These two holdings companies are owned by the Donald J. Trump Revocable Trust, dated pril 7, 2014, as amended, (The Trust). Prior to Mr. Trump being sworn in as President of the United States of merica on January 20, 2017, he transferred a significant portion of his remaining assets and liabilities, including certain entities, to either the trust, or entities owned by the trust."

"The accompanying Statements of Financial Condition consists of the assets and liabilities of Donald J. Trump, including the assets and liabilities of the trust."
So, just to reorient, this is the trust process that you speak about earlier this morning?
I'm not sure what you mean by that?
Q Okay. You are not sure --
What you mean by that question.
Q You said that at some point trustees took over the responsibility for the preparation of the Statement of Financial Condition. This is the trust that the trustees were operating on behalf of --
Yes, it was.
Q Okay. So, if we look at the next full paragraph, it states that, " ssets are stated at their estimated current values, and liabilities at their estimated current amounts, using various valuation methods."
So who is responsible for making sure that assets are stated at their estimated current values?

D. Bender - Direct by Mr. Wallace Page 238

The Trump Organization, and the trustees.
Q Okay. So, if we could just flip to the page five of this report, it's the production number that ends 1987, if we look at the second paragraph, it states, "The estimated current value of 600 million -- $631 million, is based on an evaluation by the trustees in conjunction with their associates and outside professionals, applying a capitalization rate to the cash flow to be derived from building operations."
So, who is responsible for deciding to use this technique, to value Trump Tower?
Trustees, in conjunction with their associates and outside professionals.
Q nd did Mazars undertake any procedures to determine if that was an appropriate means of valuing Trump Tower?
No, we did not.
Q nd did Mazars undertake any accounting procedures to determine if the 631 million number was accurate?
Say the question again, please?
Q Did Mazars undertake any accounting procedures to determine if the $631 million number was accurate?
nything that -- I would have to see the Jeff Supporting schedule, to see if we footed any other, or if we did any other work.
Q But would you have undertaken any kind of audit or review to check the number, the $631 million number?

D. Bender - Direct by Mr. Wallace Page 239

No, we would not have done that.
(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)
Q Mr. Bender, you have been handed a document that has been marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 741. I'll give you a moment to look through it.
Do you recognize this document, Mr. Bender?
Yes, I do.
Q nd what is this document?
It's a representation letter for the personal -- for the compilation of the financial statements of Donald J. Trump, as of June 30, 2016.
MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, we would ask that this document be moved into evidence.
MR. ROBERT: Objection. Statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Overruled.
(Whereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit 741 was received in evidence.)
Q Mr. Bender, would Mazars have issued the Statement of Financial Condition if the trustees --
MR. W LL CE: Well, let's actually strike that question.
Can we turn to the last page of this document?
THE COURT: The correct term is withdrawn, not strike.

D. Bender - Direct by Mr. Wallace Page 240

MR. W LL CE: Thank you, your Honor.
Q If we take a look at the bottom of this page, do you recognize the signature on the left hand side of the screen?
Yes. That's -- excuse me. That's llen Weisselberg.

D. Bender - Direct/Wallace Page 241

Q In what capacity is he signing this letter?
He signed it as Chief Financial Officer of the Trump Organization and as Trustee of Donald J. Trump Revocable Trust.
Q Do you recognize the signature on the right-hand side of the screen?
Yes, it's Don, Jr.'s signature.
Q In what capacity is he signing this?
s Executive Vice President of the Trump Organization and Trustee of Donald J. Trump Revocable Trust.
Q Would Mazars have issued, as of June 30, 2016, Statements of Financial Condition for Donald J. Trump if the trustees had not signed this representation letter?
No, they would not.
Q I'd like to direct your attention to the second page of this document. Paragraph two states: "We've made available to you all financial records and related data and any additional information you requested from us for the purpose of the compilation. We have not, knowingly, withheld from you any financial records or related data that, in our judgment, would be relevant to your compilation."
You see that language?
Yes, I do.
Q Would Mazars have issued the Statements of Financial Condition if the trustees had not made that representation?

D. Bender - Direct/Wallace Page 242

No, it would not.
Q fter the date of this letter, which was signed -- after the date of this letter on March 10, 2017, did you learn whether or not the Trump Organization had, in fact, not provided you with all financial records and related data and any additional information requested for the purpose of the compilation?
I'd have to double check 2016. I'm not sure of 2016.
Q So, after -- I'm trying to clarify. fter this letter, did you learn this representation was not accurate?
I can't tell you the specific year, off the top of my head.
Q t some point, did you learn this representation was inaccurate?
I'm not sure for the year June 30, 2016. I'd have to go back and look at that to answer the question.
Q t some point, did you learn, during the course of -- withdrawn.
t some point did you learn that the Trump Organization had not made available to you all financial records for any of your compilation engagements?
Yes, sir.
Q What did you learn --
There were certain matters -- certain documents were shown to us, appraisals, that were in their possession that we did not know about.

THE COURT: Please keep your voice nice and loud.

THE WITNESS: I apologize. My throat is --

THE COURT: That's because you're talking too much the last few days.

THE WITNESS: That's because I'm retired. I'm not used to talking.

Q So, Mr. Bender, how did you learn there were appraisals you had not been provided?

I believe the first time I saw them were interviews with the District ttorney of the City of New York.

Q Was that information you thought you should have received in the course of preparing a compilation engagement?

Yes.

Q Let's go down to another portion of this letter. If you look at item number 15, item 15 states: "We've responded fully and truthfully to all inquiries made to us by you during your compilation."

fter the receipt of this letter, did you learn whether or not that representation was inaccurate?

It was inaccurate for not-- I can't tell you for this year but for various years in total, yes.

Q Based on your understanding, why was that presentation inaccurate?

Because they were not giving us all the documents that we needed, potentially, to compile the compilation.

Q So, had you made inquiries for those documents?

In many, yes, I did. Yes.

MR. KISE: Objection. Which documents? He's testified he's not sure which year it was. So, which documents are we talking about?

THE COURT: Sustained.

MR. KISE: What year? When? When --

THE COURT: Sustained. I think we need to be a little more particular.

Q Mr. Bender, you testified that the Trump Organization was not giving us all the documents that we needed to potentially compile the compilation. What documents are you referring to?

There were certain appraisals out there for a number of years.

Q Do you remember, specifically, which years?

Not all years off the top of my head, no.

Q Do you remember some of the years, off the top of your head?

I think it was '15, '16, something like that but I'd have to double check.

Q So, you made inquiries for appraisals to the Trump Organization?

Yes.

MR. KISE: Objection. Which year?

THE COURT: I may be second-guessing myself but I think he can ask if it was done, and, you can cross-examination well, when was it done.

MR. KISE: Okay, if he's asking generally, did he ever make inquiries about appraisals, that is one thing. He's asking, specifically, the representation with respect, rather, to this particular year. I think that's quite another.

THE COURT: I don't think he was but let's see if he'll clarify.

MR. W LL CE: I appreciate Mr. Kise's evidence coming in but--

Q Did you ask the Trump Organization, during the course of your work on compilation reports, for appraisal reports?

Yes, I think it started at the time-- first time, my recollection of asking where the appraisals were, they gave me certain appraisals for TIHT Commercial LLC of Trump Plaza, LLC, and, I think those questions I asked in most years of Jeff McConney. That was started, based on, I guess, approximately, 2013 or other.

Q Do you have a specific recollection of it starting in 2013?

I recently saw that we had those appraisals appear in 2013. So, that's probably when I asked for them.

Q So, your best recollection is you started asking for appraisals in or about 2013?

Yes.

Q You had asked Mr. McConney, I believe you said?

Yes, most years.

Q Can you describe, to your recollection, how you asked Mr. McConney for those documents?

First time he gave me appraisals, I said, do you have any more appraisals, and, I'd ask every year after that. ll-- most accountants -- I did ask for appraisals.

Q What did he tell you?

"That's all we have."

Q Every year you asked, that's what he told you?

Yes.

Q gain, you don't remember exactly when that practice started?

No, but, I did see that the appraisal appeared around 2013.

Q You've seen an appraisal dated 2013 that conforms to what your memory is?

I saw appraisals in the 2013, the binder for the compilation for the year, as of June 30, 2016.

Q What did you do when you learned that there were appraisals that had not been given to you?

What did I do?
Q Yes.
MR. KISE: Objection. The timeframe. Back to timeframe. Objection.
MR. W LL CE: He identified the timeframe as during a meeting with the New York District ttorney's Office.
MR. KISE: Is that a timeframe? He said some timeframe but then it was unclear as to which -- I just want the record to be clear.
THE COURT: We all do.
Q Do you remember when?
THE COURT: Hold on a second. Let's start with: Can you remember a specific time when you reacted to this realization.
Q Can you answer the question from the Judge?
It was my first meeting with a Zoom meeting with the District ttorney of the State of New York.
THE COURT: You remember, roughly, when that meeting was?
THE WITNESS: Not off the top of my head.
THE COURT: Can you approximate from point of view of more than speculation but less than certainty?
THE WITNESS: I would say about three years ago, during COVID. Yeah, it was during COVID but, yes, the late part. Wasn't the first year of COVID.

Q Did you do anything after you learned from that meeting with the District ttorney's Office that there were appraisals you'd not been given?
I was not personally involved in any of those matters. It wasn't handled by me.
Q Were you still working on the compilation for Donald J. Trump's Statement of Financial Condition at the time you learned that information?
No, we did not. So, it had to be after 2020. The date would have to be after June 30, 2020, was, I believe, the last compilation we did.
Q Did you have any conversations with Mr. McConney after you learned this information from the District ttorney's Office?
Pertaining to that matter?
Q Correct.
No, I did not.
Q You had conversations with him on other matters?
Yes. Let me go back.
THE WITNESS: It would have been early part of '21, your Honor.
THE COURT: Just finish the sentence.
Would be the early part of the '21 that we had the Zoom meeting with D NY.

Q Meaning the District ttorney's Office of New York County?
Somebody taught me this.
THE COURT: D NY.
THE WITNESS: Somebody taught me this. I'm sorry.
Q Mr. Bender, in any given year where you asked for appraisals you were not given -- let me withdraw that question.
THE COURT: He's a quick learner.
Q Mr. Bender, would Mazars have issued Statements of Financial Condition-- without reference to a specific year but, if Mazars learned that the Trump Organization had not provided all appraisals, would you have issued the Statement of Financial Condition?
MR. KISE: Objection. Back to which year?
THE COURT: Overruled. gain, I may be second-guessing myself but you can ask if it was ever done. I don't see a problem with that.
MR. KISE: Which years did he not receive the appraisals? Which years is the government asking him which statements wouldn't have been produced? I mean, there are some years where there might not have been any appraisals provided and some years were there were appraisals provided but what the government is doing is mashing it all together and saying, in those years that you didn't get appraisals, would you have issued the statements, but, that doesn't speak to the direct point which they have to establish that it was a specific year or a specific appraisal not provided in connection with a specific statement.

Not generally, over a ten-year period, whether appraisals you didn't receive and did that then -- what the --
MR. W LL CE: How would the witness know if he didn't receive an appraisal, apart for the ones shown by D NY?
MR. KISE: ccording to his testimony, he was told by the District ttorney of New York when he didn't receive it. So, if the witness can recall which years that related to and he can recount what he would have done or not have done, based on information he would have received in that particular year, fine; but, if it's no, he can't just speculate generally about --
MR. W LL CE: You're arguing in front of the Judge now.
THE COURT: He is allowed to. Overruled.
MR. W LL CE: Can we go back to --
THE COURT: Subject to the cross-examination.

Q Mr. Bender, would Mazars have issued a Statement of Financial Condition if it knew it had not been provided with all appraisals?
No, it would not.
Q Thank you.
MR. KISE: Just for the record, I didn't object to that last question because of the Kulak case, okay. I'm glad we're on the same page.
Q Mr. Bender, you have been handed a document that has been marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 753. Take a moment to look at this. Do you recognize this document?
Yes, I do.
Q What is this document?
This is the engagement letter compiling the Statement of Financial Condition of Donald J. Trump as of June 30, 2017.
Q Does this appear to be the final letter?
Yes, it does.
MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, I would ask this be entered into evidence.
THE COURT: Granted. It's now in evidence. By the way, I can ask why you're not objecting. Because of the continuing objection rule or because of the date of the document?
MS. H BB : Don't worry, your Honor. I'm about to object. I'm just letting him do his thing.

THE COURT: Okay.
Q Mr. Bender, I've handed you a document marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 758. It is a pull sheet for a document that was produced to us in the form of an Excel file. We put a copy of the Excel file up on the screen here.
Do you recognize this document?
Yes, I do.
Q What is this document?
This is the Jeff Supporting Data for the Statement of Financial Condition of Donald J. Trump as of June 30, 2017.
Q Does this appear to be the final form?
Yes, it does.
MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, we ask the document be entered into evidence.
MS. H BB : Your Honor, I'll state my objection on the record. To the extent that the 2017 documents look back to 2016, and anything in there before February 2016, we assert the same Statute of Limitations objection.
THE COURT: Maybe this is the right time to discuss this point.
If the defendants make a statement, or any of the defense makes a statement, within the permissible

Statute of Limitations period but it's about events that happened before, isn't that still actionable or am I missing something?
MS. H BB : gain, we've raised these issues with the ppellate Division, which we're preserving. I would like to state the objection that any reference to anything in here before 2016, which I know your Honor has a differing opinion, but, I have to state my objection against it, should not be considered.
THE COURT: I'll just say in front of everyone, I don't see how you can possibly object to a statement that's timely even if it's about a fact that comes before that; but, as you just said, we'll agree to disagree.
MS. H BB : Thank you, your Honor.
THE COURT: Thank you.
Q So --
THE COURT: Objection overruled and we'll ask the witness to answer.
MR. W LL CE: I believe there was a pending request to put this in the record.
THE COURT: It's in.
Q Mr. Bender, you have been handed a document that's been marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 755. I'll give you a moment to look through the document.
Mr. Bender, do you recognize this document?

Yes, I do.
Q What is this document?
It's the compilation of Donald J. Trump's Statements of Financial Condition as of June 30, 2017.
Q Does this appear to be the final version of the document?
Yes, it does.
MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, we ask this document be entered into evidence.
THE COURT: Granted. It's now in evidence.
Q Mr. Bender, you've been handed a document marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 754. Just take a moment to look through this document.
Do you recognize this document -- withdrawn. I'm sorry.
Q Mr. Bender, do you recognize this document?
Yes, I do.
Q What is this document?
This is the representation letter for the compilation of the personal financial statement, Statements of Financial Condition of Donald J. Trump as of June 30, 2017.
Q If we just flip to the last page. Do you recognize the signature on the left-hand side of the screen?
Yes, I do.

D. Bender - Direct/Wallace Page 255

Q Whose signature is that?
llen Weisselberg.
Q In what capacity is Mr. Weisselberg signing this letter?
Chief Financial Officer and Trustee of Donald J. Trump Revocable Trust.
Q The signature on the right-hand side of the page, do you recognize that signature?
Yes.
Q Whose signature is that?
That's Don, Jr.'s signature.
Q In what capacity is Mr. Trump signing this letter? s Executive Vice President and Trustee of Donald J. Trump Revocable Trust.
Q Would Mazar's have issued a Statement of Financial Condition in-- withdrawn.
Would Mazars have issued a Statement of Financial Condition if llen Weisselberg and Donald Trump, Jr. did not make representations in this letter on behalf of the trustees in the Revocable Trust?
It would not have.
Q Would Mazars have issued 2017 Statement of Financial Condition if they learned any of the representations in this letter were not true?
No, they would not have.

D. Bender - Direct/Wallace Page 256

Q Mr. Bender, you've been handed a document marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 771. I'll give you a few minutes to look through the document.
Mr. Bender, do you recognize this document?
Yes, I do.
Q What is this document?
This is the engagement letter compiling the Statements of Financial Condition of Donald J. Trump as of June 30, 2018.
Q If you take a look at the bottom of this document, do you recognize that signature?
Yes, I do.
Q Whose signature is it?
llen Weisselberg's.
Q In what capacity is Mr. Weisselberg signing this letter?
Executive Vice President of the Trump Organization and Trustee of Donald J. Trump Revocable Trust.
MR. W LL CE: We ask this document be entered into evidence.
THE COURT: Granted. It's in evidence.
Q Mr. Bender, you've been handed a document that's marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 774. It's a pull sheet for a document that was produced as an Excel file. We've put a copy of the Excel file on the screen here.

D. Bender - Direct/Wallace Page 257

Do you recognize this document?
Yes, I do.
Q What is this document?
It's the Jeff Supporting Data for the Statements of Financial Condition for Donald J. Trump as of June 30, 2018.
Q The initials, again, PBC in red at the top, what do those mean?
Prepared by client.
Q We haven't seen these symbols before, but, next to number $76 million on line 12 are the letters PY. Do you know what the letters indicate?
Prior year.
Q The next cel lists the number of 76,200,000, says FS. What does that indicate?
Financial statement.
Q What is being indicated by the fact that is the financial statement?
It agrees to the financial statement.
Q So, that you've confirmed that the number that is marked there is 76,200,000 is in the final Statement of Financial Condition?
I don't like the word confirm. I'll say check, cross-reference.
Q You've cross-referenced?
Yes.

D. Bender - Direct by Mr. Wallace Page 258

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)
Q Mr. Bender, you have been handed a document that is marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 773. I'll give you a few moments to look through the document.
Mr. Bender, do you recognize this document?
Yes, I do.
Q What is it?
It's the compilation of the Donald J. Trump Statement of Financial Condition as of June 30, 2018.
Q nd does this appear to be the final version?
Yes, it does.
MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, we would ask that this document be moved into evidence.
THE COURT: Granted. It's in evidence.
(Whereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit 773 was received in evidence.)
(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)
Q Mr. Bender, you have been handed a document that has been marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 772. Have you had a chance to look at this document?
Yes, I have.
Q nd what is this document?
This is a letter of representation for the compilation of the personal financial statement of Donald J. Trump, as of June 30, 2018.

MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, we would ask that this document be entered into evidence.

THE COURT: Granted. It's in evidence.

(Whereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit 772 was received in evidence.)

MR. W LL CE: If we could scroll down to the bottom of the last page of this document.

Q Mr. Bender, do you recognize the signature on the left of the screen?

Yes, I do.

Q Whose signature is that?

It's llen Weisselberg.

Q nd in what capacity is Mr. Weisselberg signing this letter?

Chief Financial Officer of the Trump Organization, and Trustee of the Donald J. Trump Revocable Trust.

Q Do you recognize the signature on the right hand side of the screen?

Yes, I do.

Q Who signature is that?

It's Don, Junior's signature.

Q nd in what capacity is Mr. Trump signing this letter?

Mr. Trump. Okay. Executive Vice President of the Trump Organization, and Trustee of the Donald J. Trump Revocable Trust.

Q Was there a confusion with Mr. Trump? Usually refers to Donald J. Trump?

It's just everybody is getting older.

Q Okay. If we go up to the top, would Mazars have issued the 2018 Statement of Financial Condition if Mr. Weisselberg and Mr. Trump did not sign this representation letter?

No, we would not have.

Q Would Mazars have issued the 2018 Statement of Financial Condition if it knew that any of the representations in this letter were false?

No, we would not have.

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

Q Mr. Bender, you have been handed a document marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 840. Do you recognize this document?

Yes, I do.

Q nd what is this document?

This is the engagement letter to compile the Statement of Financial Condition for Donald J. Trump, as of June 30, 2019.

Q Does this appear to be the final version of the letter?

Yes, it does.

MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, we would ask that this document be entered into evidence.

THE COURT: We move a lot faster without all those objections.

Granted. It's in evidence.

(Whereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit 840 was received in evidence.)

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

Q Mr. Bender, you have been handed a document marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 843. It's a pull sheet for a document that was produced to us as an Excel file. We have put a copy of that Excel file up on the screen here.

Do you recognize this document?

Yes, I do.

Q nd what is this document?

This is the Jeff Supporting Data for the Statement of Financial Condition for Donald J. Trump as of June 30, 2019.

Q nd what is indicated by the red letters on the top, PBC?

Prepared by client.

Q nd does this appear to be the final supporting data spreadsheet for the 2019 Statement of Financial Condition?

Yes, it does.

MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, we would ask that this document be entered into evidence.

THE COURT: Granted. It's in evidence.

(Whereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit 843 was received in evidence.)

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

Yes, I do.

Q What is this document?

This is the compilation of Donald J. Trump Statement of Financial Condition as of June 30, 2019.

Q nd this appears to be the final Statement of Financial Condition?

Yes, it does.

MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, we would ask that this document be entered into evidence.

THE COURT: Granted. It's in evidence.

(Whereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit 842 was received in evidence.)

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

Q Mr. Bender, you have been handed a copy of the document marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 841. I'll give you a moment.

Mr. Bender, do you recognize this document?

Yes, I do.

Q What is this document?

This is the representation letter for the compilation of the personal financial statement of Donald J. Trump, as of June 30, 2019.

Q nd if we look down at the bottom of this document, do you recognize the signature on the left hand side of the screen?

llen Weisselberg.

Q nd in what capacity is Mr. Weisselberg signing this letter?

Chief Financial Officer and Trustee of the Donald J. Trump Revocable Trust.

Q nd do you recognize the signatures on the right hand side of screen?

Yes. It's Donald Trump, Junior.

Q nd in what capacity did Donald Trump, Jr. sign this document?

Executive Vice President of the Trump Organization, and Trustee of the Donald J. Trump Revocable Trust.

Q Would Mazars have issued the 2019 Statement of Financial Condition if Mr. Weisselberg and Mr. Trump did not sign this representation letter?

No, we would not have.

Q Would Mazars have issued the 2019 Statement of Financial Condition, if it knew that any of the representations contained in this letter were false?

No, we would not have.

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

Q Mr. Bender, you have been handed a document that is marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 854. I'll give you a moment to look through it.

Mr. Bender, do you recognize this document?

Yes, I do.

Q What is this document?

This is the engagement letter to compile the Statement of Financial Condition for Donald J. Trump for the year ending June 30, 2020.

Q nd does this appear to be the final version of the letter?

Yes, it does.

MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, we would ask that this document be entered into evidence.

THE COURT: Granted. It's in evidence.

(Whereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit 854 was received in evidence.)

THE COURT: If I keep saying that, my voice is going to be as hoarse as his, eventually.

MR. W LL CE: Only a few more.

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

Q Mr. Bender, I've handed you a document that has been marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 857. It is a pull sheet for a document that was produced as an Excel file. We have put a copy of that Excel file up on the screen. Do you recognize this document?

Yes, I do.

Q What is this document?

It's Jeff Supporting Data for the -- for the compilation of the -- it's the Jeff Supporting Data for the Donald J. Trump compilation Statement of Financial Condition, as of June 30, 2020.

Q nd does this appear to be the final version of the spreadsheet?

Yes, it does.

MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, we would ask that this be entered into evidence.

THE COURT: Granted.

(Whereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit 857 was received in evidence.)

Q I'll just ask, before we take it down, what do the letters PBC mean, again?

Prepared by client.

Q Thank you.

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

Q Mr. Bender, you have been handed a document that's been marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 856. If you can, take a moment to look through this document.

Mr. Bender do you recognize this document?

Yes, I do.

Q What is this document?

This is a compilation of Donald J. Trump Statement of Financial Condition as of June 30, 2020.

Q Does this appear to be the final form of the document?

Yes, it does.

MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, I would ask that this document be entered into evidence.

THE COURT: Granted. It's in evidence.

(Whereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit 856 was received in evidence.)

THE COURT: nd, 10-minute warning.

MR. W LL CE: Understood.

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

Q Mr. Bender, you have been handed a document marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 855. If you could, take a moment and look through the document, please.

D. Bender - Direct by Mr. Wallace Page 267

Mr. Bender, do you recognize this document?
The document --
Q What's that?
Repeat the question, please?
Q Do you recognize this document?
Yes, I do.
Q What is this document?
This is the representation letter for the DJT -- the compilation of the personal financial statement of Donald J. Trump, as of June 30, 2020.
MR. W LL CE: If we could go to the bottom of this document.
Q Do you recognize the signature on the left hand side of the screen?
Yes, I do.
Q Whose signature is that?
It's llen Weisselberg.
Q nd in what capacity is Mr. Weisselberg signing this document?
Chief Financial Officer and Trustee of the Donald J. Trump Revocable Trust.
Q nd do you recognize the signature on the right hand side?
Yes, I do.

D. Bender - Direct by Mr. Wallace Page 268

Q Whose signature is that?
That's Donald J. Trump, Junior's signature.
Q nd in what capacity is he signing this document?
Executive Vice President of the Trump Organization, and Trustee of the Donald J. Trump Revocable Trust.
MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, we would ask that this document be entered into evidence?
THE COURT: Granted. It's in evidence.
(Whereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit 855 was received in evidence.)
Q nd Mr. Bender, would Mazars have issued the 2020 Statement of Financial Condition if Mr. Weisselberg and Mr. Trump did not offer these representations?
No, we would not have.
Q Would Mazars have issued the 2020 Statement of Financial Condition if it knew that any representations contained in this letter were false?
No, we would not have.
Q Mr. Bender, did you work on Statements of Financial Condition for Mr. Trump in any later years?
No, we did not.
Q Why not?
Mazars disengaged from the Trump Organization.
Q nd did you have any involvement in the decision to disengage from the Trump engagement?

D. Bender - Direct by Mr. Wallace Page 269

No, I did not.
Q fter the time that you disengaged from the Trump engagement, did you have any personal contact with Donald J. Trump?
No, I did not.
Q Before seeing him in the courtroom the last two days, when was the last time you saw Donald J. Trump in person?
It was before Covid. It was December, 2019.
Q nd do you remember in what context that was?
Yes. Ms. Trump had invited by son to a Christmas party for children, to make ornaments, and I had to get some papers signed by Mr. and Ms. Trump.
Q Since that meeting, did you have any conversations with Mr. Trump?
No, I have not.
Q Did you have any conversations with Mr. Trump about the decision by Mazars to end the engagement with the Trump Organization?
No, I did not.
Q Did you have any in-person meetings with Mr. Trump about the decision by Mazars to end to the relationship with the Trump Organization?
No, I did not.
MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, we reserve our right to re-direct; or cross, if they go beyond the scope of his testimony. We have no more questions at this time, of Mr. Bender.

D. Bender - Direct by Mr. Wallace Page 270

THE COURT: Mr. Kise, do you want five minutes to cross exam?
MR. KISE: Do we want to -- just, probably better to just take our break.
THE COURT: I thought you would say that. Give me one second.
(Whereupon, there was a pause in the proceedings.)
THE COURT: Okay. We are going to resume at 2:15. Have a good lunch, everybody.
(Whereupon, a recess was taken.)
* * * * * *
THE COURT: Welcome back, everyone.
This morning, one of the defendants posted, to a social media account, a disparaging, untrue and personally identifying post about a member of my staff. lthough I have since order the post deleted, and apparently it was, it was also emailed out to millions of other recipients. Personal attacks on members of my court staff are unacceptable, inappropriate, and I will not tolerate them, under any circumstances. Yesterday, off the record, I warned counsel of this, and this was disregarded. My warning was disregarded.

Consider this statement a gag order forbidding all parties from posting, emailing, or speaking publicly about any members of my staff. ny failure to abide by this directive will result in serious sanctions. I hope I've been very clear.

Okay. Let's get Mr. Bender back.

MR. KISE: While we're waiting, Judge, I'll just observe, this will be better for me because I don't have to stand up and object when there's a document, since it's cross examination.

THE COURT: re we up to cross?

MR. SU REZ: Your Honor, I'll take the opportunity to introduce myself. My name is Jesus Suarez. Thank you for admitting me, pro hac vice. I practice with Mr. Kise, in Florida.

THE COURT: Of course. I remember the application.

MR. SU REZ: I don't speak as nicely as he does.

THE COURT: Well, almost nobody does, so --

MR. SU REZ: Is my mike on? Now my mike is on.

THE COURT: Is he as good in the office as he is in court?

MR. SU REZ: He is certainly as charming in the office as he is in court, but he almost never picks up lunch. I don't know what that's about.

That was a joke. Mr. Kise picks up lunch.

MR. KISE: You are forgetting all the dinners.

THE COURT: They don't laugh at mine, either, so.

(Whereupon, the witness resumed the witness stand.)

THE COURT: I'll remind the witness, as usual, that he is still under oath.

THE WITNESS: Thank you.

THE COURT: Counsel, please proceed.

CROSS EX MIN TION

BY MR. BENDER:

Q Mr. Bender, good afternoon.

Good afternoon.

Q We have met before?

Good afternoon.

THE COURT: That's a question. Have you met before?

Q We have met before. We met in pril of 2023, when I took your deposition on behalf of the defendants. Do you recall, sir?

Yes, sir.

Q Okay. Mr. Bender, you have been up here testifying for the last day about the Statements of Financial Condition of the 45th President of the United States. Is that correct?

Yes, sir.

Q nd Mr. Bender, preparing the president's Statements of Financial Condition, that was a big job; wasn't it, Mr. Bender?

It wasn't a big job. It was part of my normal engagement.

Q Part of your normal engagement, I see. In 2011 alone, the first Statement of Financial Condition that the ttorney General had you talk about, the president had over $258 million in cash, Mr. Bender. You don't think that's a significant engagement?

No, sir.

Q Okay. The president had a company with a brand value of over $10-, maybe even $20 billion, Mr. Bender. That, for you, wasn't a significant engagement?

No, sir.

Q Okay. Now, is that because you were the in-house accountant at the Trump Organization for over 30 years, Mr. Bender?

I wasn't the in-house accountant.

Q Okay. So who was?

The in-house accountant?

Q Yes.

Mr. McConney, Mr. Weisselberg. They were the in-house accountants.

Q Mr. McConney. Mr. McConney worked with you at Spahr

Lacher?

Yes, he did.

Q May have been responsible for giving you the name Doc?

He wasn't, but he kept it going.

Q Did they call you Doc because you were good at documented transactions? That was the Doc?

No.

Q It's a cute nickname.

Was Mr. Weisselberg an accountant?

He was an accountant.

Q Mr. Weisselberg is a CP ?

No. He is not a CP .

Q Mr. McConney is a CP ?

No. Mr. McConney is not a CP .

Q Okay. So who was the in-house accountant at the Trump Organization, Mr. Bender?

Mr. Weisselberg, and his team.

Q ll right. You did work for the Trump Organization for over 35 years; did you not, Mr. Bender?

Excuse me?

Q You did work for the president and his company, the Trump Organization, for over 35 years?

pproximately.

Q pproximately. In fact, you came to work with the Trump Organization through a gentlemen named Mr. Mitnick; didn't you?

Mr. Mitnick was my boss.
Q Mr. Mitnick your boss at Spahr Lacher, where you started; right?
Yes.
Q nd ever since Spahr Lacher, more than 35 years ago, you have been doing work for the Trump Organization; have you not?
Yes, sir.
Q Now, you have been a licensed certified public accountant for over 40 years; have you not, Mr. Bender?
Yes. That would be correct, yes.
Q Over 40 years as a certified public accountant; correct?
Correct, Mr. Bender?
Yes.
Q nd as a certified public accountant, you have got responsibilities to the public; right?
I think that's fair.
Q If you put your signature on a document, that's a document that you know is going to go out to the world; is it not, Mr. Bender?
Not necessarily.
Q ll right. But as a certified public accountant, you are certainly in a position to put together financial statements that go out to the world; right, Mr. Bender?

Out to the world. I think in some cases.
Q In some cases. In some cases. nd in fact, you not only prepared financial statements for the president, you also prepared his tax returns; did you not, Mr. Bender?
Yes, I did.
Q You prepared the tax returns of the 45th President of the United States?
Yes, sir.
Q Possibly even the 47th President of the United States Mr. Bender?
MR. W LL CE: Objection. Relevance.
THE COURT: Sustained.
Q It's a very serious thing, Mr. Bender, to have that responsibility, that level of trust, that you were the person that, for over 35 years, prepared the tax returns?
THE COURT: sked and answered. Let's move on.
Q You also prepared the tax returns of other members of the Trump family; did you not?
Yes, sir.
Q For over 35 years; did you not?
No, sir.
Q For more than 30 years?
No, sir.
Q For more than 20 years?

I can't answer that.
Q You can't answer that. You can't remember the time when you started preparing tax returns for the first lady?
The first lady?
Q The First Lady of United States, Ms. Trump?
When they got married.
Q Oh, okay. When they got married.
nd how about other members of the Trump family? Do you remember when you started preparing their tax returns?
Not off the top of my head, no.
Q Did anyone other than you prepare President Trump's tax returns in the last 30 years, Mr. Bender?
I'm not sure. I prepared them for 30 years. I would have to go back.
Q Do you have any issues with your memory, Mr. Bender?
No, sir.
Q You also prepared tax returns for other entities that are ultimately owned by President Trump; did you not?
Yes, sir.
Q Dozens of entities?
More than that.
Q More than that. How many more than that, Mr. Bender?
In a year, it could have been hundreds.
Q Hundreds. You prepared tax returns for hundreds of entities ultimately owned by Mr. Trump; did you not?

Yes, sir.
Q nd in fact, you testified at your deposition, the last time we met, that many of those flowed up into President Trump's tax returns; did you not?
Yes -- did I testify to that? I don't know if I testified to that.
Q Well, we can play the tape in a little while.
nd isn't it the case, Mr. Bender, that you were a trusted adviser to the Trump Organization?
I think that I was a trusted adviser. I would hope so.
Q That they consulted you whenever they opened a new entity?
They did consult me quite often.
Q How often is quite often, Mr. Bender.
They would usually check to see what type of entity it should be, a partnership or a corporation.
Q So they frequently consulted with you when they created a new entity?
In that regard, yes.
Q nd they frequently consulted with you as to where to put that entity in the corporate structure of the company; correct?
Yes, sir.
Q nd they also consulted with you, for example, to file

D. Bender - Cross by Mr. Suarez Page 279

a new entity's tax documents, to get their EIN; right?
No, sir.
Q You didn't pull the EIN numbers for new entities that were created by the Trump Organization?
Not the last 15 years or --
Q 18 years?
No.
Q Was it other members of your firm that pulled --
No. The Trump Organization --
MR. W LL CE: Can I just get an objection, your Honor? If Mr. Suarez can please let the witness finish his answer, before he starts asking his next question?
THE COURT: One at a time.
MR. SU REZ: Okay. Yes, your Honor.
The Trump Organization has been getting their own EIN numbers for a significant period of time.
Q But before that, you pulled them, or someone working at your direction?
I may not have been at that level yet. It may not have been under my supervision.
Q Now, the Trump Organization was with you as a client when you were at Spahr Lacher; is that correct.
Yes, sir.
Q nd they were with you when you moved over to the Weiser's firm; is that not correct?

D. Bender - Cross by Mr. Suarez Page 280

Yes, sir.
Q nd in fact, President Trump and the Trump Organization were loyal clients of yours; were they not?
I hope so.
Q In fact, they were so loyal to you, Mr. Bender, that in 2004, when the Securities and Exchange Commission censured Weiser, the Trump Organization let you keep their business; did they not?
I have no knowledge about that.
Q You have no knowledge of the Securities and Exchange Commission censuring Weiser in 2004?
I know there was something at one point. I don't remember when it was.
Q Do you recall that the SEC called Weiser's conduct highly unreasonable?
I have no knowledge of that.
Q Do you recall if the SEC called Weiser's conduct improper professional conduct?
I have no knowledge of that.
Q Do you recall if a gentlemen named Victor Wahba, at the time when he was at Weiser's, was also censured by the SEC?
I don't remember exactly.
Q Who is Victor Wahba?
He is the Chairman of Mazars.
Q Mazars?

D. Bender - Cross by Mr. Suarez Page 281

Yes. Mazars U.S. .
Q nd that's the accounting firm that you retired from recently; correct?
Yes, sir.
Q Okay. nd you later became a partner at Mazars; did you not?
When the firm merged in. Yes, I did.
Q nd the Trump Organization and President Trump had confidence in you to continue handling their business; did they not?
When we merged?
Q Yes.
I was not a partner in Mazars at that point.
Q When President Trump's business went to Mazars, you were no longer the partner in charge of his business?
Say that again?
Q When President Trump transferred his business to the Mazars firm, you were no longer the partner in charge of his business?
I was not the partner in charge at the time of the merger, no.
Q Who was the partner in charge?
Jerry Rosenblum.
Q Mr. Wilson was the partner in charge of the relationship with the Trump Organization?

D. Bender - Cross by Mr. Suarez Page 282

Rosenblum.
Q Rosenblum?
Yes.
Q Okay.
May he rest in piece.
THE COURT: I don't know how we got from Wilson to Rosenblum.
MR. SU REZ: My hearing.
Q When Weiser merged into Mazars, you continued to handle work for the Trump Organization; did you not?
I continued to be on the account, yes.
Q Okay. nd as you testified today and yesterday, you were one of the parties that signed the Statements of Financial Condition compilation reports every year; were you not?
For a number of years, yes.
Q Okay. ccording to your testimony from at least 2011 to 2020, was that not the case?
Yes. That's the case.
Q nd during that period of time, President Trump's business was at least half of your billable work at the firm; was it not?
Close to it, I would say.
Q Close to it. He was your single biggest client, in fact?
Yes.

D. Bender - Cross by Mr. Suarez Page 283

Q nd companies controlled by Mr. Trump were your single biggest client?
Yes.
Q nd the Trump Organization and President Trump, they paid you a lot of money; didn't they, Mr. Bender?
It was a significant amount.
Q In some years it was more than a million dollars?
Yes.
Q In some years it was more than $2 million?
I can't specifically allocate it, but it's possible.
Q In fact, in 2015, the Trump Organization and related entities paid Mazars over $2.1 million; did they not?
I don't know, off the top of my head.

D. Bender - Defendant/Suarez Page 284

Q In 2016, they paid Mazars over a million and a half dollars; did they not?
I couldn't tell you.
Q Could you tell me, off the top of your head, if in 2017 the Trump Organization paid Mazars more than $1.7 million?
No, I could not.
Q Does that figure seem right?
I couldn't answer it off the top of my head.
Q In 2018 are you aware the Trump Organization paid Mazars over $1.6 million?
I counts answer that.
Q In 2019 the last year you signed the compilation report, the Trump Organization paid Mazars more than $2.4 million?
I don't think 2019 was the last compilation report but I could be wrong.
Q In fact in 2019, they paid you more than 72 percent of the fees that you originated that year at Mazars?
I couldn't answer that.
Q In all that time, Mr. Bender, I trust that you followed your professional responsibilities as a CP when you performed work for the President; did you not?
Yes, sir.
Q nd in all that time, I can assume, Mr. Bender, that you adhered to the professional standards promulgated by the merican Institute of Certified Public ccountants when you did your work, Mr. Bender; is that not correct?

D. Bender - Defendant/Suarez Page 285

I tried.
Q s a matter of fact, you were familiar with those standards when you prepared the compilation reports, the Statements of Financial Condition; were you not?
No.
Q Why wasn't the case then, Mr. Bender, that when I asked you whether the Statements of Financial Condition were prepared in accordance with SC 274 and I asked you what SC 274 was, you said, not off the top of my head?
MR. W LL CE: Objection.
THE COURT: Can I have a read back? It was sort of a compound question. Read back?
MR. SU REZ: I can withdraw.
Q The accounting-- excuse me. The compilations for the Statements of Financial Condition were prepared in accordance with SC 274; were they not.
Yes, they were.
Q You're familiar with SC 274, correct?
I'm not an expert on it. I have some general knowledge.
Q You have some general knowledge of SC 274; is that correct?

D. Bender - Defendant/Suarez Page 286

Yes.
Q But you're not an expert?
I'm lucky enough to be in a firm where the guy next door to me was an expert on this stuff. So, I had a lot of subject matter specialists. We were a large firm and I could always pull resources when needed.
Q Did you, in fact, pull resources when you were working on the President's Statement of Financial Condition?
When needed, yes.
Q Did you conduct-- excuse me. Did you consult with subject matter experts?
I consulted with quality control or subject matter specialists when I felt I needed help, yes.
Q What was the name of the person that you consulted with in connection with preparing the President's Statements of Financial Condition?
It would be different people in different years.
Q Okay. Who did you consult within 2020?
I couldn't answer that off the top of my head.
Q Who did you consult with in 2019?
I couldn't answer that.
Q Who did you consult with in 2017?
It would be-- these people were the quality control people assigned to the engagement.
Q What were their names?

I'd have to check the-- each individual year.
Q You can't answer the question?
For any individual year, no, I can't.
Q Who did you consult with in 2016?
Off the top of my head, I couldn't answer that question.
Q Who did you consult with in 2015?
Without my work papers, I couldn't answer that.
Q Who did you consult with in 2014?
I couldn't answer that off the top of my head.
Q Who did you consult with in 2013?
I can't answer that off the top of my head.
Q Who did you consult with in 2013?
I can't answer that off the top of my head.
Q Who did you consult with in 2011?
I can't say that off the top of my head.
Q When you were preparing the-- excuse me. When you were preparing a compilation report for the Statements of Financial Condition for the President of the United States of merica, you can't remember who you consulted with in preparing that compilation report?
That's why binders have sign-off. If I save the sign-off, I can see who the QC person was in any of the reports we prepared.
Q How many compilation reports for Statement of Financial Condition did you prepare in 2017?

I couldn't answer that off the top of my head.
Q Did you prepare a compilation report for a Statement of Financial Condition for any one other than President Trump in 2017?
I don't know, off the top of my head.
Q Did you prepare a compilation report for anyone other than President Trump for a Statements of Financial Condition in 2018?
I couldn't answer that off the top of my head.
Q Did you prepare a compilation report to a Statement of Financial Condition for anyone other than President Trump in 2019?
I couldn't answer that off the top of my head.
Q Did you prepare a compilation report for anyone other than President Trump for a Statement of Financial Condition in 2020?
I couldn't answer that off the top of my head.
Q In 2020, when President Trump was the leader of the free world and you were preparing the compilation report to his Statement of Financial Condition, you can't remember who you spoke with, or if you prepared a Statements of Financial Condition compilation report for anyone else? That's correct?
No. 2020 is that the last compilation report we did?

Q I don't know, Mr. Bender. You did the compilation report.
I need to confirm that would be the last one.
Q Okay. In 2021, did you compile the President's Statement of Financial Condition in 2021?
I do not believe so. I wouldn't know who we consulted with in 2020.
Q In 2020, when you prepared President Trump's Statement of Financial Condition or-- excuse me. The compilation report to President Trump's Statement of Financial Condition, what authoritative literature did you review?
I know we had the subject matter specialist and we discussed the -- any issues that were out there.
Q My question was a little bit different. My question was: What literature did you review, in connection with preparing the compilation report to the Statement of Financial Condition, for the leader of the free world?
We have required check lists and I went through the required check lists that's required by Mazars.
Q Did you check any ICP guidelines?
I do not recall.
Q Did you check any notes or commentary for the accounting standards?
I do not recall.
Q Did you read any literature concerning the applicable accounting standards?

I'm sure I did but I don't recall.
Q During all this time, you held yourself out to President Trump as someone who could ably compile the Statement of Financial Condition?
Yes, sir.
Q Was that an accurate representation you made?
bsolutely.
Q Despite the fact that you just hold yourself out as a generalist?
s I said before, I had a lot of resources in the firm. partner who I worked with wrote SS RS 1 and 2. He wrote SS RS. He was in an office next store to me and always available to me.
Q What is his name?
ndrew Cohen.
Q Did you consult, in connection with preparing the compilation report for the President's Statement of Financial Condition in 2020?
Yes, I did.
Q What did you consult him about?
He was involved in the numerous aspects of the compilation.
Q Which ones?
Which topics?

Q Yes.
Off the top of my head, he was involved with the valuation of the property of 57th Street.
Q What was he valuating?
He was involved with the method of discussions with the clients.
Q Excuse me?
He was involved with discussions with clients on the method of valuation.
Q What was discussed?
t that point, the Nike lease was not renewed and they were valuing it as being renewed and there were discussions.
Q How was that documented?
I don't know if it was specifically documented.
Q nything else?
There were other things, but, I can't recall.
Q How about in 2019?
I can't tell you who I spoke to in 2019.
Q I think earlier you told me you were consulted regularly by members of the Trump Organization and financial accounting members; is that not the case?
They would call me with their questions.
Q When they called you with questions, I presume you provided answers?

Or I'd bring somebody in to help me when I couldn't
Q Who did you bring in to help you?
Numerous people over the years.
Q Who?
I can give you 20 or 30 names.
Q Give me one.
ndy Cohen.
Q What did you bring him in on?
He would discuss financial statement matters with me and them.
Q ndy Cohen would discuss with you matters relating to President Trump's Statement of Financial Condition; is that correct?
From time to time.
Q How often?
I couldn't answer that off the top of my head.
Q When The Trump Organization called and they had questions about accounting transactions, you'd answer them, correct?
If I could.
Q nd, in fact, many times they consulted you before even engaging in transactions; did they not?
Sometimes.
Q They would run transactions by you and ask you to help them understand certain loan terms?

I don't know about that.
Q They would give you an opportunity to review loan agreements before they entered into them?
Many years ago, they might have. Certain paragraphs.
Q Certain paragraphs?
Yes.
Q They wouldn't send you loan agreements and ask you, hey, Mr. Bender, can you review these for us and let us know if this is something we can enter into?
I don't think they sent full agreements. I do remember them sending certain paragraphs from time to time.
Q Do you remember reviewing loan agreements and seeing whether the Trump Organization could comply with certain covenants?
Reviewing them before the loan documents were signed?
Q Yes.
I do not recall at this moment.
Q Can you recall reviewing loan agreements after they were entered into and giving advice as to whether certain loan covenants could be complied with?
I don't think they advised. They did, sometimes as an order, get a loan covenant.
Q Provide calculations?

I don't know if we provided the calculations or they provided the calculations, but, we had discussions at certain times.
Q So, they could have provided the calculations, if you told them it was correct or not?
No, we would have audited.
Q So, you did audit work for the Trump Organization?
I did for a number of entities.
Q For which entries did you perform audit work for the Trump Organization, Mr. Bender?
It varied over the years, but, it would have included Trump Tower Commercial, or its predecessor. In early years, Trump Fifth venue. It would have been 40 Wall Street, LLC for certain years, not all years.
Let's take that back. There was certiorari work also and it would have been 57th Street Management for a number of years. I'm sorry. 57th Street ssociates LLC.
There would have been, I think, a couple of years, 41 Wabash-- 401 and there might have been certiorari work of certain properties, audit of certiorari work. I couldn't tell you which companies, off the top of my head.
Q In fact, you did audit work for Trump Post Office, LLC --
Yes, I did.
Q --a defendant in this case. You performed audits of another defendant in this case, 40 Wall Street, LLC; did you not?

Certain years yes.
Q In other years, you performed reviews?
Yes, sir.
Q You performed compilations. Is that the case?
To the best of my recollection, we did some compilations of operating escalations.
Q You performed audits for the Trump International Hotel and Tower, LLC; is that not the case?
Trump International Hotel and Tower, LLC?
Q TIHT?
Okay. Okay, that's different. Yes.
Q You're familiar with the acronym?
Excuse me?
Q You're familiar with the acronym?
Yes.
Q You performed audits of 57th Street ssociates, LLC?
For a number of years.
Q You performed both audits and compilations of another defendant in this case 401 North Wabash, LLC?
Yes, we did.
Q You also performed compilations for another defendant in this case, Trump Endeavor 12, LLC; did you not?
Yes.

Q What did Trump Endeavor, LLC own?
The Doral Hotel and Golf Course in Florida.
Q Mr. Bender, you frequently visited the Trump Organization properties?
Pre-COVID, a few times a year.
Q Pre-COVID?
Yes.
Q Those are the suite of offices at Trump Tower on Fifth venue; is that correct?
Yes.
Q Did you visit any other Trump properties over the years?
Yes.
Q Which ones?
I went once to Trump Chicago for a tax exam. I went to -- what else? I went to Trump National Golf Course. That was for charity events. I went to Lamington Farms a couple of times for a tax-- a sales tax exam. I went to Trump International Hotel and Tower ssociation. I was on site there.
I guess you could say I was at the Nike building because it's connected to Trump Tower. I was at Old Post Office a number of times. That's all I can think of off the top of my head.
Q ny other properties you can recall visiting?

That's all I can recall right this second.
Q What was the purpose of visiting these properties?
Sometimes I did work. Sometimes I did Post Office. I stayed there. I was there for the opening of Old Post Office.
Q Old Post Office is the hotel on Pennsylvania venue?
Yes, sir.
Q You were there on the opening of the Old Post Office Hotel on Pennsylvania venue?
Yes.
Q For what purpose were you there?
The Trump Organization invited me to go.
Q You were a guest of the Trump Organization?
For that night, yes.
Q In fact, you enjoyed a very close working relationship with the Trump Organization; did you not?
Close? We got along.
Q You got along. Who were your principal points of contact? Were they not Jeff McConney and llen Weisselberg?
I'd say more Jeff than llen.
Q What is Mr. McConney's title?
It changed over the years. I believe, originally he was assistant comptroller then he became comptroller then he hit different levels of vice president. I don't know what was the prefix to his vice president was.

Q You and Mr. McConney were close friends at one point; were you not?
We didn't have a relationship outside of work but we got along well.
Q You got along well?
I had tremendous respect for him. He is a very good accountant.
Q Mr. McConney went to your wedding?
Yes, he did.
Q How many people were at the wedding?
Eighty-five
Q Mr. McConney was one of 85 people at your wedding. You went to Mr. McConney's son's bris; did you not?
When he was at Spahr Lacher, yes.
Q How many people were at Mr. McConney's son's bris?
I couldn't answer that.
Q Okay. In fact, you enjoyed socializing with members of the Trump Organization whenever you got the chance, Mr. Bender; did you not?
I didn't really socialize too often, no.
Q Did you go to President Trump's wedding, Mr. Bender?
Yes.
Q You weren't a stranger to the Trump Organization, were you?
No, sir.

Q In fact, you were also invited to the Inaugural; were you not?
I was invited after it was too late. They missed me. So, I was invited, so I couldn't-- I was not on the original list. I wasn't on the original list at the wedding. They missed me at the wedding. It was last minute.
Gerry Rosenblum, the predecessor partner, mentioned it to them. So, I was invited last minute to the wedding also.
MR. KISE: Can we ask the witness-- because I'm having a hard time hearing as well -- -maybe to just speak a little closer to the microphone, please.
THE COURT: Consider yourself so asked.
THE WITNESS: Thank you.
THE COURT: Being close to the microphone is really crucial and keeping your voice up.
Q The Trump Organization was always happy to accommodate you; was it not, Mr. Bender?
What do you mean by accommodate?
Q If you needed information, they provided it to you?
Until the end, yes.
Q If you needed to speak with people, they'd make them available?
Yes.
Q If you came over to the offices, they'd give you a room to sit in?

There was a conference room, usually.
Q They'd provide you laptops so you can go on and review whatever it was you needed to review?
Certain members of my team were able to review information, for a few years, on laptops.
Q You were familiar with all the folks at the legal and accounting department of the Trump Organization?
Significant portion, yes.
Q The People at the Trump Organization trusted you'd give them good advice; did they not?
You'd have to ask them, but I'd hope so.
Q You'd hope so. In fact, you were often provided with an ability to give input on loan transactions even before they took place?
That I don't recall right now, other than seeing some loan documents, certain pages of loan documents, as we previously stated.
Q Did you always read everything the folks over at the Trump Organization sent you?
Everything the Trump Organization sent me, no.
Q In connection with preparing tax returns, you had access to ledgers, I trust?
The Trump Organization supplied us with general ledgers.

Q You were supplied general ledgers for each entity you were tasked with preparing taxes for?
Not each entity had a general ledger.
Q To the extent, certainly, that an entity had a general ledger, it was provided for you in connection with preparing tax returns?
Yes, sir.
Q Because you need a general ledger to prepare a tax return; do you not?
I think if the company has a general ledger, generally, you need a general ledger to prepare a tax return.
Q In the last 25 years that you worked with the Trump Organization, there wasn't any other accounting firm that was involved with preparing a Statement of Financial Condition compilation report, was there?
There was. I don't know what year it was but rthur nderson was doing it for a number of years. I couldn't tell you what year.
Q Certainly, not between 2011 and 2020, right, Mr. Bender?
No, sir.
Q During that period of time, was there any other accounting firm that worked with you on preparing President Trump's tax returns?
There were other firms that did tax returns for

Mr. Trump.
Q Which firms were those?
McGladry or whatever they were called after they merged. There was a firm in California called Ludlow. Something like that. I don't know. firm that did-- DH Properties Corp. in California. They had a number of firms that did golf courses over a number of years before we took them over.
lot of them were McGladry over the years before we took them over and McGladry continued to do Mar-a-Lago. There was a gentleman who did some returns over the years, Matthew Dapolito and, obviously, some of the larger companies in the olden days. I don't remember timeframe. rthur nderson did some returns, and, Ian Wise did returns in the old days.
Q From 2011 to 2020, did anyone, other than Mazars, prepare President Trump's tax returns?
Entity returns?
Q President Trump's tax returns?
His personal returns?
Q His personal returns.
No. His personal income tax returns were prepared by Mazars or its predecessor.
Q They were prepared by you at Mazars?
2020 yes, sir.

Q They weren't prepared by anyone else?
They were prepared-- I was the paid preparer.
Q Paid preparer means you're the one that appears on the tax return?
I sign it. I signed the returns.
Q Certainly, in order to sign the tax returns of an individual in 2011 who had $258 million in cash, you had to become intimately familiar with his financial condition; did you not?
I understood the corporate entity structure of the Trump Organization to a very strong extent.
Q You were familiar with its operations?
To a significant extent.
Q nd you were familiar with the properties that President Trump owned through a number of different entities; were you not?
Most of them, yes.

Q You understood what 40 Wall Street was; correct?
Yes, sir.
Q nd Trump Old Post Office; correct?
Yes.
Q nd Trump Tower; correct?
If you are talking about Trump Tower Commercial, yes.
Q nd the Doral resort in Miami?
I had less of a knowledge of that property, but I knew what it did.
Q You generally understood that it was more than one square mile in the middle of downtown Miami; correct?
I didn't know the size of it.
Q Have you ever been to the Trump Doral?
No, sir.
Q Did you do anything to become familiar the Trump Doral, in preparation to preparing your compilation report?
I was involved in the earlier years, and later years, the other partners took over.
Q What partners took over, in the later years?
Jennifer Safran.
Q nd when was that?
I would have to guess. I'm not exactly sure.
Q Mr. Bender, would it surprise you that you participated in over 115 test engagements for the Trump Organization?

In what period?
Q In your career, Mr. Bender.
115? No that would not surprise me.
Q Would it surprise you if it was higher?
No. It would not surprise me.
Q Would it surprise you if there were over 11,000 discrete engagements, over the broad number of entities, in the time that you worked with the Trump Organization, that you were a party to?
It might be high. I don't know. That might surprise me.
Q It might be high?
Yes.
Q But it doesn't sound like it's too many; does it?
I can't answer that.
Q Does that sound too high?
I can't answer if that --
Q It might have been 10,000?
I can't answer that.
Q 9,000?
I couldn't quantify it.
Q You couldn't quantify it. You did so many engagements for the Trump Organization for the 30- plus years that you worked for them, that you couldn't even quantify it.
I just don't remember how many engagements were around, in the earlier years.

Q Do you have any other clients you did that many engagements for?
No, sir.
Q Did you ever work with any other individuals that possessed President Trump's net wealth -- net worth?
I don't know if some clients what -- I don't know what my other clients' net worth is.
Q You don't know what your other client's net worth is?
Yes.
MR. SU REZ: Let's take a look at the Statement of Financial Condition, previously marked PX 756.
(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)
Q You previously identified this as President Trump's Statement of Financial Condition for the year ending June 30, 2016?
The compilation. Yes, sir.
MR. SU REZ: nd can we please turn to the next page?
Q This is your independent accountant compilation report; is it not?
Yes, sir.
Q nd see, down there, where it says, Mazars US , LLP? That's your signature?

That is either my signature, or an electronic copy thereof.
Q Okay. nd that's your letterhead down there, Mazars US , 60 Crossways Park Drive, in Woodbury, New York?
Yes.
MR. SU REZ: Can we turn to the next page of this document? I think we skipped one. Come back. Next page.
Q ll right. The first page is the cover, then you have your independent accountant's compilation report. Is that correct?
Yes, sir.
MR. SU REZ: nd then, turn it over.
Q You have got the Statement of Financial Condition of Donald J. Trump.
That's the asset page.
Q nd then there's reference there to the independent accountant's compilation report. Do you see that?
Yes, sir.
Q ll right. nd then, in the bottom it says, "The accompanying notes are an integral part of this financial statement."
Yes, sir.
MR. SU REZ: Turn it over. Next page, please.
Q Then the following sheet are the liabilities and net worth. Do you see that?

Yes, sir.
Q nd you see there it says that there's a loan related to 40 Wall Street; do you not?
Yes, sir.
Q You see it?
Yes, sir.
Q nd there's a loan related to Trump Park venue?
Yes, sir.
Q nd then there are other loans there related to the Trump International Hotel and Tower, and the Old Post Office?
Yes, sir.
Q In preparing the Statement of Financial Condition, you would have done work to familiarize yourself with the loans that are on this document?
The Trump Organization would have supplied us a loan statement for those individual loans, in most years.
Q loan statement. nd what would that loan statement contain, Mr. Bender?
The loan balance as of the date of the --
Q Okay --
MR. SU REZ: Let's zoom back out, and keep going.
Q nd here it's got the notes for the Statement of Financial Condition, and again, a reference to the independent accountant's compilation report. That's your report; correct, Mr. Bender?

Yes, sir.
MR. SU REZ: Now, keep going all the way to the end of the document. This is the second to last page. Flip it over. Keep going, to the end of the document.
Q nd this would be the back page of the document; correct?
That would be the back cover.
Q The back cover of this document. So, this document would be presented from front cover to back cover?
Yes.
Q nd the back cover, it's got -- what does it say down there? Www.weisermazers.com?
Yes, sir.
Q So it's presented as a single document with the front and the back page?
So, I can't speak for this individual year. In the older days, they were bound statements, and they would be bound. There would be a cover and a cover, and there would be the white pages that you have just shown me, would be in between. In later years, I don't know. In 2016, they may only have been PDF-ed.
Q Now, so this would all be bound, in other words? In the earlier years.
Q nd in the later years, when it was an electronic document like this one that you identified previously, it would start with the WeiserMazars logo on its front page, it would have your compliation report, it would go through the financial statement and the notes, and then it would have this page; correct.

I can't speak to the fact that they might have gotten hard copies in those years.
Q But the digital copy -- you would agree with me that this is a true and correct copy of the documents; correct? I think that's what you testified to earlier?
Yes.
Q Yes it starts with a Mazars page, and ends with a Mazars page?
Starts with a cover, the bound the cover. The cover, the statement, and it ends with a cover of the statement.
Q The documents all travel together. ll the pages in this document travel together.
Yes.
Q Nothing is missing?
No, sir.
Q Let's take a look at engagement letter for this Statement of Financial Condition, which was PX 74 -- excuse me. PX 740. Yes.
MR. SU REZ: Can we put those up next to each other?
(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

Q Who drafted this engagement letter?
member of -- some staff member at Mazars.
Q staff member at Mazars, working at your direction?
I was the ultimate person responsible.
Q You signed the statement, not a staff member at Mazars; right?
That's correct.
Q The compilation report, you prepared it?
I did not prepare it. It was a compilation. Mazars compiled it.
Q You compiled the compilation report. You wrote the compilation report, and you signed it?
I did not write the compilation report. I signed the compilation report.
Q Who wrote the compilation report?
I couldn't tell you who wrote it that year. It could have come from the client. Even they may have marked it up. I couldn't answer that, right now.
Q Let's take those two statements that you just made apart. It could have come from the client?
We would have written a compilation report. I don't know if they sent us a copy of it, also.
Q So who wrote the compilation report? Was it you or the client?

Mazars wrote the compilation report.
Q Mazars wrote the compilation report, but who is the human being at Mazars responsible for writing the compilation report on June 30, 2016?
I had the ultimate responsibility.
Q You had the ultimate responsibility. nd how about in connection with the engagement letter? It might have been prepared by one of your staff members, but you had the ultimate responsibility for preparing that engagement letter; correct?
Yes. Yes, sir.
Q Okay. nd let's take a look at that engagement letter. That engagement letter says, in the second page, right there in the middle of the second page it says, "Our report will include the following. Because of the significance and pervasiveness of the matters discussed above --"
Excuse me. Let me repeat that.
"Because the significance and pervasiveness of the matters discussed above make it difficult to assess their impact on the Statements of Financial Condition, users of this personal financial statement should recognize that they might reach different conclusions about the financial condition of Donald J. Trump if they had access to a revised Statement of Financial Condition prepared in conformity with the accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of merica."
Do you see that?

Yes, sir. I do.
Q Who wrote those words?
I was responsible for them being, in 2017.
Q You prepared that engagement letter?
Yes.
Q Before you even started compiling the compilation report, producing the compilation report, you had already determined that this disclaimer would be there; had you not?
Yes, we had.
Q Okay. So before you got the first bit of information in connection with the June, 2016 compilation report in the Statement of Financial Condition, you had already decided to put in there a statement that the financial statement should not be relied on in accordance with that disclosure statement; had you not?
MR. W LL CE: Objection.
THE COURT: What's the ground of the objection?
MR. W LL CE: I don't think he has accurately stated what's on the screen.
THE COURT: Do you want to try to rephrase it, just to be exactly congruent with what's on the screen?
Q Before you even began working on the engagement, you had already determined that the compilation report had to include that disclaimer?
Due to the fact that the top paragraph had so many

G. . .P. exceptions, we had determined that we would need to put that paragraph.
Q Due to the fact that it had so many G. . .P. exceptions. Let's talk about the G. . .P. exceptions. You just described them as, so many G. . .P. exceptions. Is the Trump Organization required to comply with G. . .P.?
Even the G. . .P. exceptions aren't complying with G. . .P. You are notifying them. So, everybody is required, to a certain extent, to comply with G. . .P.
Q That wasn't my question, Mr. Bender. My question was, is there anything that required the Trump Organization to maintain their books in accordance with G. . .P., as a private company?
To maintain their books as a private company?
Q G. . .P.
No.
Q private company doesn't have to follow G. . .P.; correct?
THE COURT: It probably depends on -- and I'm not an accountant -- what they're using it for. If they are using it for external reasons, or internal reasons. So, I'm just asking you to be more specific.
MR. SU REZ: I will be mindful of that.
Q But there's nothing that requires a private company to follow G. . .P.?

No. private company is not required to follow G. . .P.

Q private company is not required to follow G. . .P., but it can choose to; correct?

Yes.

Q Let's go to the statement above. " ccounting principles generally accepted in the United States of merica require that personal financial statements include a provision for current income taxes, as well as estimated income taxes, on the differences between estimated current values --"

Excuse me. Let me start that again.

" ccounting principles generally accepted in the United States of merica require that personal financial statements include a provision for current income taxes, as well as estimated income taxes, on the difference between estimated current values of assets, and the estimated current amounts of liabilities, and their tax bases, present cash, marketable securities, and hedge funds, separately, include amounts to be received in the future from estimated current values that are non-forfeitable, fixed and determinate, and do not require any future services.

"Record the net --"

Excuse me.

"Record the current estimated value of all closely-held and other business entities, as a net investment," open parentheses, "assets net of liabilities, and disclose summarized financial information about each entity. Record non-interest-bearing deposits in exchange for rights or privileges, and include all assets and liabilities of the individual whose financial statements are presented."

I think I roughly got that right.

I think you did, too.

Q Okay. Thank you.

"The accompanying Statement of Financial Condition does not reflect the above-noted items. The affects of these departures from accounting principles, generally accepted in the United States of merica, have not been determined."

Correct?

Yes, sir. That's what it says.

Q ll right. So, in the first paragraph, you have identified about a half a dozen ways in which these Statements of Financial Condition do not comport to G. . .P.; correct?

Yes, sir.

Q Who made the determination as to which departures from G. . .P. were applicable?

The Trump Organization.

Q Who, at the Trump Organization, made that determination?

Mr. Weisselberg, when he signed the engagement letter.

Q Mr. Weisselberg is not a CP ; is he?

No, he is not.

Q Mr. McConney is not a CP ; is he?

No, he is not.

Q How would Mr. Weisselberg and Mr. McConney know what G. . .P. exceptions should have been disclosed or not disclosed in a Statement of Financial Condition?

Mr. Weisselberg did not want these amounts included in the financial statement, and there would have to be a G. . .P. exception. Jeff McConney, as you said earlier, was a practicing accountant at our predecessor firm. Very experienced, and he, as I have said many times, he is one the best accountants I ever met.

Q But you are the certified public accountant, Mr. Bender?

Yes, sir.

Q You are the one that the Trump Organization turned to to determine what was a G. . .P. exception and what wasn't; weren't you?

No. They knew what they were signing, when they signed their engagement letter.

Q Okay. The engagement letter that you prepared, that you drafted?

Yes.

Q Okay. They knew what they were signing. nd who advised them as to what they were signing on this engagement letter, as it related to departures from G. . .P.?

They read their engagement letters, and they came to us with questions, if they had questions.

Q They had questions. nd did you tell them that there were other G. . .P. exceptions that weren't disclosed in this statement?

Not that I recall, at this moment.

Q You were aware, with the financial statements of the Trump Organization; were you not?

Yes, sir.

Q Okay. nd you were very familiar with the books and records. You prepared tax return for hundreds of entities; did you not?

Yes, I was.

Q You closed their ledgers every year; did you not?

I gave them trial balances. I did not close their books.

Q You were paid over a million dollars a year from the period of 2011 to 2020, and in some instances more than $2 million a year to provide accounting services for the Trump Organization?

That sounds possible.

Q That sounds possible. nd you were the only certified public accountant that was involved in any of this; were you not, Mr. Bender?

D. Bender - Cross by Mr. Suarez Page 319

MR. W LL CE: Objection, your Honor. " ny of this," is unclear.
THE COURT: Thank you.
Sustained.
Q You were the only certified public accountant that was involved in determining which exceptions to G. . .P. existed.
MR. W LL CE: Objection, your Honor. That wasn't his testimony.
THE COURT: I'm sorry. Say again?
MR. W LL CE: I'm saying that determining which exceptions to G. . .P. existed was not Mr. Bender's testimony.
Q You were the only certified public accountant that was involved in 2016 in connection with the presentation of this engagement letter in determining which exceptions to G. . .P. existed?
MR. W LL CE: Same objection.
THE COURT: Overruled.
I did not determine the G. . .P. exceptions. The Trump Organizations determined the G. . .P. --
Q The Trump Organization determined the G. . .P. exceptions, is your testimony, Mr. Bender?
Yes.
Q Mr. Weisselberg? Is he the one who determined the G. . .P. exceptions?

D. Bender - Cross by Mr. Suarez Page 320

He is the ultimate one responsible.
Q Not my question. I didn't ask who is responsible. I asked who determined what G. . .P. exceptions applied?
The Trump Organization.
Q What individual? The Trump Organization, we agree, is a corporate entity. It doesn't make determinations. It acts through people; right?
Excuse me?
Q Trump Organization acts through people. Companies don't make decisions.
THE COURT: I'll take judicial notice that corporations and businesses generally have to act through their personnel.
Q So, who was the person at the Trump Organization that determined what departures from G. . .P. were appropriate to list in the Statements of Financial Condition?
Ultimately, Mr. Weisselberg.
Q Ultimately, Mr. Weisselberg. nd who did Mr. Weisselberg consult with?
You would have to ask him that.
Q Did Mr. Weisselberg consult with you?
On certain G. . .P. exceptions, he might have.
Q Because you were a CP ?
You would have to ask him. That's the reason he consulted with me.

D. Bender - Cross by Mr. Suarez Page 321

Q You are a CP ?
Yes, sir.
Q You were a CP when you prepared this?
Yes, sir.
Q Mr. Weisselberg was not a CP ?
No, sir.
Q So, when you and Mr. Weisselberg had a discussion about what departures from G. . .P. existed, you had the knowledge of a certified public accountant that Mr. Weisselberg did not?
He had the knowledge of speaking to us, if he had any questions.
Q nd did you ever advise Mr. Weisselberg that there were any other disclosure that should have been included as departures from G. . .P.?
Some of these ones, we did suggest to him.
Q You did? Which ones?
We had discussions on, as I think I stated yesterday, about the G. . .P. exception for cash and marketable securities. When he made that change to the financial statement, we agreed it would have to be a G. . .P. exception.
Q You agreed that it was a G. . .P. exception?
Yes, I did.
Q You recommended that it should be a G. . .P. exception?

D. Bender - Cross by Mr. Suarez Page 322

I don't know if we recommended it. It could have been prepared, they prepared the statement without a G. . .P. exception.
Q It was changed to your satisfaction; was it not?
The -- what was changed to my satisfaction?
Q The manner in which they presented it.
With the G. . .P. exception, it met the -- it was appropriate.
Q So, you suggested, to Mr. Weisselberg, a G. . .P. exception, and it was accepted, and it was incorporated in the Statement of Financial Conditions?
That's not what I'm saying. I'm saying, based on discussions we would have had with them, we told them we agreed that this G. . .P. exception would be required, if they wanted the financial statement presented the way they had drafted it.
Q nd they agreed?
They agreed.
Q On your advice?
Not on our advice.
Q Not your advice.
They --
Q -- independently, that's your testimony?
They determined that.
Q Okay.
They drafted the financial statement, and one of those

D. Bender - Cross by Mr. Suarez Page 323

wanted at the time -- there was a discussion --
MR. W LL CE: I would just like to note my objection, that if he could let the witness answer the questions before he starts the next question, we would appreciate it.
THE COURT: That is the proper way to proceed.
MR. SU REZ: I will try. I will do.
Q In fact, when you suggested other changes to the Trump Organization, when you had discussions about things that you believed were appropriate, they generally heeded your advice?
I didn't suggest changes, but there was one other change that they -- they wanted -- they did, in the preparation of their financial statements that I recall, that would have required a G. . .P. exception, and there was a discussion about it.
Q There was a discussion about it?
Yes.
Q So, when you raised an issue with the Trump Organization's compliance with G. . .P., there was a discussion about it?
We talked to them about the G. . .P. exception. Yes, sir.
Q nd it was resolved to your satisfaction?
It was resolved to my satisfaction.
Q In fact, I believe yesterday you testified that whenever you resolved a G. . .P. exception, whenever you raised a G. . .P. exception to the Trump Organization, it was general resolved to your satisfaction; was it not?

D. Bender - Cross by Mr. Suarez Page 324

I only recall these two G. . .P. exceptions, at this point, that I ever had discussions with them.
Q You brought up G. . .P. exceptions yesterday, that you had a conversation with the Trump Organization about, and they were resolved to your satisfaction?
They agreed that the G. . .P. exception would have to be shown in the independent compilation report, and to the notes to the financial statement.
Q Because if you would have -- I'm sorry. If it wouldn't have been resolved your satisfaction, you would have been required to withdraw?
We. Would not have issued a financial statement, if it was not resolved.
Q But you did, because the concerns that you raised were resolved, to your satisfaction?
Yes, sir.
Q Okay.
MR. SU REZ: Let's bring up the management representation letter from that same year, previously marked plaintiff's Exhibit 741.
(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

D. Bender - Cross by Mr. Suarez Page 325

Q Mr. Bender, who drafted this letter?
Mazars.
Q Mazars prepared the management representation letter that's here on the screen?
We drafted it. Yes, sir.
Q Okay. nd you drafted it, because this is something that you wanted; correct?
Yes, sir.
Q You wanted this piece of paper?
Yes, sir.
Q nd you are the one that put the words on the page here; correct?
member of Mazars. Yes.
Q member of Mazars. nd that would be a member of Mazars working under your supervision; would it not be?
Yes.
Q nd that member of Mazars working under your supervision, in the year 2017, would have typed out this letter?
Somebody in typing would have typed it. Yes.
Q nd it would have been sent over to the Trump Organization?
Yes.
Q nd you would have asked the Trump Organization to sign it?
They would have reviewed it. If they had questions,

D. Bender - Cross by Mr. Suarez Page 326

they would have come back to us, and we would have discussed any issues on the draft that would be necessary, and if there was a change, we would discuss it.
Q Does this management representation letter that was prepared at your direction contain the word appraisal anywhere in it?
I would have to read the whole letter.
Q Please read it. It was prepared at your direction.
THE COURT: Is there some way to short circuit him reading three pages?
MR. SU REZ: They're his words, your Honor, and I'm asking -- I know --
Q The word appraisal, I don't believe, appears anywhere here, Mr. Bender; does it?
I have to read the letter.
THE COURT: Does anybody think that the word appraisal appears in this letter?
Let's assume it doesn't.
Mr. Bender, are you comfortable with that?
THE WITNESS: I'm comfortable, your Honor.
THE COURT: We want you to be comfortable.
Q Nowhere in this letter does the Trump Organization warrant to you that it's given you every appraisal that they have.
In item three, "We have made available to you all financial records and related data, and any additional information you requested from us, for the purpose of this compilation."

D. Bender - Cross by Mr. Suarez Page 327

Q Okay.

"We have not knowingly withheld from you any financial record or related data that, in our judgment, would be relevant to your compilation."

Q It doesn't say they have given you appraisals.

It says they made available to us, " ll financial records and related data, for the purpose of compilation. We have not knowingly withheld any financial records."

In my opinion, that includes appraisals.

Q That, in your opinion, includes appraisals. You wrote this letter. Why didn't you use the word, appraisals?

This is pretty much standard language.

Q It's standard language. nd this letter was signed by?

llen Weisselberg and Donald Trump, Jr.

Q Neither of which is a CP ?

No, sir.

Q So they should have inferred, from the language that you wrote, in the letter that you wrote and sent to them, and asked them to sign, that that included that you wanted to see appraisals?

I think they should have understood that, yes.

D. Bender - Cross by Mr. Suarez Page 328

Q But you never said that to llen Weisselberg?

I never discussed it with llen Weisselberg.

Q nd you certainly never said it to Donald Trump, Junior; did you? But based on your own letter that you wrote, your words, and asked them to signed, you believe that they should have concluded that needed to give you appraisals?

bsolutely.

Q Why didn't you tell them?

To me, financial data, I think it's included, appraisals.

Q But that's not what it says. We can agree on that?

That's not what it says.

Q Was Donald Trump, Jr. capable of determining which G. . .P. exceptions should have been included in a Statement of Financial Condition?

I think he would have needed to rely on Jeff McConney and llen Weisselberg.

Q So he should have relied on the two guys that weren't CP 's?

He should have relied on his CFO and his controller, yes.

Q Should he have relied on their outside accounting firm?

It was not my job to -- they -- in-house reviewed it, and if they had any questions, they could have come back to us.

D. Bender - Cross by Mr. Suarez Page 329

Q This was not your job, to explain to them, that's something that you wanted?

Mr. Weisselberg understood what -- accounting. Mr. McConney has a lot of expertise in --

Q But they weren't certified public accountants, and you never explained it to them, and you wrote this letter, not them.

MR. W LL CE: Objection. Compound question.

THE COURT: Sustained.

nd I hope that the reporter got that. Weren't, not, they were.

MS. H BB : She did.

MR. SU REZ: Let's pull up the Jeff Supporting Data for this particular year. That was PX 742. Is that right, PX 742? Yes. PX 742.

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

Q This was the Jeff Supporting Data spreadsheet. This was what was sent to you; correct, Mr. Bender?

This is the final version that we used for the compilation of Mr. Trump's 2016 Statement of Financial Condition.

Q PBC. Prepared by client?

Yes.

Q True or not true?

Yes.

D. Bender - Cross by Mr. Suarez Page 330

Q Okay. That's what you said that meant; right?

Yes, sir.

Q ll right. So, this is what they sent you?

This is -- they may have made changes, as I previously stated. They sent it to us, and then they would send us updated copies, and updated copies, and this is what their final version would have been.

Q Okay. So this is the supporting data that you used to prepare your compilation report; correct?

This is the supporting data I used to compile the compilation.

Q Okay. To compile the compilation?

Yes.

Q Which is different, in your mind, from preparing the compilation report?

Yes.

Q How is that different?

preparation is a different level of accounting services than a compilation. I just want to make sure that I was using the right language.

Q Okay.

MR. SU REZ: Now, scroll up here. Can we just scroll through this compilation report, from top to bottom, so we can see all the facts and figures that are included?

Q You would agree, Mr. McConney, that you were required to review all of these notes in connection with preparing your compilation report?

I'm Mr. Bender, not Mr. McConney.
Q I'm sorry. Bender.
We were not hired to review this. We were hired to compile these.
Q ll right.
These financial statements.
Q Were you required to read it?
We did read it.
Q Not we, Mr. Bender. You did you read this document?
Did I read the whole document? I presumably -- I can't answer if I read the whole document.
Q You can't answer whether you read the whole document?
Yes.
Q Okay. The Statement of Financial Condition of the President of the United States, and you can't answer if you read the whole document. Is that right?
I can't answer, today, that I read every line.
Q So let's scroll down to the triplex.

MR. SU REZ: May I approach the screen?
THE COURT: Ten-minute warning.
Q See where it says here "triplex based on comps from TIR sales office 30,000 SF @ $10,900 a square foot?"
Yes.
Q Is that something you read?
I couldn't tell you if I read it back then, no.
Q Is that something you understood?
I understand it today.
Q You understand it today but you can't tell me if you read it back when you were preparing the Statements of Financial Condition report? Yes or no?
Did you read it back then?
I did not. I was not the person. I did not do all the work in 2016 financial statement. I had staff working on it. I do not know if I read every word of the worksheet.
Q Okay. Let's pull up the 2017 compilation report. Let's pull up the supporting data. Jeff Supporting Data from 2017 PX-758. Let's go down to the triplex again.
THE COURT: I think it's pronounced tri-plex.
MR. SU REZ: In Florida, it's try-plex
MR. W LL CE: There's a dispute from plaintiff's team.
MS. H BB : It's tri-plex.
MR. W LL CE: This divides many people.

MR. SU REZ: Let's go back to the other side here.
Q Do you see here where it goes from "triplex based on comps from TIR sales office 30,000 square feet @ 10,900 a square foot?"
Yes.
Q Triplex based --
THE COURT: Triplex.
Q Triplex based on comps from 432 Park?
Yes.
Q Did you read that?
I don't know if I read that.
Q You don't know if you read that? This is for the 2017 Statement of Financial Condition when were you compiling the Statement of Financial Condition for the President of the United States, Mr. Bender; is that not the case?
Yes, sir.
Q The square footage of the triplex changes?
THE COURT: What is a triplex?
MR. SU REZ: The triplex, sorry, your Honor. The triplex.
Yes.
Q Did you see that it changes there?
I see it changed.
Q You see that it changed?

Today I see it changed.
Q Did you ever pick up the phone and say, to the President of the United States, your triplex just got cut by 2/3?
I did not. I have no independent memory -- we missed it.
Q You missed it?
Yes.
Q You missed it?
Yes.
Q President Trump hired you to prepare a compilation from the Statement of Financial Condition for the Leader of the Free World and you missed it?
Yes, sir.
Q You never picked up the phone and said, sorry, I missed it?
Didn't have his phone number but we missed it.
Q You missed it. You never said, hey, there's an error here or, hey, 2/3 of your triplex just disappeared, did you?
No, sir.
Q Do you think that's something President Trump would have wanted to know?
I can't answer what --
Q Do you think that's something --
THE COURT: Let him answer.

I can't tell you what Mr. Trump wanted to know.
Q Do you think that is something that President Trump, who relied on you, who relied on Mazars, who was loyal to you for all those years, would have wanted to know?
MR. W LL CE: Objection at this point. Testifying about what Mr. Trump relied on and wanted.
THE COURT: Overruled. I'll allow it one more time. Go ahead. You want to ask it again?
MR. SU REZ: Yes.
THE COURT: Go ahead.
Q Do you think the Leader of the Free World would have wanted to know that you had been given information that his triplex apartment had been stated at a different square footage and reduced by 2/3 in the year 2017?
Do you think that is something that the man who paid you millions of dollars a year would have wanted to know?
I can't speak for Mr. Trump.
Q Okay. Let me ask you, if we go back to 753, Exhibit 753. In Exhibit 753, you made a promise to Mr. Trump in your engagement letter, were you promised that your engagement cannot be relied upon to identify or disclose any financial misstatements, including those caused by fraud or error, or to identify or disclose any wrongdoing or noncompliance with laws and regulations. However, we will inform you of material errors and any evidence or information that comes to our attention during the performance of our procedures that fraud may have occurred.

Do you think that 2/3 of his townhouse disappearing, of the triplex disappearing, from 2017 to 2018 is not something that you should have said to the Leader of the Free World?
Did not come to our attention.
Q It did not come to your attention? Oops. Sorry, I screwed it up?
MR. W LL CE: Objection at this point. That's not a question.
Q Mr. Bender --
THE COURT: Just questions, not commentary.
We didn't screw it up. The Trump Organization made a mistake, and, we didn't catch it.
Q You didn't catch it?
The Trump Organization --
Q You didn't catch it in '18. You didn't catch it in '19. You didn't catch it in '20. ll those years, you didn't catch it, you never came to him and said, sorry, Mr. President. I made a mistake. I didn't catch it.
ll of those years, millions of dollars in fees later and you didn't catch it?
MR. W LL CE: Objection. We covered this ground multiple times now.

THE COURT: We only have four more minutes.
Q It goes to the heart of the case. This was someone that -- I am emotional about it because it's not funny because the Leader of the Free World, who was keeping us safe, who was keeping this county safe, relied on you, Mr. Bender, not to screw this up, and, you screwed it up?
No, I did not.
Q Okay. You just missed it?
We were engaged to do a compilation and the compilation, as we discussed earlier, does not require us to outline the compilations and we met our compilation, what was required for a compilation.
Q You met all that was required for the compilation and that includes missing 20,000 square feet is something that was not required for you to disclose to your client?
If you-- we missed it.
Q You missed it. Now, he's sitting here today, his company is going through hell. Tens of thousands of employees are going through hell because you missed it?
MR. W LL CE: Objection.
No, because they put the wrong number. They misrepresented the numbers on their data.
Q You never called and told him about it?
We did not.
Q When you went to the White House -- you went to the White House, right? He invited your son to the White House. You mentioned to him, hey, we missed it?

MR. W LL CE: t this point, can he please let the witness answer the question he is asking?
THE COURT: He's already answered it. So, I don't know if that matters. Counselor, I think he's already said he did not tell them. So, you don't have to ask him whether he did not tell them when he was at The White House. He said he didn't tell them.
Q Was making this mistake the reason Mazars forced you to retire?
No.
Q You were planning to retire anyway?
The partnership agreement of Mazars requires you to retire at 65.
Q That's why you went to the President mortified? That's why you went and apologized for having made this mistake?
MR. W LL CE: Objection. If he wants to include something about a conversation of Mr. Bender and the President, he can ask a question about it. He cannot testify.
THE COURT: Considering this is cross-examination, obviously -- I'll leave it at that.
MR. W LL CE: Can I at least raise a foundation objection?

THE COURT: Overruled.
Q So, Mr. Bender.
MR. SU REZ: Yes, sir?
THE COURT: So, you'll ask it again or you'll --
MR. SU REZ: It's been asked. Overruled. I don't know. Does he have anything to say for himself?
MR. W LL CE: Objection.
THE COURT: You can't ask him does he have anything to say for himself.
MR.SU REZ: In response to the last question, you overruled the objection. He's sitting there.
Q You missed it.
I never went to Mr. Trump mortified. I was never mortified.
Q You lost your biggest client, the client that literally made your entire professional reputation, Mr. Bender. Your entire identity was being the big accountant for the powerful Trump Organization for the President of the United States and you blew it.
MR. W LL CE: Objection.
THE COURT: Sustained.
Q Let's get into 2017 then.
THE COURT: Two-minute warning.
Q PX-755 let's see what else. This is the compilation report for 2017, Mr. Bender. Mazars, that's your logo on the front page, right?

Yes, sir.
Q Okay. It's not the Trump Organization logo?
No, sir.
Q They're not the ones taking credit for this, you are?
Mazars compiled the financial statement.
Q You know, Mr. Bender, what I think bears repeating for the Court. The Jeff spreadsheets weren't attached to this document that went between the two Mazars logos, right?
No, sir.
Q No. It was just the Statement of Financial Condition and your compilation report, correct?
Yes, sir.
Q nd the notes?
Notes are considered part of the accountant's -- notes are considered part of the Statement of Financial Condition.
Q The notes that are considered part of the Statement of Financial Condition are also discussed in your accountant's compilation report, correct?
Repeat the question, please.
Q The notes that form part of a Statement of Financial Condition are also referenced in your independent accounting compilation report; are they not?

I'm just checking. Yes, they are.
Q Yes, they are.
THE COURT: Okay. We're going to break for the day. We'll resume tomorrow at 10:00 we have to take care of some housekeeping matters right now and my law clerk has a question.
MS. GREENFIELD: Sorry. To make sure we're on track, which witnesses, besides continuing with Mr. Bender, do we intend to call tomorrow?
MR. W LL CE: I believe the next witness is Cameron Harris from the Whitley Penn accounting firm and then, I believe, Jeff McConney will come after him.
MR. GREENFIELD: Thank you.
MR. KISE: To be clear, we don't need Mr. McConney here tomorrow morning? We'll continue with the cross tomorrow.
MR. W LL CE: Up to you guys. I don't think Mr. Harris will be here very long for our direct but on the cross-examination of Mr. Harris and the continued cross-examination of Mr. Bender --
MR. KISE: We'll work that out. We want to make sure your witnesses are here.
THE COURT: Okay. Thanks, everyone.

LIS M. DE CRESCENZO,
LIS C SEY,
OFFICI L COURT REPORTERS

THE COURT: If this was Broadway, we'd be having a long run here. I think we're getting the photographers.

(Photos taken.)

THE COURT: They do this every day. I mean, they look the same.

Is the defense going to recall Donald Bender?

MR. SU REZ: Yes, sir.

THE COURT: It's a little confusing. There are two Donald's. Okay, let's get him in.

MR. SU REZ: Good morning, your Honor.

THE COURT: Good morning.

MR. SU REZ: I've taken heed to a request to speak more slowly today. I also understand that it's pronounced, in the great State of New York, triplex.

MR. KISE: In the south, it's just called apartment.

THE COURT: Chris, do you have triplexes down there?

MR. KISE: That's why it's called an apartment, no.

THE COURT: Welcome to New York City.

(Whereupon, the witness enters the courtroom.)

THE COURT: I'll remind the witness, as I always do, that he's still under oath.

THE WITNESS: Thank you, your Honor.

THE COURT: Counselor, whenever you're ready, please proceed.

CROSS-EX MIN TION (Cont'd)

BY MR. SU REZ:

Q Mr. Bender, good morning.

Good morning.

Q Yesterday we were taking a look at Plaintiff's Exhibit 758; and, I just wanted to thank you for acknowledging the mistake, the change in value of the triplex from 327 million to 116 million.

MR. SU REZ: If you can please pull up the 2016 and 2017 Statements of Financial Condition.

Q I just wanted to walk you, Mr. Bender, through both statements, the June 30, 2016 statement, Plaintiff's Exhibit 756 with Mazars and WeiserMazars logo on the front page and then Plaintiff's Exhibit 755, which is the Statement of Financial Condition, Mazars US logo on the bottom.

Mr. Bender, between 2016 and 2017, I take it, Mazars stopped using the WeiserMazars and just started referring to Mazars?

Yes, our name changed many times over the years.

Q If you can please go to the next page, on both documents. The 2016 Statement of Financial Condition was dated March 10, 2017; is that correct?

Yes, sir.

Q Just a few months later, in October of 2017, the same year, the 2017 Statement of Financial Condition was issued.
Is that your signature there on October 30, 2017?
It's either mine or electronic copy thereof.
Q Okay. This was a particularly interesting year because President Trump assumed the Presidency on January of 2017, correct?
Yes, sir.
Q nd for that reason, there was an understandable delay producing the compilation report for the 2016 Statement of Financial Condition?
You'd have to confirm that with the Trump Organization. It was just a guess yesterday.
Q You would agree the Trump Organization, on its own, changed the value of the triplex. It wasn't prompted by anybody to do it?
It wasn't prompted by Mazars.
Q Okay. Moving on. Did you have an opportunity last night to speak to anybody about your testimony?
I spoke to counsel last night.
Q Did you speak to anyone from the New York ttorney General's Office?
No, sir.
Q Did your counsel speak to anyone from the New York ttorney General's Office?

You'd have to speak to them.
Q re you aware if your counsel spoke to anyone from the New York ttorney General's Office?
I don't recall any conversation with counsel last night.
Q ll right. Moving on. Yesterday --
MR. SU REZ: Let's pull up the testimony from yesterday.
Q We had a discussion about whether you were the relationship partner in charge of the Trump Organization when Weiser merged into Mazars, correct?
Yes, sir.
Q You told me there was a gentleman named Gerry Rosenblum that was the partner in charge for a period of time?
For a number of years.
Q Okay, for a number of years.
MR. SU REZ: Let's pull up the 2011 engagement report.
MR. KISE: Just to make a record observation. Sorry. I want to be clear, the fact they were pointing to documents that are in evidence now doesn't waive our objection as to the Statute of Limitations. I mean, we're working with the record as it exists.
THE COURT: ll right. I understand and I agree.

MR. KISE: Thank you, Judge.
MR. SU REZ: Your Honor, we're providing the ttorney General's Office a copy of an exhibit we're going to use solely for impeachment. It bears the Bates labeled Mazars D NY GJS 0003106, and, I'd like to ask Mr. Bender if he recognizes this document.
THE WITNESS: re we finished with this one?
MR. SU REZ: You can set that down.
THE WITNESS: Thank you. Thank you.
Yes, I recognize it.
Q ll right. You see this is a Weiser Engagement Continuance Form?
Yes, sir.
Q What does this document represent?
This is a part of our client acceptance process, client continuance process in this case.
Q This was for Statement of Financial Condition prepared June 30, 2011. You see on the right-hand corner date of financial statement?
I guess so, yes.
Q Okay. Do you see where it says "partner"?
Yes.
Q Is that your name, Donald Bender?
Yes.

Q Is Mr. Rosenblum's name on there?
No, sir.
MR. SU REZ: Let's pull up the 2012. Your Honor, I will move this document into evidence solely for impeachment purposes.
THE COURT: Granted. It's in evidence solely for impeachment purposes.
MR. W LL CE: s we're evaluating whether this comes in for impeachment, what is the testimony this was impeaching? Can you give us a specific date?
THE COURT: nd who was the partner?
MR. SU REZ: t the time, Gerry Rosenblum.
MR. W LL CE: I wanted to see the date.
MR. SU REZ: He said at the time of the Mazars transition and we'll move now to Mazar's years when Gerry Rosenblum --
MR. W LL CE: I'm not sure that it established how this impeaches his testimony.
MR. SU REZ: Mr. Bender testified yesterday that at the time that Weiser merged into Mazars, Gerry Rosenblum was the partner in charge of the Trump Organization. The Engagement Continuance Reports showed that Mr. Bender is the only person listed as a partner in connection with the engagement in these reports for the Trump Organization.

MR. W LL CE: I guess I wasn't aware of when this merger was or what the date is and so how this is impeaching --

MR. SU REZ: We're getting there. It's got Weiser. I'm showing 2012, which will show the dates that Mr. Bender is the only one on there. 2016 will show only Mr. Bender on there.

MR. W LL CE: I understand it's impeaching the statement at the time, I guess, of the merger. I'll confess for the record, I did not know when that merger occurred and why this document impeaches his prior testimony.

THE COURT: Just to give perspective on this, there's no jury here. I don't think it matters that much whether somebody was the lead partner or is not the lead partner, who signed it. I think it's easiest just to move on.

MR. W LL CE: I'm happy to move on. My objection is overruled, I guess, your Honor.

THE COURT: Take a hint.

MR. SU REZ: This is now WeiserMazars engagement continuance report, your Honor; and, the Engagement Continuance Report that I would like to show the witness for impeachment purposes, relates to the financial statement dated June 30, 20127, and I'd like to ask the witness if he recognizes this document.

THE COURT: You're being asked if you recognize that document.

THE WITNESS: I don't have the document in front of me.

(Handing.)

Thank you. Yes, I do.

Q Do you see who the partner that's listed for this engagement is?

Yes.

Q You see where the client is?

Yes, I do.

Q Who is the client?

Donald J. Trump.

Q Who is the partner?

I am.

Q Okay. Does this refresh your recollection as to whether you or Mr. Rosenblum were in charge of the account at the time that Weiser merged into Mazars?

Okay. So, to make everybody understand, Weiser has had five different names. We merged about 22 to 25 years ago. I think about 23 years ago. Our original name-- excuse me if I miss any-- was MRWeiser then I think we became Weiser LLP, then we became WeiserMazars, and then we did Mazars US .

It's all the same firm. We just changed our name and we merged about 23 years ago.

t that time we merged, I was a junior partner in the firm, and, Gerry Rosenblum was the senior partner at the firm.

Q t what time was Mr. Rosenblum the partner in charge of President Trump's account?

I couldn't tell you -- it started, he was probably -- he was. I was not senior partner of the firm until 13, 14 years ago. He was still more the senior than me in the firm, but, I would say I probably took over somewhere about 20 years ago as the lead partner from -- I was still considered the lead partner on the account but he was the senior partner, and I was still junior partner in the firm.

Q You were the lead partner in the account and Mr. Rosenblum was senior to you?

Mr. Rosenblum, when we merged, was senior partner and in charge of the account. number of years later, he transferred a lot of the work to me, but, he was still senior partner, and I was junior partner of the firm.

Q But you were the partner in charge?

We shared it together for a number of years, but, it was, you know, we co-shared the work.

Q You co-shared the client, but, to be sure, in 2011, Mr. Rosenblum wasn't your copartner on this engagement?

No, sir.

Q Nor was he in 2012?

No.

MR. SU REZ: Let's pull up 2016. Your Honor, I would move this into evidence for impeachment purposes solely.

THE COURT: The ttorney General just told me they have no objection.

MR. W LL CE: Certainly not on Statute of Limitations, your Honor.

Q Do you recognize this document, Mr. Bender?

Can I see the original, please?

MR. SU REZ: This document has been premarked by defendants as Exhibit 949.

Q The Mazars logo up top?

Please let me read it.

Q Take your time.

Thank you.

Q Do you recognize this document?

Yes, I do.

Q What is this document?

This is the Engagement Continuance Form for the Trump Organization for 2016.

Q Okay. Who's the partner in charge here?

I am.

Q Who's the manager?

D. Bender - Cross/Suarez Page 354

Jennifer Safran.
Q Who's Jennifer Safran?
My senior manager and later became partner.
Q Then she became your partner?
Yes.
THE COURT: Counsels, let's have a real quick side-bar. s I like to call it, front bar.
(Side-bar discussion held off the record.)
Q Mr. Bender, in connection with this document, I'd just like to give you an opportunity to refresh your recollection. The page bearing Mazars D NY GKS 01201998. What you have in front of you.
Do you see that, 01998?
Yes, sir.
MR. W LL CE: We want to note our objection is that he's refreshing his recollection for a document that he hasn't established that he doesn't have a recollection to be --
THE COURT: That is the rule. You can't refresh a recollection if the person doesn't recollect.
Q Mr. Bender, yesterday I asked you how many engagements the Trump Organization-- you had done for the Trump Organization over the years and you weren't quite sure if it was 11,000 or another number?
Yes, sir.

D. Bender - Cross/Suarez Page 355

Q I'd like to run through the WeiserMazars LLP work in process realization, by client, for the Trump Organization from January 1, 2016, to December 31, 2016, which starts on page one of sixteen.
I'd like you, Mr. Bender, to note the number of entities, different entities controlled by the Trump Organization that are listed here in the first page. I would ask you if these were all entities that you provided services for in the year 2016?
These are all entities that Mazars provided services for. Some of them on this page might be independent condominium associations that were not controlled by the Trump Organization but these are all entities that were work that Mazars worked on or somebody worked on in 2016.
Q These were all grouped here January 11, 2017 DJT-1, Donald J. Trump, Bender.
That grouping would mean that these were all the entities that you considered were part of the client group for President Trump, correct?
These are all clients that we considered as one billing group for accounting purposes.
Q s one billing group. You'd agree with me on this page there's at least-- and by no means do I want to spend the Court's time counting each of these, but, there's at least two dozen entities on this page?

D. Bender - Cross/Suarez Page 356

That's fair.
Q Then I'd like to scroll through so the Court can see and see if we can refresh your recollection, Mr. Bender.
Over the first 16 pages, there's about two dozen entities on each page, maybe more. These were all entities that you and WeiserMazars provided accounting services for just in the year on 2016; is that correct?
Yes, sir.
Q So, would you agree with me, roughly, that over, I don't know-- what's the math? Twenty-five, twenty-four entities per page, over 16 pages?
pproximately.
Q Do you know what that math works out to?
203.
Q 203?
Could be. I'm on my phone. Roughly, 200.
Q Roughly, 200 entities. ll right, 200 entities in one year that you provided engagements for; is that correct?
Yes, sir.
Q You provided work for the Trump Organization for a period of 30 years?
Yes, sir.
Q Does that refresh your recollection as to how many separate individual engagements you may have undertaken for the Trump Organization?

D. Bender - Cross/Suarez Page 357

In the early years, I only worked on one engagement, Trump Equitable Fifth venue. I didn't work on these other engagements.
When Mr. Trump's business was strong, the number of entities that were being performed, I don't remember, somewhere between 50 to 100 entities a year.
So, I didn't work on earlier years. Earlier years most of these entities didn't exist.
Q So, in 2016 you did your work for over 200 entities --
MR. ROBERT: I'm having a difficult time hearing. I can't understand.
THE COURT: Mr. Bender, right into it. Slowly.
Q In the year 2016 there were, at least, over 200 entities that you were performing services for President Trump and the Trump Organization?
Yes, sir. Including outside entities but he didn't control.
Q That were all grouped under --
For billing purposes.
Q ll right. We'll continue going through there all the way to page 16.
So, Mr. Bender, and the Court, can see all of the different entities that Mr. Bender provided work for grouped under President Trump's billing code. We can stop here.

This is for the period of January 1, 2016 to December 31, 2016, Mr. Bender?
Yes, sir.
Q There you can see that, at the bottom, the partner total, partner total would be for you, correct, Mr. Bender?
Most of it, maybe not all of it.
Q There's no other partner listed in this engagement, correct?
Some of the partners might have billed more.
Q No other partner's name appears there where it says "Bender"?
Yes.
Q Not some other partner?
No.
Q So, you're the partner on this document?
Yes, sir.
Q "Partner: 2.77 million." You see that down there, "production"?
Yes, sir.
Q Then you see "Billing: 1.9 million?"
Yes, sir.
Q Does this refresh your recollection as to how much money you billed the Donald J. Trump billing group in the year 2016?

D. Bender - Cross/Suarez Page 359

It appears that would be 1.95 million. 1,952,850.
Q What percentage of your work in 2016 was reflected by the Trump Organization with respect to your billable clients?
I don't recall.
Q If you can move to the page ending in 2017. Do you see this here?
Yes, I do.
Q Do you see where it says: "Controller, Jeff McConney formally worked for Spahr Lacher & Berk?"
Yes, I do.
Q Then is this something you would have written, Mr. Bender?
Did I write it or a member of my team wrote it? I can't tell.
Q You can't tell me?
If I wrote it or a member of my team wrote it.
Q Can you turn to page 2015. Do you see who it's from?
Yes.
Q Does this refresh your recollection as to who wrote it?
It may not have been me anyway. Could have been members of my team could have worked on it.
Q So, if something says it's from you, it doesn't necessarily mean it's from you?
I would have to see the sign-off in the binder to see who prepared it.

D. Bender - Cross/Suarez Page 360

MR. W LL CE: t this point, can we note an objection to relevance. I'm not sure how this relates to any issue that needs to be decided in this case.
THE COURT: Offer of proof. What is this showing?
MR. SU REZ: Your Honor, this is showing that Mr. Bender, who signed all 12 however many Statements of Financial Condition that were introduced by the ttorney General on Monday may not have seen or done all the work.
Just because it has his signature on it, doesn't mean that he's actually the person that prepared it.
MR. W LL CE: I believe he's already testified to that. So, I'm not sure how this is impeachment. It sounds like maybe he is trying to refresh his recollection about the details of engagement but I still fail to see the relevance.
THE COURT: I'll be charitable and let-- give him some latitude but I see the plaintiff's point.
MR. SU REZ: ll right.
THE COURT: Let me just say, I think you said just because it says it's from him, doesn't mean it's from him.
That's not his testimony, as I understand it. Just because it says it's from him, he wasn't the only person that worked on it. Is that correct, Mr. Bender?

THE WITNESS: Yes, these forms would have been submitted in certain years to the Executive Committee. So, people could help me prepare. partner doesn't normally do client acceptance continuance. There's staff that prepares these forms.
THE COURT: If it says it's from you, it's still from you?
THE WITNESS: The final responsibility is mine, your Honor.
Q The final responsibility is yours?
Yes.
Q Okay. So, the final responsibility is yours. We got that. Okay.
MR. SU REZ: Your Honor, I would ask to move in D-949 in evidence.
THE COURT: There's no objection. So, yes. It's in evidence.
MR. SU REZ: 2017. Pull 2017, the Engagement Continuance Form, if we have it. We'll come back to that later. That's fine. Okay, let's pull up premarked Defendant's 27.
Q Do you see here what this document is, Mr. Bender, and we'll certainly give the ttorney General a copy.
This copy -- can I have a paper copy, please? Yes, sir.

Q Do you recognize this document?
It appears to be an F SB.
Q I think you would agree that the Statements of Financial Condition were prepared in accordance with SC 274?
I would have to check with experts to see. I'm not an expert on these matters, so I would have to check. Somebody -- it's a matter that I'd reach out to inhouse experts on.
Q So, whether SC 274-- when determining whether SC 274 applies to the President's Statement of Financial Condition, that's a subject matter you'd have to check with an expert?
I'm not on top of these F SB's today in my retirement mode.
Q Okay. If we can please move to page 10 of this document. Excuse me. Page 13.

Q Do you see at the top where it says estimated current value, Mr. Bender. Is that a concept you are familiar with?
Somewhat. gain, I'm not an expert on --
Q You are not an expert on estimated current value?
Not today; no.
Q Were you ever an expert on estimated current value?
I wouldn't say I was ever an expert on it, no.
Q Now, this section on estimated current value, this lays out the implementation guidelines; correct?
It appears so.
Q Can you read what 55-3 says?
"In determining estimated current value of some assets," parenthesis -- thank you, "for example, works of art, jewelry, restricted security investments, and closely held company -- closely held businesses and real estate," close parenthesis, "the person may need to consult a specialist."
Q Okay. So in determining estimated current values, the implementation guidance considers that you may need to consult a specialist; correct?
It's saying that you may need to consult a specialist, but this was a compilation that did not require me to -- I was not engaged to do that type of work.
Q nd in connection with preparing a compilation report for a Statement of Financial Condition, did you need to have an understanding as to what estimated current value was?

I had an understanding of what it was.
Q Did you have an understanding as to how estimated current value applied to real estate?
I had somewhat of an understanding, yes.
Q Did you consult with specialists to inform your understanding as to how estimated current value applies to real estate?
I may have discussed matters over the years with ndy Cohen. I don't recall.
Q Well yesterday, Mr. Bender, you said that you had discussed, with ndy Cohen, I believe it was the NikeTown lease.
You are right. mong other things.
Q Okay. But at your deposition, when we asked you about whether you had ever consulted with a specialist on estimated current values, you said you did not recall.
I don't -- I didn't recall at that time, and I didn't say -- I said I may have consulted with ndy Cohen, over the years.
Q Okay.
MR. SU REZ: Your Honor, may I play a clip from his deposition?
THE COURT: Sure.
Q Do you recall your deposition on pril 7, 2023?
Yes, I do.
MR. SU REZ: Can you please play the ndy Cohen?

(Whereupon, a video was played.)
MR. W LL CE: I'm just going to object. That doesn't impeach. It's a different question than he was just asking.
THE COURT: The rule is, you can only refresh your recollection if the person doesn't recall. I think I said it the opposite, last time. So again, there's no jury. Tell me what the point is.
MR. SU REZ: Your Honor, he didn't recall at his deposition whether he had discussed estimated current values with ndy. Yesterday he agreed that he had consulted ndy Cohen for estimated current values. Today, he is not a specialist in determining what estimated current value is, despite the fact that SC 274 requires him to consult with a specialist if he doesn't know it, and today he doesn't recall if he consulted with a specialist or not.
MR. W LL CE: The testimony that he showed was a question about whether he consulted with an expert on the difference between estimated current value and fair value. It was not on current estimated value, standing alone, which is the question he has been asking Mr. Bender this morning, so it's not impeachment. If he want to probe that area, we have no objection.
THE COURT: This is starting to sound like, how many angels can dance on the head of a pin.

Objection overruled. Let's just keep moving.
Q Is there a difference between estimated current value and fair value?
There is a difference. Yes.
Q nd are you familiar with the differences?
Estimated current value delineates -- there's five standards, five or six methodologies, that are suggested here --
MS. H BB : I'm sorry. I have to say, I can't understand anything Mr. Bender says.
There are five or six methodologies that are delineated here that can be used to estimate a current value.
Q nd are you an expert in those different areas?
No, I'm not.
Q ll right. Do you understand how estimated current value is different than fair value?
I understand it, to a certain extent.
Q Okay. What is your understanding, to a certain extent, of what the difference is?
Estimated current value would use these five, through E, items. Their value, fair market value, would be what a willing buyer or seller would use. That would be fair market value, and that's the main difference I can think of, right now.
Q So in your mind, there's a difference?
Excuse me?

Q In your mind, there is a difference?
Between fair market value and estimated current value?
Yes.
Q nd is estimated current value more flexible than fair value?
I would say so.
Q nd is it correct that there's no one generally accepted way to determine the estimated current value of an asset?
I believe so.
Q nd would you have consulted a specialist in determining whether it was appropriate to use any particular basis for establishing estimated current value of an asset?
The 57th Street example I gave yesterday would be an example that I can think of today, that we consulted.
Q ny others?
I'm just going through a balance sheet in my head.
Q That's President Trump's balance sheet?
Statement of Financial Condition.
Not that I can think of, off the top of my head.
Q You have the statement, President Trump's Statement of Financial Condition in your head?
No, but I saw parts of it yesterday. I know what assets he owned, generally.
Q ll right. Let's turn to 55-6, on page 14.

Do you see where, 55-6b, it says, "Information that may be used in terminating -- in determining estimated current values of investments in real estate, including lease holds includes any of the following," and b says that, "Discounted amounts of projected cash receipts and payments relating to the property, or the net realizable value of the property, based on planned courses of action, including lease holds whose current rental value exceeds the rent in the lease."
Do you see that?
Yes, sir.
Q Do you know what realizable value of the property, based on planned courses of actions, means?
I would need to consult an expert, before I gave testimony.
Q In connection with preparing President Trump's Statement of Financial Condition, did you ever consult an expert to understand what that meant?
I don't recall, at this moment.
Q Okay. Moving on.
MR. SU REZ: If we could pull up page 293 from yesterday's testimony.
Q Do you see when I asked you yesterday, Mr. Bender:
"They --" referring to the Trump Organization "-- would give you an opportunity to review loan agreements before they entered into them?"

nd you responded:
"Many years ago they might have, certain paragraphs."
Yes, sir.
Q nd I said:
"Certain paragraphs?"
nd you said:
"Yes."
nd you responded -- and I continued to ask you:
"They wouldn't send you loan agreements and ask you, Hey, Mr. Bender, can you review these for us and let us know if this is something you can enter into?"
Yes.
Q nd you responded:
"I don't think they sent full agreements. I do remember seeing certain paragraphs, from time to time."
Yes.
Q ll right. I would like to show you a document to see if it refreshes your recollection as to whether documents were sent to you by the Trump Organization while they were still being negotiated for your review, and we have marked, or we have -- and we'll offer, for impeachment, a document bearing Bates label Mazars D NYGJS7O4 -- excuse me -- 01432223.
re we finished with this document?
Q You can set it aside.

D. Bender - Cross by Mr. Suarez Page 370

MR. W LL CE: I'm sorry. That was a production number you were reading? You said Bates. I thought you said documents --

MR. SU REZ: No. Just a Bates label. Mazars D NYGJS.

(Whereupon, a document was handed to the witness.)

Q Do you recognize this document?

Not particularly.

Q Do you see where it says, "From llen Weisselberg to Donald Bender," at the top?

Yes.

Q Would Mr. Weisselberg send you emails?

Excuse me?

Q Would Mr. Weisselberg send you emails?

Yes, sir.

Q nd they would have documents attached to them?

Yes. From time to time.

Q Do you see here, "Forward OPO loan agreement?"

Yes, sir.

Q Do you see where it says, "JDG notes on BL final Doral loan agreement to OPO loan agreement?"

Excuse me. Say that again, please?

Q Do you see where the attachments up top --

Yes.

D. Bender - Cross by Mr. Suarez Page 371

Q -- say, "GDG notes -- JDG notes on BL final Doral loan agreement to OPO loan agreement?"

Yes.

Q Does this document refresh your recollection on being shown loan agreements prior to their being entered into?

nd you can review the attachment to the document. We can pull it up on the screen and scroll through.

I remember from time to time, looking at certain pages or paragraphs. I remember Jason Greenblatt, chief counsel for Trump, would drive me nuts. He would send me only two or three pages of a loan agreement. I never reviewed any full loan agreements, prior to them being signed, to the best of my recollection.

Q Okay. But after they were signed, did you have an opportunity to review the loan agreement?

We would look at the loan agreement, if it would be required information for a footnote disclosure on a financial statement.

Q nd what would you do with the loan agreement, when you had to review a footnote disclosure on a financial statement?

Certain sections of the -- of the loan agreement would be looked at to discuss things like terms of a loan, payment, interest rates, information that we would need to write a footnote.

D. Bender - Cross by Mr. Suarez Page 372

Q Okay. So you would look at the whole loan agreement, and it wasn't in your possession?

Excuse me?

Q You would see the whole loan agreement, and it would be sent to you?

I would have the whole loan agreement. I wouldn't review the whole loan agreement.

Q Okay. So, just because something was sent to you doesn't mean you reviewed it?

That is correct.

Q Okay. Yesterday, I asked you, the Trump Organization -- if you were the in-house accountant at the Trump Organization.

Yes, sir.

Q nd I think we discussed whether you were the only certified public accountant.

I'm not --

MR. W LL CE: Objection.

Q Whether you were the only certified public accountant that interacted with the folks that prepared the Statements of Financial Condition.

THE COURT: Overruled.

I believe you did ask me that, yesterday.

Q nd we established that, in fact, I believe you were?

No. In hindsight, I do realize that they may have had some CP s in the Trump Organization who worked on portions of the financial statement, from year to year.

D. Bender - Cross by Mr. Suarez Page 373

Q Do you recall who they were?

I know some schedules were prepared by Mark Hawthorne from the Hotel Group, so they did have a CP in house. t least, he did it, I think. He's all I remember ever discussing a schedule with.

MR. SU REZ: Let's pull up a document bearing Mazars D NYGJS01487514.

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

Q nd first, Mr. Bender, do you recognize this document?

No, I do not.

Q From Mazars, D NYGJS01487514?

Yes.

Q Is this a document that was sent to you?

Yes.

MR. SU REZ: Can you turn to the last page of this document?

Q Do you see where it says intraoffice memorandum?

Yes.

Q Within the office?

Yes.

Q nd who is the first person there, that's listed?

I guess the Trump Organization doesn't know I'm not on their payroll.

Q Okay. nd it says, To Donald Bender?
I wasn't on the Trump Organization payroll.
Q Well, $2.1 million in fees, and you were listed, to Donald Bender?
I guess they have an internal problem they need to address.
Q Did you ever correct them and say, I'm not inside?
I didn't. I probably would not have read it.
Q You would not have read it?
No.
Q ll right. So, this is something you would not have read, a copy of the term loan agreement by and between Trump Endeavor 12, LLC borrower, and Deutsche Bank Trust Company mericas, lender.
I may not have been required to read it, no.
Q Okay. So, if it would have been sent to you, we shouldn't assume that you were required to read it?
I may not -- I would have no need to read it for the -- we were not engaged to do any work that would have required me to read the whole document.
Q You were engaged to prepare audits for Trump Endeavor 12?
No, sir.
Q You were engaged you were engaged to prepare compilations for Trump Endeavor 12?

Compilation, I believe, without footnotes.
Q nd you wouldn't have reviewed the loan agreement in connection with the Trump Endeavor 12 loan from Deutsche Bank?
I can't say if I did or I didn't.
Q Okay. Moving on.
MR. SU REZ: If we could please put up PX729, which was marked yesterday. Or, on Monday. Or, perhaps yesterday.
Q Do you recognize this document, WeiserMazars?
Yes, sir.
Q nd it's got both the Mazars and the WeiserMazars logo, and if you could turn over to the next page -- and this is the independent accountant's compilation report; is that correct?
Yes, sir.
MR. SU REZ: Turn over to the next page.
Q WeiserMazars, LLP. Is that either your signature or your digital signature?
Yes, sir.
Q Okay.
MR. SU REZ: nd if you could, turn over to the next page.
Q I would like to walk you through the Jeff Supporting Data that relates to this Statement of Financial Condition.

MR. SU REZ: nd we'll pull that up. I think that was introduced as PX731.
(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)
Q nd Mr. Bender, in connection with the Statement of Financial Condition, is this something that you saw?
The schedule?
Q Did you see it?
Yes, I did.
Q Did you review it?
I did not review it.
Q Did not review it?
Review is -- the job was a compilation.
Q Okay. Did you read it?
I read -- may not have read every line, but I did look at it.
Q You did look at it.
MR. SU REZ: nd if we could, scroll down and start with Trump Tower.
Q Do you see there where it lists the basis of valuation for Trump Tower?
Yes, sir.
Q When you prepared the compilation report --
When I compiled the compilation report -- Q You compiled, produced the compilation report -- when you produced the compilation report, did you see this?

Yes, I did.
Q nd what did you do with it?
I -- me or a member of my team appears to have cross referenced it to worksheet 4800.01 and 4800.01a. It appears they also did some math checks.
Q Okay. So you did see it?
Me or a member of my team. I would have to check the sign-offs.
Q Sitting here today, do you recall if you saw it?
Did I see the schedule? I'm sure I saw the schedule.
Q Did you see the basis for valuing Trump Tower when you prepared the compilation report?
I believe so.
Q Okay.
MR. SU REZ: Scrolling down to the next asset. Stop.
Q Do you see there, NikeTown, when you prepared the compilation report for NikeTown, did you see the basis for the asset value ascribed to NikeTown?
I can't say if I saw every one, without looking at the sign-offs, but it -- I need to confirm the sign-offs, but I believe I would have seen it.
Q You believe you would have seen --
I believe I would have seen it. I can't say I looked at every line in this worksheet, no.

D. Bender - Cross by Mr. Suarez Page 378

Q Okay. So you didn't look at every line of the spreadsheet, and you are not sure if you saw it.
I would need to see the sign-offs in the binder to confirm who worked on it.
Q But you took responsibility for everything that was in the compilation report; correct?
Yes, sir.
Q ll right. So either you or a member of your team would have seen this?
Yes.
Q But you don't recall if you saw it?
I don't recall if I saw it, in 2015, line-by-line. No.
Q Okay. Line-by-line. Let's go to the next asset. Do you see where it lists the basis of valuation for 40 Wall Street in this document?
Let me just adjust my chair, so everybody is happy. Yes, I do.
Q Did you see it at the time that you prepared the compilation report, in 2015?
I can't say if I looked at every line of it, but I'm sure I saw a portion of it.
Q Okay. What portion of it might you have seen?
I don't recall, today.

D. Bender - Cross by Mr. Suarez Page 379

Q Okay. Would you have seen where the asset value was calculated, based on an NOI?
Yes, sir.
Q Would you have seen where a cap rate was applied?
I presume so, but I would have to check the sign-offs on my work papers to confirm who worked on the work.
Q So you are not sure if you saw it or not?
I would have to double check, but I believe I would have probably seen it.
Q You probably did see it. Okay.
Let's go to the next asset, Trump Park venue. Did you see that?
gain, I would have to confirm who worked on it, and I would have to check the sign-offs in the binder.
Q So, you are not sure if you saw it in 2015?
I can't be sure what lines I looked at on the worksheet, or what lines I did not look at on the worksheet.
Q How about the club facilities, there. I think the first one is the Mar- -Lago club. Do you see that.
I can't tell you which exact lines I looked at on this worksheet, and which lines I looked at as part of my compilation procedures.
Q So you might have looked at some, and not others?
I may not have looked at every line in the worksheet.
Q You may not have looked at every line on the worksheet. Okay.

D. Bender - Cross by Mr. Suarez Page 380

Can you tell me how you would --
MR. SU REZ: Withdrawn.
Q So, you may not have looked at every line on this worksheet for club facilities?
No, sir.
Q ll right. Let's keep going.
Would you have looked at every line on the worksheet for the Trump International Golf Club, Florida?
I'm not sure which lines I would have looked at and didn't look at.
Q Okay. So you might have looked at some, and not others?
Yes, sir.
Q nd the Trump National Golf Club in Briarcliff, do you recall which lines you saw and which you didn't?
No, I do not recall, today, which lines I looked at and which lines I didn't.
Q So you may have looked at some, and not others?
That is possible.
Q ll right. nd the Trump National Golf Club in Bedminster, the next line, right there. Do you recall which of those you looked at, and which you didn't?
No, sir. I do not.
Q So, it's possible you may have looked at some and not

D. Bender - Cross by Mr. Suarez Page 381

others?
Yes, sir.
Q ll right. The Trump National Golf Club, Colts Neck, do you recall which of those lines you looked and which you didn't?
No, sir. I do not.
Q May have seen some, and not others?
That's correct.
Q The Trump National Golf Club, Washington D.C. Do you see that?
Yes, sir.
Q Do you recall which lines you looked at when you were compiling the Statement of Financial Condition in 2015?
No, I do not.
Q Okay. The Trump National Golf Club, Philadelphia. Which of those would you have reviewed? Which lines of those would you have reviewed, in connection with preparing the compilation?
I couldn't tell you which lines I looked at and which lines I didn't look at, today.
Q So you would have looked at some and not others?
I'm not sure what I looked at, today, and what I didn't look at.
THE COURT: Can we just agree that the questions will be the same, and the answers will be the same, for each one of these? We have gone through, I don't know, eight, ten. It's always the same.

I would ask Mr. Bender, you are more familiar with this document than I am: Will your answers be the same, if the questions are the same, as to each particular property?

THE WITNESS: I believe so, your Honor.

THE COURT: ll right. Then, let's move on.

MR. ROBERT: Your Honor, if I could just have 30 seconds to talk to my colleague, your Honor?

THE COURT: Sure.

(Whereupon, the witness spoke to the Court, off the record.)

THE COURT: You can get off the stand, but you can't talk about the case.

(Whereupon, there was a pause in the proceedings.)

Q Let's keep going through, here.

THE COURT: Not the same way.

MR. SU REZ: Your Honor, may I get through the spreadsheet, and I won't do it for every year. Just, I would like to get through one spreadsheet, as an example.

THE COURT: Fine.

MR. SU REZ: Thank you.

Q The Trump National Golf Club, Hudson Valley. Did you review every line here?

I couldn't tell you, today, if I looked at every line or I didn't look at every line.

Q For the assets that were on the Statement of Financial Condition, did you draw an understanding as to how they were valued?

Generally. So, I may not have known every asset, but I would have known a significant portion of them.

Q Okay. nd that was possible, without reviewing every line?

Yeah, because it was a lot of -- it was -- let me take it back. The footnotes of the financial statement disclosed certain methodologies that are included, so to that extent, I would have known. I may not have recalled if I looked at every one or not, today.

Q nd would you have looked at every one at the time?

I can't recall, today, what I did in 2015. Or 2016. Whenever the report was issued.

Q But you may have seen some, but not others?

I don't recall today, but I would have definitely seen some, yes.

Q nd there are some that you wouldn't have?

I didn't say that. I don't recall, today, what I look at in 2015, or '16.

Q You don't recall. ll right. So, for all of these different assets that are -- you would agree that the basis for valuation was disclosed to you?

I would have to look at -- I would say their methodology was disclosed. To the best of my recollection, that would be true.

Q The methodology was disclosed. Okay.

MR. SU REZ: If we can keep scrolling down.

Q The methodology with respect to these assets would have been disclosed to you in the Jeff Supporting Data, from year to year; correct?

To the best of my recollection that -- I believe that is true.

Q Okay.

MR. SU REZ: Keep scrolling. Keep scrolling. Stop.

Q Trump National Golf Club, Charlotte. Would you have seen this information?

I don't recall, today, if I looked at every line in the worksheet.

Q ll right. So it's not your testimony that you looked at every line on this worksheet?

It is not my testimony that I looked at every line in this worksheet.

Q Excellent.

My testimony is that I don't recall.

Q You don't recall if you looked at it?

I don't.

Q You may have looked at it and relied --

I don't remember at this moment. I don't think I looked at every line on this spreadsheet.

Q You don't think you looked at every line?

No.

Q Would that be true of the Jeff Supporting Data for each of the different years, you wouldn't have looked at every line on the spreadsheet?

I can't recall today if it would be true every year.

Q Was it your practice to look at every line on the spreadsheet?

I don't recall if I looked at every line every year.

Q You may have looked at some lines and may not have looked at others?

I don't recall today.

Q Did you ever express any disagreement-- did you ever bring up any disagreement on the basis of valuation of any asset?

Yes.

Q Which assets?

We discussed the Nike building yesterday. I don't

THE COURT: So, I understand some members of the press are coming in. Photographers. We are ready. Get your best smile.

(Photographs taken.)

THE COURT: Okay. Let's start, but I'm going to stay off the record for a minute.

(Whereupon, an off-the-record discussion took place.)

D N L D B E N D E R, after having been previously duly sworn, was examined and continued his testimony as follows:

THE COURT: ll right counselor whenever you are ready please proceed.

MR. SU REZ: Thank you your Honor.

CONTINUED CROSS EX MIN TION

BY MR. SU REZ:

Q Mr. Bender, good morning.

Good morning.

Q Did you discuss your testimony with anyone since you left the stand yesterday?

No, sir.

Q Mr. Bender, I would like to show you a document that was previously identified as Exhibit D 950.

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

Q It's an audit guide for personal financial statements.

Do you recognize that document?

MR. SU REZ: Can we turn to the second page?

Q It's an audit and accounting guide; right?

Second page?

Q Yes. Do you see where it says, Personal financial statement audit guide?

Okay. This copy doesn't -- it's on the third page. Yes. Yes, sir.

Q Is this a document that you would have reviewed, prior to preparing a compilation report for the Statements of Financial Condition for President Donald Trump?

I may not have reviewed it every year, but I probably have seen it, in my career.

Q You have probably seen it?

Yes.

Q nd the audit guide for personal financial statements published by the merican Institute of Certified Public accountants is this something that you would have endeavored to make yourself familiar with, prior to preparing compilation reports for President Trump's Statements of Financial Condition?

I was familiar with standard, at the time I prepared -- I compiled Mr. Trump's personal financial statements.

Q Sitting here today, do you have a recollection of having reviewed this audit guide prior to preparing compilation reports for the president's Statement of Financial Condition?

I have no independent memory of when I -- if I did it, at that time.
MR. W LL CE: We would like to just renew our objection to this exhibit, which, the first time I objected to this coming in -- it's been superseded. It was not in place at the time of 2011, or any engagement going forward.
THE COURT: Well, I have a more fundamental issue. It says, blah, blah, blah, udit guide. There was no audit here.
MR. SU REZ: Your Honor, I'm more than happy to respond with two comments. Number one, I'm simply trying to establish if Mr. Bender has looked at it or relied upon it; and number two is, it does, in fact, address the compilation standards within the guide. compilation is a form of attestation, like an auditor review. I know your Honor --
THE COURT: Okay. You have answered my objection. I'll overrule the plaintiff's objection.
MR. SU REZ: Thank you.
I would like to move Exhibit D 950 into evidence.
THE COURT: Granted. It's in evidence.
(Whereupon, Defendant's Exhibit 950 was received in evidence.)
Q Mr. Bender, is this a document that you looked at, prior to doing the compilation reports? Yes or no?

I looked at it, but I may not have looked at it every year.
Q You may not have looked at it every year. Did you look at it prior to 2011?
I don't have any independent memory of which years I looked at it.
Q Okay. Would you have relied on the audit guide?
It would have been something that we would have -- we would have, with help of members of Mazars, we would have used to rely on to compile the personal financial statements, as applicable.
Q This is something that would have been from Mazars' library?
I don't know if we had libraries in those days, anymore, but it would have been available online.
Q In the online collection of reference materials, Mr. Bender?
We would have to check that, specifically.
Q You wouldn't be sure?
I don't remember how things worked, back then.
Q Okay. Mr. Bender, if you could please turn to page 9 of this document? nd that's 9 of the compilation guide. It might not be the ninth page that's right in front of you.
MR. SU REZ: Keep going.

Q Chapter two. Do you see where this document reads, compilation of financial statements?
Yes, sir.
Q ll right. Do you see, in section 2.03, in the second line, where it says, " t a minimum, however the accountant should obtain an understanding of the methods by which the individual determined estimated current values of significant assets, and the estimated current amounts of significant liabilities, and consider whether the methods are appropriate, in light of the nature of each asset or liability?"
Yes, sir.
Q Okay.
MR. SU REZ: I would like to pull up Plaintiff's Exhibit 786.
I'm sorry. 787.
(Whereupon, a document was displayed.)
Q Mr. Bender, you would agree that this is a Statement of Financial Condition for the year ending June 30, 2011?
I'm just waiting for him to give it to me.
(Whereupon, a document was handed to the witness.)
Yes, sir.
Q Did the 2011 Statement of Financial Condition disclose the method used to determine the value of each asset?
I believe it did.

Q Yes or no, Mr. Bender.
I would have to read the whole statement.
Yes, I do believe it did.
Q So that's a yes; right?
I believe so.
Q The 2011 Statement of Financial Condition disclosed the method used to determine the amount of each liability; correct?
Yes, sir.
THE COURT: Let me just interrupt a second. I often say, If you are asked -- to the witness, directed to witnesses -- If you are asked a yes or no question, answer it yes or no unless you can't, in which case, "I believe," "I think so," is acceptable, if that's the truthful answer.
Q The 2011 Statement of Financial Condition did not present any asset or liability of an obviously inappropriate value or amount, Mr. Bender; is that correct?
t the time of the compilation procedures, we were not aware of any potential inappropriate valuations.
MR. SU REZ: Your Honor, that's not the question. I want to be mindful of the instructions you just gave us, but that's not the question that I asked, and I understand if the witness wishes to qualify a yes or a no, I have no problem with that, but the question was whether it presents and asset or liability at an obviously inappropriate value or amount. Mr. Bender produced the compilation report.

THE COURT: I agree with you. Okay.

So, do you want to read back; you want to just ask it one more time? Up to you.

Q Mr. Bender, did the 2011 Statement of Financial Condition present any asset or liability at an obviously inappropriate value or amount?

Not at the time we issued the compilation report.

Q Did the compilation report change, after you issued it?

No, sir.

Q Mr. Bender, if you could, please turn to Plaintiff's Exhibit 815?

re we finished with these?

Q You can set it aside.

Thank you.

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

Q Mr. Bender, the 2012 Statement of Financial Condition is on the screen; correct?

Yes, sir.

Q nd the 2012 Statement of Financial Condition disclosed the method used to determine the value of each asset; correct?

Yes, sir. I believe so.

Q nd the 2012 Statement of Financial Condition disclosed the method used to determine the amount of each liability correct; sir?

Yes. Yes, I believe so.

Q nd the 2012 Statement of Financial Condition did not present any asset or liability at an obviously inappropriate value or amount; correct, Mr. Bender?

That is correct as of the date, at the time we issued the compilation report. Report. Yes. Report.

Q nd the 2012 compilation report did not change, after it was issued; correct.

We did not change the report.

Q nd the 2012 Statement of Financial Condition did not change after it was issued; correct?

Mazars did not recall the statement -- let me take that back. The report did not change.

Q Did the statement change?

The statement did not change.

Q Because the report traveled with the statement; correct?

Yes, sir.

Q ll right. Let's turn to Plaintiff's Exhibit 707.

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

Q Mr. Bender, is this the Statement of Financial Condition for the year ending June 30, 2013, of President Donald J. Trump?

This is the compilation of Donald J. Trump's Statement of Financial Condition as of June 30, 2013.

Q The first page includes your compilation report; correct, Mr. Bender.

The first page?

Includes Mazars independent accountant's compilation report. Yes, sir.

Q Okay. nd the 2013 Statement of Financial Condition, Mr. Bender, disclosed the methods used to determine the value of each asset; correct?

I believe so.

Q You believe that?

Yes. I'm sorry. I left the word "yes" out.

Q nd the 2012 Statement of Financial Condition, Mr. Bender, disclosed the method used to determine the amount of each liability; correct?

Yes. I believe so.

MR. W LL CE: I'm just going to note an objection to that question, because he said 2012.

I'm also just going to note an objection to this as cumulative. We covered this ground yesterday, and if we are just going to go through, year-by-year, to get the same answer, this is exactly the issue we objected to yesterday.

THE COURT: nd I'm not going to change the ruling I made in the sidebar, but I accept the premise of it.

Mr. Suarez, how long do you think you will need, to finish cross examining this witness?

MR. SU REZ: Your Honor, I've formulated, following your Honor's direction, last night --

THE COURT: ll I did was ask you how long. How long?

MR. SU REZ: I believe I can be done within the next hour and a half.

THE COURT: Plaintiff?

MR. W LL CE: I would like it to be faster, but if that is a hard cap, I would just as soon move along.

THE COURT: ll right. In my discretion, you have an hour and a half. Until noon, basically. nd then, whatever it is. nd, if you want, you can finish earlier.

MR. SU REZ: Understood.

MR. ROBERT: s we discussed yesterday, your Honor, I have about ten minutes or so.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. SU REZ: Thank you for clarifying.

MR. MER: I am also suggesting that if there's some way that we can say, If I asked you the same questions with respect to the statements from 2013 to 2020 that I just asked you on the statements for 2011 and 2012, would your answers be the same, I mean maybe we can get there a little sooner.

THE COURT: That's sustained, as a suggestion. Yes.

MR. SU REZ: nd I did follow your direction. I'm down to three or four questions, per statement. I'm moving quickly.

THE COURT: Okay.

Q Mr. Bender, with respect to the 2013 Statement of Financial Condition, is it correct that it disclosed the method used to determine the amount of each liability?

Yes. I believe it is so.

Q Mr. Bender the 2013 Statement of Financial Condition did not present any asset or liability at an obviously inappropriate value or amount; correct?

Not as of the date that we issued the compilation report, independent compilation report.

Q nd Exhibit 707 did not change after it was issued; correct?

It did not change, sir.

Q Moving to Exhibit 730, Mr. Bender.

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

Q Is this the Statement of Financial Condition dated June 30, 2014, of Donald J. Trump?

Give me a second, please.

Yes, sir. It is.

Q nd Mr. Bender, the 2014 Statement of Financial Condition disclosed the method used to determine the value of each asset; correct?

Yes. I believe so.

Q The 2014 Statement of Financial Condition disclosed the method used to determine the amount of each liability; correct?

Yes. I believe so.

Q The 2014 Statement of Financial Condition did not present any asset or liability at an obviously inappropriate value or amount; correct?

Not as of the date we issued our independent compilation report.

Q nd Mr. Bender, Exhibit 730 did not change after it was issued; correct?

No, sir.

Q Moving on to Plaintiff's Exhibit 729.

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

Q Mr. Bender, is this the Statement of Financial Condition of President Donald J. Trump for the year ending June 30, 2015?

This is the compilation of the Donald J. Trump Statement of Financial Condition, as of June 30, 2015.

Q The 2015 Statement of Financial Condition disclosed the method used to determine the value of each asset; correct?

Yes. I believe so.

Q The 2015 Statement of Financial Condition disclosed the method used to determine the amount of each liability; correct?

Yes. I believe so.

Q The 2015 Statement of Financial Condition did not present any asset or liability at an obviously inappropriate value or amount; correct?

Not as of the date the independent compilation report was issued.

Q Did Exhibit -- did Plaintiff's Exhibit 729 change, after it was issued?

No, sir.

Q Thank you. Moving on to Plaintiff's Exhibit 756.

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

Q Mr. Bender, do you recognize Plaintiff's 756 as the Statement of Financial Condition of Donald J. Trump for the year ending --

MR. W LL CE: Objection, at this point. disclaimer. Mr. Bender viewed and identified it previously, and it was entered into evidence. I think we can just say what the document is that he has identified, and ask questions. I don't know that he needs to review it and identify it again.

THE COURT: No need to reinvent the wheel.

MR. SU REZ: If there's an easier way to do it, I'm happy to do it, your Honor. Just for the witness's benefit.

MR. MER: I thought I suggested an easier way that the judge sustained as a suggestion. Why can't we do that?

THE COURT: I'm torn. On the one hand, it is deja vu all over again. On the other hand, I gave him an hour and a half. So, let's try not to go over the same ground that we have already gone over, and any way you can think to save time, please do it.

MR. SU REZ: We are already halfway through, your Honor.

Q Exhibit -- Plaintiff's Exhibit 856 did not change after it was issued, correct?

No, sir, it did not.
Q Mr. Bender, you never spoke with Eric Trump about his father's Statement of Financial Condition, correct?
I may have had -- nothing with the actual compilation of the report.
Q What does that mean?
I may have had a side conversation with him once about something. I don't recall.
Q You don't recall?
Yes.
Q Is there any conversation you do recall having with Eric Trump about his father's Statement of Financial Condition?
There was one conversation in a conference room about one asset once but I don't recall what it was. Many years ago, I believe.
Q How many years ago, Mr. Bender?
I know within the last ten years.
Q Within the last ten years?
Yes.
Q ll right. Can we bring up-- do you recall having a discussion with me about this at your deposition, Mr. Bender?
I do not recall that.
Q Would it be helpful to refresh your recollection if I showed you a clip from your deposition transcript?

You can show me a clip.
MR. SU REZ: Please play transcript 237, page 237 line 7 to 238 line 18.
(Video played.)
Q Why is it that you have any better recollection today, Mr. Bender?
I remember one conversation maybe when he asked me a question in the conference room once about an asset but I don't remember which asset it was. It wasn't the actual preparation, but, I do remember one question one time.
Q Mr. Eric Trump asked you a question?
There was one conversation for a minute or two. I don't remember what it was about.
Q You responded to Mr. Eric Trump's question?
The issue was resolved. I don't remember what the issue was.
Q Whatever the issue was, it was resolved to your satisfaction?
Yes, sir.
Q n issue that you can't remember what it was?
Yes, sir.
Q Mr. Bender, did you ever speak with Donald Trump, Jr. about his Statement of Financial Condition?
Not that I recall.

Q Mr. Bender, you never spoke with Ivanka Trump about her father's Statement of Financial Condition, correct, Mr. Bender?
Not that I recall.
Q Mr. Bender, in fact, with respect to Ms. Trump, are you aware she invested over $7.5 million under the terms of a lease into penthouse 20 at the Trump Park venue?
Say that again, please.
Q re you aware of Ms. Trump, Ms. Ivanka Trump ever invested $7.5 million under the terms of the lease into penthouse 20 at the Trump Park venue?
MR. W LL CE: Objection.
THE COURT: Ground?
MR. W LL CE: No foundation for that question.
THE COURT: I don't think the way it's worded needs a foundation. Let's just get an answer. Go ahead.
I don't recall.
Q Mr. Bender, you described Mr. McConney, several times, as someone for whom you have a tremendous amount of respect?
I said he was a good accountant.
Q Do you have a tremendous amount of respect for Mr. Bender?
THE COURT: For Mr.?
MR. SU REZ: I'm sorry.

D. Bender - Cross/Suarez Page 529

Q For Mr. McConney?
Not really, no.
Q Do you recall your testimony from Monday?
I do not.
MR. SU REZ: I'd like to bring that up, if I may use it to refresh the witness's recollection, your Honor. Your Honor, may I have a second?
THE COURT: Sure.
(Brief pause.)
MR. SU REZ: I apologize. We're having technical difficulties.
THE COURT: These things happen but it's part of your hour and a half.
MR. SU REZ: I understand.
Q I apologize. October 3rd, it was Tuesday. You say, Mr. Bender, where I asked you:
"You and Mr. McConney were close friends at one point; were you not."
You said: "We didn't have a relationship outside of work but we get long well."
I said: "You got along well?"
nd you said: "I had a tremendous respect for him. He is a very good accountant."
That's past tense. You asked me if I have tremendous respect today.

D. Bender - Cross/Suarez Page 530

Q You lost your respect for Mr. McConney?
It's a little different today than it was back when we were younger.
Q When you were younger?
When I had hair and he had hair too, and, his hair was blond back then, not white.
Q Is that Mr., Bender, because-- withdrawn.
Did you ask Mr. McConney to provide you everything that he had relied upon in coming up with the supporting data for the Statements of Financial Condition?
He was supposed to get us all information that he had to -- he was giving us a full package of what he thought was necessary.
Q Of what he thought was necessary?
He gave us all his supporting data.
Q His supporting data for things he used to prepare the Statement of Financial Condition supporting data, correct?
Say that again, please.
Q Information that he used to prepare the supporting data spreadsheets?
Yes, and, I'd ask for supplemental things, like appraisals, that we previously discussed, if any.
Q Did he ask you to provide you things that he didn't use in preparing the Statement of Financial Condition?
Say that again, please.

D. Bender - Cross/Suarez Page 531

Q Did he-- withdrawn.
Did you ask Mr. McConney to provide you with things that he didn't use in preparing his supporting data spreadsheets?
MR. W LL CE: Objection. sked and answered.
THE COURT: It's a strange question. Can you read back that question? Maybe I missed something.
(Read back.)
THE COURT: Well, again, I'm not an accountant but I don't know why you'd ask for things he didn't use. You'd ask for things he did use.
MR. SU REZ: If it's that he didn't ask him, then he didn't ask him to give him things he didn't use.
THE COURT: I'm overruling the objection. I'm just telling you how I see things.
I did ask him for things like appraisals that he did not use.
Q You asked him?
From-- not in every year, as I previously testified. I did ask a number of years for appraisals.
Q The only thing you asked him to produce to you, to send you, were appraisals that he didn't use in preparing the Statement of Financial Condition; is that correct?
That is the only thing I can recall at this time.
Q That is the only thing you can recall. The only thing you can recall.

Page 532

You never sent Mr. McConney an e-mail?
I don't recall.
Q You never sent Mr. McConney an e-mail asking him to send you every appraisal, correct?
I never sent him an e-mail asking for every appraisal, no, sir. To the best of my recollection, no.

Q Did you send him an email saying, I never asked, please send me every appraisal you didn't use in preparing your supporting data?
No, sir.
Q Did you send him a text message asking him to send you every appraisal he didn't use in preparing his supporting data?
I don't use text that much. No, sir.
Q Did you ever send him an email asking him to send you any appraisals?
I don't recall.
Q Did you ever ask him to provide you with appraisals in the presence of anyone else?
I don't recall.
Q Did you ever ask him to send you any appraisals in writing?
Can you clarify that question, please?
Q Did you ever ask Jeff McConney to send you any appraisals in writing?
In writing?
Q Did you ever write Mr. McConney and say, Please send me any appraisals?
Not that I recall.
Q Not that you recall.
Did you ever have this discussion with Mr. McConney asking him to provide you with appraisals he didn't use, while anyone else was present?

I don't recall.
Q You knew that the Trump Organization had appraisals in their possession; correct?
Not necessarily.
Q You had no idea that the Trump Organization had appraisals in his possession?
I knew there were certain appraisals that had been given. I don't recall any other appraisals that I --
Q re you familiar with the real estate industry?
Somewhat.
Q Somewhat. You are not an expert in real estate; right?
I'm a real estate accountant.
Q real estate accountant?
mongst other areas.
Q nd a real estate accountant couldn't be expected to know that a company that owns massive amounts of real estate would have appraisals in its files?
I asked for, if they have any appraisals.
Q You asked?
Yes.
Q In passing?
Q Did you ever make that request, in writing?

No, sir.
Q Was that an important thing for you to look at?
Say that again, please.
Q Were appraisals an important thing for you to look at?
I would have liked to have had all information available.
Q Okay. You knew that the Trump Organization had loans on its books; correct?
Yes, sir.
Q nd you knew that those loans were backed by real estate, right; Mr. Bender?
Many of them.
Q Many of them. nd you knew that you typically, in real estate, can't get a loan backed by real estate if there's no appraisal that the bank orders; right?
That is sometimes correct, yes.
Q Okay. So you would have known that the Trump Organization had appraisals in its records?
I didn't know that the Trump Organization had access to any appraisals the banks had.
Q It's not a staggering concept to understand that a company that owns insane amounts of real estate all over the world had appraisals in its books?
I didn't know the Trump Organization had any access to appraisals they did not give me.

Q Okay. nd how many appraisals did the Trump Organization give you, Mr. Bender?
I don't recall.
Q You don't recall. Do you remember on Monday when you talked about learning that there were appraisals that you didn't know about after meeting with the District ttorney of New York?
Say that again, please?
Q Do you recall on Monday what you testified in response to a question from Mr. Wallace about first learning that the Trump Organization had appraisals that you didn't know about, when you met with the District ttorney of New York?
Not particularly. That's what I said.
Q I'm sorry?
Not particularly.
Q You don't recall your testimony, or you don't recall learning that from the District ttorney of New York?
I don't remember my exact testimony.
Q You don't recall your exact testimony --
MR. SU REZ: This is what happens when I try to go fast.
Q nd you generally remember testifying on Monday that in your meeting with the District ttorney of New York, you learned, or you testified that that was when you learned, that the Trump Organization had appraisals that you hadn't seen?
Yes. That, I do recall.

Q Okay. nd that, just so I understand your testimony Mr. Bender, that was the first time you learned that the Trump Organization had appraisals that it hadn't given you?
Yes, sir.
Q Okay. nd you couldn't really remember what year that meeting took place; is that right?
The first meeting with the District ttorney?
Q Yeah.
I believe of was in the spring of -- that was 20 -- the last time -- I believe it was in the spring of '21.
Q Okay. nd you remembered having a Zoom meeting with him, and that's when he showed you these appraisals?
It was. It was a Zoom -- we were on Zoom with the District ttorney, so this is the first time -- I don't know if we were saw them physically, but this was the first time I was informed of it.
Q nd then all of a sudden, you remember having made a request, back in 2013, that appraisals -- that you had made a request for appraisals from Mr. McConney; is that right, Mr. Bender?
No, sir. I remember it because I requested it.
Q You remembered that, over a number of years. Did you ask in 2013?
I don't remember specifically which years, but I know I asked the question numerous sometimes.

Q Oh you asked the question numerous times?
Most of my years I did ask, yes. nd starting around, I believe -- I thought I testified yesterday -- when we -- the appraisals first appeared for TIHT Commercial, LLC or Trump Plaza, LLC, I asked -- that's when I starting asking, Do you have any other appraisals.
Q nd that's when you first learned that the Trump Organization had access to appraisals?
Say that again, please?
Q That is what you first learned that the Trump Organization had access to appraisals?
That's the first time that it came to my attention, during the compilation procedure, that I asked the question.
Q You told me at one point that you were the head of the Long Island Real Estate Group for Mazars; is that correct?
Yes, sir.
Q The Long Island Real Estate Group for a big fancy accounting firm and you didn't know that a real estate developer would have appraisals on its real estate available to them?
I asked the client the question. They made a representation. They gave it to me, and they told me they didn't have any other appraisals.
Q You asked -- well, your testimony is that you made a request to Mr. McConney that was never documented.
I asked them for appraisals -- let me finish. I asked. The representation letter said that they gave me all relevant -- whatever we pulled. I don't want to say what the representation letter said, off the top of my head. We can bring one up. But they represented they gave me everything I needed.

Q The representation letter that you drafted, and didn't request appraisals?
The representation letter asked for all relevant data. We can get the exact language, if you would like to.
Q nd do you think, Mr. Bender, that all relevant data includes things that people don't rely on, in preparing documents? Is that relevant data?
I felt -- yes, I do.
Q Okay. So, the head of the Long Island Real Estate Practice Group at Mazars, the big fancy accounting firm that the president hired to compile their Statements of Financial Condition, thinks that it's relevant to review appraisals that weren't relied on in preparing spreadsheets, but never puts it in writing, doesn't put it as part of his representation letter that he drafted for his client of 30 years to sign, and all of a sudden this becomes an issue when you are in front of the District ttorney?
No, sir. I asked them, at the time.
Q Oh. t the time. Never followed up. Never said to Weisselberg, Hey, send your appraisals. Never sent the president an email saying, Hey, I don't have a single appraisal for your massive, giant real estate holding company that we have done over 280 engagements for, that you prepare tax returns, that you know have books and records and loans, it never crossed your mind that is an entity that could have appraisals?

MR. W LL CE: Objection to form.
THE COURT: That's not what he's testifying to. Objection sustained.
Q Mr. Bender, did the District ttorney of New York threaten you with prosecution?
No, they did not.
Q Did they threaten Mazars with prosecution?
Not to my knowledge.
Q Do you know that Mr. Pomerantz, the gentlemen that you met with when you met with the district attorney, put in his book that Mazars sent you there to meet without your own lawyer?
You informed me of that.
Q Yes. nd is that the case, that Mazars sent you in there to meet with the District ttorney of New York without your own lawyer?
I had counsel with me.
Q Counsel from Mazars?
I believe they were my counsel.
Q You thought Mazars lawyers were your lawyers?
I had my own counsel.

Q Okay. From Mazars?
Mazars and I had counsel.
Q So is Mr. Pomerantz lying, in his book?
I never saw Mr. Pomerantz's book, but --
Q Okay.
Let me finish. I had counsel with me, and I was satisfied that I had appropriate counsel at all times.
Q nd was that when Mr. Pomerantz informed Mazars of the precarious legal position that they were in, if they didn't play ball?
I have no knowledge of that.
Q You have no knowledge of that. The lawyers Mazars provided you when they met with the District ttorney told you nothing about that?
I have no knowledge of that.
Q Okay. nd it was in this meeting when, all of a sudden, it dawns on you that you had made a request for appraisals?
No, sir. I knew I had made the request, beforehand.
Q Right. nd you never got it?
Never received it. Requesting additional -- when the question came up, Do you have any official appraisals to give me, they never supplied me with any additional appraisals.
Q Mr. Bender, in the last three days, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, you testified, "I don't know," or, "I don't remember," over 89 times in response to questions, both from me and Mr. Wallace.

Mr. who?
Q Wallace.
Okay. Sorry. My apologies.
THE COURT: It was his birthday yesterday.
THE WITNESS: Mr. Wallace's birthday?
MR. W LL CE: The nightmare continues.
THE WITNESS: Happy birthday.
Q But that, you do remember?
What was the question again, please?
Q You do remember requesting appraisals from Mr. McConney?
Numerous times. Yes, sir.
Q Numerous times. Numerous times, and you never received them?
I never received any -- I did not receive any additional appraisals, that they didn't supply as part of his package.
Q nd you said, Oh, okay. The Trump Organization must not have appraisals.
THE COURT: That's not his testimony.
Q Did you conclude that the Trump Organization didn't have appraisals?
I didn't need to make a conclusion. I asked the question; they gave me an answer; and they made representations that they gave me all relevant data.

Q Okay. nd in your --
I don't know the exact words. We can pull it up on the screen.
Q We are happy to pull them up.
In your mind, relevant data is documents that you didn't rely on?
We can pull it up.
Q Okay. Mr. Bender, I have to ask you the question, are there any mental health reasons that you can't testify here today?
No, sir.
MR. W LL CE: Objection.
THE COURT: Overruled.
Q Let me show you Defendant's Exhibit 729.
(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)
Do you want me to read this?
Q Have you seen it before?
I have to read it.
Q Okay.
(Whereupon, there was a pause in the proceedings.)
Q I can draw your attention to the specific part of the document I intend to ask you about. On page two of the document, a document prepared by Mazars and sent to the Trump Organization concerning the transition away from Mazars to a new accounting firm.

MR. W LL CE: Just, objection. What is the basis for that? I'm just not familiar with the basis for the statement that this was drafted on Mazars and to the Trump Organization.
THE COURT: Well, I'll give counsel a little leeway.
So, where we are going?
Q It talks about Mazars' transition being contingent on the physical and mental health of Donald Bender.
I see that.
Q Okay. Did you disclose to Mazars that you had a mental health condition that precluded them from terminating -- from continuing their transition to a new accounting entity?
No, sir.
Q Then why would Mazars imply to us, to the Trump Organization, that your mental health was a consideration in whether they could continue to transition and comply with their professional obligations in assisting to transitioning to a new accounting firm?
MR. W LL CE: Objection to the implication part.
THE COURT: Overruled.

You would have to ask Mazars.
Q Okay. Was there ever a physical or mental condition that should have been disclosed to the Trump Organization?
ny health issues I had, they were aware of.
Q The Trump Organization was aware?
Mr. Weisselberg knew I had certain health issues, over the years, but nothing serious.
Q Okay. So you discussed your personal health issues with Mr. Weisselberg?
We had some common health issues over the years.
Q Okay. But you never said to Mr. Weisselberg, someone that you could talk to about your health issues, you never said to him, Let me see your appraisals?
I don't recall if I ever asked Mr. Weisselberg for his appraisals.
Q ll right. I'm sorry?
I don't recall if I spoke to Mr. Weisselberg about appraisals.
Q Okay. You don't recall, you don't recall, you don't recall.
So, for specific questions you don't recall, other than you do remember, you do recall, asking Jeff McConney for an appraisal, but everyone else, you don't recall anything else --
MR. SU REZ: Withdrawn.
Q Is there any reason here, based on this document that we received from Mazars, that your testimony shouldn't be relied on because of your mental or physical health?

This memo was drafted by Mazars, no, I have no physical or mental health issues that you have to be worried about, today.
Q You disclosed no physical or mental health issues to Mazars?
I have had some health issues, and Mazars is aware of them, and nothing serious?
Q Did any of them impair your ability to do your job for the Trump Organization, Mr. Bender?
My physical issues have been the last few months, and they were resolved within two weeks.
Q nd were there any mental health issues that challenged your memory when you conducted your engagements for the Trump Organization?
No, sir.
Q Okay. That, you do recall; correct?
I have no mental health issues.
MR. SU REZ: No further questions on cross examination, your Honor.
THE COURT: Thank you. Will there be --
MR. ROBERT: Me, sir.
THE COURT: That's right. You wanted ten minutes, I believe.

MR. ROBERT: May I proceed, your Honor?
THE COURT: Please proceed.
CROSS-EX MIN TION
BY MR. ROBERT:
Q Good morning, Mr. Bender. It's still morning?
Good morning.
Q So, in order to-- when I was sitting there yesterday I had a little bit of difficulty hearing you. So, what I'm going to ask you to do is speak into the mic, and, following the Judge's admonition, or statement, a while ago, I'm going to ask you to give me yes or no answers to my questions.
To the extent you feel you can't, I know the Judge said you can say it's not able to be answered. So, ask me, and, I'll be happy to rephrase the question so we can have a dialogue and it's easier for the reporter to write it down. Fair enough, sir?
We'll do our best.
Q So, over the last couple of days where Mr. Suarez left off --
THE COURT: Wait a minute. That was supposed to be a yes or no question.
MR. ROBERT: I'm starting out that way. It's going to wind up with a yes or no, I promise.
Q In Mr. Suarez's last few minutes of his questioning of you, he brought to your attention, correct, that over the last few days you answered "I don't know" and "I don't recall" approximately 90 times.

Do you remember that?
I believe he said 89, but you can check the court record.
Q So, that you remember, and I'm glad you do. You're an accountant, and I'm a lawyer. So, you're good with numbers. So, about 89 times, right?
I believe that's what he said.
Q Okay. Do you recall a couple of days ago, actually Wednesday morning, which would have been yesterday morning, Mr. Suarez asked you the following:
"Question: Did your counsel speak to anyone from the New York ttorney General's Office?"
You said:
" nswer: You have to speak with them."
Then the question was:
" re you aware if your counsel spoke to anyone from the New York ttorney General's Office?
" nswer: I don't recall any conversation with counsel last night.
So, is your testimony that when you were here yesterday morning testifying, you don't remember if you had a conversation with your counsel the night before?
Say that again, please.

Q Yesterday morning you testified that you couldn't recall if you had a conversation with your counsel Tuesday night.

So, you don't remember yesterday morning whether your lawyer spoke with the ttorney General Tuesday night?

I don't remember Wednesday morning if I had a consult Tuesday night? I do not know what conversations my client -- my counsel had -- my counsel had with the ttorney General.

Q Did you speak to your lawyer Tuesday night, yes or no? I don't want to know the contents of it, but, did you speak with your lawyer Tuesday night?

I believe I did.

Q s you sit here today, on Thursday morning, you don't remember if, on Tuesday night, after your first day of testimony, you spoke could your lawyer; is that your testimony?

Say that again, please.

Q Is it your testimony, as you sit here today, on Thursday morning, that you don't remember if on Tuesday night you spoke to your lawyer or not?

I spoke to my lawyer because they wanted --

Q Don't tell me what you spoke about, please.

You're right.

Q Now, you remember you spoke to him Tuesday night?

Yes.

Q Did you speak to him last night?

Yes.

Q Do you know if he spoke to the ttorney General last night?

I do not know.

Q During the course of Mr. Suarez's examination of you, you said that during the course of your engagement for the Trump Organization there were two or three times that you had a question about how they were handling certain G P issues in the Statement of Financial Condition.

Do you remember that?

No, I do not remember that being my testimony. I believe, if we're talking about the same matter, I believe there were two or three times where we discussed G P exceptions.

Q There were two or three times, during the course of your engagement, where you discussed G P exceptions, correct? Yes or no?

There were two or three times where we discussed it, newer G P exceptions. I believe my testimony was two times, not three times.

Q So, there were two times you talked to the Trump Organization about issues of G P exceptions, correct?

That's all I recall at this moment.

Q That is all you recall at this moment, that there were two times, correct?

That is all I can recall right now.

Q Will you agree with me G P exceptions are an important part of a Statement of Financial Condition?

Yes, sir.

Q s a matter of fact, at the beginning of the Statement of Financial Condition is where it's listed what those G P exceptions are, correct?

Yes, sir.

Q nd I know you testified you're --

Let's take it back. There are two or three times where I discussed new G P exceptions with him.

Q New G P exceptions and every time you had a conversation, the Trump Organization agreed with what your assessment was and either-- it changed the G P exceptions to reflect something that you and Mazars were comfortable with, correct?

Yes, sir.

Q So, every time you, as the accountant, go to the Trump Organization, you have a discussion about a concern you have about G P, they comply with what you're suggesting, correct?

It's a simple question, sir. Please.

We came to a --

MR. ROBERT: Your Honor, please.

THE COURT: I believe it's capable of a yes or no.

Yes.

Q Yes. Then the period of those times, you were the partner in charge of the Statement of Financial Condition project, correct?

I was a partner in charge of the compilation, yes.

Q Okay. We talked about, or Mr. Suarez talked to you the other day about SC 274. You remember that?

I don't remember the exact questions, no, sir.

Q Do you remember that the words SC 274 were discussed over the last few days?

Yes.

Q I'll be honest with you, before this trial, I would have thought it was a motor oil. I wouldn't have known it has anything to do with accounting, but, you know SC 274 has to do with accounting, correct?

Yes, sir.

Q I think your testimony was if you had specific questions about it, you'd go next door or talk to somebody else at Mazars, correct?

Yes, sir.

Q Can we at least agree you have the requisite knowledge and experience and training to know that SC 274 is the governing principles behind what needs to be in a Statement of Financial Condition?

Would you agree with that?
t the time I was doing the engagement, I had the appropriate knowledge, correct.
Q So --
THE COURT: Wait a minute. That didn't answer the question.
MR. ROBERT: Can we have the question read back?
THE COURT: Please read back and listen carefully.
MR. ROBERT: Thank you.
(Read back.)
Yes, sir.
Q Okay. During the time that you were in charge of the Statement of Financial Condition assignment from-- on behalf of Mazars for the Trump Organization, you had that knowledge, correct?
Yes.
Q To the extent you had specific questions about it, you would go to other people within Mazars to ask specific questions, correct?
Yes, sir.
Q That you remember, correct?
Yes, sir.

Q Okay. But as you sit here today, you also remember now that you asked Jeff McConney every year for appraisals; is that what your testimony is?
I said most years.
Q So --
Started in, approximately, I believe, you can check my testimony. I thought I said something like 2013.
Q Can you speak into the microphone?
Can't get much closer without kissing it.
Q I don't think it wants that. Don't worry.
It's the first time I've had one without a cover since I've testified in the last few years. I believe my testimony is, I asked most years. I could have missed one but I did ask most years and I believe my testimony was 2013. I believe, but, we can pull that up, if you'd like to confirm that.
Q So, your testimony today, under oath, is that you, specifically, recall, on one or more occasions, Jeff McConney to give you every appraisal that he had. Is that your testimony?
My testimony is --
Q Yes or no, sir, please.
My testimony is that I asked for -- do you have any other appraisals.
Q That is not my question, sir. Did you or did you not, as you sit here today under oath, ask Jeff McConney, on one or more occasions, give me all the appraisals you have. Yes or no?

That's not the words I used. My words were, do you have any other appraisals.
Q So, is your testimony then that it was only on a year that you got one appraisal, you'd ask him if he had more appraisals? Yes or no, sir?
No. My testimony is that when the Trump Plaza LLC, Trump Plaza LLC, and TIHT Commercial LLC appraisal appeared, I asked: Do you have any-- that's when I started asking: Do you have more appraisals.
Q Mr. Bender, please. You keep saying when you started. I'm trying to make it clear for the record because in a little while, Mr. McConney will raise his right hand and will be asked these very same questions by Mr. Wallace and his colleagues, because I want to tee this up now because I, respectfully submit, there is going to be a difference. So, let's be clear.
So, is it your testimony now that on specific years, you told Jeff McConney: Give me all the appraisals you have. Yes or no?
My --
Q Please, sir. Mr. Wallace can --
THE COURT: Yes or no. If you want it read back, read it back or --

THE WITNESS: Read it back.
THE COURT: Let's have a read back.
(Read back.)
I would submit that's the word "ask" not "told" but the answer would be yes.
THE COURT: Is that sufficient?
MR. ROBERT: I'm going to probe a little, sir.
Q So, you asked Jeff McConney every year to give you appraisal's to the extent he had any appraisals. That's your testimony under oath?
Say that question again, please.
Q Your testimony under oath today is that every year you asked Jeff McConney to provide you with any appraisal he may have had; yes or no, sir?
I never said every year.
Q You don't recall. Let's take a step back.
On the years that you did, is that question-- is that the way you phrased it to Mr. McConney?
The way I phrased it to Mr. McConney is: Do you have any other appraisals.
Q Mr. Bender, we're having a disconnect here, because, when you say: Do you have any others, that presupposes there was one. So, since you don't remember what year it was, I was trying to help jog your memory.

D. Bender - Cross/Robert Page 557

So, is it your testimony then that only on the years when you got one appraisal, you said: Hey, Jeff, do you have any more?

My testimony is when I got THIT Commercial and Trump Plaza Commercial's appraisals, I said: re there any more appraisals.

Q So, that is one time?

No, that is when it started, and, I asked most years.

Q You asked-- so, on a year that there were no other appraisals given to you as backup for the SOFC, you said: Hey, Jeff, do you have any other appraisals?

I asked him: Do you have appraisals, at the time the first ones appeared.

Q So, your testimony is, after the first one appeared in the year, you don't know every year, you would say to Jeff McConney, do you have any other appraisals, even if he didn't give you any appraisals for that year? Yes or no, sir? Please.

Say that, again, please.

MR. ROBERT: Can I have it read back, please?

THE COURT: Read back.

Yeah.

MR. W LL CE: I'm going to object at this point. His testimony has been clear. Mr. Robert keeps rephrasing it in different forms.

D. Bender - Cross/Robert Page 558

THE COURT: Overruled. I hope we don't need another read back. Let me see.

MR. ROBERT: I'm trying to do it in as tight a way I can, Judge.

THE COURT: You seem to be asking if there weren't any, would he ask for any others, and, logically, you can't say are there any others, if there weren't any.

MR. ROBERT: That is what I'm going to get at. I respectfully summit you're going to here diametrically opposed testimony, either today or tomorrow, from Mr. McConney, because, in my opening, I told it's all about credibility, and, I stand before you today saying the same thing.

So, I want to figure out exactly what it is you say you said because that is not the way we see things.

MR. W LL CE: I will object to the representation about what other people will testify to that have not appeared in court.

THE COURT: Sustained. You should not do that. I think I have it fairly simple.

MR. ROBERT: Please try, Judge.

THE COURT: If you didn't receive any appraisals for a given year, would you actually say: Do you have any others?

D. Bender - Cross/Robert Page 559

THE WITNESS: Do you have any appraisals. Do you have any others. I apologize to the Court if I had the wrong word, but, starting at the point when he started giving me appraisals, I started asking: Do you have any other appraisals or you have any appraisals -- or have any appraisals. I started asking for appraisals at the point when the first appraisal appeared.

Q That is different from what you've been saying. So, let's be clear.

re you saying that you would either say to him: Now, do you have any appraisals, or, do you have any other appraisals, or, to you, does it mean the same thing?

To me, it's the same thing.

Q So, you don't remember exactly what it is you said to Mr. McConney on the years you don't remember what the years were?

I don't remember word for word but I know I asked for appraisals.

Q You know you asked Jeff McConney for appraisals. You don't remember the words you used?

I --

Q Correct? Yes or no?

No, I do not remember the exact words.

Q No one was witnessing when you asked for these, correct?

D. Bender - Cross/Robert Page 560

I don't recall.

Q You didn't send him any e-mails about it?

No, I don't recall.

Q You didn't send him any text messages about it?

I don't text, generally.

Q You don't recall texts. You don't recall e-mails. You don't recall if anyone is in the room, but, you have a specific recollection today that you asked him for it, but, you still don't remember if you even spoke to your lawyer two nights ago, right?

I said I did speak to my lawyer two nights ago.

Q You don't really know what you asked Jeff McConney for. Do you, sir?

Yes, I do.

Q Sir, you're aware of the accepted standards of practice for an accountant, correct? Generally speaking?

Generally speaking, yes, sir.

Q You know that if you depart from generally accepted accounting standards, liability can be imposed, correct?

Yes.

Q It can be liability in terms of accounting malpractice, correct?

I believe so.

Q nd there can be regulatory and criminal obligations that flow from it, correct?

Yes, sir.
Q You know, as you sit here today, that, to the extent you give any admission that shows you departed from general and accepted accounting standards, that potentiality you and Mazars will be sued by our clients, correct?
I never really thought about that.
Q You never thought about the fact that there was liability? Perhaps, that our client would sue Mazars or you?
It wasn't my biggest concern, no, sir.
Q You just went from it wasn't a concern to it wasn't your biggest concern. Can we at least agree it was a concern of yours?
Not really sir, no. I wasn't worry about it.
Q You didn't worry about that. You're not worried your testimony today will be scrutinized by regulator, or are you?
Never thought about it.
Q What about the authorities?
Which authorities?
Q The District ttorney's Office, US ttorney. You're not concerned your testimony will be scrutinized by them?
No, sir.
Q Okay. That, you're certain of?
Yes, sir.
Q You know, another thing you weren't too sure about over the last few days is how big a client our clients were to you.

Do you remember, generally, that testimony?
I don't remember the exact revenue stream, if that's what you're talking about.
Q I think we established pretty clearly that in any given year for the last ten years, the fees generated by Mazars was over a million dollars?
Yes.
Q Some years, as high as 2.6 million?
I don't recall the exact number.
Q Can we at least agree they were your biggest client?
My biggest client, yes.
Q Can we agree they were a cache client to have?
Me, personally?
Q Yes.
I wasn't really into-- it wasn't a cache thing for me.
Q Do you think, as you sit here today, you would have been made a partner at a large firm like Mazars but for the fact the Trump Organization and affiliated members were your clients?
I can't speak to what Mazars would have done or didn't do.
Q How much of your business, percentage-wise, is not Trump related-- withdrawn.

From 2010 to 2020, on average --
MR. ROBERT: nd I'm not going year by year, Judge. I promise.
Q For those ten years, on average, the Trump Organization was your largest clients, right?
Yes, sir.
Q More than 50 percent of your revenue was generated by them, correct?
Yes, sir.
Q If we added up all the other clients you had, it was going to be less than the amount of money the Trump Organization generated for fees for you, correct, in any given year? True?
Yes, sir.
Q Okay. You know, there was also some testimony about your-- and I'm going to use the word, and then I'll change it. Your review of the McConney spreadsheets. You remember?
I don't remember using the word "review".
Q There was a whole back and for you and Mr. Suarez using the word "review." It dawned on me, to accountants, review means something different than it means to the rest of us, right?
Yes.
Q We have three levels to review. Financials, right? We have an audit?

You're using the word "review" inappropriately, but, I understand where you're going.
Q That's great because during the break, since we were allowed to bring in our iPads, I was looking for a synonym for review so I can use a word we both agree on.
Can we use the word inspect?
Look at.
Q Well, it's funny. You have a different-- I looked at the definition of look because you had a different definition of "look" yesterday. When you said "look" is kind of skimming. You remember that?
No.
Q When you look at something. When you look at something are you comprehending what's in there?
THE COURT: This is starting to sound like the interrogation of Bill Clinton. It depends upon what the definition of "is" is.
Q I want to ask some questions about the McConney spreadsheets and I know if I used the word "review," the answer will be I didn't, and, I appreciate it wasn't a review, and, I can't say did you compilate the spreadsheet. So, I'm trying to come to a term we can agree on.
THE COURT: He's suggested looked at and inspect.
Worked on.

Q Worked on? Okay.
Use. Use. Whatever you prefer.
Q So, you worked on?
Used, I like but go ahead.
Q Used is a better word?
Yes, sir.
Q Okay. So, my English will be a little bad for the record because I'll use the word "use". You used the McConney spreadsheets?
Mazars used the McConney spreadsheets, yes.
Q So did you?
I'm part of Mazars. Yes, sir. I was part of Mazars.
Q When this was discussed the other day, the Judge took judicial notice the other day that companies act through people.
So, can we agree that Mazars acted through you as the primary liaison with the defendants in this case? Fair enough?
Yes, sir.
Q Okay.
For a number of years.
Q I'm sorry?
For the last --
Q Last ten years. Before 2020. 2010 to 2020?

Yes, sir.
Q We can agree on that? Okay.
When you used the McConney spreadsheets, you made a very big point of saying you didn't go through them line by line. Remember that?
Yes, sir.
Q I want to be clear. I'm not suggesting -- we can take a step back.
Do you think you had an obligation to go through them line by line?
No, sir.
Q We can agree, in a world of levels of seniority in an organization, you may not be looking line by line, like I might not be looking at citations in a brief. Somebody else may be doing it but I'm signing my name to it, like you're signing your name to Statements of Financial Condition?
Yes, sir.
Q I don't want to waste the Court's time putting it on the screen, but, in addition to their being a line-by-line Excel spreadsheet, there was descriptions under each category of how Mr. McConney came to his valuations, correct?
I don't know if there's each category.
Q Sorry?
I'm not sure if there were descriptions in each category.

Q Well, sir, again in trying to do this quickly, can we agree as to the main assets held by the Trump Organization when we come to a value, whether it was Trump Tower, seven Springs, one of the other-- 40 Wall. On the McConney spreadsheet, he would explain how he came to the valuation?
We can put it on the screen but I want to save time.
There is a detailed cross-reference, but, for instance, cash-- I don't know if there is a description.
Q I didn't ask about cash. Did you call the bank to verify how much money was in the bank?
No, sir.
Q But I'm not asking you about cash. I'm asking you about the major real estate assets. Let's take three, for example. 40 wall, Trump Tower, and Seven Springs. You're familiar with the three assets owned by the defendants?
Yes, sir.
Q Can we at least agree that underneath those, on the McConney spreadsheet, it explained the way Jeff came up with the value?
Yes, sir.
Q Okay. In your use of the McConney spreadsheets, did you use that information? Did you look at that?
Personally?
Q Yes.

I don't know if I looked at it every year.
Q So, you didn't personally even look at the highlights that show how a valuation was come from -- where a valuation came from?
I don't recall if I looked at every line, if that's what you're asking.
Q I'm not asking about every line. I'm trying to make it simple. I don't think everyone in the courtroom thinks you'd be looking at every line of a 40-page spreadsheet.
What I'm asking is: Did you, as a partner in charge of this multimillion-dollar account, your biggest client at Mazars, did you at least look at the valuation methods that were used by the Trump Organization for its largest assets?
I looked at those assets, yes, sir.
Q You looked at those assets and you looked at the description as to how the valuation was determined, correct?
I believe --
Q Yes or no, sir?
I believe I did, yes.
Q Okay, you did. You didn't have a problem --
THE COURT: He said: "I believe I did." You can't say, oh, then you did.
MR. ROBERT: Fair enough.
Q So, you don't know, one way or the other, whether you looked the it?

To the best of my recollection, I did.
Q Let me ask this. When we talk about generally accepted-- acceptable accounting standards, do you think it would have been appropriate, yes or no, for Mazars to sign off on the Statement of Financial Condition and you, as the primary partner in charge of the account, to have not looked at how the valuations came, how the valuations came about before you signed off on it?
So, I did look at the largest assets. You're correct, sir.
Q Okay. You didn't have a problem with them?
I had no problem with them. t the time we issued the compilation report, I had no problem with it. No, sir.
Q t the time you issued the compilation report, you had no problem in the methods Mr. McConney used in coming to the valuations, correct?
I had no problem with the methodology the Trump Organization came up with. What's the rest of the sentence? To-- substitute the Trump Organization for Mr. McConney.
Q Fair enough, sir. It wasn't until the time that after you sat down with the New York County District ttorney's Office that you then had a change of this opinion; yes or no? Please, sir. Yes or no?
I do not --

Q Yes or no, please. It's a very simple question?
I can't answer that question.
Q So, you can't answer the question?
I can't answer it yes or no.
Q You can't answer the question yes or no that it-- let me ask -- I'll withdraw the question.
Prior to your meeting with the New York County District ttorney's Office, you did not notify, you, The Trump Organization that you had any problem with that, did you?
Say that again, please.
Q Prior -- withdrawn.
You testified earlier today --
MR. ROBERT: nd this is my last point. I'm not going to belabor it, Judge.
Q You testified earlier today that it wasn't until you sat down in the Manhattan District ttorney's Office, with Mazars' lawyers by your side, up until that point in time, you were not aware of these additional appraisals, correct?
That's not what I testified.
Q You didn't testify that you-- that this was-- your first foray into knowing there were these additional appraisals was when you met with the Manhattan District ttorneys by Zoom?
That is a different question. You said when I was in the Manhattan District ttorney's Office.

Q That-- you seem to be very precise, right? That's a compliment, sir. You can take it.
I'm not very precise but I'm trying to listen to your questions and give you honest answers.
Q nd I appreciate that, sir. So, being precise. So, now we just spent a few minutes and thank you.
So, it was not until the Zoom meeting with the Manhattan District ttorney's Office that you first had any concern about the work you had done for the Trump Organization, correct?
That is correct.
MR. ROBERT: I have no further questions. Judge. Thank you.
THE COURT: I think it's time for a break. s usual, we'll have a ten-minute break but take 15 minutes, and I will be strict about that.

THE COURT: Mr. Wallace and your team, any re-direct of the previous witness?
MR. W LL CE: I have exceedingly brief re-direct. It will just be a couple minutes. So, if we could get Mr. Bender back.
(Whereupon, there was a pause in the proceedings.)
(Whereupon, the witness resumed the witness stand.)
THE COURT: Okay please proceed with re-direct.
RE-DIRECT EX MIN TION
BY MR. W LL CE:
Q Welcome back, Mr. Bender. I assure you, I will try to be exceedingly brief.
MR. W LL CE: Could we please pull up Defendant's Exhibit 950.
(Whereupon, a document was displayed.)
Q Mr. Bender, up on the screen we have defendant's Exhibit 950. It's a document entitled Personal Financial Statements Guide with Conforming Changes as of May 1, 2008, audit and accounting guide. Do you remember discussing this document with Mr. Suarez?
Yes, sir.
Q Okay. I'm just going to note that this document comes from the University of Mississippi, and over here we can see that it's from the merican Institute of Certified Public ccountants, ICP , Historical collection. Do you know why this document came from the historical collection?

D. Bender - Re-Direct by Mr. Wallace Page 573

Not off the top of my head.

Q Do you recall that in 2009, U.S. G. . .P. was replaced by the F SB, with the release of the F SB ccounting Standards Collection?

I don't remember the date, but that's approximately correct. Yes, sir.

Q Okay. Let me show you a document, see if I can refresh you on the date.

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

Q It's a long document. I'm not going to ask you to look at the whole thing. I would just like to direct your attention to the header at the top of the page which states -- I will represent to you, this is a copy of the same document we were just looking, at that Mr. Suarez shared with you, but this version states at the top, "Notice to Readers, Executive Summary, U.S. G. . .P. was replaced by the F SB with the release of the F SB ccounting Standards Codification on July 1, 2009. The codification is effective for financial statements for interim or financial reporting periods ending after September 15, 2009. While the accounting guidance in this audit and accounting guide may be useful, only guidance that was incorporated into the certification is considered authoritative."

D. Bender - Re-Direct by Mr. Wallace Page 574

THE COURT: Codification. Not certification.

MR. W LL CE: Codification. Thank you, your Honor.

Q Does this refresh your recollection as to the dates that U.S. G. . .P. was replaced by the F SB?

Yes, sir.

Q Okay. So, the guidance that you were shown by Mr. Suarez was no longer authoritative as of 2011?

That's correct.

Q Okay. nd if you were consulting with your colleague Mr. Cohen about what standards governed your work from the period of 2011 forward, it would not have been in reference to this guidance; is that correct?

It would have been with the superseded guidance. Mr. Cohen, or anybody else I consulted with.

Q Okay.

MR. W LL CE: If we can go back to Defendant's Exhibit 950, and go to D-950, 22.

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

MR. W LL CE: nd if we can blow up item 2.05, please. I'll just read it into the record. This is section 2.05.

D. Bender - Re-Direct by Mr. Wallace Page 575

Q I believe you discussed this with Mr. Suarez, and it states, "Before commission, the accountant should read the compiled personal financial statements and consider whether such financial statements appear to be appropriate in form and free from obvious material errors. In this context, the term error refers to mistakes in the compilation of financial statements including arithmetical or clerical mistakes, and mistakes in the application of accounting principles, including inadequate disclosure. Misstatements that might occur in personal financial statements prepared in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles, G. . .P., include," and then there's series of four bullet points?

Yes, sir. I see that.

Q Do you remember Mr. Suarez taking you through these bullet points?

Yes, sir.

Q nd I believe that earlier today he asked you a number of questions about whether the statements in each year complied with the bullet point at the bottom here which states, "Presentation of an asset or liability at an obviously inappropriate value or amount."

Do you recall that testimony?

Yes, sir.

Q Okay.

MR. W LL CE: Could we put this up?

D. Bender - Re-Direct by Mr. Wallace Page 576

ctually, let's just pull up Defendant's Exhibit 25.

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

re we done with these?

Q You can just put that to the side, for now.

So Mr. Bender, I'll direct your attention to the top of the screen. It states, " R-80, Compilation of Financial Statements." It states, "Issue date --"

R section.

Q R section. Thank you?

Okay.

Q "Compilation of Financial Statements. Issue date, unless otherwise indicated, December 2009. See section 9080 for interpretations of this section."

Do you know if this is the section that replaced the guidance you had been looking at?

Yes, sir.

Q So, this was in effect from 2009, forward?

I believe so. Yes, sir.

Q nd just to keep this moving along, I'll represent to you that this guidance was superseded, as of December 15, 2015, but I would like to take you to page 4 of this document, and if we could look at the item under, Reading Financial Statements, and this states, "Reading Financial Statements, before submission, the accountant should read the financial statements and consider whether such financial statements appear to be appropriate in form, and free from obvious material errors. In this context, the term error refers to mistakes in the preparation of financial statements, including arithmetical or clerical mistakes, and mistakes in the application of accounting principles, including inadequate disclosure."

Do you see that language?

Yes, sir.

MR. W LL CE: I would like to put this up next to the language we looked at in Defendant's Exhibit 950-22, if we could.

So, can we put that side by side, with the stuff we just looked at? Oh they're on top of each other.

Q So you can see, the first two sentences are pretty close; correct? It states, especially in the second sentence -- well, they're pretty close?

One refers to compilation.

Q Right, but they say that before submission, it should consider whether such financial statements appear to be appropriate in form, and free from obvious material errors. They both state, in this context, "the term error refers to mistakes in the compilation of financial statements, including arithmetical or clerical mistakes and mistakes in the application of accounting principles, including inadequate disclosure." But the version on the top that comes in at 209, it no longer has those bullet points does it?

No, but there's a little difference in wording.

Q Right.

You said the same. They refer to -- the bottom one refers to compilation, I believe.

Q Right. So this bullet, though, about the presentation of assets or liabilities, and obviously inappropriate value, or amount, had been removed from the guidance?

It appears so.

Q Okay.

What you are showing me.

Q So those would not have been authoritative guidance at the time you were discussing, with Mr. Cohen, what standards apply to the 2011 Statement of Financial Condition of Mr. Trump; is that correct?

I will have to confirm that with somebody in my technical group.

Q Okay.

nd it could have been Mr. Cohen, or somebody else in my firm.

Q But the bullet point would not have governed your work on its financial statements for the leader of the free world; is that correct?

No, sir.

Q Okay.

MR. W LL CE: Nothing more.

THE COURT: ny re-cross?

No. Okay. The witness is excused.

THE WITNESS: Thank you, your Honor.

THE COURT: nd we need a five-minute break for technical reasons. I advise everybody to stay where you are.

(Whereupon, the witness was excused from the courtroom.)

(Whereupon, there was a pause in the proceedings.)

THE COURT: Plaintiff, would you like to call your next witness?

MR. MER: Yes, your Honor. We call Jeffrey McConney.

THE COURT: nd where is Mr. McConney?

(Whereupon, there was a pause in the proceedings.)

THE COURT: Because Mr. McConney is a party, he has an absolute right to be sitting here the whole time. Maybe just he didn't think it would be exciting enough.

MR. ROBERT: That must be what it is.

J E F F R E Y M C C O N N E Y, after having first been duly sworn, was examined and testified as follows:

THE COURT OFFICER: Please have a seat. Please state your name and business or home address on the record.

THE WITNESS: Jeffrey McConney, 390 First venue, New York, New York.

THE COURT: You seem to have a nice, loud voice, but I will ask you to speak right into the microphone, nice and loud, slow, clear.

THE WITNESS: I'll try. Thank you.

DIRECT EX MIN TION

BY MR. MER:

Q Good afternoon, Mr. McConney. My name is ndrew mer. We have not met before. I'm with the ttorney General's office.

m I correct that you graduated with a Bachelor's of Business dministration from Baruch College in 1978?

Yes, sir.

Q nd your degree was in accounting; is that right?

Yes.

Q nd after you graduated, you worked for a small real estate company, and then went to an accounting firm; is that correct?

Yes.

Q You worked at the accounting firm for about nine years before joining the Trump Organization in about pril of 1987; is that right?

That's correct.
Q nd am I also correct that when you were at the accounting firm, that's where you first met and worked with Donald Bender?
Correct.
Q nd when you started with the Trump Organization, you started as an assistant controller?
Correct.
Q nd at that time, Mr. Weisselberg, llen Weisselberg, he was the controller of the organization; is that right?
Yes.
Q nd it's when he was promoted to Chief Financial Officer that you stepped into his role as Controller of the organization; is that right?
Yes.
Q nd as controller, you reported to Mr. Weisselberg; correct?
Correct.
Q nd during the entire time that you were controller, he was your boss; correct?
Correct.
Q Is it also correct that you basically had the same job and same responsibilities when you your title changed from ssistant Controller to Controller? Is that fair?
That's correct.

Q nd your responsibilities included making sure interest payments were made on loans; is that right?
Yes.
Q nd you dealt with the general ledger; correct?
Yes.
Q nd you oversaw accounts payable and accounts receivable; correct?
Yes.
Q re you still employed by the Trump Organization?
No.
Q nd when did you leave the Trump Organization?
I retired February 25th. February of this year.
Q nd did you receive a severance package when you left?
Yes, I did.
Q nd how much that was severance package.
The total package was $500,000.
Q nd have you received all of your severance, as we sit here today?
s of today, no.
Q How much have you received, and how much is left to go?
375,000 has been received. 125,000 is the last payment.
Q nd is that contingent on anything?
No. Other than me being alive, no.

Q Let's talk about the Statements of Financial Condition for Donald J. Trump. You became involved in the preparation of Mr. Trump's annual Statement of Financial Condition and eventually took over the whole processes, likely sometime in the 90s. Is that fair?
Sometime in the 90s, I believe. Yes.
Q nd you were primarily responsible for preparing Mr. Trump's statement between 2011 and 2017; is that fair?
We didn't -- we, being the Trump Organization, didn't prepare the statement. Mazars, or whatever their name was at that time, prepared the statement. I prepared the backup for the statement.
Q nd you prepared the valuations that went into the statement; is that fair?
Yes.
Q nd you were primarily responsible for preparing the valuations between 2011 and 2017; is that right?
Yeah. I don't remember if it was the June of '16 or the June of '17 statement when I walked away, but that's correct.
Q nd starting in around 2016 or 2017, you received assistance from an employee named Patrick Birney, in the preparation of the valuations; correct?
Correct.
Q nd is it fair to say that starting in 2017, after

Mr. Birney came on board, you played less of a role in preparing the valuations that went into the statement; is that correct?
Whenever that handoff was, I had little to very little to do with the financial statement.
Q round the time that Mr. Birney took over for you?
Right. Once Mr. Birney took over, I had little to do with the statement.
Q But you still reviewed Mr. Birney's work with him; didn't you?
I believe the first time we went through it, I'm not too sure, or I don't remember, how much interaction I had with him, after that.
MR. MER: I'm going to put up, your Honor -- we prepared a demonstrative. We labeled it PDX-2, and it shows the sources, which I believe are all already in evidence.
(Whereupon, a document was displayed.)
MR. MER: I don't know your preference on demonstratives. Do you want me to admit it into evidence, or not?
THE COURT: Yes. I would like that.
MR. MER: Okay. So, I would ask that this be admitted into evidence.
MR. ROBERT: s a demonstrative exhibit, obviously. Not -- I'm not used to having a demonstrative -- I'm used to having a demonstrative document be marked, but not moved into evidence, so I would object that a demonstrative document be put into evidence.

THE COURT: Well, I don't know that it matters, in a bench trial, but would plaintiff be willing to just have it marked as an exhibit, rather than it admitted into evidence, as of now?

MR. MER: I was asking your Honor how you would like to do it, and I'm fine either way. I would say we admit it -- I'm fine to say we are admitting it solely as a demonstrative, if that helps Mr. Robert's objection.

MR. ROBERT: Let's mark it as demonstrative. We'll talk over the break. I think we are saying the same thing. We'll work it out.

MR. MER: Does your Honor want a copy?

THE COURT: Yes.

(Whereupon, a document was handed to the Court and to the witness.)

THE COURT: It's on the screen, but I like souvenirs.

Q This just puts in chart form, on a single page, the as-of date of the statements, and the actual date that the statement was issued, and as this indicates -- and you can confirm Mr. McConney -- the statements were all done as of June 30th of the year that they covered; correct?

Yes.

MR. ROBERT: Do they have a hard copy to give us? I see something was handed to the witness.

(Whereupon, a document was handed to counsel.)

Q nd it looks as though, for all but three years, the statement is issued in October or November of the year that the statement covers; correct?

Yes.

Q nd for '15 and '16, it looks as though the statement was not issued until March of the year after the year that it covers. Do you see that?

Yes.

Q nd am I correct that in 2015, the statement issue date was delayed because Mr. Trump was campaigning for office? Is that right?

That's correct.

Q nd in 2016, the statement was delayed until March because of the transition to the oval office; correct?

Yes.

Q There's one other year where the statement was delayed by a few months, and that's 2020. The judge alluded to this in his opinion, but I would like to confirm, was that due to the Covid pandemic?

I really don't remember. I didn't have much to do with --

Q Okay.

-- the June 30 of 2020 statement.

Q Generally speaking, unless there were extenuating circumstances, the annual statement was due in October; is that right?

Yes.

Q nd that's because Mr. Trump's lenders required submission of an annual financial statement as part of the covenants in the terms of the loans that were made to Mr. Trump and the Trump Organization; is that right?

Yes.

Q s a general matter, the due dates for those statements on those loans were October 31 of each year; is that right?

Yes.

Q You knew every year that once June 30 passed, you would need to start working on the statement as soon as you could; right?

Yes.

Q nd you would start working on the statement in July or ugust; right?

Depending on the year, but yes.

Q nd the statements take a long period of time to work up and there's a lot of work involved in doing it; correct?

That's correct.

Q nd to start the process of preparing the annual Statement of Financial Condition, you began with the years' prior Excel spreadsheet; is that right?

Yes.

Q nd that spreadsheet is something that was called, internally, Jeff Supporting Data; is that right?

Jeff supporting something. I don't remember the exact name.

Q nd the Jeff was you; correct?

Yes, sir.

Q nd the Excel spreadsheet would include two years' worth of information; is that right?

Correct.

Q nd the information in that spreadsheet included the valuation methodology and prior valuations for each of the assets valued in the statement; is that right?

Yes.

Q nd you would also go through the backup for assets, and determine what information you needed to prepare the next statement; correct?

Yes.

Q You would gather that information and input the new information into the Jeff Supporting spreadsheet; right?

Yes.

Q nd different assets on the statement were valued differently; correct?

Yes.
Q nd so the valuation methodology dictated what new information you needed in each year; correct?
Yes.
Q nd is it correct that the meat and potatoes of the financial statement, in terms of preparing valuations and making decisions with respect to those valuations, would be done by Mr. Weisselberg and you, prior to Mr. Birney's involvement, and then you, Mr. Weisselberg, and Mr. Birney, once he started to be involved?
nd then just Mr. Birney and Mr. Weisselberg.
Q Can you put a year on it, when it became just Mr. Weisselberg and Mr. Birney?
It's been a while. It could have been the June of '17 statement, the June of '18 statement. But it was a fairly quick process.
MR. MER: I would like to put up PX-717, which is the 2014 engagement letter, which has already been admitted into evidence.
(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)
Q Mr. McConney, you are familiar with this document; right?
Yes, sir.

Q This is a letter dated January 2nd, 2014 from Mazars to the Trump Organization; right?
Yes.
Q nd it's signed by Mr. Weisselberg; correct?
Yes.
Q He has acknowledged the document by his signature, and accepted it; correct?
Yes.
Q You reviewed this document before Mr. Weisselberg signed it; correct?
Yes.
Q nd is it correct to say that you continued to review these engagement letters, even after Patrick Birney started taking over your role in the preparation of the valuations?
I believe that's correct. Yes.
Q nd you understood the terms of the compilation engagement set forth in this letter, at the time that you reviewed this letter; correct?
Say that again, please? Can you ask that again?
Q Sure. You understood the terms of this compilation engagement letter at the time that you reviewed it; correct?
Yes.
Q If we go to page three of the letter, you will see there's a section entitled, Management Responsibilities; right?
Yes.

Q You understood that, pursuant to this engagement letter, Mr. Trump had an obligation to comply with these responsibilities set forth in through F; right?
Yes.
Q nd I just want to highlight, in particular, item F, which says that, "It's management's responsibility for making all financial records and all related information available to us."
Us being Mazars; correct?
Yes.
Q nd for the accuracy and completeness of that information; right?
Yes.
Q So you understood at the time that this language placed the responsibility for providing complete and accurate information squarely on Mr. Trump's shoulders; correct?
Yes.
Q nd for 2016 through 2021, you understood, based on the engagement letters for those years, that the management responsibilities listed were the obligations that rested with the trustees of the revocable trust; correct?
MR. ROBERT: Objection.
THE COURT: Grounds?
MR. ROBERT: Rested? I guess if the witness understands it, I withdraw the objection.

THE COURT: Okay.
I believe that's correct.
Q nd can we agree that your personal and professional relationship with Mr. Bender, going back decades, did not in any way relieve Mr. Trump or his trustees from having to comply with any aspect of these management responsibilities; correct?
Correct.
Q You provided Mazars with financial information, in the form of the supporting data spreadsheets that we discussed, for use in compiling Mr. Trump's annual Statement of Financial Condition; correct?
The information we used to prepare my spreadsheet, yes.
Q nd you provided that information in order to comply with the obligation in item F of the engagement letter; correct?
Correct.
Q nd this letter explains that Mazars is performing a compilation, and not an audit or a review; correct?
Yes.
Q nd you understood the significance of that terminology; correct?
Yes.
MR. MER: nd why don't we go to the compilation procedures paragraph, which is on page one.
Q nd this says, in the second paragraph, " compilation differs significantly from a review or an audit of financial statements."

You certainly understood that at the time; correct?

Yes.

Q compilation does not contemplate performing inquiry, analytical procedures, or other procedures performed in a review. You understood that; right?

Yes.

Q So you had no expectation that Mazars was going to perform inquiry, analytical procedures, or other procedures like those an accounting firm performs in a review; correct?

I wouldn't say that.

Q You understand, though, that this was a compilation, and that the engagement letter sets forth that a compilation does not contemplate that the accounting firm would perform inquiry, analytical procedures, or procedures performed in a review; right?

I understood that.

Q Okay. nd additionally this says, " compilation does not contemplate obtaining an understanding of the company's internal control;" correct?

Yes.

Q nd it does not contemplate the accounting firm assessing fraud risk; correct?

Correct.

Q nd it does not contemplate the accounting firm testing accounting records by obtaining sufficient appropriate audit evidence through inspection, observation, confirmation or the examination of source documents; correct?

Correct.

Q nd source documents would be the documents you just testified would go to Mazars, along with your supporting data spreadsheet; correct?

Yes. I believe that's correct.

Q nd it does not contemplate the accounting firm conducting any other procedures ordinarily performed in an audit; correct?

Correct.

Q Now, you would send the supporting data spreadsheet and the backup material to Mazars on an annual basis; is that right?

If they didn't come to the office, yes, I would send it to them.

Q nd let's look at Plaintiff's Exhibit 03054.

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

Q So, Mr. McConney, this first page is an e-mail from you to Mr. Bender, dated October 23, 2014, where you tell him: "Call me when you want to go over this," and this is sending Mr. Bender the prior year's Statement of Financial Condition that's been marked up. Is that right?

That's correct.

MR. MER: Okay, your Honor. I'd move this into evidence.

THE COURT: Granted. It's in evidence.

Q So, this you were sending in 2014 and the statement that you're attaching, if we can go to the second page. This was the statement for 2013 that you've marked up, correct?

Correct.

Q nd is all the handwriting in this document yours?

MR. ROBERT: Your Honor, while the witness is reviewing, you've already ruled, but, I'm going to object on the Statute of Limitations ground just to continue preserving our objections.

THE COURT: greed. Understood.

Can you ask me the question one more time?

Q Sure. Is all the handwritten notations in the document yours?

Yes.

Q If we turn to the assets page, which is page four, you've taken the prior year's statement asset sheet and you've marked it up for 2014; is that right?

For June of '14, yes.

Q Was this the normal procedure that you followed each year that you were the one handling the preparation of valuations?

I would say there was no normal procedure. If I had time, I would mark the statement up, I guess. If I didn't have time, I would just provide the spreadsheet to Mazars and they'd provide the updated statement.

Q If we could just go back to the second page of the document, page two. I just want to ask you about the note you've written on the upper right-hand corner that says: "DJT to get final review."

Do you see that?

Yes.

Q That's your handwriting, yes?

Yes.

Q DJT refers to Donald J. Trump, correct?

Correct.

Q So, you're making a notation that you understood Mr. Trump was to get final review of the Statement of Financial Condition for 2014; is that right?

Yes.

Q Was that also the procedure that you understood was followed in each year that you had responsibility for preparing the statement, that Mr. Trump would get final review?

I would get to the point where llen Weisselberg and I would review the statement and then I would get an okay from llen to let Mazars know if it was okay to finalize the statement.

I don't want to assume what happened in between the time I gave it to llen Weisselberg and the time llen gave me the approval.

Q My question is a little different. You testified your handwritten notation confirms your understanding that Mr. Trump was to get final review for this 2014 statement?

Correct.

Q My question is simply whether you had the same understanding that Mr. Trump was to get final review for each financial statement that you were primarily responsible for preparing?

Yes.

Q Okay. Did you have-- continue to have an understanding that Mr. Trump would get final review of the statements that Mr. Birney was primarily responsible for handling?

Once Mr. Trump became President Trump, I don't know what the process was on getting approvals. I think it was just the trustees, but, again, I didn't handle that or remember that.

Q You provided copies of the statements to lenders to comply with the loan covenants, correct?

Yes.

Q You provided a copy of Mr. Trump's personal financial statement to, specifically, Royal Bank of merica; is that right?

I don't remember. It's possible. I don't remember.

Q Let me see if I can refresh your recollection. Let's look at PX-99.

Do you recognize this letter as the letter you signed going to Royal Bank of merica?

Yes, for the June 30, 2015 Statement of Financial Condition. Yes.

MR. MER: Your Honor, I ask that this be admitted into evidence.

THE COURT: It's admitted into evidence.

MR. ROBERT: Same objection as to Statute of Limitations.

THE COURT: Okay. I'll consider that a standing objection to anything before the relevant dates in 2014 and 2016.

MS. H BB : To make the record clear. gain, also anything that incorporates anything prior to that date, meaning the backup, et cetera. That was my prior objection.

THE COURT: I'm overruling that because that is not the law.

MS. H BB : No. No. I'm saying, your Honor, we actually agreed on this before. I put on the record -- I put on the record prior, and I'll reiterate it moving forward, so I don't have to object, as well, that if there's a document that references anything prior to February 2016, those items, as his objection stands, same line of questioning. I'm just putting an objection on the record.

THE COURT: Okay. I'm sorry.

MS. H BB : Yes. It's okay.

THE COURT: lso a continuing objection on behalf of your clients.

MS. H BB : Yes. Thank you.

THE COURT: Sorry for the misunderstanding.

Q Mr. McConney, this is the letter you sent to Christopher Drimack at Royal Bank of merica relating to the seven Springs loan, correct?

Yes.

Q You say in your letter that you are providing the June 30, 2015 Statement of Financial Condition pursuant to the promissory note on that loan, right?

Yes.

Q So, this was something you were sending to the bank to comply with loan obligations, correct?

Yes.

Q Let's go ahead and mark-- or I'll share with you PX-100.

Mr. McConney, this is another letter you're sending to Mr. Drimack at Royal Bank of merica attaching the June 30, 2016 Statement of Financial Condition, correct?

That's correct.

Q That's your signature, correct, on the first page?

Yes.

MR. MER: Your Honor, I move this into evidence.

MR. ROBERT: Same objection, sir.

THE COURT: Their standing objections. You don't have to keep saying them. I recognize standing objections. The Court of ppeals recognizes the standing objections. You don't even have to call them a standing objection. It's in evidence. Yes.

Q s you did the year before, Mr. McConney, you are sending to the bank, Mr. Trump's June 30, 2016 Statement of Financial Condition in order to satisfy obligations under the promissory note, correct?

Correct.

Q nd Mr. McConney, you are aware that others within the organization were provided with Mr. Trump's annual Statement of Financial Condition to disclose to entities outside the Trump Organization, correct?

Yes.

Q In-

THE COURT: Ten-minute warning. I need to break at 12:50.

Q In particular, you're aware that Michael Cohen was given a copy for one or two meetings, right?

He was given a copy. I don't remember which year or for how many meetings.

Q Would it refresh your recollection to share with you some of your deposition testimony on the screen? If we can put it up. This is page 124, lines 9 to 25.

Do you do remember that you sat for an interview where you gave testimony under oath, correct?

Yes.

Q Okay. If we look at line 124, 9 to 25:

"Question: re you aware of anyone else in the Trump Organization who provided Mr. Trump's annual Statement of Financial Condition for any year to anyone outside the Trump Organization?"

You asked to hear it read again.

Then you say: "Yes."

"Question: Who is that?

" nswer: I know Michael Cohen was given a copy for one or two meetings."

You see that.

Yes, sir.

Q Does that refresh your recollection that it was one or two meetings?

It does not refresh my memory, but, if it is, it was one or two meetings.

Q Your testimony was truthful when you gave it during the interview?

I believe, so. Yes.

Q You also know that Mr. Weisselberg provided the statement to insurance companies, right?

I believe he let them look at the statements, yes.

Q Let's put up PX-294. I'll see if I can do this in time before the break.

MR. MER: So, your Honor, PX-294 is the DB credit memo that Mr. Kise showed during part of his opening. So, I'm going to ask it be admitted into evidence. I'm hoping there's no objection.

THE COURT: If he showed it, I'm admitting it into evidence.

MR. MER: Thank you, your Honor.

Q Let's go ahead and turn to page 14 of this document. This was actually a page that Mr. Kise put up during his opening, and, you'll see that there are various columns of information in this memo which refer to the client reported values of various financial statements in columns that are headed DJT 6/30/2011. Donald J. Trump 6/30/2012, client reported, and then two columns over, DJT 6/30/2013, client reported.

So, what I'd like to do is go through with you, if we can confirm where some of these numbers are coming from. If we could split the screen and put up the 2011 statement, which is Plaintiff's 787 in evidence.

If we can go to page four, the assets page. You can see, Mr. McConney, that the cash and Marketable Securities figure on the assets page, the 258.9 million matches the figure for cash and Marketable Securities in the first column headed DJT 6/30/2011. You see that?

Yes.

Q So, you would agree with me that that figure is pulled from the 2011 Statement of Financial Condition, correct?

Yes.

Q Then if we put up the 2012 statement, which is Plaintiff's Exhibit 815 and go to page five. We're looking at the assets page. You'd agree with me that the cash and Marketable Securities amount of 169.7 million ties into the figure that's listed in the Deutsche Bank credit memo for 2012, client reported, right?

Yes.

Q We'll do 2013 which is Exhibit 707 in evidence. Go to page four. You'll agree with me that the figure for cash and Marketable Securities of 339.1 million ties into that fourth column figure for DJT 6/30/2013, client reported, correct?

Yes.

Q In the credit memo, if we could turn to the next page and leave the statement up and let's look at the top column, the top chart. You'll see that there are figures for four properties. They're referred to as four trophy properties. You see that?

I'm sorry. I'll wait for you to get there.

Trophy properties, okay.

Q If you go to 2013 statement, you'll see that the figures for Trump Tower, Niketown, 40 Wall Street, and Trump Park venue all match what's in the credit memo. You see that?

Yes.

Q So, you would agree with me that the numbers in this chart and the credit memo are pulled from the 2013 statement, correct?

In the DJT valuation column, yes.

Q Okay. You'll see there's a figure under club facilities in the credit memo of 1656.2. Do you see that?

Yes.
Q That ties into the dollar amount for club facilities in the June 30, 2013 statement, correct?
That's correct.
MR. MER: s the Court will recall, the credit memo relates to the OPO loan which closed in ugust of 2014. I think this is a good point to break, your Honor, if you gave me the ten-minute warning.
THE COURT: I'm sure everybody will be happy to break now. We'll be back at 2:15 as usual. Have a great lunch.
(Luncheon recess taken.)

THE COURT: Mr. mer, do you have a statement of some sort to make?
MR. MER: Yes, your Honor. Just a point to raise, on the record. It concerns the defendant's application to the ppellate Division that they're going to present tomorrow morning, for a stay.
We still do not know, although we have requested multiple times, what the scope of the stay is going to be. Is it going to be a stay just of the equitable relief in your summary judgment decision, or will it be a stay of this trial? Which, obviously, you know, required tremendous resources to move forward with.
We believe that there is an obligation to have given us notice of the specific request for relief that they are going to seek, 24-hours notice. The papers have Mr. Robert's firm name on them. We would ask that he just say, in open court, on the record, what the scope of the stay is going to be, and if he refuses to say that, then at least we have that on the record, that we can take to the ppellate Division.
THE COURT: Well, he can't say what the stay is going to be. He can say what they are requesting.
MR. MER: That's what I'm requesting. What is the scope of the relief that they are seeking, so that we understand what the nature of the application is tomorrow morning.

MR. KISE: So -- and I may have to defer, your Honor, to the expert, the acknowledged expert on the CPLR, but as I understand it -- and I just responded to Ms. Vale over the lunch break, a few minutes ago. s I understand it, 22NYCRR, whatever that is, 1250.4(b)(2) requires that the party seeking relief, as provided in this subdivision, shall give reasonable notice to his or her adversary of the day and time when, and the location where -- we have got all that covered -- the application or order to show cause will be presented, and the relief, including interim relief, being requested.
So, my appellate people are telling me we have done that. We have told them we are seeking a stay.
THE COURT: Of what?
MR. KISE: Interim relief -- well, that's the thing. Until we file it, tomorrow -- hold on -- I'm not sure they're entitled to ask these questions in a trial court proceeding. It seems irregular that we are even having a conversation in a trial court proceeding over an issue that is going to go to the First Department, but we are seeking a stay pending appeal, pursuant to the notice of appeal filed on Wednesday.
I've offered to have a conversation with Ms. Vale tonight. To the extent our appellate people can communicate with them in between that time and sort out what's required and what isn't, but you know, until we file tomorrow morning -- we actually are filing tomorrow morning, and so it's possible, I don't know, it's possible we may change our mind. We may decide to seek, you know, door number one or door number two. I don't think that that's actually required, that we -- until we present our papers to the First Department. That's the Court that we are responding to. I mean, this is -- again, I'm not the expert here, but this is how it has worked in all the times I've gone up on interlocutory appeals, is you present your papers in the morning, and we go to court.

THE COURT: I disagree. They asked for the relief requested. That's the point of this notice, so they are not blindsided.
lso, beyond all this, I would just think it's a matter of common courtesy, you would just explain what you're planning to request, or are requesting.
MR. KISE: I mean will they be satisfied if I tell them -- what I'm concerned with is if I say it's , and it winds up being B tomorrow morning, then I'm going hear a lot of static from the ttorney General. gain, I think it's highly irregular that we are having this conversation.
THE COURT: I don't think it's irregular, at all.

Proceedings Page 609

MS. H BB : Your Honor, I actually have not even reviewed -- and I can say that, because I'm sitting here on trial with you. I haven't had an opportunity to review the papers, so I most certainly would like that opportunity, before we discuss anything with the G. I'm sitting here representing certain clients, and I'm not going to allow him to represent anything that would be prejudicial either. So, can we at least agree that, once it's final -- I mean, but I don't see why we would do this, ever. I have never done this.

MR. KISE: Why don't we do this. Why don't we do this. s you know, Judge I'm a pragmatist. Why don't we do this. Why don't we let him go ahead, and I will just say, let's assume it's both, for right now; okay? In that, it's a stay of the summary judgment, and the trial.

THE COURT: But --

MR. KISE: nd if it's not, then they will be over-prepared, but they won't be under-prepared. But, I can't commit, on behalf of several lawyers, several clients that haven't even spoken to, exactly what it's going to be. It's fair for us to say that it's a stay, and if they want me to commit to, it's both, then okay, I'll do that, but I don't know that tomorrow morning -- if it winds up being less, I just don't want to hear any complaint that it's going to be less.

Proceedings Page 610

THE COURT: Well, I assume they can express that, that they don't want to be over-prepared, in terms of getting people to the courthouse here, and all.

MR. KISE: It's the same person, Judge. It's Ms. Vale. I mean, it's the same, and we have been communicating about this. Or, our office has been.

MR. MER: Your Honor, this is simple. We are entitled to -- the rules require 24-hours notice. It's not notice to say, We are doing something, but we don't know what we are doing. That's not notice. If they haven't decided what they are doing yet --

MR. KISE: No.

MR. MER: -- then they should switch it back to Tuesday morning.

THE COURT: nd by the way, I'm not the ppellate Division, but if I were, I would deny your request on the ground you didn't give notice, because they didn't know what they were up against.

MR. KISE: Then let's do that, just to satisfy Mr. mer and the Government. gain, I think it's highly irregular. We will be seeking a stay of both the summary judgment and the trial.

MR. MER: We have our record, and --

MR. KISE: Does that satisfy you?

MR. MER: It's not a question of satisfying me.

Proceedings Page 611

It's a question of satisfying the rules. You have to give us 24-hours notice. You just put it on the record, and we'll have our appellate group deal with it tomorrow morning.

THE COURT: I think we can move ahead.

MR. ROBERT: nd I'm confident our notice this morning satisfies all the requirements to make a stay application before the ppellate Division. So, we can leave it at that?

THE COURT: I'm sorry. I didn't hear the start of that.

MR. ROBERT: I just wanted it to be clear that it is our position that the notice that we gave the ttorney General's Office -- including their appellate lawyers, knowing that all the trial lawyers are here in court today, including all of us -- of our intention to seek a stay tomorrow, at 10:00 tomorrow morning. So, they're aware of it.

THE COURT: Well, are they aware of it because of what's in the notice, or because of what you said two minutes ago?

MR. ROBERT: Our notice says that we are seeking a stay.

THE COURT: Well, that's clearly not sufficient.

MR. ROBERT: Well, I respectfully disagree with the Court, but you have additional notice, and if it turns out to be less, it turns out to be less.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. KISE: But you know, again, I don't want to, by stating what I stated on the record, to withdraw from the position that our notice was sufficient as given, this morning. Let me be clear on that.

THE COURT: I understand.

MR. KISE: To be clear on that. But, they are asking. They have obviously, again, engaged in what I think is a highly irregular procedure, to have a conversation about an appeal in front of the Court that we are appealing from, but at all events --

THE COURT: Well, you said that five times, and I've disagreed with you five times.

MR. KISE: I know you have.

THE COURT: Chris and I understand each other. We don't always agree, but we understand each other. ll right. Now, are we ready to recall the witness? Let's get the witness back.

(Whereupon, the witness resumed the witness stand.)

THE COURT: Let's continue.

You are still under oath. You know?

THE WITNESS: Okay.

CONTINUED DIRECT EX MIN TION
BY MR. MER:
Q Welcome back.
Thank you.
Q I would like to turn to the cash asset category in the Statement of Financial Condition, and I would like to start by showing you the Statement of Financial Condition for 2016. It's Exhibit 756. It's already in evidence.
MR. MER: If we could pull up page three.
(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)
Q You will see that the first item on the assets page is cash, marketable securities and hedge funds, in the amount of $114.4 million. Do you see that?
Yes, sir.
Q Okay.
Yes, sir.
Q nd there are notes to this statement that explain aspects of each asset category; correct?
Yes.
Q nd if we look at page six, note two is the one that discusses this asset category; cash, marketable securities, and hedge funds; right?
Yes.
Q nd it says, "Cash, marketable securities and hedge funds represents amounts held by Mr. Trump and amounts in operating entities."

Do you see that?
Yes.
Q nd we can agree operating entities, as used in this note, means entities within the Trump Organization umbrella; correct?
nd then some. Yes.
Q It's all operating entities that are within the Trump Organization?
It's the entities that are in the Trump Organization, and entities where Mr. Trump is a partner in those entities.
Q Is it intended to include entities over which Mr. Trump has no control?
Yes.
Q nd what about this language do you think would explain to a user that operating entities includes cash, marketable securities, and hedge funds within entities that Mr. Trump doesn't control?
I'm sorry. Can you say that again?
Q Sure. What is it in this language that is highlighted on this screen that you believe discloses to a user of this financial statement that this asset category includes cash, marketable securities, and hedge funds within entities that Mr. Trump does not control?

Well, the word operating entities is there. I don't know how individuals would interpret operating entities, but it doesn't specifically state entities that he does not control.
Q Well, it doesn't say operating entities that he has a minority interest in, either; does it?
It doesn't state, only entities that he owns 100 percent, or that he controls.
Q So, it's your testimony that this asset category includes cash that Mr. Trump does not have control over. Is that your testimony?
Yes.
Q nd that was your intent in valuing this asset, that you were going to include cash which Mr. Trump could not control and dispense? Is that your testimony?
Yes.
Q nd so, this is not, in your view, an asset category that represents Mr. Trump's liquidity. Is that what you are telling us?
The majority of it is his liquidity.
Q I didn't say majority.
Mm-hmm.
Q I'm asking you, are you telling us that this asset category, in your view, is intended to represent cash, marketable securities, and hedge funds, which do not reflect Mr. Trump's liquidity?

I'm not sure that question makes any sense to me.
Q Okay. You have an accounting background; right?
Yes.
Q You understand the concept of liquidity; correct?
Yes.
Q nd in order for this category to reflect Mr. Trump's liquidity, would you agree that he would need to have control over all of the assets that are in this category?
Yes.
Q With respect to assets that he doesn't have control over, those are not his liquid assets; right?
That's not the way we looked at it, but yes.
Q Okay. nd you're telling us that it was your intent to include, within this category, assets that do not reflect Mr. Trump's liquidity, because you have just told us you are including assets held by entities in which he owns a minority stake. Is that correct?
Yes. The same way we have included accounts payable in the same entities.
Q Why don't we pull up PX-2587, the native.
(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)
Q Focusing on -- well, let me first ask you about this document. This is backup that you provided to Mazars for this asset category for 2016; right?

Can you just scroll down to the bottom, with the total? Because I believe the answer is yes, but --

Q Okay.

MR. MER: Scroll down to the total, for the witness.

Just up a little bit. Up to the total of the cash.

Q We'll get there. Hang on a second.

Okay.

Okay. I'm sorry. Could you ask the question again?

Q Yes. This is the back up for the cash, marketable securities category we were just looking at for the 2016 statement; correct?

It's the spreadsheet that summarized the backup. Yes.

Q That's what you sent to Mazars, along with your Jeff Supporting Data spreadsheet; correct?

Correct.

Q You would consider this spreadsheet to be a business record; wouldn't you?

Yes.

Q nd if we focus on rows 11 through 16, you will see that each of those entities, 11, and then 16 through 19, all have, in parentheses, 30 percent of cash on B/S -- which I presume is balance sheet?

That's correct.

Q Okay. nd am I correct that each of these entities that have the 30 percent parenthetical are entities that are part of the Vornado partnership?

They are two partnerships, so yes.

Q Okay. Vornado Partnerships, plural; correct?

Yes.

Q nd that's a partnership group in which Mr. Trump has a 30 percent minority interest; correct?

Well, I don't know if it's a group. It's, Vornado owns 70 percent; Mr. Trump owns 30 percent.

Q He owns a minority percentage, correct?

Yes.

Q He has no ability to liquidate the amounts that are in-- that are ascribed to those entities, correct?

That's correct.

Q If we scroll down to the -- by the way, you've indicated here in the spreadsheet it's 30 percent. So, actually, if you looked at the balance sheet of the entity, you'd see the 100 percent number and you've taken 30 percent of it and put it on this balance sheet?

Correct. The same way we reflected the payables.

Q Is it okay if we refer to this shorthand as Vornado cash?

Fine with me.

Q Just so we're clear, Vornado cash is not cash that Mr. Trump has access to on his own, correct?

Correct.

Q He cannot withdraw the funds from the accounts where they sit, correct?

Correct.

Q Let's come back to -- let's go to PX-3041.

MR. MER: PX-3041 is the defendant's response to the 202 statement and I'm going to ask if we can go to page 142 at paragraph 403 and just blow it up. If we could just do the chart and the response below.

Q This is a response that was filed by you in this case, as a defendant, Mr. McConney, and you stated that it's undisputed that the values listed are those reflected in the Statement of Financial Condition and the amounts attributable to the Vornado operating entities are as stated.

MR. MER: I don't know if your preference is for something like this, your Honor, that we admit it into evidence or because it's on NYSCEF that's sufficient?

THE COURT: Let's consider this -- deem this admitted into evidence, even though it's already on NYSCEF, which is a whole different thing.

Q So, Mr. McConney, it is agreed then that for each year from 2013 to 2021, the Vornado cash is as stated in the second column. The statement year in the first column. The second column has the Vornado cash.

The third column has the total cash reported on the statement, and, the fourth column is just math, taking the percentage of that column two represent as to column three. So, that is stipulated fact.

Let's go and let's just confirm that your answer is the same with respect to all these years, that the Vornado cash, that has been agreed to, is cash that Mr. Trump has no control over, correct?

Correct.

Q Let's go back to PX-2587, the native. m I correct that this spreadsheet then breaks out where these funds are located in different accounts, correct?

I'm sorry. Can you say that again?

Q Yes. The columns, for example, column D says Cash llied Irish Bank. So, that is an account that exists, right?

Right. That's the bank or brokerage company or whatever that holds that cash.

Q Okay. nd if we could-- and, by the way, the cash, Vornado cash is -- sits in a bank account controlled by the Vornado Partnerships, right?

Correct.

Q Can we collapse columns D through N? Mr. McConney, you list the Vornado cash in a Capital One account that you list cash for other entities that are controlled by Mr. Trump; isn't that true?

Yes.

Q So, you've got 40 Wall Street, LLC is in the Capital One account. That's clearly something Mr. Trump controls, right?

Yes.

Q Isn't it the case then that this document represents that the Vornado cash is in the same Capital One account that Mr. Trump's cash resides for those entities that he does control?

It doesn't represent that it's in the same bank account. It represent it's in the same bank.

Q Do you know if the Vornado cash is all in a Capital One account?

Based on this, I would have to make that assumption, but, without looking at my backup, I can't make that statement here.

Q So, you have multiple Capital One accounts here. You have one called cash in Column O. You have one called cash in Column P. You have one called OS and E in Column Q.

Do you see that?

Yes, sir.

Q Isn't it correct, Mr. McConney, that anyone looking at this spreadsheet would conclude that all of the cash in Column O sits in the same Capital One account?

People can make assumptions in any way they want to. The users of the spreadsheet know that it's not one bank account.

Q It was your intent, when you created this spreadsheet, to put all of these cash amounts in Column O; and, that means that accounts that Mr. Trump controls and the accounts that hold the Vornado cash are in the same column under this same Capital One account, and, you intended that to be the case; isn't that right?

I did not intend it to be one account. This spreadsheet is not through Column V. If you keep going out, it's a number of columns. t some point in time, we had to realize we couldn't keep adding columns for every single bank or brokerage company. Not account but bank or brokerage company that was involved.

If Hudson Waterfront or Vornado had their cash at Capitol One, it means that's the bank, not an account, but the bank that the money is in.

Q Mr. -

THE COURT: One second. We need to have a quick technical break of some sort.

(Brief pause.)

THE COURT: Continue.

Q Mr. McConney, if you wanted to list the five Vornado cash entities in a separate section, you'd only have to add one more column to the spreadsheet; isn't that right?

That's correct.

Q This is the spreadsheet that you sent to Donald Bender, correct?

Yes.

Q So, when he looks at this spreadsheet, he sees all of this cash in all of these entities, including ones that Mr. Trump controls, and the Vornado cash, in a single column labeled Cash Capitol One, correct?

Can you start that again, because I think the beginning of the question, I don't agree with.

MR. MER: Can you read back?

THE COURT: Read back, please.

(Read back.)

Yes, he sees a listing of numbers in a column that says Cash Capital One. He knows it's not in one bank account.

MR. MER: I'll move to strike that last part of the answer.

THE COURT: He said it many times. I'm not sure -- because it's not responsive to the question.

MR. MER: nd because he's testifying about what Mr. Bender knows without having any foundation for that. It's hearsay. He can't get into Mr. Bender's mind.

MR. ROBERT: ll of the questions were elicited to what Mr. Bender understood from the spreadsheet Mr. McConney sent. So, to me, it's a fair answer to a fair question.

THE COURT: Simple point is he doesn't know what Mr. Bender is going to think. So, I'll strike the last sentence or clause.

Q It wasn't a mistake, on your part, to include the Vornado cash in the same Column O as the other entity cash; that wasn't your intent, correct?

No. My premise is based on looking at this now is that's where Vornado has their cash.

Q Let me go back to my question. My question was simply that it wasn't a mistake on your part to put the Vornado cash in Column O; it was your intent do so, correct?
The preparer of this statement, I'm assuming, knew where the funds were that Vornado had. So, the intent was to put it in the column with the bank where the funds were.
Based on the way this schedule is supposed to be prepared, we had put the Vornado cash in the column where the cash was maintained at Capital One.
Q I'm just going to try, again, to see if I can get a responsive answer. It's very simple. Including the Vornado cash in Column O was not a mistake, it was something you intend to do?
MR. KISE: Objection. This has been asked and answered about a dozen times. He's given the same answer. It wasn't his intent, and, Mr. mer wants to testify, but, the witness has already answered and said exactly why he put it where he put it. That's what he said multiple times.
THE COURT: Overruled. He hasn't answered the question yet. It's a very simple question. I can't state it any better than Mr. mer did.
Were those numbers in Column O the way you wanted them to be or were they a mistake?

THE WITNESS: Without looking at the backup, your Honor, knowing where Vornado has their cash, if their cash was in a different bank, it was a mistake. If it was in Capital One, we put it in the column where all the other entities had their cash at Capital One.
Without the backup and looking at the actual source document, I can't answer the question.
THE COURT: Mr. mer, what do you want to do?
MR. MER: One more followup.
Q So, as I understand your testimony, you're saying as long as the Vornado cash was in an account somewhere within Capital One Bank, even though it was not a Capital One Bank that Mr. Trump controlled, then this was not a mistake? This was something you intended to do?
That's correct.
Q Let's switch now to a different asset. Let's talk about Mr. Trump's triplex.
MR. KISE: partment.
Q I'd like to discuss your valuation of that property. So, let's pull up the 2014 statement, PX-730, which is in evidence, and, let me first focus you on page six where it says: "Basis of presentation."
This would have been a statement that you reviewed, correct?
Yes.

Q It says: "The accompanying Statement of Financial Condition consists of assets and liabilities of Donald J. Trump. ssets are stated at their estimated current values. You understood, during the entire time that you were preparing the valuations from 2011 through 2016, that the valuations you were working on were intended to state the assets at their estimated current values, correct?
Correct.
Q Let's go back to Plaintiff's 3041. The defendant's response to Plaintiff's 202.8G statement. Let's look at paragraph 31.
gain, this is something that you filed in this case, and, you do not dispute that G P defines estimated current value as "the amount at which the item could be exchanged between a buyer and seller, each of whom is well informed and willing and neither of whom is compelled to buy or sell."
You understood, when you were working on the valuations, that the values had to be estimated current values and that estimated current values were this definition on the screen, correct?
MR. KISE: Objection. No foundation.
THE COURT: Overruled.
When we were preparing the Statement of Financial Condition, estimated current value, to me, has a wide range of interpretation. There are a number of definitions. We may not have listed them all here, but, this is one of them, I believe.

THE COURT: Well, I'm sorry to interrupt. You said it's undisputed. You're not disputing the statement that's highlighted in yellow. So, what are we talking about?
MR. KISE: He didn't say that. That's a response.
MR. MER: He filed --
THE COURT: He's a defendant.
MR. KISE: But, your Honor. So, this is one piece of the puzzle. What's undisputed is that was the definition under that one section, but, there's 20 more pieces to the puzzle after that, and, that's in our statement of facts.
They just want to ignore the rest of it. So, yes, G P has those words in it, but, G P has another paragraph that tells you how you compute estimated value.
MR. MER: I'm concerned when we argue about objections that we end up with testimony.
MR. KISE: It's not fair --
MR. MER: Excuse me. Let me finish. We have a witness on the stand, and, you're making a very lengthy speaking objection in the presence of the witness, and, I think that's objectionable. So, if we can just have an objection and get the Court's ruling without a whole explanation that educates the witness that is here in the room on the stand --

MR. KISE: I'm not trying to educate the witness. You asked me a question, your Honor, and I'm trying to explain why it says what we said. That's what you asked. If you want to do side-bar --

THE COURT: I didn't ask a question, I remember.

MR. KISE: You said it's undisputed. What is the issue and I'm explaining what the issue is.

THE COURT: I didn't ask you. I was asking the witness. In any event, you can cross-examine.

MR. KISE: Correct.

THE COURT: I don't think there was a foundation need or any explanation needed. You want to ask it again?

MR. MER: Sure.

Q Let me back up a bit. You understand that the Statement of Financial Condition had to be G P compliant unless there was a specific departure from G P indicated, correct?

I'm not a G P expert.

Q Not my question, Mr. McConney. I'm not asking you about G P regulations. I'm asking you a broader question, which is, you understood that the Statement of Financial Condition had to be G P compliant, whatever that ment, they had to be G P compliant unless there was a departure from G P specifically noted; is that correct?

Yes.

Q You agreed, in this filing, that G P defines estimated current value exactly as quoted here.

MR. MER: That's a stipulated fact, your Honor, which I ask the Court to take judicial notice of.

THE COURT: Well, I'd rather he said it; but, we can get to judicial notice, if necessary. I think sometimes the questions are a little longer than they need to be.

Did you understand that, pursuant to G P, the definition of estimated current value is as indicated up there?

THE WITNESS: That's part of the definition. That are many ways to come up with estimated current value. If we didn't list them, I'm sorry.

Q Let me see if I can parse this. You say many ways to come up with estimated current value and I'm asking you what estimated current value is, however you come up with it, okay.

So, there's methodology and then there's the result. Did you understand that the result of whatever methodology you used had to be, at the end of the day, the amount at which the item could be exchanged between a buyer and seller, each of whom is well informed and willing and neither of whom is compelled to buy or sell?

Yes.

Q Okay. Let's look at the 2012 Jeff Supporting Data and that's in evidence. We'll put it up on screen, the native.

Do you recognize this as your Jeff Supporting Data that was provided to Mazars?

Looks like it, yes.

Q We've had testimony from Mr. Bender that this was the control version because it has PBC, provide by client, and it has the various tick marks numbers, the blue numbers. Does that sound right to you?

That sounds right, yes.

Q Let's go to row 833. This is the section that discusses the triplex, correct?

Line 833 and line 834, yes.

Q Okay. There's a value in G and there's a value in H and it covers -- it gives you two years, the current year and the prior year, correct?

Can you just scroll up so I can see which is the current year and which is the prior year?

Q Sure.

It should be at the top of these -- used to be a

page.

Q So, G is 2011. H is 2012. Correct?

Yes, sir.

Q So, if we go back, you will see that for 2011 it's $80 million, and 2012, it increases by $100 million to 180; correct?
Yes, sir.
Q nd let's -- and you say, underneath triplex, "Per email from Kevin Sneddon," and that's the explanation for the jump of 100 million to 180 in 2012; correct?
Yes.
Q nd you provided backup for this; correct?
Yes.
Q So why don't we look at Plaintiff's Exhibit 1052.
(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)
Q Mr. McConney, these are a series of emails between you and individuals employed at the Trump Realty -- Trump International Realty; is that right?
MR. MER: Your Honor, I offer this into evidence.
MR. ROBERT: Statute of limitations objection.
THE COURT: It's a continuing objection. I don't really care, but it's a waste.
MR. ROBERT: We still feel that we need to preserve the record, your Honor.
THE COURT: Despite what the ppellate Division said? I mean, Court of ppeals? Because --

MR. ROBERT: My understanding of that decision is that had to do with testimony, and the trial judge had to be given an opportunity to correct it at the trial level, to be available, and that's why we bring it up. I may be reading it incorrectly, but from my reading, it was testimony.
THE COURT: I don't want to tell you what to do. So, you can object every time.
nyway, granted and it's in evidence, over objection.
(Whereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit 1052 was received in evidence.)
Q Mr. McConney, if you can turn to page two of the exhibit, I want to focus you on your email to Kathy Kaye dated September 19th, 2012. Do you see that?
Yes.
Q m I correct that this is your effort to reach out to Ms. Kaye to get information for you to value the triplex?
Yes.
Q nd Ms. Kaye is one of the top people at Trump International Realty; correct?
Yes.
Q nd is it okay if I refer to that entity as TIR?
Yes. That's the way I do it.
Q Okay. nd TIR is an in-house real estate broker;

correct?
Yes.
Q nd you say in your email to Ms. Kaye, "Justin told me about the apartment he is going to video on the west side. I'm trying to value DJT's triplex," and then ask you a series of questions. What building is the unit in; what's the asking price for the unit; how many square feet is the unit; correct?
Yes.
Q You are looking for a comp for Mr. Trump's triplex; correct?
Correct.
Q Is Justin somebody who works at TIR?
Justin, I believe, worked for the Trump Organization. I don't think he worked for TIR.
Q nd you understood he was going to video the apartment to put it up for a listing; correct?
Yes.
Q nd then the top email, Ms. Kaye emails Mr. Sneddon and copies you and says, "Kevin, please provide Jeff with the prince's details. I'm not near a computer. Thanks;" right?
Yes.
Q nd Mr. Sneddon is another top person at TIR?
Yes.
Q Just so we are not confused by the prince's details, did you understand that that apartment that was going to be listed was owned by a Saudi prince?

I don't know about Saudi, but I think, I have some remembrance, that it was owned by a prince, or some royalty of some sort.
Q So, it's not a typo. She's really asking for the prince's details?
That's what I remember.
Q Okay. Then Mr. Sneddon responds and he says, and you're copied, "I already valued DJT's triplex for lan." You understood that to be llen Weisselberg; right?
Yes.
Q nd he goes on to say, "Our 75 million-dollar triplex lifting is in 240 RSB."
Is that 240 Riverside Boulevard?
Yes.
Q nd that's a Trump-developed property?
t the time, yes.
Q Okay. nd he says, "Total square footage is 14 and a half thousand, including main residence, guest residence, and staff residence. sk is 5000-plus per foot."
Did you understand that to be per square foot?
Yes. $5,000 per square foot.
Q So, he provided you with some of the information that you asked for; correct?
Yes.

Q nd then you ask him to send you the email he sent to Mr. Weisselberg; right?
Yes.
Q nd then he responds, " t 30,000 square feet, DJT's triplex is worth 4,000 to 6,000 per foot, or 120 million to 180 million;" right?
Yes.
Q Okay. nd this is a point in time where you're still using 30,000 square feet for the valuation of Mr. Trump's triplex; right?
I don't know if it's the point in time, or that's when we started. I don't remember exactly when we started using 30,000 square feet.
Q Okay. nd this is the information that you then use to put a value on the apartment for 2012 of $180 million?
Right.
Q It's fair to say you took the upper end of the range that Mr. Sneddon provided; correct?
Correct.
Q Now, there are two components to the formula that you used to determine the value. One was the square footage. There's been a lot read and argued about that, but the other component is the price per square foot; correct?
Yes.
Q Okay. nd so here, the price per square foot that you used for the 2012 valuation was 6,000 per square foot; is that right?

Yes.
Q nd you base that off of the information you received about the listing at 240 Riverside Boulevard; right?
Sorry. Can you say that again?
Q Sure. You're basing that off of the listing for the apartment, the comp that was at 240 Riverside Boulevard, that you were communicating with Ms. Kaye and Mr. Sneddon about; right?
Well, I'm basing it on the email from Kevin, the 30,000 square feet, and the 4,000 to 6,000 per square foot. I think the question about the apartment for sale was the starting point, and this is, basically, where we ended up.
Q Well, Ms. Kaye's email said that the listing was going to be at 5,000 per square foot, and you picked -- and Mr. Sneddon gave you a range of 4,000 to 6,000, so isn't it correct that that range was based on the listing price for the comp at 240 Riverside Boulevard?
I don't know what Kevin's thought process was. It could be based on this, if you can draw that conclusion, but I don't know if that's what Kevin was basing it on.
Q Well, it's the mid point of the range that he gave you; right?
Yeah. Mathematically, yes.

Q nd your inquiry was about that apartment, and his response was in response to your inquiry; right?
Yes.
Q Okay. nd you probably talked to Mr. Weisselberg about this valuation; correct?
We may have, at some point in time. I don't remember a specific conversation.
Q Well, do you recall that Mr. Weisselberg felt that going with the high end of the range at $180 million was appropriate, and represented the value of Mr. Trump's triplex, based on what Mr. Sneddon told you?
Can you say that again? I was kind of --
Q Sure. Is it correct that you reviewed this with Mr. Weisselberg, and he felt going with the high end of the range $180 million, represented the value of Mr. Trump's triplex, based on what Mr. Sneddon had provided to you?
That would be my assumption. Yes.
Q Well, I'm asking you for your best recollection. Is that fair?
Yes.
Q nd you would agree that for purposes of valuing a property for the Statement of Financial Condition in order to get to an estimated current value, that it is better to use an actual sale price, rather than an asking price? Correct?
MR. KISE: Objection. Foundation.

THE COURT: Combination. Foundation.
MR. KISE: Foundation. He already testified he is not a G. . .P. expert. He has his understanding of what estimated current value is. I'll stop there.
THE COURT: Overruled.
So, can you ask the question again, please?
MR. MER: Your Honor, can I get a read back.
THE COURT: That's the way to do it.
Read back, please.
(Whereupon, the requested portion of the proceedings was read back by the court reporter.)
MR. ROBERT: Same objection.
THE COURT: Same ruling. Overruled.
I don't think that's -- I think -- there are many ways to value assets in a Statement of Financial Condition.
Q Let me just go right to your testimony, from the interview. I'm going to put up page 307, line 13 to 307 -- to 308?
THE COURT: When you say interview, do you mean deposition?
MR. MER: This is his interview under oath during our investigation. So, we don't call it a deposition. It's an investigatory interview, your Honor.
THE COURT: Thank you.
Q "Question: Why use an asking price, and not an actual sale?

" nswer: We asked ourselves the same thing a few years ago, and we stopped using asking prices, and did sale prices. I don't know why we used asking prices at that time, but we realized it was probably better to get an actual selling price.
" nd why is that?
" nswer: Because you can ask anything you want to. Like, we can ask for 291 million for houses on Seven Springs. It doesn't mean you want to pay that. But, that's what our asking price, if you want to buy it. So, based on that theory, we thought it was a good determining factor at the time, and when we thought about it some more, we figured out, it's better to use selling prices."
That was your sworn testimony; correct?
Yes.
Q nd isn't it correct that when you are valuing a property based on comps using actual sale prices as opposed to asking prices, it's not just the better practice, it's the right way to do it?
MR. ROBERT: Objection.
THE COURT: Grounds?
MR. KISE: gain, foundation. It's the same question, the same problem. It's the same disconnect. I'm loathe, because they are going to throw their pens in the air, I'm loathe to explain it, but it's the same principle. He has already said there's multiple ways to get there. Mr. mer is now asking if that's the right way. This is the whole point of the case, there is no one right way. So, he is mischaracterizing the evidence in the record. I'll put it that way.

nd, this witness isn't a G. . .P. expert, so he can't testify to what's the absolutely right way. He has already said his view, multiple times. There are many ways.
THE COURT: I think any high school student knows the right way. I'm overruling the objection.
Q I'll ask the question again. You would agree that when you are valuing a property based on comps, using actual sale prices, as opposed to asking prices, is not just the better practice, but it's the right way to do it; isn't it?
MR. KISE: Same objection.
No.
Q You think it's okay to use asking prices when you are looking for comps to value a property at it's estimated current value? Is that your testimony?
Yes, sir.
Q Do you know whether this comp at 240 Riverside Boulevard, the prince's apartment, sold? nd for how much?
I do not.

MR. MER: I would like to introduce Exhibit 3037.
(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)
MR. MER: Your Honor, I move to admit this exhibit for grounds of notice, that it was public record that the sale occurred.
THE COURT: But do we know that they knew about it? nd are you arguing constructive notice?
MR. MER: We are arguing that it was something that was in the public domain, that he could have learned about from this article.
(Whereupon, there was a pause in the proceedings.)
MR. ROBERT: Your Honor?
THE COURT: Go ahead. Sorry.
MR. ROBERT: It's a 2018 article. We are talking about 2012 valuation. Its hearsay, and we are not accepting what the New York Times says is accurate.
THE COURT: I believe that some or all of the defendants had actual notice of this. They asked about it, and were told.
But, Mr. mer, can you resolve this issue?
MR. MER: The question for -- so, the witness thinks it's appropriate to use asking prices. The fact that this apartment sold --

THE COURT: I think he said they are just different ways. He didn't say asking was the only way, or the correct way. He said it was one way, I think.
MS. H BB : Thank you.
MR. MER: He said it was an acceptable way.
THE COURT: cceptable. That's not the way. That's an acceptable way.
MR. MER: I meant to convey something different. I'm sorry.
He is taking that position now, on the stand, and the fact that it was in the public domain, that this apartment sold for $30 million --
THE COURT: Public domain doesn't do it. I think there was a lot more than public domain.
Q Do you know, Mr. McConney, whether your colleagues in TIR were aware of the sale of this apartment when it happened, many years later, at a much lower price than the asking price?
I have no idea what they knew.
MR. MER: We'll come back to this, your Honor.
THE COURT: Fine.
Q Let's look at the 2013 value, and let's put up the 2014 JSD, because that will give us both the 2013 value and the 2014 value; correct?
Yes, sir.

Q Okay.
MR. MER: So, that is Exhibit 719, and it's a native file.
(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)
Q If we go to rows 843 and 844 -- and we actually don't have to find the date, because it's the same value for both dates; correct?
Yes.

Q Two hundred million in both years, and in 2013, it's based on Kathy Kaye.
Is that an e-mail from her, ugust 2013?
I'd have to look at the backup but, yes, it's an e-mail from her.
MR. MER: Okay. Let's go ahead and mark 714.
THE COURT: Ten-minute warning, everybody.
Q This is an e-mail exchange you had with Ms. Kaye, correct?
Yes, sir.
MR. MER: I move this into evidence, your Honor.
MR. ROBERT: Same objection. Statute of Limitations.
THE COURT: Same ruling. Granted. It's in evidence.
Q nd the top e-mail from Ms. Kaye to you is the e-mail that you're referencing in the spreadsheet for your $200 million value; is that right?
I believe ugust 19, 2013 was the date on the spreadsheet. Can I look at the spreadsheet before I say yes or no?
Q Sure. Going back to 719?
ugust, yes. That is the e-mail we based it on.
Q So, let's go back to the e-mail. She says at the top: "Doing the list now. s far as DJT's." Did you understand that to mean Mr. Trump's triplex?

Yes, sir.
Q "One unit just sold for over 5,000 a foot. However, another just came on the market at over 11,000 per square foot." You see that?
Yes, sir.
Q Then she says: "Which is not necessarily indicative of the market," right?
Yes, sir.
Q You understood that what she was saying was the asking price of over 11,000 per square foot didn't necessarily indicate what the market would actually pay for that apartment, correct?
I took the whole, the two sentences before. "One just sold for 5,000 a foot. One just came on the market for 11,000 a square foot. It's not necessarily indicative of the market." I took both of those sentences.
Q In any event, she was telling you the information she was sharing with you was not necessarily indicative of the market, right?
Yes.
Q Then she says: "Based on the activity in the luxury market and given how unique the apartment is, as well as tied to celebrity, I don't see how one would list below 8,000 a square foot at this point which brings us to @ 240 million." Then she says: "200 million is a safe estimate," correct?

Yes.
Q So, you go with what she claims is a safe estimate?
Yes.
Q We can agree that the item that she says is 11,000 per square foot is just a listing price and not an actual sale price, correct?
I believe that to be correct, yes.
Q That's what you understood at the time, right?
Yes.
Q She's obviously using the 30,000 square foot figure because she's saying 8,000 per square foot, right?
Yes.
Q Do you know if she is the person at TIR who decided to list the Prince's triplex at $75 million?
I have no idea.
Q Okay. I'm correct that this one e-mail from Ms. Kaye, that we've just reviewed, is the sole basis for your valuing the apartment in 2013 at 200 million; is that right?
That's correct.
Q If we look at the spreadsheet again for the 2014 value, you indicate there that it's based on comps at 157. Do you see that?
Yes.

Q That's referring to a property on West 57th Street which is a very, very tall apartment building, correct?
Yes.
MR. MER: Let's go ahead and mark Exhibit 3044.
Q Mr. McConney, is this your backup for getting to the $200 million value for 2014 based on comps at 157?
I believe so, yes.
MR. MER: Your Honor, I ask that this be admitted into evidence.
MR. ROBERT: Statute of Limitations objection.
THE COURT: Overruled. Granted. In evidence.
Q What you're doing here, Mr. McConney, is you're taking all of the units on floors 50 and above that sold in 2014 at the building 157 and you're calculating, based on those sales, a price per square foot of 6,733; is that right?
Yes.
Q Then you take that number and you multiply it by 30,000 to get to the value of 201,990 which you round, for purposes of the statement value, to 200 million; is that right?
Yes.
Q The second and third pages are printed from StreetEasy.com listing the sales; is that right?
I believe that's correct, yes.
Q Did you consider StreetEasy.com to be a reliable source for real estate apartment sales information?

Yes.
Q You relied on it, correct?
Yes.
MR. MER: I'm going to mark as Exhibit 3035. This, your Honor, is something we printed outlast week from the StreetEasy.com website for building 157 and I'd ask that this be admitted into evidence based on the witness's testimony that he relied on this site and considered it to be reliable.
MR. ROBERT: Objection, your Honor. The witness relied on what's already in evidence. This is just hearsay. This is something he printed out on October 1, 2023. He didn't rely on this document about 157.
MR. MER: His testimony was that the site was reliable, not that the specific printout that he was looking at was the only thing that was reliable.
MR. ROBERT: In the year that you're questioning him about.
THE COURT: How about if we just mark it as an exhibit?
MR. ROBERT: For identification?
THE COURT: Yes, for identification.
MR. ROBERT: Thank you, sir.
THE COURT: Okay.

Q Mr. McConney, you'll see that the StreetEasy.com site that you said was reliable, indicates that this building was built in 2013, correct?
Yes.
MR. MER: Let's go ahead and mark as Exhibit 3036 for identification a StreetEasy.com listing for Trump Tower, the building in which Mr. Trump's triplex is located.
Q You'll see, that according to StreetEasy.com, the site you testified was reliable, Trump Tower was built in 1983. Do you see that?
Yes.
Q Do you have any reason to disagree with either of those dates?
No.
Q So, Trump Tower is 30 years older than 157, correct?
Yes.
Q If you look at the second page of the exhibit, let's look at 3035, page two, you'll see there's a section that says: "Building facts."
You see that?
Yes.
Q It says under "sales listings: 245 previous sales at 5,369 per square foot average." Do you see that?
Yes.

Q So, that's the average price per square foot for apartments in 157, correct?
MR. ROBERT: Objection.
THE COURT: Ground?
MR. ROBERT: It's hearsay.
THE COURT: By the way, in one of these listings, I forgot which, the first amenity was elevator. I would hope so.
It's an out-of-court statement being introduced to prove the truth of its contents, isn't it? So, I'm not sure what exception you want to try to put this under.
MR. MER: Your Honor, again, this is a website that the witness has, himself, relied on for his own valuations. So, I think it is appropriate based on his own testimony that this exhibit be admitted into evidence.
THE COURT: I don't think that alone does it.
Q Mr. McConney, did you look at StreetEasy.com to determine whether apartments, on average, were selling for a price per square foot in Trump Tower at a price that was anywhere equal to what apartments were selling for in a building that was built 30 years later, 157, when you decided to use 157 as a comp for Trump Tower?
No.

THE COURT: Last question then we'll take a break.

MR. MER: Okay.

THE COURT: Last question or short series of questions. Lawyers do that all the time. They say one question and we get ten.

Q When you decided to use 157 as a comp for Mr. Trump's triplex in Trump Tower, did you look at any of the factors such as building amenities, age of the building, or any other type of factor when deciding whether you might need to adjust pricing up or down to make it comparable to Mr. Trump's triplex?

Not that I remember, no.

MR. MER: Okay. I think this is a good spot.

THE COURT: The usual ten-minute break over the course of 15 minutes.

(Recess taken.)

THE COURT: Okay. Let's pick up where we left off.

Q I have one more valuation on the triplex that would go to a different asset. So, let's put up the 2016 Jeff Supporting Data spreadsheet, Exhibit 742. It's already in evidence. nd row 913 is where the triplex section starts. gain, it's the same value but goes up to 347 million for 2015 and 2016. Do you see that?

Can you scroll to where it has the June 30th dates again?

Q Sure. There they are.

Yes. June of '15 and June of '16, yes.

Q Okay. If we go back to '13, you'll see it says: "Triplex based on comps from TIR sales office 30,000 square feet at 10,900 per square foot."

MR. MER: By the way, I have one more demonstrative to hand out which is charts that show all the values for properties on one chart. So, this is PBS 3.1 through 3.11.

Q So, there's a different chart for each asset and the first page is the triplex. I just put this up because it's an easy way to appreciate that the values in 2015 and 2016 are the highest values for the triplex in this 11-year period. Correct?

Yes.

Q Okay. Let's look at Exhibit 1037.

MR. MER: Why don't we give this to the witness. We'll put it on the screen. It's a one-page document.

Q Do you see that this is an e-mail from Naomi Muramatsu to Mr. Weisselberg which he then forwards on to you, correct?

Yes.

MR. MER: I'd ask that this be admitted into evidence, your Honor.

THE COURT: Granted. It's in evidence.

Q Since Mr. Weisselberg's e-mail-- and, by the way, based on the date of this e-mail, this is being sent to you for purposes of preparation of the valuation for 2015 which was still happening in March of 2016, correct?

I believe that's correct, yes.

Q Mr. Weisselberg has forwarded you this e-mail from Ms. Muramatsu. gain, she's in TIR, correct?

I believe she was running TIR at the time.

Q Okay. She says to Mr. Weisselberg: "There are very limited number of buildings that sell premium price, especially larger units and I just looked at the closed sales data for the following building, which most likely to be the highest." She lists 15 WPW. That's Central Park west, right?

I believe so.

Q So, 157, the building you used for comps before, correct?

Yes.

Q 432 Park venue, right?

Yes.

Q Was the instruction that was given to TIR that they should find comps for the triplex by looking at buildings with closed sales most likely to be the highest?

I don't know what llen's instruction to Naomi was, Ms. Muramatsu.

Q When you communicated, in prior years, to TIR, was that the marching orders to find buildings with the highest price per square foot?

I don't remember telling that to anybody. I tried or I asked them to find comps.

Q t any rate, her e-mail to Mr. Weisselberg indicates that she was trying to find buildings that were most likely to be the highest, correct?

Yes.

Q Then the next paragraph she says: "Highest was 9,390 per square foot, correct?

Yes.

Q That's at 15 Central Park West only 2761 square feet for 29995, correct?

Yes.

Q Then she says: "Highest among the larger units." So she's commenting that this unit at 15 Central Park West was a smaller unit, correct?

Yes.

Q Then she says: "Highest among the larger unit was 9,198 per square foot at 157, Unit 90." You see that?

Yes.

Q Then it says: "10,923 square feet for 100,471,453.

Correct?
Yes.
Q Now, if we put the this next to the spreadsheet just so we can compare it. Spreadsheet is 742. You see in the spreadsheet you indicated 30,000 at $10,900 per square foot? Do you see that?
Yes.
Q Can we agree that your price per square foot is based on the 10,923 number. Right?
Yes.
Q nd that was a mistake, wasn't it?
Yes, it was. I picked up the square foot, not the dollar amount per square foot.
Q Right. So, you used the square footage of the apartment instead of the price per square foot, which was 9,198. Right?
Yes.
Q We can do some court math, but, if you'll allow me to round up 9,198 to 9,200, the difference between the figure you used of 10,900 and the actual price per square foot rounded to 9,200 is 1,700; and, if you multiply that by 30,000, it comes to $51 million.
Does that sound about right?
I'll have to take your word for it.
Q 1700 times 30 is 51 and, so, this is a $51 million mistake in each of the two years, correct?

Yes.
Q If you had realized, Mr. McConney, at the time that you were doing this valuation, that the correct price per square foot was $9,198, would you have instead chosen, as a comp, 15 Central Park West because that had a higher price per square foot of $9,390?
I can't make that statement. I don't know what my thought process would be.

Q Was it your intention at the time to choose a price per square foot that would give you the highest value for the triplex?
We were looking to get a comp for -- so, we were looking for the price per square foot that would give us what we thought Mr. Trump's apartment was worth, compared to what was sold out there. I'm not sure that answers your question, or not.
Q It doesn't, so let me try again.
Looking at this now, and seeing that the 15 Central Park West per square foot was actually higher than the one, the price per square foot at 157, had you known that at the time, would you have picked 15 Central Park West as the comp, because you were looking to get the highest number you could for Mr. Trump's triplex?
No. We weren't always looking for the highest price. This had 10,900 square feet, so it was closer in size to what we thought the square footage was to Mr. Trump's triplex at the time.
Q Let's turn our attention to 40 Wall Street.
MR. MER: Let's put up the 2012 Jeff Supporting Data spreadsheet. It's 793.
(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)
Q If we go to row 110, that's the beginning of the section for 40 Wall Street.

I'm sorry, could you just do me a favor and scroll up, so I know what year?
I guess its only one column, so it's only 2011.
2012. Okay. ll right. So this is all 2012. Thank you. Sorry.
Q nd so rows 131 to 133 provide the note that indicates how you came up with your valuation that landed at 527,200,000; correct?
Correct.
Q Okay. nd your note says, information provided by Doug Larson at Cushman & Wakefield, Inc., which reflect cap rates of 4.23 percent and 4.39 percent for similar-sized office buildings at 14 Wall Street and 4 New York Plaza; correct?
Yes.
Q So, let's just go over some background for this type of valuation. This valuation takes net operating income, divided by capitalization rate, to get to a building value; is that right?
Yes.
Q nd the lower the cap rate, the higher the value, because the formula uses the cap rate as the denominator; correct?
Yes.
Q Now, Doug Larson is an appraiser with Cushman &

Wakefield; correct?
Yes.
Q nd he is person that you indicate in the note you got information from; right?
That's correct.
Q I'm correct that the Trump Organization had not retained Mr. Larson or Cushman to conduct an appraisal of 40 Wall Street; right?
That's correct.
Q nd the Trump Organization had not retained Mr. Larson or Cushman & Wakefield to provide you with a cap rate that was applicable for 40 Wall Street; correct?
That's correct.
Q In this note, what you are referring to Mr. Larson having provided you with is a generic market report from Cushman & Wakefield; right?
Yes.
Q nd that generic market report is not a report that Cushman prepared specifically for the Trump Organization; right?
That's correct.
Q That is a generic marketing report that Cushman mails out, or emails out, to a large customer base as a service that it provides; correct?
I have no idea what they do with it.
Q t any rate, it's not anything that you paid for;

correct?
That's correct.
MR. MER: Let's look at Plaintiff's Exhibit 794.
(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)
Q Mr. McConney, is this back-up material that you provided to Mr. Bender in connection with your supporting spreadsheet?
The documents, yes. The computation in the middle, I don't think that's mine.
THE COURT: You need to talk in the microphone. Sorry?
THE WITNESS: It's like an adding machine tape of some sort, in the middle, I don't believe I did. But, the documents are mine.
MR. MER: Your Honor, I ask that this be admitted into evidence.
MR. ROBERT: Statute of limitations objection.
THE COURT: Objection overruled. Request granted. It's in evidence.
(Whereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit 794 was received in evidence.)
Q I would like to focus you on the second page of the exhibit.
MR. MER: If we could put up the spreadsheet that we were looking at, lines 131 to 133, now. The Jeff Supporting spreadsheet 793.

Q nd just focusing on the note in 131 to 133, does the page from Exhibit 794 on the left appear to be the backup for your note in the spreadsheet about how you got to the 4.31 cap rate average?
Yes.
Q You took two cap rates, one for 4 New York Plaza, one for 14 Wall Street, from the generic market report; you averaged them to come up with 4.31; right?
Yes.
Q nd the next two pages are the backup material. That is, 794 are pages from that generic market report; right?
That's correct.
Q nd it contains a description of the two properties you used for the average. It's the second and third properties on the list; correct?
Yes.
Q nd the cap rates are listed under the column, O R, which stance for overall rate of return; right?
I think so. Yes.
Q t any rate --
I use that as my cap rate.
Q Understood. That was the column that would have the cap rate that you used; right?

That's correct.
Q nd again, because the cap rate is the denominator in the equation, the lower the cap rate, the higher the property value. The higher the cap rate, the lower the property value; right?
Yes.
Q There are a total of eight properties listed in this generic market report. The two you selected and averaged were the second and third lowest cap rates; right?
Yes.
Q If we look at the next property after 14 Wall Street, it's 33 Maiden Lane; correct?
Yes.
Q If we just look at the description it says, This is a Class office building. Do you see that?
Yes.
Q nd 4 New York Plaza, which is a building you selected to use, is also a Class office property; correct?
Yes.
Q 33 Maiden Lane has a higher cap rate of 4.74; right?
Yes.
Q If you had included that in your average, it would have drove the cap rate up; right?
The cap rate would have gone up, yes.
Q nd you did not use 33 Maiden Lane; correct?

That's correct.
Q nd the next building is 199 -- sorry 195 Broadway, and that's a landmark Class office building; correct?
Yes.
Q nd 14 Wall Street is also a landmarked Class , but it's a Class -minus office building; correct?
Yes.
Q nd 195 Broadway has a higher cap rate of 6.3 percent. Do you see that?
Yes.
Q If you had used that in your average, it would have driven the cap rate up; correct?
Yes.
Q You did not include that building in your cap rate equation; correct?
That's correct.
MR. MER: Your Honor, this is just math, so the Court can take judicial notice of it, but I'll represent to you that if you include those additional two cap rates and you took the average from all four, the cap rate would be 4.915 percent, and it would lower the value by $65 million.
THE COURT: Well, subject to the math being correct, I'll take judicial notice of that. Yes.
MR. MER: Thank you, your Honor.
THE COURT: It sounds about right.

MR. MER: Let's look at 2014 Jeff Supporting Data, Exhibit 719.
(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)
Q nd 40 Wall Street starts at row 118.
I'm sorry, which? Looking at the 2014 column? Column H?
Q We are going to look at column G first, which is 2013.
Okay.
MR. MER: nd go to row 118.
Q That's 40 Wall Street; correct?
Is that a question for me? Yes.
Q Yes. Okay?
Yes.
Q nd you used the same 4.31 cap rate as in the prior year that we have just discussed; right?
Yes.
Q It's based on the same backup we just went through; correct?
Without looking at my backup, it's just an assumption. I didn't have a note here, for some reason.
Q nd if we look at column H, it shows the valuation for 2014 at rows 138 to 141; right?
Right. Can you scroll up a little bit, because there may be some notes there. I'm sorry, the page up, or I guess looking down. Right. There's the -- my notes. Okay. Sorry. Can I just read the notes now?

Q Sure.
Okay. So the answer to your last question about 2013 was yes. We used the same, 4.31.
Q Just so the record is clear, you are now looking at rows 155 to 158, and you can confirm that it's the same description for your valuation of 2012 and 2013; right?
Yes.
Q Okay. nd then rows 148 through 152 is your note for the valuation for 2014; correct?
Correct.
Q nd you used a cap rate there. gain, it's information provided by Doug Larson; right?
Correct.
Q nd it's the same type of generic market report that we have been talking about for Mr. Larson; correct?
That's correct.
Q nd the cap rate of 3.04 percent for 100 -- sorry. I just caught myself. So, you used the cap rate for 110 William Street of 4.97 percent, and then another building, 61 Broadway, was 4.46 percent. You then say, according to Doug, the spread between Class and Class B buildings is typically 150 basis point. To be conservative, you reduced the cap rate by 75 basis points to 3.71 percent, and then you averaged that with the 4.97 percent. Is that right?

Yes.
Q nd am I correct, Mr. McConney, that during the period we have been discussing, covering the 2012 to 2016 Statements of Financial Condition, while you were receiving and using these Cushman generic market reports that you were getting from Mr. Larson to calculate your cap rates, you were aware that Mr. Larson was preparing formal appraisals for 40 Wall Street for the bank that had the loan on the property; right?
I'm not sure I knew at the time that Doug was doing those appraisals.
Q s you sit here right now, you are not sure that he was doing those appraisals?
t that time, I know at one point in time we were -- we were refinancing 40 Wall Street, I don't remember what year it was, and I know he was doing an appraisal because I was heavily involved in it. I'm not sure every single appraisal that Doug did for that period of time, I was aware of.
Q Mr. McConney, weren't you the conduit for information from Mr. Larson, for purposes of him doing his bank appraisals for 40 Wall Street?
I remember -- again, I remember the one loan that we were doing. I don't remember all the appraisals that he was doing. I could be -- again, I don't remember being the conduit.
Q My question is very simple.

Mm-hmm.
Q Isn't it a fact that you, Mr. McConney, were the conduit for information on behalf of the Trump Organization to Mr. Larson in connection with his bank appraisal, bank appraisals that he was doing during the period 2012 to 2016 that we have just been discussing?
You are saying -- I'm saying I'm not sure I was the conduit for every single appraisal.
Q nd I'm not asking you if you were the conduit for every single appraisal, but you were the conduit for information for Mr. Larson for bank appraisals he was doing for 40 Wall Street. Let's leave it at that. Is that correct?
Yes.
Q Okay.
MR. MER: Let's look at Exhibit 3047.
(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)
Q These are emails -- this is an email exchange you have with Mr. Larson; correct?
Yes, sir.
MR. MER: Your Honor, I ask that this exhibit be admitted.
MR. ROBERT: Statute of limitations objection.
THE COURT: Objection overruled. Granted. It's in evidence.

(Whereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit 3047 was received in evidence.)
Q Let's look at the bottom of the email. This is from Mr. Larson to you, and it's dated October 13, 2011. "Jeffrey, we have been engaged by Capital One Bank to prepare an appraisal of 40 Wall Street. ttached please find a list of information we need to prepare the appraisal."
He gives you this phone number, and tells you you can call him.
"Hope all is well, thank you, Doug;" right?
Yes, sir.
Q So you knew, as of October 2011, that Mr. Larson was preparing an appraisal for 40 Wall for Capital One Bank which, at the time, was the bank that had the loan on 40 Wall Street; correct?
Yes. Thank you for jogging my memory.
Q Happy to oblige.
Now, let's look at the top email, and this is from you to Mr. Larson. "Doug, a couple of quick questions. You are asking for lease abstracts for the most recent leases. How far back should I go? The last appraisal was done in ugust 2010."
Do you see that?
Yes, sir.
Q So you know, in October of 2011, he is doing -- he is currently doing an appraisal, and you also knew that he had done one the prior year; right?
It looks that way, yes.
Q Okay.

MR. MER: Let's look at Plaintiff's Exhibit 3046.
(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)
Q This is an email from Mr. Larson to you dated October 15, 2012; right?
Yes.
MR. MER: Your Honor, I ask that this be admitted into evidence.
MR. ROBERT: Statute of limitations objection.
THE COURT: Occasion overruled. Granted. It's in evidence.
(Whereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit 3046 was received in evidence.)
Q Mr. Larson says, "Jeff, we have been engaged by Capital One Bank to prepare an appraisal of the above property," which is 40 Wall Street; right?
Yes.
Q "The following information is requested in order for us to prepare the appraisal," and he lists a bunch of information; right?
Yes.

Q So a year later, Mr. Larson is doing another appraisal, and you are the person he contacts and tells he is doing it, and requests information; right?
That's correct.
Q So you knew in October of 2012 that Mr. Larson was doing, now, his third appraisal for 40 Wall Street; correct?
Yes.
MR. MER: Let's go ahead and mark Exhibit 3048.
(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)
Q This is an exchange, an email exchange between you and Mr. Larson in May of 2015; correct?
Yes.
MR. MER: Your Honor, I ask that this exhibit be admitted into evidence.
MR. ROBERT: Statute of limitations objection.
THE COURT: Objection overruled. Request granted. It's in evidence.
(Whereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit 3048 was received in evidence.)
Q The bottom email is yet another email from Mr. Larson to you, telling you he has is been engaged by Ladder Capital. That's the bank that refinanced the loan; right?
This is the one I remember. Yes.
Q Okay.

Yeah.
Q I'm glad to hear you remember this one, but there are three others before this one.
Yes. I just didn't remember those at the time. This is the one I do remember.
Q Okay. nd once again, he is telling you he has been engaged to do an appraisal of 40 Wall Street, and he is asking you for information; right?
Correct.
Q You write to him in response and you say, Doug -- this is the second line.
Okay.
Q "Doug, Steve Lafiosca, copied on this email, can help with you the inspection. Based on the appraisals you have done in the past, do you have any of the below information in your files," right?
Yes.
Q So you are basically wondering, since he keeps coming to you year after year asking you for all this information, why he doesn't have it already, since he has been doing all these appraisals before; right?
I just asked him if he had it, yes, and if he could use it.
Q Well, you are asking him if he had it in his files, because you were aware of all these appraisals he has been doing; right?

Seven years ago, yes.
Q Seven years ago. We were looking at 2012. That's three years ago; right?
No. In 2015, I knew that. That was eight years ago, from today. t that point in time, I probably knew it. I don't remember it now.
Q I understand what you are saying. So, we can agree then, having now had your recollection refreshed by looking at all these emails, that you, during the period that you were working on preparing the Statements of Financial Condition from 2012 through 2016, you were simultaneously acting as the conduit for information for Mr. Larson, so that he can prepare formal appraisals for 40 Wall Street? Right?
Yes.
Q nd while you were acting as the conduit to provide information to Mr. Larson, I'm correct that you never sought to use any of the Cushman appraised values for 40 Wall Street in the Statement of Financial Condition; correct?
That's correct.

Q nd during the period of time that you were acting as the conduit of information for Mr. Larson for his appraisals at 40 Wall Street and you were using his generic market report for your cap rate calculations, you never asked Mr. Larson if the cap rates you were selecting were appropriate. Isn't that right?
No. I mean, it's correct. Yes.
Q During this period of time when you were acting as the conduit to provide information to Mr. Larson so that he could do his formal appraisals, you never asked Mr. Larson what cap rates he was using for any of the Cushman appraisals at 40 Wall Street; isn't that right?
I believe that's correct, yes.
MR. MER: Can we put back up the Jeff Supporting Data spreadsheet at 742, the native?
Q I want to go back to your note at row 153 that explains the basis for the cap rate. This is your note reflecting that you chose a cap rate of 3.04 percent for 100 Wall Street, correct?
Yes.
Q You say it's based on a telephone conversation with Doug Larson. You see that?
Yes.
Q Okay. The cap rate of 3.04 percent for 100 Wall Street was selected by you from the generic marketing report you got from Cushman; is that right?

Yes. I believe so, yes.
MR. MER: Why don't we put up Plaintiff's Exhibit 868.
Q Mr. McConney, this is an e-mail from you to Mr. Bender which encloses an attachment, correct?
Correct.
Q The attachment is an excerpt from the 2015 Cushman appraisal of 40 Wall Street, right?
Yes.
Q So, it's clear, you did have a copy of the Cushman 2015 appraisal when you forwarded this e-mail to Mr. Bender, right?
Yes.
MR. MER: I ask that this be admitted into evidence, your Honor.
MR. ROBERT: Statute of Limitations objection.
THE COURT: Overruled. Granted. It's in evidence.
Q Let's look at the 11th page of the exhibit. Now, Mr. McConney, the highlighting is not anything we're putting up there. This is in the exhibit, correct?
Yes.
Q You're sending this to Mr. Bender. Did you highlight this so he could see where you were getting the cap rate from?

I believe so, yes.
Q Okay. Now, we do have, and this is what you sent to him, but, the appraisal itself is a much larger document, correct?
I believe so, yes.
Q What you sent him was what you picked out of the full appraisal to share with him, correct?
I don't remember picking out certain pages but I sent it to him.
Q Okay. You sent him only a portion of the appraisal report, right?
Yes.
Q What you sent him was what you intended to send him?
Yes.
MR. MER: Okay. Let's go ahead and mark the full appraisal report.
THE COURT: Ten-minute warning.
MR. MER: Just when I hand up a very large document. It's going to be a challenge.
THE COURT: I hope you can finish the document before we leave.
MR. MER: I think we'll be okay.
Q This is starting at page eight of the document. You'll see the cover page for the appraisal.
Do you see that?

Yes.
Q It's the same 2015 appraisal that you sent an excerpt of to Mr. Bender, correct?
Can I have that last exhibit back, please? Yes.
MR. MER: Your Honor, I ask Exhibit 118 be admitted into evidence.
MR. ROBERT: Statute of Limitations objection.
THE COURT: Overruled. Granted. It's in evidence.
Q Let's turn to page 15 of the appraisal report. gain, this is something you had in your file and you have looked at?
I had or had not?
Q You had looked at it because you sent a portion of it to Mr. Bender, correct?
Correct.
Q Okay. Let's look at the cap rate that Mr. Larson used based on his professional appraisal, 4.25. Right?
There are a number of cap rates here. It's one of them that he used, yes, that is.
Q That is a different and much higher cap rate than the one you used in the same year of 3.04 percent, correct?
Yes.
MR. MER: Let's go to -- I will represent to you another math point, your Honor, that if you use Mr.

Larson's cap rate of 4.25, instead of Mr. McConney's cap rate of 3.04, the new value is $227 million lower than the value that Mr. McConney calculated.
THE COURT: Those cap rates are really important, but, I'll take judicial notice of that, subject to checking the math.
MR. MER: Just so you have it, the new value is 569 million which is $227 million lower than the value in the Statement of Financial Condition. Let's go to page 100 in the appraisal report.
Q Mr. McConney, this is a description of comps that is in the appraisal report; and, in fact, Mr. Larson looked at 100 Wall Street which was the basis for your choosing 3.04 percent, right?
Yes.
Q Okay. Let's go to page 105 and that begins the discussion of the comparables in his appraisal and he discusses 100 Wall Street. You see that? It's the very first comparable sale.
Yes.
Q Okay. If we look at the last paragraph in this section, Mr. Larson says: "In comparison with the subject property, a downward adjustment was required for property rights conveyed. downward adjustment was required for the size under the premise that smaller properties sell for more per square foot than larger properties."

Do you see that?
Yes.
Q Okay. So, Mr. Larson a professional -- he's a professional appraiser, right?
Yes, he is.
Q He looked at the same property that you used as the basis for your cap rate, and, he did two downward adjustments, and, he ended up choosing a cap rate that was higher than the one you chose.
He chose 4.25 percent, right?
He chose 4.25 on that prior page you looked at. I don't know where that 4.25 came from.
Q He looked at the same property, 100 Wall Street, that was the basis for your cap rate, right?
Yes.
Q He did two downward adjustments, correct?
Yes.
Q You didn't share this page with Mr. Bender when you sent him the excerpts from the appraisal, did you?
I'd have to go back and look.
Q I'll represent to you, you did not.
I believe you.
Q Okay. So, Mr. Bender was not aware that Mr. Larson had reviewed and downwardly adjusted the very property that you used as the basis for your cap rate, correct?

MR. ROBERT: Objection.
THE COURT: What's the objection?
MR. ROBERT: Before Mr. mer talked about what Mr. Bender knew. It wasn't part of what he said. We don't know what Mr. Bender knew.
MR. MER: I can rephrase it.
THE COURT: Sustained.
Q Mr. Bender would not have known, based on what you sent him, that Mr. Larson had looked at and downwardly adjusted the very property that you relied on for your cap rate. Isn't that fair?
That's correct but he could have asked for the whole appraisal, also.
Q I'm just asking you based on what you sent to him. You would agree that this process of making adjustments to comp sales, in order to compare them to the subject property, is what appraisers routinely do so that the comps better reflect the value of the subject property; isn't that right?
I don't know what appraisers do. I don't know how they make these adjustments. I see on this one. I don't know what they do as a general practical matter.
Q t no point when you were selecting cap rates from the generic market reports, did you undertake any efforts to make adjustments to the compensation so that they better reflected the value of 40 Wall Street; isn't that correct?

That's correct.
MR. MER: I'm at a good point, your Honor.
THE COURT: Okay. We need to talk to the attorneys about scheduling, but I promised to Chris Kise to teach him some New York history.
Does anybody know how Maiden Lane got its name? If you ever see it, you'll see it's sort of a depression in the area. Mr. Kise, because there was a stream. Back in colonial times, young women would take their wash to the stream to wash it, and they were called maidens. That is how it got to be called Maiden Lane.
THE COURT: Now, llison has some business to conduct.
MS. GREENFIELD: Thank you, Judge. So, I assume we're going to be continuing for with Mr. McConney tomorrow. How long do we anticipate cross? Is there going to be cross tomorrow?
MR. KISE: No.
MS. GREENFIELD: How much more direct?
MR. MER: I'm going to say I'm half way through.
MS. GREENFIELD: Who is after Mr. McConney?
MR. SOLOMON: Mr. Weisselberg.
MS. GREENFIELD: That will be a full day, I predict.

MR. ROBERT: Tomorrow is only a half day.
MS. GREENFIELD: Do we expect Mr. Weisselberg tomorrow or Tuesday? Monday is a holiday.
MR. MER: What I would say if I were to finish before the end of the session, it's going to be very close to the end of the session. So, we want to avoid having to inconvenience Mr. Weisselberg. We can say I'll go to whenever we stop and we'll be done.
MS. GREENFIELD: If we're beginning with Weisselberg Tuesday morning, who is after Weisselberg, if we know yet?
MR. ROBERT: They have Birney.
MR. W LL CE: The next Trump employee will be Patrick Birney but we took Mr. Kise's position to heart and are going to call Nick Haigh to appear in person rather than do a deposition while the trial is going on.
He will appear on the 11th. He has the 11th and the 12th he leaves the country. So, our expectation is we're going to work cooperatively to get through Mr. Weisselberg, depending on when he ends. Could be Mr. Haigh or Mr. Birney but those will be the next two witnesses.
MS. GREENFIELD: We'll revisit it tomorrow before we adjourn.

THE COURT: He's not leaving the country because of this case?
MR. SOLOMON: So we're clear, Mr. Weisselberg need not be here tomorrow?
THE COURT: Right.
MR. SOLOMON: We'll be finished for the day and if he's finished tomorrow, we'll pick up Mr. Weisselberg first thing Tuesday morning?
THE COURT: Yes.

(Whereupon, the trial is continued to October 6, 2023 at 10:00 a.m.)

know of any others right now. That is the one that sticks out in my mind.
Q You would agree with me that the basis of valuation of the triplex was set forth in the Jeff Supporting Data?
Yes, sir.
Q The basis valuation for 40 Wall Street was set forth in the Jeff Supporting Data?
The method valuation, yes, sir.
Q The basis for the valuation of Trump Tower would have been set forth in the Jeff Supporting Data?
Trump Tower Commercial, yes, sir.
Q Basis for valuing Niketown would have been set forth in the Jeff Supporting Data?
Their methodology for valuating was included in the Jeff Supporting Data.
Q The basis of valuing Trump Park venue would have been set forth in the Jeff Supporting Data?
Their methodology for doing it would have been set forth in the Jeff Supporting Data.
Q Their methodology for valuing their interest in-- the Trump Organization's interest in 1290 venue of the mericas would have been set forth in the Jeff Supporting Data?
Mr. Trump's interests in 1290 --
Q Yes?
-- venue of the merica would have been -- their methodology would have been set forth.

Q The method for valuing 555 California, President Trump's interest in that entity, that would have been set forth in the Jeff Supporting Data?
Yes, I believe it would have.
Q The method for valuing Seven Springs would have been set forth in the Jeff Supporting Data?
I believe it would be yes, sir.
Q The method for valuing Mar-a-Lago would have been set forth in the Jeff Supporting Data?
I believe that would be true.
Q So, every year, you were presented with the basis for valuation of each of these assets in the Jeff Supporting Data?
I believe, off the top of my head, that would be true, sir.
Q Yesterday, I think you said you had tremendous respect for Jeff, for Mr. McConney; is that correct?
He's one of the better accountants I ever worked with.
Q He passed along this information to you every year?
Him and Patrick Birney.
Q The Jeff Supporting Data was what you reviewed when preparing your compilation report?
Mazars would have looked at it. I don't know the word "reviewed".

Q Mazars would have looked at it but not necessarily you?
I may not have looked at every line of Mazars and -- say the question again.
Q Mazars -- someone from Mazars would have looked at all the Jeff Supporting Data but not necessarily you?
I can't say somebody from Mazars looked at every line of the worksheet.
Q You can't tell me whether someone from Mazars looked at every line on the worksheet?
I can't read somebody else's mind today.
Q You testified earlier you would responsible for all the work product that went into it?
bsolutely.
Q You agree you were responsible to make sure somebody at Mazars looked at every line on that spreadsheet?
I don't think a person at Mazars would need to look at every line on that worksheet. I agree I was responsible for the compilation, if it's the right word. I was the partner in charge of the compilation procedure.
Q You were the partner in charge of the compilation procedure. The buck stopped with you?
bsolutely.
THE COURT: Ten-minute warning.
Q If the buck stopped with you, Mr. Bender, would you have not been required to sign off on the basis for valuing each of the assets and making sure it was consistent with estimated current values?

It we were not engaged, the compilation did not require us to do the work. The financial statement is the Trump Organization. They were the experts in real estate. They were the experts in golf courses and it was them.
If something, as part of a high-level review, if I noticed something, like 57th Street, I'd bring it to-- yeah, 57th Street.
If I brought something like 57th Street came to my attention, I'd do it, but, it was not our responsibility to. We were not engaged to discuss -- we were engaged to do method appraisals-- not appraisals. That was not part of our engagement.
Q ppraisals weren't part of your engagement?
We were engaged to-- to the best of my recollection, we were never engaged to do an appraisal for the Trump Organization.
Q Now, Mr. Bender, you told me that you were required to follow ICP guidelines, correct?
To the best of my ability.
Q nd when you weren't, you'd consult a specialist?
I would try to, if I something came to my attention.
Q re you aware that the ICP guidelines for the compilation of personal financial statements require you, in connection with the compilation, to under ordinary-- excuse me. To "ordinarily, an accountant can compile personal financial statements based on the individual's representation of estimated current value of assets and the estimated current amount of liabilities."

You'd agree with that statement?

Can you read it, again, please?

MR. W LL CE: Objection. If he's introducing language from a document, we'd like that to be on the record.

MR. SU REZ: Sure. I'm happy to move into evidence what I believe was premarked and somebody will give me the number.

Q ICP personal financial statements. Chapter Two. 2.03, compilation of financial statements.

Have you ever seen the ICP guide for preparation of financial statements?

Yes, sir.

Q ll right. So, turn to page -- to chapter two, which governs a compilation of personal financial statements at Section 2.03. We've premarked this as exhibit D-950. It said: "Ordinarily, an accountant can compile personal financial statements based on the individual's representation of estimated current values of assets and the estimated current amounts of liabilities. t a minimum, however, the accountant should obtain an understanding of the methods by which the individual determined the estimated current values of significant assets and the estimated current amounts of significant liabilities and consider whether the methods were appropriate, in light of the nature of each asset or liability."

MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, we'd like to note an objection to the use of this document at this time. It's dated May 1, 2008. I believe that this guidance has been -- was superseded in 2009. So, it wouldn't have been relevant in 2011, but, if he wants to ask the question, we want to note --

THE COURT: Your objection is noted. I don't know how much it changed or didn't change from that year, but, I'll take that into consideration.

Q Do you see that?

Yes.

Q Is that something you undertook with respect to the assets?

I don't recall. s counsel said, if this happened at the time and I don't recall -- we definitely looked at -- I don't recall today what we did.

Q You don't recall--

No.

Q -- your involvement with that, okay.

You see in Section 2.07: "Reporting or compiling personal financial statements. If the accountant --

Let me find it.

Q --believes --

THE COURT: It's on the screen.

THE WITNESS: Thank you.

Q --"that the methods used to determine the estimated current value of assets and the estimated current amounts of liabilities are not in accordance with statement of position 82-1 accounting and financial reporting for personal financial statements, ICP technical practice aids, or if he or she believes that the methods are not appropriate, in light of the nature of each asset and liability, he or she should consider whether modification of a standard report is adequate to disclosure the departure."

THE COURT: "To disclose."

Q "To disclose the departure."

"If the accountant determines that modification of the standard report is not adequate to indicate the deficiencies in the financial statements taken as a whole, the accountant should withdraw from the engagement and provide no other services with respect to those financial statements."

Do you see that?

Yes, I do.

Q Did you ever, prior to 2020, withdraw from the engagement with the Trump Organization?

No, I did not.

Q Did you ever, prior to 2020, give any indication to the Trump Organization that you disagreed with the methods used to determine estimated current values?

I don't believe it was required of me to do that per compilation procedure.

Q Did you ever, prior to 2020, advise the Trump Organization that you disagreed with any of the methods used to determine the estimated current value of the assets?

57th Street would be one example where I did disagree.

Q That is the only one?

The only one I'm thinking of now.

Q When you brought up your disagreement with 57th Street, what did the Trump Organization --

We had Mazars saying-- Trump Organization spoke about it.

Q They revised it to your satisfaction?

They revised it to our satisfaction, Mazars.

MR. SU REZ: Okay. I think I'm at a good point to take a break.

THE COURT: Like yesterday, we'll take a ten-minute break. Take 15 minutes, but, unlike yesterday, unless there's some personal emergency, I'll be very strict. We're starting again in 15 minutes, whether you're here or not.

(Recess taken.)

(Whereupon, the witness enters the courtroom.)

THE COURT: Okay, counsel. Please, proceed.

Q Mr. Bender, please take a look at Section 2.05. "Personal financial statement, compilation of personal financial statements from the ICP ."

Do you see this?

May I have the original document, please?

Q Premarked D-950. It says -- I'd invite you to read along with me, Mr. Bender.

One second. Thank you.

Q "Before submission, the accountant should read the compiled personal financial statements and consider whether such financial statements appear to be appropriate in form and free from obvious material errors. In this context, the term error refers to mistakes in the compilation of financial statements, including arithmetical or clerical mistakes and mistakes in the application of accounting principles, including disclosure. Misstatements that may occur in personal financial statements prepared in conformity with Generally ccepted ccounting Principles include:

Number one: "The failure to record estimated income taxes on the differences between the estimated current value of assets and the estimated current amounts of liabilities and their tax basis."

Two: "Failure to disclose the methods used to determine estimated current values and amounts."

Three: "Failure to record accounts on the accrual basis" and, number four: "Presentation of an asset or liability at an obviously inappropriate value or amount."

Do you see that?

Yes, sir.

Q In connection with the 2015 Statement of Financial Condition when you were preparing your Independent ccountant's Compilation Report, did you note that the presentation of any asset or liability was presented at an obviously inappropriate value or amount?

No. s part of my compilation procedure, nothing came to my attention at the time.

Q Okay. So, at the time, nothing came to your attention as the presentation of an asset or liability at an obviously inappropriate value or amount?

Correct.

Q In connection with the 2014 compilation report, did anything come to your attention as the presentation of an asset or liability at an obviously inappropriate value or amount?

Nothing came to my attention at that time.

Q Certainly, you didn't disclose to the Trump Organization or President Trump that any assets presented at an obviously inappropriate value or not?

No, sir.

Q In connection with the 2013 compilation report for Statement of Financial Condition, did you identify any asset that was presented at an obviously inappropriate value or amount?

t the time, the compilation report was issued, I did not -- I did not inform the Trump Organization of the presentation of assets or liability in misappropriate value.

Q Did you determine whether there was a determination of an asset or liability at an obviously inappropriate value?

t the time we issued the financial statement, nothing came to my attention.

Q In 2013 when preparing your independent accounting compilation report, did anything come to your attention about a presentation of an asset or liability at an obviously inappropriate value or amount?

I think you already asked, 2013, but, I repeat, no.

Q How about 2012? In connection with your preparation of an Independent ccountant's Compilation Report, did any asset strike you as being presented at an obviously inappropriate value or amount?

No, sir.

Q Did any liability strike you as being presented at an obviously inappropriate value or amount?

Not that I can recall at this time. No, sir.

Q In 2011, which you testified to on Monday, you were preparing your Independent Compilation Report, did any asset or liability strike you as being presented at an obviously inappropriate value or amount?

No, sir.

Q How about 2016? In 2016 did any asset strike you as being presented at an obviously inappropriate value or amount?

No, sir.

Q In 2017, when you prepared your Independent ccountant Compilation Report, did any asset strike you as being presented at an obviously inappropriate value or amount?

No, sir.

Q In 2018, when you were preparing your Independent ccounting Compilation Report, did any asset or liability strike you as being presented at an obviously inappropriate value or amount?

No, sir.

Q In 2019, in connection with the preparation of your Independent ccounting Compilation Report, did any asset in the President's Statements of Financial Condition strike you as being presented at an obviously inappropriate value or amount?

No, sir.
Q Did any liability strike you as being presented at an obviously inappropriate value or amount?
Not that I recall at this moment.
Q In 2019, in connection with preparing your Independent ccountant's Compilation Report, did any asset strike you as being presented at an obviously inappropriate value or amount?
I'm sorry. Which year did you say?
Q 2019.
No, sir.
Q How about liabilities? ny liabilities strike you as being presented at an obviously inappropriate value or amount?
Not that I recall at this moment. No, sir.
Q Okay. In 2020, when you prepared the Compilation Report, the Independent ccountant's Compilation Report, did any asset or liability strike you as being prepared at an obviously inappropriate value or amount?
No, sir, not that I recall.
Q ll right. How about the failure to disclose the methods used to determine estimated current values or amounts?
In 2020, in connection with the preparation of your Independent ccountant's Compilation Report, did you note any failure to disclose the methods used to determine estimated current values and amounts?

Did I note or notice?
Q Note.
Note. What do you mean by note?
Q Did you notice?
Okay. No.
Q You noticed. You did not notice a failure to disclose the methods used to determine estimated current values and amounts in connection with President Trump's Statement of Financial Condition of 2020?
No, sir. I don't recall.
Q Did you notice any failure to disclose the method used to determine estimated current values and amounts in connection with your Independent ccountant's Compilation Report for President Trump's Statement of Financial Condition in 2019?
I do not recall. No, sir.
Q Did you notice a failure to disclose the methods used to determine estimated current values and amounts in connection with your preparation of the Independent ccountant's Compilation Report for President Trump's Statements of Financial Condition in 2018.
Nothing came to my attention.
THE COURT: We're not going to go each year by year, are we?

MR. SU REZ: I'd-- not asset by asset but I'd like to get through every year.
THE COURT: I'm not going to let you do that. sk him if it happened in any year.
Q Did you ever notice in any year in the Statement of Financial Condition that we discussed here today, yesterday or Monday whether there was a failure to disclose the methods used to determine estimated current values and amounts with respect to any asset listed on President Trump's Statement of Financial Condition?
I do not believe so.
THE COURT: So, now, the record is clear for every year. Great.
MR. SU REZ: Thank you.
MR. ROBERT: Your Honor, if I may be heard on that, sir.
THE COURT: Yes.
MR. ROBERT: First of all, Mr. Bender's answer was "I don't believe so." So, I don't think that was as dispositive as he wants us to believe. If he wants to say no, it never happened, that's one thing.
In addition, the relief the ttorney General is seeking against all the defendants is extraordinary.
THE COURT: What does that have to do with anything?

MR. ROBERT: Because they're trying to lump together a sequence of years and based on the fact that they have individual defendants that they've named as well as entities, what happened in a specific year is crucially important. They're seeking a quarter of a billion dollars in damages for the defendants.
THE COURT: What does that have to do with anything?
MR. ROBERT: The severity and importance of making sure we go year by year because different people have different responsibilities year by year.
THE COURT: We're asking this particular witness.
MR. ROBERT: nd this particular witness is saying -- I think the answer was. Not-- let me make sure.
THE COURT: nswer is the same for every year, whether it was complete or not.
MR. ROBERT: Let me see what his answer was. Give me one moment, or, the Court Reporter can read back, with the Court's permission.
THE COURT: No.
He's asking the same question. He asked for 2020, 2019, 2018. I don't see the point to go through every single year. It's the same question and same answer. So I asked counsel to ask for all the years and the answer is the same. Either he doesn't remember or he didn't. What's the difference? Jesus.

But I'll ask the Plaintiffs, do you want to go through every year or not? Because I could get reversed for not allowing him to ask for every individual year rather than lumping them all together.

What would you like me to do?

MR. W LL CE: Whatever your Honor wants.

THE COURT: I don't want to go through nonsense. So, let's move on. Objection overruled.

MR. KISE: So, to be clear, we're precluded from asking year-by-year questions in the course of this proceeding?

MR. W LL CE: I object.

MR. KISE: What we're driving at here is who, at Mazars, was responsible for conforming with the ICP standard each year. President Trump and the other defendants are accused of committing fraud in a repeated and persistent pattern, year by year by year each statement.

So, each statement, respectfully, your Honor, stands on its own. Each statement is a freestanding statement. Each certification is a freestanding certification. This is what your Honor has ruled, that they're independent. So, it is crucial, we believe, for the government to establish that in each independent year, there are these infirmities and if they can't establish that, then they need to -- they've not met their burden of proof and I'll give you an example.

We're talking here about a presentation of an asset or liability at an obviously inappropriate value or amount. The government has introduced evidence of an alleged five or six hundred million dollar disparity on the Statement of Financial Condition for Mar-a-Lago. They've said it should be 18 to 27 instead of the six, seven, eight hundred that we have. That, to me -- I'm just --

THE COURT: You're talking to me or the press or the audience, Chris?

MR. KISE: I'm talking to you, your Honor. That, to me, you're asking why we have to go year by year.

THE COURT: You don't have to go year by year. You have to go every year and he said every year, the answer would be the same. We're wasting more time than if he just let him go through it but this is --

MR. KISE: We need to be able to put on our defense the way we think we should be able to put on a defense, year by year. They brought this case. It involves millions of pages of documents. I'm sorry, your Honor, but, I think we should be entitled to go year by year because that's their burden of proof. If we're going to lump it all together and all the organizations together --

THE COURT: We're not lumping it all together. We're asking if the answer is the same for every year. Same for 2020. Same for 2019. Same for 2018. He said-- he can ask whether the answer would be the same for every year. You can argue for every year. His answer of 2013, '15 or '11 or '12 would be the same. That's your record. I don't see any way around that.

gain, I'll ask Plaintiff, do you want to hear it for every year or risk my being reversed because I wouldn't let them put on a defense in a really big case.

MR. W LL CE: So the record is clear, we are happy to stipulate here that Mr. Benders' response will be the same from every year from 2011 to 2020.

THE COURT: That's my ruling. Objection overruled.

Q Mr. Bender, when you stay you don't believe so, do you know?

Read the question again?

THE COURT: Do you want read back?

Read back, please.

By the way, I do this same technique to try to save time, whether a big case or a little case. It's the same thing.

(Whereupon, the requested portion of the proceedings was read back by the court reporter.)

THE COURT: So, let's move on with the next question.

Q Mr. Bender, I do not believe so, does that mean no?

Yes. That means no.

Q Thank you. nd Mr. Bender, for each and every year that you prepared a Statement of Financial Condition and didn't notice a failure to disclose the methods used to determine estimated current values and amounts, if you didn't notice a failure to disclose the methods used to determine estimated current values and amounts, you certainly couldn't have communicated that to the Trump Organization; correct?

MR. W LL CE: Objection.
THE COURT: Correct. If he didn't notice, then he couldn't communicate it.
MR. SU REZ: I just asked the question, and I got an objection. I just want to make sure we all understand it correctly, your Honor.
THE COURT: Okay. If you don't notice something, you can't communicate it to someone else. Can we agree on that, counselor?
MR. SU REZ: Yes.
THE COURT: So, what's the point of asking the question?
MR. SU REZ: I would like the witness to make that record, that if he didn't notice it, he didn't communicate it. The point is to establish that he didn't communicate it, your Honor.
THE COURT: Yes. You did establish it, and he said he didn't notice it. But, I'll ask the witness to answer.
Did you communicate what you didn't notice?
THE WITNESS: The only change I would make is, he used the word, prepared. This was not a preparation. This was a compilation, so I just -- his question has to be adjusted.

If you say compilation, if I didn't notice it, I didn't communicate it on the compilation.
Q Mr. Bender, certainly when you prepared the 2015 Statement of Financial Condition --
MR. SU REZ: I'm going to stop. I'm going to withdraw the question. I'm going to speak more slowly.
Q Certainly, Mr. Bender, when you prepared the independent accountant's compilation report for the 2015 Statement of Financial Condition, you didn't forget all of the things that you learned when you prepared the independent accountant's compilation report for the Statement of Financial Condition in 2014; did you?
No -- say that again.
MR. SU REZ: I'm trying to adhere to your Honor's direction not to go year-by-year.
Q But, I'm simply trying to establish the fact, Mr. Bender, that, from year to year, you didn't forget what you learned the prior year in preparing a Statement of Financial Condition. Compilation report.
Generally, that would be true. I'm not saying I would remember line-by-line from the year before, but generally, that would be true.
Q But material issues that you learned in one year, you would remember the following year?
Generally, that would be true.

Q Or they would be reflected in your work papers?
Generally, that would be true.
Q nd the work papers were maintained by Mazars?
Yes, sir.
Q Would you review those work papers each year, before picking up on the following year's independent accountant's compilation report?
I don't recall if I didn't or I didn't.
Q You don't recall whether you, each year, before beginning the prior -- the current year's independent accounting compilation report, review the prior year?
I don't recall -- I don't recall.
Q Mr. Bender, at your deposition you testified that you spent 50 to 60 hours each year working on the Statement of Financial Condition compilation report; is that correct?
That would be an estimate. Yes.
Q Okay. It's an estimate. It would change from year to year.
MR. SU REZ: nd I'm not going to ask year to year, because I understand the Court's order.
Q That would be an estimate from the period of time 2011 to 2020, you spent about 50 to 60 hours a year?
That would be an estimate.
Q nd in your opinion, as the --
MR. SU REZ: Withdrawn.

Q nd as the partner in charge at Mazars, in charge of preparing the independent accountant compilation report for the 45th President of the United States, 50 to 60 hours a year was a sufficient amount of time for you to spend on that assignment; correct?
Yes, sir.
THE COURT: We are taking a very short break.
(Whereupon, there was a pause in the proceedings.)
THE COURT: Okay. Let's continue with where we left off.
Q nd within those 50 to 60 hours a year, approximately, that you spent compiling the Statement of Financial Condition for the 45th President of the United States, that was a sufficient amount of time for you to satisfy yourself that the statements did not fail to disclose the methods used to determine estimated current values and amounts?
I did the best, based on my professional skills, to meet those standards.
Q I'm sorry. I can't --
I did the best, based on my professional standards, to meet those.
Q You did the best, based on your professional standards?
My professional skills.

Q nd were those the professional standards for Donald Bender, or the professional standards of Mazars.

I used my best professional skills to meet the standards of Mazars. Of Mazars, and the ICP .

Q ll right. So you used your best professional skills. So, can we infer from your testimony that it was your best professional skills that the president had the benefit of, or can we infer from your skills that it was the benefit of -- from your statement that it was the benefit of Mazars' skills, that the president had the benefit of?

I thought you asked about me -- I method your question was addressed about me.

Q Well, was 50 to 60 hours a year sufficient for you to supervise everyone at Mazars that worked on this engagement?

Yes. I felt it was.

Q nd to adequately make sure that you could represent to the president that his Statements of Financial Condition did not fail to disclose the methods used to determine estimated current values and amounts?

We did our best to try to meet those standards, yes.

Q You tried your best?

Yes.

Q nd you tried your best, in those 50 to 60 hours a year, to make sure that Mazars US -- 2016, for example -- could represent to the president that all of the assets were presented, all of the assets or liabilities, were presented at an amount that was not inappropriately -- that was not obviously inappropriate?

MR. W LL CE: Objection.

THE COURT: What's the ground?

MR. W LL CE: The question is completely unclear.

THE COURT: How about a rephrase?

MR. SU REZ: Sure.

Q The 50 to 60 hours a year that you worked on the Statement of Financial Condition, was that sufficient for you, Mr. Bender, to be comfortable signing the name, Mazars US , to the Statement of Financial Condition certifying that the assets were not presented at an obviously inappropriate value or amount?

I was comfortable signing the compilation. I did not need to certify anything. That was not an audit. This was a compilation. The standards for a compilation don't require us to certify anything.

Q Well, the standards for at compilation do require you to present a compilation report that notes whether any of the assets or liabilities are stated at an obviously inappropriate value or amount?

Yes, sir.

Q nd in 50 to 60 hours a year, you were able to satisfy yourself that the asset value that was stated -- and let's take an example. Let's use a concrete example. Let's take 2013. Let's start with 2013. Fifty to 60 hours a year -- let's put up 2013.

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

Q Mazars and WeiserMazars, both of those logos on are the page, at the top. It says WeiserMazars LLP.

MR. SU REZ: Come on over. Next page.

Q Your signature, the assets.

Let's go through the assets. In 2013, in 50 to 60 hours a year, you were able to satisfy yourself that it was appropriate to list $339 million in cash, $339 million in cash, on the statement of assets in 2013, Mr. Bender?

On the Statement of Financial Conditions? I met the professional standard for a compilation. Yes, sir.

Q So, to meet the professional standard for a compilation and conclude that an asset or liability is not stated at an obviously inappropriate value or amount, in 50 to 60 hours a year, you could do that, to determine, just go through them, $339 million in cash and marketable securities?

Yes, sir.

Q nd in 50 to 60 hours a year, you were able to take Trump Tower at $526 million, and determine that Trump Tower, at $526 million, was not presented at an obviously inappropriate value or amount?

Based on my compilation procedures, nothing came to my attention.

Q nd in 50 to 60 hours a year, you were able to determine that Trump Tower being presented at $526,800,000 did not fail the compilation -- did not -- I'm sorry, the Statements of Financial Condition, it did not fail to disclose the methods used to determine estimated current value of that asset?

Say that again, please?

Q You were able, in 50 to 60 hours a year, to determine that the Statements of Financial Condition did not fail to disclose the methods used to determine estimated current value, estimated current value of that asset?

Nothing came to my attention, as part of my compilation procedures.

Q nd in 50 to 60 hours a year, you were able to determine that NikeTown, worth $287,600,000 in 2013, was appropriately listed, and that the Statement of Financial Condition did not fail to disclose the methods used to determine estimated current values and amounts?

Nothing came to my attention, as part of my compilation procedures.

Q nd in 50 hours a year, you were able to determine, 50 to 60 hours a year, approximately, you were able to determine that that asset was not presented at an obviously inappropriate value or amount?

Nothing came to my attention, as part of my compilation procedures.

Q nd in connection with 40 Wall Street, identified in 2013 at $530 million a year, Mr. Bender, you were able to determine that the Statement of Financial Condition did not fail to disclose the methods used to determine estimated current value and amount of that asset?

Nothing came to my attention, as part of my compilation procedures.

Q Okay. nd in 50 to 60 hours a year, Mr. Bender, you were able to determine that 40 Wall Street was not presented at an obviously inappropriate value or amount; is that correct?

Nothing came to my attention during my compilation procedures.

Q nd in 50 to 60 hours a year, Mr. Bender, you were able to determine that Trump Park venue, listed in the Statement of Financial Condition at $346,100,000, that the Statement of Financial Condition did not fail to disclose the methods used to determine estimated current value and amount for that asset?

Nothing came to my attention, during my compilation procedures.

THE COURT: Counselor, can we lump this all together? gain, using the same principles, you can ask him, for each item, whether 50 or 60 hours was sufficient.

I think that would make sense, but if you really want to do it, go ahead.

MR. SU REZ: I'm doing my best to lump this together, but I can't lump it together, your Honor, because each separate asset on the spreadsheet presents the basis for valuation, and Mr. Bender's testimony, I believe, is that within 50 to 60 hours a year, he was able to look at all of those valuations and make sure that they were properly listed, or at a minimum, that they were properly disclosed in the Statement of Financial Condition, what the basis for that methodology was.

THE COURT: Yes. The key word you used is, all. sk him if he would have the same answer to the same questions for each line. But all the lines --

MR. SU REZ: May I try to truncate is by saying --

Q Would you have the same answer to the same questions concerning the club facilities and real estate in New York, Florida, New Jersey, California, Washington D.C., North Carolina, and Scotland, at $1,656,200,000?

Nothing came to my attention as part of my compilation procedures.

Q Nothing came to your attention. Did anything come to your attention concerning the manner in which estimated current value and amounts for the Trump World Tower at United Nations

Plaza was disclosed in this financial statement?

No.

Q nd did anything come to your attention that would cause you to think that this asset was not presented at an obviously inappropriate value or amount?

No, sir.

Q Did anything cause you to think that it was presented at an inappropriate value or amount?

No, sir.

Q The Trump Plaza commercial and retained residential portions identified at $31 million, in 50 to 60 hours a year, is that something that you were able to determine that the Jeff Supporting Data that then was reflected in the notes, Mr. Bender, did not fail to disclose the methods used to determine estimated current values and amounts?

Nothing came to my attention.

Q Nothing came to your attention.

So, this is all work that you did in 50 to 60 hours a year?

My time would have been 50 to 60 hours a year.

Q Your time alone?

My time alone.

Q Sufficient?

On average.

Q On average?

Guesstimate.

Q I've been asked to bring them all together.

Okay.

Q nd in 50 to 60 hours a year, Mr. Bender, the Trump Palace, the Trump Parc, the Trump Parc East condominiums, those commercial portions, you were able to satisfy yourself that the Statement of Financial Condition did not fail to disclose the methods used to determine estimated current value and amounts for those three assets at $13,700,000?

Nothing came to my attention, as part of my compilation procedure.

THE COURT: Counselor, I don't talk just to hear myself. You seem to be doing the exact same thing, and I'm precluding you from doing it. You can lump together -- I thought you were just going to list the different properties, but to ask the question again, I'm not going to let you to that.

MR. SU REZ: Your Honor, here is the concern that I have: Every single Statement of Financial Condition lists the property differently. Every single Statement of Financial Condition, from year to year, identifies the properties differently. Mr. Bender just told you, your Honor, that he or Mazars retained the knowledge as to all material assets that went from year to year, and how those assets changed, and in 50 to 60 hours a year, Mr. Bender satisfied himself that he could sign the name of a major international accounting firm on the Statement of Financial Condition, slapped their logo on it, and called it an independent compilation report.

THE COURT: Maybe that helps you. That is his testimony, yes. Or, you can ask him, Would your answer be the same to the same questions for all of the other properties on that sheet? That's all I'm going to let you do.

THE WITNESS: My testimony wasn't that, from year to year. I said, in each individual year, your Honor.

MR. SU REZ: nd that just reiterates the point as to why we have to go year by year, your Honor. Because in each individual year, his testimony may be different.

THE WITNESS: No. I said, I didn't necessarily compare to the previous year.

MR. SU REZ: He didn't necessarily compare to the previous year, which is even more important, because every single year, he had two rows of data presented to him; the prior year and the current year, and his testimony today is that he didn't compare to the prior year.

THE WITNESS: I may not necessarily have compared every item to the previous year.

THE COURT: Let me approach this a different way. How much longer do you expect this cross examination to take?

MR. SU REZ: Your Honor --

THE COURT: That's a simple question.

MR. SU REZ: We have --

THE COURT: If you do it your way. Not my way.

MR. SU REZ: We have Statements of Financial Condition. I would work my hardest to be done today.

MR. W LL CE: Today?

THE COURT: Well --

MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, at this point I will raise that we have another witness who has come in from out of the town, now in second day of waiting outside, and if they are just going to do this, read every number and say, did he spend the 50 to 60 hours he already testified he spent, this is time wasting. I don't know why they think running out the clock is going to be helpful, but there's no jury. I don't know who we are performing for, at this point. The evidence is clear. He spent 50 to 60 hours a year. The statements say what they say.

THE COURT: I'll let --

MR. W LL CE: If we are going to go on all day with Mr. Bender, at some point we would like to have a conference, because we have a witness waiting.

THE COURT: I just want to point out to everybody, Mr. Bender is not on trial here. Somebody else is, or various people are, on trial here.

MR. KISE: I would respectfully disagree with that, your Honor.

MS. H BB : s would I, your Honor.

MR. KISE: His credibility, his veracity, his thoroughness in conducting his job that he got paid millions of dollars a year to do. He was the CP . He had certain responsibilities under the ICP standards. Those responsibilities are laid out. If he didn't meet those standards -- he is sitting here answer after answer saying, Nothing came to my attention; I don't recall. The only things he seems to recall, with any degree of specificity, are what the Government wants him to recall. That's a fair summary of his testimony so far.

MR. W LL CE: The record saying what?

MR. KISE: So we need to be allowed to parse the evidence. We didn't bring this case.

THE COURT: But you don't -- you are not allowed to waste time. That's what this is becoming, going through every one of these and getting the same answer, when you can just say, Would your answer be the same.

nd, as I said, I do this in every trial, and you know what? No one has ever objected to it.

MS. H BB : Your Honor, if I may, this trial is different because we still don't even have clarity on the years in question, and for my clients, frankly, it's incredibly important. My clients, some of them did the backup data, that he is complimenting my client from the stand, but I can't ask him specifically, and have no record as to what he relied on with my client Mr. McConney, for instance, or llen Weisselberg.

This is insane. We haven't gotten one answer out of him, and we have not objected to the fact that he is being evasive, but quite honestly, your Honor, he is. He has not answered one question. He has no memory today, as we sit here.

MR. KISE: I just want to be clear, your Honor.

THE COURT: Go ahead.

MR. KISE: The Government has brought a case accusing my client of a staggering fraud, and that is based on year-by-year. They pointed out to you, in this year they made these changes, in this year they made those changes. I mean, it's specific to year. But now, when it comes time for us to defend ourselves and point out the flaws in that case, they want --

THE COURT: You have had plenty of chances to defend yourself, and I've already ruled on them.

MS. H BB : No, your Honor. We disagree with that.

MR. KISE: With respect to intent, with respect to materiality, and with respect to reliance, these concepts are very important, and so we'll attempt to streamline these as much as possible, but they gone back --

THE COURT: You haven't seen that, yet. I made a ruling, and he totally ignored it. I said, I'm not going to let you do property by property, and then he just went on, property by property.

MR. KISE: But we have to do property by property, because that's -- the devil is in the details. I'm sorry, but it is.

THE COURT: You can do property by property, and you can lump them all together. This is ridiculous.

To the reporters, I'm pounding the bench, again. This is ridiculous.

MS. H BB : That's the one thing I agree with you, sir. This is absolutely ridiculous.

THE COURT: There's no point in going through each line, when the counsel can ask the witness if his answer would be the same for each line. Then you have got your record on appeal, and then you have got whatever post-trial brief you want to say. I'm just being logical, here.

MR. KISE: I'm not sure -- let me be sure I understand what you are saying. So, you are asking us to go line by line, but just ask the same question for each line?

THE COURT: I'm asking --

MR. KISE: Would your answer be the same -- for example, would your answer be the same as to Trump International Hotel and Tower; would your answer be the same as to Mansion at Seven Springs; would your answer be the same as to partnerships and joint ventures? I mean, I've never had to negotiate how to ask questions, as a defense lawyer, but -- and I think it's highly irregular. I think it makes -- I think it makes a very poor record, frankly.

So, this is why I think we should be entitled to present our defense the way we want to. It is going to take some time, but they brought a case that spans a decade, and accuses --

MS. H BB : Exactly.

MR. KISE: -- my client of massive and staggering fraud, they can't condense it all together, because they have a witness waiting, and it's inconvenient.

MS. H BB : nd your Honor, your order itself goes to, for instance, Mar- -Lago, famous Mar- -Lago, which we are clearly having a discrepancy for, on the value. How can you say that now we can't sit her and ask about the value of Mar- -Lago?

THE COURT: ll I'm asking is that you lump things together, so we don't waste time. You can include Mar- -Lago and any other property in whatever question it is, but let's not waste time. I'm just being logical, here. I'm not going to let you ask every single line, when you can just ask, For all the lines, would your answer be the same. You will have your record, you will have what I've heard, and let's just move ahead. You are not going to get away with this.

MR. KISE: For the record, I object to that procedure, your Honor.

MS. H BB : s do I, your Honor.

MR. ROBERT: s do I.

THE COURT: Okay.

By the way, you don't even have to say every line on the page. You can say, Would your answer be the same for , B, C, D, E, F. You can name them all, but you don't have to ask the question again.

Q For the questions that we have just run through Mr. Bender, I'm just going to --

MR. SU REZ: Your Honor, I'm being very delicate, to make sure I don't re-ask the question.

Q But, I'm going to go through, and I'm going to question you, for the remaining assets, whether 50 to 60 hours a year was sufficient for you, number one, to determine that the Statement of Financial Condition did not fail to disclose the methods used to determine estimated current values and amounts; and number two, that the asset was presented at a value or amount that was not obviously inappropriate.

I'm sorry. Nothing came to my attention, during my compilation procedures.

Q nd that was true --

MR. SU REZ: I'm sorry, your Honor.

Q But my question, actually, Mr. Bender, was a little different. My question wasn't whether anything came to your attention. My question was whether 50 to 60 hours a year was sufficient for you to determine that the Statement of Financial Condition with respect to, take the Trump International Hotel and Tower, New York, New York, did not fail to disclose the methods used to determine estimated current values and amounts, and presented the value or amount of that asset or liability, in a manner that was not obviously inappropriate.

I was able to meet my standards for my compilation procedures.

MR. SU REZ: The witness is being evasive, which is the reason we've got to go and try to pin him down. He testifies, 50 to 60 hours a year. I'm asking him, with respect to each asset, whether within those 50 to 60 hours a year, it was sufficient for him, the person who signed the accountant's compilation report, to determine whether two very basic and fundamental criteria had been met.

D. Bender - Cross by Mr. Suarez Page 426

That's the question. Was that enough time for you to make that determination? If his answer is yes, I'll say, same question. Same question for this asset. Same question for this asset. If his answer is no, I'll ask him the same question for each asset, same question for each asset, same question for each asset.

THE COURT: I think that's what I'm asking you to do.

MR. SU REZ: nd I'm more than happy to do that, your Honor. I'm certainly not intending to upset you or not follow the Court's orders but --

THE COURT: I have a thick skin, but it's really being pierced, here.

MR. SU REZ: But the answer that I'm getting from the witness is not responsive, candidly.

Q The question is, Mr. Bender, in 50 to 60 hours a year, were you able to determine whether the asset listed in this Statement of Financial Condition, with respect to each asset listed on the Statement of Financial Condition, the Statement of Financial Condition did not, number one, fail to disclose the methods used to determine estimated current values and amounts; and number two, present an asset or liability at an obviously inappropriate value or amount.

Was that enough time for to you make that determination?

D. Bender - Cross by Mr. Suarez Page 427

It was enough time for me to make that determination, based on my compilation procedures.

Q Okay. Same question for Trump International Hotel and Tower. Would you give me the same answer? Yes or no.

Yes, sir.

Q nd for Mansion at Seven Springs. If I asked you the same question, would you give me the same answer?

Yes, sir.

Q With respect to the partnerships and joint ventures, the first one, 1290 venue of the mericas, New York, New York; and 555 California Street, San Francisco, California, would you give me the same answer, if I asked you the same questions?

Yes, sir.

D. Bender - Cross/Suarez Page 428

Q With respect to the Trump International Hotel and Tower in Las Vegas, Nevada, would you give me the same answer, if I asked you the same question?

Yes, sir.

Q With respect to Miss Universe Pageants, would you give me the same answer, if I asked you the same questions?

Yes, sir?

Q With respect to real estate licensing developments, would you give me the same answer, if I asked you the same questions?

Yes, sir.

Q With respect to the other assets, would you give me the same answer, if I asked you the same question?

Yes, sir.

Q Now, the other assets, the other assets are disclosed at a value of $337 million in this Statement of Financial Condition, correct?

Yes, sir.

Q You, Mr. Bender, made the determination it was appropriate to present them as other assets, to lump them together in the category of other assets?

It's the client's compilation. They prepared the financial statement. Yeah, they prepared the financial statement.

Q You understood which assets were included within the value of the other assets. Was that part of your mathematical calculation?

D. Bender - Cross/Suarez Page 429

Yes, sir.

Q You went through all of the other assets and I, with your Honor's permission, I'd like to pull them up and walk through what other assets fold into other assets.

THE COURT: I'm not sure he understood the question before. I think isn't the question, do you know what the other assets were. I'll ask that question, all right.

Do you know what the other assets were?

THE WITNESS: I know a lot of them. I don't now them all for every year, off the top of my head.

THE COURT: Did you know them all for 2013?

THE WITNESS: I can't tell you today.

THE COURT: sk him what you want.

MR. SU REZ: Let's pull up the Jeff Supporting Data for other assets. I would just note that part of the argument that we've heard is that assets were moved in or out of this category over the years, for one reason other another, and, whatever motivations the government ascribes to them, that we don't agree with, but, certainly, certainly, the point is the independent accountant that looked at these Jeff Supporting Data in 50 to 60 hours a year was able to determine that they should all be lumped together in the category of other assets and that that same independent accountant and his knowledge of the ICP guidelines carried that knowledge over from year to year, your Honor, and how those assets changed and what he looked at and whether those assets were lumped together into the category of other assets are the questions that I respectfully intend to ask the witness.

THE COURT: Let's start and see how it goes.

MR. SU REZ: Excellent.

Q Mr. Bender, other assets, The pprentice. Did you review the basis for including that asset into the category of other assets?

It wasn't a review but I was happy -- I was content with the classification at that time.

Q It was okay with you to classify that as other asset?

t that time, yes.

Q Okay. The Wollman Rink, were you able to classify that as an asset in the Statement of Financial Condition?

t that time, yes.

Q Is it still okay to call it an other asset? You keep saying "at that time" as if you'd change your mind and would call it another asset today. That would be okay with you?

I would be fine.

Q You'd be perfectly fine with calling that an other asset. The President's family receivables, you'd be okay with calling that an other asset?

Yes, sir.

Q Trump Model Management disclosed to you $2 million. You'd be okay with calling that an other asset?

Yes, sir.

Q The Virginia Vineyards which, in 2013, were valued at $15,439,000, you'd be okay with calling that an other asset?

Yes, sir.

Q You made the determination it was okay to include that in the other assets?

The client made the determination. I did not have any problem at the time.

Q You had no problem in the manner in which it was disclosed in the financial statement?

Not at that time, no, sir.

Q How about today, you think it was inappropriate to disclose that?

s of today, I'm not on top of all standards as of today but I know of nothing --

Q When did you stop being on top of all standard?

I stopped doing compilations about two or three years ago.

Q Before that, you were on top of all the standards?

No but I have subject matter specialists who would assist me, and I would able to consult people.

Q Starrett City ssociates, $10 million. It was okay for you to lump that into other assets? You didn't have an issue with how that was disclosed, Mr. Bender?

No, I did not have an issue.

Q Okay, the President's aircrafts which, in 2013, were disclosed at asset value of $52 million. You can see there the manner in which those asset values were derived at $52 million. You were okay lumping that into other assets?

I was okay at that time.

Q re you okay with it today? I'm trying to understand or qualify "at that time."

Yes. Yes.

Q Okay. The triplex --

MR. SU REZ: I think he I said it right this time, your Honor.

Q --listed there at $200 million, it was okay with you to lump that in as an other asset?

It was, yes.

Q Okay. The two homes in Palm Beach in 2013 listed as an asset of $9 million and $2,750,000, that was okay for you to list as an other asset?

It was okay.

Q In Beverly Hills, California the residence in Beverly Hills, $15 million asset, that was okay to lump it in?

It was okay at that time, yes.

Q The licensing deals, the management fees, and incentive fees, it was okay to lump those assets in as other assets?

It was okay at that time. Yes, sir.

Q Same question for the accounts payable. Okay to lump them in as other assets?

Those are the liabilities. I take it back. That is a liability on the other side and that's a --

Q Let's put a pause on that. So, in 2013 when you reviewed all of those assets, you were okay lumping them into other assets?

Mazars compiled the financial statement. We had no problem at that time.

Q Do you have a problem with the fact in 2013 all of those assets were put together and included as other assets in the Statements of Financial Condition?

We had no problem when we issued the statement.

Q Okay, at that time-- withdrawn. In connection with all the assets that we just discussed, the failure -- sorry. You did not know, in connection with all the assets that we just discussed, as other assets, you did not know or notice a failure to disclose the methods used to determine estimated current value among any of those assets?

Not that I recall at this time.

Q nd in your estimation, in the 50 to 60 hours you spent on this worksheet, you did not notice that any of these assets were presented at an obviously inappropriate value or amount, did you?
Nothing came to my attention when I compiled the 2013 --
Q 2013?
Yeah, it's not shown.
Q You would agree with me when you compiled 2013, you had in front of you the number used in '13 and the number that was used in 2012?
Yes.
Q So, you can see, for example, when you go all the way to the top, that the President's cash position in June 30, 2013 increased to $339 million from $169 million the year before?
His cash and marketable security balance.
Q Cash and Marketable Securities increased from $339 million from 169 the year before?
That's what it says. Yes, sir.
Q In the time that you spent reviewing that, you were comfortable that the method used to determine the estimated current value of all of these assets on the spreadsheet were properly disclosed in the Statement of Financial Condition?
When I was compiling it, not reviewing it. You said reviewed. When I was compiling, nothing came to my attention or bothered me.

THE COURT: Five-minute warning.
MR. SU REZ: Let's move back to liabilities.
MR. W LL CE: The People would like to request a side-bar before we actually all leave for lunch. So, if that can be accommodated within the five minutes.
THE COURT: Let's do that. Great.
MR. W LL CE: Now or -- I think five more minutes and then we can talk.
THE COURT: Go five more minutes of testimony and then we'll talk.
Q Let's pull up the 2013 Statement of Financial Condition. Next page. Next page. Let's go to liability. Here you have the liabilities, Mr. Bender.
You correctly noted the accounts payable and accrued expense of liability of $20 million. In the 50 to 60 hours you spent, Mr. Bender, producing your Independent ccountant's Compilation Report for the 2013 Statement of Financial Condition, were you able to determine, with respect to accounts payable and accrued expenses, the Statement of Financial Condition did not fail to disclose the methods used to determine the estimated current value, the amount of that liability?
Nothing came to my attention during that time.

Q If I asked you the same question for the note related to Trump Tower, you'd give me the same answer?
Yes, sir.
Q If I asked you the same question for the secured lease bond related to Niketown?
Yes, sir.
Q The loan related to 40 Wall Street, you'd give me the same answer?
Yes.
Q The loans related to club facilities and related real estate, you'd give me the same answer?
Yes, sir.
Q The loan related to Trump Park venue, you'd give me the same answer?
Yes.
Q So, in reviewing and preparing your Independent ccountant's Compilation Report, you would have been apprised of the fact that there was a loan on Trump Tower, correct?
Yes, sir.
Q You would have been apprised to the fact that there was a loan related to 40 Wall Street?
Yes, sir.
Q You would have been apprised of the fact that there was a loan related to club facilities and real estate?
Yes, sir.

Q nd the loans related to club facilities and real estate, that's also grouping, correct?
Yes, sir. I believe so.
Q That reflects more than one loan?
I'd have to check. I'm not familiar with the debt on the club facilities at the time.
Q You certainly would have determined that was an appropriate way to disclose that?
Yes, sir.
Q You would have determined that loans related to Trump Park venue were appropriately disclosed?
Yes.
Q The loans related to the commercial and retained residential portions of Trump Plaza were appropriately disclosed?
Yes, sir.
Q Same question with the Trump International Hotel and Tower New York?
Sorry?
Q The loan related to the Trump International Hotel and Tower New York?
Nothing came to my attention.
Q The loan related to the mansion at Seven Springs, you would have determined that was appropriate to disclose at that time?

Nothing came to my attention, so I agree.
Q So, you agree. Same question for other mortgages and loans payable?
Nothing came to my attention.
Q Same question for commitments and contingencies?
Nothing came to my attention, your Honor.
Q Same question for the net worth calculation for 2013?
That's math. plus B should equal C.
Q So, nothing came to your attention that the Statement of Financial Condition in any way failed to disclose the methods used to determine estimated current values with respect to the statement of net worth, correct?
Statement of financial conditions not the -- you used the statement of --
Q The statement of net worth. It says net worth there.
Okay.
Q You described as a -- what you described as a mathematical calculation of assets minus liabilities, correct?
Yes, sir.
Q We take all of the assets that you said in the prior page, you spent the time to determine there was no failure to disclose the estimated current value of those assets, the methods for determining the estimated current value of those assets and you subtracted from them all of the liabilities for the-- that are listed on this page and I think your testimony was, you determined that there was no failure to disclose the methods used to determine the estimated amounts of those loans?

I believe.
Q So, if you were to subtract those two, you wouldn't take issue with the computation of net worth either?
Sorry?
Q You would not take issue with the computation of net worth?
Nothing came to my attention.
Q t 4.9 million?
Nothing came to my attention.
Q This is the review that you conducted in 50 to 60 hours?
This is a compilation that I prepared in 50 to 60 hours.
Q If I were to ask you --
If I were to ask you the same questions with respect to the presentation of an asset or liability at an obviously inappropriate value or amount, the 50 or 60 hours was sufficient for you to determine with respect to this Statement of Financial Condition there was no presentation of asset or liability as an obviously inappropriate value or amount, you'd have the same answer?
Yes, sir.

THE COURT: Okay. Let's do what we said. ttorneys stay. Everybody else, 2:15. Thank you.

(Luncheon recess taken.)

F T E R N O O N S E S S I O N.

THE COURT: Counsel, we're going to accommodate a witness. We're taking a witness out of order. Mr. Bender will be testifying later after we finish this testimony.
Who are you calling?
MR. G BER: People call Camron Harris. Judge, I've been admonished to introduce myself to the Court.
THE COURT: Can't hear you.
MR. G BER: My name is Sherief Gaber. We spoke last week. Feels like last year's arguments.
THE COURT: Please keep your voice up.
Most of you don't realize this but this is a very important day. I believe -- correct me if I'm wrong -- it's Kevin Wallace's birthday.
MR. W LL CE: Thank you, your Honor. This is a living nightmare for me.
THE COURT: Happy birthday. Is this how you're celebrating?
MR. W LL CE: Just happen to be surrounded by people I love.
MR. ROBERT: Up to this line.
(Whereupon, the witness enters the courtroom.)
C M R O N H R R I S, called as a witness, having been first duly sworn, was examined, and testified, as follows:

THE COURT: State your name and home or business address on the record.

THE WITNESS: I'm Camron Harris. Work address: Whitley Penn. 8343 Douglas venue Dallas, Texas.

DIRECT EX MIN TION

BY MR. G BER:

Q Good morning, Mr. Harris.

Good afternoon.

Q You just gave us your name and place of business. Can you just state your employer and title, for the record?

Yeah. My employer is Whitley Penn. Title is audit partner.

Q Mr. Harris, were you involved in the engagement compiling of a 2021 Statement of Financial Condition of Donald J. Trump?

Yes, sir.

Q Mr. Harris, how long have you been employed there?

Over 19 years.

Q Can you describe your educational background?

I graduated from Texas Tech with an accounting and management degree.

MR. KISE: Is his microphone on?

THE COURT: You have to speak right into it, clearly.

I graduated from Texas Tech with a management and accounting degree and I'm a CP .

Q I believe that you said you were an audit partner, Mr. Harris. Can you describe that role?

Yes, as an audit partner, I lead multiple teams that are in charge of doing attestation work for numerous clients.

Q s audit partner, did you have a role in any of Whitley Penn's audit engagement for the Trump Organization?

I only work on attestation engagements.

Q ll of the attestation agreements?

Correct.

Q So, Mr. Harris. I'll bring up a document that Plaintiff's have marked PX-1498 for identification.

re you familiar with this document, Mr. Harris?

Yes, sir.

Q Can you describe what this document is?

Yes. This is our client acceptance procedure memo. This memo details out the work that we did, forbearance proposal, and onboarding process and determining if this was a client that we were going to take on.

Q When you say this was a client, can you clarify?

Restate, please.

Q Who is this?

The engagement that we do for the Trump

Organization.

Q Is this memo kept among the work papers for this engagement?

Correct.

MR. G BER: I'd like to move this into evidence, Judge.

THE COURT: Granted. It's in evidence.

Q So, Mr. Harris, I'd like to direct your attention to the top of the second page of this document, if you would.

It says: "On ugust 17, 2021 Camron Harris, Randy Gregg, Jeff Lawlis held a call with Mark Hawthorn and Jeff McConney. During this call we went through all the prior years' audit and compilation records and asked various questions about the operation and each of the entities. We also discussed the clients acceptance inquiry outlined above. Management provided and answered all questions adequately and was forthright in providing all necessary information."

Was-- the meeting occurred as described here?

Yes.

Q Who is Jeff McConney?

Jeff McConney was the Vice President of Finance.

Q t the Trump Organization?

Yes.

Q Who is Mark Hawthorn?

Mark Hawthorn's role was CFO at the Trump

Organization over the resort properties.

Q Was the Statement of Financial Condition of Donald J. Trump one of the audits and compilations discussed on this call with Mr. Hawthorn and Mr. McConney?

I believe so.

Q Do you know what or can you describe what role Jeff McConney played in the SOFC engagement?

Yes, Jeff was one of our main points of contact as we were going through that compilation. He's reviewed a lot of the work prior to it being provided to us.

Q Same question for Mr. Hawthorn.

Mr. Hawthorn was not involved in the Statement of Financial Condition.

Q Now, move down to the third to last paragraph on this document. It's right there above the section called "background check." It says that-- I'm sorry. It's the one starting on September 1, 2021. It says that "Camron Harris Randy Gregg and Jeff Lawlis held a call with Jeff McConney. During this call we discussed and asked questions regarding the DJT SOFC and reviewed the prior year report."

Is prior year review a requirement of compilation engagement?

No.

Q Can you tell me what you recall of the discussion at that meeting?

We would have gone through the 2020 Statement of Financial Condition that was provided by Jeff McConney to us and just read through it trying to get an understanding of what was included, what the process entailed, and how we were to obtain information and then we asked the client acceptance inquiries as well.

Q Prior year inquiries aren't required, as I believe you just testified. Why were you reviewing the previous year's SOFC?

We all prefer to get the prior year papers, if we can, to obtain a better understanding of the work audit that was done in the prior year and to help us, aid us as we begin to plan for potentially doing this engagement.

Q Did you ultimately accept that engagement?

Yes.

MR. G BER: Can I bring up 1497.

Q Mr. Harris, I've handed you a document marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 1497 for identification. Do you recognize this document?

Yes, sir.

Q Can you tell me what this document is?

Overall compilation program. So, this program is sort of built out into three sections. planning section or work papers section and then a reporting section. This program is promulgated from the compilation guidance SS RS which is made by the ICP .

So, this is our guide whenever there is a compilation that shows all the steps that we need to complete as part of the compilation.

Q nd is this for the Statement of Financial Condition engagement, this particular compilation program?

Correct.

MR. G BER: I'd like to move this into evidence.

THE COURT: Granted. It's in evidence.

Q Mr. Harris, take a step back. Can you explain your understanding of what a compilation is, in accounting terms?

Sure. t a compilation, we're receiving information from the client. We're reviewing that for obvious errors. We are then putting it together in a format and presentation that is the proper, in accordance with the applicable framework, that we're doing that compilation in. We do not conclude or do not verify any of the accuracy on any of the information that is provided.

Q Is that different than a review or audit engagement?

Yes.

Q In what way?

Compilation, we're at lowest attestation, lowest assurance in the attestation agreements. Review would be the next level of an attestation agreement, which would include review, year after year analytics, inquiries with management and then an audit would be the top attestation engagement type where you're truly going into the underlying support documents.

Q You mentioned the standard governing compilation engagements. Do you know what those standards are? Can you describe them?

SS RS 80. Yes. SS RS 80, that is the main guidance we file when we go through the compilation. It's a statement on standards for accounting and review services and that's what these programs are derived from that.

We followed that as our guide to complete all of the necessary and required steps and procedures.

Q t this time, I'd like for you to turn to page 4, on the screen here. Page four says that "Whitley Penn held a planning call with Jeff McConney and Patrick Birney in early October 2021."

Were you on this call?

Yes.

Q Early October 2021. Can you describe what was discussed at this call?

We described it as our planning call. So, during the planning call, we'd going over introducing our team to the client. We'd also be introduced to the main points of contact that we'd be working with in regards to that engagement.

We'd also go through a timeline of when we were going to do this work for them. We also, during that time, we'll ask for updates, things that are going on with the operations of entities, any changes in systems or internal controls and go through inquiries as well.

C. Harris - Direct by Mr. Gaber Page 450

Q t this time, I would like you to flip to page 11.
It says there that, "The SOFC is prepared under SC 274, personal financial statements. SC 274 requires that all assets and liabilities be reported as estimated current values as of the reporting date."
What is your understanding of this requirement of SC 274?
Yes. Under SC, so, all the assets and liabilities, they say current value. That's the key word, versus book value. Like, a G. . .P. audit is at book value, versus fair market value, or current values, which is what that's referring to.
Q nd does SC 274 cover all personal financial statements under G. . .P.?
I couldn't answer that.
Q Okay.
MR. G BER: So, if we scroll down to page 14.
Q First, it says Patrick at the top of the page. Who is Patrick?
Patrick Birney.
Q Who is Patrick Birney?
I'm not positive of his title, but he was main point of contact that we had when we were completing Statements of Financial Condition, and prepared and provided a majority of the work papers.
Q Okay. So it says, "Patrick explained that he is the primary preparer of the valuations. Patrick obtained all of the necessary information for the valuations from external and internal sources. He worked with other team members to pull this information together, such as Ray Flores. Ray Flores performs the first review of Patrick's spreadsheet and financial statements. Prior to issuance of the SOFC, an individual from upper management of the Trump Organization, and also one of the Trump family members, will read and review the financial statements."

C. Harris - Direct by Mr. Gaber Page 451

Mr. Harris, do you know who the individual from upper management of the Trump Organization was, referred to here?
Jeff McConney.
Q nd Mr. Harris, do you know who the member of the Trump family who read and reviewed the 2021 financial statement was?
We received the representation letter signed by Donald Trump, Jr., as the trustee.
Q It's your understanding that he reviewed the statement?
We provided the final version to Jeff to provide to him, and we got the representation letter returned to us, signed, by Mr. Trump, Jr.
Q Thank you. We can move on.
Mr. Harris, I'm going to ask you to -- for identification, I'm going to pass you a document that's marked

C. Harris - Direct by Mr. Gaber Page 452

Plaintiff's Exhibit 1515.
(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)
Q So, this is a sort of series of emails, so we'll start from the bottom.
MR. G BER: Not all the way. Sorry. Page two.
Q So, page two here, this is an email -- or, do you recognize this document?
What I'm holding here is different than that.
(Whereupon, there was a pause in the proceedings.)
This is different. Yeah. What I'm holding here is not the same thing as what I'm seeing on the screen.
(Whereupon, there was a pause in the proceedings.)
(Whereupon, a document was handed to the witness.)
Q Do you recognize this document, Mr. Harris?
Yes.
Q Can you -- is this your email address here, at the top?
Yes, it is.
Q Okay. nd did you send this email?
Yes.
MR. G BER: I would like to move Plaintiff's

C. Harris - Direct by Mr. Gaber Page 453

Exhibit 1515 into evidence.
THE COURT: Granted. It's in evidence.
(Whereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit 1515 was received in evidence.)
Q So, "Mr. Harris, I have included everything, based on the information I have, but need help on audit committee and RP section below, before getting this over to Felix, to distribute."
First, what is RP, in this context?
Related party.
Q Okay. nd Mr. Harris, looking at this document, what are you asking for here, can you tell me?
This email took place as I was preparing to send out our independence check.
Q Is that a conflict check?
Yes.
Q nd if you go to page three of the document, Mr. Harris, one of the lines, it says, "List the names of the board of directors/trustees, including the chairman of the audit committee."
You were asking for that information, then. Do you have an understanding of who those individuals are, for the Trump Organization?
Yes.
Q Can you tell me?

C. Harris - Direct by Mr. Gaber Page 454

Donald Trump, Jr. and Eric Trump.
Q What do you understand Eric Trump's role to have been with respect to the board of directors/trustees, including the chairman of the audit committee? s the trustee, executive leadership, corporate governance, tone at the top.
Q nd Donald Trump, Jr.?
Same responsibilities.
Q Did either -- did Eric Trump play any roles as a member of, or chairman of, the audit committee for the Trump Organization?
They do not have an audit committee.
Q They do not have -- okay. What interactions did you have with Eric Trump in their role as --
(Whereupon, there was a pause in the proceedings.)
Q Tone at the top?
The person in charge, they set the tone at the top. The leader.
Q nd did you have meetings with Eric Trump, in this capacity?
Is this in relation to the Statement of Financial Condition?
Q Yes.
No.

C. Harris - Direct by Mr. Gaber Page 455

Q How about generally?
Who?
Q Mr. Eric Trump. Did you have meetings with Mr. Eric Trump regarding other engagements?
Other engagements, yes.
Q But you had no other meetings that included you discussing the Statement of Financial Condition?
Yes.
Q I had asked you if you had had any meeting with Eric Trump that discussed the Statement of Financial Condition.
No, I did not.
Q Did you have an annual meeting with Mr. Eric Trump related to the Trump Organization engagement?
Correct.
Q Yes?
Yes.
Q The Statements of Financial Condition have been discussed at any of these annual meetings?
No, they were not.
Q You sure about that?
Our first meeting took place subsequent to the issuance of the Statement of Financial Condition.
Q Mr. Harris, do you remember giving a deposition in May of this year?
Yes.

C. Harris - Direct by Mr. Gaber Page 456

Q nd I believe that we were at your counsel's office, we sat in the conference room, there was a stenographer there?
I remember, yes. I remember this.
Q Do you remember what I asked you about the audit committee and the annual meetings at the time?
Yeah.
Q Okay. nd if I were to bring up your transcript, would that potentially refresh your recollection as to answers you gave during that meeting, or during that -- I don't recall what I said.
Q Okay. nd would it refresh your recollection if I showed you your testimony from that day?
Yes.
MR. G BER: I would like to refresh his rec, so if we look at page 76.
(Whereupon, a document was displayed.)
Q So, I asked you:
"So, in this capacity that we are describing here, did Don, Jr. or Eric certify that there were any internal audit controls, policies or procedures at the Trump Organization that you are aware of?"
nd you said:
"No."
nd I asked you:
"You have described some of what you understand

C. Harris - Direct by Mr. Gaber Page 457

Eric's role to be. You mentioned an annual meeting. You had mentioned that you/he is present at meetings between you and the managers of the hotels."
You said:
"Correct."
I asked:
" ny other interactions with Mr. Eric Trump in regards to his, like, role as either --"
I think the transcript is a little --
"-- in the capacity of an audit committee member, or --"
nd then you said:
"Sure. On the audit side, those are primary discussions."
Let me just see.
(Whereupon, there was a pause in the proceedings.)
Q So then, if we skip ahead to 77, on line 11, I asked you:
"Just the high level, just the high level managerial operational stuff that you described?"
nd then you said:
"Yup. Exactly right. That annual meeting we have goes through all the engagements which, the Statement of Financial Condition would be a part of that discussion."

So, does this refresh your recollection as to whether those annual meetings discussed the Statement of Financial Condition?

MR. ROBERT: Objection, your Honor.

THE COURT: nd what's the ground of the objection?

MR. ROBERT: I think Mr. Gaber has to go up to the question and answer that's before that, to put that in context.

THE COURT: Well, let's do that, unless there's an objection.

Q Okay.

"Question: Did you have any meeting with either Don, Jr. or Eric, with respect to the SOFCs?"

You answered:

"Not specifically. Not specifically in relation to the, yeah, Statement of Financial Condition."

nd then, the question that I just read out.

So, while not specifically, did you have any meetings in which the Statement of Financial Condition would be a part of the discussion?

I did not have any meetings with Donald Trump, Jr. or Eric Trump in regards to the Statement of Financial Condition.

Q So, when you testified that at the annual meeting that you had that goes through all the engagements, which the Statement of Financial Condition would be a part of that discussion --

I think the question, lines seven and nine, or line nine, would be my answer, that I did not have any meetings in relation.

Q Did you discuss the Statement of Financial Condition at the annual meetings in any way?

No.

Q That seems --

Yes. It's contradictory, nine and fifteen are definitely contradictory, but during those annual meetings that we had in January, that's with Eric Trump and his accounting team and the property managers, and we go through the audit and other compilation engagements during that meeting.

Q Okay. Let's move on.

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

Q So Mr. Harris, I'm handing you a document marked PX 2300 for identification. Do you recognize this document?

Yes, sir.

Q Can you tell me what it is?

Mazars engagement letter.

Q Engagement letter for what engagement?

Engagement letter for the Statement of Financial Condition.

Q Okay. Mr. Harris, looking at the signature block, can you tell me why this engagement letter is addressed to Mr. Eric Trump?

s the trustee of the revocable trust and most of the properties, assets, liabilities that are included on the Statement of Financial Condition fall under the revocable trust.

Q The signature block identifies Mr. Trump as president of the Trump Organization. Did you understand that to be his role at the time of this letter?

Yes.

Q The letter then goes on to say:

"Mr. Trump -- Dear Mr. Trump, you have requested that we prepare the financial statements of Donald J. Trump, the company, which comprise your Statement of Financial Condition as of June 30, 2021, and the related notes to the financial statements required by accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of merica, G. . .P., and perform a compilation engagement with respect to these financial statements. We are pleased to confirm our acceptance and understanding of this engagement by means of this letter."

So, this is, Whitley Penn will prepare the financial statements and perform a compilation engagement with respect to these statements. Is preparation and performing of the compilation engagement different than compiling the Statement of Financial Condition?

s part of the compilation engagement, what we were doing is taking the information provided by the client, reviewing that for any obvious errors, and then adjusting it for any presentation or format issues to make sure it's in accordance with that applicable guidance.

Q Does preparation include generating valuations of assets or determining the amounts of liabilities in the financial state?

No. We do not verify anything, in a compilation.

Q So under, Our Responsibilities, it says, "The objective of our engagement is to prepare financial statements in accordance with G. . .P., based on information provided by you, and then B, apply accounting and financial reporting expertise to assist you in the presentation of financial statements, without undertaking to obtain or provide any assurance that there are no material modifications that should be made to the financial statements in order for them to be in accordance with G. . .P."

Can you describe what you mean, by without undertaking to obtain or provide any assurance?

Correct. s part of a compilation, we could not verify the accuracy of any of the information that is provided, and we do not provide an opinion, or any assurance or conclusion, in regards to the accuracy of the information on that compilation.

Q Okay. nd then a moment ago we discussed the, I believe it's pronounced SS RSs?
Correct.
Q nd you had said you discussed them, but can you tell me what they provide in the context of a compilation engagement, including the ethical principles here?
Yes. Under SS RSs, that is the guidance and the rules that we follow. It provides the guidelines that we must follow, and the procedures that we must do to be in compliance with the compilation guidance.
Q nd then the paragraph below that, it says, "We are not required to, and will not, verify the accuracy or completeness of the information you will provide to us for the engagement, or otherwise gather evidence for the purpose of expressing an opinion or conclusion. ccordingly, we will not express an opinion or conclusion, nor provide any assurance on financial statements."
Why are you not required to verify accuracy or completeness of the information?
That's the definition of a compilation.
Q So --
Under -- not required, under a compilation, to do those procedures.
Q Okay. nd assurance here, again, I think you described it, means what?

We are not providing any opinion or providing any conclusions in regards to the information within the Statement of Financial Condition.
Q In the next paragraph it says, "Our engagement cannot be relied upon to identify or disclose any financial statement, misstatement, including those caused by fraud or error, or to identify or disclose any wrongdoing within the entity, or noncompliance with laws and regulations."
Is this also part of the compilation standards that you have discussed?
Correct.
Q So, this is set by the ICP for any compilation engagement?
Correct.
Q Can I direct to you page two? Under the header, Your Responsibilities, it says, "This engagement is -- the engagement to be performed is conducted on the basis that you acknowledge and understand that our role is, to prepare financial statements in accordance with G. . .P., and assist you in the presentation of the financial statements in accordance with G. . .P. You have the following overall responsibilities that are fundamental to our undertaking the engagement, in accordance with SS RSs."
nd then there's a list here of several items that fit that description. Can I just ask, as a general matter, for all of the responsibilities listed here in the through G -- sorry, through H, is it important that a client acknowledge and understand their responsibilities, as described here?

Yes.
Q Is it necessary for them to do so in order for Whitley Penn to take and engagement such as this one?
Yes.
Q So, beneath the list of responsibilities, the document also says that the Trump Organization would be responsible for, quote, "Designating an individual with suitable skills, knowledge and experience to oversee our preparation of your financial statements."
To your knowledge, was somebody at the Trump Organization designated for this purpose, in fact?
Jeff McConney.
Q Jeff McConney.
So, it also says, "You are also responsible for all management decisions and responsibilities --" Sorry. That's what I just read.
Okay. Later in the document, it says, "These responsibilities are fundamental to your undertaking the engagement."
I think that you already said that Whitley Penn would require the client to acknowledge all of these things before taking it, but why are they fundamental? Can you explain that?
Under a compilation, we are not doing anything, you know, to verify the accuracy of that information, so that responsibility and accountability follows within the client to be doing those things so that the information is correct, because we didn't do anything to verify that it is correct.

Q nd then the last sentence on this page, it says, "You are responsible for evaluating the adequacy and results of these services performed, and accepting responsibility for such services."
What does that mean to you, for a client to be responsible for those items?
The client needs to make representations that the information that they are providing is accurate and complete, and in accordance with the framework that we are following.
Q Can we go down to the next page, then?
On page three of this, under, Our report, it says, " s part of our engagement, we'll issue a report on the compiled financial statements that will state that we did not audit or review the financial statements, and that accordingly, we do not express an opinion, a conclusion, or provide assurance on them."
I believe that you describe the assurance issue. Then it says, "Our report will disclose," and for the sake of time, I'll just say that there's a long list here of disclosures that the report will include. re you able to summarize what these disclosures are?
Under the compilation guidance, again, we, the management, acknowledged that the framework was going to be under G. . .P., and so we reviewed all of the information that we were providing, reviewed the Statement of Financial Condition and the report to ensure that it's in that proper presentation and format that follows G. . .P., but then you must disclose any departures from G. . .P., and so these are the departures from G. . .P.

Q So, departures from G. . .P. are required disclosure in a compilation report?

Correct.

Q nd so, would each one of the disclosures here be necessary to disclose, before you were to issue your compilation report?

Restate that question?

Q So, if there is a departure from G. . .P. in the financial statement, you would -- would you issue the compilation report, without disclosure of that departure?

No.

Q Okay. t the bottom of this paragraph it says, "If these provisions were to be included in the financial statements," referring to the disclosures that we just discussed, "they might influence the user's conclusions about the entities' financial position, results of operations, and cash flows. ccordingly, the financial statements will not be designed for those who are not informed about such matters.

C. Harris - Direct by Mr. Gaber Page 467

There may be circumstances in which the report differs from the expected form and content."

Can you explain to me what it means here, that the provisions -- if the provisions were to be included, they might influence the user's conclusions? What does that mean?

That if all this information was included, that the amounts could be different.

Q nd what does it mean that the statements will not be designed for those who are not informed about such matters?

nybody that uses the statement should understand that the numbers have not been verified, we have not verified the accuracy of them, and we have not concluded or provided any sort of assurance on them, and that these departures could change the amounts that are being presented, on that statement of the financial condition. So, any user needs to be aware of those disclaimers.

Q Is that for the benefit of Whitley Penn, as the compiler?

You just described that it -- that you hadn't performed assurance on it, and so the user would need to be aware of that.

I think part of it, yeah, it's for Whitley Penn. Yes.

Q Okay. So is the warning here, that users might reach a different conclusion about the financial condition of Donald J. Trump, is that wording based only on the G. . .P. exceptions here, the disclosure of the G. . .P. exceptions, or is it just broadly, that's construed.

C. Harris - Direct by Mr. Gaber Page 468

I believe this paragraph, specifically, that we are referring to, is talking about the disclaimers and the differences, those departures and the differences, those could make.

Q So Mr. Harris, having gone through the statements that Whitley Penn has made in the engagement letter, and looking at the Trump's organizations responsibilities in the engagement, broadly speaking, what's the role of this mutual responsibility and obligation in the engagement letter?

The majority of the responsibility falls upon the client to do through G, or H, that was listed on that previous page, whereas part of our compilation procedures -- again, you're gathering information from a client, reviewing it for obvious errors, and putting it into a usable format that's in accordance with the framework.

MR. G BER: Can we go to the bottom of the document?

Q So, at the bottom it says, response, "This letter correctly sets forth our understanding, The Trump Organization, acknowledged and agreed on behalf of the Trump Organization by," and then do you recognize that signature, Mr. Harris?

Yes, I do.

Q Whose signature is that?

C. Harris - Direct by Mr. Gaber Page 469

Eric Trump.

Q Did you have an understanding of whether Eric Trump had the authority to retain Whitley Penn for this engagement, based on his position at the Trump Organization?

I would presume the trustee and president would be able to make that decision.

Q Okay. nd would Whitley Penn perform a compilation report without an engagement letter?

No.

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

Q So Mr. Harris, I'm handing you, for identification, a document that has been marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 1512.

Do you recognize this document Mr. Harris?

Yes. I recognize this document.

Q Can you describe to me what it is?

Yeah. Email from another engagement team member to me. He was trying to put the agenda together that we would provide the client, as we started to begin the planning and the compilation for the Statement of Financial Condition.

MR. G BER: First, I'd like to move this document into evidence.
THE COURT: Granted. It's in evidence.
Q Can you tell me who Mr. McKinnell is?
Steven McKinnell was the senior manager on the Statement of Financial Condition.
Q Okay. "I tried to strip this down to keep it a compilation scope." Then he goes to SS RS 80. Then says "if we do anything more than that, we run the risk of performing assurance procedures."
Can you explain what you understood Mr. McKinnell to be concerned about here?
He was pulling this agenda from our normal planning agenda that we use for, primarily, our audit and review engagements; and, so, there's additional items that are already included on that template agenda that were not necessary to be on it for a compilation.
Q I believe that the agenda is attached to this document, it's pages 2 and 3.
Can you identify what the agenda items are that he was concerned about?
It's our standard agenda. The management inquiries are-- a few of them are taken off on that.
Q Sorry?
few of the management inquiries, number seven,

that's the main part of what he was referring to.
Q s beyond the scope of the compilation engagement?
Not beyond the scope. Sorry. Restate your original question.
Q I had just asked you, I believe, and the last answer, you said that Mr. McKinnell was looking at the agenda and trying to make sure the items that were going to be discussed, that would put you in the position of providing too much assurance or getting rid of the audit scope of the compilation. I was trying to understand and identify any of the items here.
Yes, number seven, the management inquiries. It's larger than the audit review agenda. There's more items.
Q Looking at this agenda, as you and Mr. McKinnell, as the engagement team, and two other client teams Jeff McConney, Raymond Flores and Patrick Birney, these were the individuals, the ones at this meeting?
Correct.
Q It seems we don't have paper copies of this. re you comfortable with just reviewing it on the screen, Mr. Harris?
Yes.
Q Do you recognize this document?
Yes.
Q Can you tell us what this is?
Our Statement of Financial Condition, the final report.

Q The Statement of Financial Condition, the final report. What are the components of this document?
This document would be made up of our compilation report, which is our letter to the trustee that goes at the front of this report and then it's going to include the Statement of Financial Condition as well as the footnotes and disclosures.
MR. G BER: First, I'd like to admit this document in evidence.
THE COURT: Granted. It's in evidence.
Q You just said, Mr. Harris, you'd include our compilation report. Whitley Penn is responsible for the compilation report?
When I say compilation report, I'm referencing just the one page that has our signature on it.
Q In addition to the compilation report, you mentioned the Statement of Financial Condition and the notes.
Who is responsible for the content of the Statements of Financial Condition?
The client's responsible for that.
Q Who's responsible for the notes?
The client is responsible for them.
Q So, at the top of this, this is the report that you were describing, right?

Correct.
Q It says: "The trustee of the Donald J. Trump Revocable Trust dated pril 7, 2014 as amended on behalf of Donald J. Trump, are responsible for the accompanying personal financial statement which comprises the Statement of Financial Condition as of June 30, 221 and related notes to the financial statement in accordance with accounting principals generally accepted in the Untied States of merica."
Then it says: "We had performed a compilation engagement in accordance with the statements on standards for accounting and review services promulgated by the ccounting and Review Services Committee of the ICP . We did not audit or review the financial statement nor were we required to perform any procedure to verify the accuracy or the completeness of information provided by the trustee of Donald J. Trump Revocable Trust dated pril 7, 2014, as amended on behalf of Donald J. Trump. ccordingly, we do not express an opinion, a conclusion, nor provide any form of assurance on this personal financial statement."
Can you explain why this language is included in your report?
It's going back through a lot of that compilation guidance that's stating that the client is ultimately responsible for this, as the accounting firm would be responsible for taking the information that the client provided, reviewing it for obvious errors, and putting it into the format that would then be used by G P in this circumstance.

Q Who is this addressed to, this report?
The trustee.
Q It says: "The effects of these departures. These departures above," being the G P disclosures that were referenced in the engagement letter. You can correct me if I'm wrong. "From the accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of merica have not been determined."
Can you explain that?
s part of the compilation guidance, the accountants are not responsible to understand what the effects of those departures from G P are that we've included within that disclaimer paragraph.
THE COURT: Five-minute warning.
Q It says: "Because of the significance and pervasiveness of the matters discussed above."
I'll first ask, what are the matters discussed above? What do you understand that to be?
From the previous page, it's discussing who's responsible and that it's in G P, that it would not provide our assurance or conclusion on it. It includes the departure from G P as well.
Q It says: "Makes it difficult to assess their impact on the person financial statement. Users of this personal financial statement should recognize that they might reach different conclusions about the financial condition of Donald J. Trump if they had access to a revised Statement of Financial Condition prepared in conformity with the accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of merica."

Who are the users of this personal financial statement?
That, as my understanding, this requirement came from a lender.
Q Do you know which lender?
I believe Deutsche.
Q Does this paragraph only refer to the disclosed exceptions to G P listed on the previous page?
We can go up to that, if you want to see it?
Yeah. I think it's referring exactly to those departures from G P as well as this other paragraph in regards to effects of COVID on the operations of the assets.
Q This here, this is, it's labeled The Notes to Statement of Financial Condition.
Why does it say in parentheses Independent ccountant's Compilation Report?
That's a requirement in the disclosure checklist for compilation to include that wording in there. I think it's in there so that the user will refer back to that compilation report we just went through that has those certain departures and some of that wording that provided no assurance on this information.

Q Right before we take a break, it says "assets are stated at their estimated current values and liabilities at their estimated current amount using various valuation methods."
Can you explain what that means?
The client prepared calculations for the assets and liabilities-- well, for the assets in regards to -- they prepared calculations to get to the fair market value, the current value, or selling price of these assets.
Q The client prepared them?
Yes.
MR. G BER: Judge, we can take a break now. Okay?
THE COURT: nother ten-minute break. Take 15 minutes.
(Recess taken.)
THE COURT: Let's get the witness.
(Whereupon, the witness enters the courtroom.)
THE COURT: Please proceed.
Q Mr. Harris, you said the client is responsible for calculating the assets and liability in the Statement of Financial Condition?

Correct.
Q Did Whitley Penn determine any of the values presented in the Statements of Financial Condition?
No, we did not verify the accuracy of the information.
Q Did Whitley Penn determine any valuation methods for the client to use?
No, we did not determine any valuation methods.
Q Mr. Harris, I'm going to hand you an exhibit marked PX 050101, slip-sheet for a document provided to us. Do you recognize the spreadsheet, Mr. Harris?
Yes, sir.
Q Can you tell me what that is?
This worksheet, the Excel worksheet was provided by the client. It included all of the asset amounts that feed, tie back into the Statement of Financial Condition.
Q Is that the final version that was used to tie back to your final compilation report?
If it was pulled from our work papers, it would be the final version.
Q I can represent to you it was pulled from your work papers.
Yes.
MR. G BER: I ask that this be admitted into evidence.

THE COURT: Granted. It's in evidence.
MR. G BER: I'm not sure that the engagement letter, if I officially said the magic words. In risk of repeating myself, I'd ask that that be moved into evidence as well.
THE COURT: t the risk of repeating myself, granted. It's in evidence.
Q So, what do you use this document for when completing your compilation engagement?
This document provided by the client we review it for obvious errors. So, we scroll through it looking for mathematical errors and going through everything that is on--everything on here to see if there's obvious errors we come across. This would be the source document that ties back to the Statement of Financial Condition.
Q Did you rely on any other backup or support documents in connection with the 2021 SOFC engagement?
There were multiple prepared by the client, work papers that were provided to us by the client and they all stated in our engagement letter so there are other details that are in there that tie back to the Statement of Financial Condition outside of just this one document, but, this includes all of the cash, the escrow, and then all of the property and investment accounts.

Q So, any asset or liability listed in this Statement of Financial Condition would be found in this document?
The liabilities are not within this work paper.
Q Where do the liabilities come from?
We have a separate detail for an accounts payable detail and notes payable detail that are included within our work papers that detail out all of those portions, the liability portion of Statement of Financial Condition.
Q Okay. You said that Whitley Penn would correct any obvious errors in this document; is that correct?
Management or the clients would correct any errors that we noted. ny obvious errors, we would not make the corrections.
Q Did you perform any analysis or analytic procedure on the assets listed here?
No, we do not.
Q I'm going to present you an exhibit now marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 1502 for identification.
Do you recognize this document, Mr. Harris?
Yes, sir.
Q Can you tell me what it is?
This is our representation letter. This letter is prepared by us but we provide it to the client to review and sign and return to us. It is the last work paper that we receive prior to issuing our final compilation report and it includes representations that management is making, that representations are stating that the information that the client has provided is accurate, complete, and in accordance with applicable framework.

Q The second paragraph here says: "Certain representations in this letter are described as being limited to matters that are material. Items are considered material, regardless of size, if they involve an omission or misstatement of accounting information such that in the light of surrounding circumstances there is a substantial likelihood that individually or in the aggregate, they would significantly influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the SOFC."
I just want to ask you, what does it mean if the items are considered material, regardless of size?
On the compilation we did prepare materiality calculation but, yeah, if anything can be misconstrued by the user, regardless of that materiality that we use, yeah, it could significantly influence or change your judgment.
Q It says: "We acknowledge our responsibility and have fulfilled our responsibilities for the preparation and fair presentation of the SOFC in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of merica except for the following items:" Then there's, I believe, a list, we've grown very familiar with, of G P exceptions but would Whitley Penn have issued the SOFC if the client did not make this representation about the G P exceptions?

No.
Q Now, in the interest of time, I won't read through all the representations but there's a number of representations in this document that are being made.
Would Whitley Penn issue the compilation report without these representations from management?
We would not issue a report without getting the signed representation letter.
Q In this form?
In?
Q Signed representation. Would Whitley Penn have issued the 2021 SOFC without a signed representation letter in this form?
This form?
Q This letter. Not any letter. letter that lists out everything here?
Correct.
MR. G BER: pparently, I have not moved to admit this into evidence. I'd like to do so.
THE COURT: Granted. It's in evidence.
MR. ROBERT: Can we ask Mr. Sherief to speak a little more into the microphone.
MR. G BER: I'll try that. Can we scroll to the bottom of this.

MR. ROBERT: Thank you, sir.
Q Do you recognize the signature on this document, Mr. Harris?
Yes.
Q Whose signature is that Mr. Harris?
Mr. Donald J. Trump, Jr..
Q So, Mr. Donald J. Trump, Jr. signed the management representation letter on behalf of the Donald J. Trump Revocable Trust which, I believe you said, holds many of the entities represented in this?
That would be accurate, yes.
Q Mr. Harris, did Whitley Penn perform any work concerning any 2022 or later Statement of Financial Condition of Donald J. Trump?
No, we did not.
Q Were you ever asked to?
No, we were not.
Q Did you ever inquire as to whether it would be sought from the Trump Organization?
We did inquire of it, as part of our normal engagement procedure. Prior to the time period when we would expect to start that engagement, we reached out to Jeff McConney in regards to the 2022 Statement of Financial Condition at which point he said to hold off working on that and he concluded later on, reached back out stating it was no longer necessary.

Q Is the Trump Organization still a client of Whitley Penn on other engagements?
Yes.
MR. G BER: Nothing further. Thank you, Mr. Harris.
THE COURT: Cross-examination?
MR. ROBERT: t this time, we reserve to be able to call the witness back during our case, pursuant to the order of stipulation that we had.
THE COURT: Counsels, step up.
(Side-bar discussion held off the record.)
THE COURT: So, the defendants are reserving the right to call Mr. Harris back for cross-examination and we're going to go with Bender at this point. Back to Bender, correct?
MR. ROBERT: Correct, your Honor. Thank you, sir.
MR. W LL CE: If they call Mr. Harris on their case in chief, it would be a direct examination and not a cross-examination.
MR. ROBERT: That's fine, your Honor.
THE COURT: ll agreed.
(Whereupon, Mr. Bender resumes the stand.)

D V I D B E N D E R, having been previously duly sworn, resumed the witness stand and continued to testify as follows:
THE COURT: I remind the witness you're still under oath.
THE WITNESS: Thank you, your Honor.
CROSS-EX MIN TION (Cont'd)
BY MR. SU REZ:
Q Mr. Bender, good afternoon. Have you had the opportunity to discuss your testimony with anyone since we last spoke?
I had privileged conversations.
Q Did you have an opportunity to discuss your testimony with anyone since we speak?
ny conversation would be subject to attorney/client privilege.
MR. SU REZ: That's not what I'm asking. I'm asking if he spoke to anyone.
THE COURT: Let's get a blanket yes or no. Did you speak to anybody in this case about your testimony?
THE WITNESS: Yes.
Q Who did you speak with?
That would be privileged.
THE COURT: I don't think-- who you speak with is not privileged.

THE WITNESS: Counsel.
Q You spoke with your counsel?
Yes.
MR. SU REZ: May I inquire which counsel he spoke with?
THE COURT: Yes.
Q Which counsel did you speak with?
I had lunch with counsel from Blank Rome and Wilson Elser.
Q Did either of the counsel tell you how you should testify here today?
No, sir.
Q Okay.
MR. SU REZ: We'll pull up Plaintiff's Exhibit 741.
Q Do you recognize this document, Mr. Bender?
Yes, I do.
Q What is this document?
This is the representation letter for the compilation of the personal financial statement of Donald J. Trump as of June 30, 2016.
Q Did you draft this document?
Did I draft it? I supervised it. I don't know if I drafted it or a member of my team drafted it.
Q What member of your team would have drafted this document?

I couldn't answer that without seeing the work papers.
Q Just to be clear, which work papers?
In our binders there are all these papers are list and tells you who worked on the --
Q Those binders would tell me which individual person actually drafted this management representative letter?
It wouldn't tell me who drafted it, but might tell me who worked on it.
Q Did you discuss the contents of this management representation letter with anyone at Trump Organization?
I don't recall.
Q Did any member of your team discuss this letter with anyone at the Trump Organization?
Nobody from my team discussed it, other than me, if I would have discussed it.
Q Why is that?
Because nobody else would have -- would have come to me.
Q You were the person that had communications with the Trump Organization on behalf of your firm?
Not on all matters.
Q s it relates to the compilations of the President's Statements of Financial Condition, were you the individual that had discussions with staff at the Trump Organization?

Members of my team could have had discussions also.
Q In connection with the 2016 Statement of Financial Condition, which members of your team could have had discussions with staff at the Trump Organization?
I would need to see the binders to see who worked on it.
MR. SU REZ: You can turn to the following page, please. The following page.
Q Here at the bottom of this document, are you aware whether this document was actually signed by Mr. Weisselberg or Mr. Trump, Jr.
It appears to be their signatures.
Q Who would you know that?
I recognize their signatures.
Q How is that the case?
I've seen their signatures a number of times over the years.
Q Okay. How was this letter transmitted to Mazars?
I can't be 100 percent sure.
Q How do you think that the letter was transmitted to Mazars?
Either by e-mail or portal.
Q Excuse me?
Either by e-mail or portal.

Q Portal?
Yeah.
Q What is portal?
Put into a portal.
Q Would you review all the documents that were put into a portal by the Trump Organization?
Would I personally do it?
Q Yes.
Not necessarily, no, sir.
Q Who would review it on your behalf?
On this engagement or any engagement?
Q On any engagement with the Trump Organization?
Items, in general, that went into a portal in later years would have been put-- certain interns would have loaded it into another binder.
Q Who would have reviewed that for you?
Who would have reviewed it?
Q Yes. The documents that were uploaded to the portal, who would have reviewed it for you?
I don't know if anybody reviewed it after it went into the binder. What do you mean by review?
Q Do you know what it means to review a document?
Yes.
Q Okay. If documents were uploaded by the Trump Organization to Mazars portal, who would have reviewed the documents?

gain, the word "review" I'm not going to use but who would have looked at the documents is what other staff member subsequently pulled it up the files to work on that engagement.
Q Okay. re you mindful of the difference between looking at a document and reading it?
Yes.
Q What is the difference between looking at a document and reading it?
Reading it is reading the whole document. Looking at it would have been to look --
Q Looking at it is just to observe the fact that a document exists?
Yes. They would have looked more looked at it if they needed the document, they would have used it, in general.

D. Bender - Cross by Mr. Suarez Page 490

Q Who would have read and comprehended the documents that were uploaded by the Trump Organization in the Mazars portal?

Whichever staff member would have been assigned to work on an engagement would have done whatever procedures were required for the engagement they were working on.

Q Okay. nd in connection with the 2016 compilations report for the Statement of Financial Condition, who would have read and reviewed the documents that were uploaded in the Mazars portal by the Trump Organization?

I'm not sure it went into the portal. I'm just saying, it's a possibility.

Q So, the Trump Organization, it's possible, could have been uploading documents into the portal, but you don't know who would have read those documents?

ny person who would have signed off on the document, or on the binder -- any staff member who would have worked on the, prepared the work papers, an individual entity, would sign off on the work papers that they worked on.

Q But you don't know who that was?

On which occasion?

Q In the connection with the 2016 compilation report for the Statement of Financial Condition.

You need to look in the binder and see who signed off on the binder.

D. Bender - Cross by Mr. Suarez Page 491

Q re these physical binders?

Electronic binders.

Q They are electronic binders. Did you access to the electronic binders?

Yes.

Q nd in connection with preparing your compilation report for the Statement of Financial Condition, did you read and understand the documents that were in the electronic binders?

I did not read -- all I did not necessarily read all of the documents.

Q Okay.

MR. SU REZ: If we can please turn to Plaintiff's Exhibit 740, and if we can zoom into the section that says, Our responsibilities.

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

Excuse me. Which paragraph?

Q We are looking here at, Our responsibilities, and you would agree, Mr. Bender, that this was the engagement letter prepared by Mazars in connection with the 2016 compilation report for the Statement of Financial Condition?

Yes, sir.

Q Okay. Do you see in paragraph two, where it says, "The objective of our engagement is to apply accounting and financial reporting expertise to assist you in the presentation of the financial statement, without undertaking to obtain or provide any assurance that there are no material modifications that should be made to the financial statement in order for it to be in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States."

Do you see that?

Yes, sir.

Q ll right. What accounting and financial reporting expertise did you apply to assist the Trump Organization in the presentation of the financial statement?

I applied compilation procedures, as deemed necessary to do this engagement.

Q ny others?

I can't tell you what I did for the June 30, 2016 statement without my binder to see if I did anything else that I could find.

Q So, paragraph one of this document says, "The objective of our engagement is to prepare the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepting in the United States of merica, based on information provided by you."

Do you see that?

Yes, sir.

Q So, "you," is the Trump Organization, in this case?

Yes, sir.

Q They would provide, you, Mazars, through Mr. Bender, information; correct?

They provided us information, that we do compilation procedures.

Q Okay. nd then you, Mazars, undertook the responsibility to apply accounting and financial reporting expertise. In the second paragraph. Do you see, in the second paragraph --

Yes, sir.

Q -- it says, " pply accounting and financial reporting expertise?"

To assist.

Q To assist. So, you undertook, you promised the Trump Organization that you were going to apply Mazars allegedly considerable accounting and financial reporting expertise to assist the Trump Organization.

We were engaged to compile financial statements.

Q But that's not what this says. This doesn't say that, We agree that it is our responsibility to apply compilation procedures, Mr. Bender. This goes a step further. It says that you are going to assist them in the presentation of the financial statements.

Without undertaking or obtaining or providing any assurance that there are no material modifications that should be made.

Q nd granted, it says that, but what meaning do you ascribe to the concept that there was expertise that you were going to apply to assist your client in preparing those financial statements?
If you would need a further definition, I would have to reach out. We would need to get somebody who is an expert in compilations.
Q So, you are not sure of what additional expertise was applied to the Trump Organization.
I would want to get expert help.
Q nd is that something that we would be able to determine, from your time records? Did you log this in your time entries?
Did I do the --
Q Yes.
Did I --
Q Did you maintain time entries? ll the lawyers in private practice are still traumatized by time entries.
I did time sheets.
Q You do time sheets.
Yes.
Q nd you maintain time sheets in connection with your work on the compilation reports for the Statements of Financial Condition?

Yes, sir.
Q nd would those time sheets adequately describe the accounting and financial reporting expertise that you applied to assist in the presentation of the financial statements?
I don't think -- you would have to check to see if there were descriptions.
Q ll right. nd how were those time sheets kept?
Electronically.
Q re they in the binders?
No, sir.
Q Where are they kept, in the Mazars universe?
You would have to speak to somebody in internal accounting.
Q The last time -- you retired from Mazars in what year, Mr. Bender?
'22.
Q In 2022? nd at that time, if you needed to pull up your accounting records to see your time sheets and your time entries, how would you do that?
I would have the ability to pull up most of those, that information, yes.
Q You would have had the ability?
Yes.
Q ffirmatively had the ability to do?
Yes.

Q nd if you needed to do it, how would you do it?
I would load my time entry program.
MR. W LL CE: Objection, at this point.
I interrupted the witness. I apologize.
MR. SU REZ: We'll move on.
Next page.
Q Do you see this disclaimer language here, Mr. Bender, where it says that your own report will include the following and, then it has a disclaimer?
Yes, sir.
Q nd if I were to pull up the compilation report for 2016, Plaintiff's Exhibit 742 -- excuse me, Plaintiff's Exhibit 756, Plaintiff's Exhibit 756, that would have the same disclaimer?
MR. W LL CE: Objection. I'm not sure the record it clear what Plaintiff's Exhibit 756 is.
THE WITNESS: That's what I want to make sure.
(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)
Yes, sir.
Q We are going to blow up 756, and it will show the disclaimer, and that disclaimer appears there, on the second paragraph of 756.
No. That's the last paragraph.
Q Last paragraph?

Not the second paragraph.
Q Significance and pervasiveness of the matters discussed above?
Yes, sir.
Q nd the engagement letter was a prerequisite to you getting the engagement to prepare the compilation report; correct?
We might have started the procedures before we received the physical engagement letter.
Q So, you did not need an engagement letter to start the procedure; is that your testimony?
We might have started it without the -- without the --
Q My question is a little different. Did you need the engagement letter to start the procedures?
I did not need the engagement letter to start the procedures.
Q Do the accounting, the accounting, the CP accounting guidelines require you to have an engagement letter before you perform a compilation report?
I would have to check. I'm not sure, off the top of my head.
THE COURT: Ten-minute warning.
MR. SU REZ: Thank you, sir.
Q If the engagement letter, in theory, predates the compilation report, and in fact predates the compilation report, how would you know which disclosures were appropriate to include in your accountant's compilation report, if you had not even begun the engagement, Mr. Bender?

Well, can you clarify what you mean by disclosure?

Q Sure. How would you know that this clause was required in your compilation report, ahead of time?

If the Trump Organization would have informed us that they wanted to change the level of work we had done before. They had not informed us of such a change.

Q But this clause isn't standard operating procedure in a compilation report; correct?

No, sir.

Q You would have to become familiar with the accounting and financial reporting of the organization in order to determine which clause you needed to include as a disclaimer; correct?

Yes, sir.

Q nd you would do that, in theory, prior to preparing a compilation report?

Yes, sir.

Q Okay. nd the next page, as to cash and marketable securities and hedge funds, escrow reserve, deposits and, pre-paid taxes --

MR. W LL CE: Objection. It says expenses, not taxes.

MR. SU REZ: I'm sorry. Thank you. It's late.

Q s to cash, marketable securities and hedge funds, escrow reserve, deposits, and prepaid expenses, those are two separate lines in this Statement of Financial Condition; correct?

Yes, sir.

Q ll right. So, as to cash, marketable securities and hedge funds, which are listed as $114,400,000, would you agree that you had the ability to determine that there was no failure to disclose the methods used to determine estimated current value and amount of that asset?

What's the last word? I'm sorry. Just last word. I didn't hear.

Q Of that asset?

Okay. Thank you.

THE COURT: I'm sorry. Just, ask the whole question again.

MR. SU REZ: Sure.

Q In connection with your preparation of the independent account and compilation report, were you able to determine that there was no failure to disclose the method used to determine estimated current values and amounts for that asset?

I believe there were.

Q You believe there were no failures?

No failures.

Q Correct?

MR. SU REZ: I'm going to adopt your Honor's order and direction, to say the same question with respect to each asset. I just want to make sure that I've got the question down right.

Q With respect to the escrow reserve, deposits and prepaid expenses identified as $28,010,000, were you able to determine that there was no failure to disclose the methods used to determine estimated current values and amounts for that asset?

Yes. I believe so.

Q Is that yes?

Yes.

Q Yes. Same question for Trump Tower?

Just reword the question one more time? Or reread the question?

THE COURT: Do you want to repeat?

MR. SU REZ: Please.

THE COURT: Okay.

(Whereupon, the requested portion of the proceedings was read back by the court reporter.)

Yes, I was.

Q Same question for Trump Tower?

Yes, sir.

Q Same answer?

Yes, sir.

Q Same question for NikeTown on East 57th Street? Same question, same answer?

Yes, sir.

THE COURT: You don't have to say, Same question, same answer. You can just list each property.

Q nd that applies, as well, to 40 Wall Street?

Yes, sir.

Q nd that applies, as well, to the Trump Park venue?

Yes, sir.

Q nd applies as well to the club facilities and related real estate in New York, Florida, New Jersey, California, Washington D.C., North Carolina, Scotland and Ireland?

Yes, sir.

Q nd those are identified at 2,107,800,000?

Our compilation procedures, we were able to satisfy, as part of our compilation procedures.

Q nd the same question for the Trump World Tower at United Nations Plaza, Mr. Bender?

Yes. We were able to satisfy, as part of our compilation procedures.

Q nd the same question for 100 Central Park South?

Yes. We were able to satisfy, as part of our compilation procedures.

Q nd the same question for Trump Plaza, commercial and residential portions, in New York, New York?

Yes. We were able to satisfy, as part of our compilation procedures at that time.
Q You say, at the time. Is there anything that's changed now?
I don't recall. I can't tell you what's going on today.
Q With respect to the Statement of Financial Condition in 2016?
t the time we prepared, there was no issue.
Q Okay. With respect to the Trump Palace, Trump Parc, and Trump Parc East condominiums, the commercial portions, same question Mr. Bender.
There were no issues at that time. We had no trouble satisfying ourselves.
Q The same question for the Trump International Hotel and Tower in New York, New York, Mr. Bender?
t that time, we had no problem satisfying ourselves.
Q nd the same question for the Trump Old Post Office in Washington D.C.? t that time, we had no problem satisfying ourselves.
Q nd would you give me the same answer if I asked about 1290 venue of the mericas, and 555 California Street?
Yes, sir.
Q nd the same question for the Trump International

Hotel and Tower in Las Vegas?
Yes, sir.
Q Same question for real estate licensing developments?
Yes, sir.
Q nd when you say, Yes, sir, Mr. Bender I'm understanding that to mean that if I asked you the same question, you would give me the same answer?
Yes, sir.
Q nd the same for, other assets?
Yes, sir.
Q nd that mathematically footed to the 6,300,000,000 --
MR. SU REZ: Please move that up.
Q nd that footed to the $6,388,510,000 in total assets?
I believe so.
Q nd that's the math that you would have carried over from the supporting data which was provided to you?
The math would have been done separately, on the sheet.
Q It would have been a separate document?
This would have been added up separately.
Q The math to get here, the numbers that are reflected in this statement of assets.
I can't tell you if it was done on Excel or in Word, without seeing the line documents, but the math would have been done -- this document is separate. Would be done separately.

Q This document would have been done separately?
Yes.
Q nd where would the values on this document have been divined were?
They would have come from Jeff Supporting Data.
THE COURT: Okay. re we through with this?
MR. SU REZ: Yes.
THE COURT: Okay. We are going to break in a minute. My Principal Law Clerk, llison G., has questions for the attorneys about scheduling; okay?
MS. GREENFIELD: So we are starting off tomorrow morning, continuing with the cross of Mr. Bender? Is that correct?
MR. SU REZ: That's correct.
MS. GREENFIELD: How long do you anticipate you have, remaining?
MR. SU REZ: Depending on the answers, I will hope to be able to conclude.
MS. GREENFIELD: By the morning?
MR. SU REZ: Tomorrow.
THE COURT: In the afternoon?
MR. SU REZ: I think we got into pretty good rhythm. If we can keep that going --
MR. W LL CE: We are prepared to stipulate that each year Mazars issued Statements of Financial Condition.

I'm not sure that we need to go through every line, to get repetitive answers. We are prepared to enter into stipulations to shorten this.
MR. KISE: I think we are back to the future. We had this discussion, earlier. We'll make every effort, overnight, to streamline it, so that we can be done as rapidly as possible.
MS. GREENFIELD: Okay. Do you want to plan to have another witness, just in case?
So, who is next?
MR. W LL CE: Jeffrey McConney is the next witness.
MS. GREENFIELD: I imagine we are not going any further than that tomorrow; correct?
MR. KISE: That's probably right.
MS. GREENFIELD: Okay. Thank you.
THE COURT: Counselors, come up, one minute.
(Whereupon, an off-the-record discussion took place at the bench.)

LIS M. DE CRESCENZO,
LIS C SEY,
OFFICI L COURT REPORTERS

THE COURT: court officer, very well-intentioned, nice guy. They all are. One or two times that my cell phone went off, he didn't realize that. So, he tells the audience, you should turn off those cell phones. It was my fault.

Okay. We're back to Mr. McConney, right?

MR. MER: Yes.

THE COURT: Let's get the witness.

J E F F M C C O N N E Y, having been previously duly sworn, resumed the witness stand and continued to testify as follows:

THE COURT: Let's continue.

DIRECT EX MIN TION (cont'd)

MR. MER:

Q Good morning, Mr. McConney. I want to clean up one issue from yesterday and then we'll move forward.

You recall we were discussing Vornado cash and the various accounts that are listed in the spreadsheet we looked at yesterday?

Yes.

MR. MER: Let's go ahead and put that spreadsheet up. It's 2587 Native.

Q Just to recall your testimony--

MR. MER: nd can we collapse the columns that we collapsed before? I think it was D through N.

Q I believe it was your testimony, Mr. McConney, that it was your intent to represent that the Vornado cash accounts, those accounts that referenced 30 percent were held in Capital One accounts but they were different accounts than the Capital One accounts for the various Trump-controlled cash; is that correct?

Yes.

Q m I correct that from time to time, the Trump Organization received distribution of Vornado cash at the discretion of the general partner for the Vornado Partnerships; is that right?

That's correct.

MR. MER: If we could look at Exhibit 3106. Your Honor, this is a bank record that was produced to us by Vornado Realty Trust in response to a investigative subpoena. I ask it be admitted in as a business record.

MR. SU REZ: We object on the basis of Statute of Limitations. It is dated March 15, 2013.

THE COURT: Overruled. Request granted. It's in evidence.

Q You can confirm that the debit account name Hudson Waterfront ssociates IIII is one of the Vornado cash partnerships, correct?

Correct.

Q It's in the spreadsheet we were looking at before, correct?
Correct.
Q nd this shows that the money being distributed by this Vornado cash account is actually coming from Bank of merica, not Capital One, correct?
That's correct.
Q Does this refresh your recollection that the Vornado cash accounts were actually held at Bank of merica and not Capital One?
This -- yes, this transfer came from Bank of merica.
Q That wasn't my question. My question was whether it refreshes your recollection that all of the Vornado cash accounts were actually sitting in Bank of merica, not Capital One?
I don't know where all-- where Vornado puts all of their money. Without looking at our specific backup for that statement, I can't say all their accounts were at Bank of merica. This transfer did come from Bank of merica.
Q Just pick up the exhibit again. Page two is a different transfer from a different Vornado cash account. That's Hudson Waterfront ssociates V, right?
Yes, sir.
Q That is from Bank of merica, correct?

Yes, sir.
Q The third page, Hudson Waterfront ssociates III is another Vornado account, also from Bank of merica, correct?
That's correct.
Q Okay. I'd like to-- we were talking about 40 Wall Street when we broke yesterday.
Do you recall that?
Yes, sir.
Q I'd like to focus on the 2015 valuation and I'd like to put up Exhibit 868 which is admitted into evidence.
nd we looked at this yesterday. This is an e-mail that includes excerpts from the 2015 Cushman appraisal that you forwarded on to Mr. Bender, correct?
Correct.
Q Just to note the date, it's December 29, 2015, correct?
Yes.
MR. MER: If we could pull up Exhibit 3004.
Q This is a cover e-mail and then there were blank sheets after that because it denotes native files, one of which we'll put up.
That's an e-mail from you to Donald Bender, same date as the prior e-mail we just looked at, December 29, 2015, correct?
Yes.

MR. MER: Your Honor, I would move this exhibit with the native files into evidence.
THE COURT: Granted it's in evidence.
MR. FIELDS: Objection. Statute of Limitations if the documents are from 2015.
THE COURT: Objection overruled. It's in evidence.
Q Do you see on the attachment line of this e-mail that the first attachment is named 1-Jeff Supporting Data and it's an XL file.
Do you see that?
Yes.
Q So, this was your process for providing Mr. Bender with copies of your Jeff Supporting Data spreadsheet, correct?
Yes.
Q If we pull up native one, we'll see this is, in fact, your supporting data spreadsheet which appears to be a preliminary valuation spreadsheet that you're sending to him, correct?
I don't remember where we were in the process at this point in time.
MS. H BB : Your Honor, I'm going to do it one time for you today and only one time. I'll object to any backup data that is before the February 2016 date that we believe, per my objection that's been standing for the past four days.

THE COURT: Okay. Objection duly noted. We'll call it a standing objection to anything before the magic day.
MS. H BB : Thank you.
THE COURT: Overruled.
Q Let's go ahead and go to row 117, and this is the row that starts the analysis of 40 Wall Street in this valuation that you provide to Mr. Bender in December, correct?
Yes.
Q Now, on line 125 and 126, you state: Cushman & Wakefield appraisal done June 2015 for lien refinancing with Ladder Capital, and you put a value of $540 million.
So, at this point in time, you were using the Cushman 2015 appraisal as part of the valuation, correct?
Yes.
Q nd rows 118 through 123, if I'm reading this correctly, is a calculation of an additional value of slightly over $120 million that you then add to the Cushman appraisal value of 540 to get to a valuation of 660.3, correct?
Yes.
Q This additional value is made up of additional income from two spaces that you indicate are new lease signings after Ladder Capital refinancing was completed; is that right?
Yes.

Q So, if I'm understanding this correctly, you are adding additional value based on additional net operating income from leases that you note were signed after the Ladder Capital refinancing, which, I take it to mean, you believe were not included within the Cushman appraisal; is that right?
Yes.
Q Because they weren't, in your understanding, part of the Cushman appraisal. It's appropriate in your view to add that net operating income in as value by then dividing that income by the 3.04 cap rate, that we've talked about before, that you got from the generic market records, correct?
Correct.
Q So, just to close the loop on the calculation. You've got 2.25 million of income from a Dean & DeLuca lease.
You add that up, you divide it by 3.04, and you get the 120 million and change in additional value; is that right?
Yes.
MS. H BB : Your Honor, I'm going to object and ask that counsel ask direct questions instead of testifying. This isn't cross. Just please ask and let him testify to what he did.
THE COURT: I believe your objection is that the questions are leading. Does that sound right?
MS. H BB : Correct, your Honor. It's not only leading, it's as if he's testifying himself.

MR. SU REZ: nd they're also compound, Judge.
THE COURT: Sorry?
MR. SU REZ: Compound.
MR. MER: Your Honor, this is a defendant. He is a hostile witness. I should be able to lead.
MS. H BB : He's not a hostile witness.
THE COURT: He's a defendant.
MS. H BB : He is. He's a defendant, but he-- yes, but -- your Honor, my objection-- I noted my objection. I'm sure you'll overrule it, but, I would prefer if counsel would just ask him a direct question and let him testify to what he did on the backup, just as he preferred that Chris not testify in any objections yesterday.
THE COURT: He is a defendant. I'm considering him a hostile witness. Objection on the ground of leading is overruled.
s for the compound question objection, yeah, there's a rule you shouldn't be asking compound questions. So, try to keep it discrete points.
Should we have that read?
MR. MER: I think there is an answer, though.
THE COURT: I think there was, also. He answered.

Q We also had looked yesterday at the complete Cushman appraisal. You had sent excerpts to Mr. Bender but you had the full appraisal, correct?
Yes.
MR. MER: Why don't we put up Exhibit 118. It's in evidence. Let's go to page 137.
Q You'll see there's a chart. It says: "Retail contract rent summary." Yes?
Sorry?
Q Sure. It's page 137.
Okay. Got it.
Q This chart appears on that page, correct?
Yes.
Q You'll see under Wall Street frontage, it says: "Dean & DeLuca 18,500 square feet contract rent 1.4 million. Contract rents per square foot 75.68. You see that?
Yes.
Q So, in fact, this Cushman appraisal does include the income from the Dean & DeLuca lease, right?
I can't make that statement. I didn't track this schedule back to the appraisal. So, I can't say yes or no.
Q Did you see this chart and make note of it when you reviewed the appraisal?
No.
Q Let's go to page 115. I'll wait for you to get there.

I'm there.
Q Second chart says: "Retail tenants." See on line 17 it says: "Dean & DeLuca." See that?
Yes.
Q Doesn't that indicate that this appraisal includes the operating income from the Dean & DeLuca lease?
gain, I didn't go through this appraisal and try everything out. So, I can't answer the question.
Q Well, you did a valuation on the assumption, as we just agreed, that the Cushman appraisal didn't include the Dean & DeLuca lease, right?
That's correct.
Q This page shows that there's a reference to the Dean & DeLuca lease, right?
There is a reference to the Dean & DeLuca lease, yes.
Q Did you make note of this chart when you were reviewing the 2015 appraisal?
No.
Q Let's go to page 117. Let's do -- so, the bottom paragraph carrying over to the next page: "In addition to office space, the subject property is leased to four retail tenants that include Dean & DeLuca."
You see that?

Yes.
Q It goes on to say that "Dean & DeLuca leases 15,500 square feet on the grade." You see that?
Yes.
Q So, this appraisal includes the income on the Dean & DeLuca lease, doesn't it? gain, I didn't go through and track all of this. I can't make the statement yes or no.
Q Okay, but, you did a valuation in 2015 that was based on the assumption that the Cushman appraisal did not include the Dean & DeLuca lease?
MR. FIELDS: Objection. sked and answered.
THE COURT: Was it asked and answered?
MR. MER: I'll withdraw the question.
Q You missed this reference in the Cushman appraisal; is that what you're saying?
I'm saying -- yes.
Q Let's go to page 136. See the paragraph that says: "Market rental rate retail space? This-- "The subject property is leased to four retail tenants that include Dean & DeLuca." See that?
Yes.
Q Did you miss that, as well?
Yes.
Q Can we agree, Mr. McConney, that by adding the income from the lease from Dean & DeLuca into your valuation that you double counted the Dean & DeLuca income in your valuation?

MR. SU REZ: Objection, your Honor. Mr. McConney is not a valuation expert. He's not offered as a valuation expert.
THE COURT: Overruled.
Sorry. Can you ask me the question again?
Q Can we agree that by including the Dean & DeLuca lease in your additional value that you added to the 540 from the Cushman appraisal, that you, effectively, double counted the Dean & DeLuca lease income in your valuation?
Okay. I will say again that I didn't track all the information in the appraisal. So, I can't answer that question.
Q Well, I think you can answer the question, Mr. McConney. So, I'm going to ask you to please answer it. The question is: Based on what we just looked at, wouldn't you agree that by including in your additional value the Dean & DeLuca lease that you double counted the income from that lease?
I did not track the information on this appraisal from to B to C. I can't answer that question.
MR. MER: Your Honor, he's not answering the question I'm asking him. It's a simple question.
Q Based on what we've just looked at, you double counted the Dean & DeLuca lease income. Isn't that the practical effect of what you did in your valuation?

Without looking at all this information and see how it tracks from point to point B within the appraisal, I can't tell you if it's included or not.
MR. MER: Your Honor, again, on math you can check but I will just represent that if you back out the $1,406,000 from the additional value that's then divided by the 3.04 percent cap rate.
MS. H BB : Your Honor --
THE COURT: Let him finish.
MR. MER: It equals 46,250,000.
MS. H BB : Your Honor, objection. Counsel is testifying.
THE COURT: Well, again, as often in this case, there's no jury. So, there's no prejudice. I'll take judicial notice of that, subject to a careful calculation again.
Q Mr. McConney, if you want to confirm this by looking at Exhibit 868, which was your e-mail to Mr. Bender with excerpts from the 2015 Cushman appraisal, none of the four pages that we just looked at that mention the Dean & DeLuca lease from the Cushman appraisal are included in what you sent Mr. Bender, correct?
Can you please give me those page numbers again?

Q Sure. They are page 137.
What page of the appraisal? Sorry. 110?
Q It's not that many pages. You can just flip through it and confirm that the chart is not there?
I understand that, but, I'm saying on the bottom of page 136 -- when I sent it to Mr. Bender, page 136 of 219 was not on the document I sent to Mr. Bender.
Q 137 is Bates number 9451?
That is CW. This is New York G. On the upper right-hand corner, you have page number page 111. That's what I'm looking for.
Q Let's do it more simply. Let's flip through the exhibit.
I am.
Q nd confirm -- okay.
MS. H BB : Counsel, I think he has a point. If you look at the top right, Mr. mer, if you can just give him the number.
MR. MER: I've asked my question. Thanks.
MS. H BB : I'm just trying to help.
Can you ask the question one more time?
Q Can you confirm that none of the four pages that reference the Dean & DeLuca lease in the Cushman appraisal were included in the excerpts you sent to Mr. Bender in Exhibit 868?

Page 701

Yes.

J. McConney - Direct by Mr. mer Page 702

Q Thank you. That wasn't that hard.

Okay. Let's -- let me ask you, just, we have discussed a couple of mistakes and oversights. We talked about the 30000-square-foot-triplex mistake; correct?

Yes.

Q nd we talked about your mistake in pulling the square footage for a comp at 157, instead of the price per square foot. Do you recall that?

Yes.

MR. SU REZ: Objection, your Honor. He did not testify to having made a mistake.

THE COURT: He just said he did.

MR. SU REZ: No. He just -- it's in his question. It wasn't in his testimony from yesterday. He is mischaracterizing the testimony from yesterday.

MR. MER: I think yesterday he said it was a mistake. He pulled the wrong number from the email.

THE COURT: He just said he did. Or am I hearing things?

Q So, you have that second mistake, and then you have just testified that you missed seeing the Dean & DeLuca reference in the Cushman appraisal; right?

Yes.

Q I may have missed it, but do you recall making any mistakes that caused the valuing to go down instead of up?

J. McConney - Direct by Mr. mer Page 703

In general, over the 20 years, or --

Q During the period that you were working on the valuations.

Yes.

Q What mistake did you make that caused the valuation to go down?

I recall one on the cash sheet, or the cash spreadsheet we looked at with the Vornado cash on it. One year I included Mr. Trump's foundation cash, Mr. Trump's foundation's cash on that spreadsheet. Donald Bender said I can't do that, it's not controlled by Mr. Trump, it's controlled by the foundation, so I took that off.

I believe on Trump Tower, once, we were valuing vacant space at a dollar amount, and Mr. Bender pointed out that we used a different dollar amount on a certiorari proceeding, and so we reduced the amount of my spreadsheet to the amount that he indicated on the certiorari proceeding? Can I just go back to the first mistake.

Q You said Donald Bender said you can't include cash from Mr. Trump's foundation because it's not controlled by him. Is that your testimony?

I don't remember the exact words, but he had us -- he told me to take the cash from the foundation off that spreadsheet.

Q nd he told you it was because Mr. Trump didn't

J. McConney - Direct by Mr. mer Page 704 control that cash; right?

He gave me -- I believed it to be, Mr. Trump really didn't control that cash anymore.

Q But you continued to list the Vornado cash; right?

Yes.

Q Why don't we turn to Park venue, Trump Park venue.

MR. MER: nd let's put up the 2012 Jeff Supporting Data, which is Exhibit 793 in evidence.

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

MR. MER: Let's go to row 166.

Q Now, this shows, Mr. McConney, a value for the unsold units at Trump Park venue; correct?

Yes. Well, except for the super's apartment. The super's apartment was sold.

Q nd for 2011 and 2012, it's the same value. It's a little over $293 million; correct?

Correct. Excuse me. Correct.

MR. MER: Let's pull up Plaintiff's Exhibit 1073. It's an email that has native files attached to it.

MR. SU REZ: Your Honor, I won't raise objections to documents that have already been admitted over our objection. Obviously, you would not be happy with me if I did that. But, we do object to this document that's being introduced right now, on the basis of statute of limitations.

MR. MER: nd I'll move it into evidence, so that there's something he can object to.

THE COURT: Objection overruled. It's in evidence. The statute of limitations bars claims, not evidence. Of course, they have to be connected, and we'll see whether Mr. mer connected the dots or not, and his team.

(Whereupon, the exhibit was received in evidence.)

Q Mr. McConney, this email from you forwards an attachment that's entitled sponsor unit valuation, September 20, 2012, Park venue; correct?

MR. MER: We'll put up the attachments in a minute.

Oh. There it is. Yes. The attachments. I was looking at the subject. Sorry.

Q Okay. Is that correct?

I'm sorry. Could you ask again?

Q Sure. The top email from you attaches a sponsor unit valuation; correct?

Yes.

Q Okay. nd let's go ahead and pull up the attachment. Do you recognize this as the backup for your valuation of the unsold apartments?

Yes.

Q nd 502 Park venue, that's Trump Park venue; correct?

Yes.

Q nd there are three columns in this backup. There's Unit, which is the unit number of the apartment; is that right?

Yes.

Q There's an offering plan price; correct?

Yes.

Q nd there's a current market value price column; correct?

Yes.

Q We can agree that the value that you used in your supporting data spreadsheet that we were just looking at is the 293 figure from the offering plan price column; correct?

Correct.

Q nd that was what you used for both 2011 and 2012; correct?

I believe so, yes.

Q nd is this spreadsheet prepared by the TIR sales office in order to give you valuations for the unsold units?

Yes.

Q This is information that you asked TIR to provide you for preparing your valuation of Park venue for the statements;

correct?

Correct.

Q nd if we put this -- so --

MR. MER: Withdrawn.

Q The offering plan price is roughly $57 million higher than the market value total; correct?

Correct.

Q Now, let's go to Plaintiff's 796.

(Whereupon, a document was handed to the witness.)

Q Mr. McConney, do you recognize this as backup that you sent to Donald Bender in support of the supporting data spreadsheet?

Yes.

MR. MER: Your Honor, I move this into evidence, please.

MR. SU REZ: Objection. Statute of limitations.

THE COURT: I thought someone said you are only going to do that once.

MR. SU REZ: No. I said I wouldn't do it for exhibits that have been moved into evidence, but they are bringing up with new witnesses.

THE COURT: ll right. Duly noted. Overruled. It's in evidence.

(Whereupon, the exhibit was received in evidence.)

Q Mr. McConney, looking at what you sent Mr. Bender. It appears that you sent him a column that shows the unit number and column that shows the offering plan price, but you have cut off the column that shows the market value; right?

Yes.

Q So this was not a mistake. You intentionally removed that third column from the material you forwarded to Mr. Bender, on purpose; right?

Yes.

Q nd you removed that column because you didn't want him to see the values that were labeled, current market values; correct?

No.

THE COURT: That was a yes or no?

THE WITNESS: No.

Q The effect of your removing that column was that he didn't see it; right?

Correct.

MR. MER: I'm going to put up, from Exhibit 3041 -- which is the defendants' 202 response -- paragraph 344, and if we can do it side by side, eventually, with the exhibit that we were just looking at.

So, let's go to paragraph 344, which is page 126, I believe.

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

Q Paragraph 344, which defendants have admitted is that, "In 2013, the following 11 units were stabilized," and then you see there's a list of units; correct?

Yes.

Q nd we can agree that if a unit was rent stabilized in 2011, it was rent stabilized in 2012 and 20 -- I'm sorry. If it was rent stabilized in 2013, it would have been rent stabilized in 2012 and 2011; correct?

MR. SU REZ: Objection, your Honor. That's a legal conclusion. I don't know that Mr. McConney is a lawyer.

(Whereupon, there was a pause in the proceedings.)

THE COURT: Mr. mer, is there some other way that we can figure out what was rent stabilized and what wasn't?

MR. MER: There's a paragraph above it. Why don't we use that paragraph. Defendants, in response to an assertion of the units that were rent stabilized in 2011 and 2012, asserted that the following 12 units were rent stabilized as of September 2011, and then there's a list of units. So, if we can take judicial notice of that as an admitted fact; your Honor?

THE COURT: Yes. That was admitted by this defendant; right?

MR. MER: Yes, your Honor.

MR. SU REZ: Your Honor, the response to 343, actually, is disputed.

MR. MER: I was reading what comes after, disputed.

MR. SU REZ: Okay.

THE COURT: ll right. So 343 is disputed, but what comes after it is undisputed.

MR. MER: It's what they assert.

THE COURT: Well -- oh, sorry. That's how those things work. That's an assertion by this defendant.

MR. MER: Yes.

MS. H BB : I'm sorry. Just to be clear for the record, are we putting in the entire document, or just this section? I would submit the same response, that we should be putting in the entire document, if that is what --

MR. MER: I thought I moved the whole document into evidence.

MS. H BB : It has been moved in? Then I have no objection.

THE COURT: Well --

MS. H BB : The entire document.

THE COURT: -- is it in evidence, the entire document?

MR. MER: I moved it into evidence. I believe your Honor said yes.

THE COURT: Yes. It's in.

MS. H BB : Okay. Good.

THE COURT: So, it's already in evidence.

Q Mr. McConney, you were aware that Park venue had these rent-stabilized units when you prepared the valuations; correct?

Yes.

Q Okay. nd if we just tick off, in the sponsor unit spreadsheet for 2012, these 12 units. For 4 , 4 , 6B, 7 , 7B, 7D, 7E, 7G, 8E, 8H, 10E, 12E, 15 B, so all of these units you knew, at the time that you were doing the valuations for this year, were rent stabilized; correct?

Correct.

Q nd you valued them without any regard to their rent-stabilized status; is that correct?

I didn't value them. TIR valued them. But, I believe that's correct.

Q You put them into your spreadsheet that is goes to Donald Bender; is that correct?

That's correct.

Q nd the values you relied on when you put them in your spreadsheet and sent them to Donald Bender were the offering plan price values, knowing that these were rent-stabilized units; correct?

Correct.

Q nd you followed that same approach for every statement you reviewed; correct?

Correct.

Q nd it was intentional; correct?

Yes.

Q nd it was something you discussed with Mr. Weisselberg; correct?

I believe so, yes.

Q nd he agreed that that was the way that you were going to do it; correct?

Yes.

Q Let's turn to Seven Springs.

MR. MER: I'm going to put up the 2012 Jeff Supporting Data, 793, which is in evidence.

Q Row 669, that starts the section on Seven Springs; correct? Well, we'll get there in a second.

That's where it starts; correct?

669. Line 669, yes.

Q Okay. nd did you understand at the time that the property was in three different localities, New Castle, North Castle and Bedford?

Yes.

Q Row 683 indicates that there were seven mansions approved to be developed in the Bedford portion; right?
Yes.
Q Those are valued in the spreadsheet at 23 million per mansion, times seven, for value of 161 million in each year; correct?
In 2011 and 2012, yes.
Q nd row 674 mentions a September 16, 2011 telephone call with someone named Hal Goldman; correct?
Correct.
Q That was a call you had with Mr. Goldman; right?
Yes.
Q He was an independent contractor that the company had hired to get through the planning and approval process for the development; correct?
Yes.
Q nd row 679 referenced a call that you had with Eric Trump on September 24, 2012; correct?
Correct.
Q nd the information about the seven mansions being approved in Bedford was information that was provided to you by Hal Goldman in 2011; right?
Correct.
Q nd it was confirmed to you by Eric Trump in 2012; correct?

Correct.
Q nd that was conveyed to you in both of those calls; correct?
I'm sorry. sk you ask that question again?
Q Sure. The information from Mr. Goldman was conveyed to you in that phone call that is reflected here with him; correct?
Correct.
Q nd the information from Eric Trump was conveyed to you during the phone call with him that's reflected here; correct?
That's correct.
Q nd you were trying to value Seven Springs for the 2012 statement, and you knew Eric Trump was involved with the property, so you asked him if he could give you -- if he could give you a valuation for the statement, or provide some insight into the value; is that correct?
Yes.
Q nd Eric Trump confirmed, during the call in September of 2012, that all necessary approvals had been obtained to build the seven homes in Bedford; correct?
Never asked him that question. So, I guess the answer is no.
Q Okay. Had you heard from Hal Goldman during the call at 2011 that all necessary approvals had been obtained to build the seven homes in Bedford?

No.
Q Were you operating under the assumption, in doing this valuation, that the approval for the seven homes had been obtained?
Sorry. Can you ask that again?
Q Were you operating under the assumption when doing this valuation in these two years that approvals had been obtained, all necessarily approvals had been obtained for these seven homes in Bedford?
Looking at this now, yes.
Q nd did you get that information from Mr. Goldman?
I would have to go back and say -- and correct myself. He, yes Hal probably gave me that information.
Q nd that was confirmed again by Mr. Trump, Eric Trump, in the call the later in the next year?
I don't remember if I asked Eric that or not.
Q It's fair to say that you didn't learn anything between the 2011 valuation and the 2012 valuation that lead you to conclude differently concerning the approval necessary for those seven homes; right?
That's correct.
Q Now, as the controller of a large company, Mr. McConney, with a finance background, you do understand the concept of time value of money; correct?

I do not have a finance background. I have an accounting background.
Q s the controller of a large company with an accounting background, you do understand the concept of time value of money; right?
Yes.
Q The concept is essentially that a dollar paid today is worth more than a dollar paid, say, five years from now, based on inflation; right?
Yes. Excuse me. Yes.
Q nd if you wanted to know how much the dollar that gets paid five years from now would be worth today, you apply a discount factor to determine the present value; correct?
I'm not a finance guy, so I can't really answer that question.
Q So that concept is not something you understand?
I understand the concept. I don't know the computation, to get to that point.
Q I'm asking you a much simpler question. s a general matter, if you want to know how much a future payment is going to be worth today, you do something called, apply a discount factor, to get to the present value. Is that something you have an understanding of?
Not really. I know you have to discount it. I just don't know the exact computation, or where you get the percentages from.

J. McConney - Direct by Mr. mer Page 717

Q Okay. My question wasn't going beyond just the simple concept of having to discount it. So, we agree you have to discount it in order to get to present value; correct?
Yes.
Q nd the concept of discounting future income to present value, that is a very standard accounting practice; isn't it?
It could be a standard finance practice. I never use it, really.
Q Different question. My question was whether you would agree that it's a standard accounting practice. Yes or no.
No.
Q It's not. Okay. m I correct that the value of $161 million for the seven homes in Bedford does not apply any discount factor to take in account how long it would take to construct the infrastructure, build the homes, and then sell the home for $35 million each?
That's correct.
Q You didn't factor into the valuation whether the homes were going to be built today, tomorrow, or in a number of years; correct?
Correct.
Q nd if it took five years to complete the homes, and they were sold two years after that, your valuation doesn't

J. McConney - Direct by Mr. mer Page 718 account for that at all; correct?

Correct.
Q Can we agree that this $161 million attributable to these seven homes is, by necessity, going to be future income, because the homes don't exist as of the date of these valuations?
Correct.
Q You have treated, for purposes of this valuation, the profit of $23 million per home for all seven homes as if it were realized immediately, as of June 30 in each year; correct?
Yes.
MR. MER: Let's go to the 2014 Jeff Supporting Data, which is Plaintiff's Exhibit 719.
(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)
Q nd row 655, again, the section on Seven Springs -- as soon as we get there.
MR. MER: I think we have to shift it over to the left. Great.

J. McConney - Direct/ mer Page 719

Q Mr. McConney, for the valuation in 2014 and 2013, it's the same calculation, correct?
I'm sorry. Can you ask that again? I think I heard the question, but, just ask it again, please.
Q For the valuation of the seven mansions at Seven Springs for 2013 and, 2014, it is precisely the same calculation that we saw in 2011 and 2012, right?
Yes.
Q So, all your answers that apply to 2011 and 2012 apply equally to these valuations here, correct?
Yes.
Q Row 662 states a June 30, 2013 -- states that for June 30, 2013, it's per telephone conversation with Eric Trump on ugust 20, 2013, correct?
Yes.
Q This reflects that you had a phone call with Eric Trump on that date ugust of 2013 where he confirmed you should continue to value the seven mansions in Bedford for the Statement of Financial Condition, the same as you did for the year before, right?
Yes.
Q In row 660, it references a different call with Mr. Trump, Eric Trump, on September 12, 2014, correct?
Correct.
Q That note reflects you had a phone call with Eric

J. McConney - Direct/ mer Page 720

Trump on that date, September 2014, where he confirmed you should continue to value the seven mansions in Bedford for the Statement of Financial Condition, the same as you did for 2013, right?
Yes.
Q s with the prior years, we just discussed your valuation of the seven homes did not factor in whether the homes were built today, tomorrow, or in a number of years in the future, correct?
Correct.
MR. MER: Let's go to Jeff Supporting Data for 2015 and let's go to row 699.
Q Now, Mr. McConney for 2014, it has the same valuation calculation for the seven mansions that we spoke about before, correct?
Correct.
Q nd there is a reference for the June 30, 2014 value, per telephone conversation with Eric Trump, September 12, 2014, correct?
Correct.
Q nd that note reflects that you had a phone call. That's the same phone call we just spoke about, correct?
Yes.
Q Okay. I noticed that there's no value for 2015 and that's per the note that says: "Conservation easement property moved to other assets." You see that?

Yes.
Q So, if we want to find the valuation for Seven Springs for 2015, we have to go to the section of the spreadsheet that addresses other assets, correct?
Correct.
Q Let's go to row 895. Row 895, we can see Seven Springs per easement and the value now drops down to 56 million, correct?
Yes.
Q That's pursuant to the easement donation?
Yes.
Q Let me ask you a few questions to get a basic understanding of a conservation easement donation. You understood, at the time, that a conservation easement donation is where the owner of the property agrees to donate rights to develop the land, and the value of those rights is then taken as a tax deduction; is that right?
I've got a peripheral knowledge of easement. So, yes, I know the land is donated; and, yes, I know there's a charitable contribution taken on the tax returns.
Q When you say the "land is donated," isn't it that the development rights on the land are donated?
I have a limited knowledge of it, so I don't know exactly what's donated.

THE COURT: I'll take judicial notice, the land is not donated, just certain rights.
Q In order to get the tax deduction for a conservation easement donation, you need an appraisal that values the property before and after the donation.
Is that consistent with your understanding?
I don't know that.
Q re you aware that Seven Springs obtained an appraisal for the purpose of making the easement donation?
Yes.
Q That's the appraisal value, the before value of the property. That is before the donation at the $56 million figure that you put in your valuation, correct?
Correct.
Q You used the before value as opposed to the after donation value because as of the valuation date, the donation had not yet been made, correct?
I believe that's correct, yes.
Q So, the $56 million is actually the value put on the property by the appraiser before the donation of development rights, correct?
Before the donation, yes. I don't know what they donated.
Q So, before donating anything, the appraiser valued it as 56 million, whereas, you have been valuing it, before any donation, at 161 million, correct?

Correct.
Q You understood it was correct to use the before value rather than the after value because, as of this valuation date, the development rights had not yet been donated, correct?
I believe that's correct.
MR. MER: If we can just put up the Seven Springs demonstrative PDX-3.9, just to look at the values.
Q So, we have the statement values and, by the way, the 161 million, just to clarify, that was just the value of the seven homes in Bedford, correct?
Seven homes. I don't remember in which of the three areas they're located.
Q The statement values here are much higher than 161 from 2011 through 2014 because they include other parts of the property, correct?
Correct.
Q Then the value drops to 56 million in 2015 because you now have the appraisal in your hand that gives you that as the before appraised value, correct?
Correct.
Q So, you deemed it appropriate to use an appraised value, correct?

Yes.
Q nd just so we're clear, the additional value in the prior years come from the mansions on the property, right?
Yes.
Q nd the next year, 2016, that is now after the conservation easement donation, correct?
Correct.
Q So, you then use 35.4 million because that's the after appraised value, correct?
fter the donation, yes.
Q So, the value of the development rights, according to the appraiser, is the difference between 56 million and 35.4 million, correct?
I don't know. Development rights, I don't remember exactly what the difference is. I can tell you the difference is $21 million before and after the donation.
Q Okay. So, the value of the donation is the $21 million, correct?
Correct.
Q What's being donated are the development rights, correct?
I'll take your word for that.
Q Okay. It's not 161 million, is it?
What isn't 161 million?
Q The value of the development rights. The appraiser

J. McConney - Direct/ mer Page 725

did not value the development rights at any amount more than $21 million; isn't that right?
That's correct.
MR. MER: I'm ready to move on to the golf clubs. I don't know where we are in terms of when we want to take a break. I'll keep going. I'm just going to a new subject.
THE COURT: We can go until 11:30.
MR. MER: Okay.
Q Let's talk about the golf club valuations. Why don't we go ahead and look at the 2011 Jeff Supporting Data spreadsheet which is Exhibit 788; and, let's go to line 264.
This is the valuation for Briarcliff Manor, correct?
It's-- that's the line that's highlighted, yes.
Q This is where that begins, correct?
That's correct.
Q One component of the Briarcliff value, based on your valuation, is comprised of nonrefundable membership fees; is that right?
That's correct.
Q nd column G includes your numbers to value Briarcliff for 2011, right?
Yes.
Q The first set of numbers, which are in rows 280 to

J. McConney - Direct/ mer Page 726

284, that reflects the value of nonrefundable memberships for 2011, right?
Can you ask that question again?
Q Sure. Rows 280 to 284 have the value that you calculated for the nonrefundable memberships for 2011, right?
Correct.
Q Line 266 states that there were 67 memberships available as of June 30, 2011; is that right?
That is correct.
Q You get this information from the golf clubs. They send you back this information, right?
Yes.
Q Line 268, your note states: "Current membership asking price 150,000. Getting 150,000." Correct?
Yes.
Q That's also information you're getting from people who work at the golf course, correct?
I believe that's correct, yes.
Q But when you value the memberships available for sale, as I read this, you only value 20 of the 67 memberships at 150,000. Right?
That's correct.
Q nd you value another 47 memberships at prices ranging from $175,000 all the way up to $250,000, correct?
Correct.

J. McConney - Direct/ mer Page 727

Q Was the use of the higher price for memberships from 175,000 to 250,000 just your speculation as to what amount a membership might get in the future?
There was a-- based on a conversation I had with llen Weisselberg, who was more familiar with the golf courses, and these were his estimates.
Q It wasn't based on anything you heard from the people who worked at the golf course, right?
I believe that's correct, yes.
Q The nonrefundable membership fees are amounts you're expecting someone to pay in the future, right?
Yes.
Q Line 275 shows that for 2010, the prior year, there were 69 memberships, correct?
Memberships available for sale, yes.
Q So, between 2010 and 2011, there were only two memberships that were sold, correct?
Correct.
Q nd would you agree with me that at that pace, it would take about 30 years to sell all these memberships?
Using that pace, yes.
Q Now, when you listed the number of memberships to be sold at each price point, you did not do any estimate as to how far out it would take into the future to actually sell all those memberships; isn't that right?

J. McConney - Direct/ mer Page 728

That's correct.
Q You did not perform any discounted analysis to determine the present value of the income that you would -- that the company would receive from the sale of these memberships in the future, correct?
That's correct.
Q Let's look at the 2011 Statement of Financial Condition, which is Exhibit 787 in evidence. Let's go to page ten. This provides, under club facilities and related real estate, a description -- this club facilities and related real estate, this relates to the golf clubs, right?
The golf clubs and Mar-a-Lago, yes.
Q There's a description that appears that says: "Entities wholly owned by Mr. Trump have acquired certain properties for the purposes of developing"-- "for the purpose of developing them into club facilities. Several of these clubs will also contain residential units that they will sell. The estimated current value of 1,314,600,000 is based on an assessment of the cash flow that is expected to be derived from club options. The sale of residential units after subtracting the estimated costs to be incurred or recent sales of properties in a similar location."
You see that? It says that?
Yes.
Q That assessment was prepared by Mr. Trump working in conjunction with his associates and outside professionals?

Yes.
Q This paragraph identifies three alternative methods for valuing the clubs, one of which is an assessment of the cash flow that is expected to be derived from club operations?
Correct.
Q second is the sale of residential units after subtracting the estimated costs to be incurred, right?
Yes.
Q The third method is recent sales, properties in similar location, right?
Yes.
Q Can we agree that the third method was not a method that was used by you for Briarcliff, right?
Correct.
Q If we split the screen and pull up 788 at lines 295 to 298, you listed information about a projected sale of mid-rise units approved but put on hold, correct? $43.3 million?
The 43.3 is a sellout price, yes.
Q So, you subtracted the costs related to that development and you have the net profit, right?
Yes.
Q You added that potential profit of, I think it's $25.1 million to the valuation of Briarcliff, correct?

Correct.
Q So, that method is the second disclosed method in the Statement of Financial Condition, correct?
Yes.
Q s with other valuations that include future income, there's no attempt to determine how long into the future it would take to build and sell these homes, these units, correct?
Correct.
Q There's no discounted cash flow analysis to bring those amounts to the present value, correct?
Correct.
Q So, I think we said the third method in the Statement of Financial Condition didn't apply. We've now seen, at least with respect to these additional units, you've used the second method. I don't see any line items that would reflect for Briarcliff any cash flow analysis as described in the first method. m I correct?
s described in the first method?
Q The first method in the statement says that the estimated current value is based on one method. The first method, is assessment of the cash flow that is expected to be derived from club operations. You see that?
Yes.
Q That is not a method you're using for Briarcliff,

correct?
Correct.
Q What you used is a method that includes just income from selling memberships, right?
It's a little more than that. You had the income from the memberships. You had the sale of the mid-rise units. You had the value for the clubhouse. If you could scroll up, please.
There were receivables on membership deposits and from operations from the food, dues, whatever. There were a few other items included.
Q Let me see if I can shortcut this. You disclosed in the statement three different alternative methods for valuing clubs, correct?
Correct.
Q We agree the third method is not relevant. You didn't use it, correct?
Correct.
Q You used the second method based on the 31 units, right?
Correct.
Q There is no attempt at the first method, which is cash flow from operations, and, instead, you use a different method that just includes income from selling memberships, right?

Correct.

Q So, anybody reading this statement and this description would have no understanding that estimated current value includes, as a component, selling memberships, without a more complete assessment of cash flow; right?

MR. FIELDS: Objection. Speculating as to what other people reading the statement would know.

THE COURT: Do you want to phrase it slightly differently?

MR. MER: Sure.

Q There's nothing in this paragraph containing the three alternate methods disclosed that indicates you have based the valuation on simply taking membership sales and including that in the value; right?

Not specifically, no.

Q nd an assessment of cash flow from operations would include looking at things such as payroll; right?

Yes.

Q nd taxes; right?

Yes.

Q nd repairs and upkeep and maintenance of the golf course; right?

Yes.

Q nd that's nowhere in your valuation analysis; right?

For this property, no.

Q Let's look at how you value Briarcliff in 2012.

MR. MER: nd we can pull up the 2012 Jeff Supporting Data, Plaintiff's 793, and let's go to line 258 [sic].

Q nd line 287 [sic] shows your valuation of Briarcliff jumped from 68.7 million in 2011 to 99.5 million, roughly, in 2012; correct?

Yes.

Q nd that's an increase of almost $31 million; right?

Yes.

Q nd line 285 shows that your projected profit from the sale of the future residential units remained the same from the prior year; correct?

Yes.

Q nd so, all of your responses about how you calculated that would be the same for this year; correct?

Correct.

Q nd lines 273 to 275 show very little change in additional value from 2011 to 2012, based on listed membership receivables; right?

Correct.

Q So, almost the entire increase, close to $30 million, is attributable to your change in methodology, to using something called fixed assets; right?

Correct.

Q Let's look at 2013, and that's Jeff Supporting Data

708, and let's look at lines 253 to 270?

THE COURT: Ten-minute warning.

Q Mr. McConney, in 2013, for the development of the units, the value jumped from 25.1 million to 101 million and change; correct?

Yes.

Q nd you increased the value of the Briarcliff development in that amount based on a September 25th, 2013, telephone conversation with Eric Trump; correct?

Correct.

Q nd this increase was based on the sale of 71 midrise units, approved but put on hold; correct?

Correct.

Q So the number of units increased from 31 to 71; is that right?

I'm not too sure. If you show me the other spreadsheet with the number -- I just don't remember.

Q Okay. We don't have to go back. But at any rate, it's based on an increase in the number of units to 71; correct?

To 71.

Q To, T-O, 71; correct?

Yes.

Q nd your information about the number of units came from Eric Trump in that call; right?

Yes.

Q nd he also, by the way, told you that the project was put on hold; right?

Yes.

Q But you're still accounting for the profit from those 71 midrise units that were put on hold, as if it's immediately realized as of June 30, 2013; correct?

Yes.

MR. MER: Now, let's look at Exhibit 205.

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

MR. MER: Your Honor, this is an appraisal by Cushman & Wakefield of the Briarcliff club, and I move that this be admitted me into.

MR. SU REZ: We have an objection, both based on the statute of limitations and on hearsay.

MR. MER: Your Honor, this was an appraisal that the Trump Organization obtained.

THE COURT: It comes in, not for the truth of its contents, but for what the Trump Organization knew or thought, or whatever information they had.

MR. MER: It's also an admission against interests, your Honor. It's their appraisal. Their agent. They hired Cushman to do the appraisal for them, and therefore it's their appraisal.

MR. SU REZ: Your Honor, it was sent to Sheri

Dillon at Bingham McCutchen. It's a Cushman & Wakefield Bates stamped out of Trump Organization Bates documents. There's certainly no testimony that Mr. McConney has seen it yet. Cushman is not here.

THE COURT: Well, we haven't gotten to that part, yet.

MR. MER: Just so you know, your Honor, just so you are aware, Bingham McCutchen were counsel to the Trump Organization. Their lawyers.

THE COURT: nd that makes it an admission against interests?

MR. MER: Yes. It's a document created by their agent.

THE COURT: The point of the hearsay exception for an admission against interests is, you won't say something that will hurt you. When this was drafted, put together, whatever you call it, it wasn't necessarily going to hurt them. So, I'm only letting it in to show what the -- and I think that's all you need, unless I'm missing something -- to show what the defendants knew or had access to. There's nothing about the appraisal itself that hurts them. But, you can tell me otherwise. Go ahead. Why?

MR. MER: Because it comes up with a value that's much lower than the value that they used.

THE COURT: Well, that's my point. You want to show that it's lower than the value that they used, but the fact that internally -- I'm sorry. I just still don't see it, but it's in for the purpose that I think you need.

MR. MER: Okay.

(Whereupon, the exhibit was received in evidence.)

Q 2014, the Trump Organization sought to value a potential easement over the five-acre development site. That was the site for the 71 housing units; correct?

I have no knowledge of that.

Q Were you unaware of the appraisal?

I knew there was an appraisal, but I don't know what it was for. I -- sorry. I knew it was for a conservation easement, but I don't know the details of the appraisal.

Q re you aware of the value that the appraisal came to for the 71-unit development?

I don't believe so.

Q If we turn to page two of the exhibit, this is the cover letter that the appraiser sends to Bingham McCutchen. Did you understand that they were the Trump Organization's counsel for purposes of this easement donation?

Yes.

Q If we turn to the third page, you see it says the value of the easement donations is 43.4 -- 43.3 million; correct?

I see its value of 43.3.

Q It says market value of conservation easement; correct?

Correct.

Q nd as we discussed before, these type of appraisals, you have a before value and after value, and you subtract the two, and that's the value of the development rights being donated?

THE COURT: Subtract one from the other. You don't subtract the two.

MR. MER: Yes. One from the other, your Honor. Thank you.

Q Correct?

Correct.

Q nd so, the value of the development rights related to the 71 units, according to this professionally-done appraisal, is $43.3 million; correct?

gain, I don't know what this appraisal was for, so it's hard for me to comment.

Q I thought you were aware. So, you were not aware that there was an appraisal done for an easement donation?

I know there was easement donation. I am pretty sure I knew there was an appraisal, but I don't think I was involved in this.

Q nd in 2014, according to the Jeff Supporting spreadsheet, which is Exhibit 719 --

MR. MER: Can we put that up?

Q You continue to value the --

This is Westchester.

Q Yes.

I'm sorry.

Q Yes. We need to go back to Briarcliff. Sorry. You continue to value the Briarcliff 71 midrise units in 2014 at $101 million, even though there an appraisal that the company has that says 43.3; correct.

gain, the appraisal is appraising -- I'm not too sure what it appraises. We did complete the same 101 million valuation for the 71 midrise units.

Q Well, let's look at page two of the appraisal, and let's look at the third paragraph. You will see it says the owner of the subject golf club is planning on donating a conservation easement over approximately 5 acres of the property. This is a development site entitled with 71 attached housing units. Do you see that?

Yes.

Q So, that's what this appraisal relates to; right? The 71 units that you value in your spreadsheet?

THE COURT: Hold on.

MR. SU REZ: Your Honor, again, there's no foundation. I believe the ruling from the Court was that it was not admitted for the truth of the matter asserted. He testified that he's not sure if he ever saw this appraisal. The appraisal wasn't sent to Mr. McConney. It wasn't sent to anyone at the Trump Organization. It says what it says. He is not sure what it's for. There's no foundation to have him testify about.

MR. MER: Your Honor, just an objection, not a speaking objection. The witness is on the stand.

THE COURT: Well, time for the break; right? Saved by the bell. We'll address it on the way back.

s usual, we are going to take a ten-minute break that will take 15 minutes.

(Whereupon, a recess was taken.)

* * * * * *

THE COURT: Let's pick up from that interesting issue from where we left off. I want to first make sure I understand the context of the dispute.

The Trump Organization, through agent, through a third party, commissioned appraisal. The plaintiff wants the appraisal in, both for the truth of its contents and to show notice. I already said I'm allowing to show whatever notice there is but not for the truth of its content because that's what hearsay is for. Hearsay rule.

However, if plaintiff wants to pursue this, wants to admit it for the truth of its contents, pursuant to some hearsay exception, if you say you want to do this, I'll ask both sides whether you want to submit two-page memos by, two-page memos by next week or Tuesday or something. Monday is a holiday.

MR. MER: Let me confer with my colleagues to see if we need it for the truth of the matter asserted or notice is sufficient. If we want it for the truth of the matter asserted, we'll submit it.

THE COURT: nd the other side can oppose or -- when will you consult with your colleagues?

MR. MER: Later today.

MR. SU REZ: I don't want to keep popping up during the witness's testimony but if the witness is going to testify about it, I'd like to condition the testimony on the fact it hasn't been admitted yet for the truth of the matter asserted, and, also, I'd like to bring to the Court's attention that this is a document that has limitations.

It's a document that has three pages of different limitations that include what it can be used for and what it can't be used for.

MR. MER: This is improper.

MR. SU REZ: May I finish?

MR. MER: He is discussing an exhibit in front of the witness. If he wants to do cross-examination with this document when I'm done with my examination, he can do that.

MR. SU REZ: The witness is a party and, more so, even the document says "draft" on it.

THE COURT: That's what cross-examination is for. I'll allow it, the questioning, although I don't know exactly where it's going.

Q I want to continue talking about valuation of Briarcliff in 2015.

MR. MER: If we can put up the supporting data spreadsheet 731 and go to lines 255?

Q Now, the valuation of the 71 mid-rise units in 2015 remained as it was in 2014 as 101 million point 748 and change, correct?

Yes.

Q So, we're all oriented, the appraisal we were looking at, that's Exhibit 205 admitted for purposes of notice, was from the letter, cover letter to Ms. Dillon -- if you want to put it up -- is dated pril 18, 2014, correct?

Correct.

Q So, certainly, by the time you're doing your valuation for June 30, 2015, this appraisal was done, right?

Yes.

Q You were aware there was an appraisal, correct?

Correct.

Q nd is it your testimony you didn't ask to see the appraisal?

Yes.

Q It didn't matter to you for purposes of your valuation; is that what you're saying?

Yes.

Q The original -- the value for 2014 was based on the note in 272, row 272 of the spreadsheet. This September 25, 2013 telephone conversation, you had with Eric Trump, correct?

I'm sorry. I was reading something. Can you just ask that again?

Q Sure. The value in 2014, that you put on your spreadsheet, was based on a telephone conversation with Eric Trump on September 25, 2013, as indicated in line 272, right?

That's correct.
Q The value remaining the same in 2015 was based on a telephone conversation that you had with Eric Trump in November 17th -- on November 17, 2015, where Eric Trump said to you, "leave value as is," correct?
Correct.
Q So, notwithstanding the fact that there was this appraisal, Eric Trump told you to leave the value as is, correct?
Correct.
Q I'd like to see if we could shorten this. So, I'll just make a statement to you; and, if you're uncomfortable, we can go through all of the spreadsheets; but, the spreadsheets for 2016, 2017, and 2018 continue to use the same $101 million value for the mid-rise units and all attributed to this phone call with Mr. Trump that you should leave the value as is.
Is that consistent with your recollection?
MR. SU REZ: We object to the grouping together of different years for purposes of testimony. If there's a specific question about specific years in specific spreadsheets, that should be the question. Not lumping them altogether.
THE COURT: I'm allowing the lumping together. Objection overruled. Let's be clear. He's asking about all three years. We're just lumping them together.

Can we just take a look at the three years to make sure?
Q bsolutely. Why don't we look at 2017 because it will give us 2017 and 2016, and that's 758 and it's line -- 278.
You'll see, Mr. McConney, the value remains the same for both '17 and '16 and it has the note that attributes that to Eric Trump saying "leave value as is," correct?
Correct.
Q So, those values remained as is based on your telephone conversation with Eric Trump, correct?
Correct.
MR. MER: Let's go to 2018. It's plaintiff's 774 native and we'll go to line 295. Just so the record is clear, in the prior exhibit we were looking at lines 278 to -- we just have to straighten out the line numbers, the row numbers.
Q So, it's row 298 has the profit being 101 million and the conversation with Mr. Trump is on line 301, correct.
Correct.
Q Okay. That's for both 2016 and 2017, correct?
Correct.
Q Let's go to 2018. Exhibit 774, line 295 is where Briarcliff starts and, again, 2018 stays the same at 101 million and change and it's attributable, in your note on line 312, to your conversation with Eric Trump, leave value as is, correct?

Yes, but, I'd like to make the statement that between June of '16 and June of '17, Patrick Birney was taking over the Statement of Financial Condition. I don't think I was involved in the June of '18 statement.
Q Okay.
So --
Q Looking at the control spreadsheet, though, that is what is being indicated as the source for keeping the value the same in 2018, correct?
That's correct.
Q It's your phone call, right? It's your phone call with Eric Trump?
I had the phone call back in 2015, yes.
Q Okay. I want to switch topics with respect to golf courses. It is correct that you included in your valuation of some of the golf clubs starting in 2013 a 30 percent grand premium, correct?
Yes.
Q The inclusion of that grand premium was something that you and llen Weisselberg decided to do, right?
Yes.
Q t some point after adopting that 30 percent premium, you changed it to a 15 percent premium, but, it was still a premium that was added to the same golf clubs, correct?

Yes.
Q Was that change to 15 percent also something that you and Mr. Weisselberg decided to do together?
Yes.
Q If we could pull up the 2013 statement, it's Exhibit 707 in evidence -- 708.
Exhibit 707 in evidence, the Statement of Financial Condition, if we go to page six where it says "basis of presentation."
The bottom paragraph that begins: "Pursuant to G P." Do you see that?
Yes.
Q The last sentence of that paragraph says: "The goodwill attached to the Trump name has significant financial value that has not been reflected in the preparation of this financial statement."
Do you see that?
Yes.
Q That sentence is in every one of the statements under "basis of presentation" from 2011 to 2021; isn't that right?
I can -- I believe up until 2016/2017 it was there. I really wasn't involved after that.
Q Okay. So, you can confirm that, at least from 2011 to 2016 or '17, this sentence appears in the "basis of presentation" section, correct?

Yes.
Q nd every year that you were, from 2013 forward, that you were adding the 30 percent premium or the 15 percent premium, you were aware that this sentence was contained in the "basis of presentation" section of the statement, correct?
Correct.
Q m I correct that the Trump Organization in 2012 shifted away from valuing golf clubs based on projected income from future membership sales, like we saw with Briarcliff, and started to use something known as a fixed assets approach?
We changed at a point in time. ll the golf courses that were using that valuation method changed at the same time. I'm getting to it.
So, if the statement, the spreadsheet we were looking at before -- I don't remember the years when we switched. So, if you look at Briarcliff when we switched, I can give you an answer.
Q I think it's just enough to get your confirmation that at some point you switched from using an approach that valued the sale of memberships to a fixed assets approach, correct?
That's correct.
Q Every year that you use the fixed assets approach for a particular golf club, you'd ask the controller at each golf club for the value of the club's fixed assets and then you'd enter that in your spreadsheet, correct?

Correct.
Q I'd like to look at the valuation for Jupiter, and, that's a course that the Trump Organization purchased in 2013; is that right?
It purchased it. I'm not sure -- I don't remember the exact year.
Q Let's go ahead and put up the 2013 supporting spreadsheet in native, I think it's 708. It's in evidence.
If we go to row 462, this is the row that starts the valuation for Jupiter, correct?
Yes.
Q You'll see it has on line 465, value of fixed assets, correct?
Correct.
Q So, for Jupiter, at least in 2013, you're using the fixed assets approach, right?
Yes.
Q nd am I correct that under the fixed assets approach, you included, in the purchase price of the club, that you then included, as part of the value of the fixed assets, the amount of liability associated with refundable membership deposits?

I'm sorry. Can you ask that question one more time?
MR. MER: Sure. ctually, let's back up.
Q We looked at membership sales and those were nonrefundable memberships, correct?
Correct.
Q There was something different called refundable membership deposits, right? t one time, yes, and, I guess, they still exist, to some extent.
Q Right. Those are deposits that members make that at some point in the future they may be entitled to get back; is that right?
That's correct.
Q nd am I correct that the refundable membership deposits are different from the nonrefundable membership fees, that those refundable membership deposits were for Jupiter included in the purchase price of the club for purposes of valuing the fixed assets number?
Part of them, yes.
Q Let's take a look at how that worked, and I'm going to put up plaintiff's Exhibit 3055.
Mr. McConney, the first page is an e-mail. The second page is a slip sheet for the attachment that we're going to pull up in a minute, and, this is an e-mail that you sent to a gentleman by the name of Frank Lucas. It's about Jupiter and the attachment is Jupiter purchase. You see that?

Yes.
MR. MER: Your Honor, I ask that this exhibit be admitted with the attachment.
MR. SU REZ: We object on the basis of the Statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Overruled. It's in.
(Whereupon, said exhibit was received in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 3055)
Q Let's pull up the attachment, which is Exhibit 3055, native one, and, you'll see it says: "Jupiter Golf Club, LLC allocation of purchase price."
Do you see that?
Yes.
Q This is the backup for calculating the purchase price for purposes of using it in the fixed assets valuation for this club, correct?
This is the journal entry that was booked to show however the purchase price was allocated. So, it could be fixed assets, goodwill. It could be allocated to a number of places.
Q But you're using this for purposes of doing your valuation for the fixed assets basis for the Jupiter Club, correct?
Yes.

Q What this shows is, on line five, cash of $5 million. You see that?
Yes.
Q That was the actual amount of money that was paid to purchase Jupiter?
I don't remember, off the top of my head, but, I believe so.
Q Then there's a line item on line six called Member Deposit Liability ssumed, and it's over $41 million, correct?
Correct.
Q Then there are closing costs that are included and you get a total purchase price of over $46 million, correct?
Correct.
Q So, let me just understand what's happening here in calculating this purchase price. You have $5 million in cash and you're assuming a liability to repay to members their deposits of over $41 million and then you add closing costs and you get to the purchase price; is that right?
That's correct.
Q So, this calculation of the purchase price, assumes that the member deposit liability will have to be repaid at face value, correct?
Correct. Can I clarify one thing? Face value being the amount that the member gave the club, right.
Q Correct?

Yes.
Q Okay. Now, if we could go to-- and this purchase price, by the way, including the member deposit liability at face value, is what you plug into your fixed assets calculation for the valuation of Jupiter in the statement, right?
Can you ask that again?
Q Sure. The purchase price that we're looking at of over 46 million, is what you include for the purchase price in the fixed assets calculation for the statement, right?
Yes.

Q Now, let's go to the 2013 statement, which is Exhibit 707, and let's go to page 15.
nd this is the description for Jupiter; right?
MR. MER: If you just scroll down, so we can see the heading.
Q See Jupiter?
Yes.
Q Okay. So, let's look at that second paragraph.
Wait, something -- I'm looking at Doral. Sorry.
Q That's okay. re you there?
Yes.
Q Okay. Second paragraph says, "One condition of membership was the contribution of a non-interest-bearing deposit that does not require repayment until certain terms are met, and then only upon the member's resignation. The fact that Mr. Trump will have the use of these funds for that period, without cost, and that the source of repayment will most likely be a replacement membership, has lead him to value this liability at zero."
Do you see that?
Yes.
Q It goes on to say, through 9/30/2013, these deposits amounted to $41 million; correct?
Correct.
Q So if I understand what's happening here, you are including the value of the membership deposits as a liability that increases the purchase price of the club to the tune of $41 million; correct?

That's correct.
Q nd at the same time, you are representing, or the statement is representing, that those liabilities are being valued at zero; is that correct?
That's correct.
Q nd there is no entry on the liability side of the statement that would indicate any obligation to repay these membership deposits; is that right?
The liability side of which statement?
Q The Statement of Financial Condition has assets and liabilities; right?
Correct.
Q nd there's no entry on the liability side on the statement that indicates any obligation to repay these membership deposits; correct?
There's no amount reflected. That's correct.
THE COURT: Let me jump in a second. I'm the one that has to understand everything.
Estimated current value, what would it sell for, basically, willing buyer, willing seller, the fixed assets approach, I think, is how much did it cost us to buy this thing and fix it up, develop it, whatever, and then the assumption is, well, what you pay for it is what it's worth; is that correct?

MR. MER: Yes, and it assumes that the liability is an obligation of the owner who buys it, so if I pay -- let me see if I have a hypothetical that may clarify it. If I buy a piece of property for a million dollars, but it comes with an obligation to pay a million dollars, then it's really costing me $2 million. It's costing me the million dollars I pay to buy it, and then I have an obligation to pay another million because there's some IOU on the property, let's say. So, it costs me $2 million, but the point I'm making --

THE COURT: But you have got something that's only worth $1 million. Is that --

MR. MER: It is, but I've indicated in the statement that I've valued the liability that I'm assuming at zero, so that's the --

Q The issue here is, you have valued the liability at face value for calculating the purchase price that you use; correct?

That's correct.

Q nd you simultaneously represent in the statement that you're valuing the liability at zero; correct?

Correct.

Q Okay. nd with respect to the membership liability deposits, even if they do have to be repaid at some point in time, that's way out into the future; correct?

Depends when the member joined, but it's sometime in the future.

Q nd you don't do any discount factor analysis to figure out, for the purpose of the fixed-asset approach, what the present value is, of that liability; correct?

Correct.

Q nd you include it as though it's a hundred percent due on the date of the valuation of the statement; correct? The valuation date of the statement?

Correct.

Q Okay.

MR. MER: I intend to move on, unless the Court has more questions to clarify, at this point.

THE COURT: Please just move on.

MR. MER: Thank you.

Q I want to talk about Mar- -Lago.

MR. MER: Let's look at the 2012 Jeff Supporting Data spreadsheet. It's Plaintiff's 93, and it starts at row 187.

(Whereupon, a document was displayed, and handed to the witness.)

Q Now, row 188 says, Value if sold to an individual. Do you see that?

Yes.

Q nd that applies to both of these years, 2011 and 2012; correct?

Correct.

Q nd the entire basis of the valuation rests on the premise that Mar- -Lago can be sold as a private residence to an individual; right?

Yes.

Q If we put up demonstrative exhibit 3.10, this lists the value of Mar- -Lago in each year, from 2011 to 2021. Mr. McConney, is it correct that every year, the value of Mar- -Lago is based on the premise that the property can be sold as a private residence?

That's correct.

Q nd as of the date that you began preparing -- Sorry.

Q Go ahead.

The year I was involved in preparing the statement. gain, June of '16, June of '17, I'm pretty sure. But I didn't work on June of '18 forward, so.

Q So let's just clarify your testimony. Your testimony is that from every year from 2011 to 2016/2017, you were aware that the premise of the valuation was based on the fact that the property can be sold as a private residence; right?

That's correct.

Q nd you are not sure, one way or the other, what the premise was for the valuation in the years from 2018 through 2021; correct?

Correct.

Q nd as of 2011, when you were preparing the valuation for Mar- -Lago, you were aware, were you not, that there was a deed of development rights that Mr. Trump had entered into with the National Trust for Historic Preservation?

When the club initially opened, I know there were some documents relating to the deed. I don't know exactly what they were, but I know there was some rules you had to live by.

Q Okay. Let me be more specific, because there are a number of deeds. You were aware, as of 2011, that there was a 2002 deed of development rights with the National Trust for Historic Preservation; isn't that right?

I know there was something with the National Trust. I don't know what the exact title.

Q re you saying -- well, did you see the deed of development rights, prior to 2011?

I could have seen it when we first -- the club first opened. I just don't remember that far back.

Q When you say, when the club first opened, when was that?

I'm thinking 1995.

Q Did you see a deed of development rights around -- later than that, in the 2000s, with the National Trust for Historic Preservation?

No.

Q re you sure?

I'm pretty sure.

Q Okay. nd were you aware that Mr. Trump had deeded away his right to use the club for any purpose other than a social club?

MR. FIELDS: Objection. Speculation. The witness testified he didn't see the deed. How could he be aware?

THE COURT: How could he be aware? Somebody told him, maybe?

MR. FIELDS: Then objection to hearsay.

MR. MER: I'm entitled to --

THE COURT: -- introduce it for the truth of its contents, its notice, I think.

But Mr. mer, see if you can get us through this tangled web.

MR. MER: I don't know what's tangled about this web, your Honor, but I'll try.

Q You are doing valuations from 2011 forward; right?

Yes.

Q Do you have an understanding as you are doing these valuations, based on the premise that you can sell this property as a private residence, that there was -- that Mr. Trump had deeded away his rights to use the property for any purpose other than a social club? Yes or no, or were you aware?

MR. SU REZ: Objection. It also assume facts not in evidences, mischaracterizing the trust and the deed that was referenced. It's just not the case, and there's no evidence in the record that that is the case.

MR. MER: I honestly didn't ask him, your Honor, how he knew. I just want to know if he is aware.

THE COURT: bsolutely overruled.

Sorry. Could you ask the question again, please?

MR. MER: Can I get a read back, your Honor?

THE COURT: Sure.

(Whereupon, the requested portion of the proceedings was read back by the court reporter.)

THE COURT: Please answer.

I was not aware.

Q Now, the valuation that you prepared for Mar- -Lago, that's largely based on comps; is that right?

Correct.

Q Let's go ahead and look at the -- well, actually, let me see if I can do it this way. Let's go ahead and put up the -- oh, let's leave up the 2012. Sorry.

Okay. Back to where we were. You have listed comps for 2012 and 2011; correct?

Correct.

Q Now, I notice for 2012, you have two comps and they're based on asking price; correct?

Correct.

Q nd the two comps for 2011, also based on asking price; correct?

Correct.

Q So these are not prices that a willing buyer actually paid; right?

I don't know what -- if these were purchased, I don't know what they were -- what the purchaser paid for these properties.

Q Right. But as of the date that you used these prices, they were asking prices and not prices for properties that had actually sold; correct?

That's correct.

Q nd I notice that what you do is, you take the asking price and you divide it by the number of acres to come up with a number per acre; correct?

Correct.

Q nd then you then multiply that value per acre by the acreage of Mar- -Lago, on line 214; correct?

That's correct.

Q So, if I'm understanding this correctly, the actual square footage of the house that's being put up for sale is not relevant to your calculation?

I don't -- I'm not too sure I understand that question.

Q Okay. You are taking the asking price, and you are dividing it by the acres that the property sits on, without any factoring in how large the house is; right?

But it does include a house, or some swimming pool, cabana. It does include something. It's not just the value of the land.

Q Let me ask a different way. You are not calculating a price per square foot to do this comp; correct?

Correct.

Q Okay. So, if you have two identical homes asking the identical selling price, and one is on a two-acre lot and the other is on a four-acre lot, the one on the 2-acre lot will have a value, for your purposes, that's twice as large as the house on the four-acre lot; correct?

Mathematically, yes. That's correct.

Q Isn't the method you are using, which is to calculate a value per acre, the method one would use to value vacant land, as opposed to a house?

MR. FIELDS: Objection. Speculation. Lack of foundation.

THE COURT: Overruled.

Can you ask it again, please?

Q Isn't the method that you are using, where you take the asking price and divide it by the number of acres, a valuation method used for valuing and comparing vacant land, as opposed to a private residence?

I guess you could do it that way. We took the whole selling price, including the house, and divide it by the number of acres. I guess you could use it for vacant land, but these comps included whatever was being sold.

Q nd the size of the house didn't matter in your calculation, because you don't use it in the calculation; right?

It was not used in the calculation. Correct.

Q Then, by the way, you add, if you can scroll down, you add, on line 216, a premium for completed facility of 30 percent; right?

Correct.

Q Did you -- so, you just take whatever number you get from the comp and you gross it out by 30 percent, because it's a completed facility; right?

Correct.

Q But you are valuing it as if you are selling it as a private residence; right?

Correct.

Q m I correct that when you started doing the valuation for the following year, 2013, you realized that it was better to use actual sale prices, rather than asking prices? Correct?

Somebody made that decision, yes. It was either llen or myself.

Q Okay. So some combination of you and Mr. Weisselberg decided, in 2013, that it's better to use selling prices rather than asking prices; correct?

t some point in time we changed, yes.

Q Let's go ahead and look at 2014 Jeff Supporting Data, Exhibit 719.

MR. MER: nd I may want you to put it up, side by side, if we can, and let's go to row 207, where the value began, where the Mar- -Lago value begins. If you could, just lift up the one on the left.

Q So, in 2013, you have, again, two comps.

MR. MER: I just need to see a little below.

Q You have two comps; correct?

Can we just scroll?

Q Yes.

MR. MER: You have to go down, more. There we go.

Q I'm sorry. Just one comp for 2013; correct?

Can we just to be 100 percent sure, scroll over to column G? I believe that's correct. I just want to make sure.

Yes. That's correct. Only one comp.

Q That compensation is 1220 South Ocean Boulevard, right?

Yes.

Q If you scroll down on the other one, other way. Sorry. It's the same comp that you used the prior year, right? 1220 South Ocean, Palm Beach, correct?

Yes.

Q In 2012 -- we can go up a little more so I see the price. In 2012, you're using the asking for the 2020 South Ocean, Palm Beach of $74 million?

Yes.

Q That's the asking price and then the next year you realized that the same property sold for $42 million, correct?

Correct.

Q In your description on line 224?

Which? 1314?

Q On 1314.

Yes.

Q You say actual selling price, not just selling price but actual selling price, correct?

Correct.

Q nd on line 212, you just say selling price for the other comp on line 212?

On the same spreadsheet?

Q Same spreadsheet.

Yes.

Q The reason why you inserted that word "actual" is because you realized you had used the same comp the year before and you used the asking price and now it was an actual selling price, correct?

I don't know if I realized what you said but there was a reason for it. It's the actual price, is the actual price.

Q But using the word "actual" you're kind of acknowledging you used the same comp from the year before but used the selling price?

I'm not acknowledging the same comp from the year before. The actual comp we used is the selling price. I don't remember --

Q Was this the reason you decided it was better to use selling prices than asking prices because it dawned on you that a property that you valued with an asking price of $74 million actually ended up selling a year later for only $42 million?

I don't remember that being the case, one way or the other.

Q By the way, I noticed in 2012 the number of acres for this property is 2.5 acres, correct?

Correct.

Q year later, the property is only 2.11 acres,

correct?
Correct.
Q So, the acreage changed?
We'd have to look at the source documents each year.
Q The effect of changing the acreage from 2.5 to 2.11 increases the value per acre, correct?
In 2013?
Q Yeah.
Yes.
Q Let's go to PX-2374. Mr. McConney, is Exhibit 2374 the backup that you sent for the comps to Mr. Bender?
Yes, I believe so. For Mar-a-Lago, I believe so, yes.
Q It shows the 1220 South Ocean Boulevard house selling for $42 million, correct?
Yes.
MR. MER: Your Honor, I ask that this be admitted into evidence.
THE COURT: Granted. It's in.
MR. SU REZ: We only object if it's being offered for the truth of the matter asserted because it would be hearsay. The fact that, to the extent that he testified that he sent it to Mr. Bender, that's a different story.
THE COURT: Is that agreeable just for the fact he sent it, the notice, as opposed to the truth of the contents? That could be part of your two-page memo. You can make it three pages now.

MR. MER: That's fine, your Honor.
Q Let me ask, Mr. McConney, you relied on this backup in performing your valuation, right?
Yes.
THE COURT: So, is that sufficient?
MR. MER: That should do it.
THE COURT: So, it's not going in for the truth of its contents.
Q The third page, is this where you get your acreage figure from for the comp at 1220 South Ocean Boulevard?
Yes.
Q Let me ask you to turn to -- and you then had to take the price per acre and multiply it by the acreage for Mar-a-Lago to do your valuation, correct?
Correct.
Q If you go to page five, and this highlighting is in the original document, is this where you get the acreage figure for Mar-a-Lago that you use in your valuation?
Yes.
Q Now, Mr. McConney, can you turn to the page just before this one. There was an appraisal done of Mar-a-Lago in 2007, correct?

Yes.
Q You knew about that appraisal, right?
Yes.
Q You had a copy of that appraisal, correct?
I believe so, yes.
Q You relied on the page we saw from this appraisal for purposes of valuing Mar-a-Lago, correct?
Yes.
Q That was an appraisal done in contemplation of a conservation easement donation over Mar-a-Lago back in 2007, right?
I don't know what the purpose was, off the top of my head. It says "conservation easement" here on the bottom of page 506. So, I believe that's what it was for.
MR. MER: I'm going to ask to hand the witness Exhibit 1444.
Q Mr. McConney, this is the full appraisal of Mar-a-Lago, 169 pages. You had a copy of it, correct?
I don't remember but it's possible.
Q Well, you attached the cover page to the backup you sent to Mr. Bender, right?
Right.
MR. MER: I ask that this be moved into evidence, your Honor.
MR. SU REZ: Your Honor, we have an objection first on the basis of the Statute of Limitations. Second with the appraisals, the fact that the appraisal exists, the fact it was in the file, the fact he may have looked at it, that certainly whatever his testimony is, it is, but, we object to the appraisal to the extent it's being offered for the truth of the matter asserted within it.

There are, obviously, issues in the appraisal, limitations, whatnot. This wasn't prepared for a party in this case. It wasn't prepared by a party in this case. The appraisal company is not here. That would be the extent of our objection to the extent it's being offered for the truth of the matter asserted.
It's an out-of-court statement as well.
THE COURT: Maybe three-and-a-half-page memos.
MR. MER: First of all, your Honor, the statement that it wasn't prepared for the Trump Organization is wrong. It's prepared for Mar-a-Lago Club, LLC.
Q That's a Trump Organization, right, Mr. McConney?
The --
THE COURT: I'll ask the witness to answer.
THE WITNESS: I don't know who goes first. The Mar-a-Lago Club LLC was owned by, ultimately, the President, yes.
MR. SU REZ: My client is-- it's not a defendant in this case. It's not a party.

THE COURT: Okay.
MR. MER: I'm going to do this quickly. We're stopping when, your Honor? Just so I know.
THE COURT: Fifty.
Q If we look at page two, this report says in the second sentence: "This report has been prepared for our client, Mar-a-Lago Club, LLC. The intended use was to assist and establish market value of a conservation of easement for possible donation." You see that?
Yes.
Q In the second paragraph, just going to go down to the middle of the paragraph, it says: "The value of the property, before considering the terms of the easement, is compared to the value of the property after considering the easement. The difference in value, if any, is the value of the easement."
It's an easement related to the development of 11 single family lots. Do you see that?
Yes.
Q To your knowledge, was there ever any approval given for the development of any single family lots on the Mar-a-Lago property?
I have no idea.
Q Why don't you turn to page 88. There's a section of this appraisal entitled "Deed of Development Rights." "Deed of conservation easement and exhibits."

You see that?
Yes.

Q nd the next page, the next three pages, are the deed of development that was entered into in 2002, between Donald Trump and the National Trust. Do you see that?
Yes.
Q nd on page two of this deed it says that Mr. Trump is conveying his rights to develop the property for any usage other than club usage. Do you see that? That's the paragraph above the signature block. Next page, last line, above the, In witness whereof. Do you see that?
Yes.
Q You knew about this appraisal, and you had a copy of it in your possession, prior to 2011; right?
Correct.
Q nd so you had a copy of this deed of development; correct?
Yes.
Q nd notwithstanding the fact that you had, in your possession, this deed, every year from 2011 through 2016 or '17, you valued the property as if it could be sold for private residence; right?
That's correct.
Q Now, Mr. McConney, you testified that during the period of time when you were the controller, llen Weisselberg was your boss; correct?
Correct.

Q nd am I correct that during the period of time when llen Weisselberg was your boss, he asked you, on more than one occasion, to assist him in committing fraud? Isn't that right?
No.
Q You gave testimony in the criminal trial of the Trump Organization brought by the District ttorney of New York; correct?
Yes.
Q Isn't it the case that you testified in that trial that Mr. Weisselberg asked you, on more than one occasion, to assist him in committing tax fraud?
Yes.
Q nd at his request you helped him cheat on his tax returns; isn't that right?
I had nothing to do preparing his tax returns.
MS. H BB : Objection. I'm just going to ask what the relevance of this is.
MR. MER: I think it's highly relevant, your Honor.
THE COURT: Overruled.
Q m I correct that you assisted him in receiving tax-free personal expenses, and then backed the value of those expenses out of his salary? Right?
That's correct.
Q nd Mr. Weisselberg directed you to process a payroll check to his wife for $6,000 so that she could qualify for Social Security benefits, even though you knew she was not an employee of the Trump Organization; correct?

I'm not too sure the dollar amount, but the rest of the statement is correct.

Q So, I'll rephrase it.

Mr. Weisselberg directed you to process a payroll check to his wife so that she could qualify for Social Security benefits, even though you knew she was not an employee of the Trump Organization?

MR. FIELDS: Objection. Improper impeachment. Relevance.

THE COURT: Overruled.

Q Mr. McConney, when you processed that payroll check for Mr. Weisselberg's wife, you knew it was illegal; correct?

I did not know it was illegal.

Q You did not?

I did not.

Q Can we put up, from Mr. McConney's testimony during the criminal trial, page 1407, line 5.

(Whereupon, a document was displayed.)

Q "Question: Did you testify on cross examination that the purpose of this was to have her qualified for Social Security?

" nswer: Yes. Something to do with Social Security benefits.

"Question: Did you think it was legal to pay her for a job she did not perform, so that she would qualify for a benefit to which she was not entitled?

" nswer: No.

"Question: So you knew that that was illegal?

" nswer: Yes. Yes. You can say that. Yes. Yes."

Four yeses. That was your sworn testimony during the criminal trial; correct?

Yes.

Q nd even though you knew that these activities that you engaged in at Mr. Weisselberg's request was illegal, you continued to engage in them; isn't that right?

Continued in what way?

Q You kept doing it; correct?

Yes.

Q nd you engaged in this illegal conduct because Mr. Weisselberg was your boss, and you were afraid that if you refused his requests, you would probably lose your job; right?

Yes.

MR. MER: That's all I have, your Honor?

THE COURT: I guess we'll break for the day. Monday is a holiday, and we'll resume Tuesday at 10:00.

MR. MER: Your Honor, because the witness is still on the stand, can we have an admonition that he not consult with his attorneys about his testimony?

THE COURT: Yes. I so direct him.

MS. GREENFIELD: Just one scheduling question, Mr. mer. How much more, how much longer do you think you are going to be with Mr. McConney before we move on to Mr. Weisselberg on Tuesday?

MR. MER: Maybe I wasn't clear, but I finished my examination.

MS. GREENFIELD: Oh, sorry. I wasn't clear on that. Sorry.

MR. MER: It seemed like a good point to end.

THE COURT: So, we are starting just with Weisselberg?

MS. F HERTY: Unless they have cross.

MS. H BB : Can we reserve the right -- I don't think we do. Think we are going to let him go. You know, I'm not going to cross. Just --

THE COURT: So we are starting with Weisselberg?

MS. H BB : We are starting Weisselberg on Tuesday morning.

MS. F HERTY: Tuesday morning, Weisselberg.

THE COURT: Tuesday at 10:00.

MR. SOLOMON: Mr. Weisselberg.

THE COURT: Have a great three-day weekend.

MS. F HERTY: Your Honor, Colleen Faherty, on behalf of the People, and I can speak separately with counsel just to double check, but there were some corrections to the transcript that I do think require us to put on the record, because I don't think we can back-date the corrections to exhibits as they are contained in the record, so I'll speak with counsel, and I can even just submit it in a letter to the Court, if that works. What is your preference?

THE COURT: Sure. My preference is whatever your preference is. Whatever you can work out with the other side. How long would it take if we did it right now?

MS. F HERTY: I have an email right now that I can read from that identifies the corrections, and then if counsel has an issue, we can respond.

THE COURT: ll right. Let's do it.

MS. F HERTY: Okay. So at the trial transcript, at page 119, lines 11 through 12, Plaintiff's Exhibit 75 was admitted, and is currently in the record as PX75. It needs to be corrected to 785.

THE COURT: ny objection or --

MS. F HERTY: Typographic.

MR. SU REZ: No.

MS. H BB : No objection.

MS. F HERTY: Thank you. The second is Plaintiff's Exhibit 788 was admitted into evidence, but identified on the record by Bates number as Mazars-NY G-00003154. The exhibit number needs to be added. It is from the trial transcript at 157, line's 2 through 11, and so the exhibit number that we would add to the record is Plaintiff's Exhibit 788.

MS. H BB : No objection.

MS. F HERTY: Thank you, Ms. Habba.

The third issue, your Honor, is Plaintiff's Exhibit 791 was admitted into evidence on October 3rd, but the exhibit number is not in the record. Plaintiff's Exhibit 791 needs to be added. That's at the trial transcript at 191, lines 5 through 18. It was admitted into evidence, but the number was not --

MS. H BB : No objection.

MS. F HERTY: Your Honor, I have two more, apparently. Trial transcript at 471, 19 through 472, 11, Plaintiff's Exhibit 1354 was admitted into evidence on October 4, but the exhibit number was not on the record. So, Plaintiff's Exhibit 1354 needs to be added, please.

MS. H BB : No objection.

MS. F HERTY: nd the last one is at trial transcript page 477, lines 10 through 11, Plaintiff's Exhibit 1501 was admitted on October 4, but was identified on the record, or in the record, as Plaintiff's Exhibit 50101 and it just needs to be corrected to say Plaintiff's Exhibit 1501.

MS. H BB : No objection.

I just want to make the record clear and state that obviously I have no objection to these administerial changes, but if we had any prior to objections to the exhibits themselves, that they still stand.

THE COURT: Of course. No waiver.

MS. F HERTY: Thank you, your Honor.

Okay. Now, have a good three-day weekend.

PROCEEDINGS Page 785

THE COURT OFFICER: ll rise. Part 37 is now in session. The Honorable Judge rthur Engoron presiding. Make sure all cellphones are on silent. Latops and cellphones will be permitted, but only to members of the public, members of the press. There's absolutely no recording or photography of any kind allowed in the courtroom. Please be seated and come to order.

THE COURT: Welcome. Good morning. Hope you all had good long weekends.

Counsel, I understand there's some agreements on scheduling.

So plaintiff, why don't you set forth and then we will hear from defendants.

MR. W LL CE: Certainly, your Honor. So obviously, this morning, the first witness will be llen Weisselberg. Our expectation is that his testimony will take the rest of the day today and could extend into tomorrow. Pursuant to our agreement to take one witness out of order, though, tomorrow morning we'll start with Nicholas Haigh and we will continue his testimony until it is completed because he's the witness who's leaving the country.

fter that, we will either continue with any unfinished testimony from Mr. Weisselberg. lthough, I understand defendants are not planning to cross-examine him after our exam or are reserving, but they can give that when his exam comes up. The next witness is Patrick Birney who is a Trump Organization employee.

Then after that Mark Hawthorn, another Trump Organization employee followed by Donna Kidder and we expect that between Mr. Hawthorn and Ms. Kidder, that will take us through the end of this week and into Monday. We are then I think going to begin Michael Cohen on Tuesday. So that is the current plan as far as the order of witnesses.

THE COURT: Thank you. That's fine with me.

Defendant.

MR. KISE: That sounds correct, your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. ll right. Plaintiff, call your next witness. First, wait. One of these days, I'll remember. I think we have some photographers that want to come in, so look your best.

(Whereupon, there was a pause in the proceedings.)

THE COURT: Plaintiff, would you like to call your first witness now.

MR. SOLOMON: Good morning, your Honor. Louis M. Solomon on behalf of the People. We call llen Weisselberg.

THE COURT: Good morning.

THE COURT OFFICER: Good morning, sir. Please raise your right hand. Do you solemnly swear and affirm any testimony you give will be the truth, the whole truth and nothing, but the truth?

. WEISSELBERG - DIRECT(MR. SOLOMON) Page 787

THE WITNESS: I do.
THE CLERK: Please take a seat. Please state your name and either home or business address on the record, as close to the mic phone as you can.
THE WITNESS: llen Weisselberg, 6554 Piemonte Drive, Boynton Beach, Florida.
THE COURT: Okay. I'll ask the witness, as he is doing already, to speak loudly, right into the microphone.
THE WITNESS: Yes, sir.
THE COURT: Clearly and slowly, et cetera. Okay. Please proceed.
MR. SOLOMON: Thank you, your Honor.
DIRECT EX MIN TION
BY MR. SOLOMON:
Q Good morning, sir.
Good morning.
Q I would like to begin with some questions about your background. Did you receive a degree from Pace University in or about 1971?
It was actually Pace College at that time.
Q nd was that in business administration?
Yes.
Q Were you ever a CP ?
No.
Q Do you have any formal or informal accounting training

. WEISSELBERG - DIRECT(MR. SOLOMON) Page 788

since graduating from Pace?
I worked for a short time in accounting, but not very long.
Q That was prior to about 1976, correct?
I would say so, yes.
Q re you aware of any accounting standards that apply to the preparation of a personal financial statement?
I'm sorry. I don't quite understand. m I aware of them?
Q Yes.
Not being a CP , the answer is I know of G P. I've heard the term used before, but I -- that's about it.
Q nd when you say G P, you're referring to the Generally ccepted ccounting Principles in the United States, correct?
I've heard that term, yes.
Q Yes.
Do you know any of the components of G P?
No.
Q Do you know Jeffrey McConney?
I do.
Q Do you know his level -- withdrawn.
Did you know his level of familiarity with G P in or about 2011?
It's quite some time ago. I've been through quite a bit the last few years as you all know, and thinking back to 2011, I know he worked for a CP firm. I hired him from that firm at the time. His level of knowledge of G P, I don't know.

Q Did you ever come to have an understanding as to Mr. McConney's level of knowledge of G P?
Not that I could recall.
Q Let's talk about your work history.
Did there come a time that you began working with Fred Trump?
I began my career with the Trump family, Fred Trump in particular, in 1973.
Q nd did Mr. Fred Trump's business involve real estate in New York?
Yes.
Q Is it fair to say, sir, that you have been involved in real estate in New York for almost 50 years?
Yes.
Q Did there come a time that you began working with Donald Trump --
Yes.
Q -- was in or about 1986?
That's correct.
Q nd when you began working with Donald J. Trump, did you have a title?
I came into his office to work as the controller.

Q nd were you the controller for the Trump Organization?
Yes.
Q Did you eventually become the CFO, Chief Financial Officer, of the Trump Organization?
Yes.
Q Do you recall if that was approximately in 2002?
Sounds about right, yes.
Q Did you report to Donald Trump at that time?
I did.
Q Did you report to Donald Trump between that time and when you left the company?
Well, when he became president and he was no longer there, the reporting was more little more informal and I dealt mostly with Eric Trump.
Q When Mr. Trump became president, did you also deal with Donald J. Trump, Jr.?
Periodically.
Q Did you also deal with Ivanka Trump at that time?
No, she had already left and was in Washington, D.C.
Q Had you dealt with her prior to Mr. Trump becoming president?
To a degree, yes.
Q In connection with various loans that the Trump Organization was soliciting from lenders?
Correct.

Q When do you recall Mr. McConney -- withdrawn.
THE COURT: Withdrawn.
MR. SOLOMON: Withdrawn.
Q Do you recall when Mr. McConney began working for the Trump Organization?
I don't recall the timing exactly. I would say somewhere maybe in 1987, give or take.
Q Did Mr. McConney report to you when he began working in the Trump Organization?
Yes.
Q nd when you were promoted to CFO in 2002, did Mr. McConney continue reporting to you?
Yes.
Q Did he report to you until you left the Trump Organization?
Yes.
Q Do you know Patrick Birney?
I do.
Q Did he work at the Trump Organization?
Yes.
Q When did he begin his employment with the Trump Organization?
I don't recall the exact date. I don't know -- a few years -- six years ago.
Q pproximately 2016/2017 time period?

Sounds about right.
Q When he began his work at the Trump Organization, did he report to you?
No.
Q Did he report to Mr. McConney?
No.
Q To whom did Mr. Birney report?
Ron Lieberman.
Q nd up until the time you left the Trump Organization, did Mr. Birney report to Mr. Lieberman?
Mr. Birney had multiple tasks that he performed. He came there -- he came through our company from on, so that was an insurance brokerage firm and Ron Lieberman handled our insurance. So most of his reporting was to Ron Lieberman, but if over time he began doing some work in finance because he is a financial analyst, he would report to myself or to Jeffrey McConney, either/or.
Q In fact, did Mr. Birney work on the Statements of Financial Condition between 2017 and your departure from the Trump Organization?
I don't know when he actually began to work on it. Jeffrey McConney was the one who prepared the Statement of Financial Condition and when he engaged Patrick Birney to work with him, I don't have that date in my mind.
Q But at some point in time, you are aware that Mr.

Birney started working on the preparation of the Statements of Financial Condition?
Correct.
Q That work continued, to your knowledge, until your departure from the Trump Organization, correct?
Correct.
Q From 2011 until your departure, did you have an office at the Trump Organization?
I did.
Q Was that at 725 Fifth venue?
Yes.
Q Did you have the same office throughout the entire time period 2011 to your departure?
Yes.
Q t any point in time, was there a bookshelf, bookcase or filing cabinet outside your office, sir?
There were many filing cabinets and bookcases.
Q I'm talking about one located right outside your office.
There was a filing cabinet there.
Q Do you recall whether there were appraisals for property owned by the Trump Organization in this filing cabinet?
There were appraisals that were done probably back in the early or late 1990s for golf courses.
Q Were there any more recent appraisals, to your knowledge, in that filing cabinet?

I don't -- I don't recall.
Q But there could have been?
I just don't recall.
Q You don't recall one way or the other, sir?
Yeah. I just don't recall whether there were any or not.
Q t some point in time, did you become a trustee of the Donald J. Trump Revocable Trust?
Yes.
Q Was this in or about January of 2017?
Yes.
Q Could we please look at PX 769.
Sir, you've been shown what's been marked as PX 769. Do you recognize this document?
Yes.
Q What do you recognize it to be?
cceptance of the trustee becoming a trustee under the Donald J. Trump Revocable Trust.
Q On the first page, do you recognize Donald Trump, Jr.'s signature?
Yes.
MR. SOLOMON: Please turn to the next page.
Q On this page, do you recognize Eric F. Trump's signature?

Yes.
Q On this page, is that your signature?
Yes.
MR. SOLOMON: We offer PX 769 into evidence.
THE COURT: Granted. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as People's Exhibit 769.)
Q Sir, did you resign as a trustee in or about January of 2021?
I don't recall the date. If you can show me something to refresh my memory, that would be helpful.
MR. SOLOMON: Put up PX 1016, please. Scroll down.
Q You will see there is a whereas clause; by removal of trustee executed prior to this appointment and acceptance of trustee, settle or removed llen Weisselberg as trustee under the agreement of trust.
MR. SOLOMON: Go back to the top.
Q This is dated January -- as of January -- I'm sorry. The last amendment was January 15, 2021. Do you see that?
Yes, I do.
Q Does that refresh your recollection that it was in or about January of 2021?
It does.
Q Does the trustee -- withdrawn.
Does the trust hold title to Mr. Trump's assets?

I'm not familiar with the -- with the way ownership of properties is handled. The legal department of the organization, they have all that information. I don't recall exactly the ownership structure.
Q So you are a trustee of the trust, but you don't know the legal ownership structure of the assets of the trust?
That's correct.
Q During your time as a trustee, what work, if any, did you do on behalf or for the benefit of the trust?
I continued my daily routine that I had all the years that I was the CFO. If there came a point in time where Eric Trump needed to discuss something with me or something he was thinking about, we would sit down and go over it, bounce some ideas back and forth; but other than that, my routine really hadn't changed.
Q So when you became -- is it your testimony, sir, that when you became a trustee, your routine, your daily routine hadn't really changed?
No, it hadn't really changed.
Q Do you currently work for the Trump Organization, sir?
I do not.
Q When did that employment relationship end? s I mentioned before, so many things have happened over the last number of years with me and my family and it's taken its toll, I don't recall exact dates. If you have something you can show me to refresh my memory again, that would be helpful.

Q Sure. I will in a moment, but I would like to know do you have an understanding as to why the employment relationship ended?
I assume when I was convicted of felony. I guess at that point.
Q What is the basis for your understanding that was the reason for the termination of your employment relationship?
I don't -- I don't have a basis for it.
Q Did you execute a severance agreement, sir?
I did.
MR. SOLOMON: Can we please mark for identification PX 01751.
Q Let me know when you have had an opportunity to review the document, sir.
(Witness reviewing document.)
MR. SOLOMON: Your Honor, while the witness is reviewing that document, we would move PX 1016 into evidence.
THE COURT: Granted. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as People's Exhibit 1016.)
I am not going to read the entire document, but I'm familiar with the document.

Q Does that appear to be your severance agreement or separation agreement, sir?
Yes.
Q Can you turn to page 7 of 8, on the bottom, if you see the number?
Yes.
Q Is that your signature?
It is.
Q Did you sign it on or about January 9, 2023?
Yes.
Q Do you recognize the signature on behalf of the Trump Corporation?
I'm trying to figure it out. It looks like Eric's or Eric Trump.
MR. SOLOMON: Your Honor, the People offer PX 01751 in evidence.
THE COURT: Granted. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as People's Exhibit 01751.)
Q Mr. Weisselberg, if you perform your obligations under the separation agreement, how much money will you receive?
$2 million.
Q That's payable over two years, correct?
Correct.
Q Let's talk about Mr. Trump's triplex at Trump Tower.

re you familiar with that argument?
Yeah, I know of the apartment; sure.
Q It was one of the assets that was included in the Statement of Financial Condition as of June 11th. Excuse me, as of June 2011?
Yes.
Q nd it was on the Statement of Financial Condition as of June 2012, correct?
Yes.
Q In fact, the triplex is included in every Statement of Financial Condition between at least 2011 and your departure from the Trump Organization, correct?
I mean, I could ask to see a statement to look at it, but --
Q Is it your understanding that it is one of the assets reflected on the Statement of Financial Condition, sir?
Yes. Yes.
Q In 2012, the value of the triplex was determined by multiplying the number of the square feet of the apartment by a price per square foot; is that correct?
Correct.
Q In fact, multiplying the square footage by a price per square foot was how the value of the triplex was determined every year in the Statements of Financial Condition between June 2012 and June 2016, correct?

I'm not sure that's correct. I don't know whether it was some years either comps that we used without the -- there were times when it was not used as the method. I believe it may have been, and this is from memory, some years where there was a comp that we were able to use to valuate.
Q Wasn't the comps used to determine the square foot?
I don't recall that. That's a question Jeffrey McConney would have to answer. I don't have the work papers. If you would like to show me his work papers, I would be happy to look at it.
Q We will go through it.
In 2012, do you recall the size of the triplex was assumed to be 30,000 square feet?
I do not know the -- I don't walk around knowing the size of square footages of the apartments in the building including Mr. Trump's.
Q Sir, you do recall that there was an issue raised with respect to the size of the triplex, don't you?
I found it out later on, years later.
Q Years later. nd at some point in time, you knew that the number for the -- excuse me.
You knew that the square footage number that was assumed by the Trump Organization was wrong, didn't you?
In 2011?
Q No. I'm asking if you recall that the size of the triplex, the assumption made by the Trump Organization in 2012 was wrong?

I -- when the report was completed, I did not go through every work paper of Jeffrey McConney and look at all his calculation.
Q Sir, that wasn't my question.
In 2012, an assumption was made as to the number of square feet for the triplex, right?
Jeffrey McConney had at his disposal.
Q The answer to my question is yes?
Yes.
Q t some point, you learned that the assumption was wrong?
Subsequently, that's correct.
Q In 2013, there was an assumption made as to the number of square feet of the triplex, correct?
Correct.
Q You subsequently learned that assumption was wrong?
Correct.
Q 2014, an assumption was made, correct?
Correct.
Q nd you learned that assumption was wrong?
Correct.
Q 2015, an assumption was made and you learned it was wrong?

Correct.
Q 2016, an assumption was made, correct?
I don't believe that in 2016 we used the same number. I think something -- I think we got a notification from Forbes looking into it and that at that point, we went back -- I had a young lady in our office actually check our -- excuse me. Do you want me to continue?
Q Please.
Okay. No, we had to check the offering plan to go back and check the amount of square footage that Mr. Trump owned and we came up with a number that was different and once we did that, we immediately changed the Statement of Financial Condition for the year 2016.
Q re you sure it was 2016 and not 2017?
I'm pretty sure it was 2016 that the change was made, yeah.
Q nd are you certain, sir, that this was done as soon as you looked back at the offering plan?
It was -- well, we were in the process -- when we prepared the June 30th statement, which started probably in July, at that point in time when -- when Jeffrey McConney was going through the assets -- if you had his work papers -- I don't have the benefit of those work papers. I'd like to see to confirm what I am saying is correct, but I believe at that point in time, he made -- he made a change to what the square footage should have been.

Q In fact, sir -- well, prior to making the change in the Statements of Financial Condition, you were put on notice that the 30,000-square foot number was wrong, weren't you?
I don't -- I don't recall that.
Q Let's look at, please, PX 0632.
t the moment, I'm just going to ask you to focus on the cover e-mail, not the attachments to this. Who is -- for the record, this is Sharon -- from Sharon Hwang on February 2, 2012 at 6:44 p.m. It is to several people at DL Piper with cc's to Jack Weisselberg. That's your son, correct?
Correct.
Q He was at Ladder Capital at the time?
Correct.
Q nd to you, the Trump Organization, correct?
Correct.
Q nd Jason Greenblatt at the Trump Organization?
Correct.
Q nd Bradley Cox at the Trump Organization?
Correct.
Q nd the subject is Trump Tower organizational documents, structure chart and contact list. Do you see that?
Correct.
Q Did you receive this e-mail on or about February 2, 2012?

. WEISSELBERG - DIRECT(MR. SOLOMON) Page 804

I recall receiving the cover e-mail. I don't recall seeing any attachments with it since they were already -- these documents were already in our office. So there would be no need to send all the attachments to go with it.
Q Let's look at the next document. Withdrawn.
Just so we can set the stage here, at this point in time, the Trump Organization was in discussions with Ladder Capital about potential loan for Trump Tower?
Refinancing, yes.
Q It would be secured by Trump Tower? The Trump Organization's assets at Trump Tower, correct?
The asset -- when you say Trump Tower, are you referring to the commercial side, not the residential side?
Q Either.
The residential side would not be part of the collateral, no.
Q It would only be the commercial side?
Correct.
Q But in order to make a determination, Ladder Capital wanted information, due diligence as they say the parlance, correct?
They wanted that information to understand the deprivation of how the residential and commercial sides of the building operated.
MR. SOLOMON: Let's pull up -- withdrawn. The people offer PX 0632 in evidence.

THE COURT: Granted. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as People's Exhibit 0632.)
MR. SOLOMON: Will you, please, pull up PX 0633.
Q We marked as PX 0633 another e-mail from Ms. Hwang to the same group of people. Is that right, sir? Do you see that?
I do.
Q It is also on February 2nd?
Yes.
Q This is at 6:47 p.m., about three minutes after the first one, right?
Correct.
Q nd she writes, and I'm reading from her e-mail, " s indicated in the previous e-mail, attached please find a Trump Tower Condominium declaration amendments 1-13." Do you see that?
I do.
Q Did you receive this email February 2, 2012?
I received a cover e-mail. I don't recall receiving any attachments with it since all of those attachments, again, is -- were already part and parcel of our offering plan and was sitting in our office.
Q In fact, sir, you previously testified that you didn't believe you received it because all those documents were in the office all the time, what would I do with them, I have no need for them. Does that sound about right?

Meaning they were already in the office.
Q Right.
I wouldn't need to get them a second time. They were already there.
Q Let's look at one of the documents attached to this, shall we, one of the documents you said you didn't need.
Because -- again, because they were already in our office.
THE COURT: Off the record for a moment.
(Whereupon, a discussion was held off the record.)
Q Mr. Weisselberg, let's assume that your prior testimony under oath, your testimony today here was accurate that you had these attachments in your office, okay. Let's look at one specifically. It is also one that you were shown in your prior testimony. Page 13 of the exhibit, please. This document is titled "First mendment to the Declaration of Trump Tower Condominium". Do you see that?
Yes.
Q That's a document you had in your office, right?
Not in my office, in the office generally.
Q You had access to it, though, if you wanted it?
If I needed to go to it for some purpose, I would do that.

Q Do you see there is a stamp on the top right, Reel 2159 PG333. Do you see that?
Yes.
Q You've been in New York you told us for approximately 50 years. Do you know what that stamp means?
That it has been recorded someplace.
Q Right. Reel and page, does that sound familiar, sir?
I don't know what this really means.
Q But you understand that it is being recorded someplace?
Yes.
Q nd that it is publicly available, right?
Okay.
Q We established this was in the Trump Organization's offices and it was publicly available.
MR. SOLOMON: Scroll down, please.
Q Under "unit designation," see that on the left?
Yes.
Q Unit designation. Then there is tax number. Do you see that?
Yes.
Q nd then there is a column "approx" for the approximate area in square feet. Do you see that?
Yes.
Q 10,996.39, do you see that, sir?
Correct.

Q nd that happens to be the exact number of the square footage of Mr. Trump's triplex, right?
Okay. Well, based on what you're showing me, yes.
Q So in the document you testified had been "in the office all the time," since at least prior to February 2012, right?
Yes.
Q The square footage is disclosed as 10996.39 square feet?
Yes.
Q It is your testimony -- withdrawn.
MR. SOLOMON: Can we go to page 15 of the exhibit. That's the first amendment. Scroll down, please. Okay. Right there.
Q Do you see that this was executed October 11, 1994 by the residential board of Trump Tower Condominium, right?
Correct.
Q Let's look at the consent now, the 20th page of this exhibit.
MR. SOLOMON: Scroll down.
Q There is a consent to the first declaration. Do you see that document in front of you, sir? You can take a look at the 20th page of the exhibit.
Yes.
Q Do you recognize the signature?

Donald J. Trump.
Q That was executed in or about October of 1994, correct?
Right.
Q So as far as back as October 1, 1994, Mr. Trump executed a consent to the first amendment to the declaration of the condominium that reflected the triplex was 10996.39 square feet, correct?
Correct.
Q Notwithstanding the fact that this goes back to 1994, you are aware, sir, that in 2012, 2013, 2014, the triplex is identified as 30,000 square feet on the Statements of Financial Condition, right?
No. That's where I was trying to explain before. These -- the triplex was part of the other assets of Mr. Trump's including other things that he owned, airplane, whatever, and they were all lumped together in one number. I never focused on that number when renewing Mr. McConney's draft or the Mazars draft of the financial statement. I wasn't aware at that time of the -- I didn't go through the details of that apartment. I was looking at -- what I was looking at is Statement of Financial Condition. There were much, much larger items on there that I was more concerned about, things like commercial buildings or golf courses and things of that nature that I was focused on.
The apartment itself, relatively speaking when you look at the value of that apartment relative to his net worth is non-material. It is not a material adverse type change. The number of 200 million or whatever difference may have been in dollars, that in and itself is a large number; but when you compare it to the net worth of the statement itself, 6 billion, it is less than one percent or about one percent.

We were always taught -- our accounting firm always told us if it is less than five percent, five percent or less, that's considered non-material. So I didn't have a reason to focus on this apartment at that time.

. Weisselberg - Petitioner - direct (Solomon) Page 811

EX MIN TION BY MR. SOLOMON:
Q There was several parts to that answer, sir. Respectfully, I don't think any of them answered my question, which was the Statements of Financial Condition contained inaccurate square footage for the triplex in 2012, 2013, 2014 and 2015; right? I'm not asking if you knew it. I'm not asking what you did to confirm it. Yes or no, was it inaccurate in those years?
I'll say it again. Without seeing -- without being argumentative, without seeing the work papers as part of our assets, I won't say yes or no. If you'd like to show me the work papers of Mr. McConney, I'll be happy to respond.
Q Okay. We will get to the work papers later in the testimony and we will go back over those, but in your answer you gave a couple of points to be made.
nything -- according to what you understood, anything less than five percent wasn't material?
ccording to our accounting firms that we spoke with, they always felt that five percent was the number that we can use -- that should be utilized to determine materiality.
Q nd is it fair to say anything over five percent would be material?
I would think so.
Q You mentioned the apartment was one percent on a

$6 billion net worth?
In the year that we made the change.
Q re you saying one percent was the change or one percent was the value of the apartment?
Change.
Q Do you recall what the change was?
I don't recall.
Q We'll get to that when we get to the SOFCs and the backup data.
Do you recall in ugust and September of 2016 a reporter from Forbes reached out to you directly for comment about Mr. Trump's net worth?
I don't recall.
Q Let's mark PX -- withdrawn.
MR. SOLOMON: Before I do that, Your Honor, we move PX 0063 into evidence.
THE COURT: Granted. It's in evidence.
MR. SOLOMON: Can we please mark PX 1280 for identification?
Q Please take a moment, sir. These are a number of e-mails with Luisa Kroll, who appears to be at Forbes.
nd as you note in the e-mails the last page is the oldest e-mail and it works its way more recent. You may want to look at it in that direction.
Okay.

Q Okay. Do you recognize the series of e-mail chain that you had with Luisa Kroll in or about ugust and September of --
I recall it vaguely. If I see it, yes.
Q nd that's your e-mail address at the Trump Organization?
I'm sorry?
Q That's your e-mail address at the Trump Organization?
Yes.
MR. SOLOMON: We move this into evidence.
THE COURT: Granted. It's in evidence.
Q Let's turn to page four of eight of the exhibit, Issue Number 6. Do you see Ms. Kroll is raising a question about who actually owns certain units at Trump Tower? Do you see that?
I do.
Q Sir, did you do anything in response to Ms. Kroll's question or Issue Number Six?
I don't recall.
Q Did you contact in-house counsel at the Trump Organization?
I don't recall.
Q Did you direct anyone to look into this issue?
I think at this point in time I don't recall.
Q If you scroll up on the e-mail chain you'll see that you did respond to certain other issues; right?
Sir, you can look at the document in front of you?

Do you see she responds "thanks for getting back to me?"
Yes, I do recall I may have asked her about -- it may have been a million things. t one point she was discussing -- I don't recall. I don't recall what it was specifically that I got back to her with.
Q But you got back to her on other issues?
On some things. I don't know what they were again.
Q So someone from Forbes reaches out to you, questions whether your boss, Donald J. Trump, actually owns the units in the condo he claims to own and it's your testimony you don't remember what, if anything, you did?
t this point in time I don't recall.
Q Do you recall in February 2017 another reporter from Forbes reaching out to you directly for comment about Mr. Trump's net worth?
Reporters from Forbes contacted us every year in doing their list. It reached a point in time where we would -- when I say "we," I'm talking about myself, at one point and then Jeff McConney would take it over and then when Patrick Birney, he took it over and they would have a list of all of our assets and the value they placed on him and we spent inordinate amount of time going back and forth with them and it got to a point in time where Forbes would listen and never make any changes. They would periodically early on. Then that stopped and at this point I stopped talking to them. I felt it was no need to because no matter what we told them and showed them evidence of things they would just ignore it and I just stopped speaking with them.

MR. SOLOMON: Let's mark PX 1324 for identification, please.

Q Sir, does this appear to be an e-mail from Dan lexander at Forbes to you and Jeff McConney at the Trump Organization from February 2017?

Yes.

MR. SOLOMON: We offer PX 1324 in evidence.

THE COURT: Granted. It's in evidence.

Q Sir, if you look at the second page of this e-mail, Number 11?

Yes.

Q Trump Tower penthouse. That's the triplex; right?

Yes.

Q nd this reporter from Forbes in February of 2017 is telling you he believes it's only 10,996 square feet; right?

It was in his e-mail. This e-mail was probably dealt with by Jeff McConney, but I wouldn't speak to Forbes at that point, so, yes, I do see the reference to the 10,996.

Q nd you're a recipient of this e-mail; correct?

Correct.

Q Did you reach out to Mr. lexander to tell him the

. Weisselberg - Petitioner - direct (Solomon) Page 816

10,996 square foot number was inaccurate?

s I indicated before I stopped speaking with the folks from Forbes.

Q Did you direct Jeff McConney to reach out to Forbes and tell them their number was inaccurate?

I don't recall.

Q Do you know if Mr. McConney ever reached out to Forbes to tell them their number was inaccurate?

I don't know.

Q So although you believed, sir, that Forbes was wrong on an objective fact in connection with Mr. Trump's net worth; namely, the square footage of his triplex, you don't recall if you did anything to confirm who was right?

s I said before --

Q It's a yes-or-no question, sir. You don't recall if you did anything to confirm who was right?

I didn't personally.

Q nd you don't recall if you directed him not to; correct?

I don't recall. I may have. I don't recall.

Q s you sit here today, you have no idea if you did anything or directed anyone; right?

MS. H BB : Objection. sked and answered. Please move on.

THE COURT: Well, I'm going to tell the witness --

direct the witness, as I do with many witnesses, if there is a yes-or-no question and you can answer it yes or no, answer it yes or no; if you can't, you can try to explain why not. You can say "I can" and we'll ask you why not -- the attorney may ask you why not.

I think there was so much back and forth there that it was hard to know. So why don't we do it from scratch right now. You can just ask that one question and if you can answer yes or no, listen carefully, answer it yes or no.

Q s you sit here today, you don't recall if you did anything or directed anyone to do anything in connection with correcting Forbes as to the square footage of the apartment in or about February of 2017; is that correct?

What I did -- are you looking for a yes-or-no answer?

THE COURT: Yes.

Q Sir, either you recall or you don't.

I don't recall.

Q Okay. Sir, is that because by this time, February of 2017, you knew the triplex was only 10,996 square feet?

I don't recall that. I never focused on the triplex, to be honest with you. s I said before, my testimony -- I look at the bigger numbers on Jeff's spreadsheets -- Jeff McConney's spreadsheets. I won't focused on Donald's triplex at that time or -- it was part of other assets. It was almost de minimis relative to his net worth, so I didn't really focus on it.

Q My question wasn't whether you focused on it, my question wasn't whether it was relevant size-wise to anything else. My question was very simple: Did you fail to respond to Forbes in February of 2017 because by that point in time you knew the triplex was only 10,996 square feet; yes or no?

I did not respond to Forbes. Jeff McConney was --

MS. H BB : Your Honor, I'm sorry. I'm going to object again. sked and answered with a yes or no.

MR. SOLOMON: Your Honor, with all due respect, this witness has not answered that question. The reason why -- I'm not asking what he did or didn't do at this point. I'm asking the reason why was whether or not it was because he knew at that point in time. It's a simple yes or no.

THE COURT: Yes or no? You either know or you didn't know; right? Is that --

MR. SOLOMON: Right.

I don't remember. I don't remember it back in 2017 what took place. I did not respond to this.

MS. H BB : Your Honor, he doesn't remember. We can't force him to do yes or no. I think that's clear. Can we just move on? He's made the same answer, the same question asked seven different ways. He doesn't remember.

THE COURT: Counselor, can we --

MR. SOLOMON: Your Honor, I'll move on, but I'll just note for the record they are different questions. One is what he did, what he directed someone to do and why. Those are all different questions, respectfully, but I will move on.

THE COURT: Before you do, there was a famous -- semi-famous Colombian philosopher named Sidney Morgenbesser. One day a student asked him, "Professor Morgenbesser, can a statement be true and false at the same time?" nd his answer was "yes and no." Let's move on.

Q Sir, with respect to the communications from Forbes that we were just looking at in 2016, 2017, did you ever go back and check the first amendment to the condo dec that was in your offices?

I never did, no.

Q Did it ever cross your mind to do that?

No.

Q Did you ever discuss that with anyone?

gain, again --

THE COURT: Did you ever discuss it with him? That should be a yes or no.

THE WITNESS: No.

MR. SOLOMON: Can we please look at PX 1345 for identification?

Q 1345 is an e-mail chain. Do you see that?

I do.

Q nd if you'll see the latest was from manda Miller to lan Gartner, -l-a-n, at the Trump Org and Matthew Hilson at the Trump Org. Do you see that?

Yes, I do.

Q Who is Ms. Miller?

She worked in our office dealing with press inquiries, things of that nature.

Q If you take a look and go further down the chain from the beginning of the third page of this exhibit, Mr. Kirsch identifies himself as a reporter from Forbes. Do you see that?

Yes.

Q nd then if you go further up, Mr. Hirsch has certain questions?

Yes.

Q nd on page four, one of those questions again relates to the Trump Tower penthouse; right, page four?

Yes, I see it.

Q nd now he specifically refers to the "1994 mended Condo Declaration." Do you see that?

Yes.

Q Dated October 11, 1994.

Do you see that third line of number one?

Yes. You're referring to a portions of --

Q Sure. Trump Tower penthouse. Do you see that, sir?

Yes.

Q Second to third line, "October 11, 1994?"

Yes.

Q nd he asks if that is accurate and up to date.

Do you see that?

Yes.

Q nd he tells you -- he tells the Trump Organization -- excuse me -- in this e-mail that it shows President Trump's apartment is 10,996.39 square feet, that same number we saw earlier in the dec; right?

Correct.

Q Did there come a time that you had a conversation with manda Miller about how to respond to the report from Forbes?

I -- no. I think at that point I may have had a brief conversation regarding Trump Tower as a commercial which he reiterated to me she asked about Trump World Tower and Trump Tower. I was working at Trump Tower in a commercial part of the building which is a big asset that we focussed on and Trump World Tower we only had one apartment that we owned in that building at that point and I think a small shopping area and a garage, so there was nothing really for me to even discuss with her. I said just leave it alone then. Trump Tower is fine and Trump World Tower is fine. I wasn't focused on this e-mail behind it. I'm not even sure I remember seeing it, to be honest.

Q So, sir, just so I understand, is it your testimony that you recall having a conversation with manda Miller about Trump Tower?

Trump Tower -- again, looking at it from the commercial side of it --

THE COURT: gain, it's a yes-or-no question. Did you have a discussion with --

THE WITNESS: Yes.

THE COURT: Okay.

Q nd is it your testimony that in that discussion the issue of your boss's apartment never came up?

With manda Miller, I don't recall that -- discussing that with her. I don't recall.

Q nd you don't recall whether you told her, manda Miller, to leave it alone with respect to the size of the apartment?

gain, I -- when I talked to manda Miller, my thinking of Trump Tower was always about the commercial side of the building. I never focused on the apartment Mr. Trump owned, even though it was on the list of many other things, including Puerto Rico and Toronto and Panama. There are many, many pages here. s I said before, we began -- we sort of stopped dealing with Forbes, so I wasn't going to read the entire e-mail.

Q Well, you actually didn't stop dealing with Forbes at that point in time because you spoke to manda Miller about it before I said it; right?

I didn't get the request. manda Miller got the request.

Q So you were in fact responding to manda Miller about Forbes; right?
bout Forbes and about Trump Tower. gain, I --
Q Okay. nd Trump Tower is one of the items the reporter rates; right?
Correct.
Q Specifically Trump Tower penthouse, that's the -- that is text across the top; right?
That's what the text is.
Q Right. nd then this reporter lists ten different questions about Trump Tower; right?
Yes.
Q nd you don't recall whether you bothered talking to manda Miller about a response because you only focused on the commercial portion of Trump Tower; is that right?
Commercial portion and I didn't correlate the square footage of Donald's apartment. I never focused on it. It was always in my mind a de minimis asset of the overall of Donald J. Trump's Statement of Financial Condition. That was never a concern of mine. I never even thought about the apartment. It was de minimis in my mind.
Q Didn't you certify to Mazars every year that the information that the Trump Organization provided to them for every year between 2011 and 2020, that the information of the Trump Organization provided to them was fairly presented? It's a yes or no.

Yes.
Q nd that it was accurate?
Yes.
Q nd that the Trump Organization was responsible for the information it provided to Mazars that went into the compilation; right?
Yes.
Q Every year?
Yes, without seeing all the -- without seeing all the engagement letters and so on, yes.
MR. SOLOMON: Can we pull up the Jeff Supporting Data for the 2016 SOFC? I believe that's PX 0742. It's already in evidence, Your Honor.
nd Your Honor, we would move PX 1345 in evidence.
THE COURT: Granted. It's in evidence.
Q Sir, we've put up the Jeff Supporting. That's been identified previously, the JSD, Jeff Supporting Data, the 2016 Statement of Financial Condition.
Is this what you were referring to earlier when you said Jeff McConney took care of all the backup information?
Right.
Q It's your understanding Mr. McConney prepared this?
Yes.

Q But then the information from this was given to Mazars; right?
Yes.
Q nd you reviewed it before it went to Mazars; right?
No, I did not review every line of 3,300 pages of supporting documentation.
Q Did you review the totals that were given to Mazars with respect to the assets?
I reviewed the totals, for example, of all the other assets. I may have. I did not review individual line items that comprised that. So there could have been situations where some assets went up or some assets went down and the net effect of all that could have been an up or down in the total of other assets. So I did not look -- as you can see from the document there are many lines here in probably the last item shown on the Statement of Financial Condition -- probably the last item. I don't recall from memory. nd it was not something that was that important to me in looking at a $6 billion or $5 billion net worth when I see 327 -- again, not a small number, I understand that, but again, using the de minimis and --
Q Let's do your de minimis test, shall we?
6 billion. Let's assume 6 billion, that's the number. What's five percent of that?
6 billion?
Q Yes.

300 million.
Q How much?
Excuse me. That's the full value and that's the difference between -- Q I understand, sir.
-- the 11,000 square feet and the 30,000.
Q My question was different, though.
This asset comprises -- you just did the math, $6 billion. 300 million is five percent. This asset is identified on line 913 as $327 million; right?
But that wasn't the question you asked earlier. You asked about --
Q I'm asking that question now.
The question you asked earlier was 30,000 square feet versus 11,000 square feet and that differential times the developer square foot is the number that we looked at as being below the five percent.
Q I understand.
Okay.
Q This number, however, isn't below the five percent, is it, 327 million? It's simple math. You just told me 300 million is five percent --
I don't have the exact number of 6 billion, six billion nine or six billion eight. I don't know if that worked out to five percent.

Q That wasn't the number you gave me earlier, sir. You said 6 billion.
I used a round number without having to --
MS. H BB : Your Honor --
THE COURT: Overruled.
Q Can we agree that if it's 6 billion, 327 million is more than five percent? It's a yes-or-no question. Can we agree? It's math.
I cannot agree to anything. I'd have to see the actual Statements of Financial Condition and see if it's five percent or not.
Q That wasn't my question.
THE COURT: You're not answering his question. You are -- I won't try to categorize it, but it's a simple question. Is 327 million more than five percent of 6 billion; right? Is that the question?
MR. SOLOMON: Yes, Your Honor.
THE WITNESS: Your Honor, that's a simple answer.
THE COURT: Then give us the answer.
The answer to that is yes.
Q Thank you, sir.
You had to sign a management representation letter for Mazars each year before they would issue the SOFC; right?
You mean a representation letter?
Q Is that how you refer to it, a rep letter?

Yes.
Q Okay. We'll use your terminology.
Did you sign to your recollection a rep letter for the 2016 SOFC?
I don't recall.
Q We'll pull it up and take a look at it.
MR. SOLOMON: Let me look at, please, PX 00754, which I believe is already in evidence Your, Honor.
I'm sorry. That's the wrong document. I'm sorry, sir. I had the wrong number. I couldn't read my own handwriting.
Q We put up PX 741, a letter on Trump Organization letterhead, dated March 10, 2017 to Mazars. Do you see that?
Yes.
Q Go to the last page. Is that your signature?
Yes.
Q Do you recall the communications with Ms. Miller were in early March 2017, March 6, 2017; right?
Yes, I think that was the date, yes.
Q Okay. Four days after the issue of the size of the penthouse was brought to the attention of the Trump Organization and there was a response from Ms. Miller that llen W., referring to you, said "leave it alone."
You signed this rep letter; right?
We never correlated that as being a major or a material change to the numbers of Mr. Trump's financial statement. I never correlated the letter, the rep letter, to the Forbes. We were looking into it, who wanted to go back and check to see whether or not the actual number was correct.

So I had the young lady in my office go back and check all the offering plan. We didn't do it immediately. It wasn't that vital, that large of a number, the difference between the 10,996 and 30,000. So we gave it sometime to go back and check it. This was a day or two later or four days later. We may have done it a week later or seven days later or eight days later. We didn't jump on it immediately.
THE COURT: Can you read back the question?
(Whereupon, the requested portion of the proceedings was read back by the court reporter.)
THE COURT: So the question is whether you signed the letter. Mr. Weisselberg, we all have our own -- Mr. Solomon's role is to ask questions; your role is to answer the questions, not to give speeches or explanations.
THE WITNESS: Okay.
THE COURT: Your -- there are other people here who might be able to delve into that deeper, but, please, just answer the questions.
Did you sign this?
THE WITNESS: Yes.
THE COURT: Thank you.

Q Now, as we saw on the Jeff Supporting Data, the penthouse was still being listed at 30,000 square feet; right? The Excel spreadsheet we just saw?
Yes.
Q s it turns out we know that Forbes was actually right about the square footage; right?
Correct.
Q You didn't do anything to check who was right -- to check who was right before providing a rep letter, did you?
I did not. What typically would happen is rep letters -- well, if you -- these would go to Jeff McConney. He'd review them for me, bring it into my office and ask me to sign it, then I would sign it.
THE COURT: I forgot to bring up. My role is to make sure that the questions are proper and the answers answer the question. You did not answer the question.
THE WITNESS: Okay.
THE COURT: nd please don't make speeches. Just answer the question.
THE WITNESS: Okay.
THE COURT: Mr. Solomon, do you want a read back, do you want to ask it again?
Q You didn't do anything to check who was accurate, the Trump Organization or Forbes, before signing the rep letter; right?

Correct.
Q s it turned out Forbes was right. The triplex is only 10,996 square feet; right?
That's correct.
Q Number 14, sir.
"No events have occurred subsequent to the date of the Statement of Financial Condition and through the date of this letter that would require adjustments to or disclosure in the personal financial statement."
The date of the statement is June 30, 2016; right?
The statement.
Q The date of the Statements of Financial Condition is June 30, 2016; right?
Correct.
Q Subsequent to that we've seen in September of '16 Forbes raised questions about the triplex; right? We have seen in March of 2017 four days before you signed this there are questions about the size of the penthouse, the triplex; right?
Correct.
Q Yet you were comfortable certifying that nothing occurred subsequent to the date of the statement that would require adjustment; right? It's a yes-or-no question, sir.
You were comfortable certifying that to Mazars to induce them to issue the SOFC; right?
Yes.

Whereupon, the proceedings continue on the following page....

Q Now, sir, did there come a time that the two sides of the penthouse became a very public matter?
Public matter? Can you -- can you just --
Q Sure. Do you recall in May of 2017 Forbes published an article that Mr. Trump had been misrepresenting the size of his triplex?
I think, yes. nd I think that's when we began to do our investigation as to, you know, what the number really was at that point.
Q Okay. So you didn't do it when the issue was raised --
THE COURT: Let's take our ten minutes break. See you back at 11:30 and hopefully the feed will be fixed.
THE COURT OFFICER: Sir, step down.
(Whereupon, a recess was taken.)
THE COURT OFFICER: ll rise. Part 37 is back in session. Please be seated and come to order.
THE COURT: Everything is fixed, so we can just get back to business.
Please proceed, Counselor.
Q Mr. Weisselberg, before the break, we were starting to talk about an article in Forbes Magazine from May of 2017. Do you recall that?
Yes.
Q nd in fact, the title of this article is "Donald Trump Has Been Lying bout The Size Of His Penthouse." Do you recall that?

I recall it, yes.
MR. SOLOMON: I would like to mark this as Plaintiff's Exhibit 1605 for identification.
Q Do you recall the article, sir?
I never read the article, but I do recognize it.
MR. SOLOMON: Your Honor, we offer this in evidence for notice, not necessarily for the truth of the matter as asserted therein.
THE COURT: Granted. It is in evidence solely for notice, not for the truth of its contents.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as People's Exhibit 1605.)
Q Mr. Weisselberg, it was only after this article was published and the information became public that the Trump Organization corrected the square footage for Mr. Trump's triplex, right?
That's correct.
Q Let's turn to, sir, we were talking about the engagement letters and the rep letters earlier. Do you recall that?
Yes.
MR. SOLOMON: If we could pull up PX 785 which I believe is in evidence already.
Q Mr. Weisselberg, PX 785 has been put in front of you.

I'm sorry.
Q PX 785 has been put in front of you. Have you had a chance to look at that?
Okay.
Q Is this an engagement letter from WeiserMazars to the Trump Organization?
Yes.
Q Is that your signature on the fifth page of the document?
Yes.
Q Is it your normal practice to only sign a document after you've read it, right?
I sign a document after others have read it and tell me it's okay to sign.
Q So from time to time, you rely on others when you sign your name to a document binding the Trump Organization to certain commitments?
No, I rely upon Jeffrey McConney who has been through this before and when he tells me he's read it carefully and has gone through it and I sign it at that time.
Q Would you have signed this if you didn't understand it?
If I didn't under -- probably not.
Q So we can assume if you signed it, you understood what was in the document, right?
Yes.

Q Let's turn to the terms of the document. Did you understand that pursuant to this agreement, WeiserMazars was going to provide a compilation of a Statement of Financial Condition of Donald J. Trump as of June 30, 2011?
Okay.
Q Did you understand that?
Yes. Yes.
Q If you look at the fifth paragraph on the first page, did you understand that this was describing certain of the differences between a compilation, an audit and a review?
Yes.
Q You understood, sir, didn't you, that a compilation as compared to a review or an audit was the lowest level of independent confirmation by the outside accountants of the information provided by the Trump Organization, right?
That's correct.
Q Do you know who made the decision to have only a compilation instead of a review or audit done for the 2011 Statement of Financial Condition?
I don't.
Q Do you know who made the decision to have only a compilation done for any of the statements of financial condition of Donald J. Trump instead of a review or an audit?
I don't.
Q We'll come back later to how the Statement of Financial Condition itself is prepared, but once that's done, can we please look at PX 786 which I believe is already in evidence. This is a letter dated October 6, 2011 from you to WeiserMazars, correct?

Yes.
Q On the second page, that's your signature?
On the back, yeah.
Q Is this what we were referring to -- you were referring to earlier as a rep letter or representation letter?
Yes.
Q So by this letter, it is your understanding the Trump Organization was making certain representations to WeiserMazars, right?
Correct.
Q Did you understand that WeiserMazars was relying on those representations in issuing the June 30, 2011 Statement of Financial Condition?
Yes.
Q You also understood, sir, didn't you, that WeiserMazars would not have issued the June 30, 2011 Statement of Financial Condition without this rep letter, right?
Correct.
Q Let's look at the substance of this. In the first two paragraphs, you use the word "we." You see that?
Yes.

Q Do you intend by using "we" to refer to the Trump Organization?
Yes.
Q If you look at the fourth paragraph down, the data presented in the statement was provided to you by members of Mr. Trump's accounting department. Is that an accurate statement?
Yes.
Q nd it goes on and you, referring to WeiserMazars, have compiled that information in an appropriate manner when preparing the statement. Was that an accurate statement?
Correct.
Q Next paragraph continues, the statement referred to above is fairly presented in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of merica. Do you see that?
Yes.
Q Is that reference to G P?
Yes.
Q You told us earlier you were not familiar with the components of G P, didn't you?
Correct.
Q Yet, you are comfortable making a representation to the accountant to induce them to issue the Statement of Financial Condition that the information complied with G P; is that right? It is a yes or no question, sir.

. WEISSELBERG - DIRECT(MR. SOLOMON) Page 839

There are some questions that are not black and white.
Q Okay. Let's break it down then. You didn't know G P, right?
Correct.
Q You represented that the Statement of Financial Condition, the statement was presented in conformity with G P, right, yes or no, your representation right here we just read?
gain, it requires an explanation; but if the answer is being forced to give a yes or no, I will be happy to do that.
THE COURT: I don't think it requires an explanation.
We relied --
Q What's in black and white in front of you, is that a representation that the statement referred to you is presented in conformity with G P; yes or no?
Yes.
Q You didn't know G P. You made the representation and at that time you were comfortable making that representation to induce the accountants to issue the Statement of Financial Condition, right?
Yes.
Q In fact, you did that for every year until you left the Trump Organization, right?
Yes.
Q You continue on, all assets are presented at their estimated current values and all liabilities were presented at their estimated current amounts which have been determined in accordance with guidelines promulgated by the merican Institute of Certified Public ccountants except to the extent noted in the accountant's compilation report which was annexed to the statement.

. WEISSELBERG - DIRECT(MR. SOLOMON) Page 840

You made that representation to Mazars as well, right?
The organization, yes.
Q You on behalf of the organization?
Yes.
Q You use the term "we"?
Yes.
Q merican Institute of Certified Public ccountants, you understand that's referred to as ICP ?
Yes.
Q You heard that?
I heard that, yes.
Q re you aware if there are any publication, guideline or glossary that defines estimated current value?
I'm not aware of that. I do know there are differences between a G P statement for a personal -- one's personal financial statement versus a large corporation's statement. There are differences between the two on how to present it.
Q So let's talk about the SC 274-10 which relates to the personal financial statements.

. WEISSELBERG - DIRECT(MR. SOLOMON) Page 841

Can we, please, pull up PX 2757.
You mentioned you are familiar with the difference between -- well, was it your testimony that you understood there is a difference between personal and corporate financial statements?
Yes.
Q If you take a look under "General 274-10-05," basis of presentation of personal financial statements, is that what you were referring to, sir?
There's more to it than just these two pages.
Q Understood, but this is the section that covers it, right?
Yes.
Q You will see that first sentence, "The primary focus of personal financial statements is a person's assets and liabilities and the primary user of personal financial statements normally consider estimated current value information to be more relevant for their decision than historical cost information." Do you see that?
Yes.
Q Do you understand that there is a definition that is used for estimated current value and glossary?
I see it now, yes.
Q No. No. This refers to estimated current value. My question is a little different. I apologize if it wasn't clear.

. WEISSELBERG - DIRECT(MR. SOLOMON) Page 842

Uses the term "estimated current value." Do you know what that term means?
No.
Q Have you ever heard it referred to as "for an asset, the amount at which an item could be exchanged between a buyer and seller, each of whom is well-informed and willing and neither of whom is compelled to buy or sell"?
Okay.
Q re you familiar with that definition?
I am now that you mention it.
Q Had you ever heard it before today?
I don't recall.
Q Sir, you refer in your rep letter to estimated current value.
Okay.
Q nd you told me you knew there was a difference between personal financial statements and those for corporations, right?
Correct.
Q Did you use a different definition for estimated current value in your representation letter?
I think -- I don't recall exactly what we thought at the time, but there are many, many ways of valuing assets that might fall under the category of estimated current value if that's your question.
Q That wasn't my question, but --

If you would like to repeat it --
Q Let's see if we can parse that down, though.
You have estimated current value, right?
Correct.
Q nd it is your testimony that there are many ways to get to it. I can come at it from the left, the middle, the center, many different ways to get to it, right?
Correct.
Q But at some point, I have to get to estimated current value, right?
Correct.
Q nd that's what you represented in the letter to Mazars to induce them to issue the Statement of Financial Condition was how you value the assets, correct?
Correct.
Q nd you don't know if you used the definition that I just read to you, right?
Correct.
Q Did you, sir, in connection with the 2011 Statement of Financial Condition do any independent work to determine whether the values reflected for the assets were presented at their estimated current value except where noted?
Did you say did I?
Q Did you?
No.

Q So you made a representation to Mazars to induce them to issue the Statement of Financial Condition without doing any independent work, right?
gain, I relied on others to do that for me, but I did not personally.
Q Do you still have that letter in front of you, sir?
No. Yes.
Q The management rep letter, 786.
I have it.
Q You have it in front of you?
Yes.
Q Can you point out where in that letter you told Mazars that you were relying on others for your representation to that?
Where we say Trump Organization, that encompasses a group.
Q So now you have the entirety of the Trump Organization doing the work --
Not the -- I'm sorry. You want to finish --
Q Please.
I am not saying the entire organization including secretarial staff. I'm not saying the entire organization was involved in the preparation of these numbers, but there were people within the Trump Organization that were involved in getting those numbers.
Q nd you took the information they provided and then you represented to Mazars --

Or third parties were utilized to get information that then our in-house folks would then take and prepare -- be able to arrive at a valuation.
Q You told me a second ago that "I'm referring to the people at the Trump Organization." It is now larger?
It grows. It grows.
Q t the Trump Organization, you relied on Mr. McConney, right?
That's correct.
Q t some point in time, you relied on Mr. Birney?
That's correct.
Q Did you rely on Eric Trump?
No.
Q Not at all for any of the information contained in the Statements of Financial Condition?
Not me personally, no.
Q Do you know if anyone else relied on him up the chain to give you information?
It's possible. I just don't recall.
Q Donald J. Trump, Jr.?
I don't recall.
Q Donald Trump?
Not that I can recall.
Q Who do you recall beyond those people that I just identified that provided information either directly to you or up the chain that you used and relied upon in making the representation to Mazars?

So -- I think it might be a good idea to go through a little bit of the process of how we got to the Statement of Financial Condition.
Q We'll get there later, but if you want to sort of give me highlights now, please feel free.
I think it might be helpful.
Q Please.
So Jeffrey McConney used Patrick Birney to work with and then others in the accounting department would get pieces of or numbers that were necessary to go on to the statement, cash balances, mortgage balances. So others besides Patrick Birney, Jeffrey McConney would get those numbers for him. Once all that data was put together, then the work can first begin to assemble the statement. Hope that clarifies something. Does that clarify for you the process?
Q I understand the process, sir. Thank you.
Okay.
Q Let's assume for a moment that you've given all the information to WeiserMazars also known as Mazars at one point in time, just a name change, right?
Yes.
Q ssume for the moment, say, 2016 we looked at a little earlier before the break.

Okay.
Q That you had information in your files that contradicted information provided to Mazars in connection with compilation. I'm not asking whether you actually relied on that information, but assume you had it in your files. Can you do that?
I don't -- I didn't maintain files.
Q The Trump Organization had it in its files.
Yes.
Q Fair enough?
Yes.
Q nd again, I want to be clear, not whether you relied upon it, but it was in the files and it contradicted information. Say, for example, you had a first amendment to the condo dec that contradicted information that was provided to Mazars, okay.
Correct.
Q Do you believe you were obligated to advise Mazars of the existence of this contradictory information?
s long as the people --
Q It is a yes or no question, sir.
The answer is yes.
MR. SOLOMON: Can we, please, pull up PX 740 which is in evidence.

Your Honor, I am cognizant of your admonition not to go through each one, one by one, but where there are changes between one year and another, I would like to spend a few minutes discussing that.
THE COURT: Sure.
MR. SOLOMON: Okay.
Q Sir, it has been put in front of you and it is up on the board. PX 740, does that appear to be the engagement letter between Mazars and the Trump Organization dated January 21, 2017?
Correct.
Q Is that for the Statement of Financial Condition for the year ending June 30, 2016?
Correct.
Q Could you, please, turn to the fifth page of the document. Is that your signature, sir?
Yes.
Q In addition to signing as an executive vice-president and chief financial officer of the Trump Organization, you also sign as the trustee of the Donald J. Trump Revocable Trust dated pril 7, 2014 as amended, correct?
Correct.
Q Compared to what we saw earlier, I would like to focus your attention to the first page, our responsibilities. Did you understand that since this letter was from Mazars to be the responsibility of Mazars?

Yes.
Q Turn to the second page at the bottom. There's a section beginning "your responsibilities." Do you see that?
I do.
Q Did you understand that since this letter was addressed to the Trump Organization to be the Trump Organization's responsibilities?
Yes.
Q The last sentence on that paragraph, "you have the following "and "you" being the Trump Organization, right?
Yes.
Q "You have the following overall responsibilities that are fundamental to our undertaking the engagement in accordance with SS RS. Is that pronounced SS RS?
I don't know what that means.
Q But you understand that used the word "fundamental;" here. Mazars used the word "fundamental" here. You understood the letter before you signed it. You told us you wouldn't sign a document you didn't understand.
Okay.
Q Okay. So these are fundamental responsibilities of the Trump Organization. The first one, the selection of accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of merica as the financial reporting framework to be applied in the preparation of the financial statement, do you see that?

Yes.
Q Did you understand that to be a responsibility of the Trump Organization?
Yes.
Q nd did they fulfill that responsibility?
This is referring to G P, I assume, accounting principles.
Q Do you understand that to be referring to G P?
Yes.
Q So let's assume it refers to G P. Did the Trump Organization fulfill this fundamental responsibility? It is a yes or no question.
Can you be a little more specific? I mean as far as -- a -- I see the language.
Q Yes.
re you referring to an asset or the statement in -- Q I'm referring --
-- in totality?
Q re you done?
Yes.
Q I didn't want to interrupt. Pardon me. I'm referring to "The selection of accounting principles under G P as you said, as the financial reporting framework to be applied in the preparation of a financial statement." We have established that's a fundamental obligation of the Trump Organization?

Yes. The answer was yes.
Q Let me ask the question.
Do you believe the Trump Organization fulfilled that fundamental responsibility, yes or no? You don't have to look at your counselor. I'm over here.
I was going to look at the judge actually.
Q Okay.
THE WITNESS: It requires some explanation getting back to materiality when we complied with the G P requirement.
THE COURT: You can assume whatever you want, but the question is yes or no.
THE WITNESS: Okay. No.
Q Did you tell Mazars that you didn't fulfill this fundamental obligation?
Did I tell -- did I speak to Mazars and tell them --
Q Let's start with you. Did you ever?
No.
Q To your knowledge, did anyone at the Trump Organization ever tell Mazars that the Trump Organization did not fulfill this fundamental obligation?
Not that I'm aware of.
Q Let's look at number two. Do you understand that there is a semicolon after SS RS, so this is a list of the obligations, right?

Okay.
Q The fundamental ones, right? Yes?
Yes.
Q Okay. Number two, "The preparation and fair presentation of the financial statement in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of merica and the inclusion of all informative disclosures that are appropriate for accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of merica other than previously noted," do you see that?
I do.
Q Did you understand that that was a fundamental obligation of the Trump Organization?
The preparation of the presentation.
Q Yes. Did the Trump Organization fulfill that fundamental obligation? Yes or no question again, sir.
I'm going to -- again, it refers to preparation and presentation, so I think it was -- it was prepared. Yes, I think we fulfilled the obligation in the presentation and its preparation. So the answer is yes, I think we fulfilled the obligation.
Q Number seven, " n obligation to provide us with" and you understand the "us is Mazars there, right?
Correct.

Q The first bullet point is access to all information of which you are aware is relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statement such as records, documentation and other matters. Do you see that?
I do.
Q That was a representation the Trump Organization was making to Mazars, right?
Correct.
Q nd do you believe the Trump Organization fulfilled that responsibility or obligation with respect to the 2011 Statement of Financial Condition?
Yes. They had total access.

MR. SOLOMON: Can we please turn to PX 741 in evidence?
Q Sir, do you recognize this document?
I do.
Q Is it another representation letter from the Trump Organization to Mazars or WeiserMazars?
Yes.
Q You'll see this format is a little bit different than the one we looked at earlier. Do you see that?
Yes.
Q Third paragraph, do you see, "We confirm to the best of our knowledge and belief," and the "we" there is the Trump Organization; right?
Correct.
Q " s of March 10, 2017 the following representations made to you during your compilation." Do you see that?
Yes.
Q Okay. "Number one, we acknowledge our" -- that's the Trump Organization again; right?
Correct.
Q "Our responsibility and have fulfilled our responsibilities for the preparation and fair presentation of the personal financial statement in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of merica except for the following items." Do you see that?

I do.
Q Okay. nd then there is a paragraph that lists the exception; right?
Yes.
Q Those are the exceptions to G P; right?
Yes.
Q Okay. Did Mazars ever tell you you can only have one paragraph of exceptions?
I'm sorry?
Q You were free -- the Trump Organization was free to put in as many exceptions to G P as they believe appeared in the SOFCs; right?
Sorry. Say it again.
Q Sure. Let's take a step back.
This paragraph lists certain exceptions to G P; right?
Correct.
Q nd those are the ones that the Trump Organization believed appeared in the SOFC for June 30, 2016; right?
Correct.
Q If the Trump Organization believed there were additional exceptions to G P that appeared in the 2016 SOFC they were free to add them to this paragraph; right?
Correct.
Q Okay.
Can I answer that or is that a yes or no?

Q It's a yes or no.
Were you free to do it? Yes. Mazars never said you can't have anymore; right?
We relied upon the Mazars firm to understand G P and to understand what we couldn't adopt in there.
Q Sir, I'm glad you mentioned that.
Is it your testimony that in making a representation to Mazars you were relying on Mazars in making the representation back to them?
But they didn't --
Q Yes or no? You just told me you were relying on Mazars. Is it now your testimony that in making this representation in the rep letter you were relying -- "you" being the Trump Organization were relying on Mazars to make a representation back to Mazars? Is that your testimony; yes or no?
Not -- no.
Q Okay, okay. So you weren't relying on Mazars in making a representation back to Mazars? Okay, let's move on.
Number two. Can you scroll down to the next page?
"We have made available to you all financial records and related data and any additional information you requested from us for the purpose of the compilation. We have not knowingly withheld from you any financial records or related data that in our judgment would be relevant to your compilation." Do you see that?

Yes.
Q This is for the 2016?
Correct.
Q nd you signed it March of '17; right?
Correct.
Q Four days after the conversation with Forbes; right?
Correct.
Q nd you also had in the files the first amendment to the condo dec; right?
Correct.
Q Did you tell Mazars you had that?
Mazars --
Q Yes or no did you tell Mazars that you had the condo dec showing the square footage of the triplex was 10,996 square feet?
gain, I didn't deal with Jeff McConney directly, so I don't know what Jeff McConney told Mazars about that.
Q s far as you know?
s far as I know I don't know what Jeff McConney told them.
Q Do you think Mazars would have signed off on that financial statement in March of '17 for June 30, 2016 if they were aware that there was contradictory information?
I don't know the answer to that question. I can't speak for Mazars what they would do.

Q So in your experience --
Only because of the words -- if you read this in number three, it says "all material transactions." gain, going back to the word "material."
Q Good point. That's in number three, "material transactions." You're absolutely right.
Does the word "material" show up in number two?
I look --
Q It's yes or no. It's right there, number two. We've highlighted it all. " ll financial records." It doesn't say "all material financial records," does it; yes or no?
No, it doesn't.
Q It doesn't say "and material-related data," does it?
No.
Q nd then the second sentence "we have not knowingly withheld from you any financial records or related data in our judgment that would be relevant to your compilation." Doesn't use the word "material;" right?
Correct.
Q But if you wanted to use the word "material" such as in number three you knew where to put it; right?
I just happened to see it there.
Q Right, but you didn't put it in number two?
We didn't --

Q Yes or no it's not qualified by material, is it?
No.
Q Turn to Number 14, please.
Oh.
Q On that same document, please.
Here you're representing on behalf of the Trump Organization that no events have occurred subsequent to the date of the Statement of Financial Condition and through the date of this letter that would require adjustments to or disclosure in personal financial statement.
If you had known that the triplex was approximately a third of the size would you have adjusted the SOFC to reflect that change?
Yes-or-no question?
Q It's a yes or no.
Would you have adjusted the SOFC to reflect that change if you were aware that the square footage was recorded incorrectly?
No.
Q nd is that because you don't think it was material?
That's correct.
Q Does the word "material" appear anywhere in Number 14, sir?
It appeared in Number 3. I carried that throughout the whole document.

Q So when there are 16 things listed the fact that the word "material" appears in Number 3, you wanted to apply to all 16?
It's not what I wanted to do. It's how it was interpreted.
Q By whom, by you?
No. By whoever it was the one who told me it was okay to sign this.
Q How do you know that's how they interpreted it? You had a conversation with -- you told me it was Mr. McConney who reviewed this; right?
If they did.
Q Yes or no did Mr. McConney review this before you signed it?
Yes.
Q Did you and Mr. McConney discuss whether the word "material" appearing in Number 3 applies to all 16 of those listed?
Not that I can recall.
Q Okay. But you're assuming that's how he intended it?
I don't know what was in his thinking on how he got to that conclusion. I got to that conclusion by reading the documents today.
Q Okay. Not asking what you're reading today. I'm asking what was intended when this was signed in 2017.

I don't recall.
Q Okay. You don't recall a discussion from Mr. McConney the materiality applies to the entirety of this letter, every sentence?
I don't recall.
Q Okay. But we can agree that the word "material" does not appear in 14 at all?
That's correct.
Q But you wouldn't have told Mazars that the numbers you gave them were wrong because you didn't think that one particular entry for the triplex was material; right?
Sorry?
Q Sure.
You -- it's your testimony as you sit here today that you would not have told Mazars about the error in the size of the triplex because you didn't think it was material notwithstanding the representation that no events have occurred subsequent to the date of the Statements of Financial Condition and the date of this letter that would require adjustments to or disclosure in financial statement?
Yes, I don't know what I would have done at the time. I don't recall -- I don't --
Q So before you told me you wouldn't have told them because it wasn't material?
What I'm saying to you is that based on materiality I would have. If I was sitting in that seat and someone walked into my office and said we found this, we should change it, I would probably go ahead and do it and make the change.

Q So you would make the change before signing the letter; right?
Yes. If I was focused on it and somebody told me to do it, yes.
THE COURT: Bearing in mind both participants, please one at a time. We only have one reporter and she is nodding her head yes. Don't talk over each other.
MR. SOLOMON: I apologize, Your Honor.
Q Sir, you mentioned earlier the process of creating a SOFC, you wanted a moment to describe it. Do you recall that?
Yes, I do.
Q Let's talk about that process.
Were you ever involved in selecting the methodologies used to determine the estimated current value of an asset that appeared on the SOFC?
Was I ever involved in it?
Q Were you ever involved in it?
I would say yes.
Q For some of the assets you used comparable sales, comps as they're referred to; right?
mongst other things.
Q Well, let's talk about those other things.

For others you might have used the operating income times a capitalization rate; is that right?
Correct.
Q Others might be as we saw with the triplex the size of the asset times a price per square foot; is that right?
That's one method.
Q Okay. nd the method used to value an asset was consistent year over year from one SOFC to the next, so from '14 to '15 was consistent; right?
Not every year. It could have been a change in methodology for one reason or another and -- yes.
Q When there was a change in methodology was that change in methodology disclosed in the SOFC?
It was disclosed in the work papers that was provided to Mazars, if I remember correctly. I haven't been at the company for a couple years. The spreadsheets that provided by Mr. McConney were comparative. I could be wrong, but if there was a change, he may have noted it. That's something you'd have to -- sorry -- that's something you would have to go back and look at the documents of the spreadsheet or wait for Mr. McConney. I don't know if he disclosed it. He may have.
Q My question was a little different.
Is it disclosed in the subsequent year's Statement of Financial Condition?
I don't know. I don't recall.

Q Do you know if there is any requirement under G P to disclose a change in methodology with a subsequent Statement of Financial Condition?
I'm not familiar with G P. I don't know.
Q So in creating a following year's Statements of Financial Condition, let's say, '15, is the first step Mr. McConney takes 2014 and marks it up?
It's possible. I don't recall exactly what he did year to year.
Q Is that one of the things you're aware that he did?
He may have. I don't recall.
Q Do you have any understanding how the first step in creating the next year's SOFC is undertaken?
From what I remember the way it was done we have some young ladies in our office who begin to gather data that Jeff would need to do the SOFC; cash balances, mortgage balances. I mentioned that before. I believe that next step Jeff would probably contact appraisers or brokers to try to ascertain from them some reports that might have on it some comps, cap rate, things that he can use as source material to be able to value whether it was commercial property or a VTL site, things of that nature. nd that would take sometime to gather that data and he would begin, I guess, the process. But again, I can't speak for Jeff what he did on a day-to-day basis. This took months to prepare this. This was not a simple task.

Q Is it your understanding that for each year Mr. McConney or someone at his direction would contact outside persons for cap rates, comps, things of that nature, you just described?
That's my understanding, yes.
Q nd he did that for each year?
s far as I know.
Q re you aware of any situation in which Mr. McConney, let's say, took a conversation that he had in 2013 and used it to apply information to the 2015 SOFC?
I wouldn't know that.
Q But you certified that those SOFCs were all in compliance with G P; right?
I did.
Q nd you don't know whether Mr. McConney used current or past information in the calculations; is that right?
Mr. McConney was with me for a long time. s you mentioned earlier, he had knowledge of what we were doing every year and I relied on him for all, sure.
Q But you don't know if he used information from a telephone conversation that he had two years earlier in doing financial statements?
I don't know. I don't know, no.
Q So let's focus on the time period precisely before Mr. McConney starts this process, okay?

Okay.
Q Let's focus on that for each year.
t that point in time have you met or discussed in any way with Donald Trump the Statement of Financial Condition or his views or expectations for his net worth for that year?
Not that I can recall.
Q You don't recall that ever happening?
I didn't say never. I was there.
Q I said you don't recall that ever happening; is that right?
I said -- I thought you said "ever," that it never happened. I was there for 20, 30 years, 30 years or more. I don't recall ever discussing his SOFC prior to Jeff working on it.
Q Do you recall discussing it with him while Jeff was working on it?
I don't recall that. I don't recall that.
Q Did you ever meet with Donald Trump and Michael Cohen where there was any discussion of a Statement of Financial Condition before it was finalized?
Not that I can recall.
Q re you saying it could have happened and you just don't recall or are you saying it never happened?
I don't recall. I don't recall it happening.
Q Maybe I'm missing it and I'm not clear.

You say you don't recall it happening. Is it possible it happened and you don't recall it or are you saying it did not happen?

I'm saying I don't recall it happening.

Q But it's possible it did?

I mean, if he would have walked in Donald's office when I was there and he walked in for a second and walked out, it's possible. People would walk in and out of Donald's office all day long, whether he was one of those people that walked in -- are you asking me whether it was a longwinded discussion about the statement? Is that what you're asking?

Q I don't believe I ever used the word "longwinded." I've been called longwinded, but I don't think I ever used it.

So let's take a step back. I'm asking any discussion at all concerning the SOFC before it was finalized; you, Mr. Trump and Mr. Cohen?

No.

Q No, it never happened?

I don't believe it ever happened, no. I don't believe it happened, no.

Q Did you ever meet with Donald Trump and Michael Cohen where there was any discussion at all about Mr. Trump's net worth prior to finalizing an SOFC?

Not that I can think of, no.

Q gain, let's go back to this.

re you saying it never happened or you don't recall it might happen?

Well, I don't believe it happened, no.

Q Did you ever meet with Donald Trump and Michael Cohen where Mr. Trump's net worth was discussed?

Not that I can recall. gain --

Q Same question: Is it not that you recall it could have happened or it did not happen?

You're asking me to go back a number of years.

Q Yes, I am.

nd my memory doesn't -- again, I don't remember every meeting that ever took place in that office. s I sit here today, I don't believe it happened, no.

THE COURT: That doesn't answer the question, does it? The question is could it have -- could it have happened and you just don't remember?

MR. KISE: Your Honor, I'm not sure that was the question, respectfully.

THE COURT: Well, I'm asking him. I think that was the question, maybe not in so many words.

MR. KISE: I mean, anything is possible. I think he's asked and answered that question, respectfully.

THE COURT: I disagree because he keeps saying I don't remember it happened, but he doesn't say no, it could not have happened. So that's what we're trying to get at.

THE WITNESS: I hear you, Your Honor. I would say it did not happen. Did that answer your question?

THE COURT: It did not happen -- all right. That answers the question. Thanks.

THE WITNESS: I'm sorry.

Q fter Mr. McConney in the years that he was there had a draft of the SOFC put together, did he give it to you for review?

He did.

Q nd did you review it?

I reviewed -- I reviewed it from a 30,000 foot level, meaning just to make sure our liabilities would be shown properly, to make sure the assets -- that all the assets that we have was still on the statement, but I spent a lot of time reading the notes to his statement.

The notes were a very important part for Mr. Trump. Besides this being a Statement of Financial Condition, it was also sort of a piece -- a little bit of a marketing piece for banks to read about our properties and how well they're taken care of and how they're first-class properties, world-renowned properties throughout the world. So those notes were kind of important to him.

Q re notes to a financial statement an integral part of that statement?

I believe if you read the statement you read it together, yes.

Q Did you also from time to time give Mr. McConney suggestions on how to value a particular asset?

What would happen is we would sit down in an office --

Q It's a yes-or-no question, sir.

Did you from time to time give Mr. McConney suggestions on how to value an asset?

Suggestions, yes.

Q Now tell me. You would sit down in an office?

nd he would show me, for argument's sake, with comps, with cap rates and I might not always agree with him one he chose to use for one reason or another. What that reason is today, I don't know. nd I would suggest maybe you ought to consider doing a different building as a comp; it's closer to what our building is like.

For example, you could have a commercial building without a retail component where we do have a retail component. He may have overlooked that. So it's not a fair comparison to take a building without a retail component and compare it to a building with a retail component, so I would make that change.

Q So Mr. McConney is someone you relied upon; right?

I relied upon, yes.

Q Someone whose work you relied upon in signing representation letters?

Yes.

Q You're saying it was possible he overlooked the fact that one building had a retail component and the other one didn't?

That's a lot of work he was doing, so that one thing could have happened. It's possible. We aren't all perfect. That's a possibility he may have overlooked a fact that 40 Wall Street for argument's sake or Trump Tower commercial has something that another building didn't have or maybe he doesn't know the physical makeup of one building versus another. He may have better tenancy in one building than another. nd then when you do it on a comparison basis to what he was using, he may not have known about every tenant.

I worked on -- I did a lot of lease work, so I knew the makeup of the tenancy of a building where we have more creditworthy tenants than maybe the building he chose to use, which maybe he didn't have as many creditworthy tenants. So that might change what building he use. I used retail just as an example of something. It's not the only thing that would be looked at on a comparison basis.

Q Understood. That is something though you used as an example of something Mr. McConney might have overlooked; right? That was the example you gave; right?

mongst other things.

Q mongst other things.

So Mr. McConney, his work was not perfect, is that fair to say?

Well, I don't think any of us are perfect.

Q So you looked over his work and you made changes; right?

I would look at every line item of his work. I would look over the higher valued assets to make sure they were properly being valued. I always wanted -- I always tried to be fair and so -- fair and reasonable in what we were showing and sometimes it would come out with a lower value than he would, but it would be more accurate and fair and a truer picture of the comparison.

Q s you sit here today, do you recall a specific example where you came out with a lower value for an asset than he did?

I don't recall. It's so many years. The answer is no. I can't recall.

Q You mentioned that you had a better sense of the creditworthiness of the tenants in some of the retail space -- in some of the rental spaces; is that right?

re you talking about being in commercial?

Q In the commercial building. You had a better sense of the creditworthiness?

nd the reason for is when we go through a lease process we try to learn about the tenant coming into our building. fter all, if the tenant can't pay his rent in a year from now, we don't want that tenant in our building. So we would look at their financial statements. We would see what kind of tenants they were. Jeff McConney was not part of leasing at all, so he wouldn't know about the creditworthiness.

Q So you were on the creditworthy tenants that you were sure to be able to pay the leases?

Or a tenant that could provide us with enough information about the company, where they're going. It could have been -- we could have startups in some buildings, but they could be well capped.

Q Did Dean & DeLuca rent space at 40 Wall Street?

They did.

Q How did that work out?

Well, they -- when Dean & DeLuca took the space they were one company. They were bought over by somebody in later years and they changed their entire dynamics. They began to sponsor golf tournaments and tennis tournaments and they tried to make Dean & DeLuca what it wasn't and in doing so they had a problem and they couldn't succeed there.

Q nd they filed for bankruptcy protection, didn't they?

I don't know. I think they did, but I'm not really sure. But they were -- their creditworthiness was day to day. It's like any other company. They could be creditworthy today and something happened, they could change their model of how they operate their business and all of a sudden things don't work out well. Bed Bath and Beyond and there are many other tenants as they're all creditworthy at one time. Unfortunately, the world's changed. It happens.

Q So you never know what's going to happen in the future; right?

You have to work with what you have in front of you at the time.

Q Right, so you can't predict --

THE COURT: I am --

MR. SOLOMON: I'm sorry.

THE COURT: One at a time.

MR. SOLOMON: It's just he's going on expanding upon questions that are simple yes or nos or one-word answers.

THE WITNESS: Oh, I'm sorry.

Q So you can't predict the future as you just said; right?

Correct.

Q In doing valuations for assets that appear on the financial statements were you predicting future development for those assets; yes or no, sir? Were you predicting the future for those assets; yes or no?

Yes.

Q Okay. Were you predicting future revenue streams; yes or no?

I don't recall. I don't recall what Jeff did in valuing those assets.

Q t one point in time in valuations for golf course assets do you recall using fixed asset methods for the valuation?
I do recall that.
Q nd do you recall directing Mr. McConney to add a 30 percent premium to the fixed assets to reflect an operating --
I do recall that.
Q Was that disclosed anywhere in the Statement of Financial Condition?
It was disclosed in the notes -- I'm sorry. It was disclosed in the work papers that were given to Mazars.
Q Sir, I don't want to cut you off and interrupt you. That wasn't my question. I asked if it was disclosed in the Statement of Financial Conditions, not in the work papers to Mazars, not in conversations you might have had with someone. Was it disclosed in the Statement of Financial Conditions. It's a yes-or-no question.
What was the question? Was the 30 percent --
Q Was the 30 percent premium that you directed Mr. McConney to add to the fixed assets disclosed in the SOFC; yes or no?
No.
Whereupon, the transcript continues on the following page....

Q You also solicited information as to valuation of golf courses from people outside of the organization from the Statements of Financial Condition, right?
I believe we may have used one or two people.
MR. SOLOMON: Can we, please, mark PX 3116 for identification.
Q We marked PX 3116 for identification. It is a cover e-mail and a letter that you were attaching. Do you see that?
Yes.
Q Is that an e-mail that you sent to E. Carlyle at Forbes?
Yes.
Q So actually --
I don't understand. It says first administrative group. What is that after my name on top? I don't know what that means. That's not my e-mail address. I don't know why that's there.
Q That's actually not an e-mail address.
I don't know why that's there.
Q If we can scroll down to the bottom of the page, you see it has a TT00 Bates number at the bottom.
I see that, but I don't know what administrative group is, first admitted. I don't know who that is.
Q I'm not saying you put that on there, but this is an e-mail, though, that you sent to Ms. Carlyle, right?

Yeah. gain, it's from me. I just don't know what -- I wouldn't -- that would not be part of my e-mail, typical e-mail. I don't know where --
THE COURT: I don't think you were asked that.
THE WITNESS: The answer is yes, it is my e-mail.
THE COURT: It is your e-mail. That's all we need to know.
Q The second page, you attach a letter that you had received from Steven M. Ekovich. Do you see that?
Yes.
Q Do you recall receiving that letter from Mr. Ekovich in or about July of 2013?
I remember it now. I just don't recall -- it was ten years ago. I don't recall.
Q Do you recall receiving some communication from Mr. Ekovich -- please let me finish -- in which he told you what an appropriate gross review multiplier would have been for assets in the Trump golf portfolio?
Yes. That was his undertaking of what he felt it should be.
MR. SOLOMON: We offer PX 3116 in evidence.
THE COURT: Granted. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as People's Exhibit 3116.)
Q So this, according to what Mr. Ekovich is describing in his letter to you, is a different way of calculating value for golf course assets, right?

. WEISSELBERG - DIRECT(MR. SOLOMON) Page 879

It is another methodology.
Q nother methodology. That takes gross revenue; is that right?
Yes, but I'm not sure -- but I'm not sure what he's including in gross revenue. That's a big -- that's a big difference.
Q Understood. He's actually using it as a capitalized term gross revenue multiplier?
It is not defined anywhere.
Q Understood. You take gross revenue and you multiply it by an appropriate multiplier, whatever the revenue may be and however it is calculated; is that right?
That's one method.
Q That's one method.
Now, if we go back to the first page, you'll see that you are telling someone at Forbes that this person is a top golf course advisor on buying and selling of courses, right?
Correct.
Q Did you believe that to be true when you sent this to E. Carlyle?
I don't know him. I never met him. I was told by somebody else in the organization that he was, so I relied upon that person; but I don't know the person.

. WEISSELBERG - DIRECT(MR. SOLOMON) Page 880

Q Your earlier letter was addressed directly to you?
Yes, because the person I asked to help me on this told him to send it to me.
Q So you took this person's word? You took this person's advice or comment that this person was a top golf course advisor on buying and selling courses? You accepted that as true?
I did.
Q Okay. nd then you conveyed it on to Forbes, right?
Correct.
Q nd was that because you wanted Forbes to value the Trump Organization's golf courses in a particular methodology?
I don't -- I don't remember why I gave it to them. I don't -- I don't know the context of the conversation we had with Ms. Carlyle, what her questions were. It is sort of being taken out of context.
Q I'm not trying to take it out of context.
Not this. Not this, why I gave her this letter. That's the point. I'm not quite putting together with giving her the letter as to what was she asking and why did I give it to her.
Q Did you tell Mr. McConney that this was a method that he should use to value the Trump Organization's golf courses?
I don't recall. I don't recall.
Q Do you know if the Trump Organization ever used this method to value its golf courses?

gain, I don't recall.
Q Do you know if the Trump Organization ever did a preliminary valuation using this method?
gain, I don't recall.
Q You don't know if Mr. McConney ever did that?
I don't then.
Q Do you know if Mr. Birney ever did that?
I don't know.
Q Do you know if using this method would come out with a higher or lower value for the Trump Organization golf courses than appeared on the Statement of Financial Condition?
I don't know.
Q Did you also provide information to Mr. McConney at some point in time that the 30 percent premium for the golf course should be reduced to 15 percent?
It's possible. I just don't recall it.
Q You don't recall one way or the other?
I don't remember.
Q Do you recall any discussion at all in which the subject of the 30 percent premium came up and there was a determination made that it was too high?
It's certainly possible. I just don't remember. It could have been -- I don't know what year it was, was there something going on in the economy to reduce -- I don't know.
Q The letter that's the second page of this exhibit, did you ever give it to Mr. McConney?

. WEISSELBERG - DIRECT(MR. SOLOMON) Page 882

I don't recall. I may have. I just don't remember. You're going back a long time ago. I just don't recall.
Q Understood. So did you ever provide it to Mazars?
I dealt very little with Mazars on these statements. Everything went through Jeffrey McConney, so if I gave it to him, hopefully he would have given it to them or maybe not; but I don't recall giving it to Jeffrey McConney sitting here today.
Q But personally, you never gave it to Mazars, right?
Not that I can remember, no.
Q Did you also send -- withdrawn.
I believe you indicated earlier that you sent comps to Mr. McConney?
I sent comps.
Q Or you provided comps to Mr. McConney?
No, I didn't. Mr. McConney would contact third parties, appraisers and request from them these reports that would give him the comps, cap rates and any other material that might be helpful in determining valuation.
Q Did you give comps to Mr. Birney?
gain, this was -- all the work that was done to get valuations was all done by Jeffrey McConney, by himself for a while and then with Patrick Birney subsequently.
MR. SOLOMON: Could we, please, mark as PX 1040.
Q Sir, have you ever seen PX 1040 or any of the pages in it before today?

. WEISSELBERG - DIRECT(MR. SOLOMON) Page 883

Has to be as of the time when these things happened, but yeah.
Q Do you recall one way or the other?
No. I said possibly when I -- when it first happened, the event itself that's on here.
Q You said possibly. So -- do you recall one way or the other?
I'm sure -- you know, I wish I would have seen the publication it came from because there's some publications I -- that would help me.
Q Okay. If you see on your first page of this exhibit, there appears to be -- is that an adding machine tape, sir?
Yes, that's not my handwriting.
Q That's what I was going to ask. That's not your handwriting?
THE COURT: Ten-minute warning. Time goes fast when we're having fun.
Q If you look at the second page, this is an e-mail from you to Patrick Birney?
Okay.
Q Forwarding and it is blank what's being forwarded, but you indicated it is more info on the house purchase in PB. That's Palm Beach, right?
Yes.

Q So you're sending him information about a sale in Palm Beach, right?
Correct.
Q nd are you giving that in connection with his valuation of a Trump asset?
Yes.
Q Which one?
Probably Mar- -Lago.
Q Okay. So contrary to what you mentioned before, you actually did send Patrick Birney comps?
Well, no. What I said -- no, what I said -- what I said to Patrick Birney -- you can call them comps. I said during the course of the year. You stated this was done in September?
Q Yes.
Whenever I found something in a newspaper article, I would just throw it in a file, when you work on Mr. Trump's financial statement, just have it as a reference point because we really had no one in Florida or I don't think he had anyone in Florida. You can call, but when I found it myself, I said you know what. Look at this. It may work. It may not work. See what it was per acre, the sale. Maybe you could extrapolate it. We may have things at our property that they don't have at their property. We could add to it. But as far as when you mentioned comps before, I was referring to Manhattan real estate. I was thinking of Manhattan real estate, commercial buildings. That was in my mind. That was my mindset.

Q If I asked you the question comps for any asset on the Statement of Financial Condition, you did send information about what you believe to be comparables to Mr. Birney, right?
The answer is yes.
Q Same question for Mr. McConney now.
When he was doing it himself, the answer would be -- the answer is yes.
Q Let's look at the next page 4 of 20.
What number?
Q Page 4 of 20 --
Okay.
Q -- on the exhibit. gain, an e-mail from you to Patrick Birney, right?
Okay.
Q You see that?
Yes.
Q If you look at the next page, is that your handwriting on that little yellow Post-It note there?
On what? The -- on that tape?
Q Not on the tape. On the little yellow Post-It. If you look on the screen.
No.
Q ll right. nd I assume that's not your handwriting on the tape because you told me that handwriting earlier wasn't yours?

. WEISSELBERG - DIRECT(MR. SOLOMON) Page 886

No. That's why too neat.
Q If you turn to the sixth page of this exhibit.
Page six?
Q Yes. There is highlighted. Do you see that?
Yes.
Q Did you put that highlighting on it before you sent to Mr. Birney?
I don't recall if I did or not.
Q This exhibit continues on with additional information about other properties in that area, right?
Yes.
Q nd if you look at page 9 of 20 --
Yes.
Q -- there's a larger yellow Post-It. Do you see that?
Yes.
Q I assume that's not your handwriting, right?
No, it's not.
Q Do you recognize whose handwriting that is?
I don't.
Q Turn to the next page.
Okay.
Q You'll see that Ed Raymundo, if I'm pronouncing that correctly.

. WEISSELBERG - DIRECT(MR. SOLOMON) Page 887

Yes.
Q Is sending an e-mail to Patrick Birney with the phrase "comparison is attached." Do you see that?
Yes.
Q Then you'll see two pages later, there's an article that is cut out of -- it appears to be cut out of a good old-fashioned newspaper. Do you see that?
Yes.
Q That's on page 12 of 20?
Yes.
Q Underneath that, there is a Post-It?
That's my handwriting.
Q I was about to say have we gotten to your handwriting, sir?
You got it. That's it.
Q You instructed Patrick to take this Palm Beach estate asking price of 135 million --
Yes, and the note says hold it for next year DJT financial statement. Let's see what it ends up selling for because we don't know -- that's -- that's the asking price.
Q Why does it matter what it sells for?
Because anybody can sell anything for a dollar amount. It doesn't necessarily mean it is going to sell. We want to be able to get a comparison that is the final number. He's asking 135. Maybe it will sell for 100 million. I will use 100 million.

Q So it is the selling price that's relevant in the comparison, not the asking price?
Yes.
MR. SOLOMON: This might be a good time for a lunch break.
THE COURT OFFICER: Remain seated.
(Witness exits the stand.)
(Whereupon, a luncheon recess was taken.)
F T E R N O O N S E S S I O N
* * * * *
THE COURT OFFICER: ll rise. Part 37 is back in session. The Honorable Judge rthur Engoron presiding. Make sure all cellphones are on silent. Laptops and cellphones will be permitted, but only to members of the press. There is absolutely no recording or photography of any kind allowed in the courtroom. Now, be seated and come to order.
THE COURT: You all look happy. I guess that's because you had an hour and-a-half, not just an hour and 15 minutes.
(Witness resumes the stand.)
THE COURT: We're back on the record. Let's continue with the direct examination of Mr. Weisselberg.
BY MR. SOLOMON:

. WEISSELBERG - DIRECT(MR. SOLOMON) Page 889

Q Good afternoon, Mr. Weisselberg.
Good afternoon.
MR. SOLOMON: One housekeeping matter my colleagues have reminded me. I failed to move PX 1040 into evidence. I would like to do that now.
MR. ROBERT: No objection, your Honor. I just want to be clear this is from a McConney backup. Just because it is so many different pages, I want to describe it as what it is, as it is a series of documents, so we can agree this is part of the McConney backup.
MR. SOLOMON: I'm comfortable with a backup.
MR. ROBERT: Fair enough.
MR. SOLOMON: Sufficient?
MR. ROBERT: Sufficient.
THE COURT: Granted. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as People's Exhibit 1040.)
Q Mr. Weisselberg, before we broke for lunch, we were talking about Mr. Steven Ekovich, if I'm pronouncing that correctly?
I think so, yes.
Q Do you recall him, sir?
Yes.
Q I think you testified that you had some familiarity with him, right?

I never met him. I know the name through someone else in our office who is part of our golf division and that's the extent of my knowledge of him.
Q Well, you actually had some direct communication with him?
He may have e-mailed me. I don't think we ever met face to face is what I'm saying. I don't believe so.
Q Have you finished?
Yes.
Q But you did, in fact, have several communications with him about valuations of golf courses, right?
Several. I know one you showed me earlier today.
MR. SOLOMON: Can we, please, identify PX 3143 for identification.
Q Sir, if you look at what's been marked as 3143 excluding the top e-mail, if you look at the second one, it is from you to Mr. Ekovich from ugust of 2015. Do you see that?
Yes.
Q nd you're asking him how much you would be able to increase that value due to brand and intrinsic value. Do you see that?
Yes.
Q In fact, you're asking him how to quantify the premium, right?
Yes.

Q Now, if you go down one further, Mr. Ekovich had actually written to you telling you golf valuations are an art, not a science. Do you see that?
Yes.
Q nd he provides certain gross revenue multipliers, sixth line down .6-1 time gross revenue. Do you see that?
Yes.
Q nd then the next line, if the EBIT is below 400 to 500,000, do you see that?
Yes.
Q Do you have an understanding as to what EBIT is?
Yes.
Q What is that?
Earnings before interest, taxes and depreciation.
Q So you're communicating with Mr. Ekovich in 2015 with respect to golf course valuations, right?
Yes.
MR. SOLOMON: I offer this in evidence as PX 3143.
THE COURT: Granted. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as People's Exhibit 3143.)
MR. KISE: One thing. So did they -- was this produced to us? What day? Was that one of the ones over the weekend?
MR. SOLOMON: No, this is actually being used to either refresh the witness' recollection --

MR. KISE: I'm just trying to figure out.
MR. SOLOMON: What's the question?
MR. KISE: I'm trying to figure out when we got this document.
MR. SOLOMON: Just now.
MR. KISE: 3143, you're not introducing it into evidence?
MR. SOLOMON: I am introducing it into evidence. You were given it just now because we pulled this. It was not on our list before, but we pulled this to refresh the witness' recollection. He had several other conversations with Mr. Ekovich.
MR. KISE: Okay, but that wasn't on your list before; yes, no? I just don't recognize is my question.
MR. SOLOMON: No, it was not.
MR. KISE: I'm not -- your Honor, I'm not fully objecting. I want to make sure that when it comes time, if it comes time, we are extended the same courtesy. This wasn't on their list. I'm not necessarily objecting to it. I just want to be sure that what's good for the goose is --
THE COURT: Yes.
MR. KISE: That's all I'm saying because I don't recognize it.
THE COURT: Give me a second.

(Whereupon, there was a pause in the proceedings.)
THE COURT: I'm, of course, trying to be fair. I don't know how far we are going to extend this, but go ahead.
MR. SOLOMON: I would also just note this is being used for impeachment purposes. The witness testified he didn't really remember Mr. Ekovich and may have only spoken to him on that one occasion. So this is obviously being used for impeachment.
THE COURT: I think that's totally acceptable.
MR. KISE: gain, I'm just pointing out that it is a new exhibit. I hear what he is saying, but just making that record. I'm not objecting to the introduction of it.
THE COURT: Duly noted and it is in evidence.
MR. SOLOMON: Thank you, your Honor. Can we, please, show the witness what we've marked as PX 3144 for identification.
Q Mr. Weisselberg, have you seen this document before that's been marked PX 3144?
It was certainly sent to me. I just don't remember it, but I see it in front of me now, yes.
Q If you see on the e-mail chain, there is a discussion with you and Mr. Ekovich.
You don't mean the first one, do you, with that language in there?

Q We can pass upon that language.
I just saw that. It caught my eye.
Q Understood, but if you look at the bottom of the first page, Mr. Ekovich is telling you typical cap rates are 11 to 14. I would say you are in the 8 to 10 range. Do you see that?
Yes, I do see that.
Q Then he asks were you able to send the comps and supporting e-mail to the reporter. Do you see that?
I see that.
Q Do you understand that to be the reporter from Forbes?
I would imagine so, yes.
Q nd you told him, thank you. Yes, they were sent and we received a slight bump. ppreciate your help. From you to Mr. Ekovich, September 20, 4:18 p.m. --
Can you just read back the last -- you know why? It is on the back of the page.
Q No problem. On the very first page.
I was flipping pages.
Q On the very first page, if you see a highlighted in yellow on the screen. Thank you --
That I see, yes.
Q So, in fact, you relied upon information from Mr. Ekovich and you provided that to, who Forbes, right?
Well, it was one of many -- we didn't use that as the only source of material to value golf courses.

. WEISSELBERG - DIRECT(MR. SOLOMON) Page 895

Q But this is what you relied upon in trying to bump up the valuation on Forbes, right?
It was to explain what we did. I don't know the reasoning behind -- why we gave it to them.
Q It says we received a slight bump.
They looked at it and they gave us a bump, okay.
Q So initial communications with Mr. Ekovich, right?
Yes.
Q This refreshes your recollection that you actually spoke to Mr. Ekovich on several occasions about valuation of golf courses --
When you say --
Q -- of Trump assets?
When you say spoke, you are referring to e-mails?
THE COURT: That's the ambiguity here.
MR. SOLOMON: Sure.
Q If I expand my question, sir, to ask you did you have several communications with Mr. Ekovich concerning the valuations for Trump golf courses.
Yes, and I believe there were other experts that we spoke with as well, so we may have used a combination of people.
Q So just so we are clear, you had several communications with Mr. Ekovich, though, right?
Correct.
MR. SOLOMON: We offer PX 3144 in evidence.

. WEISSELBERG - DIRECT(MR. SOLOMON) Page 896

THE COURT: Granted. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as People's Exhibit 3144.)
Q Let's go back to the process for creating the Statements of Financial Condition in any given year, if we can.
Just so we're clear, between 2011 and your departure from the Trump Organization, did you perform any valuations for any of the assets on the Statements of Financial Condition?
When you saw my personally.
Q Yes?
I don't recall doing anything like that.
Q Do you recall testifying at one of the investigatory sessions we had "I certainly a.m. not one to value a property. I have no idea what properties are worth?
I would rely on experts to do that.
Q But do you recall that's something you had said at one of the motions?
I either do -- I don't recall it but certainly possible.
Q You're not disputing it, correct?
I'm not disputing it.
Q Is it still your position, sir, that you have no idea what properties are worth?
I have no idea -- no. I personally -- if I looked at a building, I couldn't tell you what it's worth. I would have to go to an expert to help me to do that.

. WEISSELBERG - DIRECT(MR. SOLOMON) Page 897

THE COURT: Move the microphone closer. You might --
THE WITNESS: Yeah. Yeah.
THE COURT: They are really quirky microphones. You could be right there and you have to talk right into it.
THE WITNESS: Second time.
Q Was it your testimony earlier today that between roughly 2011 and your departure, you were involved in reviewing the notes to the Statements of Financial Condition before they were finalized?
The notes -- the notes, yes, which describe our properties, discuss any liabilities that are associated with the properties, things of that nature. Those notes is what I'm referring to.
Q Was that because you understood that Mr. Trump wanted the assets described in the best possible light?
Yeah. Well -- yeah, he has his own way of writing. I might use a word that is -- he may use a different word than I might use, but it is his statement, so I gave him the opportunity to correct a word here or there that he didn't like. By the way, a lot of these notes were written by the Mazars firm. I would come back and alter it a little bit and then the final draft came out and I would give it to Mr. Trump to review. He might say don't use the word "beautiful." Use the words

"magnificent" or something like that because it was not just a Statement of Financial Condition, but it was also a way of telling anybody who read it how our properties are, not typical properties, premier properties, and he wanted to be in that vein because you put a lot of effort and money over the years into making these properties exactly that.
Q Do I understand correctly then for each year from 2011 and your departure, before the Statement of Financial Condition was finalized, you would give it to Mr. Trump?
Yes.
Q nd did you understand that he would re- --
No. No. Well, well, once he became president --
Q Certainly. I'll rephrase my question.
Between 2011 and when Mr. Trump became president, did you give him a Statement of Financial Condition prior to the time it was finalized?
Yes, I did.
Q Did he have an opportunity to review it?
Yes.
Q To your knowledge, did he review it?
gain, once I gave it to him and I left his office, what he did with it, I wouldn't know.
Q Did you ever receive comments on a Statement of Financial Condition from Mr. Trump before he became president?
Periodically.

Q Once Mr. Trump became president, to whom, if anyone, did you give the Statement of Financial Condition for review before it was finalized?

I don't remember. I was -- I don't remember whether I gave it to Eric Trump and/or Donald Trump. I just don't recall. I may have. I just don't remember.

Q When you say Donald Trump, you mean Donald Trump, Jr.?

Yes.

Q When you say "Don Trump," are you referring to Don Trump, Jr.?

Yes.

Q Between 2011 and when Mr. Trump became president, would he convey to you, in form or substance, that he had no additional comments to the SOFC?

re you talking about the years blend in one after the other? I don't remember if he said those words to me exactly as you're putting them.

Q That's why I asked in form or substance.

You had an understanding at some point in time between 2011 when he became president that he was okay with the SOFCs; right?

Yes.

Q Okay. Prior to gaining that understanding that he was okay with the SOFC, did you ever send it to Mazars between 2011 and when Mr. Trump became president as a final version before Mr. Trump signed off on it?

Not that I can remember, no.

Q Let's talk about Seven Springs.

re you familiar with the property known as Seven Springs located in the towns of Bedford, New Castle and North Castle, New York?

s one of our assets, I was there once many, many, many years ago to tour the place, but that's probably the extent and we have -- yes, that's pretty much the extent.

Q So you are familiar with it?

I am familiar with it -- I realize that. I'm sorry.

Q I didn't want to cut you off, sir.

No. No, I'm sorry.

THE COURT: I guess "familiar" could be interpreted different ways. I think Mr. Weisselberg was partly saying to be familiar with it you have to be there, but I think Mr. Solomon's meaning was just did you know if it exists.

THE WITNESS: I understand that now.

THE COURT: So you know it exists and you know you were there a long time ago?

THE WITNESS: Yes.

THE COURT: Just give me one second.

(Whereupon, there is a pause in the proceedings.)

THE COURT: Thanks. Go ahead.

CONTINUED DIRECT EX MIN TION

BY MR. SOLOMON:

Q Seven Springs is one of properties that appears as an asset on the Statements of Financial Condition; correct?

Correct.

MR. SOLOMON: Can we pull up the 2014 SOFC, PX 730?

Q Do you recognize this document, sir?

Yes.

Q What do you recognize it to be?

Statement of Financial Condition of Donald Trump dated June 30, 2014.

MR. SOLOMON: Could we please turn to page 20 of 26 on the exhibit?

Q Do you see across the bottom, "mansion at Seven Springs." Do you see that?

Yes.

Q "The property is zoned for nine luxurious homes. It has been valued at $291 million based on an assessment made by Mr. Trump in conjunction with his associates of the projected net cash flow which he would derive as those units are constructed and sold and the estimated fair value of the existing mansion and other buildings." Do you see that?

Yes.

Q Now, in doing this calculation to get to $291 million was any discount to the cash flow applied to account for the time it would take to obtain all necessary approvals, build the homes and then sell the homes?

I don't know. I don't know.

Q Do you know if a -- have you ever heard the term "present value of money?"

I've heard that. I've heard that term.

Q re you familiar with it?

To a degree.

Q You understand that $10 ten years from now is not the same as $10 today; right?

Yes, and I believe these financial statements were what we felt the property was worth on that date we did the financial statements.
Q So but as you sit here today, you don't know if any discount of present value was applied to the $291 million projected net cash flow, do you?
No, I don't.
Q Now, beyond just Seven Springs do you know if for any of the valuations on any Statement of Financial Condition between 2011 and your departure there was an application to determine the present value of a future income stream?
I don't know whether that was done or not. I didn't work on the calculations, but I believe that the values were based on what we felt we could settle for on that date, on the date of the financial statement. That was valued -- for example, if you take a building, a commercial building, you have leases in place and we took the current values of those leases that day and did our -- and went from there. That became our NOI with the cap rate. In ten years later those leases that were $20,000 square foot, could be $90 a square foot. So we didn't work with that $90. We worked with $20 as of today to come up with our NOI.
Q Is that what you understand this cap to present value mean?

Yes, we were using the values as of that date.
Q That's a snapshot, sir, of the valuation, isn't it?
I don't know how you describe --
Q You didn't assume that ten years of rent you had it on the day of the valuation, did it -- did you?
No. The way the valuation -- sorry.
Q Yes-or-no question.
Finish the question.
Q You didn't assume you had all that money on day one; right?
We weren't --
Q Yes or no? For the lease, the lease you just described, did you assume that you had the ten years of rent payments on June 30th of any given year?
nd that's what -- why we consider it. We didn't have it.
Q You didn't have it, so you didn't consider it?
Correct.
Q So let's talk about projects under development. That's a category in the financial statements; right?
Correct.
Q Mentioned at Seven Springs, that's a project under development for a period of time; right?
Correct.
Q In fact, at one point in time ten, 20 years ago, the Trump Organization was thinking about putting a golf course there; right? Do you recall that?

There was discussion about that, yes.
Q But you couldn't get the proper zoning for that; right?
Correct.
Q So you had to give that up?
I believe so.
Q Okay. So then it became a concept of building mansions on the property; right?
Correct.
Q So on the day of this financial statement as of June 30, 2014?
Okay.
Q Okay. The value of the development rights for this property was not discounted to present value, was it?
The -- can I answer it other than yes or no?
Q Can you answer it yes or no?
THE COURT: Seems like a yes-or-no question.
Well, the question is when the zoning is arrived at or was obtained or when the zones were built assuming you weren't just selling land. This could be your land sales, nine -- it has -- it's zoned for nines homes. Doesn't mean we're going to build the homes. We could sell the land that day for those numbers. They could go out and get their zoning.
Q Did you think you could sell the land that day for $291 million?

I didn't have a backup to those numbers. I don't know the answer to that question.
Q Is that how you read that, though?
I read that the property is zoned for nine luxurious homes. It has been valued on this date. When -- Q Based on?
-- in conjunction with his associates based on projected cash flow.
Q Projected net cash flow?
Correct.
Q That's not a dollar you have on June 30, 2014; right, projected? Is that right?
Yes. Projection could have been in a week later. It's a possibility he could have --
Q Nine luxurious homes build, get zoning for them, build them and sell them a day later. Yes or no, sir? Is that what your testimony is?
I'm trying to read the question -- I mean, I'm trying to read the paragraph.
Q Go ahead.
The property is zoned for nine luxurious homes. It doesn't mean the homes are being sold for 291 million. I don't see that.
Q I'm not saying the homes are being sold for 291, sir.

. Weisselberg - Petitioner - direct (Solomon) Page 907

What I'm asking you is it's the projected net cash flow he would derive as those units are constructed and sold and the estimated fair value of the existing mansions. s they are constructed and sold, future tense, future; right?
Correct.
Q They're not doing that the next day; right?
Okay.
Q You agree with me?
Yes, I do.
Q Okay. You're familiar with Seven Springs. You told me that before. You've been up there?
Yes.
Q Barren land, right, except for the existing buildings?
Except it was a mansion on the property, one mansion.
Q Right, so there had to be some period of time to get the proper zoning, some of it for nine homes was there. It had to be sometime to break the land; right? Had to be sometime to build the homes; right?
Correct.
Q Sometime to market and sell them; right?
Could have done it in a year. I don't know the time period.
Q But this doesn't account for anytime period, does it?
Nor do I know whether Mr. Trump would go out and try to market the property while the zoning was going on, sign contracts while the zoning was going on subject to getting that zoning. lot of things could have been going on. He could have been building the models. I don't know what he has in his mind with that property. I wasn't really involved in the development of the property, but I --

. Weisselberg - Petitioner - direct (Solomon) Page 908

Q re you sure about the time?
That I was involved in the --
Q That you were not involved in the development of the property?
I didn't -- I'm not a developer. I wouldn't know where to start.
Q But the development of that property -- you were not involved in the development of that property. Is that your testimony?
No, I don't understand your question what you're saying to me. The development, meaning working with people to get information to help them get zoning, that numbers, things of that nature.
Q Or working with people to determine how the property would be developed if at all?
I don't recall -- I mean, I recall people working on it specifically. They may have called me for certain information, but I don't recall developing or where to begin developing a property.
Q re you certain of that as you are the rest of your testimony?

Sorry?
Q re you certain of that last answer as you are the rest of your testimony?
s it pertains to this property, yes, sir.
MR. SOLOMON: Can we mark PX 3114 for identification?
THE COURT: Please don't talk over each other and I'm not sure that that point was ever really made because you went on all sorts of tangents.
I think, Mr. Weisselberg, what Mr. Solomon was trying to get you to do, you can do it or not, I think what he was trying to get you to do was to acknowledge that since the number up there was based on future events for planning, the building, for selling, that the net eventual proceeds needed to be discounted to take into account that that would not occur right away. m I describing that correctly?
THE WITNESS: You are. I don't know on the G P what the requirements are to value something that may have future value. I'm not a G P expert. I think if the Mazars firm who's part and parcel of producing this statement realizes that G P does not permit that they would have said something to us evidently knowing this is a future development. They allowed the number on the statement the way it is.

THE COURT: Just before we move on to this next document, Mr. Solomon, I've advised for you, for all the lawyers, for everybody in the room, this is a particular pet peeve of mine and it will make life simpler of everyone. Don't ask questions in the negative. For example, the questions are often "you didn't do that, did you?" nd then well, there is a no answer, meaning "no, I didn't do it" or "no, I" -- just ask if you did it, okay? Don't start with "this doesn't mean." Just ask in the positive, "did you do it." I pass that off for what it's worth.
Q Sir, do you recognize PX 3114 for identification?
Okay.
Q Do you recognize it?
I acknowledge this is an e-mail from me.
Q Do you recall seeing it before today?
I'm sure if I typed that the answer is yes.
Q The subject on the first e-mail is "easement analysis." Do you see that?
Yes.
Q nd it's from Sheri Dillon to you, Eric Trump and Donald Bender?
Yes.
Q nd you turn to the next page and -- I'm sorry -- the date on this is September 23, 2014; right?
Yes.

Q You turn to the next page title is "Potential Charitable Contribution nalysis." Do you see that?
Yes.
Q See Seven Springs is there?
Yes.
Q nd the valuation for the Seven Springs column is estimated in excess of 30 million. Do you see that?
Yes.
Q Did you have an understanding that the potential valuation for the easement donation for the Seven Springs property was in excess of $30 million in or about September of 2014?
I don't know much about the conservation easement. I really wasn't involved in that transaction. I don't believe they were referring to the entire property. I think it was a portion of the property that they were not going to develop, but then that's something I am not -- I am further from reality with.
Q In fact, did you understand that that amount was reflective of the value of a donation of the development rights for Seven Springs?
I don't -- again, I don't know what it's for. I wasn't really involved in the -- Ms. Sheri Dillon worked with Eric Trump on this conservation easement.
Q But you're copied on the e-mail?

I am copied. I may have been on a kickoff ball and after that that was the end of it, so I don't know exactly what took place regarding that conservation easement.
Q I wasn't asking if you knew what took place. I was just asking if you were aware or understood that that amount of the excess of 30 million was related to a donation or potential donation of the developments?
To a portion of the property. It wasn't the entire property. I don't know if your question is being phrased the way I understand it. I think there was a portion of the property they weren't going to develop and they were going to donate it as a charitable contribution and that's I think what this is about, not about the entire property with nine mansions and all that stuff. But, again, I'm talking about without having been part of most of these meetings that took place.
Q t this point in time they didn't have those nine mansions that we were talking about earlier on the property; right?
No.
THE COURT: I didn't really explain it that well. If somebody says you didn't do it, if you say no that could mean no, I didn't do it; it could mean yes, you're right I didn't do it. So ask it in the positive.
Q Did the development rights that you're just referring to include nine existing mansions on the property?

I don't believe so, but I don't know for sure.
Q Okay. Did the potential easement donation include the existing mansion and related buildings on the property?
I don't know.
Q You left that to Sheri Dillon and Eric Trump?
That's correct.
Q Let's turn back, if we can, keeping that to one side for the moment to PX 718. That's the rep letter for the 2014 SOFC.
Okay.
Q Do you have that document in front of you, sir?
I do.
Q That's November 7, 2014?
I do.
Q nd that's a little over a month, a month and a week or two weeks after that September 23rd we just saw; right?
Yes.
Q Documents on the left?
Yes.
Q So some point prior to this management rep letter you became aware of a potential charitable contribution relating to Seven Springs; right?
The one where Bender was copied on that e-mail regarding this?
Q Yes, the one that's on the left side of the screen.

Yes, but again, the e-mail that you showed me initially included Donald Bender as part of that meeting.
Q Yes.
Yes, we're talking about the same thing.
Q Yes. So prior to November 7, 2014 you're aware of that potential easement donation?
Potentially.
Q nd you're aware there was a valuation of that easement donation to be estimated to be in excess of 30 million; correct?
Correct.
Q Did you do anything at all between September 23, 2014 and November 7, 2014 when you signed that letter to determine what portion of the property would be covered by the potential easement donation that was estimated to be in excess of $30 million?
I did nothing. I don't know if Jeff McConney did anything.
THE COURT: If he asks if you did something just --
THE WITNESS: I did not.
Q Did you direct anyone to do anything between that time, September 23, 2014 and November 7th?
Regarding a potential --
Q Regarding a potential easement?
When it hasn't happened yet?
Q Yes, sir.

I did not.
Q nd did you direct them to do anything with regards to a potential valuation of that easement estimated to be in excess of $30 million?
I did not.
Q So you did nothing and didn't direct anyone to compare that valuation on the chart on 9/23/2014 and any valuation that might have appeared on the SOFC, did you do anything or direct him to do anything?
No.
THE COURT: That's much better than didn't you do this.
MR. SOLOMON: I am guided by the Court's direction.
Q Can we look at the Jeff Supporting Data, PX 7198, specifically lines 668 through 673?
MR. SOLOMON: nd, Your Honor, while we're waiting for that, I move to admit PX 317.
MR. ROBERT: Objection, Your Honor. I have several grounds for the objection. The first is that it's from 2014, so we have a statute of limitations defense.
Secondly, I know during the course of the special proceeding, which we weren't involved with, the Court made certain rulings as to attorney/client privileged documents, but I will note that not all the parties were defendants in this case were parties to the special proceeding, so we would still object to the admissibility of this document under attorney/client privilege inasmuch as the document is marked subject to attorney/client privilege.

Third, this was a document that was just produced to us by the defendants -- by the plaintiffs, rather, for their use today over the weekend and the order requires one business day. I know Mr. Solomon said it was being used for impeachment. s I heard the testimony, it's not inconsistent. The question was was Mr. Weisselberg involved in the development and he was more focused on the financial side than the development side. So for those three bases we would object to those being introduced into evidence.
THE COURT: Should we discuss them one at a time? The statute of limitations objection is a standing objection?
MR. ROBERT: Yes, sir.
THE COURT: nd denied.
In terms of the attorney/client privilege, I think once it's out there in the world, you don't get to object on attorney/client privilege anymore. I understand that you would have if you had been part of the investigation.
In any event we looked at it and it's not his business, it's not attorney/client privilege. You can't privilege something just by claiming it's attorney/client privilege.

nd the third objection that you would have to discuss --
MR. ROBERT: The third objection is just of a matter to quote Mr. Kise, if we produce something the night before we're not going to stand on ceremony that it wasn't 24 hours. nd I appreciate the Court's ruling on the others. I just wanted to preserve the record.
THE COURT: nd Mr. Solomon?
MR. SOLOMON: Do I need to respond? It sounded as if he was just putting it on there to preserve his position if and when they intend to introduce --
THE COURT: Well, we're just talking about the third.
MR. SOLOMON: The third, very simply, Your Honor, we're using it to impeach the witness so that if he was not involved in the development or easement of the -- with respect to the Seven Springs property.
THE COURT: nd the document shows that he was?
MR. SOLOMON: We believe it does, Your Honor.
MR. ROBERT: gain, Your Honor, the question was about the development and it wasn't about the easement. Mr. Solomon's earlier question when he started to use the document and then they -- it was going to be used solely for impeachment purposes they wouldn't be using it saying they intend to use it today because under our stipulation and order with you the documents for impeachment don't have to be exchanged.

So, again, the fact that they gave it to us yesterday, I'm just making the point that we do the same thing. nd as far as the rest of it, we understand the Court's ruling. We're just preserving the objection.
THE COURT: It's in evidence over two objections and one half objection.
MR. SOLOMON: Thank you, Your Honor.
Q Sir, if you take a look at this, line four, 668. 668 through 680. Do you see that?
668?
Q 668, yes. Do you see where the gray line is across?
Yes.
Q Okay. "Bedford seven mansions approved?"
In Bedford, yes.
Q If you go up to 666, apologies for that number, but that's where it is on the spreadsheet. "North Castle, land to be used as part of main mansion."
Was that the land you were talking about that the existing buildings were on?
I don't know the towns they're in, but there was a mansion already on the property. I do know that.
Q nd if you go up one more to 665, "New Castle land to be donated?" Do you see that?

I see that.
Q Okay. Now, the Bedford talks about seven mansions approved; right?
Yes.
Q Do you recall the SOFC talked about nine?
Yes. I see that there was numbers. I don't know if they're included in the main mansion as being nine, but I see seven here. So you're saying we undervalued the -- we should have added two more to this?
Q I'm asking.
I don't -- again, I didn't do this. I did not do this. This was Jeff McConney's spreadsheet, so I don't know what -- why you count seven, I don't know.
Q I was trying to understand if you could explain the apparent discrepancy between the seven and the nine. It sounds as if the answer to that is no?
I don't know. Maybe it shouldn't have been nine. He should have raised it. I don't know.
Q Should have raised it -- sir, do you recall that there was actually an appraisal done in connection with the donation of a conservation of Seven Springs?
I believe I was involved in that exhausting the fee that was going to be charged by Cushman & Wakefield may have done an appraisal for Sheri Dillon that she was going to use for the conservation easement. Yes, I remember that.

Q Okay. Do you recall the appraised -- withdrawn. Do you recall that Cushman & Wakefield performed that appraisal?
I believe so.
Q Cushman & Wakefield is a respected firm?
Correct.
Q Do you recall the evaluation they came up with for the entirety of the Seven Springs property, the portion in Bedford, the portion in New Castle, the portion in North Castle?
No, I don't know.
Q Would it surprise you to learn that it was in the area of 56 million for everything?
Yes. gain, I have no way to react to that.
Q There is no way to react? It's 291 million on this?
Correct.
Q nd I've -- there is an appraisal for the entirety of the property, including the mansions of 56, 56 and a half million. You have no way to react?
I don't know what the appraisal with everyone including. Were they including mansions, were they including this land. I don't know. I may have seen the appraisal, so for me to comment on that would be unfair.
Q You're the CFO -- you were the CFO, excuse me, at this time?
Correct.

Q You signed the management rep letters; right?
Yes, yes.
Q nd you don't recall if you knew there was an appraisal showing a difference of somewhere in the area of $230 million in the valuation of an asset?
Correct. I did not see that appraisal. I don't recall seeing that appraisal, no.
Q nd it wouldn't matter to you because that's less than five percent of the net worth of 6 billion; correct?
That wouldn't come into play. I don't recall seeing the appraisal.
Q The question is a little different.
Even if you hadn't seen the appraisal it wouldn't matter to you because $230 million difference is less than five percent of a net worth of $6 billion?
Well, I didn't look at the net worth that year.
Q So it was 6 billion -- if you saw a difference of $230 million you wouldn't tell Mazars, would you?
It's a yes-or-no question, sir. Would you tell Mazars if you saw the appraisal for an asset that you had previously identified at 291 million come in $230 million less?
I don't know how to answer the question. The reason why I don't because --
THE COURT: You don't know how to answer the question yes or no? Would you have told them if he was seeing --

THE WITNESS: No. The answer is no.
Whereupon, the transcript continues on the following page....

Q Once you became a trustee, were you responsible for providing certifications to lending institutions as to the Statement of Financial Condition of the Trump Organization?
I believe so, yes.
Q Or the trust, I should say.
Yes.
MR. SOLOMON: Could we mark as PX 1386, this is a family of exhibits.
Q Sir, I will direct your attention specifically to page 39 of this exhibit.
Okay.
Q re you there, sir?
I have it.
Q Cover e-mail from Haroula Zapantis, do you see that?
Yes.
Q Is that person a senior accountant at the Trump Organization in or about 2017 or was that person?
Yes.
Q It says, "Please see attached report required per our loan documents for the above-referenced loan." Do you see that?
Yes.
Q nd the above reference loan is 40 Wall Street, loan number 28000723. Do you see that?
Yes.
Q Turn to the next page. Donald J. Trump summary of net worth as of June 30, 2017, do you see that?

I do.
Q Go to the bottom. I, llen Weisselberg, certify that the above information is true, correct and complete and fairly presents the financial condition of Donald J. Trump and it is signed by you as trustee; is that right?
Correct.
Q That's your signature?
Yes.
Q The numbers here are derived from the Statements of Financial Condition, right?
I believe so, yes.
Q Well, you certify that it is true --
Yes. The answer is yes.
Q Why did you issue a certification?
I'm sorry. I don't understand the question.
Q Sure. You certified that this information was correct?
Okay.
Q nd it was then sent on to Wells Fargo, right?
Okay.
Q Is that right? Look at the cover page of the e-mail.
What page is that?
Q One page before, 39 of 230.
I'm sorry.
Q Take a moment.

39 is the Haroula e-mail.
Q Is the cover, "Please see the attached report required for per our loan documents"?
Right.
Q Did you send it or did you cause someone to send it to Wells Fargo to comply with obligations and loan documents.
I would say so, yes.
Q Did you understand that there would be a default under these loan documents if you failed to provide this certification?
I don't recall the covenants of the loan off the top of my head, whether they were cure rights or things of that nature that we could cure if there was an issue. I don't know the answer to the question.
Q Did you understand it would be a breach of a covenant under the loan documents if you didn't send this certification?
I would imagine so, yes.
Q Now, you certified that the information is true, correct and complete and fairly presents the financial condition of Donald J. Trump?
Correct.
Q You told me this information came from the Statement of Financial Condition, right?
Correct.
Q You also told us earlier today that the notes to a Statement of Financial Condition are an integral part of that statement, right?

Correct.
Q You didn't send the notes, did you?
I don't know what was required in the loan document, whether they said we had to send the actual statement. We could have just done that easily. I don't know what the covenant said in the loan document.
Q Let me see if I can do this in the affirmative way.
Yes or no, did you send the notes to the financial statement?
No.
Q Please turn to page 41. I believe that's the same certification; is that right?
Yes.
Q nd page 42 is a new document from the same person on the same -- on November 7, 2017, right?
Yes.
Q On page 43 is another certification by you?
Yes.
Q Correct?
Yes.
Q That's being sent to the lender, correct?
Well, withdrawn.
That's being sent to Wells Fargo; is that right?

Is Wells Fargo the servicer of -- I want to give you an answer that I think will help you. The servicer, Wells Fargo, I don't know what loan they're servicing and every servicer requires different things to be sent to them. The loan documents say that as well. If a loan document said just send us a summary, then we complied with that covenant in the mortgage. If it says send us the Statement of Financial Condition, they would have gotten that.

Evidently, this loan indicated that they wanted a summary of a net worth, not the Statement of Financial Condition. Without seeing the document, I'm doing this purely from logic and memory, so if you had the loan document here and you could point me to what the covenant indicated, I would be able to answer the question better for you.

Q I think we can do it even faster without having you go through all the loan documents. You were sending this to Wells Fargo to comply with what you believed to be the obligations under the loan agreements, right?

Correct.

Q If you look at pages 44 and 45, similarly same date, being sent to Wells Fargo again, correct?

Same document over and over again. Same e-mail over and over again, all dated November 17th.

Q ctually, it is not. If you look at the subject, the loan numbers are different. On the first one, the loan number is 723. On the second one, it is 920. nd on the third one, it's 213. Do you see that now, sir?

I do, and that's very helpful because each one of those loans, each one of those loans are, I believe, Ladder Capital and they required a summary of Mr. Trump's net worth. So, therefore, based upon what I believed to be the covenant, we provided the summary and not the Statement of Financial Condition with the notes.

Q nd did you believe you were required to provide this information to comply with the obligations under the loan agreements?

That's correct.

Q Let's turn to the next one at pages -- at page 86. Excuse me.

86, did you say?

Q 86 of 230, yes. The page before, document withheld for privilege, but we have a summary of net worth as of June 30, 2018. Do you see that?

I do.

Q Were you certifying as a trustee that the above information is true, correct and complete and fairly presents the financial condition of Donald J. Trump?

Yes.

Q Turn to page 92, please.

You said 92?

Q 92, yes, please. We now have October 25, 2018.

I'm sorry. I'm not there yet.

Q Sure.

I'm looking at the hard copy.

Q Yes. Do you have it?

Yes, I'm flipping through it now.

Q This is again referencing loan 28000723, but this is for October 2018. Do you see that?

Yes.

Q Did you provide the -- withdrawn.

Did you certify that the above information on page 93 is true, correct and complete and fairly presents the financial condition of Donald J. Trump as of June 30, 2018?

This is 40 Wall Street. Yes.

Q Did you understand that this certification was a requirement under the loan documents?

Yes.

Q nd that a failure to provide this certification would be a breach of the Trump Organization's obligations under that loan?

Yes.

THE COURT: Seven-minute warning. You only have seven this time.

Q Please turn to page 95 and 96. You'll see again it is a cover e-mail, but this time, it's for loan 0920 and you certify again same thing, correct?

Correct.

Q nd did you understand that you were providing this to Wells Fargo to comply with Trump Organization's obligations under the reference loan agreement?

Correct.

Q Did you understand that if you failed to provide it, the Trump Organization would be in breach of its obligations under the loan agreement?

Correct.

Q Next document, page 97 to 98. gain, we have a cover e-mail, the last four digits of the reference loan is 0123. Do you see that?

I do.

Q Same certification, sir?

Yes.

Q nd did you understand that you were providing it in compliance with the Trump Organization's obligations under the reference loan?

Correct.

Q nd did you understand that if you failed to provide it or Trump Organization failed to provide this, that it would be a breach of its obligations under the loan?

Correct.

Q Please turn to page 131. Just to confirm, on all of those certifications, you signed as the trustee, right?

. WEISSELBERG - DIRECT (MR. SOLOMON) Page 931

I'm not going to go back now, but I believe so.
Q If it says "trustee" under your name, you were signing as trustee?
I didn't want to go back and check them all. Yes.
Q Understood. Page 131.
Okay.
Q We are now in November of 2019.
Okay.
Q First, there is a cover e-mail. You see that?
From Patrick Birney.
Q To someone at midlandls.com. Do you see that?
Yes.
Q Is that Midland Loan Servicing, if you know?
I don't know.
Q Mr. Birney states, "Please see the attached report required per our loan documents for the above-referenced loan." Do you see that?
Yes.
Q nd up top under subject, there is an encrypt loan number. Do you see that?
Yes.
Q If you turn to the next page 132, you're certifying as trustee that the above information is true, correct and complete and fairly presents the financial condition of limited

. WEISSELBERG - DIRECT (MR. SOLOMON) Page 932

guarantor, correct?
Yes.
Q Were you providing this certification in connection with the Trump Organization's obligations under the loan documents.
Yes.
Q Did you understand if you failed to provide this, the Trump Organization would be in breach of one or more of its obligations under the loan documents.
covenant.
Q Or a covenant of the loan document?
Yes.
Q The next page is another certification by you?
Yes.
Q ctually or the same loan summaries, two copies were sent. Do you see that?
Yeah. I don't know why.
Q Can you, please, turn to page 142.
Okay.
Q The middle of the page, Mr. Birney indicates to Tiffany McCallop again at Midland LS that he is overnighting the report to you for delivery tomorrow. Do you see that?
Yes.
Q If you turn to page 146, is that your certification of the limited guarantor's summary of net worth for loan 030308089

. WEISSELBERG - DIRECT (MR. SOLOMON) Page 933

as of June 30, 2019?
Yes.
Q Did you understand that providing that certification was a requirement of the loan documents?
Yes.
Q nd that if you failed to do so, the Trump Organization would be in breach of one of the covenants under the loan agreements?
covenant.
Q Well, one or more, one or more?
Okay. I don't know how many covenants covered this, but okay.
Q t least one?
Yes.
Q Let's turn to page 148. We have from Patrick Birney this time to Wells Fargo. Do you see that?
I do.
Q nd he's attaching a limited guarantor under loans and there are four loan numbers, summary of net worth which appears on page 149. Do you see that?
Yeah. I just don't know what loan it is. There is just a loan number. I don't know what loan it is or what -- but -- what the covenant -- yes. Go ahead.
Q You certified the foregoing above information is true, correct and complete and fairly presents the financial condition of limited guarantor, right?

Yes.
Q nd you understood that was a requirement under the loan agreements?
Correct.
Q You understood it would be a breach of a covenant if you did not provide this certification; is that right?
Yes.
Q Turn to page 150, again, the cover e-mail. Do you see that?
Yes.
Q nd 151, another certification by you as trustee?
Correct.
Q That the above information is true, correct and complete and fairly presents the financial condition of limited guarantor. You see that?
I do.
Q Did you understand that providing this certification was required under the loan agreements?
Yes.
Q Did you also understand that it would be a breach of a covenant if you failed to provide a certification?
Yes.
Q Please turn to page 152. It is from Patrick Birney to Wells Fargo. Do you see that?

Yes.
Q nd you'll see attached on the next several pages is a certification -- all certifications by you that the foregoing information contained on those pages describing a summary of net worth of a limited guarantor under the reference loans as of June 30, 2019 is true, correct and complete and fairly presents the financial condition of limited guarantor; is that correct?
Yes.
Q Did you understand that providing this certification was required under the reference loan agreements?
Yes.
Q nd did you understand that a failure to provide a certification would be a breach of a covenant under the reference loan agreement?
Yes.
THE COURT: Want to break or you --
MR. SOLOMON: I will be guided by the Court's admonition that 3:20 was the right time.
THE COURT: s usual, I will take a 10-minute break over the next 15 minutes.
(Witness exits the stand.)
(Whereupon, a recess was taken.)
(Witness resumes the stand.)
THE OFFICER: ll rise. Part 37 is back in session. Please be seated and come to order.

THE COURT: Very timely. Thanks. Please continue.
Q Mr. Weisselberg, let's talk about Trump Central Park South for a moment if we can.
Did there come a time that the Trump Organization sought a loan from Ladder Capital secured by either the residential or commercial units at Central Park South?
I believe so.
Q Was this in or around 2017?
I don't recall the year.
Q Do you recall that the principal amount of the loan was approximately $25 million?
Sounds about right.
Q Was this a short-term loan of one year or less?
I believe so, yes.
Q Do you recall the loan could actually be paid back in two months without penalty?
I don't recall the terms at all.
Q Do you recall it could be paid back earlier without penalty?
I don't recall.
Q Was the loan entered into -- was the loan entered into because the Trump Organization needed the proceeds from the loan to fund a settlement?
I don't recall -- you know, like every year's -- it's six years ago. I don't remember exactly why.

Q See if I can refresh your recollection. This was a loan with Ladder Capital, right?
Yes.
Q In fact, the person on the other side of the loan for a period of time was Jack Weisselberg, your son?
I don't know who Ladder dealt with then, if it was my son, maybe somebody else there. I don't know.
Q Did you have communications with Jack Weisselberg about this loan?
It's certainly possible.
Q Does it refresh your recollection if I were to tell you that the Trump Organization was waiting on certain sales of units, condominium units to close in order to obtain the funds it needed?
Sounds right.
Q Was the reason the Trump Organization needed the loan was because it did not want to use its own cash on hand at that time?
I don't recall the reason why, but I don't recall the reason why.
Q Was -- to your knowledge, was there a concern that the Trump Organization, that if it used its own cash on hand, it would breach its liquidity covenants under existing loans with other lenders?
gain, without having the numbers in front of me, I don't recall.

Q Without the numbers, you don't recall one way or the other if the Trump Organization sought this short-term $25 million loan in order to avoid breaching its liquidity covenants under loan agreements?
I don't recall.
Q Doesn't sound familiar to you at all?
It sounds somewhat familiar, but I don't recall.
Q See if I can refresh your -- well, let's see if I can refresh your recollection.
Okay.
Q re you familiar with any situation in which you either had a concern or an issue with breaching the liquidity covenants under any loan agreement entered into by the Trump Organization?
re we going back ever?
Q 2011 to present.
Did I ever have a concern about breaching the liquidity requirements under a loan? I honestly -- possibly. Possibly. I just don't recall exactly specifically if I did or not, but it's possible. I don't recall.
Q If you don't recall specifically what about generally, do you have a general recollection that you had to take a short-term loan from Ladder in order to pay a settlement?
I recall the time that we had the apartments that we sold, they were contracted to be closed. I don't know what year it was. When you say 2017, that's certainly possible. I don't recall the year. Was there a concern about liquidity? Possibly.

. WEISSELBERG - DIRECT (MR. SOLOMON) Page 939

Q So your testimony is it is possible that there was a liquidity concern over a $25 million payment; is that right?

Or we didn't -- or we chose not to use our own cash for another --

Q That's not my question, sir. You spoke about liquidity and you said it was possible, so I want to make sure your testimony is crystal clear.

Is it possible that there was a concern about breaching a liquidity requirement in existing loan agreements that caused the Trump Organization to obtain a short-term loan from Ladder Capital?

It's possible.

Q re you familiar with a partnership or partnerships that the Trump Organization has with Vornado?

Yes.

Q These partnerships own the buildings at 1290th venue of the mericas in New York; is that right?

Yes.

Q s well as 555 California Street in California, right?

Correct.

Q Do those partnership entities maintain bank accounts to your knowledge?

. WEISSELBERG - DIRECT (MR. SOLOMON) Page 940

I'm sure they do, yes.

Q Between 2011 and your departure from the Trump Organization, to your understanding, could the Trump Organization access any of the cash in the partnership accounts without Vornado's consent?

Not without, no.

Q To your knowledge, did the cash identified on Mr. Trump's Statements of Financial Condition between 2011 and your departure include the cash or his portion of the cash held in the Vornado partnership accounts?

I believe it did along with their portion of accounts payable as well.

Q Is accounting for in that way in a financial statement a proper way to account for it under G P?

gain, I'm not familiar with G P, so I would leave it up to Mazars.

Q s we saw earlier, you represented to Mazars that the Statements of Financial Condition complied with G P except as noted, right?

Based upon Mazars' --

Q Yes or no, sir. You made that representation to Mazars that the Statements of Financial Condition complied with G P except as noted; is that correct?

Yes.

Q Do you know Doug Parson?

. WEISSELBERG - DIRECT (MR. SOLOMON) Page 941

I never met him, no. I know the name. I never met him.

Q Who is he? You communicated with him; is that correct?

I don't know if I did directly or Jeff and Patrick did. He may have sent me an e-mail periodically. It's possible. I just don't remember.

Q Was he at Cushman & Wakefield at some point in time, to your knowledge?

I believe he was there and then I think he moved on to Newmark.

Q Did you ever have any discussions with him whether over the phone, in person, e-mail, any other form of communication concerning a valuation issue for any Trump Organization asset?

If I had a conversation, I don't recall it. It's over the many years. It's certainly possible we said hello to each other, but I don't recall speaking with him. That was pretty much in Jeff and Patrick's hands to deal with him.

THE COURT: But the question wasn't conversation. It was communication, which would be conversation, face to face, telephone, e-mail, text, et cetera.

THE WITNESS: Yes, your Honor. s I mentioned, there may have been an e-mail at some point to me. That's possible, yes.

MR. SOLOMON: Could we, please, mark PX 3110.

Q Let's take that down and come back to it in a moment.

Page 942

When Mr. Larson was at Cushman, did the Trump Organization, not just you, but the Trump Organization, to your knowledge, use his services?

I don't recall. I think banks -- banks who were providing funding -- to answer your question, I don't remember.

Q I imagine that you left Cushman at some point in time?
I believe so.
Q Do you have any idea when that was?
No.
Q You eventually went Newmark?
Yes.
Q To your knowledge did anyone at the Trump Organization use Mr. Larson's services when he was at Newmark?
Not that I'm aware of.
Q Let's talk a little bit about how the Trump Organization obtains insurance coverage.
During your time as CFO, let's say from 2011 until your departure, what was the process, if any, for the Trump Organization to either renew its existing insurance or obtain new insurance coverage?
So Ron Leiberman, whose name I mentioned earlier, he was in charge of our insurance and he dealt with ON. We'd have meetings periodically. It was a group of I think three or four of us who would listen to ON about what was coming up in the way we rules, what the market was like, where our premiums might be going, coverages, availability of coverages and then at some point it will come back with a program whether it was for liability insurance or for property insurance and -- or aviation and then we would make some decision as to which policy we would take.

Q What about sureties?
Sorry?
Q What about sureties?
We had some sureties, not very much, I don't believe. Relatively small that I can remember. If we used to work on the golf course and they ask for a surety bond for a few bucks, we'd put one up. Nothing major.
Q You mentioned there was a group of people. Have you heard the expression, "a team of four?"
I did hear it. I don't know where it came from.
Q Did it come from someone at ON?
Maybe, yes. Yes, possibly.
Q Do you know who the four people are that were part of that group?
I was on it, Ron Leiberman, I believe Michael Cohen was on it, and Matthew Culimary (ph).
Q You mentioned you would meet with ON; is that correct?
ON with 13.
Q nd ON would act as the broker for the Trump Organization; is that correct?
Correct.
Q nd they would solicit bids from potential insurers; correct?
Correct.
Q Sir, this is an e-mail Martha Blackman sent on behalf of Pamela Newton. Do you see that?

. Weisselberg - Petitioner - direct (Solomon) Page 945

Yes.
Q nd you are one of the recipients; right?
Yes.
Q February 14, 2013?
Yes.
Q nd you say, "Gentlemen, ON is committed to delivering to the Trump Organization the best service and the best results;" right?
Yes.
Q nd right under there writes, quote, "a team of four?"
That's where it came from.
Q I was going to ask you does that refresh your recollection?
Yes, I never heard it until -- yes, team of four, okay.
Q Was Pamela Newman the Trump Organization's representative at ON?
I think she was the point person.
Q So it's fair to say that the four of you, the team of four, were involved in dealing with ON?
I didn't deal with them other than to attend the meeting. Ron Leiberman dealt with them more on a day-to-day basis, but when there was a meeting we wanted to discuss our insurance program, then all four of us would come to those meetings. I would say for the most part Ron Leiberman was the one -- was the interface of the company with ON.

Q You were involved in coverage buying decisions?
We -- all the four of us were.
Q Were you involved in any other aspect of insurance coverage for the Trump Organization?
I am not sure -- it's a broad question. I'm not sure what that means.
Q Well, you will say there are different roles identified here and after your name it says "coverage buying decisions." Do you see that?
I see it now. I was focused over here.
Q That's all right.
nd you indicated that other people were involved in that?
Correct.
Q I'm just curious if you were involved -- since there may have seems to be overlap -- if you were involved in any of the other areas identified in this exhibit?
No. I wasn't involved in the claims or casualty of risk. That wasn't something that I did, no.
MR. SOLOMON: Can we move PX 3119 into evidence, please?
THE COURT: Granted. It's in evidence.
Q Now, did the existing insurers and sureties for the Trump Organization want to see annual financial statements?

The insurance companies, meaning the ones that bought the property insurance and liability insurance?
Q Yes.
I don't recall them asking for it, no.
Q Do you recall if the sureties asked for an opportunity to review the financial statements?
The surety, yes.
Q In fact, as a condition of either retaining a new surety coverage, the sureties insisted upon it; is that right?
That I don't know, but we had meetings every year and I don't know who that was -- yes, I don't know whether or not that was a requirement. Ron Leiberman might know that it was a requirement, but when they asked me to attend the meeting, I would just go to the meeting with the Statement and review it with them.
Q Okay. You didn't give them a copy -- excuse me -- you didn't give the surety company a copy of the Statement of Financial --
No, we allowed them into the office to spend as much time to review it, yes.
Q nd they were allowed to make notes; right?
Yes.
Q Did you have any understanding as to why they wanted to come in each year and review the current -- or then current Statement of Financial Condition?

. Weisselberg - Petitioner - direct (Solomon) Page 948

I really don't know why.
Q Did you have an understanding that they would decline to renew your policy if you did not give them the opportunity -- let me rephrase that.
Did they require the Trump Organization to give them an opportunity to review the Statement of Financial Condition as a condition of renewing the policy?
If that were the case they would have communicated that to ON who would have communicate that to Ron Leiberman who would have asked me to go to a meeting with the Statement of Financial Condition.
Q When the sureties or representatives from the sureties came to your offices to review the Statements of Financial Condition were you present?
Yes.
Q Did anyone from any of sureties ever ask, either you directly or in your presence, whether there were appraisals from any of the assets identified on the Statements of Financial Condition?
Not that I can remember.
Q Did you ever come to learn that any of the sureties asked about the existence of appraisals from any of the assets on the Statement of Financial Condition?
I'm not sure I understand that. Learned from?
Q First question was in your presence?

. Weisselberg - Petitioner - direct (Solomon) Page 949

Oh.
Q The second was did you ever learn from anyone else that they had made that request?
I do not recall that, no.
Q Did you ever advise any of the brokers, insurers or sureties that you had appraisals performed by a third party for any of the assets on the Statements of Financial Condition?
I don't recall them doing that, no.
Q You don't recall. Is it possible you did?
No, he didn't.
Q Did you ever advise any of the brokers, insurers or sureties that you had valuations performed by a third party from any of the assets on the Statements of Financial Condition?
Not that I can remember, no.
Q Let's take a look at PX 1552. ctually, before we -- no.
MR. SOLOMON: I guess 3119 came into evidence already; right? It did?
Q Okay. Let's turn to PX 1552, please.
Sir, do you recall meeting with someone from Zurich Insurance in or about November of 2018?
We met with them manually, so I'm not sure the date, but we met with them manually.
Q Do you recognize the name Claudia Markarian?
I don't know who she is because the people changed

. Weisselberg - Petitioner - direct (Solomon) Page 950

every couple years, so if she was there on behalf of Zurich, I would say she was a representative, yes.
Q Do you also have in front of you, please, PX 773, which is the June 30, 2018 Statement of Financial Condition.
Now, sir, if you look at Ms. Markarian's notes and you go down to the "cash on hand," which is under the 11/28/2018, the third dash. Do you see that?
Yes.
Q Okay. nd if we turn to the Statement of Financial Condition assets page, please. You'll see Ms. Markarian notes cash on hand was 76.2 million. That matches exactly; right?
Correct.
Q nd she notes escrow funds were 22.7 million?
Correct.
Q Matches?
Correct.
Q Total assets, 6.6 billion. Do you see that in the next dash on Ms. Markarian's notes?
I'm looking. I'm sorry.
Q Sorry. If you look up on the screen, sir? It's highlighted?
Yes, yes.
Q nd if you look on the Statement of Financial Condition, 6.538, round it to 6.6 billion. So she is right again?

. Weisselberg - Petitioner - direct (Solomon) Page 951

Yes.
Q The largest property is Trump Tower at 732. Do you see that?
Yes.
Q nd on the Statement of Financial Condition Trump Tower first entry 732. So her notes are all consistent with the Statements of Financial Condition; right?
She is copying numbers from here, so she should be accurate.
Q She is right about everything; right?
bout that.
Q bout that, okay.
Now, she also states in the fourth dash, second sentence: "The fair value of the properties is determined by professional firms (such as Cushman & Wakefield) using cap rates and net operating income as factors." Do you see that?
Not correct.
Q It's not correct?
Not correct. s a matter of fact, if you look at a prior underwriter's report that is absolutely not correct.
Q So she is right about everything else except that?
Well, it's easy to copy numbers, but where she got that from, I don't know.
MR. SOLOMON: Let's mark as PX 1561 for identification, please.

. Weisselberg - Petitioner - direct (Solomon) Page 952

Q Now, this is another meeting note report from Ms. Markarian; correct?
I happened to glance down to the same area you mentioned before --
Q Okay.
-- with the appraisals.
Q nd she has cash on hand matches?
Yes, good copy job. She is copying numbers from there.
Q She got it all right for the numbers; right?
She copied the numbers correctly.
Q Okay. The fifth dash, second sentence?
Yes.
Q "The fair value of the properties is appraised annually by a professional firm. This year it was done by Newmark Group and has previously done" -- "been done by Cushman & Wakefield."
The reason for the change is the individual at Cushman & Wakefield with whom the organization had a longstanding relationship with moved to work at Newmark?
Correct.
Q Hence, Trump Organization continued to work with the same person for their property valuations. Do you see that?
That is work with the same person to gather the data, as I indicated earlier this morning, from Doug Larson to give us some summary of properties that was sold to get cap rates and be able to do comps. That's what we got from Doug Larson and he never did appraisals for us. We don't have any appraisals from him.

Q Did you tell Ms. Markarian that you were using someone at Cushman?
No. I -- it may have been Jeff. It may have been Jeff who is sitting in the same meeting or Patrick Birney that they were reaching out to Cushman, speak to Doug Larson to get this report every year. So we can take that report and be able to take it and to be able to value up partial properties.
Q nd Ms. Markarian was correct that the Trump Organization's person had moved from Cushman to Newmark; right?
Whoever dealt with her at the time, whether it was Jeff or Patrick Birney, probably told her that, sure.
Q You don't recall ever telling her that?
I don't recall telling her that, no.
Q Were you present when someone told her that?
I don't remember if it was Jeff or Patrick. When I -- my purpose in those meetings if you read her notes carefully it indicated that I spoke to her on the company on a broad basis; where the company was going, what it was doing, our debt that we had with her company, but when it came to discussing asset valuations, that I left to Jeff and to Patrick since they work on those. I never discussed that with her, no.
Q Were you present for all the conversations Jeff and Patrick had with Ms. Markarian?

It was all purpose of the same meeting.
Q So were you there when they described to her how the assets were valued?
Yes, I was at the meeting and they told her that they called Doug Larson and Larson provided a summary of comps for downtown Manhattan or midtown Manhattan and he would take those -- Jeff would take those comps or Patrick would, valuations and cap rates and so on and then he would do his computation, but to say that we --
THE COURT: Finish, please.
To say that we got appraisals from them, that was -- I don't recall that conversation at all.
THE COURT: Can you read back the last question? nd listen carefully.
(Whereupon, the requested portion of the proceedings was read back by the court reporter.)
THE COURT: That's a simple yes or no --
THE WITNESS: Yes, I was there.
Q Were you there when they told her that their person had left Cushman and gone to Newmark?
I don't know if he told her that then or later. I may have gone out for a minute, so it's possible I was sitting there at the time.
Q So is it possible when you went out for a minute, they told them -- they told Ms. Markarian they had valuations?

They didn't have valuation.
Q Wasn't my question.
Before you said you were in the meeting; now you said you may have stepped out for a minute?
No. The question you asked me was I there when they told her that Mr. Larson moved from Cushman to Newmark. I probably was sitting there when they said that, but is it possible they ran for a second to do something, it is.
But as far as valuation are concerned we have never gotten appraisals on our properties. We didn't have a reason to. If we were going for financing a bank would require that they would do it. We have no reason to go out and just arbitrarily spend hundreds of thousands of dollars, hundreds of thousands of dollars to appraise a property. For what purpose?
She is not a real estate person. She is in insurance business. She doesn't know a good appraisal property from something else, but we had no real reason to go out and get an appraisal. It was no purpose for it.
Q So now you're testifying about what you believe Ms. Markarian knows and doesn't know?
No. I'm saying she worked for an insurance company and I think don't know if she has the knowledge of real estate, but from what she's written here it just seems as though she does not. I'm not telling you she doesn't. I just want to read it.
Q You said you didn't get appraisals; right?

We did not get appraisals.
Q Did you have an appraisal for 40 Wall Street? In the Trump Organization's possession was there an appraisal for 40 Wall Street?
There was --
Q It's a yes-or-no question, sir.
MR. KISE: In what year are we talking about now? What year of this meeting are we talking about, in 2011?
THE COURT: The question is at anytime.
MR. KISE: t anytime.
MR. SOLOMON: The witness has testified we didn't get appraisals.
THE WITNESS: We didn't get -- we didn't hire anybody to get appraisals.
Q But did you have appraisals in your possession?
It's possible, but we never ordered an appraisal.
Q Let's talk about appraisals you had in your possession, whether or not you ordered them or came into their possession through some other means. Did the Trump Organization have appraisals in its possession?
If we had appraisals it doesn't necessarily mean we used them for any purpose. Well, if you want a yes-or-no answer, that's what you're looking for, the answer is I don't remember if we had appraisals. I don't recall at this point if we had appraisals in our office.

Q t any point in time did you have an appraisal for 40 Wall Street?
It's possible. I don't recall.
Q Did you have an appraisal for Seven Springs?
That was done for the conservation easement.
Q So the answer is yes?
Yes.
Q t some point in time do you recall obtaining a copy of an appraisal that was done for a lender on what was referred to as the Miami property?
I don't know what property that is.
Q Did you sign a lease to allow a lender to provide a copy of an appraisal to you for a property in Florida?
I may have. I don't recall.
Just so you understand, if I may? ppraisals basically is an art. It's not a science. n appraisal doesn't necessarily mean what the person preparing that appraisal is always perfect. History has proven that all the time because you can have a recession and three years before that no one could have thought of a recession and all of a sudden values that were projected to being X now became Y because nobody could predict the future and know what you know at the time, but again, it's an art. It's not a science.
THE COURT: Okay. There is no question.
MR. SOLOMON: Your Honor, move to strike as nonresponsive as there was not even a question pending.

THE COURT: Granted. That whole speech is stricken. There wasn't any question.
Q I'll just make sure that my question wasn't too narrow. When I'm asking about appraisals the Trump Organization has, I'm including appraisals that may have been done by a bank but then subsequently came into the Trump Organization's possession. Did you understand my question to include those as well?
No, I didn't before.
Q Okay. Then let's go back.
THE COURT: I didn't either for the record.
MR. KISE: I didn't either. That's why I'm making my objection about time frame because it's very confusing. We're talking about a 2019 meeting. Does he mean at anytime in the 30 years?
THE COURT: I don't think we're talking about the 2019 meeting anymore.
Q Let's limit it to 2011, the time when you left the Trump Organization.
Did the Trump Organization have in its possession appraisals, whether or not ordered by the Trump Organization, a lender or some other third party?
It's a possibility we had some, yes.
Q nd did you or anyone in your presence advise

Page 959

Ms. Markarian that you had those appraisals?
Not that I can remember. When she was there we talked about a specific year. If it was a yes-or-no answer, it doesn't fit into the category. I'm sorry.
I don't mean to be disrespectful to the Court, but if he's talking about 2019 did I have an appraisal in 2018 or 2019, I don't think we did. If we're going back to an earlier year, maybe we're discussing 2019 right now. re you referring to a different time period?
Q I'm asking from 2011 to your departure.
Did we ever have an appraisal? We may have an appraisal a year after it was issued, possibly. Banks don't have to give it to you; it's their property. They -- we pay for it, but it belongs to them.
Whereupon, the transcript continues on the following page....

Q Let's talk about Mar- -Lago for a moment. re you aware of any deed restrictions relating to the Mar- -Lago property?
I'm not familiar with the deed regarding Mar- -Lago. It happened many, many years ago. I don't -- I don't recall reading the deed. I may have had it in my file -- in my office. I never even looked at it. It's more a legal document that the lawyers in our office might have, but I never del- -- I never really delved into it, no.
Q Do you know if Mr. McConney was aware of any deed restrictions relating to Mar- -Lago?
I don't know if he did or did not. I don't know.
Q Do you know if Mr. McConney considered any deed restrictions with respect to Mar- -Lago when determining the value of the property for the Statements of Financial Condition?
I don't know.
Q But you testified earlier you relied upon Mr. McConney?
I did.
Q For the Statements of Financial Condition, correct?
Correct.
Q I'm going to go back to the Statements of Financial Condition for a moment. Once you became a trustee and Mr. Trump became president, who, if anyone, had final signoff authority for the SOFC's?
Good question.

Q Thank you.
You're more than welcome. I don't recall how -- I think once the statement was complied, whether we went to Eric Trump and just showed it to him, I just don't remember what happened. It was a lot going on because the company changed how we do business because of Donald not being there. It was easier for me to walk into his office. I don't recall whether anyone had a final signoff on the documents. I don't recall.
Q t some point before you sent it to Mazars, you had to have a comfort level that it was complete and accurate, right?
That it was -- yes.
Q nd who made the final call that it was complete and accurate?
I don't remember. I don't remember when we -- whether Jeff went down to Eric and spoke to him or not. I just don't remember.
Q Donald Trump, Jr. was also a trustee, correct?
Correct.
Q For the statement of financial condition after Mr. Trump became president, those were statements that were done by the trustees; is that correct?
Statements done by the trustees?
Q It says the trustees have -- to the effect of the valuations have been done by the trustees in consultation. Do you recall that?

. WEISSELBERG - DIRECT (MR. SOLOMON) Page 962

No.
Q Let's open that up, PX 773. Do you recognize this to be the Donald J. Trump Statement of Financial Condition for year ending June 30, 2018?
Yes.
Q Turn to the second page.
Okay.
Q Very first line, the trustees of the Donald J. Trump Revocable Trust dated pril 7, 2014 as amended on behalf of Donald J. Trump are responsible for the accompanying Statement of Financial Condition as of June 30, 2018 and the related notes to the financial statement in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of merica, do you see that?
Yes.
Q If you can turn to under real and operating properties, Trump Park venue. Do you see that?
Sorry? I'm looking at the hard copy.
Q Sure. Page seven, page 9 of 24 of the exhibit.
Yes.
Q You will see the estimated -- just for Trump Park venue as an example, the estimated current value of 175,700,000 is based upon an evaluation made by the trustees in conjunction with their associates and outside professionals of the amount that will be earned as a result of the sale of the remaining condominium units as well as applying a capitalization rate to the stabilized net operating income to be derived from the commercial space.

Yes.

Q Does that refresh your recollection that the trustees in conjunction with their associates, outside professionals, others made a determination as to the evaluation that appears on the Statement of Financial Condition?

Those words took the place of Donald J. Trump.

Q So did the trustees do anything or did they just use the prior numbers?

Prior numbers?

Q In other words, it says the trustees made an evaluation, right?

The statement was prepared the same way every year if that's your question. But now, instead of Donald J. Trump and his associates and outside professionals, it now says trustees instead.

Q What, if anything, did you as a trustee do to determine the estimated current value of 175,700,000 as reflected in the document that we're looking at?

Same thing I did before. The CFO Jeffrey McConney and Patrick Birney arrived at values and I reviewed them.

Q Other than reviewing someone else's work, did you do any independent work?

No. I'm not a valuation person. I relied upon the people that I relied upon in the prior 25 years.

Q I believe you told me earlier Donald Trump, Jr. was also trustee at this point in time?

Yes.

Q What, if anything, did he do, to your knowledge, to determine the estimated current value?

I don't believe he did anything. It was -- it was done by the same people that did it for 25 years.

Q nd those are people you relied upon?

THE COURT: Ten-minute warning.

Yes.

Q Did Donald J. Trump have any familiarity with these people, to your knowledge?

People meaning --

Q Meaning the ones you relied upon.

Jeffrey McConney and Patrick Birney?

Q Yes.

Yes.

Q Do you know if he relied upon the same people you relied upon?

I believe he did, yes.

Q re those the associates that are referred to in this description in the notes?

long with others that may have worked with Jeff and Patrick. There were people that got other information as I mentioned earlier this morning. Different parts of the statements were done by different people, so not just Jeff and Patrick, but it could have been some other people that submit information that Jeff and Patrick needed in order to finish the statement such as cash balances and things of that nature.

Q Did you discuss the Statement of Financial Condition before it was finalized with Donald Trump, Jr. for the years when you were both trustees?

I don't remember. I don't remember.

Q Do you know if Mr. McConney or anyone in his direction ever explained to Donald Trump, Jr. during the years he was a trustee how the values were calculated on the Statement of Financial Condition?

That is something you would have to ask him if he did it. I don't know.

Q Was it -- was that explanation ever given or description ever given in your presence?

Not in my presence, no.

Q Did you tell Donald Trump, Jr. during the time you were both trustees how the values were calculated?

Not that I can remember.

Q Do you know if Mr. McConney ever provided a copy of his supporting data spreadsheet to Donald Trump, Jr. when Mr. Trump was a trustee?

If he did, I wouldn't know about it. I wasn't there to see it.

Q Sir, we put back up and I asked you to look at the third page of the exhibit. That's the asset page. We were talking generally about the Vornado cash earlier. Do you recall that?

I do.

Q This was amounts that were held in the partnership accounts for the partnerships between the Trump Organization and Vornado, right?

Correct.

Q That's what we were talking about.

Just so we're clear, does that $76,200,000 number include any of the cash that's held in the Vornado accounts?

gain, if you can show me the spreadsheet that Mr. McConney put together, that might answer the question. It would help me.

Q s you sit here today, do you know --

I think it does, but I would like to be reassured by looking at the spreadsheet if you don't mind.

Q We can go back to that.

For the club facilities and related real estate, do you see that entry?

Yes.

Q 2.3499. To your knowledge, does that include future development of any of those properties?

Yes.
Q Is the value of that future development for any of those properties discounted to present value?
No. I believe according to G P, we are allowed to use future value to value the asset this way. We relied upon the Mazars firm. They saw the spreadsheets. They saw the future value and they did not say anything about the number at all. Otherwise, it would have changed.
Q So now you're telling me you do know something about G P?
I know about G P as we discussed this morning, about what the personal statement versus a corporate statement. That's my limited knowledge of G P.
Q Well, you just told me that G P allows you to record that without having to reduce it to present value. You just told me.
What I told you was that Donald Bender and Mazars's firm who are G P experts, who are a CP firm, they know the rules of G P and they allowed future values to be put on this statement because they saw the spreadsheet from Mr. McConney and it showed future value. So based on that, I understand that you could use future value in order to be able to value assets on a personal financial statement.
Q nd it is your testimony that they saw future values on the spreadsheet; is that right?

I -- again, without having the spreadsheet in front of me, that's all Bender would have had in front of him.
Q Well, you just said they saw the spreadsheet.
Yeah. Yeah, because Jeff gave them every spreadsheet. Whatever they wanted, Jeff will give it to them.
Q Is it your testimony that those spreadsheets indicated that those were future income streams?
I believe -- I'm trying to recall without seeing the spreadsheet in the words that are on there. I believe so.
Q But you, sir, on behalf of the Trump Organization up until when Mr. Trump became president and then as a trustee certified or represented to Mazars that the statements complied with G P you did that, right? Yes or no?
Yes.
Q Mazars didn't certify to you that they were complying with G P, did they; yes or no?
Yes.
Q Yes, they did?
Rephrase your question.
THE COURT: Perfect example.
MR. SOLOMON: Yes.
Q Did Mazars certify to the Trump Organization that the Trump Organization's financials complied with G P?
Mazars would not have released a statement if it did not comply with G P because they were the G P experts.

Q nd they were -- withdrawn.
It was represented to them that those statements complied with G P by you, sir; is that right? Yes or no?
Represent in a letter that they prepared for me to sign.
Q The management representation letter from the Trump Organization to Mazars, right?
That was prepared by Mazars.
Q nd you signed it?
That's correct.
Q nd you gave it to Mazars?
Correct.
Q nd you knew that they wouldn't have issued the SOFC's without them, right?
I knew that they -- the answer is yes.
Q Thank you.
Right.
MR. SOLOMON: Your Honor, it is 4:29.
THE COURT: You're really pushing it, aren't you, Mr. Solomon?
I think unless there is something else, we will come back tomorrow at ten o'clock.
MR. SOLOMON: Your Honor, could we have an instruction to the witness to not discuss his testimony with counsel during the evening break?

THE COURT: Okay. He can't discuss it with anyone.
Mr. Weisselberg, don't discuss this case, your testimony or anything about it with anyone.
THE WITNESS: I won't.
(Witness excused.)

THE COURT OFFICER: ll rise. Part 37 is now in session. The Honorable Judge rthur Engoron presiding.

Make sure all cell phones are silent. Laptops and cell phones will be permitted, but only to members of the press. There is absolutely no recording or photography of any kind allowed in the courtroom. Now be seated and come to order.

THE COURT: Tommy, do you want some hot tea after that?

Thanks for being here. Of course I don't read the papers and go online and look to read about this case, but there is some issue that keeps coming up: there is no jury. It's not just because we need a box for the screen there. s the lawyers know and the lay people may not, there is law and then there is equity.

In law, generally legal cases are about money damages; equitable cases are about injunctive relief, telling someone you can and can't do something. nd here's how it's determined whether there is a jury or not. When -- either side, any party can file a Note of Issue saying that disclosure is finished and the case is basically ready for trial, the person who files that Note of Issue checks off a box, says they want a jury trial or they don't want a jury trial. That's assumed to be the case, but the other side has I think it's 15 days or so to object and say no, we don't want a jury or no, we want a jury and then it's up to the judge to decide is this a legal case with a jury or an equitable case with no jury.

I believe what happened here is the ttorney General clearly checked off nonjury and there was no motion to -- for a jury, but my research and llison's research told us that all the relief requested here was equitable. So it would not have helped to make a motion. Nobody forgot to check off a box. We're having a nonjury trial because this is a nonjury case, sometimes called a bench trial. That's why I'm sitting up here.

Would anybody like to correct me or comment on that?

MS. H BB : I would like to say thank you, Your Honor.

Press, did you hear that? I didn't forget to check the box.

MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, I would just add that actually in New York practice unlike, say, federal practice, the Court is to determine what the weight of the claims are and so that it will not have a divided jury and trial claims the way you might in federal practice and that if the relief is primarily either equitable or legal is what determines whether there will be a jury or not. We do not in state practice have the opportunity to divide trials as you might in federal practice.

MS. H BB : Thank you. nd we did discuss it on March 3rd and we discussed this exact topic, but thank you, Your Honor. I appreciate it.
THE COURT: Sure. We're all learning.
MS. H BB : Yes.
THE COURT: Okay. I understand that there is an attorney that would like to address the Court and everyone else about the next witness?
MR. ZENSKY: David Zensky for the record.
I'll be brief. Good morning, Justice Engoron. David Zensky of kin Gump Straus Hauer & Feld, and we are counsel for Deutsche Bank. s the Court knows, today's witness is being called to testify about events that occurred while employed at Deutsche Bank in the credit risk management area. I appeared in court today for the limited and almost certainly unnecessary purpose of protecting against the disclosure of Deutsche Bank's -- information protected by Deutsche Bank's attorney/client or work product privileges and/or to prevent the disclosure of information that is confidential, supervisory information which the bank is obligated to keep secret under federal and state regulations.
I've consulted with counsel for all parties and no one has an objection to being heard on an issue should it arise, but no one believes that such an issue will arise, so I'd simply ask the Court for permission to be recognized of need be.

THE COURT: Okay. How should we do this logistically? Do you want to sit towards the front and raise your hand if there is an issue?
MR. ZENSKY: Whatever suits the Court. I'm happy to sit where I was. gain, it's unlikely to occur, but whatever the Court believes is appropriate.
THE COURT: Well, you can be on the 30-yard line and the 50-yard line. Why don't you sit in the front bench, if that's okay?
MR. ZENSKY: Okay, that's fine. I do likely like the 50-yard line, though.
THE COURT: That's what I say.
MR. ZENSKY: Thank you, Your Honor. I appreciate it.
THE COURT: Plaintiff, are you ready to call your next witness?
MR. W LL CE: Certainly. The next witness People call is Nicholas Haigh.
THE COURT: I control a lot but not the music coming from the plaza out there.
THE COURT OFFICER: Witness entering.
(Whereupon, the witness enters the courtroom and approaches the witness stand.)

THE COURT OFFICER: Please raise your right hand. Do you solemnly swear or affirm that any testimony you give will be the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth?
THE WITNESS: Yes, I do.
THE COURT OFFICER: Please have a seat.
State your name and either business or home address on the record.
THE WITNESS: My full name is James Nicholas Haigh. My home address is 712 Seney venue, Mamaroneck, New York, and I am currently retired.
THE COURT: nd I'll ask the witness to speak loudly, slowly, clearly. nd these microphones are very particular; you have to be really close to them.
THE WITNESS: I apologize.
THE COURT: Please proceed, Mr. Wallace.
DIRECT EX MIN TION
BY MR. W LL CE:
Q Good morning, Mr. Haigh. I believe we met at your deposition, but my name is Kevin Wallace. I'm an attorney with the New York ttorney General's Office.
Just at the start, can you describe your educational background for the Court?
Yes. So I grew up in Brittain high school. I went to university or college at the University of Manchester between 1975 and 1978. Then I trained as a chartered surveyor and qualified as a chartered surveyor I think in about 1981.

Q nd what does it mean to be a chartered surveyor?
It's a professional qualification in the UK and some of the other commonwealth countries around real estate.
Q Okay. nd what kind of tasks with someone who is a chartered surveyor undertake in relation to real estate?
So I was a general practice chartered surveyor. So we did all sorts of things from landlord and tenant negotiation, acquisition of real estate, purchase, looking at appraisals, doing appraisals or valuations that they tend to be called over there.
I worked for a government, local government for awhile and -- actually, no. It's for the national government but in a local area. nd for one of the utility companies and then I worked for an investment fund running a pension fund, acquiring real estate assets for their pension fund. nd then I moved to a U.S. bank and gave advice to some of their clients in real estate in Europe -- in the UK.
Q I believe you just stated that you're currently retired; is that correct?
That's correct.
Q What was your prior job before you retired?
The previous four years I have worked for Bank of merica as a -- what they called a credit officer, but I was making loans to private clients and their private clients' business.

Q nd what sort of work would you do as a credit officer at Bank of merica?

-- Bank of merica.

It involved talking with clients about the bank's various credit products; it involved looking at clients' financial positions to assess whether they qualified and were suitable for those credit products; it involved negotiating with the bank's internal risk approval people and underwriters around how to underwrite a client document and their financial position, negotiate loan terms, if necessary, and so that was mostly what it was.

Q I believe you said working -- sorry. Underwrite loans and helping work through them documenting their financial position. Could you just describe what that entails?

Bank of merica had an underwriting process where it would analyze the financial condition of its potential and actual borrowers and it involved looking at the client's financial information capturing that in a very standardized way and analyzing that information to then use all that information in order to derive a risk rated score for its client's probability default.

Q nd that would help govern the terms of the loan they might be eligible for and able to obtain?

Yes, so that would -- indeed it would perfect all of those matters.

Q So before you began at Bank of merica what was the position you held prior to that?

So immediately prior to that I was employed on a part-time basis by a consulting firm who provided services to Deutsche Bank and I was working for that firm part time for about four months or three and a half months within Deutsche Bank's private wealth management business line -- not business line but with supporting their group.

Q Just so I'm understanding that the consulting firm you were doing work for you in the process of providing consulting services to the Deutsche Bank private wealth management group; am I understanding that correctly?

Correct.

Q nd so before that consulting position what position did you hold?

So prior to that I had been the risk officer for the head of risk for Deutsche Bank's risk group covering their private wealth management business.

Q nd what was your title in that position?

I was a managing director of the bank.

Q nd how long did you hold that role?

I held that role from mid 2008 until the end of 2018.

Q nd was mid 2018 the time you left Deutsche Bank?

End of 2018 I was -- I left Deutsche bank.

Q nd why did you leave Deutsche Bank in the end of 2018?

My -- my employment was terminated.

Q Do you know why it was terminated?

I believe it was for cutting -- cost cutting reasons.

Q Were you told anything about the reason in particular, though?

No other than just generally the cost cutting environment that the bank was in.

Q t the time of your departure from Deutsche Bank how long had you been working with the company?

So I had been working for Deutsche Bank or for Banker's Trust which Deutsche Bank bought. I joined banker's Trust I think in 1990 and I had taken one year off but apart from that one year off the whole rest of the time I've been working for either Banker's Trust until 1999 and then Deutsche Bank until 2018.

Q So going back to your role at credit risk management. If I could just focus on the period from 2011 through mid 2018, what were your responsibilities as the head of credit risk management?

So I was the head of credit risk management covering the private wealth management business under whatever name it was going by at the time and I ran a relatively small team of people. Our job was to do the policy work and the credit approval work around any credit exposures that the credit wealth management group was taking.

Q You mentioned the private wealth management business. What is that business? Could you describe it for us?

It's the division of Deutsche Bank that was serving high net worth individuals and providing various products to them, including credit products.

Q nd so you mentioned it was your job to examine the credit exposure. Could you just describe for us the sort of -- what are you doing when you're looking at that exposure?

So in very broad terms we're assessing the risk profile of a client in order to come up with an accurate risk rating, risk assessment of that client and also we are looking at the entire proposal for that -- the entire credit proposal to make sure it fits within the desired risk profile of the bank.

Q nd so are you approving the credit decisions?

Yes. We have the final -- the final approval on all credit decisions for those clients.

Q So I'd just like to go through a few of those. How would you go about assessing the risk profile of the client?

We based our assessment of the risk profile of the client on their financial position, so we would look at the financial data that we had on the client typically from some sort of statement of financial condition, supplement it with things such as validated and verified statements of -- from banks, from brokerage accounts. So we'd capture information about their financial position in a spreadsheet format and that information would then be used in our risk rating methodology to assess certain characteristics of that borrower -- financial characteristics mostly, but some other characteristics as well -- to assess those characteristics and that -- that was a mathematical model that generated a risk score that mapped to a probability default for that borrower.

Q nd the -- that probability default that would generate what kind of loan the customer would be able to obtain from the bank?

Not specifically the type of loan that a client could obtain, but it would inform whether we were willing to do a loan at all and it would have an impact on the size of loan we were willing to do for that client and also the terms of the loan that we were willing to do for that client.

Q Okay. I believe you also mentioned that you prepared a proposal for credit. Is that similar to the type of terms that might be available to the customer?

So the bank would have a credit memorandum and that memorandum would endeavor to capture all the relevant information that you need to make a decision about that credit. So it would cover things from short summary of who the client is, why they want the money, what the terms are of the transaction and then it would also summarize their financial condition and attach to that credit memorandum would be our assessment of the risk rating of the client.

Q nd so that memorandum would spell out the terms of proposed transactions?

Yes, yes.

Q nd what are some of the factors in how a transaction would be structured that would affect the credit assessment that you and your team were making?

I'm pausing because it's kind of a broad question. There are -- I mean, many factors could affect it. So the first sort of given would be that the client was a client of the private wealth management business under their profile fitted what the bank wanted to do.

nd secondly, would be the question of does the credit they want fit what the bank is comfortable in doing. So is it, for example, a real estate loan we're comfortable with.

nd then maybe other client-specific factors driven by their financial condition or reputational matters or other matters that might gather the specific terms of the transaction.

Q You mentioned that one example of a loan that might be a real estate loan. Would those loans include, for example, collateral, those things might be apart of the assessment obtained?

Yes, many of our loans have collateral.

Q nd how would that affect the credit analysis that your team is performing at a high level?

So we would -- part of the analysis would include an analysis of the collateral. So what's it worth today? nd do we like it in the sense of is it good collateral that will sustain its value in the future.

Q nd what would constitute good collateral that would sustain its value in the future?

I mean, there were a number of different types of collateral a bank frequently took; commercial real estate, residential real estate, fine art, marketable securities, airplanes.

Q nd how would you assess the -- what's good collateral versus some other kind of collateral?

Well, in general terms -- in general terms, the point of collateral is to have a legal entitlement over an asset that if the loan defaults the bank can obtain title to that asset and effectively sell it one way or another. So that really drives what's good collateral and that is is there a market for that asset? Can it be sold? re there any legal impediments? Can we deal with those and what's likely to happen to the value of the asset between the day when we make the loan and at some point in the future when we might need to take that asset and sell it.

Q nd so how easy it is to take that asset and sell it is what would make one piece of collateral superior to another one is that the --

That's part of --

MR. ROBERT: Objection. Leading.

THE COURT: Sustained. Stricken.

Q So how would the factors you were discussing affect your view as to whether or not collateral is good?

So first of all, I think I mentioned whether we could sell the collateral so that do -- you know, is there a deep market for that type of collateral? Do many people buy it or is it a specialist type of collateral, which only a few people would buy and it might have a much thinner market.

Secondly is a question of the volatility of the value of that collateral. Some types of collateral go up and down in value more than others and that would be a -- of importance to us.

Q So going back to your time in your credit risk at Deutsche Bank could you walk us through what the process was for how a client would obtain a loan through the private wealth management group?

Sure. So the client would have a marketing officer called a relationship manager within the private wealth management business. They would interface with the client. Within the private wealth management business there was also a group of product specialists that we called lending officers and their focus was on loans. So when a client wanted a loan, a relationship manager would interface would speak with the lending officer about what kind of loan the bank normally does and when they realize it was business to be done that there was a loan a bank would do, the lending officer was comfortable, it would fit into their portfolio of assets, they would document the proposed terms of the loan in a credit memorandum and that would come to my team for final approval. There may have been a bit of an iterative process prior to that where the lending officer spoke with members of my team about specific aspects of the transaction so that they would want to know that we at risk management were comfortable with those specific issues. But the memo would be prepared, it would come to my team for approval and then if we'd signed off on it, the loan would then move to be documented and finally being booked by the bank.

Whereupon, the transcript continues on the next page....

Q You mentioned that lending officers would make the decision as to whether the loan fitted with their portfolio aspects. What is entailed in that analysis? What are they looking at when they're making a loan?

Well, a lending -- I mean, the lending group is part of a business line that they're there to make money. They have a whole a number of products that they typically -- typically that's sold, if you like; loans, let's say for example, commercial real estate loans or residential real estate loans. So they had a number of products that they would typically sell and they wanted to make sure that they were taking the right risk profile for that business because they would carry any losses and they wanted to make sure that they were appropriately profitable because their business line was charged for the capital that they were using.

Q nd a loss would be that if a loan doesn't pay, the loss would be on their books?

Yes.

MR. ROBERT: Objection.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q So whose books would the loss go on?

So the profit and the loss account belonged to the business line. In this case, private wealth management.

Q So in the process, you were describing your group, the credit risk group, would be the last one to sign off on the proposal; is that correct?

Yes.

Q Did credit risk management need to sign off on the final loan terms before a loan could be originated?

MR. ROBERT: Objection.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q Did you have --

THE COURT: Let me just mention this whole objection/sustained. You can't ask leading questions, "leading," questions that suggest an answer. There is an exception for introductory material, but now we are getting into the weeds. You can basically ask him how does it all work or how does this particular thing work or that particular thing. You can't put words in his moth and then say is that the way it works.

Q So what did your group need to do before a loan could be originated?

So my group needed to sign off on the credit memorandum that I mentioned earlier. So we needed to be comfortable with the terms that were contained in the credit memorandum, so we were willing to sign off and approve it. nd without our approval, the loan operations area would not book any loan and typically the credit memorandum would be sent to our legal counsel, external legal counsel who were documenting any loan.

Q nd who within the credit risk group would do that, provide authorization?

There are a number of credit officers in my group and each one had different levels of credit authority delegated to it by the bank's chief risk officer. It was a process of delegating credit authority. There were limits on that credit authority that reflected the size of the loan and the risk rating of the counterparty.

Q nd so did you have credit authority?

I did.

Q nd what was the level of your credit authority?

Well, it varied depending on how risky the client was, so for the least risky client, I seem to remember it was 500 million euro, but that fell rapidly when you -- when we got down to clients who were non-investment grade and I think the low investment grade was more like 15 million euro. I don't remember precisely.

Q Mr. Haigh we're going to hand you a document that has been marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 293.

Mr. Haigh, would you just take a moment to familiarize yourself with this exhibit.

Okay.

Q Do you recognize this document?

Yes.

Q What is it?

This is a credit memorandum for the transaction covering golf course resort hotel in Miami.

Q nd if we just look at the top corner here under beneficial owner, it says Donald J. Trump. Do you recognize him as the -- what is his role in that transaction?
So he is the beneficial owner of the legal vehicle that owned golf course, so resort. nd he was also a guarantor, a personal guarantor on the transaction.
MR. W LL CE: If we could just turn quickly to page five.
Q Do you recognize your signature on the far right-hand page here?
Yes, that's my signature.
Q What is indicated by your signature there?
My approval of the transaction terms contained in the memorandum.
MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, we'd ask that this document be entered into evidence.
MR. ROBERT: Objection, statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Overruled. I will consider it a standing objection. Overruled. Granted. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as People's Exhibit 293.)
Q Is there any significance to your signature being on the far right?

I think the convention of Deutsche Bank was to arrange the business on the left, credit officers on the right, and then I think in the States, we went from left to right in terms of seniority, but that wasn't written down anywhere that it had to be done that way.
Q So you were the most senior credit officer signing this document?
That's correct.
Q nd does that mean you are the credit officer approving this document?
Well, Sean Harrigan is the other risk management officer and we together were able to approve the document.
Q If we go back to the first page, I just would like to walk through some of the top. Can we see it says PWM regional and there is a checkmark there. What's indicated by that notation?
I think it means that it needed to be approved the PWM regional level wherein the United States.
Q nd that was -- is that the region you were working in?
Yes, I was in the United States. Yes.
Q Down below, there is a checkbox next to new request. What's indicated by that? new credit request. We didn't already have a credit for this -- for this borrower.

Q nd is that based on the borrower or the loan that's being paid?
You know, I'm not sure I remember exactly the rules. If we already had a credit for this borrower, we would have checked the increase box and if it was just an annual review of our existing credit with no other changes we would have checked the review box. So this reflects that, in fact, this was a new credit. It would be a new asset for the bank.
Q The box next to that under borrower, it says, "TBD [SPV acceptable to the lender end bracket]." What does that indicate?
So it stood for "to be decided." Then in parenthesis, special purpose vehicle acceptable to the lender.
Q Is there a reason there is not a specific borrower designated yet?
I think the reason would be that either we did not know the specific legal name of the legal vehicle that it would be or maybe that vehicle still needed to be set up and yet didn't exist.
Q But you were able to approve the loan without a specific vehicle having been designated yet?
Yes, we did.
Q If we go back to the box that has Donald Trump as the beneficial owner at the top, there is a line or two below, it says, "REL manager. It states, "Vrablic/Scalzi." What is indicated by this line?

It stands for relationship manager and the chief relationship manager for this relationship was Rosemary Vrablic and her partner is Dominick Scalzi.
Q nd I think you described it at a general level, but what role did they play in this transaction?
They were responsible for handling communications with the client, providing services to the client of all the services that the bank offered.
Q If we go two lines below, which states C manager, the name Sullivan after it, what's indicated on this line?
I think it stands for account manager. Tom Sullivan was the lending -- the senior lending officer from the business line on this relationship.
Q nd you described it at a high level. What role did Mr. Sullivan play in this transaction?
So his group was responsible -- it was their credit portfolio. He was responsible for making sure that they made loans on terms that they were comfortable with.
Q nd you had mentioned, I think, that it went on -- the profit and loss went on someone's balance sheet.
Is Mr. Sullivan then the person that had the profit and loss on his balance sheet?
He wasn't the head of that group, but he was part of that group.

MR. ROBERT: Objection. Objection to leading, your Honor.

THE COURT: Can you rephrase the question, so it is not leading.

MR. W LL CE: Sure, your Honor.

Q Was there anything significant -- I'll just withdraw the question.

The next line states "supporting" and lists the name Stafford. What role -- what is that identifying? Or actually, can I just clarify on the document? Is it supporting lenders and there are two names? Is that how this should be read?

That's right.

Q So the line states "supporting lenders." It says Stafford/Schroeder. What's indicated by that line?

Those two officers worked for Tom Sullivan and they were part of the lending group. They were lending officers within the bank.

MR. W LL CE: If we could scroll down on this document a little bit.

Q The box here states collateral. The first paragraph reads, " first mortgage lien and a first priority security interest in the Doral Golf Resort and Spa located in Miami, Florida, (the resort), including the borrower's fee, simple estate, all personal property, leases, rents, revenue, operating accounts, reserves and all other related assets."

What's being indicated in this section here?

So it's right at the start of this credit memo. It is giving us an idea of the collateral that will be provided for the loan.

Q If we look at the next paragraph in the middle, there is a sentence that begins, "Based on the $150 million cost, our initial LTV will be 83.3 percent. However, borrowing under the facility will be equal to the lesser of; i, 125 million; and ii, up to 85 percent of the appraised value subject to the satisfactory review of DB's Valuation Services Group. I'll stop right there. Just ask you to identify what's meant by a few words. What's LTV?

LTV means loan to value.

Q So I think loan is the value of what?

The $150 million. So 83.3 percent, our loan would be a loan up to $125 million would be 83.3 percent of $150 million.

Q nd where it says "the facility," what is that referring to?

The credit facility.

Q nd so ii states that it is subject to the appraised value -- actually, let me rephrase that. Up to 85 percent of the appraised value subject to the satisfactory review of DB's Valuation Group Services. Why is there a requirement to obtain an appraised value?

This is a loan collateralized with commercial real estate, so there is a requirement from the bank to get an appraisal -- an independent appraisal on behalf of the bank of the value of the collateral real estate.

Q So because the real estate is the collateral for this loan, the bank has an obligation to get an appraisal? m I stating that correctly?

MR. ROBERT: Objection.

THE COURT: We are getting to the point of the witness says something and the attorney is asking is that what you were meaning.

MR. ROBERT: He's trying to clarify it, so Mr. Wallace is testifying. This witness is certainly capable of answering questions.

THE COURT: Mr. Wallace, is there another way around this?

MR. W LL CE: I think it was an appropriate clarifying question. I did not suggest what the answer would be to the witness.

THE COURT: Well, you suggested what you think he was really trying to say, right or something that like a simplified version of that.

Q So why is the appraisal necessary? Could you, please, restate that?

ll loans secured on real estate require an independent appraisal commissioned by the bank.

Q nd are appraisals required on loans that are not secured by real estate?

For loans that are not secured by real estate, appraisals are not required by regulation in all cases; but sometimes by bank policy, they are required.

Q Go to the bottom of this section, it states, that "the facility will also be supported by a full and unconditional guarantee provided by DJT of little one, principal and interest due under the facility; and two, operating shortfalls of the resort. It being understood that borrower shall be permitted to utilize all revenues from the resort to operate the resort to reduce the amount of such shortfall."

First, who is DJT has referenced there?

Donald Trump.

Q Can you explain for me what Mr. Trump is guaranteeing here?

He's guaranteeing that he will repay our loan, all the monies due under the loan under Roman one; and under Roman two, he's also guaranteeing that if the resort is not -- is losing money, he will pay the cost of that shortfall.

Q If you look at the sentence just below, it states, "for collateral monitoring purposes, the facility is being underwritten as other secured." What does that mean?

It's a categorization of a type of collateral that we have.

Q nd what does it mean that it is other secured?
So it means that it is secured in that we have collateral and the other box is because -- or the other descriptor is because the type of collateral didn't fit cleanly into the typical types of collateral that the bank took.
Q Mr. Haigh, when you say the bank, are you talking about your group or Deutsche Bank writ large?
I'm talking about the private wealth management business.
Q Why isn't the Doral Golf Resort & Spa collateral that the bank typically took?
lthough the collateral was commercial real estate in the largest sense of those words, the specific use of the collateral as a golf resort and spa is a specialist use that was not a typical type of collateral that the wealth management group took for its loans.
Q nd did that fact have any impact on how you analyzed this potential credit?
Yes, it's relevant to how -- to the analysis of the credit.
Q nd how would it be relevant?
It's relevant because it affects the ability of the bank in extremis to sell the collateral. golf course, golf resorts are relatively uncommon compared to other types of commercial real estate and the number of buyers for those resorts is more limited, and so it would most likely be harder for the bank to sell should it have to foreclose on the collateral.

Q You mentioned earlier, you said something about the bank acting in extremis. What did you mean by that?
I meant by -- in extremis, I meant should the bank face a default where it had to try and foreclose or in some other way take ownership of collateral.
MR. W LL CE: We can take down this segment, but if we could flip to the third page.
Q There is a box up top that states, "repayment sources, key risks and mitigants." It lists a primary source of repayment, a secondary source of repayment and a tertiary source of repayment.
I would like to direct your attention to this section, tertiary source of repayment. It says, "full and unconditional guarantee of DJT which eliminates any shortfall associated with operating and liquidating collateral."
What does it mean that the guarantee was a tertiary source of repayment?
So when a bank is making a loan or Deutsche Bank is going to make a loan, it wanted to identify the likely ways it was going to get repaid and the third one, the tertiary one in this case, was a way of the bank getting repaid that they are not relying on the collateral itself as the source of that repayment.

Q Did the fact that it was the tertiary source of repayment have an effect on your credit analysis?
No.
Q Is the fact that a tertiary source of repayment, does that mean it is less important than the other source of repayment that's listed?
No, it is not less important.
Q If we look down at the next box, it states, "recommendation" and it reads, "The facility is being recommended for approval based on financial strength of the guarantor. The financial profile of the guarantor includes on an adjusted basis, 135 million in unencumbered liquidity, 2.4 billion in net worth and approximately 48 million in adjusted recurring net cash flow."
Is there any significance to this being a first basis for approval in this segment?
I think that indicates that it is significant -- those are significant facts in the analysis of the risk.
Q The next item listed, it states, "Nature of the guarantee. The nature of the guarantee which includes both principal and interest along with operating expenses of the resort."
What was it about the nature of the guarantee that made it a basis for recommending the loan?

The guarantee ensured that we had a legal obligation from an individual with the financial wherewithal to repay us if necessary.
Q So the financial strength and the guarantee are connected?
Correct.
Q If you could turn to page five of this document and go to the section entitled, "financial analysis." It's below your signature. t a high level, can you tell me what is reflected in this segment of the report?
So this section of the report is a summary of the client's financial profile. It is broken down on this table by the kind of assets, the kind of liabilities that they have, and it's got some key ratios from our risk management around cash flow, leverage, liquidity.

N. Haigh - Petitioner - direct (Wallace) Page 1003

Q So where are those key ratios reflected on here just so I'm looking in the right place?
Towards the bottom of the table, the bottom four rows and the heading immediately above it.
Q So it's the -- on this section, "key ratios on secured lending guidelines?"
That's correct.
Q nd why are those key ratios for the bank?
Those are key ratios because they are ratios that we commonly use to measure and compare one client financial profiling against another and our documents and the lending guidelines would refer to those key ratios and then assessment of whether or not a client met or -- met somewhat all of those key ratios.
Q Go back to the top of this section. It states:
"Guarantor's function summary. lthough facility is being extended to an SPV for the purposes of financing the purchase of the resort, the credit exposure is being recommended primarily based on the financial profile of the guarantor."
Why is the financial profile of the guarantor the primary basis for recommending this loan?
The wealth management business at Deutsche Bank would not make loans secured just on collateral without a strong financial guarantee or personal guarantee from a financially strong person. Given that this was unusual collateral as a golf resort and spa, we would not really want to have to foreclose on that collateral and so we would most likely first look to the guarantor to remedy any default -- payment default on the loan.

N. Haigh - Petitioner - direct (Wallace) Page 1004

THE COURT: Ten-minute warning.
MR. W LL CE: Thank you, Your Honor.
Q If we look at the next part of that paragraph it states: " s part of this underwriting we have met with several members of the family office to conduct due diligence on the client reported financial information as prepared by WeiserMazars, an independent public accounting firm."
I'll pause there just for a moment to say what is the family office that's being referred to here?
I don't know specifically. I think it's referring to people that work for Mr. Trump in handling his personal -- personal matters.
Q Do you know who -- it says that "we have met with the office and conducted underwriting." Who is the "we" that have been doing the due diligence?
So this memo was prepared by lending officers. I imagine in this case it would have been Tom Sullivan and Kirk Stafford and Emily Schroeder who are the lending officers on this transaction. I'm not sure whether all of them met with the family office or whether it was just some of those people.
Q nd are you familiar with what due diligence they did that's being described in this memo?

N. Haigh - Petitioner - direct (Wallace) Page 1005

Not in detail.
Q We'll look at the next sentence. It states:
"Based on results of this due diligence, we have made certain assumptions that have resulted in adjustments to reported values."
What is the nature of the adjustments that they are making to the reported values?
So the DB adjusted numbers on the right hand column of that table and they are marking down asset values, not liabilities but asset values in various different asset categories.
Q nd do you have an understanding what the basis was for marking down those asset values?
So the reason for marking down the asset values is that the bank wants to be comfortable that in a -- in a stressed scenario with a client the individual is under financial pressure, asset values have fallen, the bank wants to know that it can still have a strong guarantor as its potential source of employment. Specifically how they did it in each specific case, I think I'd have to read further into the credit memo to determine.
Q If we look at the last sentence in this first paragraph, it states:
"Details on such adjustments are included in the analysis that follows. dditional details are included in the guarantor's financial statements which is attached at exhibits" -- I think that's Roman Numeral II.

N. Haigh - Petitioner - direct (Wallace) Page 1006

Do you recall in connection with this credit analysis if you in fact reviewed the guarantor's financial statements?
Yes, I did.
Q Mr. Haigh, you've been handed a document that has been designated Plaintiff's Exhibit 330. I will just note that at the bottom it has a Deutsche Bank production number, DB-NY G 011946. Do you recognize this document?
Yes.
Q nd what is it?
It's the personal financial statement for Donald Trump.
MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, I would ask that this be entered into evidence.
MR. ROBERT: Statute of limitations objection.
THE COURT: Overruled. Granted. It's in evidence.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 330 in evidence.)
Q Mr. Haigh, is this the document you would have reviewed in connection with the credit report we were just looking at?
Yes.
Q Do you recall what you were looking for when you reviewed this report?
In very general terms I was trying to understand which assets and which liabilities the obligor had so I could get a feeling for the kind of financial profile that I thought the client had.

Q nd do you remember what your conclusion was upon review of the document?

So in general terms my conclusion was the client owned a lot of real estate, which was not surprising; a lot of golf courses, which I didn't know how to value; that his debt was low; that his liquidity was good.

Q You mentioned that you didn't know how to value golf courses. Did you undertake any steps because of that?

Not with regard to the golf courses that were on his balance sheet; obviously with regard to the collateral asset the bank did.

Q nd the collateral asset was the golf course?

Correct.

Q If I could direct you to page nine of this document. I just want to draw your attention to the first paragraph under "Basis of Presentation." It states:

"The accompanying Statement of Financial Condition consists of the assets and liabilities of Donald J. Trump. ssets are stated that their estimated current values and liabilities that their estimated current amounts using various valuation methods."

Do you have an understanding of what is meant by the term "estimated current values?"

My understanding of that term would be that it is estimated in the sense of they don't necessarily have appraisals or market evidence for the value of all of those assets, but it's estimating what they're worth as of the date of the financial statement, June 30, 2011.

Q Just to look at the next paragraph below. It states:

"Such valuation methods include but are not limited to the use of appraisals, capitalization of anticipated earnings, recent sales and offers, and estimates of current values as determined by Mr. Trump in conjunction with his associates and in some instances, outside professionals."

I just want to direct your attention to the list where it states "use of appraisals, capitalization of anticipated earnings, recent sales and offers and estimates of current values as determined by Mr. Trump."

re you familiar with those valuation techniques for the assets that are listed on Mr. Trump's Statement of Financial Condition?

So getting appraisals by independent appraisals is a common valuation appraisal method. Capitalizing anticipated earnings is offered on a lot of the methods that goes into developing an appraisal. It has also comparisons with recent sales and potentially offers for assets.

The piece about the estimates of current values as determined by Mr. Trump, to some extent I'm familiar with in the sense that whenever a statement is made that is not prepared by auditors it contains estimates of value, they're informed by the management typically and so that's not uncommon to see something of that sort in a cover letter.

THE COURT: ll right. Let's take a 15-minute break in ten minutes -- no, it's the opposite. We're taking a ten-minute break in 15 minutes. See you all at a quarter of.

(Whereupon, there is a recess in the proceedings.)

THE COURT OFFICER: ll rise. Part 37 is back in session. Be seated and come to order.

THE COURT: Notice it always feels like it's only ten minutes, but it really was 15 minutes.

THE COURT OFFICER: Witness entering.

(Whereupon, the witness enters the courtroom and approaches the witness stand.)

THE COURT: Let's continue.

CONTINUED DIRECT EX MIN TION

BY MR. W LL CE:

Q Mr. Haigh, when we broke we were talking about your review of Donald J. Trump's Statement of Financial Condition. I just want to know when you reviewed that statement did you make any assumptions as to the accuracy of the representations it contained?

I assumed that the representations of value of the assets and liabilities were broadly accurate.

MR. W LL CE: If we could go back to Plaintiff's Exhibit 293. If we could go back to page six again.

Q If we zoom at the top, this is the continuation of the financial analysis. I just want to highlight for you this segment, which says: "Real estate net equity."

"The following table summarizes the guarantor's total real estate portfolio as of 6/31/11, which reflects the guarantor's four fully owned trophy properties, the portfolio of ten wholly-owned club facilities, other major property interests, and properties currently under development."

I'll just pause there. I assume 6/31 is a typographical error. June didn't have 31 days in 2011?

I think if my memory serves me correctly --

THE COURT: I'll take judicial notice that June has 30 days, not 31.

Q Do you have an understanding of -- well, first of all, what is meant by the term "trophy properties?"

That was a phrase that was used within private wealth management lending group and credit risk management to identify four significantly sized assets that we believed we could get a better understanding by ourselves of their potential market value.

Q So the term "trophy properties" is specific to this analysis of Mr. Trump?

N. Haigh - Petitioner - direct (Wallace) Page 1011

Specific to Mr. Trump in this analysis only, that's correct.
Q nd do you know why these four properties were broken out?
They were broken out because they were large and represented significant asset positions and as I said earlier because we felt that we could get an idea of the market value of those assets unlike the club facilities and -- unlike the club facilities which we thought it would be hard to get it -- our own picking of their worth and unlike the other property interests which were I think probably much smaller and therefore would require a lot more internal resources to try and analyze.
Q If we step away from this sheet for a moment and go down to the segment that states "Trump Towers" -- and, again, I guess just note for the record there is just one Trump Tower up here. There is not multiple; is that correct.
This section states: "The 68-story building contains residential and condominiums that are owned by residents along with 178,000 square feet in commercial space and 114,000 square feet of retail space. The property has an NOI of 17.1 million and the guarantor used a cap rate of 3.50 percent to derive reported value."
First of all, what is -- what are the initials NOI?
They stand for net operating income.

N. Haigh - Petitioner - direct (Wallace) Page 1012

Q nd do you know where Deutsche Bank obtained this information of a net operating income and a cap rate of 3.5 percent?
So I can't personally be specific, but I assumed at the time -- I would assume now that it came from information provided by the client's family office.
Q If we go down to the property 40 Wall Street. That states that it is a 72-floor tower, consists of 1.3 million in premier office space. The property has an NOI of 26.2 million with the guarantor using a five percent cap rate to derive the reported value."
Do you know where Deutsche Bank obtained the information about 40 Wall's NOI and the cap rate used to derive the reported value?
gain, I would assume it came from Deutsche Bank speaking with the client's family office.
MR. KISE: Objection, Your Honor. That answer and the previous answer, that's an assumption. That's not an answer. That's -- there is no foundation for him to support that. He doesn't know. The answer to the question would be no, he doesn't know.
THE COURT: Well, let's ask him to explain what did you know, what did you not know?
THE WITNESS: I did not see the documents or the -- I was not at the meeting where this information was communicated to the bank and I did not personally see any documents that communicated that information.

N. Haigh - Petitioner - direct (Wallace) Page 1013

THE COURT: This is a, in my view, a subtle area. To what extent does an answer have to be definite? I don't think it has to be a hundred percent. In other words, it can't just be mere speculation, so.
MR. W LL CE: I can try to build this out a little bit.
THE COURT: Sure.
Q Mr. Haigh, did you have a general understanding of how the bank obtained information that would be precluded in these reports?
Yes. The bank would normally get some sort of certificate of financial -- some sort of financial statement, personal financial statement and it would typically have questions about that and there would then be a discussion with the client to explain what was on those financial statements. In this case around a net operating income on a building, the bank would have no way of knowing what that information was by itself unless it came from the client.
Q I want to focus if we go back to Trump Tower for a moment. The next sentence states that "for purposes of adjusting DBVSG used a 4.5 percent cap rate."
First of all, what is DBVSG?
Deutsche Bank Valuation Services Group.

N. Haigh - Petitioner - direct (Wallace) Page 1014

Q nd so why is -- do you have an understanding of why Deutsche Bank Valuation Services Group is adjusting the cap rate?
So the wealth management business engaged Deutsche Bank's Valuation Services Group which is a group of appraisers. They engaged them not to renew specific appraisals because the bank hadn't commissioned any appraisals on these assets. Instead, the bank -- the wealth management business consulted with the group about market conditions. The valuation services group has access to various databases and market information based on which their thinking was that a 4.5 percent capitalization rate would be more appropriate than a 3.5 capitalization rate.
Q I just want to go back to something you mentioned in your answer. You said that they did not -- you said "the bank had not commissioned appraisals on these assets."
When you say "these assets," are you referring to the four trophy properties?
That's correct.
Q Why didn't the bank commission appraisals on those four assets?
The bank normally always as far as I can think of only commissions appraisals on assets that needs taking as collateral. These assets were not collateral.
Q If we go back to the chart on the four trophy properties. We see that there is a column marked "DB Valuation" and says "Trump Tower 380.2." Is that an indication of an actual valuation of the property by the DB Valuation Services Group?

N. Haigh - Petitioner - direct (Wallace) Page 1015

No, not an actual appraisal of the property, no.

Q What is reflected in that column?

I think that number reflects -- it captures the number that was stated -- that we just discussed, which is the valuation services group's opinion of what that property might be worth without having done all the due diligence that they would do around a true appraisal.

Q I think we can take this section down and I'd just like to look -- oh, actually back up. pologies.

Just a little further down on page six there is a segment entitled above "facilities" and it describes a series of ten private clubs owned by Mr. Trump. It then states there is a discussion of membership requirements and membership liabilities.

I just want to focus your attention on the last sentence. It states: "For purposes of our analysis, the 1.3 billion in reported value had been reduced by 50 percent for deriving an adjusted value."

Do you have an understanding of why this technique was used to adjust the value of the club properties?

MR. KISE: Objection. What technique?

N. Haigh - Petitioner - direct (Wallace) Page 1016

THE COURT: Sustained. I don't see the technique there. I see the conclusion.

Q Do you know why for purposes of the analysis in the credit report, the $1.3 billion in reported value of the club facilities was reduced by 50 percent for deriving an adjusted value?

The value -- the reported value was adjusted in our financial analysis by 50 percent which was a -- I think standardized number for commercial real estate assets and the purpose of doing that was to just have a broad sense of what those assets might be worth. If we were in bad market conditions and we needed to seek repayment from the client and the client's assets had fallen in value, 50 percent represented a number which would be significant and yet we could still look at those assets and see whether there was any equity in those assets, meaning --

MR. W LL CE: We can take this down.

Q Can we take a look at page two, Exhibit 293? nd if we look at the segment entitled "collateral." Just zoom on that it's up a little. nd the section marked "guaranteed" -- can you zoom on that just a little?

This section states: " first mortgage and a first priority security interest in the resort, including the borrower's fee, simple estates, all personal property, leases, rents, revenue, operating accounts, reserves, and all other assets."

Did this -- the nature of this collateral, did that have any effect on the decision to approve this loan?

Yes. Collateral is a significant part of the bank's protection and so it was significant in approving this loan.

Q The next segment states "Guarantee."

"The guarantor will provide a full and unconditional guarantee of (i) principal and interest due under the facility and (ii), operating shortfalls of the resort. It being understood that the borrower shall be permitted to utilize all revenues from the resort to operate the resort to reduce the amount of such a shortfall."

Does the nature of the guarantee affect your analysis in approving the loan?

Yes. The guarantee provides -- it's also significant, very significant to the bank in terms of whether it would approve or not, so the guarantee in the financial profile of the client who gives that guarantee.

Q nd if we go down to a section a little bit further down it states "interest rate."

It states: "Renovation period: LIBOR plus 2.25 percent or the prime rate."

"Post renovation period: LIBOR plus two percent or the prime rate minus .25 percent."

Just ask you if you can explain your understanding of some of the words here. What is renovation period?

N. Haigh - Petitioner - direct (Wallace) Page 1018

So there was a -- the first part of this loan, this piece of real estate was undergoing renovation or improvements and so its cash flow would have been lower at that time.

Q Can you just explain to me what is meant by LIBOR plus 2.25 percent?

So LIBOR stands for London Interbank Offering Rate and here it represents loosely the cost of the bank funding itself. So it was a cost the bank has to pay for having monies that it then lends out to all the clients. Loosely.

nd the 2.25 percent on top of that LIBOR index represents, loosely, income for the bank and together they represent the interest rate that the client pays for whatever interest period that the client chooses.

The transcript continues on the following page....

Q Look at the next line, the post renovation period. I think the explanation of that is implied by your description of what the renovation period was.

What was the post renovation period?

So post renovation period is that period after the renovations have been completed or largely completed. t which point, the bank anticipates that the income from the real estate would be higher than previously.

Q So why is there a difference between the renovation period rate and the post renovation period rate?

Bank's view was that there was a less risk in an asset that is post renovation and is more fully income producing.

MR. W LL CE: If we can just back out of this for a moment and just look at the whole page.

Q This section is headed "facility details." Is there an interaction between each of those terms and your decision on whether or not to approve this loan?

MR. KISE: Objection, interaction.

THE COURT: s to the wording interaction?

MR. KISE: I'm not sure I even understand the question.

MR. W LL CE: The question is whether the witness understands.

THE COURT: Right. I was going to say.

I am going to ask the witness do you understand the question enough to answer it or no?

THE WITNESS: I believe so.

THE COURT: Okay. Overruled.

So the contractual terms of the loan in the broadest sense that are captured on this page, they are part of the risk profile of that loan facility, and so they are part of -- those are the items that I am approving with my approval, so it is important to understand what those terms are.

THE COURT: Did that answer the question?

MR. W LL CE: I was going to try and rephrase it a little.

MR. KISE: I'm not sure it did.

THE COURT: You deem that withdrawn, stricken and try again?

MR. W LL CE: Maybe I'll use it later. Can we keep it on the record? I'm happy -- we can withdraw it. I will rephrase the question. I would be happy for it to be withdrawn.

THE COURT: Then the answer is stricken.

Q Does the existence of the guarantee have any impact on the interest rate in these terms?

Yes, it does.

Q nd what is the nature of the impact of the guarantee on the interest rate terms?

So there is a given that there will be a guarantee in the first place because wealth management did not do business without personal guarantees. In addition, the strength under which that guarantee will be reflected in the pricing of the loan, the spread to the bank in other words. lso, in the terms of the loan including its size.

Q When you said spread and pricing, that's the 2.5 percent over -- we were talking about 2.25?

The spread is at 2.25 percent number.

MR. W LL CE: If we could just turn to page 11 of this document.

Q If we take a look at the box at the top of the page, it is entitled "covenants." Were these covenants relevant to your decision to approve the loan?

Yes.

Q What is the significance of the covenants to your decision to approve the loan?

Loan covenants inside the loan documentation provide protection to the bank against deterioration in either the real estate itself or in the guarantor's financial position.

Q If we look at the top under the heading "guarantor," it states -- there's two for guarantor. First one states, "business financial statement, guarantor to provide a financial statement annually dated within 90 days of 12/31." The next segment for guarantor states "personal financial statement."

I just want to understand, is there a difference between a business financial statement and a personal financial statement listed here?

I think in this case, the business financial statement was an illusion to the financial statements of the legal entity that would be on the loan and the personal financial statement is Donald Trump's entire personal financial statement.

Q Looking at the second bullet, then it states, "guarantor, personal financial statement. Guarantor to provide a financial statement annually dated within 90 days of 12/31."

Why did the guarantor have to provide an annual financial statement?

The bank wants to be sure that the client's financial strength is being maintained and also the bank wants to be able to test its covenants periodically.

Q So I'll just read into the record the next point below that. It says, "compliance certificate, guarantor to provide a compliance certificate annually dated within 90 days of 12/31 and lender will have right to confirm required liquidity through review of account statements at the offices of the guarantor."

Is that what you were referring to in being able to test?

Yes, that's how the bank would test its covenants. That's how it would get the information to test its covenants, but to be clear, the compliance statement is a statement by the client that they are in compliance with all of those financial covenants. The bank would use the financial information that they provided to test itself to try and ensure that the client is in compliance with those covenants.

Q Okay. So the -- there's a requirement that the guarantor make a certification, but then there is a requirement to provide information that the bank can use to confirm the accuracy of the certification? m I understanding that correctly?

That is correct.

Q If we look down at the financial covenants, it states -- and this is during renovation period -- "required only until post renovation period begins. Liquidity, guarantor shall maintain unencumbered liquidity at all times (defined as unrestricted cash or marketable securities convertible to cash within five business days that is not pledged to support any obligation of at least 50 million with at least 20 million to be maintained with the lender.) This cash will not be pledged as collateral."

Why did the guarantor have to maintain unencumbered liquidity of $50 million during the renovation period?

The liquidity covenant would be the loan documents was intended to ensure that the client always had sufficient cash on hand to meet the obligations under this loan in terms of ongoing interest or potential pay-downs or partial pay-downs of the loan principal.

N. H IGH - DIRECT (MR. SOLOMON) Page 1024

Q If you look two lists down, it states, "net worth guarantor shall maintain a minimum net worth of 2.5 billion excluding any value related to the guarantor's brand value (as such minimum net worth is reflected in guarantor's Statement of Financial Condition prepared by guarantor in substantially the form prepared by guarantor as of the date of this term sheet, a copy of which will be delivered to lender.)"

So why is the bank requiring the guarantor to maintain a minimum net worth of $2.5 billion?

In order to ensure that the financial guarantor remained strong with enough wherewithal to repay our loan should we need to be repaid.

Q That net worth is to be used to determine by guarantor Statement of Financial Condition; is that correct?

MR. ROBERT: Objection.

THE COURT: Sustained.

Q How is that $2.5 million net worth to be established?

The loan documents --

MR. KISE: Objection, foundation.

THE COURT: Excuse me?

MR. KISE: Objection, foundation. I don't know that this witness knows.

MR. W LL CE: t some point, he is reading the document. He said he prepared the document.

MR. KISE: He did not say he prepared the document.

N. H IGH - DIRECT (MR. SOLOMON) Page 1025

Let's be clear.

MR. W LL CE: He reviewed the document.

MR. KISE: He reviewed the document is the testimony I heard. I don't think he prepared it, but the establishment of the 2.5 billion net worth requirement is not something this witness has testified he had any involvement in. If there's a foundation, he can lay the foundation, but he hasn't testified that this witness had anything to do with setting that number.

THE COURT: Well, foundation is sort of tricky question in my view.

Mr. Wallace, can you lay a foundation or try to?

MR. W LL CE: I'm trying to get us out of here by December 22nd, your Honor, but I'll do my best.

Q Were you familiar with the terms of the loan that are being laid out in this credit report?

Yes.

Q Did you have to understand the terms that are being laid out in this credit report in order to undertake your responsibility to approve the loan?

Yes, I needed to understand those terms.

Q Did you have any input in the decision to set a minimum net worth of $2.5 billion?

Yes.

Q Why did you determine to set -- what was your role in helping to determine the $2.5 billion number?

N. H IGH - DIRECT (MR. SOLOMON) Page 1026

s part of a credit risk management team, the ultimate signer, I need to be comfortable with the terms of the loan including the covenants to protect the bank. That $2.5 billion minimum net worth was one of those covenants and it was set in order to make sure that the bank would be fully protected under adverse market conditions.

Q re there any factors that go into the analysis that you were conducting when you're trying to determine an appropriate minimum net worth for a loan?

Determining the appropriate minimum net worth is driven by, I think, a combination of factors. One of which is the size of the credit exposure the bank is undertaking, and the other of which is the client's starting point, their initial net worth because the bank would want to set a covenant at a level that allowed for the client's assets to fall in value somewhat, but would still be triggered should that their assets fall substantially such that their financial risk profile would be changing.

Q Just to clarify, if we look under the next header, "post renovation period," it says, 'in lieu of renovation period covenants." The liquidity requirement is not -- does not appear in that section; is that correct?

I don't -- I don't see on this page.

MR. W LL CE: Scroll down, so we can see the whole section. Down a little bit. No. Sorry. Thank you.

Q So does the liquidity requirement remain in the post renovation period?
I don't -- from this memo, I don't believe that it does.
Q But the net worth covenant of maintaining a minimum net worth of 2.5 billion, that would remain in the post renovation period?
Correct.
Q If we can just scroll down to the next box which states, "events of default and cure periods". It states just at the top, "usual and customary for facilities of this size, type and purpose, including but not limited to , payment default. B, breach of representation and warranties. C, violation of covenants."
What would a payment default consist of?
payment default would be a failure to make some payment due to the bank lender's loan documentation on time.
Q nd what would a breach of representation or warranties consist of?
It would be literally a breach of the representations of warranties that are made in the loan documents at the time they are signed.
Q nd what would a violation of covenants consist of?
It would be a failure with regard to those financial covenants to maintain the ratios or numbers that are set out in those covenants.

Q So does it only relate to the financial covenants?
No, it would relate to any covenant. So a loan has many, many covenants not all financial and it would cover all the covenants of a loan.
Q What would happen on a loan in the event of a default?
If there is a default on a loan, a default on a loan covenant, the -- so if there is a default on the loan covenant, there's been a breach of the -- it is a contractual arrangement between the bank and the borrower. The bank has various remedies for that which it can pursue like waiving the breach, which it might do for an inconsequential breach; negotiating some variation of the terms of the loan, or potentially accelerating the loan and ask for repayment.
MR. W LL CE: I think we can put that document aside for now.
Q Mr. Haigh, you've been handed a document that has been marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 291. Could you just take a moment to review this document.
(Witness reviewing document.)
Okay.
Q Do you recognize this document?
Yes.

Q nd what is it?
It's a credit memorandum for a new credit for the product in Chicago.
Q nd who is the borrower in this transaction?
The legal entity is 401 North Wabash Venture, LLC.
Q re you familiar with what entity is, that borrower is?
It is a limited liability company that owned the asset.
Q nd we will look at the top box again. It says, "beneficial owner, Donald J. Trump."
Does that mean he is the beneficial owner of the borrower?
Correct.
Q Can you just turn for a moment to page six of this document. Is that your signature?
Yes, it is.
Q nd what is indicated by your signature?
My approval of this loan proposal or transaction.
MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, we would ask that Plaintiff's Exhibit 291 be entered into evidence.
MR. ROBERT: Objection, statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Overruled. It is moved in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as People's Exhibit 291.)
Q If we go back to the first page, I believe you noted that this is a new request in the box tick at the top. Can you remind us again what is indicated by the fact that it is a new request?

It is a new loan asset for the bank.
Q nd do you remember generally the terms of this loan or the -- let me -- may I withdraw that question, your Honor?
THE COURT: Withdrawn.
Q Can you describe for us generally what is the nature of the loan that's reflected in this credit report?
It's a credit facility secured on commercial real estate.
Q nd at a high level, would the review or analysis that you and your team conducted be the same for this credit facility as the one we were just looking at?
Yes, it would.
Q If we could turn to -- if you look at the bottom of this box, it states, 'the facilities will also be further supported by a full and unconditional guarantee provided by DJT of little I, principal and interest due under the facility. nd two, operating shortfalls of the collateral property as defined herein."
Does this guarantee operate in the same manner as the guarantee that we saw on the earlier loan document, on the earlier report that you were testifying about?
Yes.
MR. W LL CE: If we can go to page five of this document.

Q If we go down to the section marked "recommendation," I will first ask who is making the recommendation that's contained in this box?
The lending officers that prepared the memo.
Q nd who is the recommendation to?
Credit risk management, my team.
Q If we look at the top of this segment, it states, "the facility is being recommended for approval based on quality of the collateral and LTV. The property is in the form of a luxury hotel and condominium building located in Chicago based on recent as is values provided in appraisals as discussed herein and performed for purposes of underlying needs of the facilities. The residential component is valued at 113 million which provides a maximum LTV of 55 percent and the commercial component is valued at 126.3 million which provides a maximum LTV of 36 percent. The combined maximum LTV based on the maximum commitment amount of 107 million is 44.7 percent."
First question, why is quality of the collateral and LTV the first item listed in this recommendation?
The collateral is significant in taking decision on whether to approve the loan.
Q You see again that there were as is values provided in appraisals. Why were appraisals performed on that property?
The property was real estate and so by policy and by regulation, the bank was required to obtain appraisals on real estate.

Q If we look at the next bullet point, it states, "financial strength of the guarantor, the financial profile of the guarantor includes on an adjusted basis 146 million in unencumbered liquidity, 2.4 billion in net worth, and approximately 13 million in adjusted excess recurring net cash flow."
Why was the financial strength of the guarantor one of the grounds for recommending this loan?
Because having a guarantee was a requirement for private wealth manager to do business and having a strong financial guarantor was a requirement for this transaction.
Q I guess does that have any implication for the third bullet point we are seeing here, the nature of the guarantee? Let me rephrase that question.
What was the relevance and nature of the guarantee to the recommendation to approve this loan?
It reflects -- the nature of the guarantee reflects the fact that we had a full guarantee with no limitations on that guarantee.
Q If we could turn to page seven of this document. There is a segment again that's headed "financial analysis, guarantor. You see at the top, it states, "guarantors-financial statements. lthough facilities are secured by the collateral, given its unique nature, the credit exposure is being recommended based on the financial profile of the guarantor."

Do you have an understanding what is meant by the unique nature of the collateral?
So unique is probably a bit of a hyperbole because it is unusual for the private wealth management business to have hotels as collateral and it is unique for private wealth management business to have a condo inventory as collateral, unsold condo units.
Q If we look at the table, we see that there's financial summary segment. One row -- sorry. One column states, "DJT 6/30/2011 client reported. Next column states "DJT, 6/30/2011 DB adjusted." Next column states, "DJT 6/30/12 client reported." nd the final column states, DJT 6/30/2012 DB adjusted."
First question, why are the years 2011 and 2012 both broken out in this chart?
We had financial information of two years at least and the aim was to show or to identify whether there's any trend in changes between -- from one year to the other.
Q We see that both the 2011 and 2012 years, there are DJT adjusted numbers. Did the adjustment process that's reflected in this table operate in the same way as the adjustment process we saw on the prior exhibit?
Yes, it did.

MR. W LL CE: If we could just scroll down to -- actually, page -- can you show side by side page eight of this exhibit and page six of PX 293. Just zoom in on the table, please.
Q So if we look at the two tables, it would appear that for 2011 and for 2012, the valuations and the analysis for three of the Niketown, 40 Wall, and Trump Park venue remain the same. Do you see that?
Yes.
Q But for Trump Towers, there's a change. Do you see that?
Yes, I do see that.
Q nd if we can just pull up exhibit -- we can drop it now for 291, please, and just go down to the section on Trump Tower. That's on page eight. So there's another line segment that states -- underlying section that states, "the loan is non-recourse." I'm going to focus on the sentence that's after that.
"The loan is non-recourse and matures in 2022." It says, "a recent appraisal performed in conjunction with the refinance valued the property at 480 million resulting in a roughly 21 percent of LTV. lthough, we did not adjust for the additional liquidity distributed to the guarantor, we are adjusting the property value to reflect the recent appraisal and new debt."

Can I ask so why did Deutsche Bank incorporate this new appraisal into its analysis?

So it appears that Trump Tower had been refinanced recently not by Deutsche Bank and that in connection with that refinancing, the financing entity had commissioned an appraisal which had been made available to Deutsche Bank. So the bank felt that it had an independent view on the value of that asset.

Q nd the bank was comfortable in incorporating that independent value into its analysis of the property?

Correct.

Q Mr. Haigh, you've been handed a document that's been marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 470. Can you take a moment to familiarize yourself with this document.

Okay.

Q Do you recognize this document?

Yes.

Q nd what is it?

It's a memo prepared by my colleague Sean Harrigan, amended by me, addressed to my boss, Thomas Eggenschweiler.

Q nd just to clarify for the record, the memos and attachment to an e-mail from Shaun Harrigan to you dated May 23, 2012; is that correct?

Correct.

MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, I would ask that this document be entered into evidence.

MR. ROBERT: Objection. Statute of limitations.

THE COURT: Overruled. It's in evidence.

Q Mr. Haigh, does this memo relate to the same transaction that was being addressed in the credit report that you were reviewing?

Yes.

Q nd that's the -- a loan involving the Trump International Tower Chicago?

Yes.

MR. W LL CE: If you could flip to page 3 of the document? If we could focus on what's in Item 2 under "PWM Facility of Summary Terms." It would be item two. I'm sorry, three. Item three, which is headed "PWM Facility Summary of Terms."

Q nd the first sentence -- let me withdraw that. What is PWM?

Private wealth management.

Q nd that's the part of the bank you worked for?

That's the business unit that I supported and approved their -- decided their credits.

Q The first sentence in this segment states: "CIB terms for the condos" and continues -- before we go there, I would just ask what is CIB?

Stands for commercial and investment bank. They had a commercial real estate lending group that would make loans on commercial real estate.

THE COURT: Ten-minute warning.

Q nd that is separate and apart from your private wealth management group?

That is a different business line and a different profit and loss line.

Q Memo states: "CIB terms for the condos for the lesser of 75 MIO or 55 percent LTV; two year (one year extension option required amortization and reserve account on a nonrecourse basis at L plus 800 BP CIB as indicated to PWM if they are comfortable with this LTV given (i) their long history with the property and (ii) the momentum in condo sales that has been demonstrated for the last two years."

Just ask you to define some of the terms that are contained in there. What is L plus 800 BP?

Stands for LIBOR plus 800 basis points and there are 100 basis points and one percent, so that means LIBOR plus eight percent.

Q nd why are you discussing the CIB terms?

Two business divisions at Deutsche Bank were making proposals on the same potential loan and as -- we wanted to be sure that they made sense with regard to each other so the bank didn't look foolish in front of the client with two completely different sets of term sheets that bore no relation to each other.

Q nd why is nonrecourse basis involved here?

The commercial and investment bank business covered real estate. It would not normally take full recourse to an individual. Their principal source of repayment would be the real estate itself and only the real estate, although there may be some small guarantees around certain behaviors and the pricing reflects that risk profile that they were taking on.

Q nd if we look at the next paragraph, it states: "PWM is proposing terms on a full recourse facility to provide up to the same level of proceeds as CIB with the same two-year term for pricing in the range of L plus four percent. The spread differential is based on a full guarantee of Donald Trump. See credits below."

So you said that the bank didn't want to look foolish in front of the client and was comparing terms?

Correct.

Q nd so this is the comparison that you're making between the two divisions of the bank?

That's correct. The difference between a nonrecourse facility and a full recourse facility and their different pricing.

Q nd by pricing that would be the difference between LIBOR plus 800 and LIBOR plus four percent?

That's correct, the spread over LIBOR.

Q nd so the difference between LIBOR plus eight percent and LIBOR plus five percent is based on full guarantee of Donald J. Trump?

Yes.

Q I'm going to correct the record. I apparently read it incorrectly.

So the difference between LIBOR plus 800 basis points and LIBOR plus four percent is based on the full guarantee of Donald J. Trump. Is that what's reflected in this memo?

That math is correct and that is the understanding of why there is a difference in price.

THE COURT: Several of us caught you on that one.

MR. W LL CE: I'm glad I have all of you here to be --

Your Honor, I'm going to move on to a new year and a new loan. I don't know if you want to take our break now.

THE COURT: Up to you. You have five minutes.

MR. W LL CE: Sure. Why don't we at least introduce the document.

THE COURT: You know what, on second thought, let's all have a nice long lunch. See you at 2:15.

THE COURT OFFICER: Everyone remain seated.

(Whereupon, there is a luncheon recess in the proceedings.)

F T E R N O O N S E S S I O N

THE COURT OFFICER: ll rise. Part 37 is back in session. The Honorable Judge rthur Engoron presiding. Please be seated and come to order.

THE COURT: Let's get the witness back.

THE COURT OFFICER: Witness entering.

(The witness enters the courtroom and approaches the witness stand.)

THE COURT: I'll remind the witness that he's still under oath as I remind all witnesses during lunch breaks. nd let's proceed or continue.

CONTINUED DIRECT EX MIN TION

BY MR. W LL CE:

Q Good afternoon, Mr. Haigh. I just wanted to cover something I missed concerning Exhibit 293, it's the 2011 credit report. If we could go to page six and look at the bottom.

t the bottom here there is a segment that reads: "Properties under Development."

It states: "Consists primarily of the property known as The Mansion at Seven Springs in Bedford, New York, which consists of over 200 acres of land, a mansion and other buildings. This property is zoned for nine luxury homes, also includes property in Beverly Hills, California. For purposes of deriving at adjust value, assumed a 75 percent haircut to reflect the uncertainty in valuing undeveloped land."

First of all, what is a haircut?

In this context a haircut is a way by which the bank reduces the stated value of the asset in order to form some kind of assessment as to what the asset might be worth in an adverse market situation.

Q nd is that different from the adjustments that you were looking at before?

The adjustments for the four specific properties were based on our own valuation services group input on those four assets. The adjustments on the golf courses were based on the standardized approach and this is more of a standardized approach.

Q Okay. nd so why in that standardized approach is the haircut 75 percent?

I think because the assets -- properties under development or not yet developed potentially have a large range of outcomes of their value, so.

Q Let me put that one aside.

Mr. Haigh, you've been handed a document that's been marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 294. If you can take a moment to just familiarize yourself with the document.

Okay.

Q Do you recognize this document?

Yes.

Q What is this?

It's a credit report covering a new transaction and the renewal of the existing transactions and an increase on the third transaction all captured in one credit report for this group, this relationship.

MR. W LL CE: I'm sorry to interrupt you. If we can just turn quickly to the page 11 of this document.

Q I can show you on the screen, Mr. Haigh.

Is that your signature on the far right of the screen?

Yes, it is.

Q nd what is indicated by your signature on this document?

My approval of the terms in the document.

MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, we would ask that this exhibit be moved into evidence.

MR. ROBERT: Objection. Statute of limitations.

THE COURT: Overruled. Granted. It's in evidence.

(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 293 in evidence.)

Q While we're here we have the signature of

N. Haigh - Petitioner - direct (Wallace) Page 1043

Mr. Eggenschweiler. Have I pronounced it correctly?
Why is he signing this report?
The combined exposure to the group was above my authority level given the rating of the facilities.
MR. W LL CE: Okay. If we can go back to the first page?
Q There is a box towards the top entitled, "Reason for Presentation." Is this what you were referring to when you were describing the purpose of this credit report?
Yes.
Q So the first Item states: " nnual review of Trump Endeavor 12 LLC loan facility." Says "request to change annual review date to 4/30/15."
What is encompassed in an annual review of the Trump Endeavor 12 LLC facility?
We do an annual review of every loan facility that we have to see whether anything has changed. We refresh the financial information, we look at the operating performance of the collateral and there is a request here to change the date I think for administrative reasons to make it more convenient along with the other facilities that existed for this group.
Q nd so I think you referred to the -- what's being reviewed as part of the annual review?
We're reviewing the credit exposure that we have, so has it performed in accordance with the terms of its documentation.

N. Haigh - Petitioner - direct (Wallace) Page 1044

Q nd what information are you using to make that review?
We're using updated financial information on the guarantor, we're using updated financial information provided by the borrower, the owner of the collateral as to performance of their business.
Q The next Item B states: "Increase in annual review of 401 North Wabash Ventura LLC loan facility request to increase Tranche B facility by 54 million to a maximum of 73 million with a new maturity date of ten years from closing of the extension" and also a request to change the annual review date.
What are you looking at when you're looking at an increase and an annual review for the 401 North Wabash Venture loan facility?
So this is an increased loan exposure which requires us to re-underwrite all of the factors that went into the original credit, both the lateral and the guarantor, locate all of those factors to see that it supports a new role that's gone up to $73 million.
Q nd does the analysis you would conduct for an extension the same as the analysis we discussed for the prior two credit reports that we looked at?
Yes.
Q If we look at Item C it states: " pproval of a new $170 million first mortgage facility to the borrower Trump Old

N. Haigh - Petitioner - direct (Wallace) Page 1045

Post Office LLC to be used for the development of the Old Post Office property in Washington, D.C."
Is this approval process the same as the approval process we saw on the earlier two statements of the Financial Condition?
Yes, with the added caveat that we needed a higher level of approval authority within credit risk management to approve the transaction.
Q If we could look down below a little bit of the page. There is a box entitled -- it's this box on the left that says "currency" at the top. There is a series of boxes "new limit usage previous limit." The column on the left says "Loan Tranche , new limit, 106 million."
Below that, "Loan , Tranche B, 19 million."
"Loan B, 73 million."
"Loan C, 170 million."
"Loan C, swap threshold amount, 10.25."
"Related exposure, blank."
nd then it says "total exposure, 378.25."
What is indicated in this portion of the chart?
Those are the credit exposures that Deutsche Bank was taking on each of those facilities.
Q nd Loan C, does that conform to Item C that we were looking at, the new loan for the Trump Old Post Office building?
I believe so, yes.

N. Haigh - Petitioner - direct (Wallace) Page 1046

Q So the total exposure is listed at 378. I'm going to assume that's million?
Correct.
Q Is that the credit limit that required Mr. Eggenschweiler to also sign off on the credit report?
Yes, Eggenschweiler.
Q nd why does he need to sign off at that document level?
Because my credit authority was governed by the size of the overall relationship and also by the rating of the weakest facility in that overall relationship which in this case was a triple B rating which is in the section just above where you're looking at on the screen.
Q So if we could scroll down a little bit.
Yes, there you go. Says "FPD, dBBB" at the top.
Q I'm just going to point to it. Is this the segment you were talking about?
That is the correct segment, yes.
Q So I'll just -- this is the segment under the heading "risk rating current." It states: "Loan , Tranche , CPD, I , FPD." nd then it says "dBBB." That's the rating we're talking about?
That's correct.
Q Do you recall the purpose of this new facility?
Yes.

N. Haigh - Petitioner - direct (Wallace) Page 1047

Q nd what was that purpose?
It was to provide financing for a substantial renovation of this Old Post Office building, which was going to be converted into a hotel.
Q If we could turn to page nine of this document and pull up the box that says "guaranty."
I'll just state this for the record. It states:
"Guarantee. Donald J. Trump, will provide a full and unconditional guarantee of (i), principal and interest due under the facility; (ii), swap brokerage costs; three, operating shortfalls of the property until the end of the shortfall coverage period; and four, a completion guarantee, guaranteeing the lien-free completion of the project acceptable to the lender as evidenced, by among other things, one or more temporary or final certificates of occupancy or their equivalent, architect, certificate and appropriate lien waivers, each responsibly acceptable to the lender."
So similar to the loans we looked at before this loan is also supported by a guarantee by Mr. Trump; is that correct?
That is correct.
Q nd did this guarantee operate similar to the guarantees we were looking at earlier for Doral and for the Chicago property?
Yes, it does.
Q If we look at the box that was just below that it states: "Guarantor covenants. During the redevelopment period the guarantor shall maintain unencumbered liquidity at all times of at least $50 million with at least 20 million to be maintained with the lender."

N. Haigh - Petitioner - direct (Wallace) Page 1048

Why did the guarantor have to maintain unencumbered liquidity of $50 million?
The bank wanted to know -- to be covenanted to have that protection that the client would always have a substantial amount of cash on hand, that he could use to either meet the obligations under the bank's loan or potentially pay down the loan.
Q nd how would that liquidity be demonstrated?
Well, the 20 million that was to be held with the bank would be clearly visible to the bank at all times because we would have access to seeing that in the bank systems. The balance will be demonstrated through proving brokerage accounts or bank account statements that showed where that cash or those securities were held.
Q nything else that can be used to demonstrate the liquidity?
No, from recollection it was cash and securities that are convertible to cash within five days.
Q If we look down below it states:
" t all times during the term of the facility, guarantor shall maintain a minimum net worth of 2.5 billion excluding the value related to guarantor's brand value."

N. Haigh - Petitioner - direct (Wallace) Page 1049

Why was the guarantor required to maintain a minimum net worth of 2.5 billion?
The bank wanted to be sure that in an adverse market scenario the client would always have enough financial resources to be able to pay off our loan.
Q nd how would the $2.5 billion net worth be demonstrated?
Through providing us with a personal financial statement and a certification in the loan documentation along the lines of the previous one we discussed.
Q nd just to confirm, the guarantor here is Donald J. Trump?
Yes.
MR. W LL CE: If we could turn to page 14.
Q If you look at the top again. It states -- there is a header at the top.
"It should be noted that the guarantor, DJT, is required to provide financials within 120 days of 6/30 FYE. Thus, the most recent financials available are as of 6/30/13. We are not aware of any material changes to guarantor's financial profile."
nd just to confirm, DJT, who is that referring to?
Donald Trump.
Q nd what is indicated by 6/30 FYE?

N. Haigh - Petitioner - direct (Wallace) Page 1050

So the financial yearend, FYE, is June 30th.
Q nd go back to the first page. I'll represent to you the date of this credit report is May 2, 2014. Would that explain why this note was included?
This memo is 11 months after the last financial yearend for which we already had financial statements.
Q Do you know what steps, if any, the bank would take to come to the conclusion that it was not aware of any material changes to guarantor's financial profile?
The bank would rely on representations from the client that there were no material changes.
Q If we look down at the next section it states: "Guarantor's financial summary."
" lthough all three facilities are secured by collateral given the unique nature of these credits, the credit exposure is being recommended based upon the financial profile of the guarantor."
I asked a similar question before, but what was the unique nature of the credit apart from anything we've discussed?
So all of these credits had collateral -- real estate collateral. It was not a normal type of real estate collateral for Deutsche Bank.
Q So the OPO property that is the collateral for this loan is also not collateral that the private wealth group -- Correct, correct. Private wealth management did not normally do loans that involved substantial reconstruction on its collateral.

Q This section continues: " s part of this underwriting we have met with several members of the family's office to update our due diligence on client reported financial information as prepared by WeiserMazars, an independent public accounting firm with the due diligence process described here having been conducted in the same manner as the due diligence for the earlier reports that we reviewed."

Yes.

Q States: "Next based on the results of this due diligence we have made certain assumptions that have resulted in adjustments to reported values. Details on such adjustments are included in the analysis that follows."

What you see there is a table similar to what we've seen in the similar reports. Did the adjustment process operate in the same way for this credit report as it did on the earlier credit reports that we were looking at?

Yes.

Q The last sentence states: " dditional details are included in the guarantor's financial statements, which are attached as Exhibit 5."

Do you recall if you reviewed the financial statements in connection with this extension of credit?

I can't recall whether I reviewed them on this specific extension of credit. I will be surprised if I hadn't, but I can't physically remember or accurately remember picking the pieces of paper and looking at them.

Q Okay. gain, we see that the financial summary table refers to DJT, 6/30/2011; DJT, 6/30/2012. Both say "client reported."

Next column states: "DJT, 6/30/120 to be adjusted."

Next column: "6/30/2013, client reported."

Final column: "DJT, 6/30/2013 DB adjusted."

Why is the bank looking as numbers for each of these years, 2011 through 2013?

It's trying to identify any trends in the change of values reported.

Q nd what was looking for trends and change of value have -- how would that have been used by the bank in its review of this credit?

It's a fairly standard banking process to look at history of financial performance over the previous few years and it's used to identify what's changing and then try and figure out why.

Q nd so that would influence your assessment of whether or not to approve this credit -- this credit extension?

Yes.

Q If we can just flip back to page two of this document and focus on this table at the bottom the header for this is "covenants" and then lists a series of questions that are answered for facility , facility B, and facility C.

Do you recall what facility was?

Yes, I recall that was the original Doral facility.

Q nd is facility B the Chicago loan?

I think so from memory, yes.

Q nd facility C?

Is the new Old Post Office facility.

Q What is the purpose of this table?

It's to document the fact that the client was in compliance with their covenant obligations.

Q nd if we take a look at focus facility B in the middle, it says "are all covenants in compliance." Underneath that it states -- reporting there is a box checked "yes" and another box -- sorry -- another row, "financial" marked "yes."

What is demonstrated in that portion of the chart?

It's -- that's stating that the client's financial reporting covenants have been complied with and the client is also in compliance with the actual financial covenants that are -- we're asking him to report on.

Q nd if there was not a covenant had not been complied with, would that have been subject to the process we've discussed earlier for an event of default?

So any covenant that had not been complied with would go through some process for us to determine whether we needed compliance for that covenant or whether we wanted to waive it or amend the documentation or potentially default the transaction.

Q So by signing off on this credit report does this reflect the determination by you that each of the loan covenants had been met?

So this report is prepared by the lending group. I personally had not checked that those loan covenants had all been met. I was relying on their statement here that we were in compliance and I was then -- my approval was conditioned on that fact being correct and accurate.

Q Understood.

Mr. Haigh, you've been hand a document that's been marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 298. Just take a moment to look through this document.

Okay.

Q Do you recognize this document?

Yes.

Q What is it?

It's an annual review credit memoranda.

Transcript continues on the following page....

Q If we look at the top, it says the date is July 20, 2015; is that right?
Correct.
MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, I would ask that this document be entered into evidence.
MR. ROBERT: Objection. Statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Overruled. It's in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as People's Exhibit 298.)
Q If I could direct you to page seven of this document. We will pull it up on the screen.
Before the language lessons, we were looking at this section of the 2015 credit report. Do you recognize the signature on the right-hand side of the screen?
Yes, that's my signature.
Q nd what is indicated by your signature?
pproval of this annual credit review.
Q If you can take a look up I think at the top page one. t the top, it says, "purpose of presentation , annual review of Trump Endeavor 12, L.L.C. loan review; annual review of 401 North Wabash Venture, L.L.C. and C, annual review of Trump Old Post Office.
Do I understand this credit report is covering annual review for all three loans?
Yes.

Q Would the annual review process for this year 2015 and for these three properties operate the same as the annual review process we discussed previously?
Yes.
Q If you can go down to page two. gain, there is a segment marked covenants and checkbox is showing whether or not they are in compliance. What role did this information play in annual review of the three loan facilities?
It documented the client's status with regard to those covenants.
Q nd do you know what the source of information would be for the information contained in this chart?
It would be the latest information provided by the client. It would be reviewed for compliance with the covenants.
MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, I apparently have neglected to ask that Exhibit 298 be moved into evidence.
THE COURT: Granted. They are in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as People's Exhibit 298.)
Q If you can go down to page ten just briefly for a moment.
MR. ROBERT: I will keep my standing objection on that.
THE COURT: I was waiting for that.
MR. ROBERT: I knew you were.

Q If we look down at the bottom of page ten under the heading "liquidity," this section states, "the guarantor reports liquidity of 302 million as of 6/30/2014 consisting of funds in Mr. Trump's name personally and various entities that Mr. Trump controls. The client reported balances have remained on par from the prior year with minor fluctuations attributed to additional CRE acquisitions and the guarantor taking fewer distributions from his properties."
From this information, do you have an understanding of what the source was for the information on Mr. Trump's liquidity?
Yes.
Q nd what was the source of this year for his liquidity information?
Source would be combination of what was on his personal financial certificate or statement which would have been validated or verified to some extent by looking at the actual brokerage accounts or bank accounts showing that actual liquidity in existence.
Q Do you know if that verification actually happened in this year?
So I did not do that myself. It was done by lending officers, so -- but if they say that they -- I rely on my lending officers to do their job and to tell me the truth.
Q But this doesn't -- this language doesn't refer to any additional due diligence performed by the lending officers who prepared the report?

MR. ROBERT: Objection.
THE COURT: Well, it is leading. Rephrase it. If it doesn't, not doesn't it.
Q Does -- is there any reference to lending officers actually checking the level of funds in this report?
I don't see a specific reference to that. It was part of the private wealth management businesses standard operating process to validate liquidity.
MR. W LL CE: If we could move on to page ten, please.
Q gain, this section says guarantor's financial summary. lthough all three facilities are secured by collateral, given the unique nature of these credits, the credit exposure is being recommended based on the financial profile of the guarantor.
What does that mean in the context of annual review that the credit exposure is being recommended based on the financial profile of the guarantor?
It means that the guarantor continues to have a substantial financial strengths and that our loans are good quality loans based on that personal guaranty that we have from him.
Q nd so does that necessitate any action by the bank or --

No.
Q gain, if we look at the top row, it says, "financial summary." You see reporting for 2011, 2012, 2013, 2014, both client reported and adjusted.
Why is Deutsche Bank looking at Mr. Trump's financial condition from 2011 through 2014 in this report?
Looking to see if there is any trend that is identifiable.
Q nd this information about any trend that might be identifiable is something that the bank is using in its analysis of -- in the annual review process?
Potentially if the bank identified a trend, if it was either worrying or improving, that would be a call-out in the write up.
Q Mr. Haigh, you've been handed a document that has been marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 300. If you can just take a moment to familiarize yourself with this document.
(Witness reviewing document.)
Yes, I see it.
Q Do you recognize this document?
Yes.
Q What is this document?
It is another annual review this time for 2016.
MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, I would ask that Exhibit 300 be moved into evidence.

THE COURT: Granted. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as People's Exhibit 300.)
Q We'll walk through some of this in just a moment. If we could flip to page 9 of 27. t the bottom, your signature is missing from this document.
Do you have a recollection of why you didn't sign this document?
No specific recollection. It is possible I was on vacation at the time.
Q Okay. If you turn to page 13 and we look, there is an e-mail from Gaston llegre to -- is it Joern Joseph?
Yes, Joern Joseph.
Q Who is Mr. llegre?
Gaston llegre was a credit officer that worked for me on my team.
Q Who is Mr. Joseph?
He was the chief credit officer of the U.S. entities of Deutsche Bank.
Q nd you're copied on this e-mail, but underneath it says, Mr. llegre writes: "Dear Joern, following up on our conversation Tuesday, please find attached the annual review for Mr. Trump, the credit report has been approved by Thomas Eggenschweiler by e-mail (see attached) and me. In Nick's absence, would you please review and provide local -1 authority approval".

Does this refresh your recollection as to why you didn't sign this particular credit report?
Well, it appears that I was absent, so I guess -- again, I'm guessing vacation.
Q nd obtaining approval from Mr. Joseph was another means of approving the credit report?
Yes.
Q Just to confirm, this document was approved by Deutsche Bank in the credit report? Is that fair to say?
I believe so. I believe there was an e-mail confirmation from Joern Joseph and Thomas Eggenschweiler that they supported the -- this document.
Q If we go to page two of this document, you see at the bottom of this page, again, there is another table reporting the nature of the loan covenants and compliance.
What was the basis for the information reflected in this chart?
The information would have started with the client, would have come from the client and then would have been analyzed by the support group within private wealth management.
Q If you could go down to page 15. If we look again, it is a summary chart. I ask was the adjustment process, the haircut process in this year the same as the process we've described in the prior years?

Yes.
Q If we look here, we see that this covers the year 2011 through 2015. gain, why is Deutsche Bank looking at the performance across all of those years?
We're looking to see for trends in the change in value of assets or liabilities.
Q nd was the change in trends relevant to the -- to your review of this credit report?
Yes.
Q We can go back to page three. There is a heading "guarantee type." This section states, "Guarantee level analysis is based on a 32.7 LTV. The guarantor has requested to retain a 10 percent guarantee level although terms of the previously approved tranche note allow for no personal guarantee if the LTV is below 35 percent. s outlined below, the guarantee level at or below 35 percent LTV was originally contemplated to be zero percent at which time pricing was scheduled to increase to L plus 2.00 percent retaining a 10 percent guarantee level clearly strengthens the credit."
Can you explain to us what is happening with the guarantee? What's happened with the guarantor's request to remain at ten percent guarantee level?

guaranteed stepped down. nd the 35 percent loan to value, we were willing to allow there to be no personal guarantee whatsoever. But in fact, as a consequence of that, the pricing would have increased, the spread, the L plus 2.00 number. Instead, the client -- his people said to us we would prefer to keep it 10 percent and take advantage of the lower pricing that goes along with the 10 percent guarantee.

Q Thank you.

You've been handed a document that has been marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 3137. Can you take a moment to familiarize yourself with this?

(Witness reviewing document.)

Okay.

Q Do you recognize this document?

Yes.

Q What is this document?

It is an annual review of all three credit facilities the bank had with Donald Trump.

Q nd is that indicated by the box marked "reasons for presentation?"

That together with the checked box at the top left which says "review."

MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, I would ask that Plaintiff's Exhibit 3137 be entered into evidence.

THE COURT: Granted. It is in evidence.

(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 3137.)

Q If we could flip to page ten, at the bottom, do you recognize the signature on the right-hand side of the screen?

Yes, that's my signature.

Q What is indicated by your signature?

That I approved the annual review.

Q Can you explain what's meant as the notation I will read as "for DBTC as regional head WM risk"?

So I was signing -- I was being clear that I was signing on behalf of Deutsche Bank Trust Company mericas as the regional head of the wealth management risk group effectively meant that my signature was sufficient for that -- for the approval of this annual review.

Q If we could turn to page eight of this document, focus on the section that states "recommendation." It says, "recommendation approval of the annual review for facility Doral facility; B, Chicago facility; C, OPO. Underneath that, it states, "all facilities financial strength of the guarantor, the financial profile of the guarantor includes a stated net worth of 5.7 billion which remains well above his $2.5 billion minimum requirement even on an adjusted basis. Guarantor maintains a strong liquidity position, $114 million in unencumbered liquidity. decrease of $60 million from the prior year due to political campaign costs."

Did you have an understanding of how Deutsche Bank would have obtained the information reflected in this section?

We would have obtained that information from the client and we would have validated any liquidity to some extent by looking at brokerage statements and/or bank account statements.

Q Do you have any specific recollection of considering dealing with the issue of decrease in liquidity due to political campaign costs?

That information would have come from the client.

Q But you don't remember any discussion of it internally?

I do not.

MR. W LL CE: If we could scroll down. Keep going.

Q I'm just going to have -- I'll start over. We see the chart here. It says, "financial analysis guarantor." Underneath guarantor is final summary. lthough all three facilities are secured by collateral, given the unique nature of these credits, the credit exposure continues to be recommended for support based on the financial profile of the guarantor or the ability to rely once again on the guarantor if collateral value has dropped and LTVs increased."

Why is that the primary basis for continuing to support credit?

The primary basis -- it's the primary basis because the collateral in all three cases was not the usual type of commercial real estate collateral that the bank would take.

Q nd once again, we see that there is information contained here about Donald J. Trump financial condition. I should say his financial summary from 2011 through 2016.

Why, again, is the bank looking at his financial profile from 2011 to 2016?

gain, it is to enable trends to be identified.

Q nd being able to identify trends was relevant to your analysis of the credit report?

Yes.

Q nd was that relevant to your ultimate approval of this credit report for this year?

Yes.

Q Mr. Haigh, you've been handed a document that's been marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 302. Take a moment to look through the document.

(Witness reviewing document.)

Okay.

Q Do you recognize this document?

Yes.

Q What is this document?

It's an annual review this time for July 2018 for three credit exposures we had with Donald Trump.

Q If we could turn to page ten of this. Do you recognize the signature on the far right-hand side of the screen?

That's my signature.

Q What is indicated by your signature on this document?
pproval of the annual review.
MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, I would ask that Plaintiff's Exhibit 302 be entered into evidence.
THE COURT: Granted. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as People's Exhibit 302.)
Q Mr. Haigh, was the process for this annual review the same as the prior annual reviews we have been discussing this afternoon?
Yes.
Q If we could turn to page eight.
MR. KISE: For the record, I think the signature is on page nine. I saw it came up at ten.
THE COURT: nybody object to his signature being on page nine? I hereby deem it to be page nine. Ten-minute warning.
Q Mr. Haigh, we see another chart showing the analysis of financial analysis. Was the process conducted in this financial analysis the same as we discussed for prior years?
Yes.
Q gain, we see that the analysis contains the financial summary for Mr. Trump stretching from 2011 to what I believe is 2017. It looks like it is kind of cut off at this point, maybe 2018.

Why is Deutsche Bank looking at Mr. Trump's financial condition across all of these years?
In order to identify any trends in his financial situation.
Q Was that relevant to your analysis of this credit report?
Yes.
Q nd was it relevant to your signing off on this credit report?
Yes.
MR. W LL CE: I'll try to finish at the same time that we are breaking. So we're close.
Q Mr. Haigh, I handed you a document that's been marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 466. If you could take a moment to look through this document.
(Witness reviewing document.)
Okay.
Q Do you recognize this document?
Yes.
Q What is it?
It's a set of e-mails, an e-mail chain between myself and Marzio Hug who was the senior credit officer in London.
Q Who is the senior credit officer?
He was the senior credit officer in London. He was Thomas Eggenschweiler's boss at the time.

MR. W LL CE: I will note for the record that this e-mail chain is dated at the top, e-mail chain is dated July 30, 2014. We ask that Plaintiff's Exhibit 466 be admitted into evidence.
MR. ROBERT: Objection. Statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Objection overruled. Granted. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 466.)
Q Mr. Haigh, you remember the transactions being discussed in this e-mail chain?
I have some memories of it, yes.
Q In your e-mail at the bottom of the first page, it states, "We" issued a letter to Morgan Stanley today. It includes language that is not a commitment. We got an acknowledgment from Donald Trump that the letter does not waive or modify the terms of our existing transactions, that it does not obligate us to waive or modify our terms. It does not prejudice and of our rights and it is not a commitment."
Firstly, I would ask if you could turn to page three of this document.
THE COURT: I assume "and" is meant to be "any."
THE WITNESS: Correct.
Q nd is this letter the acknowledgment from Mr. Trump that you were referring to in your e-mail?

Yes.
Q It states at the top, "Dear Donald. You have asked Deutsche Bank to provide a letter in connection with your bid for the acquisition of the Buffalo Bills of the National Football League and in connection therewith, you provided Deutsche Bank with a recent certification of your financial statement which includes liquidity and asset value. copy of the letter is attached hereto as Exhibit (the DB letter)."
If we go back to your cover e-mail, why did you want an acknowledgment from Mr. Trump that this was not a commitment?
Deutsche Bank was not prepared or willing to increase its credit exposure to Mr. Trump at that time.
Q nd so do you have an understanding of what the purpose was of writing the letter to Morgan Stanley?
Morgan Stanley were looking for some kind of confirmation that Mr. Trump would be able to perform under any purchase agreement that he had to buy the Buffalo Bills.
Q If we look at the last paragraph of your e-mail, it states, "We got a certification of his financial status which documents the liquidity that was shown to us through statements, addresses, changes in his assets, liabilities and leverage ratio."
Just go to the last page in this document. Is this document the certification that you are referring to in your e-mail?

Yes.
Q Do you know who Jeffrey McConney is?
No.
Q It states at the top, "I, Jeffrey McConney, controller, do hereby certify to Deutsche Bank the accuracy of the following with respect to Mr. Donald J. Trump (DT). DT's current liquidity excluding any encumbered liquid assets, but including cash on hand as of June 30, 2014 is approximately $310 million."
Why did Deutsche Bank want this certification as to his liquidity?
We had loan agreements with Mr. Trump that had covenants requiring him to maintain liquidity and we wanted him to certify that he would be in compliance with those covenants.
Q Do you know if Deutsche Bank did any independent testing to confirm the 310 million number recommended here by Mr. McConney?
I do not know whether we did.
Q Item B states, "There have been no material decrease (in excess of ten percent) in the aggregate value of his illiquid assets since the financials were reported to Deutsche Bank as of June 30, 2013 that were certified by DT on October 30, 2013.
Why did Deutsche Bank want this certification from Mr. Trump?
gain, to be comforted, to receive confirmation that there was no material change in his net worth and attesting to the value of the illiquid assets would be part of how the bank would be comfortable with that.

Q Did Deutsche Bank take any independent procedures to verify the accuracy of the representation contained in paragraph B?
No, not that I am aware of.
Q Same question. Why did Deutsche Bank want this representation as to any material decrease or -- why did Deutsche Bank want this representation C as to whether or not there were any material increase in excess of five percent in liabilities?
gain, it is a component of his net worth.
Q nd, to your knowledge, did Deutsche Bank undertake any independent procedures to confirm the accuracy of the representation contained in paragraph C?
I have no knowledge of us doing -- Deutsche Bank doing that.
Q For paragraph D, it states, "The ratio of total assets to total liabilities remains greater than 15X."
What -- could you explain what is meant by the ratio of assets to liabilities?
If one divides the total asset values by the total liabilities, you would end up with a number that's more than 15.
Q To your knowledge, did Deutsche Bank undertake any independent procedures to verify this representation in paragraph D from the Trump Organization?

Not to my knowledge.
MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, at this time, we have nothing further of Mr. Haigh.
THE COURT: Nothing further at this time. Okay. Perfect break time.
fter the break, you'll cross-examine? Okay. See you in 15 minutes.
(Witness excused.)
(Whereupon, a recess was taken.)

THE COURT OFFICER: Come to order. ll rise. Part 37 is back in session. Please be seated and come to order.
Witness entering.
(The witness enters the courtroom and approaches the witness stand.)
THE COURT: Mr. Suarez, are you ready to cross examine the witness?
MR. SU REZ: Yes, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Proceed.
CROSS EX MIN TION
BY MR. SU REZ:
Q Mr. Haigh, good afternoon.
Good afternoon.
Q I'm Jesus Suarez. We met a number of months ago at your deposition.
Yes.
Q It's very nice to see you.
Mr. Haigh, you would agree with me that banks make money by lending money; correct?
That's one way of making one.
Q nd a goal of credit risk management is to make good risk decisions; correct?
Yes.
Q nd in doing so in analyzing risk, credit risk management considers a number of factors; correct?

Yes.
Q The purpose of doing so among others is to make sure that money lent gets repaid; correct?
That's correct.
Q nd among those factors are the nature of the collateral associated with the loan; correct?
Yes.
Q The quality of the collateral associated with the loan; correct?
It kind of goes along with the nature of the collateral, yes.
Q The loan's value ratio of the loan?
Yes.
Q The bank's lending history on that type of loan?
Yes, that's true.
Q The actual lending experience with the specific customer; correct?
That's also true.
Q The bank's experience in a particular industry; correct?
Yes.
Q The client's experience in a particular industry?
That's relevant as well.
Q The client's performance in a particular industry is that also relevant?

Yes.
Q Whether the client has a proven track record in a particular industry, is that something that's relevant?
Yes, that's relevant.
Q The borrower's debt profile, is that's something that's relevant, sir?
Yes, it is.
Q The guarantor's debt profile as well; correct?
Correct.
Q The primary source of repayment, that's a relevant consideration in risk analysis?
Yes.
Q s well as the secondary source of repayment?
That's one of them, yes, yes.
Q nd the tertiary source of repayment we heard earlier is also relevant?
Indeed and the fourth way out, if there is one as well.
Q nd the fourth way out.
nd that's a shorthand for source of repayment? It's a way out? It's an exit strategy for the bank?
Correct.
Q The likelihood of default is a relevant consideration; correct?
Yes, it is.
Q Borrower's liquidity is a consideration; correct?

Correct.
Q The guarantor's liquidity is a consideration; correct?
Correct.
Q Unpledged access owned by the guarantor are a consideration; correct?
Part of the analysis, yes.
Q nd whether the borrower has unpledged assets, those are also consideration?
Yes.
Q General economic climate is also a consideration?
Yes, that can be a consideration too.
Q There are many, many things that you consider when performing risk analysis; correct?
There are -- yes, there are, yes.
Q nd it's your job to weigh all of these factors when making a risk determination; correct?
That's correct.
Q nd you use your considerable experience in the field in order to reach those judgments; correct?
That's part of having research judgments, yes.
Q The other part includes inputs collected by other members of your team?
Yes.
Q s well as the opinions of other members of your team in reaching those judgments; correct?

Yes.
Q nd that would include information supplied by the lending group; correct?
That's part of it, part of the analysis, yes.
Q The judgment of the lending group plays into your risk analysis?
It has a role. We expect the lending group to have formed a judgment and to be supportive of the proposal.
Q nd earlier we talked about a relationship group as well, the frontline people; correct?
Relationship managers, yes.
Q The relationship managers.
nd the relationship managers they also provide input as to whether a transaction should occur or not occur; correct?
They have -- they certainly have an opinion, yes.
Q They certainly have an opinion.
nd that's an opinion that you consider in doing risk analysis?
Their opinions aren't likely to affect our fundamental risk analysis. It might affect whether we consider the exception or not.
Q nd these opinions and judgments made by the lending group are typically reflected in the credit memos?
That's the purpose of the credit memo is to collect that information together.

Q nd you expect that the information that's collected by the lending group is accurately reported on the credit memos?
Yes, I do.
Q nd then you typically review the credit memos in connection with your decision to support or not support the transaction?
That's correct.
Q nd in doing so you rely on what's in those credit memos; correct?
Yes, I do.
Q Let's look at the 2011 credit memo that was introduced by the plaintiff as Exhibit 293, please. We can pull that up on the screen. nd this particular credit memo relates to the transaction commonly known as the Doral transaction; correct?
Correct.
Q nd that was a loan to acquire a resort in what is now Doral, Florida; correct?
Yes.
Q Outside of Miami?
Yes.
Q I believe you told the ttorney General's Office that Vrablic and Scalzi were the relationship managers for this account?
Yes.
Q nd those are folks who worked in the private wealth management group at Deutsche Bank?

That's correct.
Q They were your colleagues for a period of years?
Yes. We worked at Deutsche Bank at the same time.
Q You worked at Deutsche Bank at the same time during these transactions?
Right, right.
Q You regard them well?
Yes.
Q Their support for a transaction is something you would have considered?
They're both experienced relationship managers with a knowledge in credit.
Q The account manager, which I believe is Thomas Sullivan, reflected here, that's also somebody that you worked with at Deutsche Bank?
That's correct.
Q nd he's an individual with substantial experience in the lending business?
Yes.
Q nd his judgment that you would have considered in determining whether to support or not support this transaction?
It would have been a requirement that he did support it before we would sign off on it.
Q So Mr. Sullivan doesn't support the transaction it wouldn't even get to your desk?

Correct or someone in his position.
Q Or someone in his position.
If Mr. Sullivan hadn't supported this transaction it wouldn't have come to your desk?
Correct.
Q nd the same question about Mr. Stafford and Ms. Schroeder who were the supporting lenders on this transaction. They were the folks that went out into the field and collected that information?
They were more junior lending officers, yes.
Q nd you would have relied upon what was communicated to you by them in this memo?
Yes.
Q nd you would have considered their judgment in connection with your risk analysis; correct?
s more junior officers of the bank their opinions would probably carry less weight than Mr. Sullivan's opinion, for example.
Q The law firm of Loeb & Loeb?
Loeb & Loeb.
Q Loeb & Loeb. That's how it's pronounced?
I believe so.
Q They were legal counsel to the bank in this transaction?

Correct.
Q nd Loeb & Loeb is a highly sophisticated law firm?
gain, I believe so.
Q You worked with them for a number of years; correct?
Correct.
Q nd they typically represented the bank well in these transactions?
Yes.
Q nd specifically in this transaction there is no reason to challenge their work?
None that I'm aware of.
Q I'd like to draw your attention to page one in the second paragraph in the section "Collateral."
nd we reviewed this -- you reviewed this earlier today in your testimony, so I'll move into the salient points where it says in the second line, "DJT," Mr. Trump, "intends to hold the property for the long-term benefit" -- "for the long-term to benefit from the strong cash flows and significant development opportunities." Do you see that?
Yes, I do.
Q Was the use of the collateral something that you would have considered in your risk analysis?
So in the sense of the use of the collateral is an integral part of the collateral itself and yes, so we would have looked at how the collateral is being used as part of the analysis.

Q nd is the long-term appreciation of the collateral something that you consider in your risk analysis?
Not really, no.
Q Is the borrower's strategy for how to use that collateral over a long period of time something that you would have considered?
Only to the extent that it demonstrated some ability to improve the cash flow or value from the real estate. The long-term desired hold would have informed the likely length of the loan that we were willing to consider.
Q Well, certainly you wouldn't want your collateral to lose value over a period of time; correct?
We don't want it to lose value although we're aware that it may.
Q nd in this particular case are you aware that the Doral property is now worth more than a billion dollars?
I'm not aware of that.
MR. W LL CE: Objection.
Q If in fact it is worth more than a billion dollars now would you agree that the strategy or hold the property in benefit from strong cash flows --
MR. W LL CE: Objection.
Q -- succeeded?
THE COURT: I'm not sure -- are you objecting or are you not objecting?

MR. W LL CE: I'm objecting.
MR. KISE: What's the objection?
MR. W LL CE: The objection is it assumes facts not in evidence of Mr. Suarez's testimony.
MR. SU REZ: I'm simply asking him a fact statement.
MR. W LL CE: If the defendants have evidence that it's worth a billion dollars, they can show --
THE COURT: Well, I'll allow hypotheticals, but other parts of the question may be of concern.
Would you like a read back or do you want to ask the same or similar question?
MR. SU REZ: Let me try to ask it differently.
Q If in fact the property is now worth over a billion dollars would you agree with me that Mr. Trump's long-term plan for the property succeeded?
Only if the cost to him of holding it over that period and the present value of the cost of funding and the cost of the improvements he made, only if that cost was less than the million or billion dollars that you are saying it's worth.
Q If you take a look on page one, it says " ssets Under Management." You can highlight that section.
See where it says "Donald J. Trump?"
Yes.

Q 20MM, that's million cash deposits?
That stands for 20 million, that's right.
Q nd part of the objective of the private wealth management group is to bring deposits into the bank; correct?
Correct.
Q That's part of its business purpose?
That's part of its business strategy, yes.
Q To develop the relationships with high net worth and ultra high net worth individuals?
To cover those individuals, to offer them banking deposits, investment products, loans, other products as well.
Q nd Donald J. Trump, Jr. here reflects as 100M in cash deposits?
Stands for 100,000.
Q 100,000.
nd these were facts that the bank considered in connection with preparing on the credit report; correct?
Yes.
Q nd the fact that private wealth management was building a client relationship with a high net worth client is also something that the bank considered?
The bank always wanted to be able to build what it called a relationship with a client, meaning that it wasn't just credit, but it did other things with that client as well.
Q If you turn to page three of this document, page three in the section "Recommendation," says, "The facility is being recommended for approval based on" and then it lists the basis for approval; correct?

Yes, it lists those four bullet points.
Q nd those are the grounds upon which approval of the transaction is being recommended?
Yes. I mean, those are a summary, if you'd like, of the key points in favor of doing this transaction.
Q These are the important ones?
From the point of view of the lending officer who wrote the memo, yes.
Q When it describes the financial strength of the guarantor, you would agree with me that the financial profile of the guarantor it says there "includes, on an adjusted basis, 135 million in unencumbered liquidity;" correct?
Correct.
Q 2.4 billion in net worth; correct?
Correct.
Q nd approximately 48 million in adjusted recurring net cash flow; correct?
Correct.
THE COURT: I just want to make sure because the wording was a little strange. You're just asking him if that's what it says; right?
MR. SU REZ: Correct. In building on the fact that this was a key point in their decision ultimately to support the transaction.

Q nd I just want to confirm that those are the numbers that the bank based its recommendation for approving the transaction?

Those are -- okay. Those are numbers after the bank had made adjustments, I think. I'm not sure about the 2.4 billion net worth. I'd have to read the memo again because we say adjusted liquidity of 135 million, but with the financial profile like that it was a recommendation to support this transaction.

Q nd that was the financial profile that the bank determined reflected the financial strength of the guarantor; correct?

Yes.

Q So I just want to draw your attention it was the adjusted basis that formed the basis of the recommendation, the adjusted basis of 135 million in unencumbered liquidity, 2.4 billion in net worth and 48 million in adjusted recurring net cash flow?

I mean, I see that language. I need to read through the memorandum itself to see whether the 2.4 billion in net worth is also adjusted, but I see the language there is just the position of the covenant, so.

Q Let's take a look at the next page of the document.

Do you see here where in the middle of the page it lists financial analysis and the second column reflects the client reported financial summary? nd the second column includes the DB adjusted column for the year ending 6/30/2011?

Yes, I see that.

Q The second column would reflect what the client reported from the bank; correct?

Yes.

Q nd the second column being Deutsche Bank's adjusted --

THE COURT: That's the third column.

Q The third column?

That's after Deutsche Bank had made adjustments.

Q fter Deutsche Bank had made adjustments.

nd in the first instance you've got cash marketable securities reported at 258.9 million and Deutsche Bank adjusted that to 135.8 million?

I see that.

Q So that's the number ported over the basis for the recommendation?

Correct.

Q nd in fact, if we scroll down to the section on liquidity it would tell you why Deutsche Bank made that adjustment; correct? nd we can walk through it. Do you see where it says "liquidity?"

I do, yes.

Q "On December 20, 2011, a structured lending team of Dave Williams and Emily Schroeder visited the offices of the guarantor and reviewed bank and brokerage statements that confirmed 178 million in cash balances and 51.8 million marketable securities, totaling 229.9 million held in the name of the guarantor. In addition, they also reviewed statements for operating companies that were wholly owned by the guarantor which evidenced another 29 million cash and marketable securities." Do you see that?

I do.

Q re you aware that Dave Williams and Emily Schroeder visited the client's offices?

That's what he claims I assume they did.

Q You assume they did you assume.

They had the opportunity to ask questions?

Correct.

Q Review documents?

Yes.

Q nd then report back in the credit memo their findings?

Yes.

Q nd if you go on to the next paragraph, it says, "The guarantor's personal liquidity is primarily" -- excuse me -- "has been primarily generated through ongoing distributions from his diversified portfolio of operating companies which is highlighted in more detail in the cash flow section below."

Do you see that?

Yes.

Q "Such distributions include cash distributions from the guarantor's portfolio of premier private clubs, which generated these distributions through operating profit along with the collection of membership deposits."

nd we'll have to scroll two more pages over because this page repeats. nd the memorandum it keeps going up here. This is the part I really wanted to draw your attention to, and it says:

"In accordance with industry standards, premier golf clubs require new members to post a non-interest bearing 30-year deposit as part of their membership requirement. Terms of the deposit agreement include that such deposits are nonrefundable for 30 years without condition, after which the member may request the refund for such deposits, often contingent on being replaced by at least one new member.

s of June 30, 2011, the total life-to-date balance of such deposits collected across the ten clubs owned by the guarantor was $188 million. Given the lack of any conditional rights by member, such" -- "by the member," excuse me, "such deposits are not recorded on the operating books of the club as a liability. The guarantor has indicated that they have received tax opinions supporting the treatment of such deposits and are not required to be included as part of the taxable income, however for purposes of calculating adjusted liquidity, we have elected to include a 50 percent reserve ($94,000.000 representing 50 percent of the 188 million life-to-date deposit balance) against the reported liquidity." Do you see that?

Yes.
Q Does this reflect the bank had an opportunity to go to review the cash holdings and discount them appropriately for purposes of adjusting the value in its determination of the guarantor's liquid assets?
I don't know which accounts they looked at to form this conclusion about these particular assets. In other words, I don't know whether they were in separate accounts by themselves or were part of some other commingled account. Looks to me as though the lending officers were to some extent relying on information to be provided to them by the client's people in terms of how they were treated from a tax point of view.
Q But the determination to discount the reserve did not relate to the tax point of view?
I'm not sure about that. Normally with a cash deposit it was fully owned and unencumbered. We would take a very small haircut, if any. The fact that we're taking such a large haircut suggests to me we think there is some reason that this liquidity might not be there in the future and given that it states at the top these are deposited for a nonrefundable basis for 30 years and even then they may have to be replaced with a new investment in the golf club, a new member, whatever it's called. The haircut we're taking suggests to me we think there may be some sort of tax liability attached to them.

Q But certainly the fact that the cash was generated from those membership deposits is clearly disclosed to the bank; correct?
Yes.
Q nd the fact that the bank had its own opinion as to how much of that liquidity it ought to consider was adjusted and then reflected in the financial analysis; correct?
The bank didn't did make that adjustment. That's correct.
Q Then going back to the prior page. If we go back to the chart with the statement of the financial analysis. I'd just like to point out again that the 258.9 is reduced to 135.8; correct?
Correct.
Q nd in the escrow and reserve deposits the bank took the client's reported number of 9.1 million and reduced it to 0?
Correct.
Q Correct.
In the real estate category you've got the client reported value of 2 -- of what is effectively $2,996,900,000; correct?
Correct.

Q nd the bank adjusted that net worth or that net equity number, excuse me, down to 1,000,737,900,000; correct?
Yes.
Q nd that was after the bank had an opportunity to review the client's real estate holdings in the matter reflected in the credit report; correct?
Yes.
Q nd if we would go to the page over which is page six of the PDF and scroll up to this chart here we see how the bank did that; correct?
That's correct.
Q nd I believe there were four properties that are listed as trophy properties; correct?
Yes.
Q The first one being Trump Tower; right?
Yes.
Q nd the client reported a value of 490 million for Trump Tower and Deutsche Bank reduced that to 380.2 million for purposes of reaching its adjusted value for that property?
Yes.
Q Niketown, same question. The client reported a value of 263.7 million and Deutsche Bank reduced that to 197 million for purposes of reaching the Deutsche Bank adjusted value?
Correct.
Q nd 40 Wall Street, the $524.7 million valuation was reduced to 438 million by Deutsche Bank?

Yes.
Q nd in the case of the Trump Park venue, a similar reduction in value occurred; correct?
Yes.
Q 311 million went down to 206.3 million; correct?
Correct.
Q nd in the third column or fourth column, "property level debt" that stayed the same; right? The debt of the property continues to be the debt of the property?
Correct.
Q nd the following column lists the net equity reported by the client and in the following column the net equity reported by Deutsche Bank?
Correct.
Q nd in order to reach the DB valuation, Deutsche Bank had the opportunity to consult with the folks from the Deutsche Bank Valuation Services Group; correct?
Yes.
Q nd the Deutsche Bank Valuation Services Group I understand are an internal unit of the bank?
That's correct.
Q They're folks that have substantial experience valuing real estate assets?
Correct.

Q They're folks whose job includes not only providing I think what's been described as sanity checks on real estate numbers?

Most of the time their job is reviewing actual appraisals, criticizing those appraisals, signing off on the end product at the end of the day. This was more of I think the phrase we used might have been a sanity check on the numbers.

Transcript continues on the following page....

Q It was Deutsche Bank's opinion of what the value of those assets should be, correct?

It was Deutsche Bank's opinion of what the value of those assets might be.

Q Might be because, of course, we understand there could be a broad range of outcomes when you value an asset?

lso, we didn't have -- we, the bank, including its valuation services group, hadn't done all the due diligence that one would do in order to form an opinion of value in the sense of the opinion of value you see in an appraisal.

Q nd, of course, I understand an opinion of value in the valuation world has a very specific definition.

Correct. Right.

Q You, sir, are a surveyor?

Yes.

Q Which I understand across the pond in the United Kingdom is very similar to our appraiser?

Correct.

Q In fact, a RICS surveyor; is that correct?

That's the institution that certifies.

Q The Royal Institute of Chartered Surveyors?

Correct.

Q nd here, each one of these properties that was evaluated, the trophy assets was not pledged as collateral to the bank, correct?

That's correct.

Q In fact, there is an indication there of property level debt, right?

Yes.

Q The property level debt would be debt from other banks that attached to the respective properties?

Yes.

Q You would understand that, right?

We would be relying on information the client had reported to us that this debt existed.

Q nd the total outcome of the valuation of these four trophy properties was that the client reported number of 1,590,000,000 was reduced to 1,221,100 -- excuse me was reduced to 1,221,500,000.

Correct.

Q Which produced net equity from 1.326.4 million to 957.9 million?

That's also correct.

Q In order to adjust the valuation, so that from the bank's perspective it had a valuation that appears here, you consulted with the folks at Deutsche Bank evaluation?

On those four assets.

Q I believe that that's reflected lower in this document under the four trophy properties. It is goes through for these four assets how the values were adjusted, correct?

Correct.

Q Specifically with respect to Trump Tower, Deutsche Bank Valuation Services Group suggested a more appropriate -- what it believed a more appropriate cap rate in order to reach a value, correct?

Yes.

Q That formed the basis of Deutsche Bank's adjustment?

Correct.

Q nd in the Niketown, I don't believe the particular methodology was reported on the credit memo, but the result was that based on these reports square footage, Deutsche Bank Valuation Services Group indicated an adjusted value of 197; is that correct?

That's what's in the credit report. Like you, I'm not exactly sure how they reached that conclusion.

Q But that ended up being the value that was listed as a DB adjusted value?

Yes.

Q Then 40 Wall Street, the Deutsche Bank Valuation Services Group looked at that property and determined that a six percent aggregate was appropriate for purposes of adjusted value, correct?

Correct.

Q Based on that, it reduced the value of the property for purposes of Deutsche Bank's consideration to 1 --

Doesn't say on there.
Q Doesn't say it here, but if you look back up on the chart, it says it on the chart. It reduced to 438 billion which that was an equity of 278 million for purposes of the adjusted net equity, correct?
That's correct.
Q gain, the same adjustment took place with respect to the Trump Park venue; is that correct?
Yes.
Q nd in the Trump Park venue, there were discussions with Deutsche Bank Valuation Services Group that aren't disclosed here, but there were all of those discussions. There was a 35 percent haircut taken on the value?
That's correct.
Q nd in this instance, it appears from reading the credit report that Deutsche Bank had an opportunity to review the asset with the Deutsche Bank Valuation Services Group and apply an appropriate amount of a reduction?
s I said before, this was not a full appraisal. It was not based on due diligence, presuming it was based on information provided by the client on the size of the real estate, the leases and the rents.
Q But for Deutsche Bank's purposes, that was the number that you used?
Yes.

Q Let's back out of here. Zoom back into the club facilities. In the chart under real estate, you see a similar reduction was taken from the client report value of 1,315,000,000.
Looks to me the bank took a 50 percent reduction in the value and did not consult with the Valuation Services Group over that.
Q That's because the club facilities I believe I heard you earlier testify were hard to value?
I believe they are harder to value than of those other four assets that were individually looked at.
Q nd in a -- I think -- in extremis values produced could be very different, correct?
So in a -- in a loose stream market, whether it is a extreme market, the value could be generated from his club facilities to be very different from the value that he was carrying them at as the value there.
Q For that reason, the values were just halved?
Yes.
Q They were ball-parked?
Ball-parked, indeed.
Q nd the bank ballpark, those at having an estimate of -- an estimated net equity to did he 633 million, correct?
Yes.
Q nd in fact, they did something similar with the properties under development 273.2 million and because properties under development may yield very different sale, the bank ball-parked it and said we are just going to consider 75 percent for the value of the net worth?

75 percent haircut which is a 25 percent of their value considered.
Q So you chopped off 75 percent of what the client reported about?
That's correct.
Q That's what went into the DB adjusted net equity?
Correct.
THE COURT: Ten-minute warning.
Q nd this was with respect to the real estate, how the client reported a valuation of 3,299.4 million was reduced to 2,040.4 million and after subtraction resulted in an adjusted net equity of 1,737.9 million?
That's the math, yes.
Q Then this is the number, the DB adjusted net equity of the real estate level that then carries over to the financial analysis on page four. Then produces the client reported value for real estate net equity to the DB adjusted value for real estate net equity, correct?
Correct.
Q nd in fact, the bank undertook a similar process of reaching its own judgment on the different asset value categories for partnerships and joint ventures, correct?

Yes, it looks like a ballpark 50 percent reduction.
Q The bank reduced partnerships and joint ventures from 720 million to 360 million, correct?
Correct.
Q nd real estate licensing was reduced from 89.3 to 44.6?
Correct.
Q Other assets were reduced from 199.2 to 99.6, correct?
Correct.
Q nd after having the opportunity to consider the client reported assets, the bank reached a judgment for DB adjusted. Those assets would be reflected at a value of $2,377,900,000, correct?
Correct.
Q Ultimately, that math after the subtraction of other liabilities results in a net worth of 2,365,800,000 as adjusted by Deutsche Bank?
Yes.
Q This amount, it was that Deutsche Bank adjusted net worth, not the client reported net worth, that formed the basis of the statement in page three?
Which was --
Q Page three. That the financial strength of the guarantor included on an adjusted basis 135 million in unencumbered liquidity, 2.4 billion in net worth, correct?

Correct.
Q nd approximately 48 million in adjusted recurring net cash flow, correct?
Correct.
Q nother basis for recommending approval of the facility was operating experience, correct?
Yes.
Q nd this summarizes the operating experience of President Trump, Mr. Trump here, DJT as having extensive experience in operating private clubs, correct?
Yes.
Q nd it goes on to say that his current portfolio includes 10 such clubs with a reported value of 1.3 billion and a DB adjusted value of 675 million?
Correct.
Q nd that would follow the same logic, correct?
Yes.
Q nd in fact, Mr. Trump, later President Trump, in fact had an extensive experience, correct?
I believe so.
Q That was a significant factor in recommending approval of the loan transaction?
Yes.
Q In the fourth reported basis for recommending the facility, it says, "the expected enhanced value due to C PEX." One of the reasons that Deutsche Bank recommended to your approval of this facility was that the resort was world class location -- excuse me. The resort is a world class location that has been home to a PG event every year since the resort opened in 1962. That's correct, right, Mr. Haigh?

To the best of my knowledge.
Q nd that DJT expects to invest approximately 50 million on capital improvements and as a result, it is expected that the value of the collateral will increase significantly over the term of the facility, correct?
Correct.
Q nd on this basis, one of the reasons that Deutsche Bank was recommending approval to the loan transaction was, in fact, because it thought that the collateral would improve in value over a period of time, correct?
That was one of the reasons that the lending group put forward to us.
Q It was one of the 14 reasons?
Yes.
Q nd in fact, that turned out to be true as well?
I don't know for sure.
Q Well, then over the course of the credit reports, we'll see how that number -- the value of that collateral continued to increase as the guarantee was involved?

Correct.
MR. SU REZ: I think I am at a good stopping point, your Honor.
THE COURT: We will give everybody a break. Mr. Suarez, how much longer do you think cross will take.
nd then ttorney General, how long will your re-direct take?
MR. SU REZ: Your Honor, I think that working through the documents will take me at least as long as it took Mr. Wallace to work through the documents. I would expect to be able to do it throughout the course of tomorrow and early into the lunch break.
MR. ROBERT: Then I will have a few minutes as well.
THE COURT: Collectively, when might you expect to finish cross?
MR. SU REZ: Tomorrow afternoon.
THE COURT: Midafternoon, early afternoon?
MR. SU REZ: Midafternoon.
THE COURT: Okay.
MR. KISE: We may be able to bring Mr. Weisselberg back if that's the question, if that's what you're getting at. We will have him prepared, so they can continue with his examination.

THE COURT: Just so we know how much re-direct, if any, there will be.
MR. W LL CE: I expect I wouldn't need more than 10 or 15 minutes.
MR. KISE: We will have Mr. Weisselberg prepared and if it turns out we don't get to him, that's okay; but we won't leave the Court waiting without a witness, that's for sure.
THE COURT: That's the worse thing in the world.
MR. SOLOMON: I think finishing Mr. Weisselberg will be 30 minutes or so. Clearly, less than an hour. So depending when they're intending to finish this witness, we may want to have the next witness available for tomorrow late afternoon.
MR. KISE: We can do that.
MR. ROBERT: You want Mr. Birney here tomorrow, just tell us.
MR. KISE: Sure. I think that's optimistic given how past -- but, nonetheless, we can do it.
MR. ROBERT: If the ttorney General would just contact them and tell him to be here tomorrow afternoon, that's fine. Certainly, no objection from us.
THE COURT: Okay. See you at ten o'clock tomorrow.
MR. W LL CE: Thank you, your Honor.
MR. KISE: Thank you, Judge.

MR. ROBERT: Thank you.

N. H IGH - CROSS (MR. SU REZ) Page 1110

THE COURT OFFICER: ll rise. Part 37 is now in session. The Honorable Judge rthur Engoron presiding. Make sure all cellphones are on silent. Laptops and cellphones will be permitted, but only to members of the press. There's absolutely no recording or photography of any kind allowed in the courtroom. Now, please be seated and come to order.

THE COURT: Tommy, you're getting better and better at that.

Okay. Supposedly, the witnesses are going to be brought earlier, so we have less time to wait. Can we get Mr. Haigh?

Counselors, anything to say, housekeeping?

MR. W LL CE: Plaintiff is prepared to continue.

THE COURT: Please.

MR. SU REZ: Thank you.

THE COURT: For those of you who weren't here yesterday or didn't hear about it, we are resuming the cross-examination of Mr. Haigh formerly of Deutsche Bank.

THE COURT OFFICER: Witness entering.

THE COURT: I will remind the witness as I always do that he is still under oath.

Mr. Suarez, would you like to continue?

MR. SU REZ: Thank you, your Honor.

CROSS-EX MIN TION.
BY MR. SU REZ: (CONT'D)

Q Mr. Haigh, good morning.

Good morning.

Q Turning back yesterday to Plaintiff's 293, we were reviewing on page three the basis for recommendation of the Doral facility and I just wanted to close the loop on something here.

When we talk about the financial strength of the guarantor being based on the 48 million in part, the 48 million in adjusted recurring cash flow, do you see that number there?

Yes.

Q I wanted to make sure that that tied out to the 48 million in recurring net cash flow on page seven of this document which reflects in the second column the DB adjusted value for recurring net cash flow of 48.8 million, correct?

That's correct.

Q nd with respect to the expected enhanced value due to CapEx, again mentioned on page three of this document, as a basis for recommending the facility?

So I see that.

Q The second sentence, " s DJT expects to invest approximately 50 million on capital improvements, it is expected that the value of our collateral will increase significantly over the term of the facility." Do you see that?

I see that.
Q gain, on page nine of this document, that reflects the project overview in the third line of the second paragraph, "Upon acquisition, the guarantor intends to invest an additional 50 million to renovate and reposition the record to its previous world class standard."
Do you see that?
Yes, I do.
Q nd that's the basis of the statement on page three that the recommendation was made in part based on the anticipated investment by the guarantor into the property?
I see that, yes.
Q nd in fact, the guarantor ultimately invested more than the $50 million in the property?
I don't recall how much he ultimately vested.
Q Okay. We can get to that. Turning to Plaintiff's Exhibit 291, this is another document that you reviewed yesterday in your testimony, Mr. Haigh. nd I believe it's the originating memo for the facility on the Trump Chicago the 401 North Wabash?
Yes, that's correct.
Q The borrower in this transaction was an entity called 401 North Kabash Venture, L.L.C. correct?
Correct.
Q The lender was Deutsche Bank Trust Company merica,

correct?
Correct.
Q nd the guarantor is Donald J. Trump, correct?
Yes.
Q Eric Trump is not a party to this loan agreement, correct?
That's correct.
Q Neither is Donald J. Trump, Jr. correct?
That is correct.
Q Let me say that better. Donald Trump, Jr. is not a party to this loan agreement; is that correct?
That is correct.
Q DJT Holdings, L.L.C. is not a party to this loan agreement, correct?
So I'd have to look at the loan documentation itself to see who the ultimate parties ended up being. It is possible there were some changes between this approval and the final set of entities that signed the loan documentation.
Q t the time of the approval, there were no other parties to the agreement other than the Deutsche Bank trust company as the lender, Donald J. Trump as the guarantor and 401 North Wabash?
That was certainly the intention at the time this memorandum was approved.
Q DJT Holdings Managing Member, L.L.C. was not a party to this agreement?

Like I said, I would have to look at the actual loan documents to see what entities became a party to the agreement.
Q Was the Trump Organization Inc. a party to this loan agreement?
s I said, I'd have to look at the loan documentation.
Q s part of the underwriting reflected in the credit report, the Trump Organization Inc. was not a party to the transaction, correct?
That's correct. Per the credit report, the Trump Organization was -- as an entity was not one of the either the borrower or the guarantor.
Q nd pursuant to this credit report at least, DJT Holdings, L.L.C. was neither the borrower or the guarantor?
I agree with you, yes.
Q The same for DJT Managing, L.L.C.?
It is not in the credit report.
Q The same for the Trump Organization, L.L.C.?
It is not on the credit report.
Q The same for 40 Wall Street, L.L.C.?
It is not on the credit report.
THE COURT: Mr. Suarez, why don't you just ask if there are any other parties instead of asking ten different entities whether they are a party? Wouldn't that work?
MR. SU REZ: I think the first one, if I may, Your Honor, may take me a little bit longer and then on the following ones, I have a script to cut it down.

THE COURT: I also suggest, again, not to ask negative questions. He didn't do it, did he, and then you don't know whether yes or no. Just did he do it? No. Okay.
Q Per the credit report, Trump Endeavor, 12, L.L.C was not a party to this loan agreement?
Per the credit report, it is not a party.
Q Trump Old Post Office is not a party to this transaction, correct?
Per the credit report, it is not a party to this transaction.
Q Okay. The 401 North Wabash transaction, which we referred to as the Chicago transaction, had two components, correct?
Yes.
Q Facility , we can scroll down. The collateral for facility was a first mortgage lien and a first priority security interest in the residential component of the building known as the Trump Chicago?
Yes.
Q nd that included residential condominium units that were not sold, correct?
That's correct.

Q That were owned by the borrower, correct?
Yes.
Q s those condominium units were sold, that facility was paid down, correct?
Yes.
Q nd in the second facility B, the collateral was a first mortgage lien and first priority security interest in the commercial point of the Trump Chicago, correct?
That's correct.
Q That included a lien on a full-service hotel within the Trump Chicago that had 339 condo hotel rooms of which 175 were owned by the borrower, correct?
Yes.
Q The purpose of this loan, Mr. Haigh, was to refinance another performing Deutsche Bank loan, correct?
It was to refinance another Deutsche Bank loan, yes.
Q Deutsche Bank was familiar with the collateral, correct?
Certain members of Deutsche Bank -- the group that originated that prior loan were clearly familiar with the collateral and people within the wealth management business became more familiar with the collateral as they did their due diligence.
Q The Deutsche Bank loan that was refinanced through this transaction was a performing loan, correct?

I don't know.
Q Does the credit report suggest anywhere that the refinanced loan from Deutsche Bank was not a performing loan?
So there's no reference to the credit report that it was not performing at the time.
Q There is no reference in the credit report that the prior loan was not performed?
Correct. There's no indication that it was not performing.
Q Correct. Thank you.
If we could turn to page five. The basis for recommendation of this facility included the quality and collateral -- excuse me. The quality of the collateral and the loan to value, correct?
Yes.
Q This was the first basis identified for the facility being recommended, correct?
Yes.
Q t inception, the collateral was anticipated to be 36 percent on one and 44.7 percent on both tranches, correct?
So it says here that the loan to value, expected loan to value on the commercial transaction was 36 percent and overall between the two, the loan to value was just under 45 percent.
Q In fact, if we go to page two, you'll see it appears to be omitted here, but this was brought over for the reason -- for presentation up top, it says facility and at the end of that paragraph it says the expected LTV as closing date is the 55 percent?

Yes.
Q The expected LTV on closing date is 36 percent?
Correct.
Q Which is now in the recommendation that ports over to an aggregate expected LTV of 44.7 on closing?
Correct.
Q That's a relatively low loan to value, correct?
Depends what you're comparing it to. So I would say it's slightly low loan to value for a condo inventory deal when a condo is being emptied and being sold. It is lower than what you would expect, say, on an office building.
Q The Doral transaction by comparison had a loan to value at inception of 85 percent, correct?
Correct.
Q So the Chicago transaction comparatively had a lower average loan to value of nearly half?
Certainly much lower than the Doral transaction.
Q Going back to page five, as the basis for recommendation, we again have the financial strength of the guarantor and it includes the financial profile of the guarantor includes on an adjusted basis 146 million in unencumbered, correct?

Yes.
Q 2.4 billion in net worth, correct?
Correct.
Q nd approximately 13 million in adjusted excess recurring net cash flow, correct?
Yes.
Q Those numbers reported over from Deutsche Bank's own analysis as reflected in the credit report, correct?
Yes.
Q They're, in fact, DB's adjusted values and we can walk through them quickly. On page seven, you see again on the fourth column a client reported net worth of $4,559,000,000, correct?
That is correct.
Q nd a DB adjusted client net worth of 2,436.1, correct?
That's correct.
Q It was the DB adjusted value that was ported over as a basis for recommendation?
Yes.
Q Or I should say carried over as a basis for the recommendation, correct?
Correct.
Q nd the same is true of the excess recurring net cash flow of 13 million? That's a number that came from DB's own analysis at page ten of this report, correct?

There it is. 13.4 million on page ten.
Q 13.4 million which was the DB adjusted net excess cash flow, correct?
That's correct.
Q Going back to page five, another factor for supporting the facility was the operator's experience in operating this property type, correct?
That is correct.
Q nd that's a reference to Mr. Trump, correct?
Yes.
Q It says that he's a well-known and experienced operator of properties of this type, correct?
That is correct.
Q Then again, another factor was increasing Deutsche Bank's relationship with Mr. Trump and his affiliates, correct?
Yes.
Q In page seven, I'd like to draw your attention to, again, analysis of the guarantor's balance sheet and below it, it states that on October 19, 2012, Tom Sullivan and Emily Schroeder visited the offices of the guarantor, correct?
Correct.
Q You were not present at that meeting, correct?
I was not present at that meeting.
Q But you are aware that based on the result of that meeting, DB made certain adjustments to the resulted -- excuse m-e. To the reported values on the credit report, correct?

Yes.
Q Then turning over to page eight, we again see a valuation of the four trophy properties that included the Deutsche Bank Valuation Services Group analysis that we discussed yesterday, correct?
Correct.
Q nd Deutsche Bank Valuation Services Group performed the same type of analysis for these properties as that which we discussed yesterday, correct?
I believe so.
Q That is what's reflected in this document, correct?
Yes.
Q nd you signed this document, correct?
I did.
Q Page ten of this document, there are certain key ratios that are discussed here at the bottom and it states, "To demonstrate the strength of the guarantor, we have applied the unsecured lending guidelines assuming repayment of the obligation by the guarantor using DB adjusted balances to both the balance sheet and the net cash flow," correct?
That's correct.
Q That means that when the key ratios were computed, the inputs that were put in were the DB adjusted values, correct?

Correct. The DB adjusted values were the inputs.
Q Turning over to Plaintiff's Exhibit 290, this is the 2013 credit report, correct?
Yes, it is.
Q document that you signed, correct?
Yes, I believe so.
Q nd the reason for this document was to modify the Trump Endeavor 12, L.L.C. loan facility, correct?
Yes.
Q Proven interest rate swap?
Yes.
Q Review the Trump Endeavor 12, L.L.C. loan facility?
nnual review, that's correct.
Q nnual review and to request a change of the annual review date to July 30, 2014, correct?
Yes.
Q nd at this time, Trump Endeavor 12, L.L.C. had been substituted as the borrower in the Doral transaction, correct?
I believe so, yes.
Q I should say by this time. When we reviewed it in 2011, it said to be determined?
Right.
Q nd by now, we know that the borrower in the Doral transaction was Trump Endeavor 12, L.L.C., correct?
That is the actual legal entity.

Q So with respect to the Doral transaction, you would agree with me that the borrower was Trump Endeavor 12, L.L.C.?
That was the borrower, yes.
Q nd the lender was Deutsche Bank Trust Company mericas?
Yes.
Q nd the guarantor was Donald J. Trump?
Yes.
Q nd no other party was a borrower, a guarantor or a lender?
No other party is mentioned in the credit report. I would have to look at the loan documentation to see whether there were any other parties actually on the loan documentation.
Q Understood. If there were other parties on the loan documentation, would you expect to see them identified on the credit report?
Most likely, yes.
Q This credit report dated July 24, 2013, you would agree with me, reflects that the Doral loan was performing?
Yes, I believe so. Yes.
Q There were no missed payments correct?
Not to my recollection.
Q No late payments?
Not to my recollection.
Q That's something you would expect to see in the credit report?

Yes.
Q nd we would agree that the credit report doesn't identify any missed payments or late payments, correct?
That's correct.
Q If you could turn to page four of the credit report, please. The credit report provides for a modification of the Doral loan transaction, correct?
Yes.
Q nd it indicates that the maximum loan to value would determine the guaranty level going forward, correct?
Yes.
Q So when the collateral appraises over a certain loan to value, the guaranty level goes stepping down, correct?
That is correct.
Q Stated differently, as the loan to value ratio is reduced with respect to the Doral loan, there is a corresponding reduction in the amount of the guarantee, correct?
Correct.
Q For example, when the loan to value is below 65 percent, the guaranty level drops to 40 percent, correct?
That's correct.
Q When the loan to value is below 55 percent, the guaranty level drops to 20 percent, correct?
Yes.

Q When the loan to value is below 45 percent, the guaranty level drops to ten percent, correct?
Yes.
Q nd when the loan to value is below 35 percent, the guaranty level is zero, correct?
Correct.
Q On page five of this credit memo, we also see approval of a change in the net worth covenant, correct?
Yes, that's correct.
Q nd in fact, it provides that as the guaranty level is reduced, the net worth covenant is also reduced, correct?
That appears to be correct, yes.
Q So that when the guaranty level is at 100 percent, the net worth covenant is 2 and-a-half billion, correct?
Yes.
Q When the guaranty level drops to 40 percent, the net worth covenant is only 1 billion, correct?
Yes.
Q When the guaranty level is at 20 percent, the net worth covenant is only 500 million, correct?
Yes.
Q When the guaranty level is at 10 percent, the net worth covenant is 250 million, correct?
Yes.
Q nd when the guaranty level is at zero, there is no net worth covenant, correct?

Correct.
Q little further down, page five, again, we see that the modification to the facility is being recommended for approval based on we see the financial profile of the guarantor which includes on an adjusted basis 146 million in unencumbered liquidity, correct?
Yes.
Q nd that's the DB adjusted value, correct?
Yes.
Q nd that's the DB adjusted value that's carried over from page seven of the credit report, correct?
Yes.
Q nd we see 2.4 billion in net worth again is a basis -- as a basis for the recommendation, correct?
That's correct.
Q nd that $2.4 billion figure is the DB adjusted value, correct?
That is correct.
Q nd that's the DB adjusted value that's reflected in page seven of this credit report, correct?
Yes.
Q nd again, with respect to the 13.4 million in adjusted recurring net cash flow, that's also based on DB's own analysis at page nine of this credit report, correct?

Yes.
Q n additional factor for recommendation here is also an equity injection by the guarantee, correct?
Yes.
Q It states that while the initial injection of the guarantor was estimated at 50 million, we have been told that the estimate has been increased to anywhere from 150 to 160 million with approximately 30 million already invested, correct?
That's correct.
Q nd again, on the following page of this credit memo, yet another basis for recommendation is that the LTV levels required and it says "to for." I think it probably should say the LTV is required for a decrease in the guaranty levels are low enough to ensure that the is more than adequately collateralized; right?
Correct.
Q gain, initial bases are the operating experience of the operator and the enhanced expected value due to capital improvements, correct?
Yes.
Q nd with respect to increasing the relationship between Deutsche Bank and President Trump and his relationship, that was something that was important to the private wealth management group, correct?
That was something that was? I didn't hear.

Q Increasing the relationship with President Trump and his group, correct?
It was important? Was that your question?
Q Right.
Yes, it was one of the aims of the private wealth management business to increase its business relationship with all of its clients. That was not President Trump at the time, but --
Q Correct. With Mr. Trump later President Trump?
Yeah.
Q nd one of those metrics that was important to the bank was an increase in the assets under management, correct?
Yes.
Q nd here, in the first page of this document, we see that the assets under management have gone up from 20 million to 29.7 million, correct?
Yes.
Q nd again, this credit report reflects on page seven that there was an October 19, 2012 due diligence meeting that took place, correct?
Yes.
Q nd that based on that meeting, DB adjusted values in the credit report, correct?
Yes.

Q nd when I refer to "DB," I'm obviously referring to Deutsche Bank. That's understood?
Thank you.
Q nd again on page eight, we see the same analysis of -- provided by the Deutsche Bank Valuation Services Group as we see in prior credit reports?
That's correct.
Q nd on page nine we see a similar analysis of the free cash flow prepared by Deutsche Bank; correct?
Yes.
Q nd on page ten we see that the DB adjusted balances to both the balance sheet and the net cash flow were used to compute the key ratios by Deutsche Bank; correct?
Correct.
Q Turning to PX 294.
MR. W LL CE: Your Honor, I'm sorry. I apologize for interrupting. We entered Exhibit 290 into evidence. I don't know if they don't want to because of statute of limitation parameters, but given the discussion with Mr. Haigh, we would ask that it be entered into evidence.
THE COURT: ny objection?
MR. KISE: No, there is no objection. The only thing I want to note for the record because of the anomaly because we are introducing something prior to the statute of limitations is we are doing this basically because we have to because the Court has allowed other evidence in and this is just evidence to meet -- the evidence that the government has presented. But this is in no way a waiver of our statute of limitations objection.

THE COURT: Of course. Understood.
MR. KISE: Thank you.
THE COURT: nd it's in evidence.
MR. KISE: Thank you.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 290 in evidence.)
Q Turning to PX 294.
Mr. Haigh, you'd agree with me this is an annual review of the Trump Endeavor 12 LLC loan facility?
That's one of the reasons.
Q nd another reason is an annual review of the Chicago loan facility with the borrower is 401 North Wabash Venture LLC?
Together with an increase in that facility.
Q nd then there is also an approval of the $170 million facility for the borrower Trump Old Post Office LLC?
That's correct.
Q The annual review of the Doral loan reflects that there are no missed payments; correct?
I believe that's correct.
Q That there are no late payments; correct?

I believe that's correct.
Q nd that the Doral loan is a performing loan at this point; correct?
I believe so, yes, yes.
Q The same for the Chicago loan facility. The review reflects that there were no missed payments; correct?
Correct.
Q No late payments; correct?
Correct.
Q nd that it is a performing loan; correct?
That's right.
Q With respect to the now third facility, this is $170 million first mortgage to the borrower Trump Old Post Office LLC that is to be used for the development of the Old Post Office property in Washington, D.C.; correct?
Yes.
Q The borrower in that transaction is Trump Old Post Office LLC; correct?
Yes.
Q nd the lender is Deutsche Bank Trust Company mericas; correct?
Yes.
Q nd the guarantor is Donald J. Trump; correct?
Yes.
Q This credit report suggests that there are no other parties to that transaction; correct?

If that's what the credit report suggests it's probably correct.
Q nd we can see further down page one in the review of each loans that the Doral facility reflects a loan to value of 85 percent; correct?
Yes.
Q That the Trump International Hotel and Tower reflects a loan to value of 51 percent; correct?
Yes.
Q nd that the Old Post Office reflects a loan to value of 80 percent; correct?
That's correct.
Q Turning to page ten of this document we again see the basis for recommendation for the approval of the annual reviews and the origination of the Old Post Office facility; correct?
Yes.
Q nd with respect to the financial strength of the guarantor now under year 2014 this again is based off of the DB adjusted values for net worth of 2.6 billion; correct?
Yes.
Q nd 154.5 million in unencumbered liquidity per the DB adjusted values; correct?
Yes.
Q nd those DB adjusted values are reflected again in the credit report. First on page 14 of this document you'll see there the DB adjustment to the guarantor's net worth reflects an adjustment from the reported -- client reported value of four billion nine hundred seventy-eight million to a DB adjusted value of two billion six hundred forty-five million; correct?

Yes.
Q nd that's the number that then carries over as a basis for the recommendation at page ten of this document; correct?
Yes.
Q nd the same is true of the 154.5 million in liquidity. That is a number that carries over from page 14 of this document into the basis of recommendation at page ten; correct?
Yes.
Q nd again, a basis for recommendation of both the new facility and the approval of the annual review was Mr. Trump's extensive experience in operating private wealth and country clubs; correct?
That was relevant in particular to the Doral facility.
Q nd again, it reflects that the portfolio of 13 such clubs had a reported value of 1.66 billion but DB had adjusted that value to 680.6 million; correct?
Yes.
Q nd the DB adjusted value was the number that DB relied upon to approve the facility; correct?
Yes.

Q With respect to Facility , we again see there is an equity injection by the guarantor that was originally required to be 50 million but ended up being budgeted to increase to 150 to 160 million with approximately 30 million already invested; correct?
Yes.
Q nd that must enhance Deutsche Bank's collateral; correct?
One would expect so.
Q nd that in fact is what the credit report says that it was expected to enhance the collateral due to the capital investment; correct?
Yes.
Q Page 13 again reveals that in 2013 there was a meeting at -- page 14. I'm sorry.
t page 14 there was a meeting on October 21, 2013. Tom Sullivan and Emily Schroeder visited the offices of the guarantor; correct?
Yes.
Q You were not present at that meeting; correct?
I was not there.
Q nd based on that meeting asset values were adjusted on this credit report; correct?
That's correct.
Q Page 15 of this document again shows the analysis of the trophy properties with input from the Deutsche Bank Valuation Services Group; correct?

Yes.
Q nd that analysis was used to adjust asset values by Deutsche Bank; correct?
Yes.
Q nd on page 16 we again see that Deutsche Bank performed its own net cash flow analysis; correct?
So DB adjusted the cash flow the client had reported, that's right.
Q Okay. nd they do that every year as the credit memos go on?
I think that's correct.
Q On page 17 we again see that the key ratios are computed this year based on the -- the Deutsche Bank adjusted balances to both the guarantor's balance sheet and net cash flow; correct?
Yes.
Q On page 21 of this document with respect to the Old Post Office transaction, a feature of the loan facility, page 21, the fourth paragraph, it says:
"Per the borrower, the full renovation budget is $215 million with the borrower's 20 percent being deployed prior to the lender's fund."
That's the defined equity amount; correct?

Yes.
Q nd this means that the borrower was obligated to inject its own cash into the project before Deutsche Bank advanced the first dollar under the loan facility; correct?
Yes. It means it actually has to use its first $20 million before Deutsche Bank's funding would start.
Q I'm sorry?
It has to use that $20 million in the project before Deutsche Bank's funding starts.
Q Correct. In other words, the guarantor had to utilize 20 million of his own dollars in the project before Deutsche Bank would start advancing under the credit facility?
Correct, yes.
Q nd that's in fact what happened; correct?
I believe so, yes.
Q nd this document at page six also approves a similar stepdown feature on the guaranty for the Chicago credit facility; correct?
Yes.
Q nd again, the approval provides that -- withdrawn. s a result of this approval, Mr. Haigh, the guaranty level is reduced as the loan to value of the Chicago loan is reduced; correct?
Yes.
Q So that when the loan to value of the Chicago loan falls below 65 percent, the guaranty level is only 40 percent; correct?

Yes.
Q nd when the loan to value of the Chicago loan falls below 55 percent, the guaranty level is only 20 percent; correct?
That's correct.
Q nd when the loan to value of the Chicago loan drops below 45 percent, the guaranty level is only ten percent; correct?
That's correct.
Q nd when the loan to value of the Chicago loan drops below 35 percent, the guaranty level is zero; correct?
That's correct. ll those numbers are predicated on the entire loan being below $45 million.
Q nd in fact, the entire loan went under $45 million as the condo units were being sold; correct?
I -- assuming Tranche did. I don't recall regarding Tranche B.
Q But certainly that was the stepdown feature of the loan?
Yes.
Q nd again, we see a similar stepdown feature as we saw with the Doral loan on the net worth covenant; correct?
Yes.

Q nd that's reflected on page seven of this document where we again see on the Chicago loan once the guaranty level is reduced to 40 percent the net worth covenant is only $1 billion; correct?
That's correct.
Q nd when the guaranty level is 20 percent the net worth covenant is only $500 million; correct?
Yes.
Q nd when the guaranty level falls to ten percent or below the net worth covenant is only $250 million; correct?
That's correct.
Q nd with a guaranty level on the Chicago loan at zero percent the net worth covenant then is zero?
Yes.
THE COURT: I haven't heard a very frequent objection yet, "the document speaks for itself."
We're going over things that are , redundant; B, obvious; and C, the document says what it says. Most of this testimony seems to be "isn't that what it says" when we can all read, so I don't understand why we're spending so much time on this.
Mr. Kise?
MR. KISE: With all due respect, that's basically what Mr. Wallace did all day yesterday is to walk through the document, showed him provisions that say isn't that correct, is that incorrect. I mean, that was basically the whole day yesterday so I think it's fair for the record that we're entitled to clean out things that the government didn't just like they pointed out things like we might not bring up.

nd Mr. Suarez is moving along pretty rapidly. I don't think we'll have anymore documents to go. We're certainly not going to take as much time as the government took with this witness. I think it's only fair that we make our record.
THE COURT: Mr. Wallace, did you do that yesterday?
MR. W LL CE: I believe we tried to establish facts on early documents and then introduce the later documents being consistent with the earlier documents. I am not objecting because we were going to give them some time to establish what they're doing. I agree. I thought Mr. Suarez had already established that the net worth covenant dropped as the guaranty level went down, but it's his case to try and make it his way. We would definitely appreciate moving things along more quickly.
MR. KISE: He won't bring that up again.
THE COURT: Okay. Continue as you were.
MR. SU REZ: Thank you.
Q Moving along to Plaintiff's Exhibit 298.
Mr. Haigh, this document which you had an opportunity to review yesterday is a review of the Trump Doral Chicago and Old Post Office loans in the year 2015; correct?

N. Haigh - Plaintiff - cross (Suarez) Page 1140

Yes.
Q nd this credit report reflects that the three loans are performing; correct?
Yes.
Q That there are no missed payments; correct?
None that are referred to in here.
Q nd you would expect to see a missed payment referred to in the credit report; correct?
Most likely yes; unless it was completely de minimis, nothing, no.
Q nd you would expect to see a late payment reflected in this credit report?
Most likely. I mean, it's possible if a client had made a payment a few days late it might not have been referred to in the report.
Q Certainly nothing material?
Nothing material. I agree.
Q nd there are no material late payments reflected?
None that I'm aware of.
Q nd by all measures indicated here the loans appear to be performing; correct?
Yes.
THE COURT: Let me just add one other thing.

N. Haigh - Plaintiff - cross (Suarez) Page 1141

I believe I said in the September 26th decision and order very clearly there were no defaults, everything was paid, everything was paid on time.
Let me ask the ttorney General's side, were there any defaults on any of these loans that you're aware of?
MR. W LL CE: That I'm aware of sitting here today, no.
THE COURT: No.
MR. W LL CE: nd actually --
THE COURT: ny late payments, any complaints?
MR. W LL CE: On payment issues, no.
THE COURT: Maybe we can save some time and not ask was it a performing loan. Were they all performing loans?
MR. W LL CE: I think we have issues with some of the covenants and whether they were. The answer is -- I don't want to get into it in front of the witness, but we would take issue on some of the covenants.
THE COURT: Okay.
ll right. Let's continue.
Q Mr. Haigh, the date of this report is July 20, 2015; correct?
Yes.
Q nd if we could turn to page four, please.
I'd like to point out in page four in the box "guaranty" it states: "Donald Trump's personal guarantee may have been eliminated due to the fact that the facility LTV is below the 35 percent threshold. Based on the latest appraisal completed, the hotel collateral was valued at $133 million which results in a 34 percent LTV."

N. Haigh - Plaintiff - cross (Suarez) Page 1142

Is that your handwriting there, Mr. Haigh?
Yes, it is. I think so.
Q nd you would agree with me that this credit report reflects the fact that as of July 20, 2015, Mr. Trump's personal guaranty with respect to the Chicago property has been extinguished?
It looks that way. I don't know whether it was ever captured in the actual documentation, but certainly from a credit point of view we were willing to do without the personal guarantee.
Q In other words, it does; correct?
From my credit approval point of view, yes.
Q nd you signed the credit report?
Yes.
Q If you signed the credit report it meant you approved it; correct?
Yes.
Q Turning to page six of this document.
gain, we see a recommendation that the annual review for the Doral, Chicago and OPO facilities be approved; correct?
Yes.

N. Haigh - Plaintiff - cross (Suarez) Page 1143

Q nd as in prior years the net worth of the guarantor of $2.7 billion is based on Deutsche Bank's own adjusted values; correct?
That's right. Those are Deutsche Bank's adjusted numbers.
Q nd the 285 million in unencumbered liquidity, that's also based on Deutsche Bank's adjusted values; correct?
Yes.
Q nd the same is true with respect to the operating experience of the -- of Mr. Trump; correct?
s I said, that applies mainly to the Doral facility.
Q It applies mainly to the Doral facility, but it is in a section described as "all facilities;" correct?
It is in a section described as "all facilities."
THE COURT: Let me ask this: It says "all facilities." Does that mean that each of these bullet points applies to all facilities or you just listing all the facilities basically?
THE WITNESS: I think the writer of the credit memo tried to summarize it. These are the overall strengths of the transaction for all the facilities. Personally, I don't think that the operating experience on resorts and golf clubs has much relevance to construction projects, for example.
THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

Q But then we do see in the following page the recommendations basis -- the bases for recommendations for approval of the annual report for each of the different facilities; correct?
Yes.
Q nd these are the loans that apply to each specific facility; correct?
Yes.
Q ll right. nd with respect to Facility and Facility B, it says "the LTV levels require to for." gain, I believe it meant to say "the LTL levels required for a decrease in the level. Guaranty levels are low enough to ensure that the loan is more than adequately collateralized as evidenced by the current Facility B in which the guaranty was eliminated once the loan was paid down to $45 million;" correct?
Correct.
Q nd that was the paydown that you referred to earlier; correct?
So that -- I mean, that would be really the evidence I'm assuming that the loan on Facility B which was in two tranches was paid down in total to below 45 million.
Q nd as a result, the guaranty was eliminated?
For Facility B, yes.
Q Okay. nd Facility B is the Chicago loan; correct?
That's right, yes.

Q nd again, with respect to Facility B, it establishes that the collateral was valued at 133 million which resulted in a 34 percent LTV?
That's right.
Q nd that valuation is done based on DB's own ordered appraisal; correct?
Yes.
Q In other words, to compute the loan to value ratio and any changes in the loan to value ratio Deutsche Bank orders an appraisal for itself to confirm that?
Yes.
Q On page ten of this credit report -- oh, excuse me. Let's turn back to page seven for a second. I'd also like to draw your attention to Facility C, which is a Trump Old Post Office; correct?
Yes.
Q nd here it confirms that as of June 2015, the guarantor, Mr. Trump, completed the required 20 percent equity investment and began to draw on the facility; correct?
Yes.
Q nd that means that the bank would have concluded that President Trump, Mr. Trump, at the time had put in the money he had required to put into the project and permitted him to start drawing into the project; correct?
That's correct.

Q In page ten of this document, again, we see the adjustments -- I'm sorry.
On page 11 we see that the Deutsche Bank Valuation Services Group has had an opportunity to review the trophy properties; correct?
Yes.
Q nd the DB adjusted values are reflected as a result of those evaluations; correct?
That's correct.
Q nd in page ten, I'd just like to point out that again. It says up at the top, "guarantors." It says "as part of the underwriting we have met with several members of the family update" -- excuse me -- "of the family office to update our due diligence on the client reported financial information."
Do you see that?
Yes.
Q You were not present at those meetings; correct?
I was not present at those meetings.
Q But as a result of those meetings, though, the Deutsche Bank adjusted the value of assets on the financial analysis; correct?
Yes.
Q s reflected in the credit memo?
Yes.
Q Okay. Let's take a look at a document that has been marked for identification as Plaintiff's Exhibit 2960.

Do you recognize this document, Mr. Haigh?
Yes.
Q What is this document?
It's an amendment to a prior credit approval.
Q nd if you see on page four of this document it bears your signature?
Yes.
MR. SU REZ: We'd like to move, Your Honor, Plaintiff's Exhibit 28960 into evidence.
MR. W LL CE: No objection.
THE COURT: Granted. It's in evidence.
MR. KISE: Same reservation as before, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Understood. Still reserved.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 2969 in evidence.)
Q Page one of this document, Mr. Haigh, "reason for presentation." Do you see the third bullet point it states, "request approval to reduce personal guaranty level from 100 percent to 10 percent based on the most recent appraised value and overall LTV percentage." Then it says in italics "this change was contemplated at the loan's origination."
I see that.
Q nd this refers to Trump Endeavor 12 LLC; correct?

Yes.
Q nd ultimately this request was approved; correct?
Yes.
Q nd the date of this document is ugust 3, 2015; correct?
Yes.
Q nd with respect to the Doral loan as a result in the change of the guaranty level from 100 percent to ten percent, the net worth covenant on the Doral loan is now $250 million; correct?
Sorry. Would you repeat the question?
Q Yes. s a result of the approval of the reduction in the personal guaranty level from 100 percent to ten percent based on the most recent appraised value in overall loan to value percentage, the net worth covenant on the Doral loan is now $250 million; is that correct?
We're not changing the net worth level by making that amendment. We're changing the amount of the guaranty that would -- that would cover us.
Q Correct, but if we go back to the stepdowns that we went through earlier?
Okay. That's what you're referring to?
Q That's what I'm referring to.
Then --
Q nd we can pull it up again, if you'd like?

I'll agree that that's the case, yes.
Q But you would agree that once the stepdown to a ten percent guaranty level was approved the net worth covenant followed with it and went down to 250 million; correct?
Yes.
Q nd then I'd also like to draw your attention in this document to the "assets under management" in page two of this document. Do you see where it says "assets under management?"
nd it reflects now again that the relationship between President Trump and Deutsche Bank continues to grow.
Donald J. Trump, President Trump, has 31.295 million in cash deposits; correct?
Yes.
Q nd entities associated with him have now deposited over 86.49 million in cash deposits; correct?
Yes.
Q So all in all, President Trump and entities associated with him at this point have deposited over $100 million in Deutsche Bank; correct?
Yes.
Q nd those are assets under management by the private wealth group; correct?
Those are deposits at Deutsche Bank, yes.
Q Which the credit report reflects as assets under management; correct?

They're reflected in that section that says "assets under management," yes.
Q Going back to page one of Plaintiff's Exhibit 2960.
We see the market value of the Doral Golf Resort & Spa has increased to 366 million based on a Cushman & Wakefield appraisal dated July 29, 2015; correct?
Yes.
Q nd that would be an appraisal that Deutsche Bank ordered for its own purposes; correct?
I'm not sure that it did. I think there is a note in here that says Deutsche Bank did not order that appraisal for some purposes in the italics above this section.
Q But it would have been an appraisal that Deutsche Bank received; correct?
I imagine Deutsche Bank did actually receive that appraisal.
Transcript continues on the following page.....

Q It would have been --
MR. SU REZ: I withdraw the question.
Q nd the result of the appraisal, the loan to value was reduced to 34 percent, correct?
Yes.
THE COURT: Ten-minute warning.
Q If we turn to page three of this document, we see in the recommendations, "approval based on "and then at the bottom, "equity injection of the guarantor" and it says, "the estimated equity injection was nearly $250 million or a three-year construction period," correct?
Correct.
Q nd "expected enhanced value due to CapEx," correct?
Yes.
Q nd that second sentence says, " s noted, DJT has invested nearly 250 million on capitol improvements since 2012 and the result has been an increase in collateral value to $366 million," correct?
Yes.
Q nd this again proved correct the 2011 credit memo that said that the asset value of the collateral was expected to increase based on the investment by the guarantor, correct?
Yes.
MR. SU REZ: Your Honor, I'm ready to move to a new exhibit. I can start that exhibit or we can take the break.

THE COURT: Let's start.
MR. SU REZ: Okay.
Q Let's take Plaintiff's Exhibit 300. This is the 2016 credit report, correct, Mr. Haigh?
Yes.
Q nd again, it reviews the loans to Trump Endeavor 12, L.L.C., 401 North Wabash Venture, L.L.C. and Trump Old Post Office, L.L.C., correct?
Yes.
Q nd it does not note that there are any missed payments, correct?
Correct.
Q Stated differently, the report indicates that there are no missed payments, correct?
Yes.
Q nd there are no late payments indicated in the report either, correct?
Right.
Q nd in fact, the three loans at this point are performing loans, correct?
Yes.
Q gain, in the lower section of the page, we see an increase to the market value of the Doral property to $382 million, correct?
Yes.

Q nd here, it says, "LW hospitality advisors appraisal dated March 25, 2016 ordered and reviewed by CRM RE D, Phil Ribolow," correct?
That's correct.
Q That would be Deutsche Bank Credit Risk Management?
That's the new name, what was previously called the Valuation Services Group.
Q So Valuation Services Group is now operating as CRM RE D?
That's correct.
Q nd with respect to the Trump International Hotel & Tower Chicago, 401 North Wabash, the market value is identified as 133 million which is a value consistent as per guidance from CRM -- how do you pronounce that acronym, RE D?
Just as good as any.
Q From the new Deutsche Bank Valuation Services Group, Phil Ribolow as of July 2016, correct?
That's correct. I think it stands for real estate advisory something, but I don't remember what the D stood for.
Q Understood. That marks the value at 3 -- loan to value at 34 percent?
Correct.
Q With a loan value of 45 million, correct?
THE COURT: Maybe the "D" stands for department. Is that possible?

THE WITNESS: Beg your pardon?
THE COURT: Maybe "D" stands for department.
THE WITNESS: Sounds way too obvious for Deutsche Bank's acronyms.
Q Then if we turn to page two, with respect to the Old Post Office building and annex in the description of the collateral, the last sentence states, " dditional commentary can be referenced in the recently completed appraisal, but the general conclusion is that the hotel will become the most elite hospitality establishment in Washington, D.C. once stabilized. Members of the lending and banking team have visited the property twice over the last 12 months," correct?
Correct.
Q Those would be the lending and banking teams of the Deutsche Bank management group?
Yes.
Q nd they are the individuals that would have prepared this document which you approved, correct?
That's right.
Q nd in 2016, the basis for recommendation of the annual report again reflects that construction -- on page three, "That construction/redevelopment of the Doral Resort in Florida has been completed with a substantial increase in property value, $382 million corroborated by a bank ordered appraisal dated March 2016 resulting in a 32.7 percent LTV", correct?

Yes.
Q nd then the last paragraph states that the relationship has been reviewed and supported from a management board perspective in connection with the guarantor's candidacy for president of the United States. Do you see that?
I do.
Q Who is the management board?
I'm not exactly sure who was on it. It says senior -- Deutsche Bank had a management board of executives who took care of very high level decisions.
Q Suffice it to say that the relationship with President Trump and companies associated with him was reviewed at the highest levels of management of Deutsche Bank Trust Company?
Yes, because Mr. Trump was at the time a candidate for the presidency, it had been escalated to a fairly senior level.
Q Okay. nd moving on to page seven of this document, you have the basis for approval of the annual review for the three facilities. nd again, I just want to confirm as we did in prior years that the financial profile of the guarantor on an adjusted basis means the DB adjusted values for the guarantor's net worth of 2.8 million?
Yes.
Q That checkmark, that's your handwriting, Mr. Haigh?
I think those checkmarks are more likely to be Mr. llegra's handwriting if he signed it.

Q But you would agree with me that the 2.8 billion of net worth is the Deutsche Bank adjusted value as reflected on page 15 of this document for the year ending June 30, 2015?
Yes.
MR. W LL CE: The objection was because he had already answered the question about the 2.8 billion.
THE COURT: Well, it doesn't really matter if I sustain it because he already answered it.
MR. W LL CE: Events overtook my objection.
MR. SU REZ: I'm trying to move along.
THE COURT: Well, after the break. We are coming back at a quarter to 12:00.
(Witness exits the witness stand.)
(Whereupon, a recess was taken.)
THE COURT OFFICER: ll rise. Part 37 is back in session. Please be seated and come to order.
THE COURT: Ever noticed how I bound up to the steps to the bench here? ny history of this trial should include that. Bounds up the steps. Okay. Let's continue. We have a new system. The witness is going to be quicker than previously.
Right, Officer? Right there.
THE COURT OFFICER: Fast, not faster.
THE COURT: Everything in life is relative.
THE COURT OFFICER: Witness entering.

THE COURT: Just like I said.
(Witness resumes the stand.)
THE COURT: Okay. Let's continue.
Q Mr. Haigh, picking up on where we left off, the basis for recommendation in the 2016 credit report again reflects the operating experience of the guarantor; in this case, President Trump? Well, not yet President Trump, but Mr. Trump, "Extensive experience in operating private golf and country clubs."
gain, it reflects that the overall equity position in various commercial real estate interests was adjusted to 2.195 on an adjusted basis. That's a DB's adjustment to the commercial real estate interest, correct?
Yes, that 2.195 million number is the DB adjusted one.
Q nd then again, we can see in page 15 of the credit report the various adjustments that are made to the guarantor's holdings, correct?
Yes.
Q nd in page 16, we see that the Valuation Services Group, which is still referred to as DBVSG here, also provided input into the trophy properties, correct?
Yes.
Q nd page 18, we can see that the key ratios again are computed based on the DB adjusted balances to both the balance sheet and the net cash flow, correct?
Yes, I believe so.

Q That is what the credit report reflects, correct?
Yes.
Q Turning to PX 3137, we have here the 2017 credit report, correct?
Correct.
Q nd by July 20, 2017, the guarantor Donald J. Trump is the president of the United States, correct?
That's right.
Q nd this credit report reflects that with respect to all three loan facilities, Doral, Chicago and the Old Post Office in Washington, D.C., the loans are performing, correct?
That's correct.
Q The credit report does not note missed payments, correct?
Doesn't note any missed payments that I'm aware of.
Q nd it doesn't note any late payments?
Similarly, I don't see any reference to late payments.
Q nd with respect to the bank's collateral on page two for the Trump Old Post Office, the credit report states, "That additional commentary can be referenced in the appraisal, but the general conclusion is that the hotel, now operational for a few months, has already become one of the most elite hospitality establishments in Washington, D.C., correct?
That's what it states, yes.
Q nd at this point, we see that the hotel is also open for business, correct?

Yes.
Q nd that the loan has performed how the bank anticipated it to, correct?
That's correct.
Q In page eight, we see again, "The financial strength of the guarantor reflecting a stated net worth of 5.7 billion which is well above the net worth requirement even on an adjusted basis," correct?
Yes.
Q nd that reference to adjusted basis is the reference that Deutsche Bank's adjusted basis of the guarantor's net worth, correct?
Yes, it is.
Q nd moving on to page nine, we again see that "The relationship continues to be monitored at the highest levels of senior management within the firm and any issues arising from the guarantor's status as president of the United States are immediately addressed, taken to the appropriate reputational risk committee and discussed with appropriate legal counsel." Do you see that?
I see that.
Q Would you agree with me that the relationship with now President Trump and the three loan transactions associated with him are being monitored by the bank at their highest levels?

Certainly the highest levels of senior management were aware of the facilities in general terms. Monitoring in the sense of specifically monitoring the terms of this loan agreement, that did not happen. That continued to be managed by private wealth management.

Q That continued -- and you continued to be the head of credit risk management at private wealth management?

In the mericas, yes.

Q In the mericas?

Yes.

Q nd that was the group that was responsible for those three loan transactions, correct?

Yes.

Q nd the commentary here in the credit report that you signed, I believe, was all positive, correct?

Sorry. I didn't hear.

Q The commentary was positive?

Positive? Yes.

Q nd you would agree with me that again in page 12, the trophy properties reflect the bank's own analysis including with input with what is still referred to as the Deutsche Bank Valuation Services Group as to those specific asset values, correct?

That's correct. I'm not sure as of which date they consulted with that group, but that's what it says.

Q nd the key ratios that are applied to test the loans are again on page 14. Those key ratios are again --

Sorry. Can you highlight which --

Q Sure. See where it says "key ratios"?

Yes.

Q They are again utilized using Deutsche Bank's adjusted balances as to both the balance sheet and the net cash flow, correct?

That's correct.

Q Deutsche Bank used its own numbers to perform the key ratio analysis?

Yes, Deutsche Bank used its adjusted numbers to perform -- calculate those ratios.

Q nd moving on to Plaintiff's Exhibit 302, this was the last year that you participated in the credit review of the -- three Trump-related loans, correct?

That's correct.

Q The relationship now with President Trump?

Correct.

Q Moving on to the Old Post Office facility on page two again, we see at the top that, "The LTV has come down based on a January 1, 2017 appraisal that was ordered and reviewed and approved by CRM RE D Phil Ribolow," correct?

Yes.

Q nd we again see in the basis for recommendation on page three that, "The financial profile of the guarantor includes a stated net worth of 5.58 billion which well in excess of the 2.5 billion minimum requirement even on an adjusted basis," correct?

That's correct.

Q nd that adjusted basis is the DB adjusted value, correct?

That's right, so using a DB adjusted value for the assets, the net worth still exceeded 2.5 billion.

Q nd in the third bullet point with respect to the DB's relationship, DB relationship, it says, "WM has had a long and satisfactory relationship," correct?

Yes, it does.

Q nd in part, that's because as of July 20, 2108, the three loans were still performing, correct?

Yes.

Q There were no missed payments noted on the credit report, correct?

None that I'm aware are captured in the credit report.

Q There were no late payments identified in the credit report, correct?

None that I'm aware of, yeah.

Q nd again, as we move through to page ten of the report, we see the valuations for the four trophy properties have been adjusted by Deutsche Bank in consultation with the DBVSG, correct?

That's what it states.

Q gain on page 12, we see that, "The key ratios applied by Deutsche Bank to the guarantee are applied using Deutsche Bank's own adjusted balances to both the guarantor's balance sheet and net cash flow," correct?

That's correct.

MR. SU REZ: I have no further questions on cross for this witness.

THE COURT: Mr. Robert, would you like to go next?

MR. ROBERT: I will, and I will be exceedingly brief.

May I proceed, sir.

THE COURT: You may proceed.

CROSS-EX MIN TION.

BY MR. ROBERT:

Q Good afternoon, Mr. Haigh. I know you are a very precise man. That's why I checked. We are two minutes into the afternoon. I just have a few questions for you this afternoon.

The first one is something that is very important to my client Donald Trump, Jr., so I want to bring it to your attention.

MR. ROBERT: If we could pull up Plaintiff's Exhibit 290, which is the 2013 credit report.

Q Mr. Haigh you remember being asked some questions about this earlier today, correct, sir?

Yes.
Q If I could draw your attention, and if we could scroll down to the assets under management portion, and if you could blow that up a little, please.
You see where it says, Donald J. Trump has 29.7 MM cash deposits?
Yes.
Q That means 29.7 million, correct?
That's correct.
Q nd for Donald Trump, Jr., that's 500,000, not 500 million, right, because if it's 500 million, it is going to be a very uncomfortable conversation with his dad tonight. So it is 500,000,000, right?
The "M" represents thousand, so it is 500,000.
Q In terms of -- and I don't want to waist anyone's time -- Mr. Suarez was talking to you this morning about parties to the loan transaction. Do you remember that?
Yes.
Q He was showing you the documents which were these credit reports and you very precisely and correctly said, "I can only speak now as to what's contained in the credit report." Do you remember that, sir?
Yes.
Q So would you agree with me that it is a fair statement that the parties to the loan transaction are the ones actually identified in the loan transactions?

In the loan documentation?
Q In the loan documentation itself.
Yes.
Q Okay. Yesterday, you remember that Mr. Wallace had shown you the Statement of Financial Condition from 2011. Do you remember that?
Yes.
Q nd your testimony was in essence that in very general terms you looked at it. Do you remember that?
Yes.
Q nd you had said that you and your team had looked at it as well. Do you remember that as well?
Yes.
Q nd Mr. Wallace showed a portion of one paragraph. I just want to show you the second part of that paragraph that Mr. Wallace didn't show you.
MR. ROBERT: Nate, if we can call up PX 330, please.
Q nd rather than hand it to you, Mr. Haigh, I think it will just be easier if we go from the screen with Your Honor's permission.
THE COURT: Fine with me.
Q If we could turn to page four. Or actually, it says page 9 of 42. It is page four of the Statement of Financial Condition.

MR. ROBERT: nd if you can enlarge the second full paragraph, please, Nate.
Q Yesterday when Mr. Wallace was questioning you, Mr. Haigh, he took you up to the line where it says, "outside professionals." Do you see that, sir?
Yes.
Q Would you, please, read into the record what the rest of that paragraph says on page four of the Statement of Financial Condition?
MR. W LL CE: Objection. These aren't his words. I don't know why the witness would read it into the record as opposed to counsel.
MR. ROBERT: Okay. No problem. Withdrawn. I will do it the easier way.
THE COURT: Withdrawn.
Q So when you and your staff were reviewing it, the language was "Considerable judgment is necessary to interpret the market data and develop the related estimates of current value. ccordingly, the estimates presented herein are not necessarily indicative of the amounts that could be realized upon the disposition of the assets or payment of the related liabilities. The use of different market assumptions and/or estimation methodologies may have a material effect on the estimated current value amounts." Do you see that, Mr. Haigh?

I do.
Q nd that's the language that's contained in the 2011 Statement of Financial Condition that you spoke of yesterday that you reviewed in general terms correct, sir?
Correct.
Q Okay. Throughout the course of the testimony over the last day and-a-half and even in response to Your Honor's questions, we can agree, sir, that under the loans with Deutsche Bank, every obligation under the loans was met, correct, as far as you know?
MR. W LL CE: Objection.
THE COURT: Well, it is as far as he knows.
MR. ROBERT: s far as he knows. The witness was very careful to say it was only based on his knowledge and I don't want him to go beyond that. It is what Mr. Haigh knows as the chief risk officer at the bank at the time.
THE COURT: So overruled.
So far as I recall, the loans were performing.
Q nd all the expectations that were required of the borrower were met, as far as you know?
So far as I know, yes.
Q Okay. nd we've already spoken -- Your Honor was clear about it. I'm going to be very brief. There were no late payments that you are aware of, correct?
I'm not aware of any late payments.

Q You were not aware of any missed payments, correct?
I'm not aware of any missed payments.
Q nd as a matter of fact, on two of the three loans, during the time you were at Deutsche Bank, the guarantees were either reduced or eliminated, correct?
That's -- that's right.
Q nd you had testified yesterday that the purpose of your department or the credit exercise is to make sure that the bank gets paid, correct?
That's one of the purposes of my group.
Q One of the more important reasons that you have a group such as yours, correct, sir?
I guess I'd agree with that.
Q Okay. nd would you agree with me that you and your team conducted a thorough analysis of these loans, correct, sir?
I think we conducted an appropriate analysis of those loans, yes.
Q nd it was a thorough analysis? I mean, you take pride in your work. You had the position you achieved at the bank. I think you can agree with me that it was a thorough analysis. I mean, we see the depth and I'm not going to go through all the credit memos, but we see the depth of these memos that you signed off on, correct, sir?
Yes.
Q nd as a matter of fact, in your testimony, it was yesterday morning, you said you were the final line for most of these that you -- it needed your approval for this to go through, correct, sir?

Yes.
Q nd as a result, you and your team conducted a thorough analysis, fair?
MR. W LL CE: Objection. I think he asked and answered that.
THE COURT: I'm not sure it is about the exact same --
MR. ROBERT: I'll rephrase it.
Q You and your team did a good job didn't you?
Based on the information we had at the time, I think we did a reasonably thorough analysis of the information.
Q Well, you did a good job in that your goal of making sure the bank was repaid was achieved, correct?
MR. W LL CE: Objection.
MR. KISE: What's the objection?
THE COURT: What's the objection?
MR. KISE: You don't like the question?
MR. W LL CE: I don't know that he knows -- he left the bank in 2018. The loans were outstanding. I don't know that he has a foundation to answer the question the way that Mr. Robert asked it.
MR. KISE: He's only asking about 2011 to 2017 when he was not --

MR. W LL CE: That was not the nature of the question.
MR. ROBERT: If I could have the question read back and I will modify it.
THE COURT: Please read back.
MR. ROBERT: Thank you.
(Whereupon, the requested portion of the record was read back.)

Q Through 2018, which is when you left the bank; correct, sir?
MR. W LL CE: I'll just note an objection that I believe the loans were being paid on interest, so I don't know the bank repaid its principles.
MR. ROBERT: I don't appreciate you putting words in the witness's mouth. The witness can answer the question.
THE COURT: Overruled. Please answer the question.
So to the extent that we had been repaid with some partial paydowns, yes the bank got repaid on those elements.
Q nd up until the time you left in 2018, Deutsche Bank received millions of dollars in interest; correct?
I presume so.
Q nd at the end of the day, you and your team made a good credit decision by these loans being made in this case; correct?
That's a more subjective question.
Q Well, sir, when you were there you were in charge of risk; correct? From 2011 to 2018; correct?
Yes.
Q nd it was your final approval that allowed these loans to go into existence; correct?
That's correct.
Q nd the fact that when you left in 2018 and these loans were performing is a credit to the fact that you and your team made a good credit decision; correct?

I think based on the information.
Q Yes or no sir, please?
THE COURT: Well, you know I favor yes-or-no answers to yes-or-no questions, but if he needs to explain it, he can explain it, if you need to.
MR. KISE: That's certainly not the standard that applied to other witnesses, Your Honor. The other day you insisted that other witnesses responded to the government's questions with yes-or-no answers. That was a yes-or-no question. nd respectfully, Your Honor, I think it's a different standard.
THE COURT: I respectfully disagree that I'm applying a different standard. Look, I've been doing this job for 20 years now. If a question can be answered yes or no without an explanation, then do that, but sometimes an explanation is necessary, but we understand each other.
Q Do you want the question read back with the Court's permission?
THE COURT: Please read back.
(Whereupon, the requested portion of the proceedings was read back by the court reporter.)
I will agree with that.
Q You did a good job; right?

MR. ROBERT: That's a yes or no, Your Honor.
I'd say yes to that.
Q Very good.
MR. ROBERT: Thank you, Your Honor. I have no further questions.
THE COURT: Thank you.
nd any redirect by the plaintiff?
MR. W LL CE: Mr. Haigh, I'll try to be brief.
REDIRECT EX MIN TION
BY MR. W LL CE:
Q Is whether or not a loan gets repaid the same question as whether or not the bank has accurately rated the risk in a loan?
No.
Q What is the difference?
So getting repaid is just one element of what the bank's trying to achieve. The risk rating goes to assessing the risk and from that we set aside capital to reserve it against the loan -- potential loan losses and the amount of capital that we set aside is driven by the risk rating and by the collateral. nd in order to get a fair return on our capital, in other words, charge the right interest rate, we have to have the correct risk rating. So just getting repaid on the principal doesn't address at all whether we got properly recompensed for the risk we were taking.

Q nd you were asked by Mr. Robert if you had done a good job. I take your answer is you did a good job with the information you had?
Correct.
Q You have no way of knowing whether there was information that wasn't provided to you that might have been relevant to your analysis; is that correct?
That's correct.
MR. W LL CE: No further questions, Your Honor.
THE COURT: ny recross?
MR. ROBERT: No, Your Honor. Your Honor, thank you.
THE COURT: Okay. The witness is excused everybody; right? Okay.
THE COURT OFFICER: The audience remain seated, please.
(Whereupon, the witness is excused from the witness stand.)
THE COURT: Do we need to discuss anything, resolve any issues before Mr. Weisselberg returns?
MR. W LL CE: Not that I'm aware of.
MR. ROBERT: We wanted to talk scheduling for a second.
(Whereupon, an off-the-record discussion is held between Counsel.)

THE COURT: Mr. Solomon, are you continuing the direct examination of Mr. Weisselberg?
MR. SOLOMON: I am, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Okay. Let's get Mr. Weisselberg up here.
CONTINUED DIRECT EX MIN TION
BY MR. SOLOMON:
Q Good afternoon, Mr. Weisselberg.
Good afternoon.
Q May I ask to have Exhibit PX 1386 put back in front of you?
THE COURT: nd I'll remind the witness, as I always do, that he's still under oath.
CONTINUED DIRECT EX MIN TION
BY MR. SOLOMON:
Q Do you have that in front of you, sir?
I do.
Q Do you recall or recognize this as comprising the certifications for various loans that we talked about on Tuesday?
Yes.
Q Okay.
MR. SOLOMON: Your Honor, we move the family of documents in evidence as PX 1386.
THE COURT: Granted. They're in evidence.

. Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Solomon) Page 1176

(Whereupon, the items previously referred to are received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number PX 1386 in evidence.)

Q I'd like to mark for identification PX 1157.

Sir, PX 1157 for identification is an e-mail from Patrick Birney to Donna Kidder with a copy to you dated February 1, 2016. Do you see that, sir?

I do.

Q Do you recognize it?

Yes.

Q What do you recognize it to be?

Just an e-mail from Patrick Birney to Donna Kidder regarding a corporate cash flow that he was going to put into a -- I assume the word "shell" means pro forma, without numbers.

Q Okay.

MR. SOLOMON: The People move PX 1157 into evidence.

MR. ROBERT: Objection. Statute of limitations and as to the prior submission by Mr. Solomon because it was so thick to the extent any of those have a statute of limitations objection, we just raise those with the Court. Thank you.

THE COURT: Understood. Overruled. They're in evidence, both.

Q Sir, does this cover e-mail indicate that there is an

. Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Solomon) Page 1177

Excel spreadsheet attached?

I see the word "attachments" where it says "Trump Organization cash flow" -- "corporate cash flow."

Q Yes. Do you recognize at the end the .xlsx to refer to an Excel spreadsheet?

Is that what that means?

Q I'm asking if you know, sir.

I don't know what it means, no. I'm sorry.

Q That's fine.

Could we please have 1157 native put up?

You mentioned the corporate cash flow spreadsheet. Do you see it up on the screen?

Yes.

Q Is that what you were referring to in your prior answer, sir?

Yes.

Q You see there is a column for "business segment" at the top? He'll highlight it for you. Top left?

MR. SOLOMON: Your Honor, may I approach the screen and point it to the witness?

Yes, I see it.

Q Thank you.

nd what do you understand "business segment" to refer to there?

I would imagine that's the type of business that falls

. Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Solomon) Page 1178

under a category.

Q nd could we look at lines 23 and 24, please? Do you see that?

I do.

Q Those two lines, the first 23 references "1290 venue of the mericas" with a "(b)?"

Yes.

Q nd the next line 24, "555 California Street" with a "(b)." Do you see that?

Yes.

Q Those are the two properties that were owned by the partnership between the Trump Organization and Vornado; correct?

Correct.

Q Can we scroll down, please, to Note B?

nd I will read into the record "Note B: lthough there could be operating profits, distributions are at the discretion of Vornado." Do you see that, sir?

I do.

Q Did you direct Mr. Birney to add Note B to the spreadsheet or shell?

I don't remember doing that. I think Mr. Birney knew the parameters of the Vornado Partnership regarding distributions.

THE COURT: Does anyone know is it Vornado or Vornado? nybody work for them or something? Invest money in them?

. Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Solomon) Page 1179

MR. SOLOMON: Your Honor, I'm going with Vornado.

THE COURT: We're all on the same page.

MR. SOLOMON: ll right. May I ask for a read back of the witness's last answer?

THE COURT: Please.

(Whereupon, the requested portion of the proceedings was read back by the court reporter.)

Q What is the basis, sir, for that answer that you believe Mr. Birney knew the parameters?

Mr. Birney had been working on this -- on our financial statements I believe at that point. I don't know when he arrived at the company. Maybe he wasn't, but the limited partnership calls for being given distributions only when Vornado distributes money as a whole. In other words, if they don't distribute money themselves, we don't receive anything. If they receive a dollar, we get $0.30 based upon the 30 percent. I don't know if Mr. Birney knew that because I told him to do that or whether or not he knew it from some other source.

Q Okay. ctually, sir, not to quibble, but numbers are quite important in this case.

If they got a dollar, you got $0.30? Isn't it actually if they got $0.70, you got $0.30?

Yes -- well, out of the dollar we should have gotten

. Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Solomon) Page 1180

$0.30. Out of the dollar --
Q Out of the dollar, but out of that dollar they got --
$0.30, yes.
Q But as you sit here today, you do not know how Mr. Birney came to learn that distribution -- excuse me -- operating profits, distributions are at the discretion of Vornado?
I don't remember. I don't remember.
MR. SOLOMON: ll right. Can we mark PX -- I'm sorry. Can we move into evidence the native version of PX 1157?
MR. ROBERT: Statute of limitations objection, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Overruled. It's in evidence.
MR. SOLOMON: Okay.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number PX 1157 in evidence.)
MR. SOLOMON: Can we please mark PX 1293 for identification?
Q Sir, is PX 1293 for identification another e-mail from Patrick Birney to you this time with a cc to Mr. McConney?
Yes.
Q Dated February 25, 2016?
Yes.

. Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Solomon) Page 1181

MR. SOLOMON: The People offer it into evidence.
MR. ROBERT: Statute of limitations objection.
THE COURT: Overruled. It's in evidence.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number PX 1293 in evidence.)
Q Do you recognize this e-mail, sir?
Yes.
Q What do you recognize it to be?
Patrick Birney telling me that he put three copies for the kids in their folders on my chair. "You and Jeff have copies on your desks and I'll call you tomorrow." So it was an e-mail that he put together, some information of which he wanted each one of the kids to receive, as well as myself and Jeff.
Q Let's take that one step at a time.
What information did you understand that he was attempting to convey to you there?
I don't remember whether or not -- whether that was -- the timing of it is what's throwing me off. Is it a shell or was it a shell or with numbers already in it, I don't remember. Do you have something to show me that would help me?
Q We will, actually. I just want to understand what your recollection is before seeing this document, sir.
When you refer to you "the kids," is that the adult children of Donald Trump?

. Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Solomon) Page 1182

Correct.
Q That would be Donald Trump, Jr.?
Correct.
Q Eric Trump?
Correct.
Q nd Ivanka Trump?
Correct.
MR. SOLOMON: Could we please mark PX 1293 native for identification?
Q Sir, looking at the document on the screen entitled "Corporate Operating Financial Summary 2015," does that refresh your recollection as to what was attached to the cover e-mail we were just talking about?
Yes. That's what I thought was in there, yes.
Q So is this the shell you were referring to?
No, this is not a shell. shell would have no numbers on it. It's what you showed me initially. This is no longer a shell. This is now numbers being put into that shell.
Q nd that is based on the performance of the various entities under the Trump Organization umbrella; correct?
I don't know all the sources how Mr. Birney got all his numbers together. I assume it's a combination of things.
Q Was that your -- was that your understanding of what it was intended to show?
Yes. The -- I have a question, if you don't mind.

. Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Solomon) Page 1183

Was this a historical -- I'm sorry.
THE COURT: Well, I often tell witnesses you're there to answer questions, not ask them, but.
THE WITNESS: I understand.
THE COURT: If Mr. Solomon --
I want to help you, give you a correct answer.
Q Mr. Weisselberg, I will take all the assistance you're willing to offer.
THE COURT: I think he said he has a question.
No. Was this given historically or prospectively, this statement? I don't know the dates.
MR. SOLOMON: Scroll down.
Q Does it help you to look at the totals of the bottom line to see if those were historical results or projected future results?
No.
Q Maybe I can do this another way. Look at the cover e-mail for a moment, please. It should be in front of you. Oh, did we take that back?
Yes.
Q PX 1293.
Based upon the date of 2/25/16, I would -- thank you.
Q Please. Does that -- does that assist you, sir?
That would make it historical.
Q Historical.

nd in fact, if you look at the subject, "Financial Summary, Corporate Operating Financial Summary" and the next line, the attachment is the financial summary for 2015?
Now -- yes.
Q So --
To answer your question, it's historical.
Q Thank you.
You're welcome.
MR. KISE: Your Honor, real quickly. This realtime has stopped. It stopped realtiming. I'm not sure why. It's going but it's not scrolling.
(Whereupon, there is a pause in the proceedings.)
Q Did Mr. Birney undertake on his own to put together this Operating Financial Summary for 2015?
When you say did he undertake himself, meaning just out of the clear blue sky decided one day to do that or was he directed to do it? Is that the question?
Q Was he directed to do it to your knowledge?
I believe somebody asked him to put together some information. I don't recall who specifically asked for that information, but I believe he was asked to do it.
Q Was there a point in time that any of the three adult children asked for that information?
I don't remember who it was specifically.
Q You don't recall yourself asking Mr. Birney to put together this information, do you?

. Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Solomon) Page 1185

It's a possibility one of the three children may have asked me to do it then I in turn may have asked Mr. Birney to do it. I just don't recall which child it was.
Q To your knowledge when all of the communications between or were from any of the three adult children, did Mr. Birney have to go through you?
Not necessarily.
Q They could have spoken to him directly?
They could have, yes.
Q Do you have any understanding as to why Mr. Birney was leaving a copy on Jeff's desk?
Just for information purposes to have in case somebody asked him a question.
Q Do you understand or did you understand at the time that the purpose of this creating and distributing the Trump Organization Operating Financial Summary 2015 to the adult children was an effort to keep them informed of the performance of the business?
That sounds about right. I would agree with that.
Q Were you at anytime either requested or directed to keep them advised of the information contained on that spreadsheet we just saw?
I don't believe I was -- it was more of a request to do this as opposed to a direction. Maybe they mean the same thing,

. Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Solomon) Page 1186

I don't know.
Q My question is --
Yes, I don't want to mince words. It's a chance because they were just getting involved in running the business as Mr. Trump had now become president. They wanted to be knowledgeable about the running of the business.
So 2016, he was in the process of running for president and they wanted to get up to speed on how the business was operating.
Q Okay. The third page of PX 1293 after the slip page, which says "document provided natively."
Yes.
Q Let's take a look at that. It was produced to us I will tell you in this format.
Is this document part of the first two pages or is it a separate document, to your knowledge?
I don't remember. It's -- I don't remember if it was separate or part and parcel of the original package.
Q Okay. Do you recall in or about February of 2016 forwarding on this summary information to Donald J. Trump, Jr., Ivanka Trump and Eric Trump?
I imagine I did.
Q Yet you have no reason to doubt that this is what you did at that time?
Correct.

. Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Solomon) Page 1187

Q Okay. Mr. Weisselberg, do you recall that we had some discussions at your prior session on Tuesday relating to a review at Trump Tower by the insurers?
review of the --
Q The insurers came to Trump Tower, sat, I believe -- tell me if I'm correct -- sat in a conference room and reviewed the Statements of Financial Condition. We talked about that?
Correct, correct.
Q Do you recall that?
I do recall.
Q m I correct, sir, that the Trump Organization declined to provide a copy to the insurers to take with them; correct?
I was only told to when I was given direction to meet with them. No one asked me to give it to them, take with them. So I just on my own decided here it is, you can read it, look at it. If they wanted a copy, I certainly would have had them sign an ND and probably given it to them if they asked. But year after year they were satisfied coming in, sitting there, taking their time for the entire day reviewing it.
Q To your knowledge did any of the insurers or sureties ever ask to take a copy of the financial statement with them?
Not that I can remember.
Q To your knowledge were the insurers or sureties required to sign a Non-Disclosure greement before being provided access to the then-current Statement of Financial

. Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Solomon) Page 1188

Condition?
I don't remember.
Q Is it possible you just don't know one way or the other?
No, I don't know if our attorneys ever requested it. I don't know.
Q Okay. Now, sir, on Tuesday in asking you questions about this meeting with the insurance company, and I'm going to put that up on the screen, you were asked, starting on page 953 -- excuse me -- 953, line 24:
"QUESTION: Were you present for all the conversations Jeff and Patrick had with Ms. Markarian?
" NSWER: It was all purpose of the same meeting.
"QUESTION: So were you there when they described to her how the assets were valued?
" NSWER: Yes, I was at the meeting and they told her that they called Doug Larson and Larson provided a summary of comps for downtown Manhattan or midtown Manhattan and he would take those -- Jeff would take those comps or Patrick would, valuations and cap rates and so on and then he would do his computation, but to say that we --
"THE COURT: Finish, please.
" NSWER: To say that we got appraisals from them, that was -- I don't recall that conversation at all."
nd then there is a read back and an answer.

Page 1189

Q Now, Mr. Weisselberg, do you recall sitting for your deposition in May of this year?
Yes.
Transcript continues on the following page....

Q nd you came to our offices, correct?
Correct.
Q You were accompanied by counsel?
Yes.
Q That deposition was recorded by stenographic means?
Yes.
Q It was also recorded by video, correct?
I believe so, yes.
Q Mr. Weisselberg, I'm going to ask my colleague to play the video of certain particular questions and answers you gave on the same subject back then and that's beginning on the transcript page 224, line 22 through 225, line 19.
(Whereupon, the video was played.)
Q Sir, that was your testimony back in May, right?
Did I recall what exactly --
Q Sir, yes or no, that was your testimony back in May?
THE COURT: Yes or no.
Yes.
Q That was your testimony --
THE COURT: He said yes. You got to listen to his answer.
Q It is just coincidence that's exactly five months to the day, right? Today is October 12th.
Okay.
Q Let's talk about the Seven Springs payoff, shall we?

Do you recall a time when --
Seven Springs loan payoff?
Q Yes.
Okay.
Q re you familiar with any discussions about a desire to pay off the Seven Springs loan before it came due?
I -- I do recall talking to Eric about paying off a number of loans that I felt we should pay off at that time. It wasn't just Seven Springs. There were other loans that we talked about as well.
THE COURT: Ten-minute warning.
MR. SOLOMON: Yes, Your Honor, thank you.
Q The conversations -- withdrawn.
Did you have conversations with Eric Trump in or about 2015 about paying off the Seven Springs loan?
It's certainly possible. I just don't remember exactly.
Q Do you recall telling Eric Trump that he should wait until after June 30th to pay off the loan, so the cash position on Mr. Trump's Statement of Financial Condition would not be decreased by the payoff amount?
That's certainly possible. That's certainly possible, yes.
MR. SOLOMON: Can we, please, mark PX 1112 for identification.

Q Sir, PX 1112 for identification has been put in front of you. Do you recognize it?
Yes.
Q What do you recognize it to be?
n e-mail to Eric Trump suggesting to him that if we are going to pay off the loan, to do it subject post June 30th.
Q In order to keep his cash balance as high as possible, right?
Right.
MR. SOLOMON: The People offer PX 1112 in evidence.
MR. ROBERT: Statute of limitations objection.
THE COURT: Overruled. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 1112.)
Q In each year, the efforts to start preparing the Statement of Financial Condition occurred after June 30th; is that right?
Correct.
Q So here, we have a situation back in pril even before the people in the Trump Organization are starting any work on the Statement of Financial Condition for that year where you're trying to accommodate the cash balance position for the statement that's coming up, right?
Correct.
Q Mr. Weisselberg, I would like to talk to you about the crimes to which you pled guilty on ugust 18, 2022. Do you recall you were charged with 15 separate counts?

Yes.
Q Including several counts of falsification of business records?
Whatever is in my -- I forgot the name of the legal document.
Q Okay. nd you pled guilty under oath to all 15 counts, correct?
I did.
Q nd you were required to pay back taxes penalties and interest in the amount of $1.9 million; is that correct?
That sounds about right.
Q nd with interest and other costs, it came out to be about $2 million. Do you recall that?
Sounds about right.
Q nd you were incarcerated as a result of that guilty plea?
Sorry?
Q You were incarcerated as a result of that guilty plea, correct?
I was.
Q Now, after pleading guilty to all of these crimes, the years long scheme of talks fraud you and the Trump Organization entered into that separation agreement that we discussed on Tuesday, right?

Correct.
Q What did you have to agree to do or not to do in exchange for the severance package?
If you have the document.
Q Let's pull it up.
MR. SOLOMON: Please pull up PX 01751 already in evidence. Paragraph three, subsection "D" as in dog. Can we go to the top just for the introduction, please.
Q It starts with "employee promises, in exchange for the benefits provided in paragraph two, employee promises." Do you see that, sir?
Yes.
Q nd paragraph D, "That except for acts or testimony directly compelled by subpoena or other lawful process issued by a court of competent jurisdiction, he will not one, communicate with, provide information to, or otherwise cooperate in any way with any other person or entity" and then that goes on. Do you see that?
Yes, I see that.
Q Sir, did you understand that this subsection precluded you from voluntarily cooperating with anyone adverse to the Trump Organization including the ttorney General's office?
I -- I didn't give it a lot of thought to be honest.
Q But you agreed to it?

I agreed -- if it was -- if I was ordered to meet with a court or some lawful person or a subpoena, then I would meet with them, yes.
Q You would not voluntarily cooperate, right?
That's what it says, yes.
Q Now, sir, let's be clear. This is a yes-or-no question. There is no misunderstanding. Is it just a coincidence that under this severance agreement, that you are being paid $2 million which is almost the same exact amount that you had to pay in connection with your guilty plea?
Coincidence.
Q Pure coincidence?
Coincidence.
MR. SOLOMON: We have nothing further at this time, Your Honor. Excuse me one moment.
I apologize, Your Honor. We are not complete. May I have a moment?
THE COURT: Sure.
(Whereupon, there was a pause in the proceedings.)
MR. SOLOMON: I apologize for the confusion. We might have more after lunch. We would like to take a few minutes. I think you gave me the warning. We have two minutes. If we could break for lunch and we will let the defendants know if we need Mr. Weisselberg to come back or not.

THE COURT: Okay. I just want to point out not to be such a stickler, but one of the documents that Mr. Robert objected to on statute of limitations grounds was dated February 24th or so, 2016. That's after statute of limitations period.

MR. ROBERT: Understood, but it had to do with information that was from '15. That's what we talked about last week and it is part of the Statement of Financial Condition. I understand what Your Honor is saying, but that's why we preserved the objection.

THE COURT: I see. Okay. Understood. ll right. So let's break for lunch.

MR. SOLOMON: I apologize for the confusion.

THE COURT: We come back at the usual 2:15, right?

MR. SOLOMON: Yes.

(Witness exits the stand.)

(Whereupon, a luncheon recess was taken.)

THE COURT OFFICER: ll rise. Part 37 is back in session. The Honorable Judge rthur Engoron presiding. Make sure all cellphones are on silent. Laptops and cellphones will be permitted, but only to members of the press. There's absolutely no recording or photography of any kind allowed in the courtroom. Now, please be seated and come to order.

THE COURT: I understand there is a request for a front bar. It may eventually have to be made public, but for right now, it is okay.

(Whereupon, an off-the-record sidebar discussion was held.)

THE COURT: I think we have an agreement. The plaintiff will not be questioning Mr. Weisselberg anymore at this particular time. You reserve the right to recall him later. The defendants have the right to call him. nd I'm instructing him -- I'm lifting the prohibition on discussing the case with counsel or with anyone else. nd is there more to it than that at this point.

MR. W LL CE: Nothing from the plaintiff, Your Honor.

MR. ROBERT: Nothing from defendants, Your Honor. Thank you.

THE COURT: Let's move on to the next witness.

MR. H REN: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Eric Haren on behalf of the People. The People call Patrick Birney.

THE COURT OFFICER: Witness entering.

P T R I C K B I R N E Y, a witness called by the Plaintiff, after having been first duly sworn by the Clerk of the Court, took the witness stand and testified as follows:

THE COURT OFFICER: State your full name and either business or home address on the record.

THE WITNESS: Patrick Birney. 725 Fifth venue, New York, New York.

THE COURT: You have to be really close to the microphone. Speak right into it, slowly, loudly, clearly. nd let's start the examination.

MR. H REN: Thank you, Your Honor.

DIRECT EX MIN TION

BY MR. H REN:

Q Good afternoon, Mr. Birney, where are you currently employed?

Trump Organization.

Q nd how long have you worked at the Trump Organization?

Since 2015.

Q pproximately when in 2015 did you start working at the Trump Organization?

January 2015.

Q What was your title when you started with the Trump Organization?

Senior financial analyst.

Q Can you walk us through the titles you have held at the Trump Organization since you started there in 2015?

Yes.

Q Please do.

Senior financial analyst, associate assistant vice-president financial operations, and currently vice president of financial operations.

Q Can you give us just the rough time periods of those positions?

Most recently, I was promoted in last year, at some point in 2022. I can't really give you specifically the other ones.

Q Okay. Did raises generally accompany promotions at the Trump Organization?

Yes.

Q Who informed you of your promotions at the Trump Organization?

llen Weisselberg and Ron Lieberman.

Q Let's talk about your background. Could you describe your educational background after high school?

Yes. I went to the University of Michigan. I got a degree in economics.

Q When did you graduate from the University of Michigan?

2013.

Q What did you do after you graduated from the University of Michigan in 2013?

I worked for a company called on.

Q What did you do for on?

on is an insurance brokerage and I worked on a sales and account management team.

P. BIRNEY - DIRECT (MR. H REN) Page 1200

Q What did your role at on entail in general terms?
live claim management. I would deal with the brokers a lot, deal with the clients a lot, a lot of e-mails, schedules of insurance requested certificates, invoice management.
Q Have you ever held any professional licenses?
Yes.
Q Which licenses have you held?
I had an insurance broker's license back in 2014, I think.
Q Do you still have that license today?
I really don't know. I can't imagine that I do.
Q Okay. Do you hold any licenses as an appraiser?
No.
Q Do you hold a designation as a member in the ppraisal Institute?
No.
Q Do you hold any other licenses or associations relating to appraisers?
No.
Q Have you ever been a certified public accountant?
No.
Q During your tenure at on, did you work on Trump Organization insurance accounts?
Yes.
Q Can you describe your work on those accounts, please?

P. BIRNEY - DIRECT (MR. H REN) Page 1201

Sure. Similar to the other clients that I managed, again, schedules of insurance, invoice management, certificates of insurance requests, auto I.D. cards, I was the -- I was one of the main contacts that if somebody from Trump needed something, they would reach out to me.
Q During your work at on or at the Trump Organization, did you ever come across the phrase "team of four"?
Yes.
Q What did you understand that phrase to refer to?
The team of four from the Trump Organization who worked on the insurance program.
Q Was it called "team of four" because there were four members of the team?
I believe so, yes.
Q Who were the four members of the team?
Ron Lieberman, llen Weisselberg, mat calendar Marie and Mike Cohen.
Q Thank you. You said that you joined the Trump Organization in January of 2015.
Who offered you a job at the Trump Organization?
llen Weisselberg and Ron Lieberman.
Q nd where did they offer you the job?
In llen Weisselberg's office.
Q Thank you. You said your title when you joined the Trump Organization was senior financial analyst.

P. BIRNEY - DIRECT (MR. H REN) Page 1202

Can you describe generally your duties in that role?
I worked on a lot of projects. I worked -- worked on the insurance program. I did financial reporting for the golf clubs. I worked -- I did projects for llen Weisselberg. I did projects for Jeff McConney.
Q You said "I did financial reporting for the golf clubs." What did you mean by that?
Golf clubs would send monthly financials and yearly budgets to the corporate office. I would consolidate those and analyze those on a monthly and annual basis.
Q nd did the monthly financials include income and expense figures?
Yes.
Q nd can you tell us more about your work on the monthly golf course financial reporting?
Sure. There was an Excel -- Microsoft Excel document that would be updated every month, had all the clubs on the same spreadsheet. There would be a column for actual year-to-date. There would be a column for budget year-to-date, a column for last year year-to-date, and a column for annual budget, and I would update those figures in Microsoft Excel every month.
Q Did you have a practice of sharing the monthly golf course financial reporting information with anyone?
Yes.
Q With whom was it your practice to share that information?

P. BIRNEY - DIRECT (MR. H REN) Page 1203

I would share it with my direct boss Ron Lieberman first and then we would review it together and then I would share it with Larry Glick, llen Weisselberg, Ron Lieberman and Eric Trump.
Q Thank you.
During your time at the Trump Organization, who did you understand were your supervisors?
Ron Lieberman, and then I did work for a lot of other people above me. So Ron Lieberman would be my direct boss, but I would consider llen Weisselberg, Jeffrey McConney, Mat Calamari to be my superiors. Larry Glick, too.
Q nd is it fair to say that for matters that you worked on with Jeffrey McConney and llen Weisselberg, you viewed them as your superiors?
Yes.
MR. H REN: Let's mark for identification Plaintiff's Exhibit 1162, please.
Q Mr. Birney, do you recognize this document?
Yes.
Q What do you recognize it to be?
n e-mail from Jeff McConney to myself.
Q nd what is the date on the e-mail?
November 16, 2016.
Q nd what is the subject of the e-mail?

P. BIRNEY - DIRECT (MR. H REN) Page 1204

DJT SOFC.
Q What did you understand that subject to refer to?
The Statement of Financial Condition for Donald J. Trump.
MR. H REN: I move Exhibit 1162 be moved in evidence.
THE COURT: Granted. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 1162.)
Q Does the e-mail note that there is an attachment?
Yes.
Q What is the file name of the attachment?
1-Jeffsupportingdataxlsx.
Q Do you have an understanding of the term "Jeff supporting data"?
Yes.
Q What do you understand it to refer to?
The main backup spreadsheet that supported the numbers on the Statement of Financial Condition.
Q nd the word "Jeff," who does that refer to?
Jeff McConney.
MR. H REN: I would like to pull up on the screen a native file that is a component of Exhibit 1162.
Q Mr. Birney, it is the attachment to the e-mail that you were just looking at. Do you recognize this document?

P. BIRNEY - DIRECT (MR. H REN) Page 1205

Yes.
Q What do you recognize it to be?
draft of the Statement of Financial Condition for the year June 30, 2016.
Q When you say, "draft of the Statement of Financial Condition," do you mean a draft of the supporting data for the Statement of Financial Condition?
Yes. Sorry.
Q Okay.
MR. H REN: I would like to move this native file into evidence?
THE COURT: Granted. It is in evidence.
Q What is indicated to you by the information in cell H1?
That things highlighted in yellow are open.
Q nd what do you understand the phrase "open items" to mean?
I understand it to be these items need to be updated or finalized.
Q So is it fair to say that an open item in the context of this spreadsheet is not an item that's been finalized?
That's fair to say.
MR. H REN: Okay. Let's pull up Plaintiff's Exhibit 1167, please.
Q Mr. Birney, do you recognize this document?
Yes.

P. BIRNEY - DIRECT (MR. H REN) Page 1206

Q What do you recognize this document to be?
n e-mail from Jeff McConney to myself on November 16, 2016.
Q That's the same date as the prior e-mail, correct?
I believe so.
Q What is the subject of this e-mail?
2105 DJT Statement of Financial Condition.
MR. H REN: I would like to move this exhibit into evidence.
THE COURT: Granted. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 1167.)
Q What did you understand the subject of the e-mail to refer to?
The Statement of Financial Condition for Donald J. Trump for the year 2015.
Q Does the e-mail have an attachment?
Yes.
Q Do you see --
MR. H REN: Back to the e-mail, please.
Q Do you see the information at the bottom of the e-mail that states "scanemail@trumporg.com?" Do you see that?
Yes, sir.
Q What is the e-mail at the bottom of this message that begins "from scanemail@trumporg.com" indicate to you?

P. BIRNEY - DIRECT (MR. H REN) Page 1207

It indicates that it was scanned in on the 26th floor copier machine by the pantry and then forwarded by Jeff to me.
Q Let's look at the attachment starting on page two of the exhibit. Mr. Birney, do you recognize this document?
Yes.
Q What do you recognize it to be?
The cover page to the 2015 Statement of Financial Condition for Donald J. Trump.
Q If you could just flip through the exhibit, you should see that on page 27 there's the rear page of Statement of Financial Condition. Do you see that?
Yes. If that's page 27, yes.
Q So if you could flip through from page 2 to page 27 and just confirm that the full Statement of Financial Condition for 2015 was forwarded to you on November 16, 2016?
It appears to be the full statement.
Q So, Mr. McConney sent you a supporting data for the Statement of Financial Condition and a copy of the 2015 Statement of Financial Condition on November 16, 2016; is that correct?
Yes.
Q Did you at some point in time become involved in the process of preparing Mr. Trump's Statement of Financial Condition?
Yes.

Q When was that?
Shortly after this e-mail.
Q So in or about November 2016?
Yes.
Q nd for which years had you been involved in the process of preparing Mr. Trump's Statement of Financial Condition?
From 2016 to 2021.
Q So each of the years in that range?
Yes.
Q Did you understand that working on Mr. Trump's Statements of Financial Condition was part of your job at the Trump Organization?
Yes.
Q What did you understand the Statements of Financial Condition for the years that you worked on them to show?
Mr. Trump's net worth.
Q nd is that as of a particular date?
s of June 30th of each year.
Q Do you have an understanding of the phrase "back up" in the context of Mr. Trump's Statements of Financial Condition?
Yes.
Q What do you understand that phrase to refer to?
The backup to the supporting data spreadsheet. So anything that was used to -- wherever the numbers came from, I would usually refer to that as the backup.

Q Let me see if I understand correctly. Supporting data spreadsheet contains number and the backup is additional information supporting those numbers. Is that fair?
Yes.
MR. H REN: Let's mark for identification Plaintiff's Exhibit 756. Excuse me. This one is in evidence already.
Q Mr. Birney, the document on the screen, Plaintiff's Exhibit 756, is in evidence as Statement of Financial Condition for Donald J. Trump as of June 30, 2016. I just want to direct you to page two. Do you see at the bottom of the independent accountant's compilation report on this page that there is a date?
Yes.
Q nd do you see that the date is March 10, 2017?
Yes.
Q nd that date is after you began working on Mr. Trump's Statement of Financial Condition in November of 2016?
Yes.
Q So is the Statement of Financial Condition for the year ending June 30, 2016 the first statement of Statement of Financial Condition that you worked on for Mr. Trump?
Yes, I think so.

Q Did somebody assign you to work on Mr. Trump's annual Statement of Financial Condition in November 2016?
Yes.
Q Who assigned you to work on that project?
I don't know who -- I don't know who assigned me. It was either Jeff McConney or llen Weisselberg.
Q Do you have, you know, any indication of which of those people is a more probable answer?
Probably Jeff McConney.
Q With respect to preparing Mr. Trump's Statement of Financial Condition, did you ever receive any training documents in writing?
For the preparation of the Statement of Financial Condition?
Q Yes.
I don't believe there are any official training documents in writing.
Q nd speaking generally are you aware that asset evaluations in the Supporting Data for Mr. Trump's Statement of Financial Condition are something called cap rates?
Yes.
Q Before working on Mr. Trump's Statement of Financial Condition had you ever valued a property using a cap rate?
I don't think so.
Q When did you complete your work on the 2021 Statement of Financial Condition for Donald J. Trump?

In late 2021.
Q Let's --
I think.
Q So prior to the completion of your work on the 2021 Statement of Financial Condition, had you had any professional training in applying accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of merica also known as G P?
I don't think so.
Q Prior to the completion of your work on the 2021 Statement of Financial Condition, did you know what the Financial ccounting Standards Board was?
I don't think so.
Q Prior to the completion of your work on the 2021 Statement of Financial Condition, did you understand the phrase "accounting standards codification?"
No.
Q Prior to the completion of your work on the 2021 Statement of Financial Condition, were you familiar with ccounting Standards Codification 274 governing personal financial statements?
No.
Q Prior to the completion of your work on the 2021 Statement of Financial Condition, did you have a general understanding of what ccounting Standards Codification 274

P. Birney - Plaintiff - direct (Haren) Page 1212 provides?

No.
Q Prior to the completion of your work on the 2021 Statement of Financial Condition had anybody at the Trump Organization ever mentioned ccounting Standards Codification 274 to you?
Not that I know of.
Q Can you describe in general terms llen Weisselberg's role in preparing Mr. Trump's Statement of Financial Condition from 2016 to 2019?
He would review drafts with me that I would provide to him. In a lot of those drafts I would bring questions to him, he would make decisions based on the questions that I brought.
Q nd you said "drafts." Can you be more specific? Drafts of what?
Drafts of the supporting data spreadsheet.
Q So as a general matter you will bring drafts of the Supporting Data to Mr. Weisselberg with questions and he would make decisions. Is that fair?
That's fair.
Q ll right. nd can you describe in general terms Jeff McConney's role in preparing Mr. Trump's Statements of Financial Condition from 2016 to 2019?
It was similar, but I think with Jeff I would go to Jeff if I needed a specific document, if I needed a financial statement from some entity or something like that. I would go to Jeff and ask for it.

Q I meant did you in the time period I referenced, 2016 to 2019, review drafts of the Supporting Data with Mr. McConney, as well?
Yes.
Q Okay. Did you have an understanding as to whether you were the final decisionmaker on any valuation in the Statements of Financial Condition from 2016 to 2019?
Can you repeat the question, please?
Q Did you have an understanding as to whether you were the final decisionmaker on any valuation in the Statements of Financial Condition from 2016 to 2019?
Yes.
Q What was your understanding?
That I was not the final decisionmaker.
Q nd did you have an understanding as to who the final decisionmaker was?
Yes.
Q nd what was your understanding?
llen Weisselberg.
Q Okay. Let's go to Plaintiff's Exhibit 742.
Mr. Birney, do you see on the screen an Excel spreadsheet entitled, "Donald J. Trump Statement of Financial Condition as of June 30, 2016?"

P. Birney - Plaintiff - direct (Haren) Page 1214

Yes.
Q Do you recognize this document?
Yes.
Q What do you recognize it to be?
draft of the Supporting Data spreadsheet.
MR. H REN: Your Honor, I think this document has been reviewed with other witnesses and the magic words may not have been said, so I'd just like to move it into evidence.
MR. ROBERT: I'm trying to keep order so we don't have the same document going around twice. To the extent it's not, statute of limitations objection.
THE COURT: Okay. To the extent it's not. It's now in over objection.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 756 in evidence.)
Q Who was the principal drafter of the spreadsheet on the screen?
What do you mean?
Q The spreadsheet itself as opposed to any decisions that may have led to numbers being included it in it. Did you prepare the spreadsheet?
I probably worked on the spreadsheet.
Q Did the process of preparing the Supporting Data for the 2016 Statement of Financial Condition involve more than one draft?

P. Birney - Plaintiff - direct (Haren) Page 1215

Yes.
Q How many approximately?
I don't know.
Q How many drafts in a typical year then would you go through?
Could be 20, could be 30. I really don't know.
Q ll right. Will you -- were you the decisionmaker on which valuation methods to choose -- excuse me.
Were you the decisionmaker on which valuation methods were used in the spreadsheet?
No.
Q Who was?
Either Jeff McConney or llen Weisselberg.
Q ll right. Can you be -- is it that one side on some and one side on others? Can you kind of explain your answer?
Sure. This was 2016 so this would have been the first year I was working on it so I would have just asked Jeff a lot of questions. I don't know if I even asked llen questions about this year if it even got to that point. It was probably just me and Jeff for things that I worked on for this year, so I don't know who made the ultimate decisions.
Q ll right. Did you follow a process to go from draft versions of the Supporting Data to the final version of the

P. Birney - Plaintiff - direct (Haren) Page 1216

Supporting Data in 2016?
Can you repeat the question, please?
Q Did you follow a process to go from draft versions of the Supporting Data to the final version of the Supporting Data in 2016?
I don't really know.
Q Let's pull up some of your testimony to see if it refreshes your recollection.
MR. H REN: Let's go to page 103 of Mr. Birney's testimony. Well, first let's go to the first page. Could you go to the first page, please?
Q Mr. Birney, do you recall testifying under oath on June 25, 2020?
Not that specific date, but I do recall in 2020, yes.
MR. H REN: ll right. nd let's go to page 103.
Q Just if you take a look at page 103, starting at line six. It states:
"QUESTION: You mentioned earlier that you have meetings with Jeff McConney and llen Weisselberg to go over drafts of the spreadsheet -- sporting spreadsheet; right?
" NSWER: Yes.
"QUESTION: Between the first draft and the final draft, approximately how many meetings would there be in a typical year?
" NSWER: I don't know. It depends on the specific year. nywhere from -- I'm just -- it depends. It varies.

P. Birney - Plaintiff - direct (Haren) Page 1217

"QUESTION: You'd have at least one meeting a year; right?
" NSWER: Yes, there would be at least one meeting.
"QUESTION: Would there be only one meeting?
" NSWER: Probably not.
"QUESTION: So just try to give me an approximation; five meetings, between five and ten?
" NSWER: Between five and ten."
Now, does that testimony refresh your recollection as to any process you may have had in terms of going from the draft version of the Supporting Data to the final version of the Supporting Data in 2016?
Yes.
Q nd so what is your recollection?
Sorry. The reason I'm getting -- I don't know if that -- what we just looked at was specific to 2016, was it?
Q I think it was a general question with a general answer.
Giving -- I can give you a general answer.
Q Sure. Give me a general answer.
Sure. In 2016, we would -- I worked together with Jeff, but in general I would work on drafts of the spreadsheet. There would be meetings with Jeff McConney and llen Weisselberg. It could have been, yes, five to ten meetings to finalize it and then we would send it over to Mazars along with all of our backup and we would work with Mazars on the Statement of Financial Condition until we were done.

P. Birney - Plaintiff - direct (Haren) Page 1218

Q nd so were Jeff McConney and llen Weisselberg involved in finalizing the 2016 Statement of Financial Condition?
Sorry. One more time?
Q Were Jeff McConney and llen Weisselberg involved in finalizing the 2016 Statement of Financial Condition?
I imagine they were, yes.
Q You imagine or they were?
I know Jeff McConney was involved. I can't remember if llen was. He probably was involved.
Q ll right. nd during the course of preparing the 2016 Statement of Financial Condition did you understand that Mr. Weisselberg and Mr. McConney were your superiors?
Yes.
MR. KISE: Your Honor, not to interrupt, but it's a question regarding an exhibit that I think was just introduced, PX 1167. nd it took me a minute because I'm a little slow, but it's got 35 pages attached, but the native version these -- this appears to be two different documents I guess is my question. nd I just want to clear that up.
I'm sure, far be it for me to accuse the government of doing anything intentional, I am sure that, if anything, it's inadvertent or it could be that I'm mistaken. Often I am, but from what we can see of the native version of this e-mail that is the cover of Plaintiff's Exhibit 1167, the remaining pages that start with this part, with the handwriting on it were not part of the original attachment to the e-mail. The only thing attached to the e-mail was the Statement of Financial Condition and these remaining pages appear to be a different exhibit. I just didn't know if that was introduced. nd we don't have to take up courtroom time right now. I just wanted to place this on the record before we go farther. If they are not going to use this exhibit for the rest of the day, we can clear this up later, but I just didn't want to go any further without at least noting it.

THE COURT: Okay. ny response?
MR. H REN: Yes, I think we'll look at it at a break we. Can take a look at it and see if there was an inadvertent error.
MR. KISE: Thank you.
Q nd back to the exhibit that was on the screen , Exhibit 742. Mr. Birney, in this Supporting Data spreadsheet are there capitalization rates used to value assets? If it would help you to scroll through the document, I'm happy to direct you.
Please.

P. Birney - Plaintiff - direct (Haren) Page 1220

MR. H REN: Could we go to 147, please?
Q So is there a cap rate reflected in Row 47?
Yes.
MR. H REN: Could we go to Row 104, please?
Q Is there a cap rate reflected in Row 104?
Yes.
Q Now, did you have an understanding when working on the 2016 Statement of Financial Condition as to who was the decisionmaker about which capitalization rates to use?
I really don't remember 2016.
Q Do you have a general recollection of yourself ever being the final decisionmaker about a cap rate to be used in the Supporting Data for Mr. Trump's Statement of Financial Condition?
I don't believe I was ever the final decisionmaker.
Q nd do you have a general understanding of who was the final decisionmaker about capitalization rates and Mr. Trump's Statements of Financial Condition?
Yes.
Q nd what's your understanding?
llen Weisselberg.
Q I'd like to just have pull up on the screen your prior testimony at page 191 beginning at line seven:
"QUESTION: So when you say that your role is just to update the spreadsheet, are you saying that you're not participating in the choice between cap rates?

P. Birney - Plaintiff - direct (Haren) Page 1221

" NSWER: I'm not the one making the choice.
"QUESTION: So who is the one making the choice?
" NSWER: Either Jeff McConney or llen Weisselberg on any given year."
I think in the answer you just gave to my question here your answer was llen Weisselberg, so I just want to clarify what was Jeff McConney's role in choosing capitalization rates speaking generally from Mr. Trump's Statement of Financial Condition?
He was involved.
Q nd can you describe his involvement, please?
Sure. Jeff would forward me e-mails from third parties that have lists of recent sales in the area. Those lists would have cap rates on them. I would then usually discuss that with Jeff or llen. It depends -- it really depends on the asset.
Q You said "it really depends on the asset." Can you be -- give any additional recollection you have about that?
Yes. I've talked on the phone with Jeff, a third party before asking about storefronts and cap rates to be used for storefronts in New York City. I think most of that is in the Supporting Data spreadsheets. But Jeff was involved in that and those are typically smaller than larger properties. I don't know if llen would have been 100 percent involved in those decisions.

P. Birney - Plaintiff - direct (Haren) Page 1222

Q Okay. Let's move to Plaintiff's Exhibit 758.
Mr. Birney, the document on the screen, Plaintiff's Exhibit 758 is in evidence as the final 2017 Supporting Data spreadsheet. Do you recognize it as such?
I'll take your word.
Q Do you recognize it as a Supporting Data spreadsheet for Mr. Trump's Statement of Financial Condition as of June 30, 2017?
Yes.
Q Did you prepare this spreadsheet?
Probably.
Q nd earlier you gave me an answer about a number of drafts that you would go through in a typical year about -- number of drafts of the Supporting Data spreadsheet. Do you recall that?
Yes.
Q Did that -- would that same answer apply to the 2017 year?
Probably.
Q Were you the decisionmaker on valuation methods to use in the spreadsheet?
No.
Q Who was?
Either Jeff McConney or llen Weisselberg.
Q nd can you, you know, give anymore information about

P. Birney - Plaintiff - direct (Haren) Page 1223 which of those two is, you know, more probable?

Probably llen Weisselberg.
Q nd you earlier described a process of reviewing the draft Supporting Data with Mr. McConney and Mr. Weisselberg. Do you recall that?
Yes.
Q Is that a process that you followed in 2017 as well?
Yes.
Q nd are there capitalization rates used to value assets in this spreadsheet?
Probably.
Q Did you have an understanding when working on the 2017 Statement of Financial Condition as to who was the ultimate decisionmaker about capitalization rates to use?
Probably.
Q Did you have an understanding?
I don't know if I had an understanding.
Q So you worked on this project in 2017; right?
Yes.
Q nd there are capitalization rates reflected in the spreadsheet?
Can you scroll down to --
Q Sure. Let's go to Row 68 as an example.
Yes.
Q Were you the final decisionmaker about capitalization rates to use in the 2017 Statement of Financial Condition?

P. Birney - Plaintiff - direct (Haren) Page 1224

No.
Q Who was?
Either Jeff McConney or llen Weisselberg, depending on the asset.
Q You say "depending on the asset." Were there some that Mr. Weisselberg chose for?
Yes.
Q Which were those?
It really depends. The reason I'm answering this way is as I've -- as we've spoken about in the past, when I update the spreadsheet there is a year like there are two years on every spreadsheet, right. So if I'm not making a change, if I'm valuing it the exact same way who is valuing it before, who is really making the decision that year, right? You have to go back to who made the decision the year before.
So ultimately, llen Weisselberg was probably -- had -- had -- had the authority to approve everything. I'm not sure if every single asset on this schedule was approved by llen.
Q nd jut so I understand if a capitalization rate was carried forward from the year before was it -- was a decision made to just carry it forward?
Maybe.
Q nd who would make a decision to just carry forward the exact same cap rate from the prior year?

P. Birney - Plaintiff - direct (Haren) Page 1225

llen or Jeff.
Q ll right.
THE COURT: Ten-minute warning.
MR. H REN: Let's pull up Plaintiff's Exhibit 774.
Q Mr. Robert can correct me, but I think the magic words also might not have been said about this spreadsheet.
But Mr. Birney, do you recognize this document?
Yes.
Q What do you recognize it to be?
draft of the Supporting Data spreadsheet for the next year, 2018.
MR. H REN: I move this document into evidence to the extent it's not already in evidence.
MR. KISE: No objection.
THE COURT: Granted. It's in evidence.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 774 in evidence.)
Q Mr. Birney, did you draft the spreadsheet?
Probably.
Q You gave an answer earlier about going through 20 to 30 drafts of the Supporting Data. Would that answer apply to 2018 as well?
Yes. The reason I'm saying probably or the -- whatever is in the Column F, that wasn't me, the 4100.01.

P. Birney - Plaintiff - direct (Haren) Page 1226

Q Oh, understood. We do I think have testimony on the record that those markings had come from the accounting firm, but as to the other information in the spreadsheet, that's not -- either the blue numbers or the red lettering on the top, you prepared the spreadsheet; is that right?
I probably prepared the spreadsheet. If you want to show the name it would help me tell.
Q You mean the file name?
File name.
Q But putting aside this particular file, you prepared the Supporting Data for the 2018 Statement of Financial Condition?
Yes.
Q Were you the decisionmaker about which valuation methods to use in the spreadsheet?
No.
Q Who was?
Either llen Weisselberg or Jeff McConney.
Q nd again, can you give the Court or me an indication as to which of those people is more probable?
Probably llen Weisselberg.
Q nd the process that you mentioned of reviewing the draft Supporting Data with Mr. McConney and Mr. Weisselberg, is that a process you would have followed in 2018 as well?
Yes.

P. Birney - Plaintiff - direct (Haren) Page 1227

Q nd your answer concerning the choice of capitalization rates, you gave answers about that in the 2017 spreadsheet that we were looking at a few minutes ago?
Yes.
Q Would those answers apply to the 2018 Statement of Financial Condition, as well?
Yes, probably.
Q Well, let's just -- we might as well do it.
Mr. Birney, could you take a look at Row 47, please? You see there there is a cap rate of 2.6 percent?
Yes.
Q nd in Row 119 there is a cap rate of 2.36 percent?
Yes.
Q Were you the decisionmaker about which capitalization rates to use in the spreadsheet?
No.
Q Who was?
Jeff and llen.
Q nd when you say "Jeff and llen," you mean Jeff McConney and llen Weisselberg?
Yes.
Q ll right. Let's pull up on the screen Plaintiff's Exhibit 843. This document is in evidence as the Supporting Data for the June 30, 2019 Statement of Financial Condition. Mr. Birney, do you recognize this document?

P. Birney - Plaintiff - direct (Haren) Page 1228

Yes.
Q Did you draft the supporting data for the 2019 Statement of Financial Condition?
In general, yes.
Q nd you gave an answer concerning a number of drafts that you would go through on a typical year would that answer apply to the 2019 Statement of Financial Condition?
Yes.
Q nd were you the decisionmaker about which valuation methods to use in the spreadsheet?
No.
Q Who was?
Either llenes Weisselberg or Jeff McConney.
Q nd can you give an indication as to which of those two people was more probable?
llen Weisselberg.
Q nd the process that you mentioned of going through drafts of the supporting data with Mr. McConney and Mr. Weisselberg, was that a process you filed in 2019?
Yes.
Q nd let's take a look at Row 66, please.
Mr. Birney, do you see that there is a cap rate there of 2.67 percent?
Yes.
Q Let's go to Row 100 , please.

P. Birney - Plaintiff - direct (Haren) Page 1229

Do you see there there is a cap rate of 2.42 percent?
Yes.
Q Were you the ultimate decisionmaker regarding the capitalization rates to use in the 2019 Statement of Financial Condition?
No.
Q Who was?
Same as before, llen and Jeff.
Q nd you mean llen Weisselberg and Jeff McConney?
Yes.
Q ll right. Let's --
MR. H REN: I guess how close am I to the ten minutes?
THE COURT: You have another three or four if you want.
MR. H REN: It's a fortune.
Let's pull up on the screen Plaintiff's Exhibit 857.
Q Mr. Birney, the document on the screen is in evidence as the Supporting Data for the 2020 Statement of Financial Condition. Do you recognize this document?
Yes.
Q Was the process of preparing the Supporting Data for the 2020 Statement of Financial Condition in any way different than the process from 2016 to 2019?

P. Birney - Plaintiff - direct (Haren) Page 1230

Yes.
Q How is it different?
There was more input from more people.
Q nd when you say "more people," who else was involved in -- who else was involved?
Myself, llen Weisselberg Jeff McConney, Ray Flores, Jody Whitsec, dam Rosen, lan Garten.
Q nd at the time llen Weisselberg was still the chief financial officer of the Trump Organization?
I think so.
Q What was Jeff McConney's position at the time?
I think he was controller.
Q nd how about Ray Flores?
Vice president development and acquisitions or something like that.
Q nd can you just give us a general idea of Mr. Flores' role in the 2020 Statement of Financial Condition?
Ray gave input on backup and certain cap rates, certain properties.
Q nd just so I have the list right, Mr. Garten was the chief legal officer at the time?
I think so.
Q nd Mr. Rosen worked under Mr. Garten; is that right?
He worked in the legal department.
Q So Mr. Garten was the senior most legal person involved in the 2020 Statement of Financial Condition?

Yes.
Q nd Mr. Weisselberg was the senior most accounting person involved in the 2020 Statement of Financial Condition?
Yes.
MR. H REN: ll right.
THE COURT: Before you go, let's revisit the important question of the warning. The ten-minute warning seems to make you all nervous and you're looking at the clock, you want to know how long -- I have a better idea. How about a five-minute warning and a one-minute warning? nybody object to that?
MR. W LL CE: No objection.
MR. H REN: We could use a little red light.
THE COURT: Or a sign or hold up my hands. ll right, 15-minute break. See you soon.
THE COURT OFFICER: Remain seated in the audience.
(Whereupon, there is a recess in the proceedings and the transcript continues on the following page.)

P. BIRNEY - DIRECT (MR. H REN) Page 1232

THE COURT OFFICER: ll rise. Part 37 is back 24 session.
MR. KISE: While we are waiting for the witness, I think over the break, we reached an understanding and Ms. Faherty can state.
MS. F HERTY: Our PTG folks were able to resolve the issue. It seems it was a technological family coupling issue. Our goal to have a corrected exhibit in the morning. Some additional pages were added. That's all, Your Honor. I apologize for the mistake. We will correct it immediately.
THE COURT: I'm glad Mr. Kise caught you on it.
MS. F HERTY: Well, you know, I do try to sneak things in apparently.
MR. KISE: I'm a little slow, but I read things.
THE COURT: We are getting the witness, yes?
THE COURT OFFICER: The witness is here.
(Witness resumes the stand.)
THE COURT: Let's continue.
Q Welcome back, Mr. Birney.
Hi.
MR. H REN: Let's call up Plaintiff's Exhibit 1501.
Q Mr. Birney, this document is in evidence as the supporting data spreadsheet for the 2021 Statement of Financial Condition. Do you recognize it?

P. BIRNEY - DIRECT (MR. H REN) Page 1233

I recognize the format of it, but not two of the notes.
Q By notes, you mean the information Excel E4 that refers to WP?
Yes.
Q But apart from those notes, do you recognize it to be a 2021 supporting data spreadsheet for Mr. Trump's Statement of Financial Condition?
Yes.
Q Can describe just in general terms the process of preparing the 2021 Statement of Financial Condition?
Yes. It was very similar to the 2020 statement. Wherever we pulled information from from 2020, I think why pulled it from 2021. There was one change for valuations that I can recall right now and that was the golf courses.
Q Just speaking about process, can you say who was involved in the process of preparing the 2021 statement?
Yes. It was the team that I had mentioned for 2020 except I do not believe llen Weisselberg was involved and Jeff McConney was barely involved.
Q ll right. Let's pull up on the screen a document that is Plaintiff's Exhibit 758.
Mr. Birney, this document is in evidence as the supporting data for Mr. Trump's 2017 Statement of Financial Condition.
MR. H REN: Could we scroll down to row 969, please.

P. BIRNEY - DIRECT (MR. H REN) Page 1234

Q What is indicated to you by the information in columns B, C and H in row 969?
The triplex valuation for the previous year I believe is column H based on columns from Trump International Realty at 30,000 square feet multiplied by $10,900 per square feet.
Q I'll just note for the record the Court has reached an official understanding about the pronunciation. Triplex.
What did I say?
Q Triplex. It's very important here in this courtroom.
Sorry.
Q I would like to direct your attention to row 971. What is indicated to you by the information in columns B and C and G in that row?
The valuation for the triplex based on comp for 432 Park, 10,996.39 square feet multiplied by $10,625 per square-foot.
Q nd based on the information in columns B and C in row 969 and row 971, there was a change in the square footage used for Mr. Trump's triplex apartment between the 2016 and 2017 Statements of Financial Condition, right?
Yes.
Q Do you have an understanding of any events that led to that change in square footage?
Yes.
Q What's your understanding?

P. BIRNEY - DIRECT (MR. H REN) Page 1235

My understanding is there was an article written that stated that Mr. Trump's triplex apartment was actually 10,900 or so square feet and then we used that -- we verified that square footage internally and then we used that for the 2017 Statement of Financial Condition.
Q You say "we verified that internally." Who was involved in that verification?
llen Weisselberg, probably Jeff McConney and I believe Stephanie Lennig.
Q How do you spell her name?
L-E-N-N-I-G.
Q Thank you.
MR. H REN: Let's pull up Plaintiff's Exhibit 1605 unless there was a different version of this marked yesterday. I understand this document is in evidence already.
Q Mr. Birney, do you see that the title of the article is "Donald Trump has been lying about the size of his penthouse"?
Yes.
Q Does the article have a date?
May 3, 2017.
Q Is this the article that prompted the change in square footage reported in the supporting data to Mr. Trump's Statement of Financial Condition?
Probably.

P. BIRNEY - DIRECT (MR. H REN) Page 1236

Q Is it the article or was there some other article?
I don't know.
MR. H REN: Let's turn back to the 2016, Plaintiff's Exhibit 756.
Q Do you remember that we agreed there is a date on the independent accountant's compilation report on page two. The date is March 10, 2017, right?
Yes.
Q ll right. Let's move to plaintiff's 01324.
Mr. Birney, this document is in evidence. Does it appear to be an e-mail from Dan lexander at Forbes to llen Weisselberg and Jeff McConney on February 22, 2017?
Yes.
MR. H REN: nd could you scroll down just generally through the e-mail, so Mr. Birney can look at it.
Q Mr. Birney, do you see on the second page of the exhibit, there's an item entitled, "Trump Tower Penthouse"?
Yes.
Q Does it state a square footage?
Yes.
Q What is the square footage that is stated?
10,996.
MR. H REN: Let's pull up Plaintiff's Exhibit 1327. We apparently have a version of this that's already in evidence, so I would like to use that one instead of this

P. BIRNEY - DIRECT (MR. H REN) Page 1237

one. Let's pull up Plaintiff's Exhibit 1345.
Q Okay. Mr. Birney, Plaintiff's Exhibit 1345 is in evidence already.
MR. H REN: If we could scroll down, please. Continue to scroll. Please continue. Now scroll back up to the top of this e-mail.
Q Mr. Birney, do you see on the screen an e-mail from a person named Noah Kirsch to lan Garten on March 3, 2017?
Yes.
Q nd do you see that the subject is urgent in all caps fact checking inquiry from Forbes?
Yes.
Q If you could scroll down, please. Do you see the item there entitled Trump Tower penthouse in all caps?
Yes.
Q Do you see where the e-mail states under the heading Trump Tower penthouse, "president Trump has told Forbes in the past that his penthouse occupies 33,000 square feet comprising the entirety of the floors 66-68 of Trump Tower. nd it goes on is the 1994 declaration accurate and up-to-date. It shows president Trump's apartment is 1009996.39 square feet. Do you see that.
Yes.
Q Did llen Weisselberg ever inform you before the 2016 Statement of Financial Condition was finalized that he had been notified by e-mail from Forbes that Mr. Trump's triplex apartment was 10,996 square feet?

P. BIRNEY - DIRECT (MR. H REN) Page 1238

Just to be clear, you said 2016?
Q Yes.
I don't think he did.
Q Did Jeff McConney ever inform you before the 2016 Statement of Financial Condition was finalized that he had been notified by e-mail from Forbes that Mr. Trump's triplex apartment was 10,996 square feet?
I don't -- I don't know. I don't think he did.
Q Let's go back to the 2017 supporting data, Plaintiff's Exhibit 758. Let's look at again row 969 actually look at row 971. Do you see where it states "triplex-based on comp from 432 Park"?
Yes.
MR. H REN: Let's pull up Plaintiff's Exhibit 767.
Q Mr. Birney, could you look through the document?
Yes.
Q Do you recognize it?
Yes.
Q What do you recognize it to be?
The backup to the triplex valued for the 2017.
MR. H REN: I move this document into evidence.
MR. KISE: For what purpose? It's hearsay. What's it being admitted for?

P. BIRNEY - DIRECT (MR. H REN) Page 1239

THE COURT: It is hearsay. Depends on -- actually, it depends upon what they're trying to admit it for. What's the purpose of admitting it?
MR. H REN: The witness just testified that this was the backup to the 2017 valuation of Mr. Trump's triplex.
THE COURT: Well, it's in for that so --
MR. KISE: It is in for the fact that it is a backup, but not --
THE COURT: But not for the truth --
MR. KISE: Right.
THE COURT: Contents.
MR. KISE: Okay.
THE COURT: Okay.
Q Mr. Birney, there's information contained on the first page that is in handwriting. Do you see that?
Yes.
Q What does that information represent?
The square footage of Mr. Trump's triplex.
Q Do you have an understanding as to whose handwriting is on this page?
I think is Stephanie Lennig. I don't know for sure.
Q That was the person you mentioned who was involved in verifying the square footage of Mr. Trump's triplex after the article came out?
Yes.

P. BIRNEY - DIRECT (MR. H REN) Page 1240

Q Let's turn to page two of the exhibit. Do you have an understanding what is reflected in the mathematical computations on the right side of this page?
Yes.
Q nd what is your understanding?
It's the dollar per square-foot.
Q The dollar per square-foot of what?
Of this unit in 432 Park.
Q nd the dollar per square-foot that's calculated here was then used to value Mr. Trump's triplex in the 2017 Statement of Financial Condition; is that right?
Can you show me the previous exhibit?
Q Sure.
MR. H REN: Let's go back to Plaintiff's Exhibit 758 and down to row 971.
Probably. It's not the same number, but it's very close to that number.
Q It says 432 Park in the spreadsheet, doesn't it?
Yes.
Q nd can you look at Exhibit 767 on the second page. Does that also reference 432 Park?
MR. H REN: Could you zoom -- yeah.
Yes.
Q So does the information on this page represent support for the $10,625 per square-foot number that was used to value

P. BIRNEY - DIRECT (MR. H REN) Page 1241

Mr. Trump's triplex for the 2107 statement?
It does. I just don't know why we wouldn't have used 10,624 instead of 625. It is very particular.
Q Might be a dollar off?
Sorry?
Q So it might be a dollar off?
Yes.
Q Let's look at page -- continuing on page two of the exhibit. Do you see at the bottom there is an Internet address https://www.alux.com and then it continues?
Yes.
Q What do you understand that to refer to?
I understand that would be the website that this came from.
Q So it is a website entitled alux.com?
That is my understanding.
Q Did you go to alux.com to find a property to use to value Mr. Trump's triplex for the 2017 Statement of Financial Condition?
I think I did.
Q nd tell us what you did when you did that. In other words, did you follow a process? How did you identify this process as something that should be used?
I re -- I think I Google-searched recent sales and/or like penthouse sales in Manhattan.

P. BIRNEY - DIRECT (MR. H REN) Page 1242

Q nd you happened upon an article entitled, "Own the Most Expensive Penthouse in U.S. Now!"?
Yes.
Q For this property to be used to value Mr. Trump's triplex for the 2017 Statement of Financial Condition, did you discuss it with anybody?
Yes.
Q Who did you discuss it with?
llen Weisselberg or Jeff McConney.
Q Did either of them direct you to use this comparable as opposed to any others that you had identified?
I don't remember.
Q In 2017, would you have chosen a comparable for Mr. Trump's triplex apartment without being told to do so by Jeff McConney or llen Weisselberg?
No.
MR. H REN: Let's go to Plaintiff's Exhibit 843, please. Could we go down to row 1011.
Q Mr. Birney, do you have an understanding of the information contained in columns B and C in row 1011?
Yes.
Q nd what is your understanding?
So description of the valuation for Mr. Trump's triplex in 2019.
Q What does it indicate to you about what information was used in that valuation?

It indicates there was a comp used from 220 Central Park South that my understanding is that there was a $10,348 per square-foot number on that 220 Central Park South property.
Q nd so the 10,348 per square-foot from 220 Central Park South was used to value Mr. Trump's triplex in the June 30, 2019 Statement of Financial Condition?
I think so.
MR. H REN: Let's pull up Plaintiff's Exhibit 2530.
Q Mr. Birney, do you recognize this document?
Not really. I recognize the first page.
Q What is contained on the first page?
First page looks like the same thing as the last year, the square footage for Mr. Trump's triplex.
Q It appears to be the same handwriting that was used in the 2017 version we looked at a few minutes ago?
Yes.
Q Do you see on the second page there is an article from therealdeal.com?
Yes.
Q Do you see at the top there is a date of September 25, 2019?
Yes.
Q Do you see there's also something at the top that says, "Ken Griffin, 220 Central Park South Priciest U.S. Home Sale.'

P. BIRNEY - DIRECT (MR. H REN) Page 1244

Yes.
Q Do you see in the article there is a highlighted price of where it says record shattering 238 million?
Yes.
Q Do you see in the paragraph that follows, " 23,000 square-foot quadruplex"?
Yes.
Q Do you see that 23,000 square-foot is highlighted?
Yes.
Q Do you see that below there is a strip of what I'll refer to as adding machine math?
Yes.
Q Do you have an understanding of what is computed by that adding machine math?
The price per square-foot for this unit.
Q What is the price per square-foot that's computed?
$10,347.82.
MR. H REN: Can we go back to Plaintiff's Exhibit 843.
Q Does that number match the 10,348 per square-foot that's used in row 1011 of this spreadsheet?
Yes.
Q Having now seen that information, do you recognize Plaintiff's Exhibit 2530 as the backup or the valuation of Mr. Trump's triplex in 2019?

P. BIRNEY - DIRECT (MR. H REN) Page 1245

Yes.
MR. H REN: Your Honor, I move this document into evidence.
THE COURT: Granted. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 2530.)
MR. KISE: Same objection, Your Honor, as to the purpose that it is being moved into evidence for. lso, I just have a general objection. You were talking before about moving things along. What is the relevance of all of this? I mean, I know we have a dispute over whether or not the square footage was right or wrong, should have been right or wrong, but this doesn't really go to that. This just goes to the price per square-foot in 2019 -- after the square footage number was corrected. So I'm just not sure what relevance this exhibit has or the other one frankly.
THE COURT: Well, let's hear the explanation.
MR. H REN: I would just say the price per square-foot is another variable in the valuation and its choice could be evidence to matters that are relevant to issues being tried.
MR. KISE: What issue is being tried on that point, as to that point?
MR. H REN: There are additional elements of the other counts that haven't been decided on summary judgment for which a choice of a price per square-foot that is record-shattering could be relevant, and I would rather not discuss that in front of the witness.

THE COURT: Objection overruled. It's relevant to the whole process it seems to me evaluating these properties.

P. Birney - Plaintiff - direct (Haren) Page 1247

Q Mr. Birney, do you have -- let me -- he already testified to that. Excuse me one second.
(Whereupon, there is a pause in the proceedings.)
MR. H REN: Just to clarify, Your Honor, I believe I moved Exhibit 2530 into evidence, then the objection was made that it's hearsay and I responded that it's the backup of -- for this valuation in 2019 and it's admissible for that purpose. I just wanted to clarify.
THE COURT: Yes.
Q ll right. So Mr. Birney, do you see on the top of page three of the exhibit -- excuse me -- yes, in the middle of page three of the exhibit there is a headline that reads: "Ken Griffen sets U.S. home record with $238 million buy at 220 CPS?"
Yes.
Q Do you see that it says it's the most expensive home ever sold in the U.S.?
Yes.
Q So was an article in the Real Deal describing the most expensive home ever sold in the United States the basis for the price per square foot used to value Mr. Trump's triplex for the 2019 Statement of Financial Condition?
Yes.
Q ll right. Let's go back to Plaintiff's Exhibit 758. I'd like to direct your attention to Rows 214 through 245.

P. Birney - Plaintiff - direct (Haren) Page 1248

nd just in general what's your understanding of the information contained in those rows and ending at Column H?
Which rows one more time?
Q 214 to 245.
It's the valuation of the Mar- -Lago club.
Q nd Row 215 says "value if sold to an individual." Do you see that?
Yes.
Q What does that mean?
MR. KISE: Objection. Other than what it says?
Q Do you have an understanding of what that means other than what it says?
I don't know if -- I don't -- I don't think I -- I don't think I wrote that. I don't know if I have an understanding of it.
Q Okay.
THE COURT: Objection -- well, it's -- my usual or often response, let's see if he can answer it. He says he can't answer it, so.
Q So Mr. Birney, do you see that there are items identified as comparable properties under Row 217?
Can you repeat the question, please?
MR. H REN: Could I have a read back?
THE COURT: Okay. Read back, please.
(Whereupon, the requested portion of the

P. Birney - Plaintiff - direct (Haren) Page 1249 proceedings was read back by the court reporter.)

Yes.
Q nd do you have an understanding of what the phrase "comparable properties" as used in Cell C 217 means?
Yes.
Q nd what's your understanding?
The properties that were used to obtain looks like a value per acre.
Q But just in terms of the -- I understand that the phrase refers to the properties that follow it, right. In other words, there are properties listed under Row 217. Do you see that?
Yes.
Q I just want to get an understanding of whether you understand the phrase "comparable properties" to mean anything other than those properties that are listed.
Let me withdraw the question.
Just the phrase "comparable properties" as used here, do you have an understanding of what it means?
My understanding is it means the properties that were used to valuate the value of Mar- -Lago in 2017 and '16.
Q Okay. Now, do you see where it says "89 Little Road, 1695 Drive North Ocean Way and 540 South Ocean Boulevard?"
Yes.
Q re those all private residences?

P. Birney - Plaintiff - direct (Haren) Page 1250

I think they are.
Q nd just speaking generally do you have an understanding that the properties identified as comparable properties in the valuations of the Mar- -Lago Club from 2016 to 2021 were private residences?
I think they were private residences.
Q ll right. Who had the authority, if you know, to approve or reject a particular sale as a comparable for Mar- -Lago in the 2017 statement?
I don't -- I don't really remember, but it's -- Jeff McConney or llen Weisselberg.
Q nd who had the authority to approve or reject a particular sale as a comparable for Mar- -Lago under the 2016 statement?
I don't remember 2016. I don't know if that -- those sales were already filled in or not by the time Jeff e-mailed me.
Q Were you ever the person who had authority to approve or reject a particular sale as a comparable for Mar- -Lago in any of Statements of Financial Condition that you worked on?
Can you please repeat the question?
MR. H REN: Could I have a read back, please?
THE COURT: Please.
(Whereupon, the requested portion of the proceedings was read back by the court reporter.)

P. Birney - Plaintiff - direct (Haren) Page 1251

Ultimately, no.
Q Now, can you just describe in general in this document how the value of Mar- -Lago is calculated?
Yes.
Q If you need us to move to particular cells, feel free to direct us.
Yes, there were three properties used where their price was divided by the acreage to get a value per acre. That value per acre was averaged it appears.
Q nd just so the record is clear, which cells are you referring to?
For the numbers D 219 down to E 233.
Q Okay. Thank you.
From there the average value per acre was multiplied by the acreage of Mar- -Lago of 18.81 to get a value, then there were certain things added and subtracted to that figure to get the ultimate value.
Q nd can you just direct us to where the average price per acre is multiplied by the acreage. Where does that happen?
So cell G 235 and cell H 235.
Q nd G is for 2017 and H is for 2016; is that right?
Yes.
Q Okay. nd the adjustments that you mentioned, where did those occur?
Cells G and H of -- I think that's 237 row,

P. Birney - Plaintiff - direct (Haren) Page 1252

22.9 million and 22.5 million added for the construction of grand ballroom and beach cabanas adjusted for inflation. If I remember there is a calculation off to the -- it's either below or up above to the right for that, so it says "see below," so it's probably below.

MR. H REN: You can scroll down a little bit.

Q So what you're describing is happening starting at Row 248; is that right?

Yes.

Q Okay. nd just so I understand the average value per acre and the multiplication to get essentially a value of the total acreage is done based on the private residences that are identified as comparables; is that right?

The private residences that are what?

Q Identified as comparables?

Yes.

Q Okay. nd -- but then there is additional value added for construction of a grand ballroom and beach cabanas that are club facilities; is that right?

I don't know how to answer that.

Q Is the grand ballroom used at the club?

t Mar- -Lago, yes.

Q nd are the beach cabanas used at the club?

Yes.

Q So there is -- some of the valuation is done based on residential comparables and acres, but components of the club are added to it; is that right?

Yes.

Q Okay. nd is the method that you described in terms of the value per acre identified from the comparables and then the multiplication across the acreage of Mar- -Lago, is that used on the statements from 2016 to 2021?

Can you repeat the question, please?

MR. H REN: Can I have a read back, please?

THE COURT: Please.

(Whereupon, the requested portion of the proceedings was read back by the court reporter.)

No. I believe it was used in 2016 through 2019 and then I didn't value it in 2020 and 2021. I think that was valued by Jody Whitsec (ph).

Q Is the method of taking a price per acre from comparables and then multiplying it across the acreage of Mar- -Lago, is that used in 2020 and 2021?

I don't remember.

Q ll right. Mr. Birney, let's look at Exhibit 1013.

Can we go back to clarify something?

Q Sure.

Just can you pull the last one up?

Q Sure. So for the record we're looking again at Plaintiff's Exhibit 758.

P. Birney - Plaintiff - direct (Haren) Page 1254

Can you scroll up to the beginning of Mar- -Lago? No. Sorry, just -- so as we were going through the valuation I remember why I have an understanding of why that first part was written because we added things back to the location that a private residence wouldn't have.

Q Can you direct us to the particular cell that you're referring to?

Yes.

Q So let's go down to Row 214 is where it starts. So which information are you referring to?

So you asked me if I had an understanding of value if sold to an individual.

Q Sure.

I have an understanding after looking through the valuation. I believe they -- we valued it based on residential properties but then added things that weren't in private residences and then removed things that clubs had that private residences didn't have like the membership deposits refundable. I think it's just a clarifying sentence. gain, I don't think I wrote that, but that's the understanding I have of that now.

Q nd do you have an understanding of whether that phrase is contained in copies of the Jeff Supporting Data before you began to work on the Statement of Financial Condition?

I don't know. We can look if you want.

Q But if it had been contained and it was just carried forward would you have just carried it forward?

Yes. nd it looks like the 2016 information was used in 2017, so that's a possibility.

MR. H REN: Okay. nd before we move on to Exhibit 1013, can we call up Exhibit -- Plaintiff's Exhibit 857? nd can you scroll down? Keep scrolling. Keep scrolling. nd a little bit more, like three more rows.

Q Okay. Mr. Birney, this is the 2020 Supporting Data for Mr. Trump's Statement of Financial Condition. Do you see that at the top?

Yes.

Q nd are there still private residences used as comparables to generate an average price per acre?

Can you scroll up just a few rows? Yes.

Q nd can we scroll down just a little bit more? nd do you see in Rows 235 to 246 that the average price per acre is multiplied by the acreage?

Yes.

MR. H REN: Okay. Let's call up Plaintiff's Exhibit 1501.

Q s we talked about earlier this is the Supporting Data spreadsheet for the 2021 Statement of Financial Condition.

MR. H REN: Could we scroll down to around the same place?

P. Birney - Plaintiff - direct (Haren) Page 1256

Q Mr. Birney, do you see beginning in Row 201 it states "the Mar- -Lago club value if sold to an individual?"
Yes.
Q nd do you see --
MR. H REN: Scroll down a little bit more.
Q Row 231 down to 248, are those private residence comparables?
Yes.
Q nd in Rows 250 and 251 are they -- is the average price per acre multiplied by acreage?
Yes.
MR. H REN: ll right. So let's call up Plaintiff's Exhibit 1013.
THE COURT: It's just about five-minute warning time and I want to see if I can clarify something based on something that someone said a little while ago.
Let me ask plaintiffs first. Do you have an official position on the square footage of the triplex?
MR. W LL CE: n official position as to what it was or -- I think we do. I think we believe it was 10996.39 square feet.
THE COURT: Okay. Defendant same question. Do you have an official position on the square footage of the triplex at the times in issue here?
MR. KISE: t the time at issue? You mean as of today?

P. Birney - Plaintiff - direct (Haren) Page 1257

THE COURT: No. s of 2011 and 2021 say?
MR. KISE: Well, I mean, I think the record has established that it's 10,996 square feet. The operative question I think was when we knew that and when we fixed it.
THE COURT: I understand that.
MR. KISE: That's why I'm just not sure what Your Honor's question about is our official position.
THE COURT: I can't think of a simpler way to put it. I'm trying to narrow the issues. I thought you had suggested earlier that there was some dispute about the actual footage.
MR. KISE: I don't think there is a dispute about the actual -- I don't want to speak for everyone at the table. I don't think there is a dispute about the actual square footage at this point.
THE COURT: Good. I wasn't trying to get to those secondary tertiary issues.
MR. KISE: Okay.
THE COURT: Okay, five-minute warning.
MR. H REN: Okay.
MR. KISE: By the way, I like the ten-minute warning better because it gives you something to look forward to.
THE COURT: I'll accommodate you.

P. Birney - Plaintiff - direct (Haren) Page 1258

Q Mr. Birney, we only have a short time left for the day. You see at the top of this document it states "Deed of Development Rights?"
Yes.
Q Do you see a series of clauses beginning with the word "whereas" on the first page?
Yes.
Q nd do you see on the second page it states, quote, "the Club and Trump for good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which is acknowledged by these presents, do hereby transfer, grant, bargain, sell, alien, remise, release, convey, and confirm unto the National Trust to the extent that such rights have not already been transferred through the Deed of Conservation and Preservation Easement, any and all of their rights to develop the property for any usage other than club usage?"
Yes.
Q Were you ever shown this document by Jeff McConney while you were working on the Statement of Financial Condition for Mr. Trump?
I don't think so.
Q Were you ever shown this document by llen Weisselberg while you were working on the Statement of Financial Condition for Mr. Trump?
I don't think so.

P. Birney - Plaintiff - direct (Haren) Page 1259

Q Do you recall when, if at all, you first saw this document?
Yes.
Q nd when was that?
In preparation for -- actually, in the -- in our previous interviews with the G's office.
Q nd apart from this 2002 Deed of Development Rights, did you ever become aware that a Deed of Conservation and Preservation Easement existed on the Mar- -Lago property?
Was I ever made aware?
Q Yes.
I don't believe I was.
Q Okay.
MR. H REN: I think it's a good place to end for the day. Is that okay? Your Honor, I move the Deed of Development Rights into evidence.
THE COURT: It's in. Granted.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 1013 in evidence.)
MR. KISE: I don't know that that's a complete exhibit and what's the purpose it's being offered for?
MR. H REN: I think it's identified as relevant to the issues in the case and --
MR. KISE: Okay, but this witness has no foundation. You just asked him whether he'd ever seen it before, that's all.

THE COURT: Well, I think that's -- well, I don't want to say what the point is.

By the way, Mr. Kise, just to clear up a misunderstanding between us, maybe what happened before was you said something about we have an issue with the square footage. I was taking that to mean how many square feet. You meant it more in terms of the use, the history, the knowledge, the notice, etc.

MR. KISE: Understood.

THE COURT: Yes. ll right. So just this one page? I don't know what else.

MR. H REN: The document is a two-page or three-page document. It contains the first page of the deed, a signed page, page two, what appears to be a notarization on page three and then in Exhibit describing the property. nd I just note that this document was produced by the defendants in discovery in this case.

THE COURT: If there is any objection to any or all of it, they're overruled. Clearly relevant.

Okay. Tomorrow at ten o'clock as usual. See you then.

MS. F HERTY: Your Honor, can we have an admonition to the witness? He's an employee of the -- thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Please do not -- all right. I direct you not to speak to anybody about this case while you're still a witness and you still are a witness at least until tomorrow.

THE WITNESS: Okay.

(Whereupon, the witness is excused from the witness stand and the trial proceedings is adjourned to October 13, 2023 at 10:00 a.m.)
